The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.
We claim for our lumber and building material that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.
May we figure on your next lumber bill?

J. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

Gems of Wisdom ?

From our Ponderous Think-Factory

Lots of fellows go "up in the air" who have never seen a flying machine.

* * *

It costs money to buy automobiles. That's the reason we haven't any (auto.)

* * *

Disappointed again. The Harriman will has been read and as usual we are left out in the cold.

* * *

Baseball is nearly over for this year, and the crop of long-haired foot-ball players is reported as about up to the average.

* * *

If Cook and Peary had known what an argument was to arise over the discovery of the north pole, they might have proven their presence at the north end of the earth's axis by bringing back a pole cat.

* * *

Say, men, just between ourselves, have you noticed the new fall styles in ladies' headgear? Really, isn't it awful? Their hats are built this season something like a modern home—some are T-shaped, some ell-shaped and others resemble a silo with a summer kitchen built on the rear. But it's none of our business, you know, because we don't have to wear them.

PROGRAM

Of Ell and German Townships Sunday School Convention to be held in the German M. E. Church in German township Sunday, Sept. 26, 1909:

Opening 10:00 a. m. Study of the S. S lesson.

Responsibility of parents to the child and the Sunday School —G. I Schaper.

The child, and the proper time to start it in the Sunday School—Emelia Lenz Leading children to a decision for Christ and the Church—Mrs. A. M. Deyoe.

Why a young man should be a Christian—Dr. Heacox.

Teacher training—J. L. Lloyd.

The importance of Sunday School board meetings—Wm. Bredlow.

Prof. L E. Bowker will give a talk on Sunday School work.

Christyna Callison, county secretary, will give a review of the Sunday School work in the county.

County President A. M. Deyoe will conduct a round table discussion.

GOODELL

From the Globe:

Wm. and John Nolte were Klemme visitors Tuesday.

Rasmus Johnson went to Belmond to work Tuesday.

Mrs. Tom Elder, of Klemme, visited with relatives here Friday.

The White family and A. F. Churchs' were Klemme visitors Sunday.

Mrs. L. Africa and daughter Blanche returned from Sioux City Monday evening.

TAXES

Among the many things the First National Bank does for its customers is to order receipts without extra charge.

The Second Installment is Now Due

We have complete lists of Ell, Avery, German and Twin Lake townships and the several drainage districts therein, and Town of Klemme.

The First National Bank
CAPITAL $25,000

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

Rev. C. Nolte was called to Cedar Falls Thursday by the death of his sister.

S. S. Matson and daughter Mildred left Monday for Dubuque, Iowa, where Miss Mildred will enter Mount St. Joseph Academy.

Joe Heginger returned home from Cherokee, Iowa, last Friday, where he has been receiving treatment at the State Hospital.

C. E. Haynes, formerly in the drug business here, was calling on old friends Saturday. He is traveling for a wholesale drug firm in Iowa City.

MESERVEY

From the Messenger:

Jim Courtney is reported as being a little better as we go to press.

Mrs. Hartfelder and daughter went to Mason City Monday where her daughter will attend school.

Herman Zieman returned home from Rochester, Minn.

August Guth left Thursday to visit his brother at Minneapolis.

Irvin Bier went to Minneapolis Thursday to take in the fair, returning home Thursday.

Clarence Alber returned to his home at St. Louis, Mo., Monday, after visiting with his relatives.

A Meservey man has discovered the north pole. He will have it on exhibition packed in ice on Field Day.

Misses Maude and Nellie Griggs came over from Goodell Thursday and went from here to Minneapolis to attend the fair.

Chas. and Will Quandt departed Saturday for Wilsman Station, Ill., called there by the death of their brother Henry.

Misses Ethel and Lillian Dowdell spent Thursday and Friday visiting their brother here. Their home is in Artesian, S. D., and they were on their way to Notre Dame, Ind., to attend St. Mary's Academy.

Colic Quickly Cured

Colic is one of the most severe and painful diseases. It is quite common too. Almost everyone has an occasional attack. Fortunately there is a remedy that always affords quick relief and that has never been known to fail in any case. It is called Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Mr. Tod Robinson, a prominent merchant of Point Blank, Texas, says, "I have had several attacks of colic and in every instance one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy relieved me, and I never had to take more than two doses to effect a cure." For sale by G. A. Pabst & Co.

BRITT

From the News:

Harry Wright is at home from an extended visit to Montana.

Flossie Benton has returned to her home at Albia after a two weeks' visit in Britt.

Ora Lister has purchased the Gardner property occupied by the Barret family. He will occupy it for a home.

Frank Healy returned Sunday morning from the woods of Wisconsin where he spent the summer in camp.

E. H. Vernell, who has been at the hospital at Mason City, is expected to return home this week.

Jos. Bullis has sold his eighty acre farm in Orthel township to Wayne Whitney, the consideration being $80 per acre.

The house on the Cobb farm in German township, occupied by Joe Sobil, was struck by lightning Sunday morning and burned down. Mr. Sobil lost all his household goods.

Information comes from DesMoines that J. P. Peterson, who is in the Methodist hospital at that place, is doing well and will soon return home.

Abbie Gardner Sharp, the heroine of the Spirit Lake massacre, now living at Arnold's Park, was in Britt Tuesday on her way to Clear Lake to attend the old settlers reunion.

Night on Bald Mountain

On a lonely night Alex Benton of Fort Edward, N Y. climbed Bald Mountain to the home of a neighbor, tortured by asthma, bent on curing him with Dr. King's New Discovery, that had cured himself of asthma. This wonderful medicine soon relieved and quickly cured his neighbor. Later it cured his son's wife of a severe lung trouble. Millions believe it is the greatest throat and lung cure on earth. Coughs, colds, croup, hemorrhages and sore lungs are surely cured by it. Best for hay fever, grip and whooping cough. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

Governor Johnson Dead

Governor John A. Johnson, of Minnesota, died Tuesday morning at St. Mary's Hospital at Rochester, Minn. Governor Johnson was a national character and one of the most popular democrats in public life.

NEW STRENGTH FOR WOMEN'S BACKS.

How to Make a Bad Back Better.

Women who suffer with backache, bearing down pains, dizzy spells and that constant feeling of dullness and tiredness, will find hope in the advice of Mrs. Mary Hinson of 21 Strother St., Mt. Sterling, Ky. "Had I not used Doan's Kidney Pills, I believe I would not be living today," says Mrs. Hinson. "My eyesight was poor, I suffered with nervous, splitting headaches, spots would dance before my eyes and at times I would be so dizzy I would have to grasp something for support. My back was so weak and painful I could hardly bend over to button my shoes and could not get around without suffering severely. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me from the first, and I continued until practically well again."

Remember the name—Doan's. Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Big Berlin Philanthropy.

More than 50,000 children were enabled by the authorities of Berlin to spend this summer on land within easy reach of the city limits. They were assigned plots where they could play and cultivate gardens profitably with the help of their families and the advice of public instructors.

To Check Disease Among Indians.

It has been reported that the disease known as trachoma, or granular eyelids, has been spreading rapidly among the Indians. To check this trouble congress appropriated $12,000, placing it in the hands of the commissioner of Indian affairs, for the immediate investigation and treatment of the disease and to check its spread.

Carnations Go to Sleep.

Florists often suffer losses through a habit carnations have of sometimes "going to sleep" and never opening again. A series of experiments made in the Hull botanical laboratory and described in the Botanical Gazette makes it seems probable that this "sleep" is caused by the effect of illuminating gas, to which, even in very small quantities, these flowers are surprisingly sensitive.

His Size Was Known.

"I want some collars and neckties for my husband!" she snapped.

"Yes, madam."

The clerk offered her the latest thing.

"What size are these?" asked the lady.

"Why, twelve and a half, madam!"

"How on earth did you guess that?"

"Ah," replied the clerk, smiling, "gentlemen who let their wives select their collars and ties always take that size!"

Whee Sitting Bull Was.

Doane Robinson, head of the department of history of the state of South Dakota, says of Sitting Bull and the Custer massacre: "The Indians tell me that Sitting Bull was a medicine chief; that he was the greatest influence among the Sioux at that time by reason of his constant agitation against the whites, and that he did not personally engage in the fight against Custer, but that he was back on an elevation between the Little Big Horn and the Big Horn making medicine."—Indian School Journal.

THE DOCTOR'S WIFE

Agrees with Him About Food.

A trained nurse says: "In the practice of my profession I have found so many points in favor of Grape-Nuts food that I unhesitatingly recommend it to all my patients.

"It is delicate and pleasing to the palate (an essential in food for the sick), and can be adapted to all ages, being softened with milk or cream for babies or the aged when deficiency of teeth renders mastication impossible. For fever patients or those on liquid diet I find 'Grape-Nuts and albumen water very nourishing and refreshing.'

"This recipe is my own idea and is made as follows: Soak a teaspoonful of Grape-Nuts in a glass of water for an hour, strain and serve with the beaten white of an egg and a spoonful of fruit juice for flavouring. This affords a great deal of nourishment that even the weakest stomach can assimilate without any distress.

"My husband is a physician and he uses Grape-Nuts himself and orders it many times for his patients.

"Personally I regard a dish of Grape-Nuts with fresh or stewed fruit as the ideal breakfast for anyone—well or sick."

In any case of stomach trouble, nervous prostration or brain fag, a 10 day trial of Grape-Nuts will work wonders toward nourishing and rebuilding and in this way ending the trouble.

"There's a Reason," and trial proves.

Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

A GAIN IN DEPOSITS

State Institutions Show Big Growth in Three Months.

THIRTEEN BANKS ORGANIZED

A Difference in Deposits of $6,942,000 Is Registered Between May 18 and August 10, According to Clerk Ellis' Report.

Des Moines, Sept. 18.—Deposits in Iowa's state and savings banks and trust companies made an increase of $6,942,069.74 from May 18 to August 10 of the present year. The number of banks was increased by thirteen and their total deposits advanced $6,508,291.54.

These are a few of the interesting facts shown in the report of Chief Clerk Ellis of the state banking department made up from the bank statements filed in response to Auditor Bleakly's call. On August 10, according to the report, Iowa had 631 savings banks, 265 state banks and 15 trust companies. The total assets of the savings banks on August 10 were $183,327,568.65 while the assets of the state banks and the trust companies amounted to $92,911,246.10.

Following is the consolidated statement of the assets and liabilities of state and savings banks and trust companies on August 10, 1909:

ASSETS.

Bills receivable	$218,266,093.47
Gold coin	2,169,349.86
Silver coin	797,609.11
Legal tender, national bank notes, etc	5,114,063.18
Credits subject to sight draft	39,686,591.04
Overdrafts increase	193,933.41
Real and personal property	7,996,379.64
Total	$276,238,814.75

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock	$ 31,096,800.00
Due depositors	232,097,261.35
Due banks and others	854,665.37
Surplus	6,790,501.31
Undivided profits	5,399,586.72
Total	$276,238,814.75

Average reserve in all banks Aug. 10, 1909—21 per cent.

State's Receipts Grow.

Secretary of State Hayward has turned over to Treasurer Morrow the sum of $110,771.60, which represents his collections during the past month. It was probably the largest sum ever turned into the state treasury by a secretary of state at one time. The increase was caused by the payment of the $96,000 incorporation fee for the Great Western by J. Pierpont Morgan.

However, the receipts of the office of the secretary of state have been growing steadily. In July they amounted to $18,163.59, while in June they were only $15,716.79. Mr. Hayward estimates that he will take in a quarter of a million dollars during the present year.

Automobile licenses are helping to swell the receipts of the secretary of state's office. During the first eight months of the present year a total of $27,719 was secured from this source, while the total receipts for all of last year amounted to only $20,880.

No Bumper Corn Crop.

Iowa will produce 257,354,768 bushels of corn this year, according to the estimate of George A. Wells, secretary of the Westeri Grain Dealers' association. The government estimates the yield at 295,000,000 bushels, a difference of more than 38,000,000. Conditions have been very unfavorable for corn this season, so it is known that the crop will not be a bumper one.

Following is the final estimate of small grain crops for the year as compiled by Mr. Wells:

	Acres	Yield	Ttl. Crop
Corn	7,654,401	33.6	257,354,768
Winter wheat	138,844	21	2,896,244
Spring wheat	260,557	14	3,659,604
Oats	4,303,795	28	120,397,792
Rye	46,381	17	778,418
Barley	430,549	22	9,422,771

Iowa Phone Leases the Mutual.

The expected consolidation of the Mutual Telephone company and the Iowa Telephone company failed to materialize at a meeting of the board of directors of the former company, though the Iowa company presented a proposition looking to the ultimate consolidation of the two plants. G. E. McFarland, vice-president and general manager of the Iowa company, stated after the meeting that a lease of the property of the Mutual company at $26,000 per annum is contemplated and will doubtless be closed in the near future.

Fined for Selling Impure Oil.

In the state food and dairy commission crusade against impure and adulterated linseed oil, A. P. Kirby of Andrew paid a fine of $10 for having raw linseed oil and Henry Koose of LaMott paid $25 for having a quantity of adulterated boiled oil. They both pleaded guilty, saying they purchased the oil of the Central Linseed Oil company of Omaha.

Synod Meeting in October.

The Lutheran church synod meeting of Iowa will be held in the St. John's Lutheran church for five days beginning Oct. 14. Rev. J. A. McCullough of Burlington will preside and give the synodical sermon. At the same time will be hald the meeting of the women's home and foreign missionary societies of the state. The women will have charge of the services of the synod one evening when an address will be given by Mrs. A. J. Burge of Iowa City, vice-president of the national organization. This is the first time that Des Moines has entertained the synod in fifteen years.

Would Establish School.

Judge Miller of the district court, judge of the criminal and juvenile divisions, is in favor of the establishment of a central school for incorrigible children, similar to the schools maintained in Chicago. In this manner the judge believes the bad boys and girls can be handled in better manner and with better results than if they are permitted to attend the public schools, where it is impossible to give them the attention they need to correct and reform them.

Baily Says City Can Force Brakes.

After Corporation Counsel Baily had declared in a report to the council that the Des Moines Street Railway company can be compelled to equip all its cars with air brakes, an ordinance making it compulsory to place air brakes on cars received its first reading at a meeting of the council. Mr. Hamery's ordinance was prepared following the accident at First street and the Rock Island tracks several nights ago, in which more than thirty people were injured.

Blonde Girls are In Demand.

If the records of the juvenile officers and the heads of orphans' homes, children's homes and similar institutions can be taken as a correct criterion, the people of Iowa, especially the women, have a failing for blonde baby girls. The applications for children which come to these officers show that more than two-thirds of the people seeking children to adopt, prefer baby girls about 2½ years old with blue eyes and light hair.

Officers File Their Claims.

Louis E. Roddewig has filed in the office of Governor Carroll the claims of the Davenport police officers who assisted in securing confessions from the murderers of Thomas Reed in Poweshiek county several years ago. Chief of Police Atkinson, Captain Phelan, Detective John Quinn and Mrs. George Shanley, widow of Detective George Shanley claim a portion of the reward offered by the governor.

Visited State Homes.

Governor Carroll and Judge G. S. Robinson have returned from a visit to the state insane hospital at Clarinda, the school for the deaf at Council Bluffs and the home for feeble minded children at Glenwood. These visits were the first of a series Governor Carroll will make to the various state institutions in order to familiarize himself with their needs and what they are doing.

Killed at Death Curve.

With his head crushed almost beyond recognition and both arms severed above the wrists, the lifeless body of Benjamin H. Brown, a coal miner employed at Enterprise previous to the strike, was found by his brother William by the side of the Northwestern railroad tracks about a half mile north of Hull avenue.

Iowa Boy Writes Book of Travels.

Robert H. Whitaker, a Marshalltown boy, who is chief yeoman on one of the battleships of the navy, has written two booklets on his travels in Africa, which are copiously illustrated. Copies of the books have been received at the state house by his brother, Harry.

Wilson Quits Street Railway.

C. P. Wilson, for the past eight months superintendent of the Des Moines City Railway company, has resigned that position. His resignation takes place immediately. The duties of the office of superintendent will be taken over by A. G. Maish, the general manager.

Pay Tribute to Brandt's Memory.

The last sad rites over the body of Isaac Brandt, aged pioneer, who died suddenly at his home on East Ninth street, were held at the First Presbyterian church. Despite the inclement weather, a host of friends gathered at the bier to accord the last tribute of respect.

Belated Relief Money Comes.

The first and only money to be received by State Treasurer W. W. Morrow, treasurer of the Iowa Red Cross society, for the relief of flood sufferers of Mexico was $2.50. The name of the donor was not given.

FALL PAINTING.

The majority of property owners are under the impression that spring time is the only painting time. But the fall of the year offers several advantages to the painter. One of the most important is that surfaces are almost sure to be dry, and there is no frost or inner moisture to work out after the paint is applied.

Pure white lead—the Dutch Boy Painter kind—mixed with pure linseed oil (tinted as desired) gives a winter coat to a building that is an armor against the severest attacks of the winter rain, sleet, winds and snow.

National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Bldg., New York city, makers of pure white lead, Dutch Boy Painter trademark, are offering to those interested a complete painter's outfit, consisting of a blow pipe and lead tester, book of color schemes, etc. State whether you want exterior or interior decorating.

FOR A SONG.

Thomas Tabby—Yes, I fitted up my flat at a ridiculously low price. In fact, it cost me but a song.

Tabby Tiger—A song?

Thomas Tabby—Well, you see, I started up a solo on the back fence at 2 a. m. and the donations I received in the shape of furniture, etc., just filled the bill.

From Overhead.

A canary hung directly over the big square table in the Hungarian restaurant.

"Once," said a woman who was dining there, "the bottom dropped out of the cage, the bird flew at the orchestra yonder, and we had bird seed in our soup. It was awful."

"That reminds me," said the cross-eyed man, "of one time when we were having a little game of poker on the B. & O. You know how those trains roll. Well, just about the middle of the game down came all the grips and dress suit cases straight into the kitty and broke up the game. Money flew everywhere. We got so mixed we couldn't tell which had won or where the money was that whoever had won it won. Talk about bird seed!"

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Standard Oil Wails.

The Standard Oil Company's real estate holdings in Bayonne, N. J., where its largest oil refining plant in the east is situated, have been increased from $7,360,000, the value fixed upon them in 1908 for taxation, to $13,000,000. The company is appealing against the increases fixed upon the realty by the Hudson county board of equalization.

Itching Piles Permanently Cured by a Jar of Resinol Ointment.

About three weeks since I was suffering agony from itching piles, I got a sample jar of Resinol and after bathing with warm water and applying the Resinol, I was in a few days entirely relieved of the itching and believe I am permanently cured.

W. W. Evans, Carrollton, Ky.

The Old Man's Joke.

"Mary," called her father, "has that young man gone yet?"

"No, pa," replied the maid. "But he's going right now."

"Then ask him to empty the pail underneath the ice box before he goes, will you? I forgot it."

Cobblestones for Baltimore.

The Brooklyn Standard Union says that "those people from the rural regions who jeer at Manhattan's horse cars may take note that the Baltimore city council is preparing to pave a street with cobblestones."

Many a man has sustained a compound fracture of the reputation by falling off the water wagon.

A little bottle of Hamlins Wizard Oil is a medicine chest in itself. It can be applied in a larger number of painful ailments than any other remedy known.

Many a man attributes his business success to the fact that his wife needs the money.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated tiny granules.

A brain is worth little without a tongue.—French.

HOW HE DID THE CHORE

Wound Up the Music Box and Put the Corkscrew in the Barometer.

"You needn't wait for me," explained the head of the house; "I have a dinner engagement, an important business affair, and no doubt I shall be kept quite late."

At breakfast next morning an ominous silence had fallen upon all. The head of the house had no appetite and was evidently far from feeling well. After a painful silence the husband, without meeting his wife's eye, essayed to start conversation.

It's funny about that clock," he said. "It's stopped, and I'm sure I wound it last night."

"You are mistaken," said his wife icily; "you wound up Willie's music box instead and it played 'Home Sweet Home' till daylight. The clock in the hall has also stopped, but I find that you screwed your corkscrew into the barometer."

COVERED WITH HIVES.

Child a Mass of Dreadful Sore, Itching, Irritating Humor for 2 Months—Little Sufferer in Terrible Plight.

Disease Cured by Cuticura.

"My six year old daughter had the dreadful disease called hives for two months. She became affected by playing with children who had it. By scratching she caused large sores which were irritating. Her body was a complete sore but it was worse on her arms and back. We employed a physician who left medicine but it did not help her and I tried several remedies but without avail. Seeing the Cuticura Remedies advertised, I thought I would try them. I gave her a hot bath daily with Cuticura Soap and anointed her body with Cuticura Ointment. The first treatment relieved the itching and in a short time the disease disappeared. Mrs. George L. Fridhoff, Warren, Mich., June 3 and July 13, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

St. Louis First in This.

The largest tobacco manufacturing center in the world is St. Louis. Its annual sales aggregate $45,000,000 which is equal to 18 per cent. of the total tobacco output of the United States.

Opportunism.

Knicker—I have ideas for a new political party, a new religion and a new diet.

Bocker—Better wait till the baseball season is over.

DON'T USE IMITATION BLUE.
Use genuine RUSS BLUE. It preserves clothes and makes them white as snow. 5c

Occasionally you come across a man in public life whose silence is so intense you can almost hear it.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

In India there are nearly 26,000,000 widows.

AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MARLTON, N.J.—I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life. I suffered for ten years with serious female troubles, inflammation, ulceration, indigestion, nervousness, and could not sleep. Doctors gave me up, as they said my troubles were chronic. I was in despair, and did not care whether I lived or died, when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so I began to take it, and am well again and relieved of all my suffering."—Mrs. GEORGE JORDY, Box 40, Marlton, N.J.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna

Cleanses the System Effectually;
Expels colds and Headaches due to Constipation;
Acts naturally, acts truly as a Laxative.
Best for Men, Women and Children—Young and Old.
To get its beneficial effects, always buy the Genuine.

manufactured by the

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS
50¢ size only, regular price 50¢ per bottle.

Buy Milwaukee Solvay Coke

"The Fuel without a Fault"

Cheaper than hard coal
Better than any coal
Cleanest fuel ever known
A dense, hard coke
Practically pure carbon
It is smokeless
No ashes to sift
No slate or clinkers
No noxious gases

Buy Milwaukee Solvay Coke

"The Ideal Domestic Fuel"

It is dependable
Goes farther than coal
Lasts longer than coal
Just right for baking
Gives even oven fire
Easy to start
Requires little kindling
Light in weight
It does not vary

2,000 dealers in the Northwest sell Milwaukee Solvay Coke—all sizes—ask your dealer, and write for interesting booklet of coke information to

Plokands, Brown & Co.
Oolby-Abbot Bldg.
Milwaukee, Wis.

Buy Milwaukee Solvay Coke

YOU'LL feel better for work, play or rest if you eat Quaker Oats at least once a day.

SELF DEFENSE PLEA

Strong Effort to be Made to Free Hutchinson of Murder Charge.

NO TRIAL AT PRESENT TERM

Boy Charged With Murdering Thos. Carraher, His Stepfather, Committed to Indianola Jail to Await Day in Court.

Indianola, Ia., Sept. 20—Self-defense will be the plea of 12-year-old Harry Hutchinson when he faces the charge of murdering his step-father, Thomas Carraher, on the night of March 1.

Frank P. Henderson of the firm of Henderson & Henderson, who have been retained to defend the boy, stated positively that his client would not plead guilty to the charge of murder in the first degree, which was the indictment found by the grand jury.

The evidence which was placed before the grand jury furnishes some ground, it is said, for the boy's claim that his stepfather was brutal toward him. The boy when he appeared before the grand jury told exactly the same story which he had previously related to Sheriff Kimer. He declared, also, that Carraher had chased him with a butcher knife, and threatened to kill him.

It is because it is believed by his attorneys that this fact can be established that the boy will plead self-defense.

The boy, against whom no information was filed until after his indictment, was immediately committed to jail without bond. It was hoped that the trial would come up this term of court, but it has been postponed until the November term, which begins Nov. 2.

Iowa Endeavorers Elect Officers.

Iowa Falls.—At the annual state convention of the Christian Endeavor societies of Iowa in this city, Vinton was chosen as the place for the next convention in July, 1910. The following officers of the state association were elected: President, Rev. C. J. Ensign of Cedar Rapids; vice president, Rev. H. E. Van Horn of Des Moines; secretary, Miss Zerilda Black of Clinton; treasurer, George Walker of Grinnell; junior superintendent, Miss Minnie Thomas of Iowa Falls; intermediate superintendent, Mrs. E. L. Condon of LeGrand; good citizenship, Rev. W. A. Schwimley of Sibley; Bible study, Rev. C. H. Doane of New Providence; missionary superintendent, Rev. W. H. Ensign of Manchester; prison superintendent, B. W. Garrett of Des Moines; editorial superintendent, Rev. C. T. Tower of Mason City.

License to Aged Hunter.

Logan.—Two hundred and sixty licenses have been issued to hunters in Harrison county, the greater number being to those on the Missouri bottom. Mr. William Arthur, aged 82, of Logan, a well-to-do and retired farmer, and one man at Woodbine, 77 years of age, are among those receiving the permits to hunt. Years ago Mr. Arthur was considered a fine shot with a rifle, but today he handles a shot gun with a skill which would be creditable to a far younger man.

Des Moines Man President.

Rhodes.—The sixty-fourth annual session of the Iowa Methodist Protestant conference which was held here, elected for the coming years Rev. C. J. Nutt of Des Moines, president; J. W. Murphy of Murphy, secretary; and Rev. T. F. Martin, conference steward. Mr. Murphy's election as secretary was for the twenty-ninth consecutive term.

Falls Through Bridge.

Nora Springs.—A collapse of a wagon bridge let a manure spreader and three horses, driven by James Hennis, a farmer near here, to the creek bed some twenty feet below. The machine was badly broken, but Hennis escaped with slight injuries by jumping. The horses were not hurt.

Win Homesteads in Idaho.

Logan.—J. A. Barr of Logan and Vern Van Scoy received a dispatch notifying them that they had been successful in the Idaho land drawing, which has been just opened by the government north of Blackfoot. Mr. Barr's number is 116, Mr. Van Scoy's, 16.

New Terminal for Des Moines.

Des Moines.—The Des Moines and Sioux City interurban line has acquired a fifty year lease on the block at Eighth and Market street from F. M. Hubbell for a terminal for the proposed Sioux City road.

Ready to Try Maybray's Aide.

Council Bluffs.—T. W. Ballew of Princeton, Mo., millionaire lumberman, banker and aristocrat who claims to have lost $30,000 through the operations of the famous Mabary gang of alleged swindlers, is in Council Bluffs, his appearance here at this time occasioning much comment and interest, in view of the fact that the trial of the man whom Ballew charges with being the author of his troubles which resulted in his being brought into public scandal in his home town, besides suffering the loss of $30,000. John D. Dobbins, erstwhile of Princeton and other Missouri towns, is scheduled for this term of district court.

Bees Hive on Tree Limb.

Creston.—A few months ago a swarm of bees took possession of a limb of an apple tree on the farm of Frank Leccco, six miles south of Macksburg, and on this limb they proceeded to make their honey. Faithfully have they toiled, and through all the rainstorms of the season they have kept right on "making honey," until now there hangs from the limb of the tree about 60 pounds of honey, and the limb of the tree is bent nearly to the ground with its load of sweetness.

Prank Costs Sight of Eye.

Clinton.—The prank of a mischevous boy ruined the eyesight of Ernest Otto, a well known Clintonite. The boy, whose name is Johnny Edens, fired a shot from an airgun at an automobile which was passing along so, it is said, by some of his comthe street, having been dared to do panions. The bullet struck Mr. Otto who was riding in the rear seat of the machine, squarely in the eye, completely destroying the sight of the organ.

Made Rush for Market.

Logan.—Advice has reached Logan that F. F. Latta, the farmer, near Magnolia, who received quotations of the Chicago markets, and jumpid out of bed collected a force of men, loaded up and hauled to Logan, a distance of five miles, six car loads of hogs by sun up, and rushed the same to the Chicago markets, has received $8,559.73 for his hogs. This is a record-breaker for action and prices.

House Famine at Sac City.

Sac City.—Owing to the rapid growth of our little city, the residents that have to rent houses are being forced to build new homes, as there is a scarcity of houses for rent. There is a large number of new residences being built, but not enough to supply the demand ,and unless many new houses are built before winter, many families will have to move elsewhere.

Rev. McGee to Rest a Year.

Fayette.—Rev. J. C. McGee, D. D., pastor of the Methodist church of this place, and for many years well known as a presiding elder in various parts of Iowa is contemplating a year's rest at the home of his sons, who are prominent lawyers in Oklahoma. Magee underwent a very severe operation in Dubuque. He still is in a weak condition.

Wedding at Burlington.

Burlington.—One of the most beautiful of September weddings was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Brooks when their daughter, Flora Carpenter Brooks and Benjamin Perly Poor were united in marriage, Rev. R. G. Jones of the Christ Episcopal church officiating, after which a reception to about eighty friends was held.

Manual Training in Schools.

Humboldt.—The Humboldt schools have installed a system of manual training. A fine, large room has been fitted up, with benches, tools, lockers, etc., for the purpose. Prof. Moffet, the instructor, says it is one of the best equipped manual training shops in Iowa.

May Lose Eyes.

Nashua.—M. L. Woodbridge, a druggist, spilled a quantity of carbolic acid in his eyes while filling a vial several days ago. He had a clerk in the store who threw some vinegar into his eyes at once and although this has helped him there is little hope of saving his eyes

Grinnell Freshmen Breaking Records.

Grinnell.—Students are pouring in to this city to be on hand for the collegiate year, and the close of the second day's enrollment indicates that Grinnell will number more students this season than ever before in the history of Iowa's oldest college.

Iowa Land Soars.

Fort Dodge.—A farm in Burnside township, owned by John F. Engstrom, was sold to Mrs. Hannah Stromberg for $125 per acre. Six hours later Mrs. Stromberg was offered $145 an acre for the ground and would not sell.

STOMACH LIVER LUNGS

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

GIVEN AWAY.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE

For DISTEMPER Pink Eye, Epizootic Shipping Fever & Catarrhal Fever

Sure cure and positive preventive, no matter how horses at any age are infected or "exposed." Liquid, given on the tongue; acts on the Blood and Glands; expels the poisonous germs from the body. Cures Distemper in Dogs and Sheep and Cholera in Poultry. Largest selling live stock remedy. Cures La Grippe among human beings and is a fine Kidney remedy. 50c and $1 a bottle; $5 and $10 a dozen. Cut this out. Keep it. Show to your druggist, who will get it for you. Free Booklet, "Distemper, Causes and Cures." Special agents wanted.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists GOSHEN, IND., U. S. A.

Opening of Cheyenne River Indian Reservation

(2,800,000 Acres)

Register for a free homestead October 4th to 23rd.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office at Washington has designated as registration points. These cities are reached best by the Iowa Central Ry. and

Le Beau and Aberdeen, S. Dak.

The Minneapolis & St. Louis R. R.

Le Beau is the Gateway to the Reservation and the only registration point where the lands can be seen from the town.

The country is fertile and well watered—the equal in all respects of land a few miles east that sells for $25.00 per acre.

Frequent trains and low fares. Full information on request.

For rates, etc., write or ask any agent of the Iowa Central or Minneapolis & St. Louis R. R. or

A. B. CUTTS, General Passenger and Ticket Agent
Minneapolis, Minnesota

Big Assets

Four hundred thousand people take a CASCARET every night—and rise up in the morning and call them blessed. If you don't belong to this great crowd of CASCARET takers you are missing the greatest asset of your life. 910

CASCARETS 10c a box for a week's treatment, all druggists. Biggest seller in the world. Million boxes a month.

Cheap Homes for the Million
Along the
Kansas City Southern Ry.
In Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana.
Write for copy of "Current Events" Gulf Coast Book, etc., to
F. E. ROESLER, Land Commissioner, K.C.S. Ry.
KANSAS CITY, MO.

Machinery Machine Shop and Foundry. Largest stock of used machinery in Iowa. Engines, Boilers, Steam Pumps, Belting, Shafting, Hangers, etc., bought and sold.
American Iron Works, 213-223 E. First St., Des Moines, Iowa

This Trade-mark Eliminates All Uncertainty

in the purchase of paint materials. It is an absolute guarantee of purity and quality. For your own protection, see that it is on the side of every keg of white lead you buy.

NATIONAL LEAD COMPANY
1902 Trinity Building, New York

LIVE STOCK AND MISCELLANEOUS ELECTROTYPES
In great variety for sale at the lowest prices by WESTERN NEWSPAPER UNION, 73 W. Adams St., Chicago

SEND 50c to the "GATE WAY" for massive, reliable information, maps and book of the last big opening of fertile land. DACOTAH INFORMATION BUREAU, Mobridge, South Dakota.

IOWA FARMS $1 PER ACRE CASH BALANCE ½ CROP TILL PAID

For Backache, Headache and nervous spells—get A-B-C TEA
Only 25c from your Dealer.

GROCERIES & HARDWARE

We always have on hand a complete line. Our Groceries are always new and fresh and the line comprises all the staples and a dandy line of Canned Goods. Our line of Shelf and Heavy Hardware is complete. We invite you to call and inspect our goods.

CREAM

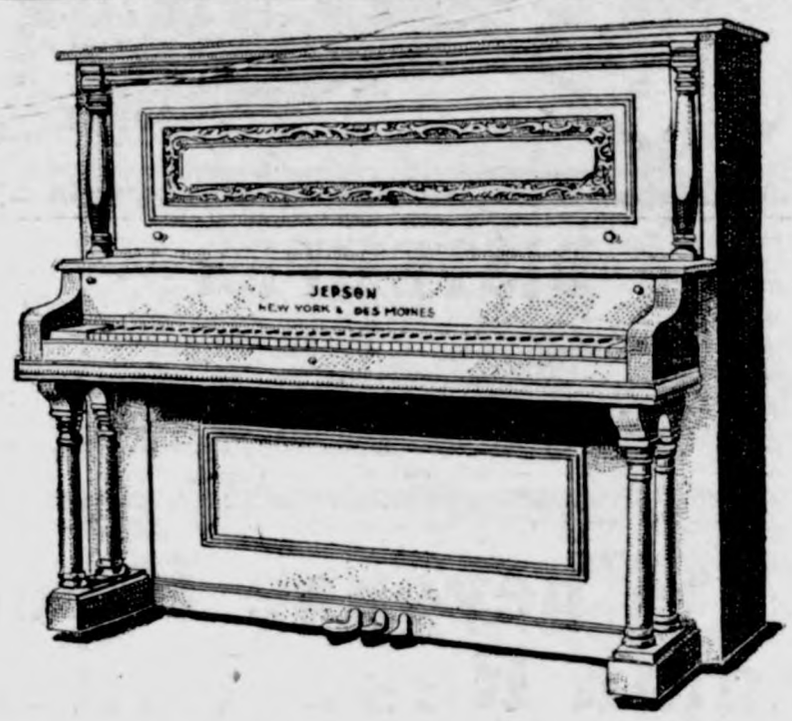
Try us with that next can of Cream. A fair test and a square deal guaranteed.

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

ONE PRICE CASH STORE

KLEMME, IOWA



MUSICAL GOODS

Pianos Six different styles, guaranteed to be right in tone, artistic in design and perfection in construction. Give us a chance to demonstrate these instruments to you. The prices on these instruments will surprise you.

SMOKERS SUPPLIES of every description—From the old familiar Missouri Meerschaum to the real genuine article. All the leading brands of Tobacco.

PRESCRIPTIONS—Bring them to us. They will be correctly compounded. A full line of Patent Medicines of every manufacture.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile. both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

See us when you want to buy TILE.

Northern Lumber Company

N. L. PALMER, AGENT

KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

"Printing That Pleases"

The TIMES Job Department

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

A Revolting Crime

The home of Charles Barnes, about six miles north of Britt, was the scene of a dastardly crime last Friday afternoon. Mr. Barnes lives about four miles from Miller and was in town with his family Friday. Sixteen-year-old Ida Wilson, who was employed to help at the Barnes home, was left alone at the house. About 4:30 o'clock a tramp came to the house and threatened the girl with a revolver telling her that he would shoot her if she moved or made an alarm. Then he went upstairs and looked through all the rooms. The girl, terrified, made no effort to escape and when the tramp had satisfied himself that no one was in the house or nearby he descended the stairs and knocked the girl down and then he assaulted her.

Trembling and horrified the girl finally recovered from the brutal assault and ran to the home of her parents about two and one-half miles distant. There she told of the crime and Sheriff Sourbalie was at once notified by telephone, and he immediately wired for bloodhounds to F. O. Lockard, of Boone.

We understand that the bloodhounds failed to find the trail of the human hound and were sent back home. The victim's condition was reported as being very critical.

A Hurry Up Call

Quick! Mr. Druggist—Quick! A box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve—Here's a quarter—For the love of Moses, hurry! Baby's burned himself, terribly—Johnnie cut his foot with the axe—Mamie's scalded—Pa can't walk from piles—Billie has boils—and my corns ache. She got it and soon cured all the family. Its the greatest healer on earth. Sold by G. A. Pabst & Co.

The Northwest M. E. Conference is in session at Estherville this week, and will adjourn next Monday.

The Road to Success

has many obstructions, but none so desperate as poor health. Success today demands health, but Electric Bitters is the greatest health builder the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, purifies and enriches the blood and tones and invigorates the whole system. Vigorous body and keen brain follow their use. You can't afford to slight Electric Bitters if weak, run-down or sickly. Only 50c. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

Has Made Quartz Fusible.

It is not so long ago that the textbooks on minerals used to describe quartz as "infusible." The electric furnace has made this an error, and now some manufacturers of chemical devices devote special catalogues to apparatus made of this substance. There are two grades on the market—the transparent kind, made from rock crystal and looking almost precisely like ordinary glass, and the cheaper translucent variety, made of common silica, and sometimes called in the trade "electroquartz." Both kinds are valuable in the chemical laboratory, because vessels made of either resist all acids but hydrofluoric, and cannot be cracked by the change of temperature, however violent. Quartz is useful also for its insulating properties, which are nearly perfect.

Go With a Rush

The demand for that wonderful stomach, liver and kidney cure, Dr. King's New Life Pills—is astounding G. A. Pabst & Co. say they never saw the like. It's because they never fail to cure sour stomach, constipation, indigestion, billiousness, jaundice, sick headache, chills and malaria. Only 25c.

MILLINERY

Latest and Most Approved Styles---Right up to the Minute.

We are showing the nicest line of Stylish Millinery ever shown in our town and we want every lady in this vicinity to call and see our line.
Miss Lund is the best trimmer we have ever had and her work is sure to satisfy and please you.

New Shirt Waists in lawn and silk. Hair ornaments. Also newest in collars.

Bear-Skin Goods

Children's Bear-skin Tams, Hoods and Caps at about half price and a large assortment to select from.

Women's and Children's Wearing Apparel

An opportunity to make your selections from a complete variety of styles such as are carried only in the large cities. As a representative of Chas. A. Stevens & Bros., Chicago, I am prepared to show you samples representing a complete stock of High-Grade Ready-to-wear for Women, Misses and Children at Exceptionally Low Prices and Satisfaction Guaranteed. Call and look over our beautiful samples.

Cloaks, Suits, Skirts, Waists, Furs, etc.,

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

THRESHING COAL

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Sootless and Washed Egg. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

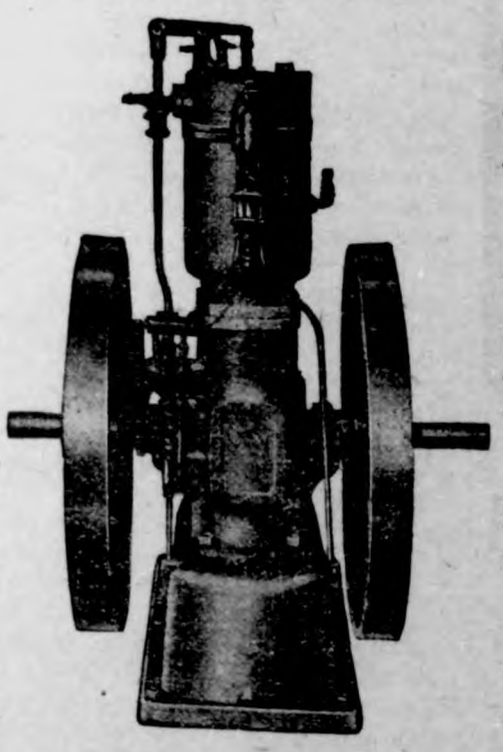
H. C. LAU

Thoroughbred Duroc Jersey Boars and Gilts For Sale

Two Strains. Sired by The Great Notcher and dams Ohio Chief; and others by Sure Money, dams Iowa Banker. This stock is first class in every respect.

——Call on or address——

J. T. GRIGGS. Goodell, Iowa



Save work, worry, money by using a

STOVER GASOLINE ENGINE

Made right—sold right. Send for an illustrated catalog of our

ENGINES

wind mills and feed grinders.

Sandwich Mfg. Co.

Mason City, Iowa — General Agents

Saturday, September 25, 1909, is our

CHILDREN'S DAY

All Boys and Girls, age 8 to 16, are invited to call at the Store at Ten O'clock A. M. sharp and listen to a Free Lecture given by Arthur Wellemeyer, on the Subject:

"JUDGING MERCHANDISE"

In this lecture he will tell the children and show them by practical demonstration, how to tell Wool from Cotton and how to tell Linon, etc., and how to tell Leather from Paper, etc.

Immediately after the Lecture the Children will be given a practical test and a prize awarded to the boy or girl who is found to be the best Judge of Merchandise.

Every child who attends the Lecture will be given a Present as a Souvenir of the Day

DON'T MISS IT!

ARTHUR WELLEMEYER

Klemme, Iowa

About People You Know

KLEMME MARKET.

.....	58 to 60c
.....	32 to 34c
at.....	80 to 90
ey.....	38 to 40c
.....	4 00 to 6.00
s.....	7.00 to 7.65
le.....	3.00 to 6.00

esh fruits at Kluckhohn's.

eorge Gruetzmacher was at ner Monday.

W. Kluckhohn was a Gar- visitor Monday.

es tested. Glasses fitted. W. F. Missman.

e H. Lau & Son for corn ers, wagons. buggies, etc.

adies— Don't fail to read Josten's new millinery ad.

e big pumkins and fat steers on exhibition at the Britt this week.

iss Mamie Gilbert and Mrs. ie Sweigard were here from dell Tuesday.

larence Kluckhohn, Wm. , Harry Smith and Theo. schen went to Clear Lake nday on a fishing trip.

number of Klemme people in the Field Day at Meser- last Saturday. Theo. Hen- en came very near bringing e the deer put up as a prize the best trap shooter. He another contestant tied for place and in shooting off tie, the trap setter gave ly a lot of the very most cult angles and his opponent easy ones, so he was beat but it was hardly a fair ke.

---

eing obliged to take it for I will sell it out cheap;
r. Hess Stock Food.
r. Hess Poultry Panacea.
r. Hess Instant Louse Kill-

r. Hess Hog Worm Powder. be had at G. F. Schuler's rner, Iowa.

A heavy rain fell Tuesday evening.

H. Lau & Son are buying poultry every day. 5tf

The finest line of candies in town at Kluckhohn's. 45tf

Frank Freie was here a few days last week visiting at the home of his parents. He is now located at Eagle Grove.

Tom Blank was at home a few hours between trains Tuesday. He is now acting road master for a time with headquarters at Estherville.

Mrs. L A. Turgasen returned to her home at Swea City last Thursday. Her brother Chas. Kluckhohn, has taken a position as helper in the depot at Swea City where Louie is agent.

Rev. Earl Baker closed his pastorate in the English M E. church here last week and has returned to his school work. He has made many friends in Klemme who will ever remember him with a kindly and cordial feeling.

And now comes Chas. W. Stiehl, the notorious Watkins man, sporting a brand new automobile and he wont look at a common printer any more. Nothing to it, except that in order to hold our own in this fast day and age, we've just got to buy, borrow or steal a go-devil of some kind.

The Klemme boys organized a baseball team on short notice last week and on Sunday went over to Ventura to tackle the husky bunch of ball tossers who reside in or around that hustling little village and also a few players from Clear Lake. The final score was rather disastrous to our boys, the count being 5 to 4, but it took eleven innings to decide the contest. Earl Clark and Charley Kluckhohn officiated as battery for Klemme and their work was good thruout the game. It is reported that the umpire's decisions were somewhat raw which caused considerable rag chewing. We understand that arrangements are being made for a return game to be played here soon.

Court is in session at Garner this week.

H. C. Lau shipped a car of hogs Sunday morning.

P. M. Griesemer was a Garner visitor yesterday

Mrs. John Gruetzmacher was a Garner caller last Friday.

Read the new ads of State Savings Bank, Arthur Wellemeyer and A. Kirkwood & Son.

Attention Farmers—I have a limited amount of the GENUINE RED TURKISH Winter Wheat for sale. Call at once. H. C. Lau.

G. Trenhaile, of Hardwick, Iowa, now has charge of the Rock Island station here. L. A. Hientz now has the station at Germania.

The annual meeting of Hancock County Teachers will be held in the public school building at Garner on Saturday, Oct. 2, at 9:45 a. m. sharp.

New fall line of ladies' shoes received. I can show the latest and best approved styles at reasonable prices. Call and see my line. F. Gruetzmacher. 4tf

The Times family changed residences with Ralph Blank this week and the work of moving and slight sickness in the family has caused us to be slightly neglectful of our business a few days.

S. Kleinmeier, John Schuldt, and Oscar Swanson are here from Seneca, Illinois, this week. These gentlemen are all owners of Hancock county soil and are here looking after their land interests and showing off a good country to one of their friends who accompanied them.

Three husky sportsmen who do not live a thousand miles from Klemme had quite an experience while fishing near Ventura quite recently. They are not running around telling people about the deal but a Klemme man was over there since the accident and was told by an eye witness just how it happened. The three happy piscatorial artists were out on the lake in one of those oval bottomed boats and in an exciting moment forgot how easy these boats tip, when —splash! and out they all went into about five feet of water and mud. After getting their heads above water they attempted to get the boat right side up and get into it but they couldn't make it and had to wait for help to arrive from the shore. When the boys came home with faded shirts and neckties, etc., they claimed they had got caught out in a shower. It sure was an awful shower.

Obituary

Mrs. Friedericke Gast, nee Stroemer, was born October 18, 1827, in the village Karzin of Pomerania in Germany. She was united in marriage to Fred Gast. About 25 years ago the Gast couple came to America and settled down in this vicinity. Mr. Gast died from sunstroke in the first summer here in America, and so Mrs. Gast, having no family of her own, has stayed with her relatives from that time on. She enjoyed good health until three years ago when she suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which she recovered. This summer she had another stroke, from which she did not rally, but grew weaker and weaker from day to day. She died last Friday evening. Sept. 17, 1909, aged 81 years, 10 months and 29 days. Two brothers, August and Charley Stroemer, and many other relatives mourn her loss.

She was buried from Emanuel's Reformed Church last Sunday afternoon, Rev. Achtermann officiating.

Viola Freie is holding her own, but is still quite a sick little girl.

We are glad to report that Joe Sweely is making a good recovery from his recent serious illness.

Frank Ufken returned last Saturday from an extended trip through South Dakota and Minnesota on a land inspecting tour. He reports corn and small grain in South Dakota about the same as here but found places in Minnesota that suit him better and where he says the small grain crop this year is immense.

German M. E. Church Items

E. H. Lenz had a severe attack of neuralgia the first of the week.

Hugo and Camilla Neff were in Mason City, Tuesday, between trains.

Mrs. W. H. Kraus returned Tuesday from her trip to the eastern part of the state.

Nettie Greffen opened her first term as schoolma'am in District No. 9, German township last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gruetzmacher were in Garner Monday between trains visiting relatives and on business.

Grandma Schwichtenberg left for Colesburg Monday morning, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Brockmeyer, and family.

Theo. Bastian, of Charles City, passed through Klemme on his way to Vincent last week and stopped off with E. H. Bettin one night.

Mrs. Bettin and son Wesley left Sunday evening for Charles City, where the latter will take up his studies in the city high school again.

Some of our young people attended the Kossuth County Fair at Algona last week, and from there—well—they went to Fenton to turn around and then came right straight home.

We have been informed that a few pastoral changes were made since the close of conference. and Rev. W. H. Klaus comes to Garner instead of Rev Gauger, and Rev. C. A. Schuldt goes to Mason City.

Edward Greffen moved into his new house, the first of this

(Continued on last page.)

Col. J. J. Wilson

MESERVEY, IOWA

LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEER

Dates made at either bank in Klemme, Iowa. Terms reasonable.

DOCTORS

GEO. ZINN EDGAR ZINN

Office: State Savings Bank

Phone No. 19

KLEMME - - IOWA

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.

Physician and Surgeon,

Phone No. 11. Klemme, Iowa.

Office in the Shafer building.

Prompt attention given to calls, day or night.

Eyes tested. Glasses fitted.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.

Graduate Optician,

Garner - - Iowa

Eyes Tested Free.

W. R. BLOOM

Buyer and Shipper of

Grain and Live Stock

Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.

Stock wanted 6 days in the week

Pictures

See me when you want a Photograph

All kinds—inside or outdoor views. I make a specialty of photo postal cards, 75 cents a dozen. Good work at reasonable prices.

JOE MILLER, KLEMME IOWA

JOHN GRIEWE

City Meat Market

Dealer in

All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats, Canned goods and oysters in season. Headquarters for part of Heinz' Fifty-Seven Varieties, and Pickling Vinegar.

Try these goods; they are fine.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER

The Tonsorial Artist

Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.

2nd door west of State Savings Bank

Call in

RESTAURANT

Nicest Line of Candies in Town.

Fresh home made Bakery goods every day.

The best place in town to get a square meal for 25c.

Orangeade, Soft Drinks and Ice Cream.

A. Kirkwood & Son

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.

The only livery in town

Good rigs and careful drivers

Rates reasonable

Your patronage solicited

CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor.

SPECIAL

For a Short Time Only

Rock Island Lines

will sell one-way Colonist Tickets

To California

AND

Pacific Northwest Points

DAILY

September 15th to October 15th

Only $33	from	Chicago
32	"	Peoria
32	"	St. Louis
25	"	Kansas City
25	"	St. Joseph
25	"	Omaha
32	"	Memphis

to California, with similar low fares to points in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Arizona and Old Mexico.

Travel Rock Island way, in Rock Island clean, comfortable, easy-riding, vestibuled tourist cars.

Let me tell you how delightfully and economically the trip can be made.

G. TRENHAILE, Agent,

Rock Island Lines,

Klemme, Iowa

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, . . . IOWA

SUMMARY OF A WEEK'S EVENTS

Latest News of Interest Boiled Down for the Busy Man.

TOUR OF THE PRESIDENT.

President Taft, in the most important speech he has delivered since his election, told an audience at Winona, Minn., that the new tariff law is the best revenue measure the Republicans ever passed and denounced the insurgents who voted against it.

In a speech in Chicago President Taft renewed his promises to labor to obtain legislation against injunctions in strike cases.

PERSONAL.

Marvin Hughitt, president of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company, in an interview in New York, predicted an era of great industrial activity and record crops.

J. P. Morgan, Jr., was elected a director of the National City bank in New York, to fill the place caused by the death of E. H. Harriman.

W. W. Rockhill, the newly-appointed American ambassador to Russia, arrived in St. Petersburg from Berlin.

Edward H. Graham, editor of a newspaper at Clarks Hill, Ind.,, has been informed that he is heir to an estate of $400,000 in New York city.

Former Judge Robert S. Lovett of Texas, who began railroad work as a clerk at $40 a month, was elected to succeed Edward H. Harriman as chairman of the executive committee of the Union Pacific Railroad Company.

W. W. Baldwin, assistant to President George B. Harris of the Burlington railway, has been made fourth vice-president of the Burlington, the office having been created for him.

GENERAL NOTES.

Gov. John A. Johnson of Minnesota was operated on for an intestinal abscess at Rochester, Minn., and his condition was reported as critical. He was on the operating table nearly three hours.

Eight men were killed in a wreck of passenger and freight trains on the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad near Pegram Station in Tennesee.

Miss Gerda Sebbelov, a Danish girl, who is attending college in New York, claims to have received letters from Eskimos in Greenland, where she spent three years, saying Dr. Cook did discover the north pole.

President Taft decided in favor of Secretary Ballinger in the controversy with Gifford Pinchot and ordered the discharge of L. H. Glavis, chief of the field division of the general land offices.

The convention of the Yeomen of America rescinded at Springfield, Ill., its action making the temporary organization of the convention permanent.

Commercial fishermen along the Illinois river in central Illinois are favored by a decision of Circuit Judge Higbee in refusing to grant an injunction asked by wealthy members of Chicago, St. Louis and Indianapolis clubs controlling lands in that section.

Besides electing James Sweeney of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad as president, the Roadmasters' and Maintenance of Way association, in session at Washington, picked Chicago for the meeting place in 1910.

By an agreement between the attorney general and counsel at Union, Tenn., in the indictments against 100 men as night riders, the cases are continued until November and bonds of $25,000 are allowed.

The twenty-third annual convention of the Association of American Cemetery Superintendents is in session at New York. Their hosts are entertaining them with trips to the metropolitan cemeteries.

Virginia has obtained from the federal government the large figure-head which formerly adorned the prow of the battleship Virginia, but the state officers are at a loss to make proper use of the ornament now that they have it.

Mrs. Will Nowling was slain near Pollard, Ala., by Mrs. Henry Nowling, her nephew's wife, who used a shotgun. The women had quarreled about the use of a storehouse. The victim was wealthy.

Nearly all the cities of Iowa were represented at the twelfth annual convention of the League of Iowa Municipalities, which was held in Fort Dodge, Mayor T. J. Phelps of Ottumwa, presiding.

The second annual national good roads convention opened in Cleveland, O., under the auspices of the American Automobile association, the National Grange and other national bodies interested in the improvement of highways.

Hundreds of experts on taxation met in Louisville, Ky., in the third international conference on state and local taxation. Forty-three states and five Canadian provinces were represented, besides many colleges and universities.

Dr. Frederick A. Cook, in a wireless message sent from the steamship Oscar II on which he reaches New York Tuesday, assured the American people of his ability to prove his claim to the discovery of the north pole.

Prof. Donald B. McMillan of Worcester, Mass., one of Commander Peary's aides, was accidentally wounded in the shoulder by the discharge of a gun which one of the other explorers was cleaning on board the Roosevelt.

Bandits held up a Denver & Rio Grande express train near Leadville, Col., and dynamited an express car, but, according to officials, obtained no booty.

Nat Nakala and Isaac Santi were killed in a mine 800 feet below the surface near Bessemer, Mich., when a miner's candle accidentally set off a quantity of dynamite. Two others were cut off by gas.

Announcement was made at a meeting of the Cincinnati Aero club that two wealthy men had pledged themselves as backers to the extent of $100,000 to secure the international aerial meet for Cincinnati in 1910.

Considerable excitement was aroused at the national negro Baptist convention at Columbus, O., by a report that a resolution had been offered withdrawing the privileges of the floor to Dr. Booker T. Washington.

American business men are planning to organize a Russo-American chamber of commerce in St. Petersburg. The state department in Washington favors the move.

Ferdinand Pinney Earle, the artist, whose divorce from his first wife that he might wed his "soul mate" brought him much publicity, has returned secretly to his home at Monroe, N. Y., from Europe, and is denying himself to callers.

Imports from te United States into New Zealand fell off nearly 48 per cent. in the first quarter of 1909, compared with the first quarter of 1908, according to a report by Consul-General William A. Prickitt of Auckland.

Commander Peary told of new observations at the north pole and stood pat on his declaration that Dr. Cook had handed the world a "gold brick."

Each of the 100 words in the will of Edward H. Harriman is worth $1,000,000 to his widow, who, under its provisions, probably becomes the wealthiest woman in the world.

Fire in the Ernst Kerns dry goods store at Detroit did $75,000 damage.

Fire destroyed the flour mills and elevators of Iglehart Brothers of Evansville, Ind. The loss probably will reach $200,000; partly covered by insurance.

David and Bascom Bogges, brothers, were instantly killed and App Garner so badly injured that he died a few hours later by a boiler explosion at a saw mill at Middle Fork, W. Va.

"He is not the man," was the discouraging declaration made by little Fanny Infusino to the authorities when Michele Rizzo, the man arrested as a suspect in last Sunday night's double murder at Utica, N. Y., was brought before her for identification.

While officers and relatives at Canal Dover, O., investigating the death of Miss Florence Weber, whose body was found in the Tuscarawas river, are unable to build up a theory of murder, they are equally at a loss to find a motive for suicide.

A petition seeking the annulment of a franchise granted the Vicksburg Waterworks Company was filed in the Mississippi city. The proceeding follows numerous "breakdowns" at the plant and plans the taking over of the management of the plant by the city.

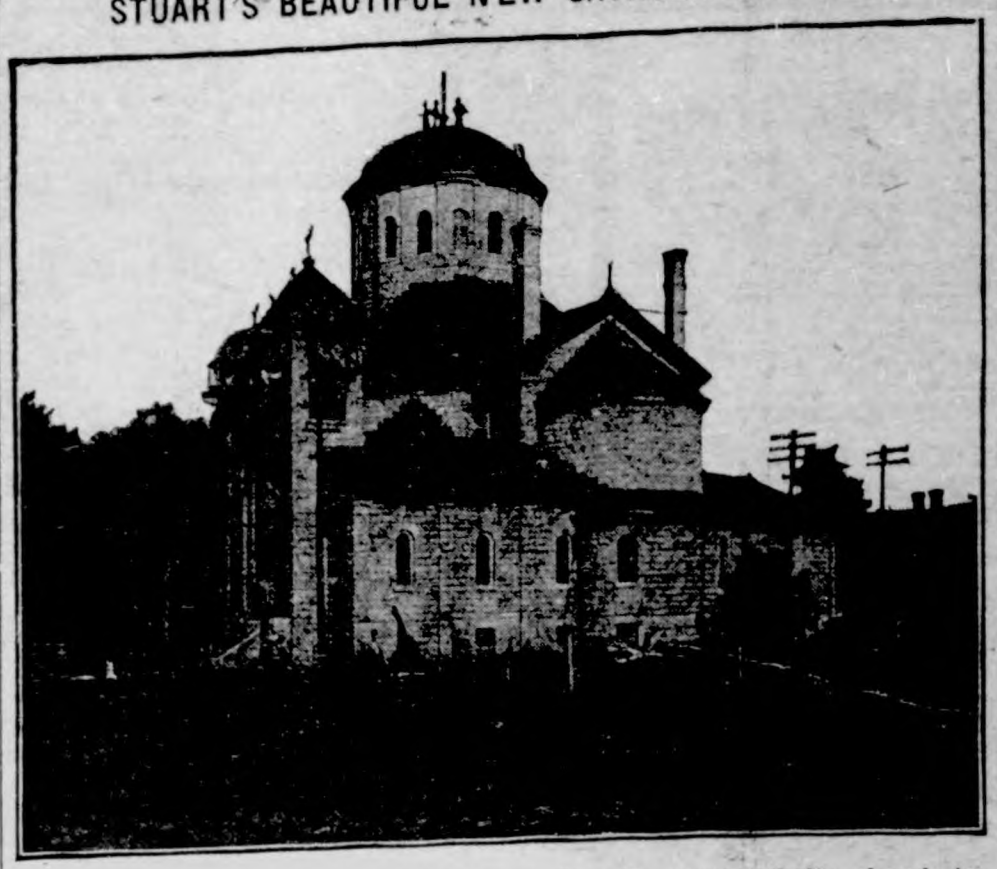
Lieut. Moon of the artillery corps, who pleaded guilty to having failed to return books borrowed from the corps library, was ordered by a court-martial reprimanded and confined within the post for three months.

Fraternities and sororities in the high schools of Washington will be allowed to flourish and multiply so long as they continue to be conducted in an unobjectionable manner.

A central bank with a capital of $100,000,000, the government to share in its profits, was urged in the annual address of George M. Reynolds, president of the American Bankers' association, in Chicago.

Fargo, N. D., entertained the Japanese commercial commissioners, who are making a tour of the United States. The travelers visited North Dakota Agricultural college.

STUART'S BEAUTIFUL NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH



Work has progressed sufficiently on Stuart's new Catholic church to give a good general view of its appearance. The church is built of Bedford stone following the old Italian renaissance type of architecture. It will have a capacity of 650, is 70x120 feet over all and 120 feet to the top of the dome. Ground was broken for the building September 14, 1907, and the corner-stone laid June 15, 1908. The exterior of the building is largely completed and the decorators are at work on the interior, which will be completed by November 1. The total cost exceeds $100,000. This will be one of the finest church buildings in that section of the state.

HIRAM C. WHEELER WENT WEST

Something over a half-million Iowans have migrated to the west, or southwest, under the impression that they could better themselves financially by the change. Part have succeeded and part have failed. The successes have been heralded from the house-tops. The man with western land to sell has paid his money freely to have such stories well told. But the failures have been carefully shielded from the citizens of Iowa. The fellow who failed didn't care to tell, and the others wouldn't.

Hiram C. Wheeler, candidate for governor of Iowa on the Republican ticket in 1890 against Horace Boies, sold his farm a few months later and moved to Texas. It has been alleged, by his political enemies, that his defeat for the governorship soured him on Iowa and caused him to leave the state. His close personal friends, however, know that he went to Texas expecting to make more money there than he could in Iowa. Like 500,000 other Iowans he "went west" to get some cheap land and grow rich with the country.

A year ago Hiram C. Wheeler met some of his old-time political allies in Chicago at the national convention. He was then a broken man financially and physically.

Hiram C. Wheeler owned nine sections—5,760 acres of the finest farm land in Iowa, prior to 1890. It was located near Odebolt and on this magnificent farm Wheeler lived like a king.

The owner of 5,000 acres of Iowa land can afford to indulge in pastimes. Hiram C. Wheeler concluded that he wanted to be governor of Iowa. It seemed fitting that the greatest farmer in the commonwealth should aspire to rule it. But politics in Iowa could not be classed as a pastime. The absence of cities, of commerce and manufacturing left but two fields of activity open to ambitious citizens. Agriculture and politics were the two chief occupations of the state. Having achieved success in agriculture, Hiram C. Wheeler turned to politics. Sherman's characterization of war would not have been far amiss in describing the political game in Iowa for half a century.

Wheeler started out well for the nomination. There were plenty of aspirants for gubernatorial honors among the Republicans. Wheeler beat them to it by introducing a new element into politics. He was the first man to use advertising successfully in a state-wide campaign. He sent out circulars to nearly every farmer in Iowa asking for support. These letters were so well done that the recipient believed he had been personally and particularly addressed. Wheeler's opponents ridiculed the personal letter campaign, but when the convention met Wheeler was first and there was no second.

Having nailed the nomination on the Republican ticket, it seemed as though election was pretty nearly assured, but the unsettled condition of public opinion reversed the usual result and Horace Boies defeated Hiram C. Wheeler.

Had Hiram C. Wheeler been content to reign over his magnificent homestead, he would have been to-day, one of the wealthiest men in Iowa. The land is believed to have cost originally about four dollars an acre. It was located just at the edge of a growing town. Its fame was statewide. In fact, at that time Iowa was noted for two things, the Whiting grove of walnut trees and the Wheeler farm. He had been president of the early 70's a poor man. But the glamour of Texas land distorted his judgment and he forgot the splendid prosperity Iowa had given him.

The sale of a farm like Wheeler's was no small transaction. The men who can buy them are very scarce. Wheeler himself believed the price of land in his region had about reached the top notch. In his opinion Iowa land could not be expected to increase much more. He had seen it bound from four dollars an acre to $40. "Go to Texas" was his thought, "and repeat the ten-fold increase in value." So he looked for a purchaser and found one.

The man who bought the Wheeler farm is rich, prosperous and successful to-day.

Wheler died a broken man.

It is reported that the Wheeler farm brought $40 an acre when he sold it. In round numbers the purchase price was a quarter of a million dollars the state board of agriculture. He had a fine family of two daughters and a son. He had come to Iowa in

A man who goes to Texas with a quarter million dollars is certainly able to finance a farm in good shape. Wheeler located near Beaumont, Tex., and bought a great place that he converted into a dairy farm. When one of his Iowa neighbors visited him shortly afterr getting established, he had a dairy of 300 cows and was preparing to supply Galveston with milk.

The Texas farm began to lose money for Wheeler from the start. At first he thought that was only what ought to be expected in launching a new enterprise. But month after month and year after year he continued to lose. He found that the wealth he had accumulated in Iowa was not going to last until the expected increase in Texas land values appeared.

Finally his only son was stricken with the fever. This blow was staggering. To lose one's competence is severe, but to lose the only boy is terrible. To Hiram C. Wheeler both these misfortunes came simultaneously.

Texas utterly failed to make good the glittering prospects that had attracted him. His Iowa fortune utterly melted away in the "Great Southwest." Unlike others who have suffered reverses, his failure in Texas was not the result of bad habits or the extravagance of the spendthrift. Mr. Wheeler's habits were exemplary. He indulged in no expensive luxuries. He failed in Texas because the same effort and judgment that had made a distinct success in Iowa was not sufficient to wrench success from a less favored region.

The land that Wheeler thought had reached its maximum selling price in 1890 when it brought $40 an acre, is now finding a ready market at $100 and above. A prominent Iowa insurance man who owns land near the Wheeler farm said a few days ago that he would not sell his farm for $150 an acre because it was making him over ten per cent. interest on that valuation.

In figuring the losses that Wheeler suffered by his unfortunate Texas move the $225,000 he received for his Iowa land is only a portion. He also lost the $500,000 that has been since added to the value of the farm by the development of the state.

If Hiram C. Wheeler had remained in Iowa, he would to-day be worth three-quarters of a million.

Iowa land at $100 an acre would have been cheaper than Texas land was at $2.50.—Wealth.

TOURNAMENT OPE

Brigadier General Morton No Holds the Reins.

CAMP CORSE IS COMPLET

Patriotism Shown in Oceans of Re White and Blue, and Old Town Bids Fair to Outdo Itself on Memorable Occasion.

Des Moines, Sept. 20—Camp Joh M. Corse breathed life under stri military law by Brigadier Gener Morton's order when reveille sounde from a dozen clear throated bugles.

Five thousand troops rolled o from between Uncle Sam's blue blan ets before the last clarion note of th call had echoed itself away in th crimson hills and hustled into kha to keep step with the orders of th day.

Every move is to an order toda General Morton from his headquar ers tent has announced the movemen of every troop in camp. The compan streets are ready for the visitin hordes. Horses have been groome and mules curried spotless. Brass an steel are like mirrors.

City a Mass of Color.

When President William Howar Taft arrived in Des Moines this mor ing he found Iowa's capital in readi ness to greet him.

The city was in festive array. Flag were flying in the streets throughou the downtown section. Busines blocks and residences draped in na tional colors. Pictures of the nation chief executive were seen everywhere Everybody was talking about Pres dent Taft and the military tourna ment. Everybody felt civic pride an patriotism at the opportunity of be ing one of the thousands that wer hosts to the president.

President Opens Tournament.

On his arrival, the president wa escorted to the home of Senator Cum mins by the reception committee where he had breakfast, and then le for the reviewing stand at the sold iers monument on East Walnut street south of the state house, where he re viewed the military parade, afte which he made a brief address fro the reviewing stand.

He then went to the state fai grounds and opened the great mil tary tournament, which continues un til Saturday night next, and the about noon left for Omaha.

In a general order issued yesterda afternoon, Gen. Chas. E. Morton, wh is in command of the troops that wil participate in the military tourna men opening today, designated th order of the troops that will form th parade to be reviewed by Presiden Taft.

The parade will be made up of th following troops, appearing in line o march in the order named.

Provisional infantry brigade; provi ional cavalry brigade; Company D o the signal corps; quartermaster' pack train No. 24; engineering bridg train; Sixteenth infantry; Thirteent infantry; Second cavalry; Fourth ca alry; Seventh cavalry; Fourth cava ry; Seventh cavalry; Battery E, Fift Field artillery; Battery E, Sixth Fiel artillery; Company K, Third engi eers, followed by the remaining de tachments of the signal corps.

DETECTIVE DELMEGE KILLE

City Officer Shot Down in Cold Bloo by John Smelzer—Smelzer Then Shot by Ross.

Des Moines, Sept. 20—City Dete tive Frank Delmege was shot and a most instantly killed at 9 o'clock las night while attempting to arrest John Smelzer, a meat cutter employed i the Sixth avenue meat market. Th tragedy occurred at Smelzer's home 1129 West Second street, almost with in the shadow of Delmage's own home.

Smelzer was shot three times b Patrolman Sam Ross immediately a ter the shooting of Delmege, but wil live. He was placed under arrest an is now at the city jail.

Delmege had been sent out with Patrolman Ross by Assistant Chief o Police Day to investigate a report that a man was running amuck with shot gun, the report coming from Del mege's own home, where Fred Fagan and his wife, with whom Smelze roomed, had taken refuge from the man. Delmege lived at 1119 Wes Second street, two doors from the Fa gan residence.

Woman Found Guilty.

Sidney, Ia., Sept. 20—Mrs. C. M Swearingen was found guilty of as sault with intent to do great bodily injury. She filed a motion for a new trial.

LIPS THAT WERE SEALED

BY ALMA MARTIN ESTABROOK

PICTURES BY A. WEIL

AUTHOR OF "MY COUSIN PATRICIA."

COPYRIGHT BY J. B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

SYNOPSIS.

The story opens with a scene at a box party. Miss Henrietta Winstanley, sister of Bishop Winstanley overheard Banker Ankony propose to Barbara Hemingray, whose brother Dan was in his employ. Dan was one of the town's popular young men. He showed some nervousness when Attorney Tom Twining told him Barbara refused Ankony. Ankony the following day, summoning Twining, accused Dan of looting the bank. Twining refused to prosecute. Barbara persuaded Ankony to postpone starting prosecution.

CHAPTER III.—Continued.

My mind refused to conceive of the enormity of the sacrifice. I walked on rapidly, having no notion where I was going, but feeling that I must keep going. The avenue was filled with vehicles. It was its most fashionable hour, and several of my friends were passing; but I affected to see none of them. To save me, I could not have met their smiles with unsummoned ones, and I was not minded to try. But, looking straight ahead as I was, I yet felt them coming—Barbara and Ankony, and they were upon me before I could turn into a side street and avoid them.

Ankony's turnout was the smartest in the street, and it was fitting, perhaps, that the most charming girl in town should sit beside him. She wore a simple blue gown—perhaps it, too, was made-over; I reflected hastily that she would not have to wear that kind after she married Ankony—and to the casual observer she must have looked happy and serene, but to me, in the instant of our meeting, there was something back of her smiles that startled me, something that surely looked forth in terror—the impotent terror that is vague and still and does not realize its own appeal. It was as if unconsciously, she had put out a sudden hand to me.

I went out to the curb to speak with them.

"You will want to give us your blessing, Twining, if you have heard the good news," Ankony said, with great geniality.

"Yes, I have just heard," I said.

I held out my hand to Barbara, and she gave me hers, a little, cold, unsteady hand. Her eyes tried not to falter beneath mine, and she smiled. I wished to heaven she had not, for I carried that smile with me for weeks.

"Miss Hemingray knows that I desire nothing so much as her happiness," said I.

She pressed the tips of my fingers as I withdrew them.

Ankony extended his hand, but I was stooping to fleck something from my trousers.

"Well," said he, in a simulation of great amiability, "my taste can't be denied, you will have to agree with me, no matter what may be said of others."

"You are right," I said heartily; "you are a fortunate man."

"So I am being told on every hand. But I didn't need that, to know it. I thought you would say so, Twining."

"No one so heartily."

"It's gratifying to find that one's fiancee is so generally beloved, I'm sure."

Barbara turned upon us with a flush and a smile.

"Oh, do stop saying nice things of me! It's horrid of you. I don't like it. You make me feel as if I were walking around my own bier."

Ankony smiled at her whimsicalness, but I knew her to be on the verge of undoing.

"Our friends tell us they are surprised; that nothing like this was to have been expected," he observed, looking at me.

I could have throttled him: his blade was cutting both ways now, and he knew it. Barbara went very white and shut her lips with an odd fierceness.

"Perhaps," he went on, in that smooth voice of his, "it has been a bit sudden—a little surprising."

"Many things are surprising," I said, and met his eyes with my indignant ones. His shifted.

"We are blocking the street," Barbara cried. "Let us go on."

"As you please," Ankony answered. "Always as you please—dear."

I saw the color splash over her white cheeks at the endearment. This was part of the cost—the outrageous, impossible cost.

CHAPTER IV.

I went to see Barbara a few days later.

It is queer how a changed atmosphere seems to affect the material as well as the immaterial—even the Hemingray doorsteps appeared changed as I stood on them in the dusk of the spring evening, waiting to be admitted.

I was shown into the south drawing room to wait for Barbara; I have been shown into the south drawing room to wait for her a hundred times, and I had always before found it a pleasant, inviting place; but I got no further than the threshold this evening: the change in it was amazing. The prodigality of light struck me first, and then its gala-air; it was as if it, too, were receiving congratulations in its best clothes along with its mistress. There were flowers everywhere. I am fond of all flowers but those taken by another man to the girl I love. Ankony's flowers overran the south drawing room; they were on the three-cornered piano that had belonged to Barbara's mother, on the quaint cabinet with ormolu mounts and parquetry paneling that had been her great-grandmother's, on her grandmother's mahogany table, and on mantels and shelves and cases.

Their fragrance met me at the threshold and stopped me there as if it had been funeral fragrance. With a shiver I crossed quickly to the library. There was no light there but a dim firelight. The library, evidently, was not receiving congratulations, and I entered with a sigh of thankfulness for something unchanged, when, mockery of mockeries, just as I was throwing myself down to wait for Barbara I discovered a great bowl of Soliel d'Or roses glowing in the middle of the table. The Forlorn Hope had offered its tribute of American Beauties and Jacqueminots and Marechal Neils to Barbara, but it had always been my privilege to take her the splendid Soliel d'Or. I stood for a minute looking at these upon the table, then I picked up the big crystal bowl and carried it across to the drawing room, where I set it down not too gently.

"I Hate Myself When I Think of What You Must Think of Me," She Flashed.

Presently I heard Barbara's step in the hall. It sounded a little languid, I thought.

"I am here," I said, from the library.

"What are you doing there in the dark?"

"I like the dark and the library."

"How capricious you are! I never knew you to wait here before."

I made no reply, but I stirred the fire in the hope that she would not ring for lights.

"I am tired," she said, as she sank into a chair I drew for her.

"Pleasantly?" I inquired with sympathy.

"No, downrightly. People have been coming for days to say nice things to me. I suppose I ought to be glad."

"Oh, I don't know. Nice things can become awfully tiresome."

She nodded wearily.

"I promise in the beginning to say nothing nice whatever," I hastened to assure her.

She smiled a little.

"You rarely do," she observed; "but I think I shall rather like it to-night. I've about exhausted all my replies. You've no idea how quickly you run out of replies to the sort of amiable platitudes that have been showered on me lately."

"I dare say. You know I've never experienced anything like it. People make phrases, and you make phrases back at them. Is that it? But you wouldn't make them for me, I am sure."

"No, I think I shouldn't consider it worth while."

"It wouldn't be good for you if I caught you at it."

"That's the real cleverness," she mused, "to make a catchword sound pristine in its freshness. A lot of women I know can do it. I never could. It's art, or—"

"Do you remember the story of the fairy godmother who put pearls instead the words in the mouth of one of her godchildren?" I asked. "If these were still the blessed days of fairies, I know a lot of good folks who would ask for catchwords, don't you?"

She laughed softly.

"Instead of brains," she said. "They would be so much easier managed."

"Exactly!"

We laughed again. For a moment I think we forgot. We were so accustomed to being gay.

"You are very amiable to-night," she remarked after a moment. "It's so nice to find you that way. You are not always so, you know. For instance—"

"You mistake," I interrupted; "I'm not amiable at all to-night. I am exceedingly out of sorts. I have lost something, and I don't like losing things; it makes me cross."

"Careless people always lose things," said she severely; "I always told you how careless you were."

"I'm afraid you were right," I admitted; "but I didn't mean to be."

"Oh, one never means to be, of course. Don't urge that as an excuse."

"The fault is not all mine," I extenuated.

She laughed.

"Whom are you trying to put it on?" she asked.

But I did not reply, and presently she inquired more kindly:

"Was what you lost of much value?"

"Of the greatest value."

"Pshaw! that's too bad. Have you tried to recover it?" And now a friendly interest warmed her tones.

"It's no use," said I hopelessly.

"But I should think you'd try, at least," she urged.

I looked at her speculatively.

"I wish I dared," I sighed.

"How queer! Why don't you dare?"

"There are several reasons."

She faced me accusingly.

"Are you talking in epigram?" she suddenly demanded. "You know how I hate it."

"Not at all," I protested; "but, you see, this didn't really belong to me. I never possessed it. I hoped that some day it would be mine, and now I have lost the hope of it. Do you see what I mean?"

She put her chin in her palm and stared into the fire.

"That is so different—so altogether different," she said.

"But quite as hard to bear," I insisted. "It is no easier to lose the hope of a thing than to lose the thing itself."

"Perhaps not," she admitted, thoughtfully; "but we have all had a great many losses of that kind."

"I never had a loss like this," I replied seriously, and I arose to punch the fire and change the subject.

Barbara, however, was both sympathetic and interested, and also, I think, she considered this a safe and comfortable topic and she wished to avoid others that might not prove so. So she said:

"I can't see why you have given up all hope of getting this thing that you want. You say you dare not make another try at it. But I don't understand. Is it some sort of a chairmanship, and has it been given to some one else?"

"It is not a chairmanship," I answered her; "but, yes, it has been given to some one else."

"Quite irrevocably?"

"I am afraid so."

"I'm so sorry for you."

"Thank you. I need your sympathy."

"Then it meant a great deal to you?"

She turned in her chair quite suddenly and looked at me, the question in her eyes. At the moment the fire began to flame and crackle, falling full on my unwilling face, and her eyes, meeting mine, comprehended in spite of me, wavered, and dropped.

"Oh!" she breathed very softly, "oh, why did you—did you do it?"

"He isn't much of a man who goes about whimpering, is he?" I asked, trying to smile but making a dismal failure of it. "If the fire had only smouldered a minute longer you need never have known. Don't remember it, and don't let it make any difference in your—your happiness."

"Don't!" she cried. She put her face down on the arm of the chair and left it there a minute, while I stood looking helplessly down at her. Presently she lifted her head and looked at me with eyes filled with scorn.

"I hate myself when I think of what you must think of me," she flashed. "Can you think one kindly thing?"

"Not one," said I, "but a thousand."

Her smile wavered through tears, and she put out her hand to me. She ought not—it was a dangerous moment: there are times when the hardest thing in the world is to take the hand of the woman you love. But she didn't know it, and I took it.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

His First Taste of Mustard.

Harry, aged three, seeing the mustard pot on the table for the first time, teased for some of the unknown contents. His uncle, who was carving, to keep him quiet placed a liberal helping on his plate. The little fellow took it all into his mouth at once. In the endeavor to swallow it and not cry out, he stood on the rung of his chair with the tears rolling down his cheeks. His sister, a year older, asked: "How did you like it, Harry?"

He replied: "Well, it made my nose 'nervous.'"—The Delineator.

Do Well the Thing at Hand.

Don't waste life in doubts and fears; spend yourself on the work before you, well assured that the right performance of the hour's duties will be the best preparation for the hours of ages that follow.—Emerson.

God's Plans for Mankind.

We were planned on lines of nobility; we were intended to be something grand; not mean and stingy, but large and generous; we were made to God's image that we might be Godlike.—Exchange.

The Difference.

Stubbornness is fighting to have in a certain way what you want. Strength of purpose is getting in the most convenient way that presents itself what you desire.

Deadly Sleeping Sickness.

Two-thirds of the native population of Uganda has been wiped out by the sleeping sickness in seven years.

Trackless Trolley a Success.

A trackless trolley in the streets of Vienna nearly a mile and a half long operates with success.

IN YOKOHAMA.

Jack—I wish I had my signal book. Bust me, I'll bet that bend of the wrist means something saucy.

Dodging Work.

"It's too hot to do housework," sighed the wife.

"I know it is."

"Let's go and spend a few days with the Browns at their summer cottage. They'll be tickled to death to have us."

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

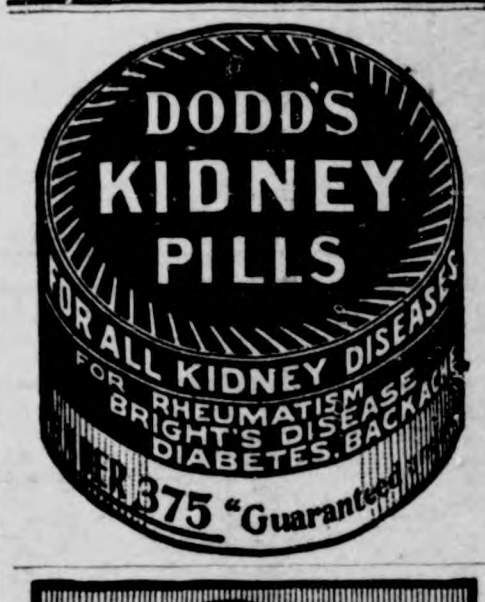
Plump.

Maud—I saw Jack kiss Belle last night on the corner.

Ethel—But Belle hasn't any corners.

ASK YOUR OWN GROCER to give you RUSS BLUE. It will whiten your clothes and preserve your temper.

When a man is his own worst enemy he really doesn't need any others.



A Natural Strength Giver

Ordinary tonics that merely supply food material and give artificial strength by stimulation are never lasting in their effects because they do not remove the cause of the ill health.

A "run down" conditon is generally due to the failure of the digestive organs to properly digest the food.

DR. D. JAYNE'S TONIC VERMIFUGE

tones up the stomach and other digestive organs, and restores their normal, healthy condition. Then the digestive organs supply the body with its full share of nourishment, and in this way build up permanent health and strength.

Sold by all druggists
2 sizes, 50c and 35c.

Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant is an invaluable medicine for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Pleurisy, etc.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

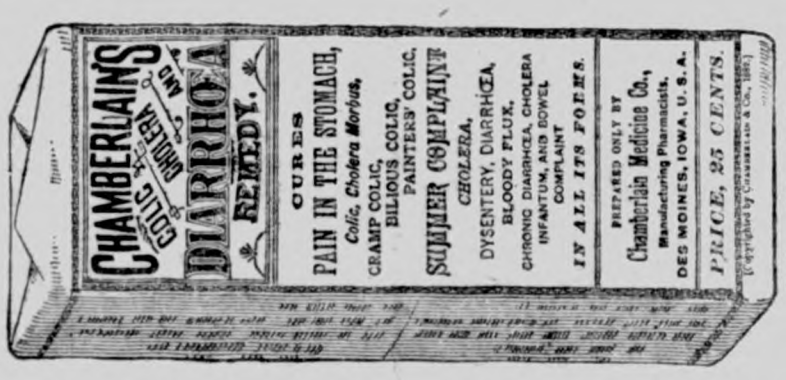
Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy

Acknowledged everywhere to be the most successful medicine in use for Bowel Complaints.

Can be depended upon in the most severe and dangerous cases.

REMEMBER ALWAYS CURES
CURES QUICKLY

MONEY RETURNED IF NOT SATISFIED



Reduced fac simile

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

(Continued from 5th page.)

week, which he had erected on the south side of his farm. Mr. and Mrs. Greffen now have a fine home in which to spend their declining years.

There will be neither Sunday School nor preaching service in the Klemme church Sunday morning. But there will be service at the usual hour Sunday evening.

Chas. Stiehl, our popular Watkins medicine man, is not to be outdone by anyone, and now sports a brand new automobile. The fine roads we have been having of late are quite tempting for those who enjoy a fast ride.

To our surprise, for once John Griewe's team ran faster than he cared to ride comfortably one day last week. In trying to get out of the buggy he sprained his ankle so that he had to resort to a pair of crutches for a few days. When the horses saw John left behind, they kindly left the buggy also, and ran about 40 rods where they were stopped in their flight.

The Shy Child.

The first important step toward helping a child of this kind is to give her self-confidence, even if you run the risk of making her vain and conceited. She needs a little wholesome praise to make her feel that her playmates will like her. Make her look as attractive as possible, and tell her that she is attractive; see that she is trained in all the arts and graces that will make her attractive; send her to dancing school. As she gets older see that she excels in games, in athletics, in anything that will give her confidence in herself when she associates with her schoolmates. If she is going away to school or college give her lessons on the banjo and guitar so that she can join the banjo and guitar clubs. If she has any talent of any kind by which she can entertain her friends help her to develop it. She must be taught to feel that she can help others to have a good time and that consequently she is welcome among them. Once that feeling is established the battle is won.—Harper's Bazar.

Was in a Tight Place.

For many years old Col. Lee resided in Ninth street, New York, near the Hotel St. Denis. He is still remembered by hundreds of New Yorkers for his bright manner and happy, apt remarks. When the project for erecting an equestrian statue to Gen. Washington in Union square was proposed Col. Lee was intrusted with one of the subscription papers for circulation. Shortly after receiving it he approached a well-known citizen and asked for a subscription. But the citizen declined to subscribe, stating in a rather pompous manner:

"I do not consider, sir, that there is any necessity for a monument to Mr. Washington. His fame is undying, sir; he is enshrined in the hearts of his countrymen."

"Is he enshrined in your heart?" softly inquired the colonel.

"He is, sir."

"Well, all I have to say," retorted Col. Lee, "is that he is in a tight place."—New York Press.

Elephant Turned Off Water.

Jule, one of the elephants at the Central park zoo in New York, gave a clever demonstration the other day of the wisdom of her tribe. There is a hydrant just outside of Jule's cage and until Saturday it had been fitted with a round handle to turn on and off the flow of water. On Saturday William Walker, the zoo plumber, fitted a new spigot on the hydrant and put it on a permanent T shaped handle. Jule carefully examined the handle several times Sunday. She looked it over again, and after much fumbling, turned it and produced a flow of water. Then she put her trunk under the stream, filled it and drank copiously. What pleased Keeper Snyder more than anything else was that she carefully turned off the flow of water after drinking.

A Mistake.

"I thought from the way that girl talked, she was the whole thing in the vaudeville sketch, and when I went to see the act, all she did was to appear as an assistant in a milliner's shop, pasting inside bands on hats."

"Oh, then she probably gave you a wrong impression by telling you she

Books — Letter Heads
Pamphlets — Envelopes

Everything printed from

TYPE

At the Times office.

Cards — Bill Heads
Invitations — Posters

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOW

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE. Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fift days tr atment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund mo All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medic nes used. detention from business. Patients at a distan e trea ed by mail and p ess. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Cha low. Thous nds of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. sultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or w to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the u harmful instruments. Our bo fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrot causing nervous debility, weak of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in its stages, cured for life. Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all form private diseases cured to stay cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days wit pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, description of above diseases, effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 323 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES,

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:34 p. m.
82 ..... 2:35 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:55 a. m.
433 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

PATENTS

DESIGNS
TRADE-MARKS
AND COPYRIGHTS
OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

McCALL PATTERNS 10¢ AND 15¢ NONE HIGHER

McCALL'S MAGAZINE 50¢ A YEAR INCLUDING A FREE

McCALL PATTERNS
Celebrated for style, perfect fit, simplici reliability nearly 40 years. Sold in every city and town in the United Stat Canada, or by mail direct. More sol any other make. Send for free cata

McCALL'S MAGAZINE
More subscribers than any other f magazine—million a month. Invaluable est styles, patterns, dressmaking, mil plain sewing, fancy needlework, hairdr etiquette, good stories, etc. Only 50 c year (worth double), including a free p Subscribe today, or send for sample to Agents. Postal brings premium cat and new cash prize offers. Address

WONDERFUL INDUCEMENTS

THE McCALL CO., 238 to 248 W. 37th St., NEW

Electric Bitters

Succeed when everything else fa In nervous prostration and fem weaknesses they are the supre remedy, as thousands have testifi

FOR KIDNEY, LIVER AN STOMACH TROUBLE

it is the best medicine ever s over a druggist's counter.

Just Dust it on the Sor
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls whi work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom
Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDE (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, I

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 9 — KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1909. — $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

Taxes

Twice in each year the taxes levied upon property become due and as the time for the last payment for 1908 tax becomes due on Oct. 1st, we kindly ask that you get in your order for taxes early and avoid the rush which is usually prevalent at the County Treasurer's office on the last few days before due date.....

We have complete lists of everything and will be pleased to pay your taxes without any charge whatever—Phone us if you do not wish to take the time to come to town to order your receipt.....

TAXES

Taxes

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

KLEMME COMPANY FINALLY GETS PATENT

Papers Issued September 21st to Nissen Co-Operative Patent Company.

At last, after over two years of waiting, a patent has been issued to the Nissen Co-Operative Patent Company of Klemme, Ia. for their "Drive Connection for Sickle Bars," a patent gotten up by George Nissen, formerly of this place, but now at Livermore, Iowa. This contrivance is calculated to be used on any sickle machine and has many points which look to be a vast improvement over sickle drives in use today. The bar moves without producing unnecessary jotting and noise and has but few parts. It is so constructed that one revolution of the wheel drives the sickle out and back twice, thus giving the same motion to the sickle when geared only one half as high

The patent was applied for on April 10, 1907, and has been hanging fire all this time, the patent finally being issued on Sept. 21, 1909. The Company consists of George Nissen, of Livermore; G. W. Kluckhohn, Frank Kluckhohn and E. G. Ell, of Klemme; and John A. Berry, of Cedar Rapids.

It looks like this new device would be a winner and we hope that all interested will "make good" on the proposition and it seems certain they will.

School Notes

Enrollment now reaches seventy-four.

Time waits for no one. This week will close the first month of the school year.

Many of the grades will take their first month's examination Friday. All tests cover the work gone over during the month.

Ray Swartz was absent Tuesday on account of sickness,

The county fair did not affect our attendance very much as only two were in attendance at the fair last week Thursday.

We are expecting a new globe soon, which will be a valuable addition to our school apparatus.

Great Alteration Piano Sale

We have received word that Lyon & Healy, of Chicago, known everywhere as "The World's Largest Music House" is conducting an unprecedented alteration sale in their Piano Department.

This great sale was made necessary in order to move the large number of pianos on their third floor so as to facilitate the work of carpenters who are engaged in putting in new flooring.

In the list of pianos offered in this sale are included many standard and well-known makes, such as Steinway, Lyon & Healy, Weber, Fischer, A. B. Chase, Knabe, and Chickering, and prices have been reduced from 20 to 40 per cent.

If you have in mind the purchase of a piano you should drop a postal to Lyon & Healy for a copy of their alteration sale list, as you will save considerable money on your purchase by so doing.

A Hurry Up Call

Quick! Mr. Druggist—Quick! A box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve—Here's a quarter—For the love of Moses, hurry! Baby's burned himself, terribly—Johnnie cut his foot with the axe—Mamie's scalded—Pa can't walk from piles—Billie has boils—and my corns ache. She got it and soon cured all the family. Its the greatest healer on earth. Sold by G. A. Pabst & Co.

TAXES

Among the many things the First National Bank does for its customers is to order receipts without extra charge.

The Second Installment is Now Due

We have complete lists of Ell, Avery, German and Twin Lake townships and the several drainage districts therein, and Town of Klemme.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

A CONVINCER

The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.
We claim for our lumber and building material that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.
May we figure on your next lumber bill?

H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

DO NOT FORGET

"The World's Battle-ground"

By EDWIN W. LANHAM

At Klemme Opera House,

Tuesday Ev'g, Oct. 5

The event of the Season.
First number Lecture Course
Secure your seats early.

Edwin W. Lanham is a man among men. His heart is in his work, and a sublime purpose is back of it all, viz: to help and elevate humanity. He is never tedious, never dry. Sometimes he is an historian, sometimes a poet, sometimes a scientist, often a humorist, but always an orator.

Seats on Sale at State Savings Bank

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA

SUMMARY OF A WEEK'S EVENTS

Latest News of Interest Boiled Down for the Busy Man.

TOUR OF THE PRESIDENT.

President Taft reviewed the troops at Fort Douglas during his stay at Salt Lake City, and was the guest of the Commercial and Alta clubs and the Yale Alumni association.

President Taft in a speech at Denver Tuesday declared that the corporation tax, passed as part of the Payne tariff bill, was far better than an income tax and urged all states to adopt it.

During President Taft's visit at Omaha, Mayor Dahlman prevented the running of all street cars, fearing that there might be trouble from the striking car employes while the chief executive was in the city.

PERSONAL.

Friends of Dr. Cook anticipate a bitter attack on his record and the explorer has sent for Edward Burrill, at Hamilton, Mont., his guide in the ascent of Mount McKinley, to come to New York at once.

Lee McClurg, the treasurer of Yale university, has been selected by President Taft to succeed Charles H. Treat as treasurer of the United States.

M. F. Ryan of Kansas City was elected grand chief of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America at Atlanta, Ga. Frank Paquin of Chicago was elected first vice-president.

Until the question of the north pole has been decided Commander Robert E. Peary will accept no public honors or invitations to receptions. He will reach his home on Eagle island Friday.

Ralph M. Easley of the National Civic federation announced in New York on returning from Europe that the leading industrial nations of Europe would take part in an international congress to be held in this country next year.

To stimulate interest in church, Rev. T. W. Cook, Episcopal rector of Dayton, O., has announced that he will permit smoking during services.

GENERAL NOTES.

Fifty-six lives were lost in the West Indian hurricane which swept over the gulf coast. The property damage was enormous.

Remains of John A. Johnson, governor of Minnesota, now lie beside that of his mother, in the Johnson family lot at St. Peter, Minn.

Eleven lives were lost and more than a million dollars' worth of property was destroyed in Louisiana by Monday's tropical huricane. Other gulf states suffered to a lesser degree.

Over 400 miners had a narrow escape from a burning mine at Ellsworth, Pa., Tuesday. Almost suffocated by smoke, they fought their way to the surface through an unused exit.

W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and wife of New York have signed an agreement to separate, notwithstanding efforts on the part of relatives to prevent the separation. Mrs. Vanderbilt was formerly Mis Virgiina Fair of San Francisco.

The body of Gov. Johnson of Minnesota lay in state at St. Paul Wednesday and was viewed by thousands. Funeral services were held Thursday from the Presbyterian church at St. Peter, his birthplace.

Dr. Frederick E. Cook made the statement Tuesday that he is willing to abide by the final verdict of competent judges and that he will bring human witnesses to America to prove that he reached the north pole.

The 12-cent stamp just ordered prepared for the post-office department was last issued in 1870. The new stamp will bear a likeness of Washington.

Lieut. Hazelhurst and Private Elam of the Seventeenth infantry, who were charged with killing Private Coulter of that regiment, were acquitted by a general court-martial at Atlanta, Ga.

In view of the turbulent scenes, and the frequent annoying collisions between the imported crews and the strike sympathizers, the Omaha officials of the street car company have decided to cease attempting to run cars at night for an indefinite period.

Complications have arisen between Spain and the sultan of Morocco and it is believed that war may result between Spain and the Moorish forces, distinct from that now prevailing, which is limited to Moorish tribesmen.

According to a New York newspaper Theodore P. Shonts, the well-known railroad man, has been sued by Frederick P. Hipsch, New York manager of a Kentucky distilling company for $200,000 damages. Hipsch alleges Shonts alienated his wife's affections.

The National Guard association of the United States began its annual convention in Los Angeles, Cal.

Among those who recently received medals from the government for life-saving are Capt. F. J. Dodge, Harold Dodge, Wilbur L. Dodge and Peter Peterson for rescues at Mackinac, Mich.

The interstate-commerce commission must specify what is "a crowded street car" before the act of congress giving that body jurisdiction over the car lines of the District of Columbia can be enforced, says Judge Malloney of Washington in a decision.

When the launch Madegare struck the towline of a tug in New York harbor and capsized it was believed three occupants of the launch were drowned. E. P. Lawson and a friend, two of the men, got ashore after being an hour in the water. The third man, a boatman, has not been found.

Anna Gelish, wife of a soldier, tossed her baby out of a window when fire started in her home in Indianapolis and then jumped herself. The mother's legs were broken. The baby was unhurt.

Government meteorological tests to be made at Indianapolis and at Omaha simultaneously have been delayed by the explosion of two of 15 balloons imported from France especially for these experiments.

Milton McClure, Republican candidate for the Illinois supreme court in the Fourth district, feels confident that he will be elected over G. A. Cooke, the Democratic candidate.

Police Inspector Edward McCann was found guilty by a Chicago jury of extorting bribes from fallen women and degraded men in the "Red Light" district. Sentence was deferred.

Secretary Wilson says he is convinced that federal control of railroad capitalization would lead to large investments in railroad securities by American farmers.

Three days were devoted by the duke of the Abruzzi to visiting Miss Katherine Elkins and her mother near Geneva, Switzerland, according to Rome reports.

Commander Peary reached his home city, Portland, Me. His journey through the state was one continuous ovation, large crowds greeting at every station.

It is feared the loss of life occasioned by the West Indian hurricane will reach 100 in Louisiana. Hundreds of people are destitute and the loss runs into the millions.

The Hudson-Fulton celebration opened at New York with a naval parade of merchant marine vessels led by the replicas of Hudson's Half Moon and Fulton's Clermont, and the assembling of more than 70 warships from the navies of the United States, the Netherlands, Great Britain, France, Germany and other countries.

The fortieth anniversary of the birth of the Prohibition party was celebrated in Chicago with a monster parade of temperance, church and law and order organizations.

The Japanese Commercial commission, comprising 75 persons, arrived in Chicago and began an inspection of the industries of that district by visiting the stock yards and the steel works at Gary, Ind.

The completion of the Gunnison river tunnel project was signalized by the presence of President Taft, who opened the gates which admitted the waters of the Gunnison river into the Uncompahgre valley.

Prof. Edgar S. Hewitt, president of the School of American Archaelogy, who has been excavating near Santa Fe, N. M., believes the ancient cliff dwellers abandoned their homes because the land dried up and were mixed with the lower order of Indians.

Estimates of the Tanana, Alaska, gold output this year place it at more than $12,000,000. Scarcity of water curtailed the yield.

Arguments for the two disinherited sons of Claus Spreckels against distribution of a part of the estate, opened the will contest at San Francisco involving from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000.

During August 16,000 new settlers entered western Canada, 7,500 being from the United States. This is an increase of 64 per cent. over August last year.

Three men were killed when the Montreal express, bound for Boston, crashed into the rear of the disabled Quebec express, from Quebec for Boston, about a mile and a half from Pattee, N. H. The dead are: Engineer John P. Callahan, Fireman George Parmenter of the Montreal express and a tramp.

Opera singers in New York have been the victims of a company of blackmailers with inventive minds, who obtained money through threats of hissing at performances and promises of applause.

FIND BURIED GOLD

More Than$ 12,000 Dug Up From a Palmyra Farm.

BELIEVE MORE BURIED THERE

Andy Dickson Had Planted Gold for Fifty Years, and It Is Thought Fully $25,000 Was Buried By Him on Farm.

Indianola, Ia., Sept. 27.—More than $12,000 has been dug out of the ground where the late Andy Dickson buried it on his farm near Palmyra, and the authorities were directed by Judge Edmund Nichols to resort again to the farm and continue the search. It is believed that more than $25,000 in gold pieces will be found on the place when it is thoroughly searched.

Dickson died at the age of 80 years, at his home, three miles from Palmyra, and thirteen miles from Indianola, on Aug. 20. To the amazement of his widow and his other relatives—he had no children—he was found not to have any money in the bank. The nephew of his wife, Andrew Smith, was made administrator of the estate, and when it got to be common gossip in the neighborhood that there was countless treasure on the farm, he went to digging about the place.

At a shed, old and dilapidated, about twenty yards from the house in which Dickson and his wife lived and where he died. Smith discovered $2,300 in gold pieces, many of them being $1.00 coins. He at once reported the matter here, and Judge Nichols directed Sheriff Kimer, who took Lee Hiatt of the board of supervisors with him, to search the Dickson premises. They went to the farm and, digging about the same old shed, used as a smokehouse, unearthed $10,005 in gold pieces.

They were found in two jars. In a glass one was $4,005 and in an earthenware jar was found $6,000. The money was brought here and placed in safe custody, and the court directed the sheriff to return and prosecute further the search for treasure which is still believed to be buried on the farm.

Dickson was miserly. He had few relatives. He was childless and of his four brothers and four sisters but one is living and his whereabouts are unknown. He owned 260 acres of very fine land which made him an annual rental of from $1,200 to $1,500. He owned 1,000 chickens and from these he secured the income on which he and his wife lived. His farm he began to rent out twenty years ago.

As he approached death a relative of his wife, named Garrett, sitting by his bedside, thought to prepare the old man for death by suggesting to him the possibility of his demise He was unaffected. The visitor suggested that probably it would be wise for him, nder the circumstances to tell his wife of the money he had, for it was neighborhood gossip that he had an immense amount of money somewhere.

"Yes," whispered the dying man, "I have lots of money, lots of money, in many, many places. But I would have to show you where it is." They were his last words, but just before he died he placed in the hands of his wife the key to the little house where $12,305 already has been unearthed. She, wondering what he had done with his money, nevertheless, did not think of finding the fortune in the shed, the key to which he had given her with shaking fingers.

The income of the old man's farm for twenty-eight years has not been accounted for, and it is believed that from $4,000 to $8,000 will yet be found on the place, possibly vastly more. The place is covered with little old houses and sheds and tree stumps. They will be diligently searched.

Central College Opens.

Pella.—Central college began its fifty-seventh year with a large registration. There are seven new teachers who were presentet to the students at chapel amid great enthusiasm. The college chapel was repaired and frescoed during the summer vacation, and various other changes and improvements made. Until a new president is chosen, which is expected soon, Dean H. H. Severn is acting in that capacity.

Suddenly Drops Dead.

Rockwell City.—Frank Glaez, a prominent citizen of Calhoun county, dropped dead while listening to the trial of a case in Judge Church's court He had been troubled with heart disease. Deceased was foreman of the grand jury, which had finished its work.

Waverly Man Heads Fruit Show.

Council Bluffs, Iowa.—The announcement that Elmer Reeves of Waverly had been selected by the National Horticultural congress to act as superintendent of the show to be held here in December, has been received with pleasure by fruit growers of Iowa and elsewhere where Mr. Reeves is known. Mr. Reeves was superintendent last year and made friends of the association of every exhibitor. He has been superintendent of horticulture at the state fair for many years, has had a wide and ripe experience, and is otherwise well qualified for the place.

The congress this year is already assured of being a record breaker. An aggregate of $35,000 in premiums is to be given and exhibits of apples and other products will be shown from almost every state in the union. Every day brings good news regarding the exhibits. A letter to Superintendent Reed from North Carolina tells about a fine exhibit of nuts, as well as an exhibit of grasses, green stuff and vegetables. In south Texas the citrus fruit growers have appropriated money and are coming here with the avowed intention of carrying home some of the big prizes. Liberati's band will give concerts each evening and afternoon in the auditorium, while other musical and amusement features are provided. The preliminary premium list has just been published and another premium list will be issued soon.

Synod Meets in Golden Jubilee.

Burlington.—The German Evangelistic synod of North America convened in this city in its nineteenth general conference for a ten days' session that will be of great importance to the church.

The occasion is a golden jubilee of the organization of the First Evangelical synod in this country in 1859. Since then the church has grown from seven ministers to one thousand, with over a quarter of a million communicants in their churches. The men forming the delegates and law bodies in session here are all of high rank in the affairs of the church and the body is an august and highly intellectual one. The conference will decide upon matters of great and lasting importance to the evangelical bodies in this country. Among the things to be considered is establishing of one or more schools and colleges in this part of the country including Iowa.

A number of cities in this state will in time become candidates for an educational institution of this church. Several hundred delegates are in Burlington and in order to feed them without inconvenience one of the evangelical churches has been turned into a large caravansary, where dinner and supper is served in banquet style, the meals usually taking on the nature of a great social function.

Methodist Conference at Estherville.

Estherville.—The thirty-eighth annual session of the Northwest Iowa conference of the Methodist Episcopal church convened here with Bishop Joseph F. Berry of Buffalo, New York, presiding.

The session opened with the administration of the holy communion by the bishop assisted by the district superintendents.

The roll of the conference was called, and most of the members responded, and of the absentees practically all will arrive during the day. The bishop made a brief address which received great applause. In this address he severely denounced the attempt of local churches to call their pastors, which he said was unmethodistic and usually productive of trouble.

T. S. Bassett of Clear Lake was reelected secretary of the conference. C. M. Stuart, D. D., of Chicago, editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, addressed the conference briefly.

Iowa City Farmers' Celebration.

Iowa City.—All Iowa City is looking forward to the great farmers' day program and celebration which will take place on Clinton and adjacent streets on October 6. Great preparations are being made for the event. These include schedules of races for men, women and children. Races will be run on Clinton street and in the afternoon the city park will be the scene of a monster barbecue. The committee in charge consists of G. W. Schmidt, William Carson, George Dvorsky, Henry Louis and E. A. Miller.

New Home for Iowa City Elks.

Iowa City.—The Iowa City Elks are planning a monster dedication service for their new headquarters here. The carpenter work is completed and only the decorating remains unfinished. October 6 will be the date for a meeting of the local body to complete dedicatory plans and further arrangements for the dedication. Exalted Ruler J. U. Sammis of LeMars will be here for the dedication, as will also Fred Robinson of Dubuque.

MANY HEAR TAF

Delivers Preachment in Morma Temple at Salt Lake City.

MAKES APPEAL FOR AMIT

President Wildly Cheered When I troduced by Reed Smoot, and Refers to Predecessor's Capacity for Impressing Multitude.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 27—I the pulpit of the famous Mormon tabernacle in this city, where four years ago Theodore Roosevelt, then president, preached a long sermon on right living and the duties of good citizens, audience which he said inspired him to try to follow in the footsteps of his predecessor and deliver a preachment.

Mr. Taft did preach a sermon—text and all. The immense audience in the flag draped edifice, the splendid musical program of operatic and patriotic selections, the enthusiastic cheering as President Taft appeared and the quick response of the audience to points which he endeavored to impress upon his hearers, inspired him, the president declared, with higher thoughts of country and patriotism. The president's sermon was an appeal for amity between the people, attributing the best rather than the worst motives to the action of others when possible to do so, and not to harbor hatred or animosity.

"A soft answer turneth away wrath but grievous words stir up anger," was the text Mr. Taft selected from the book of Proverbs. The sermon was a homely utterance, largely made up of a relation of stories to give emphasis to the points.

From the tabernacle the president was driven to review about 20,000 school children. At one point along the line a thousand or more children had been arranged in a living flag, red, white and blue caps serving to outline the national emblem. Thence the president proceeded to the Young Men's Christian association, where he made a brief address to an audience composed entirely of men. Lastly the president attended a service especially arranged for him at the Unitarian church. After this unusually busy Sunday morning he left Salt Lake at noon for Ogden, where he enjoyed an eighteen mile ride through Ogden canyon, and made his third address of the day at Lester park there.

WHITNEY MESSAGE HITS PEARY

Declares Commander Barred Cook's Records from the Roosevelt—Doctor Keeps Silence.

New York, Sept. 27—Commander Robert E. Peary refused absolutely to allow any of the records or instruments of Dr. Frederick A. Cook to be brought aboard the steamer Roosevelt and was thus instrumental in causing these records to be put in a cache at Etah, Greenland, according to Harry Whtiney, the New Haven sportsman, in a dispatch received in this city by Dr. Cook. The message which came as a response to one sent by Dr. Cook, is as follows:

"Strathcona, via Indian Harbor and Cape Race, N. F., Sept. 25—Dr. F. A. Cook, Waldorf, New York: Started home on the Roosevelt. Nothing arrived for me. Peary would allow nothing belonging to you on board. Said to leave everything in cache in Etah.

"Met Captain Samm, North Star. Did not go back after going, School er bound St. Johns take steamer home. Hope you well. See you soon. Explain all. Good shooting.

"Harry Whitney."

Tipton Mother Released.

Tipton, Ia., Sept. 27.—Mrs. Olli Oliphant of West Branch was found not guilty of murder because insane at the time she poisoned her 18 months-old baby on July 13. The woman was crazed by fear. Experts claim the woman is sane now. Mrs. Oliphant at the same time fed three other children poisoned candy, but they recovered.

Slayer of Infant Insane.

Des Moines, Sept. 27—Mrs. Nell Taylor, the Ottumwa woman held in the county jail for the murder of her baby, was in an improved physical condition yesterday, but mentally was unchanged, according to County Physician Thomas Buchanan. She is believed to be insane.

Train Robber Tries to Escape.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 27.—While the patrol wagon was taking G. W. Marvin, the alleged Union Pacific train robber, back to jail from a barber shop, the wagon ran into a small street car riot on Farnam street and the prisoner made an attempt to escape.

LIPS THAT WERE SEALED

BY ALMA MARTIN ESTABROOK

PICTURES BY A. WEIL

AUTHOR of "MY COUSIN PATRICIA"

COPYRIGHT BY J. B. LIPPINCOTT CO

SYNOPSIS.

The story opens with a scene at a box party. Miss Henrietta Winstanley, sister of Bishop Winstanley overheard Banker Ankony propose to Barbara Hemingray, whose brother Dan was in his employ. Dan was one of the town's popular young men. He showed some nervousness when Attorney Tom Twining told him Barbara refused Ankony. Ankony the following day, summoning Twining, accused Dan of looting the bank. Twining refused to prosecute. Barbara persuaded Ankony to postpone starting prosecution. Twining learned of the engagement of Ankony and Barbara. He congratulated both.

CHAPTER IV.—Continued.

"Then you won't—you won't—oh, will you—" she cried chaotically.

"I won't," I declared. "It's all right. Why, Barbara, bless you, you knew that, didn't you?"

She nodded slowly. "Of course there never was—oh, why do you make me say such things?—there never was anything—anything between us, Mr. Twining. You don't care for me, really, I am sure. You—never told me so, and—"

"No, I never told you so," I repeated. "I was waiting—"

"Don't," she begged. "But, you see, I didn't know. And, oh, it couldn't have—"

I stooped and touched her hair with my lips.

"Never mind," said I; "tell me about who has been to see you. I want to know everything, you know."

She lifted me a grateful glance.

"Mrs. Tyson Potter was here," she said, and a new, stinging smile touched her lips. "She came to say pleasantly unpleasant things. She told me quite frankly that it was a wise thing for a poor girl like me to marry rich. You wouldn't—"

"I am not a Mrs. Tyson Potter. The old heathen!"

Barbara flashed me a smile.

"But it's rather the natural thing for people to say of such an engagement," she protested a moment later. "You know it is."

"Nonsense! It isn't. And what do you care what they say? Was there ever a betrothal that was not the signal-gun for a perfect volley of silly chatter?"

She smoothed a crumpled frill of lace.

"Miss Winstanley has not been here," she said significantly.

"She's not in town. She left the day before your engagement was announced. Didn't you know?"

"No. Oh, I'm so glad. I thought she disapproved. And I'm so very fond of her I couldn't bear—"

"Nothing of the sort. She'll write you the minute she hears, of course. She has gone off somewhere with a sick friend and probably hasn't heard the news yet."

"How comforting you are! It's such a relief to hear it. I couldn't bear to feel estranged from her. The bishop was very kind. He sent me those beautiful roses there."

"Where?" questioned I eagerly.

"There on the table. Wasn't it odd he should have chosen Soleil d'Or beauties? Why, where are they?" she asked, as she turned to look at them, and so to avoid looking at me.

"They are in the south drawing room," I replied gravely; "I'll go and get them."

I caught the glimmer in her eyes as I passed her.

When I came back she was stooping so I could not see her face, but she spoke softly, "I have asked Mr. Ankony always to send me the paler roses."

It was the point beyond which I could not keep my head, nor my lips.

"Barbara!" I cried out foolishly.

"You know how I dislike reminders," she said quietly. "And ours has been a pleasant—friendship."

I had got hold of myself again.

"What did the bishop write you?" I asked.

"Oh, a charming little note. He said the most beautiful things in it."

"It is a part of his mission—to say beautiful things."

"And how well he fills it! He is such a dear."

"So Mrs. Ankony says," I remarked.

"Mrs. Ankony?"

"Mrs. Jack—when he rides in the park with Miss Streeter."

"Oh," and she smiled politely. How many women smile politely when their husband's relatives are mentioned!

"Oh, perhaps you don't like her. Is that it?"

"I suppose you will go to the Canadian Rockies for your bridal trip?" I suggested presently.

"No, no!" she cried sharply.

"You always said you would like that you know."

"I have changed my mind."

I fingered an old Spanish cooking pot of copper that stood on the table between us. That old Spanish cooking-pot! How many times, in crucial moments, we have bent to examine it, Barbara and I. There is not a scratch or dent on its polished surface that I cannot see with my eyes shut.

"There is something I want you to understand," I said slowly, "and then we won't talk any more about it."

"Ye—es?" she encouraged, rather doubtfully.

"It is only that, no matter what comes, you are to remember that I have not changed."

She put her hand to her throat with a gesture new to me, and full of pain. "Why will you?" she pleaded. "Don't, please don't!"

"I don't want to hurt you, dear. It can't matter to you one way or the other now. And you are to understand that I don't blame you one bit. Jove! how could I? You couldn't care for me if you couldn't. And heaven knows I don't wonder that you couldn't. But I want you to know, that's all. I think perhaps you have always known, a little—haven't you? Such things between some people don't have to be put into words. Voicing them seems somehow to rob them of their exquisiteness. You know what I mean, don't you? 'I love you' sounds so empty, while it is so overflowingly replete. I fancied you felt as I did about it, dear. I was waiting, indeed, to know a little better just how you did feel. I wanted not to lose your friendship if you could not give me your love. Failing that, I was determined to have for my own the perfect relationship that has so long endured between us, and I knew I should spoil it by declaring my love for you prematurely."

"Yes," she breathed.

"So I never told you I loved you, Barbara, and I am telling you now that you may be sure that, little as it amounts to, my devotion is yours to command, if you need it. If you can ever lean a little on it, won't you? Do, dear. I want so much to serve you—if I may, at any time, in any way. No, don't say anything, please. I know you would like to say something kind. Bless your heart! Let me take it for granted. I'm going now."

She lifted her head, with a gesture for silence.

"Some one is coming," she whispered.

There were voices in the hall—Ankony's and that of his sister-in-law, and others that I did not stop to recognize. I was in a distinctly un-Ankony mood, and I caught up my hat and moved toward the side door; by that same side door had I made many exits.

Barbara followed me, her hand extended.

"Don't go," she pleaded. "How can you desert me so?"

"I would do anything else for you," I murmured. "Anything but stay."

Then I let myself out as they came down the hall, and found my way to the street through the familiar rose garden.

CHAPTER V.

Bishop Winstanley sent for me the next day. His unexpected summons came late in the afternoon, when I was very busy, and I could not answer it at once. I drove promptly to his house the moment I was released from my last engagement, but it was late and the lights were on. He sent word down that he was dressing for dinner, but that he would be glad to have me come directly to his dressing room. I went up, to find him in a rather flamboyant gown, sitting incongruously beside his sister's dainty little dressing table, with its pink-shaded candles.

He put down a silver-backed brush and rose to greet me. I knew him better in canonicals and broadcloth than in this bizarre attire, and he rather embarrassed me, but, as usual, he was serene and apparently quite undisturbed, as if he were as accustomed to granting audiences here as in the stately rooms below.

"They are doing over my suite while my sister is away," he explained, "and I have taken possession here. Sit down, if you can find room for the pillows. Such trifling pillows as they are," with a smile. "For so sensible a woman as my sister, she amazes me with her furbelows."

"I suppose she would call them comforts," I suggested.

"Oh, doubtless," said he. "They are more like little pink and yellow cotton puffs than anything that might give real comfort." He tossed a couple of them out of a brocaded armchair and, indicating it, drew up another for himself.

"I hope my summons did not inconvenience you, arriving at such an hour?" he remarked. "But my mind has been greatly perturbed, and I wished to have it put at peace one way or the other. The matter upon which I wish you to advise me is one of exceeding delicacy and unusualness."

I bowed.

"Perhaps you know Mrs. Anson Dines," he remarked, by way of beginning.

"I have the misfortune not to," said I.

"Well, I don't know that I should put it quite like that, Mr. Twining," he said, with a smile; "but she is certainly a most estimable person, of—I think I may truthfully say—the most original and startling ideas, particularly as to—but we shall touch upon that later. Mrs. Dines has long been a friend of my sister's."

"Ah, so I recall," I interrupted. Mrs. Dines was the widow whom I heard Miss Winstanley speak of to the bishop the evening at the opera when his glasses had been so persistently leveled where she thought they ought not to be. I imagined something interesting was about to be unfolded, but I was in no way prepared for what came.

"You have—ah, seen Mrs. Dines?" the bishop asked.

"Once," said I; "a somewhat stout lady with copious—"

"Chins," supplied he gravely.

"Dear me," said I.

The bishop nodded solemnly.

"A trifle elderly?" I ventured, encouraged by something in his eyes.

"A trifle! She is 60."

"Ah, is it possible?"

"Mrs. Dines admits 60," he replied. "She may be more. But 60—is enough."

I nodded, not quite understanding, and waiting for that which I knew would make it plain.

"Mrs. Dines is a lady of very large means and equally generous inclinations," he continued. "A woman who has done much good and should continue to do more. Charitable work is her passion. She is an enthusiast along that particular line. My sister finds in her a most beautiful and commendable character.

"I have often heard her called so."

"There are undoubtedly many admirable things about the lady."

"As a young woman I imagine she may have been attractive," I ventured, watching the bishop out of the tail of my eye.

"As a young woman," he repeated.

"And clever," said I.

He smiled. "She is still clever enough," he commented.

There was a long pause, during which his shapely fingers caressed the tassel of his dressing gown.

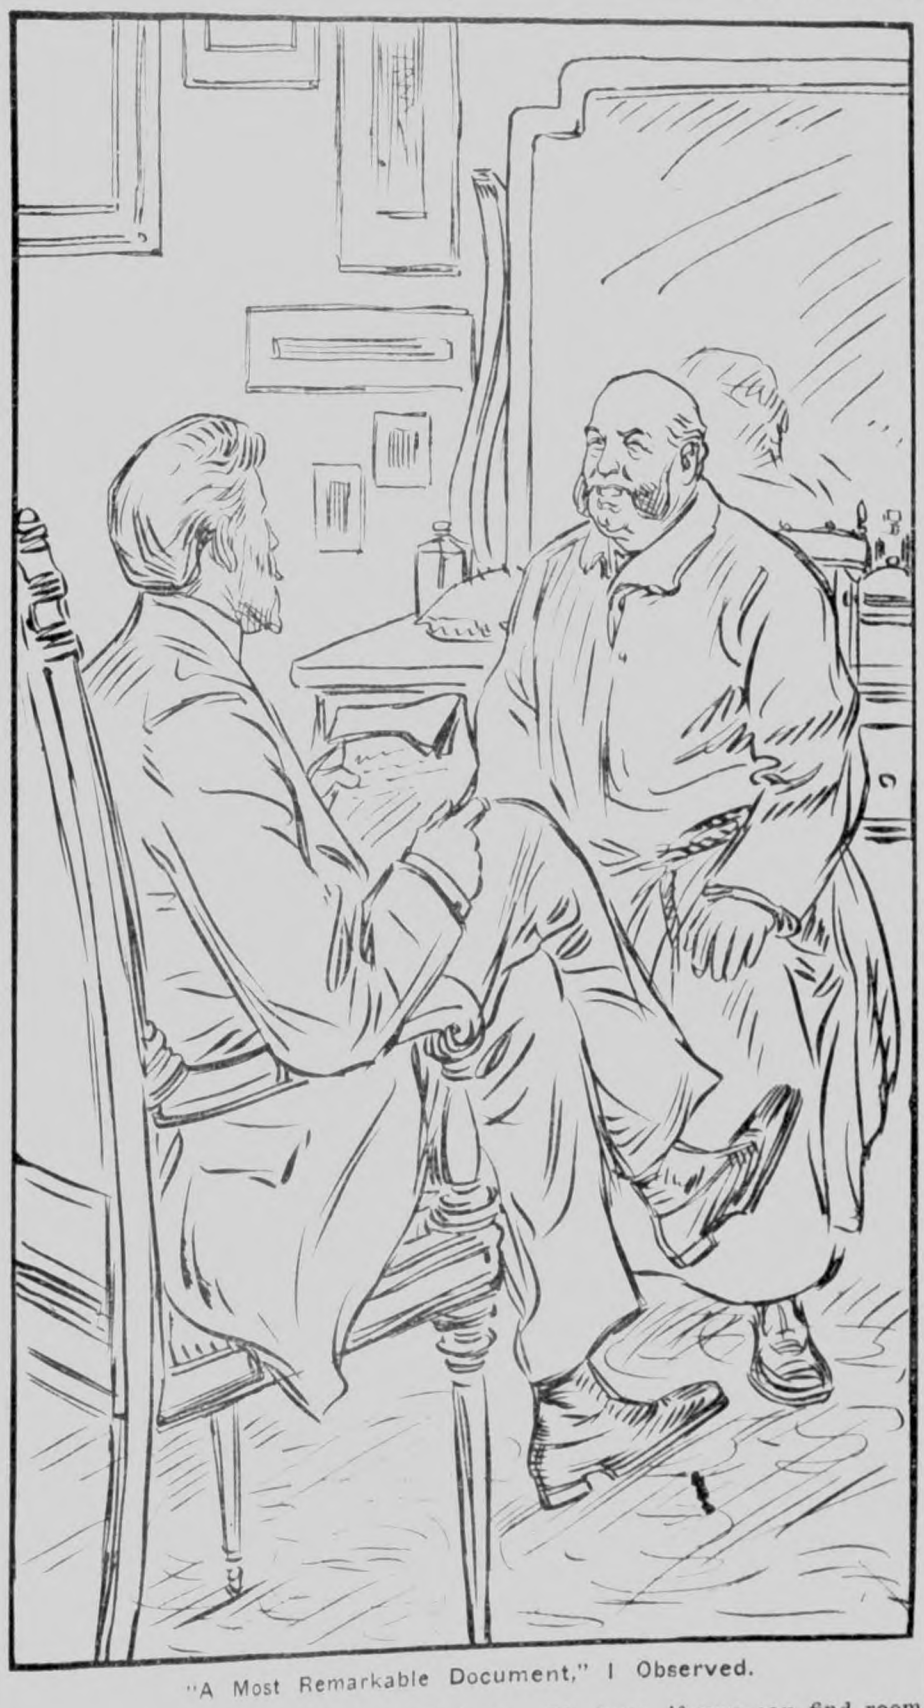
"Mrs. Dines is in Africa at present,' he continued. "She says she desires to remain there indefinitely. Wishing to further to its utmost the work she has undertaken, and to be entirely unhampered and unharassed by restrictions, she has sent this most remarkable proposition to my sister, who in turn has indorsed it and sent it on to me with all promptness. I wish you to tell me what you think of it, sir."

He handed me a decorous-looking document, which I opened with much interest. It was exceedingly direct and simple—as unadorned and simple as the lady who had indited it: Mrs. Anson Dines, for the privilege of using the powerful name of Bishop Charles Winstanley, would dedicate her undivided effort and her undivided fortune to the church which the bishop so brilliantly adorned, especially to that portion of it which she had taken under her special care and loving direction, there in a country so far from her home. The marriage should be performed by proxy, and Bishop Winstanley should continue, then and always, at perfect liberty to pursue his own helpful and shining career in his own land, and in his own manner, quite as if she did not bear his name.

I finished what was so curiously and so plainly set forth, and looked up to meet the bishop's questioning eyes.

"A most remarkable document," I observed.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)



"A Most Remarkable Document," I Observed.

DERIVATION OF DOLLAR MARK.

Has Long Been Subject of Discussion, and Many Are the Theories Advanced.

The origin of the sign $, as representing the unit of our money system, has long been the subject of discussion and not a little doubt. It has been variously accounted for, the derivations generally advanced being:

1. A combination of the letters U. S. After the adoption of the federal constitution these initials were prefixed to the federal currency, and, according to many who have given study to the subject, the two letters were simply run together so as to make the magic $, the loop of the U disappearing in the operation.

2. An adaptation or modification of 8/8, once used to denote a piece of eight reals, or, as a dollar was then called, a piece of eight.

3. A form of H. S., which was used to mark the Roman unit of money.

4. A contraction of P. and S., used in Spanish accounts to indicate peso, (dollar).

5. A device formerly seen on the reverse of a Mexican Pillar dollar, (a Spanish coin), representing the Pillars of Hercules, connected by a scroll displaying the words Plus Ultra.

6. A contraction of the Spanish "fuertes," (hard), to distinguish the silver, or hard, dollar from paper money.

In all of these cases it must be admitted that there is no little speculation, and up to this time there is no prospect that the question will ever be definitely settled. The student of the subject can take his choice, and doubtless will be able to find some kind of authority for any one of these diverse explanations.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder. It makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating, callous and hot, tired, aching feet. Always use it to Break in new shoes. Sold by all Druggists. 25c. Trial package mailed Free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, New York.

If you are on confidential terms with almost any family you discover they are terribly hard up.

Guess why the little boy doesn't chew Wrigley's Spearmint. He hasn't any—that's why!

Do God's will as he makes it known to-day, and to-morrow will take care of itself.

Nothing so good as the new RUSS BLUE. Delights the laundress. Refuse Imitations.

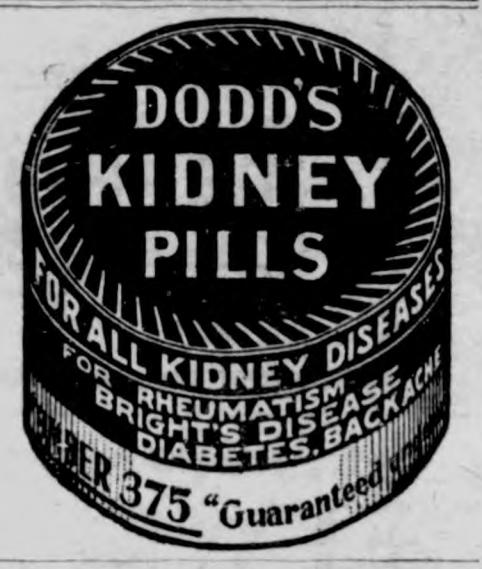
The shadow of a trouble is often blacker than the trouble itself.

WE SELL GUNS AND TRAPS CHEAP N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

The devilish thing about worry is that it never counts on God's help.

Finest indoor sport!
Chewing Wrigley's Spearmint.

The true Christian does a great many things he does not have to do.



Are Your Bank Deposits Earning 8, 10 or 12%?

If not, let me send you particulars about the safest and most profitable investments offered

United States Gold Coin Bonds

"Safest and most profitable."

Let me convince you

C. E. BRYAN, P. O. Box 728, Dept. D, Chicago

TEXAS LANDS

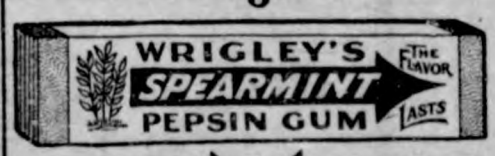
Forty acres rich chocolate sandy loam soil, in our Colony lands close to Houston, will earn MORE MONEY than 160 acres of best Iowa land. We can prove it to you. These lands have every convenience, Churches, Schools, Railroads, Shell-roads, Good Markets. Corn, Cotton, Sugar-cane, Oats, Alfalfa, Sorghum, Sweet and Irish Potatoes, in fact all kinds of Garden Truck can be produced EVERY MONTH in the year. Oranges, Figs, as well as all other fruits grow to perfection. Sell your 160 acres and take part of the money and buy one of these Forty Acre Tracts with a part of it and make more money.

PRICE $2500.00. EASY TERMS.

THE CHAS. B. MOLING CO.
HOUSTON, TEXAS

Tastes like a Mint Julep without the "Julep"

The delicious flavor of real mint leaves is fine for teeth - finer yet for digestion!



Look for the spear — The flavor lasts

Des Moines Directory

FURS TO ORDER AND REPAIRED 25 to 35 per cent discount. Seal Skin and all other furs made over to 1910 season's style. All Work Strictly Guaranteed. S. B. SEFREN, 510 Locust St., Des Moines, Ia. Expert Furrier, Designer, Cutter and Fitter.

Bale Ties For Hay and Straw. Des Moines Bale Tie Co., 8th and Vine Sts., Des Moines, Iowa

EAT PURITY CHOCOLATES

M'f'd by Windsor-Purity Candy Co., Des Moines. For sale by all first-class dealers.

GROCERIES & HARDWARE

COLD WEATHER

Is SURE to be here soon. Are you prepared for it? Perhaps you will need a new stove before winter sets in. If so you will miss it if you don't call and inspect our line of

HEATERS AND RANGES

We have just received a new shipment and will be glad to show them to you. Call early while the assortment is complete. See the Summit Range

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

ONE PRICE CASH STORE

KLEMME, IOWA

DRUGS

A full line of patents of every manufacture. Jewelery, Wall Paper, Paints and Oils, School Supplies and Stationery.

TOILET ARTICLES

Face Powder, Talcum Powder, Sachet Powder, Face Creams, Toilet Waters, Hand Lotions.

MUSICAL GOODS

String and Brass Instruments, Edison Phonographs and Supplies. We are selling Phonographs on small weekly payments and going one better than the Chicago price by saving you the freight.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile. both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

See us when you want to buy TILE.

Northern Lumber Company

N. L. PALMER, AGENT

KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

"Printing That Pleases"

The TIMES Job Department

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

German M. E. Church Items

W. F. Lau and family were over Sunday visitors in Klemme.

George Gruetzmacher has treated the interior of his house to new paper and paint.

The Womans Foreign Missionary Society will meet next week Thursday with Mrs. Chas. Kraus.

Mrs. Wm. Bredlow went to Maynard, Minn., last week to visit with her daughter, Mrs. Kropp.

Carl Wellemeyer of Colesburg spent a day in our burg last week, looking after business interests.

The "Standard Bearers" will meet Friday evening at the H. F. Ludeke home for their monthly study.

Mrs. Bettin returned from Charles City last Saturday and will keep house for her son Emil several weeks.

Mrs. Geo. Ulrich is spending a few weeks in Clayton county at the old homestead and numerous other places of her former acquaintance.

The first quarterly meeting of this conference year will be held in Klemme Saturday and Sunday. District Superintendent Rolfing will conduct the same.

The township convention was a success last Sunday. The day being ideal, the attendance was very good. Every one on the program was present and well prepared, except Miss Callison, who found it impossible to come. All seemed deeply interested in the different subjects taken up. We believe that every one present was more fully convinced than ever that the work of the Sunday School is a great and most important one and that all good and truly great men are deeply interested in it.

Annual Meeting of Hancock County Teachers

To Be Held in the Public School Building at Garner on Saturday, October 2.

FORENOON SESSION

Commencing at 9:45 o'clock:

1. Music.
2. Address, "Training of the Hand"—Mrs. Ella Ford-Miller.
3. The Story as a Factor in Education—General Discussion.

AFTERNOON SESSION

Commencing at 1:00 o'clock:

1. Music.
2. "School Room Decoration"—Mrs. Ella Ford-Miller.
3. Reading of the resolutions adopted by the County Superintendents' Conference at Des Moines, May, 1909—General Discussion.

Go With a Rush

The demand for that wonderful stomach, liver and kidney cure, Dr. King's New Life Pills—is astounding G. A. Pabst & Co. say they never saw the like. Its because they never fail to cure sour stomach, constipation, indigestion, billiousness, jaundice, sick headache, chills and malaria. Only 25c.

MILLINERY

Latest and Most Approved Styles---Right up to the Minute.

We are showing the nicest line of Stylish Millinery ever shown in our town and we want every lady in this vicinity to call and see our line.
Miss Lund is the best trimmer we have ever had and her work is sure to satisfy and please you.

New Shirt Waists in lawn and silk. Hair ornaments. Also newest in collars.

Bear-Skin Goods

Children's Bear-skin Tams, Hoods and Caps at about half price and a large assortment to select from.

Women's and Children's Wearing Apparel

An opportunity to make your selections from a complete variety of styles such as are carried only in the large cities. As a representative of Chas. A. Stevens & Bros., Chicago, I am prepared to show you samples representing a complete stock of High-Grade Ready-to-wear for Women, Misses and Children at Exceptionally Low Prices and Satisfaction Guaranteed. Call and look over our beautiful samples.

Cloaks, Suits, Skirts, Waists, Furs, etc.,

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

THRESHING COAL

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Sootless and Washed Egg. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

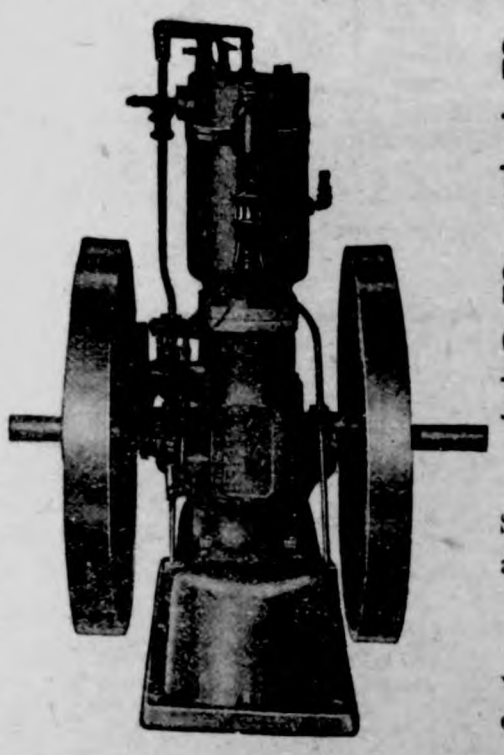
H. C. LAU

Thoroughbred Duroc Jersey Boars and Gilts For Sale

Two Strains. Sired by I Great Notcher and dam Ohio Chief; and others Sure Money, dams Iowa Banker. This stock is first class in every respect.

——Call on or address——

J. T. GRIGGS. Goodell, Iowa



Save work, worry, money by using a

STOVER GASOLINE ENGINE

Made right—sold right. Send for an illustrated catalog of our

ENGINES

wind mills and feed grinders.

Sandwich Mfg. Co.

Mason City, Iowa General Agents

COLD FACTS

Winter is at hand and with it the demand for Warm Goods. I am prepared as never before to supply your wants.

READ CAREFULLY:

Cloaks! Cloaks!

Don't rest easy until you have seen the swell things we have in

Ladies Plush Lined Coats

Bring in the whole family from the smallest baby to the biggest Grandma. With 200 Cloaks in stock we can fit you all.

Dress Goods

Just to make our Dress Goods corner a busy place, we offer for a short time a Big Lot of Dress Goods worth from 60c to $1. choice per yd. 47 cts

Blankets

Cotton Blankets all sorts at from 50c to $2.50

See those extra fine all-wool large size Blankets we are offering at per pair $5.00

This is a Snap

Furs! Furs!

I just want to show you how cheap I can sell you a nice FUR. If you are interested, come in.

BIG SNAP Cloak Sale!

I bought 51 Cloaks at less than 25 cents on the Dollar and am going to close them out AT ONCE at the following prices:

19 Children's Coats worth from $2.00 to $6.00, go at..... 29c

17 Ladies' Coats worth from $5.00 to $12.00..... 98c

15 Very Choice Coats worth up to $16.00, all go at..... $3.00

They are mostly short Coats but made of very good material and are not damaged.

Don't let this Big Snap pass by without getting a School cloak or a chore cloak.

ARTHUR WELLEMEYER

About People You Know

KLEMME MARKET.

n.....	to 50c
s.....	34 to 35c
eat.....	80 to 90
ey.....	38 to 40c
.....	4 00 to 6.00
s.....	7.00 to 7.65
le.....	3.00 to 6.00

resh fruits at Kluckhohn's.

scar Larsen is helping in depot.

ead the new ad of G. A. st & Co.

ng. Schuldt was at Mason last week

yes tested. Glasses fitted. W. F. Missman.

l. J. J. Wilson was over Meservey Monday.

he finest line of candies in at Kluckhohn's. 45tf ext number of the lecture se next Tuesday evening, 3.

Edgar Zinn was a Mason visitor two or three days week.

m. Gast, of Steamboat Rock, is here visiting with his ren.

dandy line of wagons at es that are right. See us re you buy. H Lau & Son.

m Blank now has his new eat walk completed which is ce improvement to his fine ence property.

W. Kluckhohn went to City Tuesday for a visit he home of his daughter, L. A. Turgasen.

ng obliged to take it for I will sell it out cheap;
. Hess Stock Food.
. Hess Poultry Panacea.
. Hess Instant Louse Kill-

. Hess Hog Worm Powder. e had at G. F. Schuler's er, Iowa.

Terhufen Bros have a talk on Stoves in their ad.

W. R. Bloom shipped a car of hogs Sunday morning.

Don't forget that the lecture course this year comprises the very best talent obtainable.

The Eng. M. E. church here was not assigned a pastor at the conference just closed at Estherville.

Those owing us by note or on account, please call and settle at once and save costs. H. Lau & Son.

This office printed some nice stationery the past week for J. T. Griggs, proprietor of the Duroc Stock Farm.

Bargains in Kemp Twentieth Century manure spreaders and Hero grinders and horse powers. H. Lau & Son.

Lew Lewis and Wm. Lau were over to Clear Lake on a fishing expedition last week and they got a fine string. One pickerel weighing 9¾ pounds was the best fish and they had many more nearly as large. We believe these two men have some way of hypnotizing the finny tribe as they are always successful and never fail to land a handsome bunch.

Charley Kluckhohn just literally smeared himself all over with glory at Swea City one day recently. He was playing with Swea City in a ball game against Germania. Two scores had been made by each team in the first inning and the game then run along a tie until the last half of the twelfth inning, when with one strike called on him, Charley leaned against a ball to his liking and slammed it out for a home run, winning the game for Swea City, 3 to 2. The ball went so far they didn't even attempt to go after it. It is reported that Charley now owns the town up there.

Wait! Coming!

We will hold an Exposition Sale of Men's to-order tailored clothes at our store on Wednesday, October 6th. An expert designer and custom cutter will be here with all the New Fall and Winter Woolens for Men's Clothes. Every pattern shown in a full bolt. Be sure and call on the above date and see the fine samples of the very latest shades and textures.

G. W. KLUCKHOHN.

There will be Sunday School at the Eng. M. E. church next Sunday at 10:45 a. m.

Jos. E. Johnson went in to Chicago last Sunday morning with a car of fat cattle.

Hear Edwin W. Lanham, the noted lecturer, at Klemme opera house, next Tuesday evening.

Arthur Wellemeyer has a large ad on the 5th page this week in which he quotes some very interesting prices on seasonable goods Don't fail to read it.

It is reported that some of our young people who had intended to attend the Sunday School Convention at Germantown last Sunday, got ready but did not go.

A deal has been made the past week whereby John Tanner becomes the owner of the farm on which he resides, formerly owned and for many years occupied by Wm. Schaper. This is one of the best farms in this country and Mr. Tanner is fortunate in becoming its possessor.

George Hugh Birney, pastor of the First M. E. church, Cedar Falls, Iowa, says: "Dr. Edwin W. Lanham is a perfect master of himself and his subject. He wins and holds his audience from the first. Of prepossessing appearance, clear, resonant voice, forceful and elegant in expression, sincere earnestness, large vision, he is worthy of a large hearing upon the vital subjects which he presents to the public." Hear him at Klemme opera house Oct. 5th.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Pavey returned home from Garrison, Iowa, last Saturday, and are now getting settled to housekeeping in the rooms over F. Gruetzmacher's store.

A card received by the writer from Gustav P. Baack states that he has taken up his studies in the University of Valparaiso, Indiana, and that he is highly pleased with his surroundings there.

All members of the fire company are requested to be present at the meeting to be held next Monday evening, Oct. 4th. Important business, including the election of officers for the ensuing year.

If anyone wishes to see a genuine Swiss cow that not only gives the milk but also takes the cream to the creamery, call on Dr. Zinn. He has received one on a postal card from Rev. Muehlmeier, of Monticello, Wis. It certainly is a pretty picture.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Waterman and daughter, of Luzerne, Iowa, visited here last Friday and Saturday at the homes of J. W. and G. R. Waterman. They visited at Garner Sunday and from there returned to their home at Luzerne.

Comfortably seated in the furniture department of the Wellemeyer store, 68 of our school children, from near and far, listened to the talk by Mr. Wellemeyer on "Judging Merchandise" last Saturday forenoon. In the contest which followed, the children were asked one by one to pick out the ten cent tablet from a bunch of forty tablets arranged upon a table. These were all five cent tablets but one and they were asked to find the one and only ten cent tablet. To the surprise of the judges more than half of the children picked out the correct tablet. The prize of $1.00 was won by Gail Bloom.

The Road to Success

has many obstructions, but none so desperate as poor health. Success today demands health, but Electric Bitters is the greatest health builder the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, purifies and enriches the blood and tones and invigorates the whole system. Vigorous body and keen brain follow their use. You can't afford to slight Electric Bitters if weak, run-down or sickly. Only 50c. Guaranteed by G. A Pabst & Co.

Col. J. J. Wilson

MESERVEY, IOWA

LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEER

Dates made at either bank in Klemme, Iowa. Terms reasonable.

DOCTORS

GEO. ZINN EDGAR ZINN

Office: State Savings Bank

Phone No. 19

KLEMME - - IOWA

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.

Physician and Surgeon,

Phone No. 11. Klemme, Iowa.

Office in the Shafer building.

Prompt attention given to calls day or night.

Eyes tested. Glasses fitted.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.

Graduate Optician,

Garner - - Iowa

Eyes Tested Free.

W. R. BLOOM

Buyer and Shipper of

Grain and Live Stock

Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.

Stock wanted 6 days in the week

Pictures

See me when you want a Photograph

All kinds—inside or outdoor views. I make a specialty of photo postal cards, 75 cents a dozen. Good work at reasonable prices.

JOE MILLER, KLEMME IOWA

JOHN GRIEWE

City Meat Market

Dealer in

All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Headquarters for part of Heinz' Fifty-Seven Varieties, and Pickling Vinegar.

Try these goods; they are fine.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER

The Tonsorial Artist

Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.

2nd door west of State Savings Bank

Call in

RESTAURANT

Nicest Line of Candies in Town.

Fresh home made Bakery goods every day.

The best place in town to get a square meal for 25c.

Orangeade, Soft Drinks and Ice Cream.

A. Kirkwood & Son

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.

The only livery in town

Good rigs and careful drivers

Rates reasonable

Your patronage solicited

CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor

SPECIAL

For a Short Time Only

Rock Island Lines

will sell one-way Colonist Tickets

To California

AND

Pacific Northwest Points

DAILY

September 15th to October 15th

Only $33	from	Chicago
32	"	Peoria
32	"	St. Louis
25	"	Kansas City
25	"	St. Joseph
25	"	Omaha
32	"	Memphis

to California, with similar low fares to points in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Arizona and Old Mexico.

Travel Rock Island way, in Rock Island clean, comfortable, easy-riding, vestibuled tourist cars.

Let me tell you how delightfully and economically the trip can be made.

G. TRENHAILE, Agent,

Rock Island Lines,

Klemme, Iowa

NOT WORKING THIS SEASON.

"There used to be a wonderful echo here, I understand."

"Yes, sir, marvelous. But last year one of the tourists insulted it and now it won't answer."

HUMOR BURNED AND ITCHED.

Eczema on Hand, Arms, Legs and Face—It Was Something Terrible.

Complete Cure by Cuticura.

"About fifteen or eighteen years ago eczema developed on top of my hand. It burned and itched so much that I was compelled to show it to a doctor. He pronounced it ringworm. After trying his different remedies the disease increased and went up my arms and to my legs and finally on my face. The burning was something terrible. I went to another doctor who had the reputation of being the best in town. He told me it was eczema. His medicine checked the advance of the disease, but no further. I finally concluded to try the Cuticura Remedies and found relief in the first trial. I continued until I was completely cured from the disease, and I have not been troubled since. C. Burkhart, 236 W. Market St., Chambersburg, Pa., Sept. 19, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

As St. Louis Lawyers Talk.

Circuit Judge Reynolds had announced that he would hear jurors who had excuses to offer for not serving, and a dozen American citizens crowded up to the bench to tell their troubles. Their excuses were as varied as those who were bidden to the feast that the Bible tells about. One had an important engagement and another could not hear very well, and another had sickness in his family, and another had duties to perform which nobody else on earth could perform, and another was going on a journey. And so it went.

The last man in the line wanted to be let off because he was a German. He might have been excused if he had not presented his excuse wrong end forward.

"Judge," he said, "I can't understand good English."

"Oh, you'll do all right," said the judge. "There is no good English spoken in here."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

They Didn't Have to Change.

During the years in which our pure food laws have been put into effect there has been a great hurrying and scurrying on the part of the food manufacturers to change their methods to make them conform to the law.

The Quaker Oats Company is a conspicuous exception. It was admitted that Quaker Oats was as pure and clean as possible and that it was an ideal food.

It is so cheap that any one can afford it and so nourishing that everyone needs it. The result of last year's experiments at Yale and other points where food values were tested is that Quaker Oats has been adopted by many persons as their food on which they rely for adding vigor and endurance of muscle and brain.

The Quaker Oats Company meets all demands in the way it packs Quaker Oats; regular size packages and the large size family package; the latter, both with and without china. 4

Changed Farm Life.

The dull silence that hung over that New England dinner table has been lifted of late. It is gone like the dew in the sunlight of the new social influences. The isolation of the farm was the chilling cause that drove men into the cities. Now, by telephone and free mail delivery, all the warm world currents are being carried to the country and are vitalizing the rural community into a life that is rich and abundant in the variety of its interests. A real heart hunger has been answered. Over hill and down dale flashes the impulse that electrifies existence with the thrill of human life touching other human life.—Delineator.

STATE OF OHIO CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY. }

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & CO., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D., 1886.

SEAL

A. W. GLEASON,
NOTARY PUBLIC.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Waste of Money.

Hub—Reckless and extravagant—I? When did I ever make a useless purchase?

Wife—Why, there's that fire extinguisher you bought a year ago; we've never used it once.

MYSTERIES OF NATURE

By George Frederick Wright, A. M., LL. D.

Continent Tilted Up and Down

The level of the ocean is more constant than that of the land. The expanse of the ocean is three times as great as that of the land, and its depth more than ten times as great. If all the land should be sunk in the ocean, it would raise the general water level only about 300 feet. In general we may say with perfect confidence that the ocean beds represent portions of the earth's crust which have been sinking from the earliest geological times, while the continents represent those portions which, with many oscillations, have, on the whole, been rising. It probably is not true, as is often stated, that the areas of land and water have shifted places in past time, so that continents were found where the main ocean beds now lie, and oceans swept without interruption over the continental areas. Still there is the best of evidence that large portions of the existing continents were at various times below the level of the sea.

But, while this is true, it seems equally certain that during the subsidence of these areas below the sea level, they existed either as shallow water borders of the main continental areas or as internal seas. For example, the great depth of sedimentary rocks which cover the Mississippi basin, extending from the Allegheny mountains to the Rocky mountains, are shallow-water deposits. So shallow, indeed, was the water during long periods that it was little more than a swamp in which the vegetation that formed the numerous seams of coal could grow and flourish. But the level was not constant. After a large accumulation of vegetable matter that could be turned into coal had taken place, there was a slight and very gentle sinking of the whole area, so that mud and sand were brought in from the neighboring higher lands to form a complete covering for the coal; so that when it was turned into rock it was able to protect it, and preserve it for future ages. This process of slow but irregular sinking of the Mississippi basin continued until thousands of feet of sedimentary material had been washed into it, as the Mississippi is carrying sediment into the Gulf of Mexico at the present time. These successive strata, like the leaves of a book, record the various downward movements of the long coal period. In other countries, especially in England and China, there is the same record of long-continued downward movements of continental areas during the coal period.

If this downward movement had continued always, the coal would have been inaccessible beneath the depths of the sea, where, indeed, much of it does still remain. In Nova Scotia the best seams of coal are mined many miles and at a depth of many hundred feet below the bottom of the sea. In England also some of the best seams of coal are followed out underneath the sea, and it is supposed that coal veins are continuous from southern England to the continent far beneath the bottom of Dover strait. But fortunately the downward motion of the coal area was in due time arrested, and the contrary movement begun, which has brought this priceless material within easy reach of men in the mountains of Pennsylvania and China, in the hills of England and in the plateaux of the central and western states of America. Other illustrations of great changes in land levels are too numerous to be mentioned in detail. In Colorado there was a gradual subsidence of land below sea level during the carboniferous and cretaceons eras until from 12,000 to 15,000 feet of sediment had accumulated over the sinking area. But at the end of that period the area began to rise, and this rise has continued until the present time, when it stands many thousand feet above the level of the sea.

Similar witness to such changes of level is borne by extensive sedimentary rocks containing abundant sea shells of late geological age, which are found at a height of 10,000 feet above the sea on the Pyrenees, the Alps and the Caucasus mountains, and at a height of 14,000 feet upon the mountains of central Asia. A map of the eastern continent during the early part of the tertiary period shows a great Mediterranean sea covering all central Europe and extending into Asia, submerging the highlands of Thibet and most of the mountains of Turkestan. But that this was not a general subsidence of the continents is evident from the simple fact that these areas are covered with sedimentary strata. If mud and sand and gravel are deposited in water there must be some area not far away from which they could be derived.

While these general facts concerning changes in land level in ancient geological times beyond all question are very impressive, less attention than they merit has been given to the facts showing that corresponding changes are still going on, and have produced striking results within recent times, and point to interesting conclusions with reference to the future. In connection with the glacial period, which is the most recent of all the geological epochs, these changes of level are very evident, and connect themselves with the early history of mankind. At the close of the tertiary period, which culminated in the glacial era, the central and northern part of North America stood at a level of 2,000 or 3,000 feet above that it at present occupies. This is proved by the existence of innumerable channels now deeply buried by glacial debris, or extending out into the ocean across the shallow, submerged shelf of the continent both upon the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. In Illinois, in Ohio and in central New York these buried channels are found down below sea level, showing that the land must have been very much elevated to allow the streams which crossed these rocky gorges to make their way to the sea from these distant inland points. The cities of Cleveland, O., and Syracuse, N. Y., are built over such buried gorges. The Delaware, the Hudson and the St. Lawrence rivers then emptied into the sea, running through deep gorges or canyons, which crossed a level coastal plain. The fiords of Greenland and of Norway and of the Pacific coast of North America bear similar testimony, since they probably, in most cases, mark the lines of ancient rivers which coursed through them to the sea when the land was so much elevated that what are now the bottoms of these channels were occupied by rushing mountain torrents. In short, these fiords are drowned river valleys.

But at the close of the glacial period the land levels in all this northern region were much lower than at the present time. On the southern coast of New England sea beaches were thrown up about fifty feet higher than those which are formed now. Along the southern shore of Maine the land had sunk so much that sea shells are found in clay deposits 250 feet above the present sea level. The Champlain and St. Lawrence valley was so much depressed that whales sported in salt water over the site of Middlebury college, Vermont, and seals ventured into an arm of the sea extending far up into the Ottawa river, while at Montreal modern sea shells are found 500 feet above present tide water upon the top of the mountain which gives the city its name. Going farther north the indications are that upon the shores of the Arctic sea post-glacial subsidence amounted to 1,000 feet. Everywhere across the continent there is cumulative evidence that this post-glacial subsidence was as extensive as the glaciated region, and that it increased in amount from south to north. This is a very important consideration to be kept in mind in working out glacial and post-glacial problems. This differential northerly depression at the close of the glacial period caused the great lakes to flow at first into the Ottawa river across Lake Nippissing over the site of North bay into the Mattaway river, and so into the Ottawa along the line through which the Canadian government is talking of building a ship canal, and which is already utilized by the Canadian Pacific railroad. This pass is now less than 100 feet above the level of the lakes.

(Copyright by Joseph B. Bowles.)

He'll Make a Citizen.

"That man couldn't interpret a single passage of the constitution."

"Yet you naturalized him, judge."

"Well, he was away up on the batting averages. I guess he'll make a good American."

To Please Her.

"I didn't want anyone to know I was here," she remarked as he found her in the parlor.

"It's all right," he assured her, "I'll keep it dark."

Grudging Praise.

"Did the critics say anything favorable about your performance of Hamlet?" "Yes," answered Mr. Stormington Barnes. "They admitted that I had selected a pretty good play."

PAINT FAULTS.

It is a common occurrence nowadays to hear a man remark with disgust: "It is impossible to have good painting done these days; either the paint is not good or there are no good painters." This, however, is not true. There is good paint, and there are good painters. But the question is, bringing them together.

One cannot expect a satisfactory painting job without pure white lead. There is a way to make sure you are getting pure white lead without testing it. See that the keg bears National Lead Company's famous Dutch Boy Painter trademark, which is a positive guarantee of purity. However, anyone can test white lead. National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Bldg., New York City, will send you a lead tester and painter's outfit, consisting of book of color schemes, specifications, etc., upon request.

STARTLING NEWS.

Old Skinflint—Here, boys, what's this you were shouting? "Great swindle—60 victims!" I can see nothing about it in the paper.

Sharp Sam—That's the swindle; you are the sixty-first.

HUNTING FOR BIG GAME.

The Highlands of Ontario is an ideal spot for the sportsman during the open hunting season for big game. In the Temagami region moose are plentiful and may be killed during the period from October 16th to November 15th. This territory is a forest preserve of vast expanse, and in addition to being the hunter's paradise, its waters abound with game fish of many species. The home of the red deer is located somewhat to the south of Temagami, particularly in the districts known as "Muskoka Lakes," "Lake of Bays," "Maganetawan River," "Lake Nipissing," and "Kawartha Lakes" territories.

Write to W. S. Cookson, A. G. P. A., 135 Adams St., Chicago, for a copy of "Haunts of Fish and Game" issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System which fully describes the hunting territories reached by this line, giving game laws, maps and all information.

HIS CHANCE.

"Hey, mister! Gimme a nickel an' I'll tell youse who trew dat peel down dere!"

A GREAT ANNOYANCE.

Kidney Disease Shows Many Painful and Unpleasant Symptoms.

George S. Crowell, 1109 Broadway, Helena, Mont., says: "I was troubled with a disordered condition of the kidneys, some backache and irregular passages of secretions. At times I was obliged to get up out of bed at night, and the urine was unnatural in appearance. On the advice of a friend I procured Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. This remedy helped me at once, strengthened my kidneys and corrected the disordered condition."

Remember the name—Doan's. Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Good Roads Mean Money.

The people need to be educated to the fact that money spent for good roads is not money thrown away, whereas money spent for makeshift improvements is worse than thrown away.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Palm tree prosperity does not depend upon weather or climate.

If you wish beautiful, clear white clothes, use the new RUSS BLUE. All grocers sell it.

The people who don't want to stay little must read big books.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules. Easy to take as candy.

No man can pray right while he lives wrong.

DOCTOR ADVISE OPERATI

Cured by Lydia E. Pink Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich.—"I suffe bly from fe including mation an tion, for years. My said there hope for m operation. taking L Pinkham's ble Compo I can now a well wom EMMA D

Another Operation Av

Chicago, Ill.—"I want w know what that wonderful n Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegeta pound, has done for me. Tw best doctors in Chicago said die if I did not have an opera I never thought of seeing a again. I had a small tumor an troubles so that I suffered night. A friend recommend E. Pinkham's Vegetable Co and it made me a well woman ALVENA SPERLING, 11 Lang Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegeta pound, made from roots an has proved to be the most s remedy for curing the worst female ills, including displa inflammation, fibroid tumors larities, periodic pains, backac ing-down feeling, flatulency, tion, and nervous prostration. but a trifle to try it, and th has been worth millions suffering women.

SICK HEADA

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. TRADE MARK

Positively these Litt

They also r tress from Dys digestion and Eating. A pe edy for Dizzi sea, Drowsi Taste in the M ed Tongue, P Side, TORPI

They regulate the Bowels. Purely

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMA

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Fac-Simile Sign

REFUSE SUBST

WRIGLEY'S WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

30 ft. Bowe

Biggest organ of the bo bowels—and the most impo It's got to be looked after— means suffering and ye misery. CASCARET nature keep every part bowels clean and stron they act right—means h your whole body.

CASCARETS 10c a box for a week ment. All druggists. Biggest se the world — Million boxes a

This Trade Eliminat Uncer

in the pur paint ma It is an guarantee ity and For you protecti that it is on the every keg of wh you buy.

NATIONAL LEAD C 1902 Trinity Building

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

PATENTS Watson E. Cole Ington, D.C. Book est references.

DEFIANCE STARCH

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Ey

A DOSE OF PISO CURE

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS

is as safe as it is effective. anteed to contain no opiates. very palatable too—children All Druggists, 25 Cents

OSTS 3 MILLIONS

the Great State of Iowa for a Year.

ES FOR FIRST HALF 1909

Compiled by Stat Auditor Amounts That Taxpayers Remit to Keep Iowa Above Surface.

Moines, Sept. 25.—Some idea vast outlay of money required the great state of Iowa is ob- from a perusal of the list of ts issued by State Auditor during the first half of the year, or from January 1 to 0, inclusive. In that space of e issued warrants in the sum 27,833.76.

ded in that amount are the ts issued to cover the expenses last meeting of the state legis- an expense which occurs but very two years. This expense nter was $135,779.24. Deducting ount from the sumtotal given it is found that the erpense of Iowa for the first half of the year, exclusive of the legisla- ession, was $1,792,054.52. Multi- this sum by two, the approxi- ost of running Iowa for the year shown to be $3,584,109.04. This an be taken as a fair estimate cost per annum of government when the legislature is not in n. Of course it will vary some- each year, but the figures pre- give a fair idea of what the ers of Iowa are paying per year eir magnificent system of state ment.

expense of the last legislature, e taken as a fair estimate of the each session of the legislature, as follows: Salary of senators, 1.31; salary of representatives, .90; mileage of senators, $672.- ileage of representatives, $1,- ; salaries of senate employes, 3.50; salaries of house employ- 1,596.00; miscellaneous expenses, 5.93; total cost of legislature, 79.24.

to Rule on Auto Risks.

orney General Byers has an- ed that he will submit an opin- the right of insurance com- to indemnify automobile own- for damages awarded against on account of accidents, caus- their automobiles. Auditor ley has ruled that under the law the owner of an automobile contract insurance indemni- him against liability imposed ury court, for accident to persons roperty, caused by the assured's mobile.

Up Vicious Dogs or Lose Mail.

Moines people who own vicious will have to keep them tied up ely or they will not receive a piece of mail from the United s government at their homes un- they take it there hemselves. postoffice department at Wash- n has adopted a new regulation ing that mail carriers need not at houses where such animals ept. The new rule says that per- keeping vicious canines will to call at the postoffice for their re Are New Druggists.

t of a class of forty taking the pharmacy examination the fol- twelve were successful: Ar- N Fisher, Des Moines; Milton ngley, Algona; Maurice C. Mc- Guthrie Center; Allen A. Dal- Moines; Paul T. Logué, Sear- Nellie M. Anderson, Ainsworth; C. Recker, Des Moines; R. W. e, Council Bluffs, George W. r, Washington· C. C. Johnson, n and A. B. Patterson, Des es.

Duyn After Employment Men.

te Labor Commissioner E. W. Duyn intends to ask the next ature to amend the law in re- e to allowing employment agen- to charge a filing fee of one dol- whether they obtain a position person or not. The vast number mplaints that are reaching this e to the effect that employment ies are charging the dollar al- by law and then never getting pplicant a position, has stirred commissioner to action.

er William Miller Passes Away.

illiam Miller, the oldest resident mp township, and the builder of first barn in that part of the y, died at his home nine miles the city at the age of 90 years. Miller has been a resident of township for the past eighty- years.

Hamilton Quits State Control Board.

Hon. John T. Hamilton of Cedar Rapids has tendered to Governor Carroll his resignation as a member of the board of control of state institutions. The resignation becomes effective October 1.

In his formal letter of acceptance Mr. Hamilton assigns no cause for his resignation, but in presenting the same he stated that the pressure of business interests, since the death of his son, had become so great that he felt obliged to take the step. He expressed regret at leaving the work, declaring that his relations with both Governor Carroll and other members of the board had always been most pleasant. He also told Governor Carroll that he would continue in the work until a suitable man was found to succeed him.

Mr. Hamlton was appointed to the board as a democratic member in 1908 and his term would have expired April 4, 1914.

The announcement of his resignation came as a great surprise to state house officials, and occasioned much speculation as to whom Governor Carroll would name in his place.

Smeltzer Charged With Murder.

John Smeltzer, slayer of Detective Frank Delmege, was charged with murder in an information drawn up in police court by Col. E. E. Johnston, chief of detectives. Smeltzer is now at Mercy hospital, where he was taken after he had complained of terrible pains in his back.

However, an examination by the city physicians revealed the fact that the first bullet fired by Officer Sam Ross penetrated the right breast and took a course underneath the ribs, passing out the left side of his body. The wound is not dangerous and as soon as he is arraigned Smeltzer will be taken to the county jail.

It is believed that upon his arraignment the murderer will merely waive to the grand jury.

The funeral services of Detective Delmege were held at the late home, 1119 Second street, conducted by the Rev. A. C. Douglass, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. Following the services at the home, the body was placed on a Great Western train and taken to Lorimor, Ia., where interment was made.

Iowans to New Orleans.

The delegates named by Governor Carroll to the fourth annual convention of the Lakes to the Gulf Deep Waterways association include a member from each of the eleven congressional districts. The list is as follows: First district, Irwin M. Wells, Keokuk; Second district, S. L. Johnson, Muscatine; Third district, Peter Kiene, Dubuque; Fourth district, W. L. Turner, New Hampton; Fifth district, H. M. Rebley, Anamosa; Sixth district, Austin P. Haines, Grinnell; Seventh district, Clinton Price, Indianola; Eighth district, D. W. Higbee, Creston; Ninth district, A. D. Lemon, Guthrie Center; Tenth district, J. A. Ericson, Boone, and Eleventh district, C. W. Lister, Sibley.

Governor Carroll and Congressmen, Good, Woods, Haugen, Kendall and Pickett will also make the trip.

Iowa Merges With Mutual Tolls.

Officers of the Iowa Telephone company filed articles of incorporation with Mrs. Frank W. Dodson, county recorder, organizing what is believed to be a subsidiary concern known as the Hawkeye Telephone company. The creation of the new concern is thought to be for the purpose of handling all toll line business that was done by the Mutual Telephone company before its purchase by the Iowa people, which amounts to a consolidation of the two companies.

Guiberson is a Life Member.

In appreciation of his services in producing the sketch, "An Hour at the City Hall," at the Press club frolic at Ingersoll park recently, the club has elected W. P. Guiberson a life member. A vote of thanks was extended to S. H. Cobb, who was instrumental in organizing the club, and who served as chairman of the executive board. He resigned because of leaving the city.

Garrity New Assistant.

Capt. Chester W. Fenton of Fort Des Moines has been appointed aid on the staff of Gen. Frederick D. Grant, and instead of remaining with the Second cavalry when the regiment goes to the Philippines he will go to Chicago, where General Grant has his headquarters. Lieut. George Garrity succeeds Captain Fenton as adjutant at the local post.

Did Not Make Money.

The annual report of the Iowa & Illinois Railway company has been filed with the railroad commission and shows a net loss of 10,881.22 for the interurban road. There was a net revenue of $48,313.58, but this was eaten up by fixed charges, interest on debt and taxes. The road runs from Clinton to Davenport.

WIPES OUT SPECIAL TAXES

SWEEPING DECISION BY JUDGE AT IOWA CITY.

Improvement Levies Amounting to Many Thousands of Dollars Inalidated by Technicality.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept, 27—Judge Howell has made a ruling in the district court which unless overturned by a higher tribunal will invalidate almost every improvement made in recent years by the city council of Iowa City. The total amount involved reaches several hundreds of thousands of dollars, nearly the whole amount outstanding in bonds to be paid off by the property owners who are subject to taxes for abutting street improvements, both paving and sewer.

Judge Howell has held that where there is a failure to file at the office of the county auditor, as required by section 816 of the code, a certificate of the passage of the ordinance or resolution ordering the improvement, no legal tax can be levied against the property abutting on the improvement. After the filing of this notice, the code states, "all special taxes for the cost thereof, or any part of said cost, which are to be assessed and levied against real property, together with all interest and penalties on all of said assessments, shall become and remain a lien on such property from the date of the filing of said papers with the county auditor until paid."

In the case before the court, the attorneys for the W. J. Haddock estate sought to have the tax declared void because this notice was not served, and Judge Howell upheld the motion of the attorneys. The sum involved was only $60, but identically the same condition prevails with respect to taxes amounting to hundreds of thousands.

It has been the ruling of city attorneys that this notice was merely to secure a lien from the time of the execution of the contract until the completion of the work with the filing of the plat and schedule with the county auditor, but Judge Howell holds that the failure to obtain the lien invalidates the entire tax.

LAND PAGEANT AT GOTHAM

Historical Parade of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration Witnessed by a Million Spectators.

New York, Sept. 28.—American history in visible form passed in review today before the eyes of more than a million spectators that lined the route of the first Hudson-Fulton land pageant from the upper end of Central park to Washington square. Thousands of dollars and months of effort were spent to make this parade of 54 floats an accurate reproduction of the life in New York state from legendary Indian times that preceded the first settlement to the first voyage of the Clermont in 1807.

The line of parade had to be selected with great care because of the size of the floats, which are said to be the largest and most elaborate ever exhibited. They vary in dimensions from 20 to 40 feet high, 32 feet long, and 14 feet wide. They could not pass under the elevated railroad, and even the electric decorations of the Court of Honor and reviewing stands on Fifth avenue, opposite the new public library, had to be changed at the last moment to accommodate them.

JAPS AT GARY STEEL PLANT

Commercial Commissioners From Orient Are Inspecting Industries In the Chicago District.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Baron Eiighi Shibusawa and his fellow members of the Japanese commercial commission arrived in Chicago for a visit of four days as guests of the Chicago Association of Commerce. The party numbers 75 persons, including the wives and retinues of many of the members.

Yesterday the visitors were taken first in automobiles to the stock yards for a tour of inspection and luncheon at the Saddle and Sirloin club. Then a special train carried them to Gary, Ind., where they were shown the wonders of the great steel works.

This morning the Japanese were shown the Western Electric and Commonwealth-Edison plants, and in the afternoon they visited the University of Chicago, the south parks and the public playgrounds. The climax of their visit will come Monday evening when they will be tendered an elaborate banquet in Congress hotel.

Down On the Farm

nothing is more indispensable than a can of the new, all-'round, mechanical cleanser—

Old Dutch Cleanser

For cleaning Cans, Pails, Pans and for all kinds of Kitchen and Cooking Utensils, it is far superior to the old-fashioned soaps, soap-powders and scouring bricks.

It removes paint or grease of all kinds from the hands after oiling or repairing the machinery, as well as other stains.

It Cleans, Scrubs, Scours and Polishes and saves you labor, time and money.

For sale by your grocer; 10c for large size can with Sifting-Top, making it both convenient and economical to use.

If you cannot obtain—refuse substitutes—send us 10c and we will gladly send you a full size can. Send for free booklet, "Hints for Housewives"

Cudahy—Maker—Omaha

The Style.

"My! but the old lady from Holland is mad! Somebody ought to tell her it is not considered the thing to show such emotion in public."

"Why, she is just in the style."

"In the style?"

"Certainly. She is merely showing off her Dutch choler."

If Your Eyes Bother You get a box of PETTIT'S EYE SALVE, old reliable, most successful eye remedy made. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Aid of Fashion.

Ella—What would you do if you actually found a man under your bed?

Stella—I'd drop my hat on him.

Don't think Wrigley's Spearmint only perfumes the breath and helps digestion.

It whitens teeth.

As the rose breatheth sweetness from its own nature, so the heart of a benevolent man produceth good works.—Dodsley.

The time—the place—and the gum! Any time—any place—that sells Wrigley's Spearmint.

Country husbands are better trained than town husbands. Ever see a town husband carry a baby on the street?

Hamlins Wizard Oil is over fifty years old and, like an old friend, it can be depended upon just as surely as the family doctor who may be miles away.

When a man is sick he has great trouble with his wife as to how much he should eat.

Well, well! That's your stomach after you chew Wrigley's Spearmint a while.

It may get so some time that a man who attends to his own business will be called eccentric.—Dallas News.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

Just Lather and Shave
NO STROPPING NO HONING
TRADE Gillette MARK
KNOWN THE WORLD OVER

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

BEAUTIFUL SIGNET RING Gold Filled 12c. with any Initial Hand Engraved Free. Warranted 3 yrs. Sent by return mail. Vance Co. 45 W B'way, N. Y.

15 Beautiful Colored Art Post Cards with your Full Name 10c embossed in gold on each. ART CO. 45 W B'way, N. Y.

640 ACRE IMPROVED STOCK RANCH, in rain belt, $12.00 acre. Watered by springs, daily mail, 1 mile county seat, telephone. 60 acres alfalfa. 130 tons hay this season. W. E. Bramel, Sundance, Wyo.

WRIGLEY'S

PROFIT, HEALTH, HAPPINESS—Piedmont region. Cheap lands, cheap labor; delightful climate, cotton, all grains, fruits and vegetables thrive. Write quick. New South Trust Co., Greenwood, South Carolina.

FEDERATION OF TWENTY COMMERCIAL CLUBS will mail pamphlets on fastest developing territory in Northwest Texas and Southwest Oklahoma. Splendid opportunities for cheap lands, diversified farming and manufacturing. F. H. Gehlke, Sec., Wichita Falls, Tex.

SEND 50c to the "GATE WAY" for massive, reliable information, maps and book of the last big opening of fertile land. DACOTAH INFORMATION BUREAU, Mobridge, South Dakota.

For Laxative and Blood Purifier A-B-C TEA 25cts. All Dealers. 25cts.

WE OFFER rare bargains. Choice farm lands in Southwest Texas. Large or small tracts. Easy terms. White Land Co., Alice, Texas.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

W. N. U., DES MOINES, NO. 40--1909.

Fortune Telling

Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health.

The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross.

Womanly health when lost or impaired may generally be regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This Prescription has, for over 40 years, been curing delicate, weak, pain-wracked women, by the hundreds of thousands and this too in the privacy of their homes without their having to submit to indelicate questionings and offensively repugnant examinations.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence held as sacredly confidential. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Great Family Doctor Book, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition—1000 pages, answers in Plain English hosts of delicate questions which every woman, single or married, ought to know about. Sent free, in plain wrapper to any address on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only, or in cloth binding for 31 stamps.

RESINOL

stops itching at once. Most effective remedy known for eczema and other skin eruptions—is the best dressing for burns, scalds, carbuncles, shingles, ringworm and a certain cure for itching and inflamed piles. 50 cents a jar, all druggists or sent direct on receipt of price.

RESINOL CHEMICAL COMPANY, BALTIMORE, MD.

I recommend Resinol Ointment to all of my patients and friends for Eczema and other skin affections. Francis A. Groves, Nurse, Boston, Mass.

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE

For DISTEMPER Pink Eye, Epizootic Shipping Fever & Catarrhal Fever

Sure cure and positive preventive, no matter how horses at any age are infected or "exposed." Liquid, given on the tongue; acts on the Blood and Glands; expels the poisonous germs from the body. Cures Distemper in Dogs and Sheep and Cholera in Poultry. Largest selling live stock remedy. Cures La Grippe among human beings and is a fine Kidney remedy. 50c and $1 a bottle, $5 and $10 a dozen. Cut this out. Keep it. Show to your druggist, who will get it for you. Free Booklet, "Distemper, Causes and Cures." Special agents wanted.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists GOSHEN, IND., U. S. A.

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

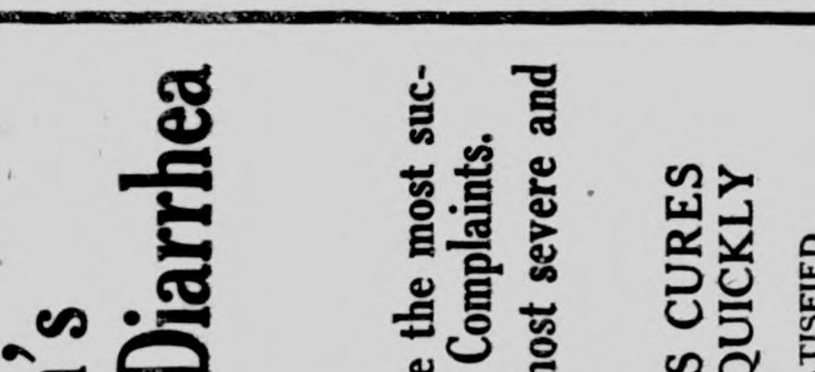
Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy

Acknowledged everywhere to be the most successful medicine in use for Bowel Complaints.

Can be depended upon in the most severe and dangerous cases.

REMEMBER ALWAYS CURES CURES QUICKLY

MONEY RETURNED IF NOT SATISFIED



Reduced fac simile

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

ELL CENTER

Special Correspondence:

Mrs. Bert Auchampach visited her parents at Ventura last Friday.

Martha Gilbert, teacher of the Groesbeck school, took a vacation last Friday and visited the Britt fair.

Mrs. J. P. Groye has recovered from her recent illness.

Mrs. Mark Adwell has been on the sick list.

Hans Hanson and family were at the Mason City fair last week.

Luella Yohn visited with her parents Sunday.

Gertie Wessels came up from Goodell Saturday to spend a few days at home.

Cora Lawhorn was home from Garner Sunday.

Colic Quickly Cured

Colic is one of the most severe and painful diseases. It is quite common too. Almost everyone has an occasional attack. Fortunately there is a remedy that always affords quick relief and that has never been known to fail in any case. It is called Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Mr. Tod Robinson, a prominent merchant of Point Blank, Texas, says, "I have had several attacks of colic and in every instance one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy relieved me, and I never had to take more than two doses to effect a cure." For sale by G. A. Pabst & Co.

GOODELL

From the Globe:

John Hughes transacted business at Klemme Tuesday.

J. E. Savogue and Jas. Trumbell were business visitors at Garner Saturday.

Miss Mamie White went to Mason City Wednesday for a short visit with friends.

Miss Mary Ahrenkiel of near Klemme was visiting with her cousin, Ina Ahrenkiel, the first of the week.

Mrs. Henry Christensen went to Berlin, N. D., Friday, for a few weeks' visit at the home of her uncle, W. W. Christie and family.

B. H. Luken was at Des Moines the latter part of last week on business, also to take in the city while President Taft was a guest there.

Mrs. C. Brogan and son Merle drove over from Meservey Monday, for little Miss Marvel who had been here since last Friday. They returned home Tuesday.

Night on Bald Mountain

On a lonely night Alex Benton of Fort Edward, N. Y. climbed Bald Mountain to the home of a neighbor, tortured by asthma, bent on curing him with Dr. King's New Discovery, that had cured himself of asthma. This wonderful medicine soon relieved and quickly cured his neighbor. Later it cured his son's wife of a severe lung trouble. Millions believe it is the greatest throat and lung cure on earth. Coughs, colds, croup, hemorrhages and sore lungs are surely cured by it. Best for hay fever, grip and whooping cough. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

BRITT

From the News:

Information comes from Terril, Ia., of the birth of a baby girl to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dana on Saturday, September 18, 1909.

Carl Summers will leave this week for a visit at the home of his wife's parents in Oklahoma, where Mrs. Summers has been visiting for a few weeks.

The Vinton, Iowa, canning factory paid $160 per acre for a quarter section farm three-fourths of a mile from that place.

E. H. Vernell returned the last of the week from Mason City where he was operated upon for appendicitis. He is able to be around town and is recovering very nicely.

The sorrowful information came to Britton Monday afternoon, September 20, 1909, that J. P. Peterson had died that morning at 11 o'clock. About a week ago he went to Des Moines for an operation for gall stones and appendicitis, at the Methodist hospital at that place. The operation was apparently successful. Encouraging news came from Des Moines and it was thought that he would recover, but he grew worse on Sunday night and he passed away Monday morning.

Books — Letter Heads
Pamphlets — Envelopes

Everything printed from

T Y P E

At the Times office.

Cards — Bill Heads
Invitations — Posters

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOW

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE. Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fift days tr atment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund mo All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. detention from business. Patients at a distan e treated by mail and p.ess. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breskage. Cha low. Thous nds of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. C sultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or w to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men — The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the us harmful instruments. Our b fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotu causing nervous debility, weak of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in its stages, cured for life. Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all form private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days with pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, description of above diseases, effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES,

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia. — Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia. — E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia. — John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:34 p. m.
82 ..... 2:35 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:55 a. m.
433 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

McCALL PATTERNS 10¢ AND 15¢ NONE HIGHER

McCALL'S MAGAZINE 50¢ A YEAR INCLUDING A FREE

McCALL PATTERNS
Celebrated for style, perfect fit, simplicity, reliability nearly 40 years. Sold in every city and town in the United States, Canada, or by mail direct. More sold than any other make. Send for free catalogue.

McCALL'S MAGAZINE
More subscribers than any other fashion magazine—million a month. Invaluable for latest styles, patterns, dressmaking, millinery, plain sewing, fancy needlework, hairdressing, etiquette, good stories, etc. Only 50 cents a year (worth double), including a free pattern. Subscribe today, or send for sample copy.

WONDERFUL INDUCEMENTS
to Agents. Postal brings premium catalogue and new cash prize offers. Address

THE McCALL CO., 238 to 248 W. 37th St., NEW

Electric Bitters

Succeed when everything else fails. In nervous prostration and female weaknesses they are the supreme remedy, as thousands have testified.

FOR KIDNEY, LIVER AND STOMACH TROUBLE

it is the best medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter.

Just Dust it on the Sore

HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom.
Leaves No Scar.

At Druggists' or Prepaid by M
Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER
(25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IO

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 10 KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 7 , 1909. $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

The Ufken Sale

Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1909

6 Horses
61 Cattle
25 full blood Duroc Jersey Hogs
60 acres excellent corn in field
Machinery and other articles

The Church Sale

Thursday, Oct. 14, 1909

98 Cattle
2 Horses
Machinery, etc.

Let's all turn out and give them the best sales possible.

12 months on approved notes at 8 per cent.

J. J. Wilson, Auctioneer

P. M. Griesemer, Clerk

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

A CONVINCER

The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.
We claim for our lumber and building material that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.
May we figure on your next lumber bill?

J. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J.W.WATERMAN

THE HANCOCK COUNTY FAIR

The Hancock County Fair was held at Britt on Tuesday, Wednesday Thursday and Friday of last week at which the attendance was only fair and the receipts hardly enough to pay expenses.

Tuesday was entry day when no admission was charged, and as it rained on Tuesday night no exhibition was given and no admission was charged on Wednesday. The attendance was fairly good on Thursday but not as large as on the big days of former years. On Friday the attendance was small, considering that the program was the best on that day.

The exhibits were not numerous but the quality was better than usual, especially in agricultural products and fruits. The exhibit of school work was large and reflected great credit on the school workers of the county and attracted much attention. The display in the fancy work department and pantry stores was light.

The display of stock was very light. In cattle the herds of Ed Widiams and Pat Durnin made good showing. The hogs, sheep, etc, were very few, but some good animals were exhibited. There was a good show of poultry.

The baseball game on Tuesday was between Garner and Britt and resulted in a score of 6 to 4 in favor of Garner.

On Friday the game was between Forest City and Garner and resulted in a score of 4 to 1 in favor of Forest City.

On account of the disagreeable weather the races on Thursday were not very exciting, but some good races were put on Friday afternoon.

On Friday afternoon a very nice balloon ascension was made, going up about 1000 feet and landing safely near Charley Williams' place.—Britt News.

ELL CENTER

Special Correspondence:

C. B. Groesbeck and family were at Clear Lake in their auto Sunday.

Mrs. Grove entertained friends from Forest City last Saturday.

A. Kelly, of Garner, was looking after the thrashing on his farm Monday.

Mae Yohn and Ruth Bonar attended the teachers meeting at Garner Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Glanville and Mrs. Hod Lawhorn spent Sunday with Mrs. Charley Lawhorn.

Ruth Bonar came down from Forest City Friday evening and visited with Yohn's until Sunday.

Jim Gilbert and family drove to Forest City Sunday and spent the day with Mrs. Gilbert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Flint.

Its a Top Notch Doer

Great deeds compel regard. The world crowns its doers. That's why the American people have crowned Dr. King's New Discovery the King of throat and lung remedies. Every atom is a health force. It kills germs, and colds and lagrippe vanish. It heals cough-racked membranes and coughing stops. Sore, inflamed bronchial tubes and lungs are cured and hemorrhages cease. Dr. Geo. More, Black Jack, N. C. writes "it cured me of lung trouble, pronounced hopeless by all doctors." 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst &Co.

MESERVEY

From the Messenger:

Rev. Winterstein, of Colorado, was here last Sunday calling on his many friends.

Miss Sophia Manz left Friday night for Minneapolis where she will work the coming winter.

Miss Carrie Grosz returned home Saturday from Des Moines, where she has been working at the millinery trade.

Mrs. Herman Fischer left Thursday for Atwater, Minn., where she will attend the wedding of her brother Gust. She was accompanied by Miss Thina Hoppe.

C. F. Quandt returned home Saturday from Illinois, where he attended the funeral of his brother.

Geo. W. Griggs, of Goodell, was in town Saturday. He is preparing for a busy season in the fur buying business and in the sale of his "Perfect" fur stretcher.

The Conservative Banker

—o—

In making loans must know to a certainty that his applicants or sureties are responsible and worthy of credit,
Likewise the prudent depositor should know the character and standing of the bank with which he deals.
The business reputation of our directors and the experience and ability of our officers with a record of fifteen years of successful business is sufficient guarantee that the interests of every depositor will be carefully protected.

—o—

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

A Successful Meeting

Quite a delegation of teachers from this and adjoining vicinities were in attendance at the county teachers' meeting at Garner last Saturday. Mrs. Miller of Des Moines gave a very interesting and helpful talk to the teachers during the forenoon and afternoon sessions.

These meetings are largely attended, being recognized by true teachers as the food of the teacher which cannot fail to be helpful to the schools in general. Farmers are always after and glad to adopt any improved implement. So ought the teacher be anxious and willing to put into practice any and all methods that show improvement in educational lines.

The afternoon session was held in the court house so as to better accommodate the large attendance. After the meeting the teachers received many supplies for their schools and all went home feeling well paid for being in attendance.— Communicated.

School Notes

Harry Gibbs has been out a few days helping fill a silo.

Ernest Lewis and Clarence Lauden were absent from school part of Monday on account of sickness.

The following pupils were neither absent nor tardy during the first month ending Oct. 1st:

High School room — Esther Bloom, Gail Bloom, Esther Lenz, Verner Lewis, Oscar Musfelt and Clarence Waterman.

Intermediate room—Agnes Elder, Ada Bowker, Florence Sampson, Harold Ridder and Cyrus Griewe.

Primary room—Ernest Lewis, Flossie Bowker, Frank Bowker, Mabel Waterman, Erwin Lau, Walter Bloom, Evelyn Elder and Sadie Bowker.

Public Auction

As I have rented the greater part of my farm, I will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, without reserve, on my farm 2 miles south of Klemme, the following described property, on

Thursday, October 14, 1909
Beginning at ten o'clock, a. m.
Free Lunch at Noon.

98 Cattle— 33 milch cows, 8 heifers 2 years old, 11 heifers 1 year old, 11 steers 2 yrs old, 11 steers 1 year old, 23 head spring calves, 1 high grade bull.

2 Horses—1 bay gelding 5 yrs old wt about 1450; 1 grey gelding 9 yrs old wt about 1500.

Machinery—Milwaukee binder, McCormick corn binder, Champion mower, hay rake, International manure spreader, 24-ft harrow, 16-in Rock Island sulky plow, 16-in Deere sulky plow, Clinton wagon, 3 riding corn plows, 1 No. 6 Sharpies cream separator, 2 sets double harness.

Terms—$10 and under, cash; over $10 a credit of 12 months on approved notes at 8 per cent. No property to be removed until settled for.

H. N. CHURCH, Prop
Col. J. J. Wilson, Auct.
P. M. Griesemer, Clerk.

Col. J. J. Wilson

MESERVEY, IOWA

LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEER

Dates made at either bank in Klemme, Iowa. Terms reasonable.

DOCTORS

GEO. ZINN EDGAR ZINN

Office: State Savings Bank

Phone No. 19

KLEMME - - IOWA

WHERE THEY LEARN ECONOMY

Matron Knew What She Was About When She Went to Engage Maid.

The manager of the employment agency was used to hearing women in search of maids ask applicants all sorts of queer questions, says the New York Tribune, but this matron made him mildly curious. Of 14 girls in turn she had inquired: "Have you worked in a minister's family?" None of them had. "Too bad," said the matron to the manager. "None of these girls will do."

"May I ask," said the manager, "why you are anxious to know if these girls have worked in ministers' families?"

"Why, the fact is, we're very hard up just now," said the matron, candidly; "I want a girl who knows how to economize, and those who have worked in clergymen's families, I've discovered, have learned that lesson."

Feeding Farm Hands.

Every farmer's wife knows what tremendous appetites farm hands usually have; but while they eat well they work well, too.

Here's a good suggestion about feeding farm hands. Give them plenty of Quaker Oats. A big dish of Quaker Oats porridge with sugar and cream or milk is the greatest breakfast in the world for a man who needs vigor and strength for a long day's work. The man that eats Quaker Oats plentifully and often is the man who does good work without excessive fatigue. There is a sustaining quality in Quaker Oats not found in other foods, and for economy it is at the head of the list. Besides the regular size packages Quaker Oats is packed in large size family packages, with and without china. 5

Ours and Theirs.

"A play on names unconsciously perpetrated by my youngest son was very funny," said a Flatbush man the other day. "We live next door to a family named Feitenour, and the other night while my family was busy reading in the library we heard a racket on the back porch. My son went out to investigate, and on his return my wife, always inquisitive, asked what had caused the noise.

"'Nothin' but a couple of cats,' Jim told her, and then I heard her ask: 'Did you see whose they were?'

"'Yes; one was ours and the other was Feitenour's.'"

On a Time Limitation.

In spite of the reputation for latitudinarianism he gained from his early trial for heresy, the late Prof. Jowett of Oxford was intolerant of pretentiousness and shallow conceit. One self-satisfied undergraduate met the master one day. "Master," he said, "I have searched everywhere in all philosophies, ancient and modern, and nowhere do I find the evidence of a God." "Mr. ——," replied the master, after a shorter pause than usual, "if you don't find a God by five o'clock this afternoon you must leave this college."

A Work of Supererogation.

Henry dislikes being bathed and argues with his mother over every square inch of his four-year-old anatomy.

One night, when his patience was especially tried by what he considered wholly unnecessary work, he exclaimed:

"Oh, mamma, couldn't you skip my stomach? Nobody ever sees my stomach!"—Judge's Library.

CHILDREN SHOWED IT

Effect of Their Warm Drink in the Morning.

A year ago I was a wreck from coffee drinking and was on the point of giving up my position in the school room because of nervousness.

"I was telling a friend about it and she said, 'We drink nothing at meal time but Postum, and it is such a comfort to have something we can enjoy drinking with the children.'

"I was astonished that she would allow the children to drink any kind of coffee, but she said Postum was the most healthful drink in the world for children as well as for older ones, and that the condition of both the children and adults showed that to be a fact.

"My first trial was a failure. The cook boiled it four or five minutes and it tasted so flat that I was in despair but determined to give it one more trial. This time we followed the directions and boiled it fifteen minutes after the boiling began. It was a decided success and I was completely won by its rich delicious flavour. In a short time I noticed a decided improvement in my condition and kept growing better month after month, until now I am perfectly healthy, and do my work in the school room with ease and pleasure. I would not return to the nerve-destroying regular coffee for any money."

Read the famous little "Health Classic," "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Seeing France with Uncle John

By ANNE WARNER

UNCLE JOHN IN ROUEN

Copyright, by the Century Co.

"Well, girls, are you ready to get up and out and set about improving your minds? I've been reading the guide-book and spilling my coffee with trying to do two things at once, ever since eight o'clock. But what your Uncle John doesn't know about Rouen now isn't worth stopping to look up in the index. Why, I've got the real French twang to the pronunciation. It's Rooank; only you stop short of the 'n' and the 'k,' so to speak. The waiter who brought my breakfast showed me how to do it—said he never saw a foreigner catch on to the trick so quick before. I gave him one of those slim little quarters they have here, and he was so pleased that he taught me how to say 'Joan of Arc' for nothing. It's Shondark—Shondark. I learned it in no time. Well, come on, if you're ready. I've been waiting almost an hour.

"I declare, but this fresh, free atmosphere is refreshing. As soon as you get outside of your bedroom door you begin to get the full benefit of the continental climate. I presume, if you're poor, you get it as soon as you get outside of your bed clothes. Rather a medieval starcase, eh? And four orange trees at the bottom to try and fool us into feeling balmy. However, I don't mind little discomforts. All I mind is being shut up on a ship with a darned fool like that man Sibbilly. I shouldn't wonder if his mother was his wife, after all. I could believe anything of him. I didn't like him.

"We'll go to take in the cathedral first; it isn't far, and I've got it all by heart. Thirteenth century and unsymmetrical—you must remember that. There, that's it ahead there—with the scaffolding. They're bolstering it up somewhat, so as to keep on hooking tourists, I presume. The biggest tower is the Butter Tower, built out of paid-for permissions to eat butter in Lent. Rather a rough joke, its being so much the biggest, isn't it? The whole cathedral's lop-sided from eating butter, so to speak. I believe it's the thing to stop in front and act as if you were overcome; so we'll just call a halt here and take in the general effect of the scaffolding.

"Now we'll walk around the whole thing. I haven't come abroad to take life with a hop, skip and jump; I've come to be thorough, and I want you girls to form the habit of being thorough, too. Good job of scaffolding, isn't it? You see, they make the scaffolding out of young trees withed together, and use them over and over. Economical.

"This dark, damp little stone-paved alley is the celebrated Portail des Libraires, so called because those arcades used to be full of book-stalls. We go along on the cobble-stones, throw ourselves hard against this little swinging door; it creaks, yields, we enter—hush!

"Great Scott, isn't it big, and isn't it damp? Will you look up in that roof? I feel solemn in spite of myself; but, then, feeling solemn is no use: what we want to do is to find some one to open those big iron gates, for the most of what is to see is in back there. Edna, you ask that man how we can get hold of some other man. Well, what did he say? Said to ask the Swiss, did he? What does he mean by that? Is it a joke, or can't they trust a Frenchman with their old relics? I've been told that in Japanese banks they always have to have a Chinaman to handle the money, and maybe it's equally the thing in a French cathedral to have a Swiss look after the relics. But the guide-book never said a word about a Swiss: it said 'fee,' and I've got my pocket full of them.

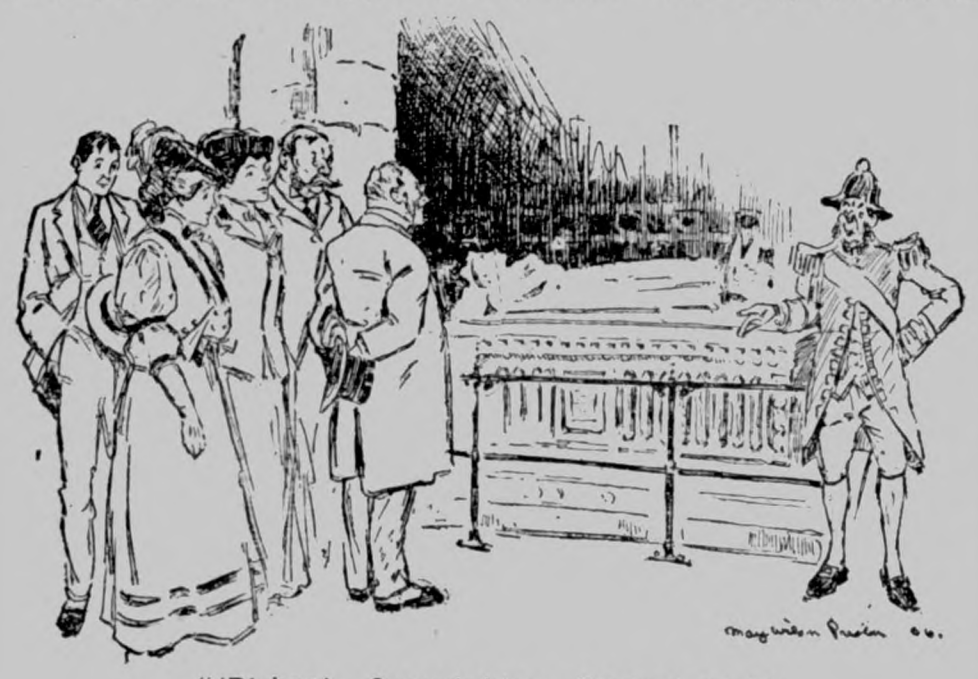
"Well, where can we get a Swiss? I should think he'd be more handy than he appears to be. There's another man looking for him, too. He—Great Scott! if it isn't—no, that's impossible. Yes, it is!

"I beg your pardon, sir, but is your name Porter? Yes? Robert Porter—Bobby Porter that went to the Washington school? Bob, do you remember me? Well, of all the larks!

"Girls, this man and I went to school side by side for eight years, and he's the finest—my nieces, Bob. That's Edna and this Yvonne, and—you don't say he's your son? Didn't know you ever married. Oh!, I'll take your word for it, of course; but, I say, Bob, you've got to come and dine with us to-night. You must; I won't have it any other way. You and I'll have to just sit down and overhaul our old memories together. Do you remember—but how do you come to be in Europe, anyhow; and what liner did you line up on? We had a beastly trip,—only came from Havre last night,—and, by the way, how in thunder can we get hold of the man who opens these iron gates? Everything in the place is back there.

"Is that a Swiss—that splendid circus-chariot driver? Give you my word, I thought he was a cardinal! How much of a tip is that much gold lace going to look forward to getting? I wish he was plainer, somehow. I'll tell you, Bob; you pay, and I'll settle up later. I certainly am glad to see the gates open; I felt more like a serpent shut out of paradise than I ever expected to feel in all my life.

"Well, now we begin. Who's buried here? Henry II. of England, eh? I can't read Latin, so Henry's virtues and dates are all one to me. Which Henry was he, anyhow—the one with six wives or the one who never shed a smile? Either way, let's move on.



"'Richard Coeur-de-Lion — Petrified, Eh?'"

"What comes next? Richard Coeur-de-Lion—petrified, eh? Oh, only a statue of him; that's less interesting. I thought at last I was looking at Richard when he was himself again. What is our Swiss friend hissing about? Heart buried underneath? Whose heart?—Richard's? Ask if it's his bona fide heart or only a death-mask of it? Strikes me as a pretty big statue to put up to a heart, don't you think Bob? But come on; I want to be looking at something else.

"So this is the tomb of the husband of Diana of Poitiers? I didn't know she ever had a husband—thought she only had a king. I've never been brought up to think of Diana of Poitiers mourning a husband. But maybe she did, maybe she did. They say you must check your common sense at the hotel when you set out to inspect Europe, and I believe it—I believe it. It's a nice tomb, and if they kneel and mourn in a gown with a train, she certainly is doing it up brown. However, let's go on.

"What's he saying? Well, ask him again. Whose grave? Well, ask him again. Rollo's! What, Rollo that was 'At Work' and 'At Play' and at everything else when we were kids? Another? What other? Well, ask him. Rollo the Norman? I don't see anything very remarkable in a Norman being buried in Normandy, do you, Bob? When did he die? Well, ask him. What are we paying him for, anyway? Died about 900, eh! And this church wasn't built till 400 years later. Where did he spend the time while he was waiting to be buried? Well, ask him. I declare, if I could talk French, I bet I'd know something about things. You are the dumbest lot!

"Come on; I'm tired of this old church. I move that we go out and look at the place where they burned Joan of Arc, or something else that is bright and cheerful. What's he saying? No, I don't want to see any treasury; I've done enough church-going for one week-day. Give him his money, Bob, and let's get out. You tell us where to go next; you must know everything, if you were here all day yesterday. I want to see that double-faced clock and those carvings of the Field of the Cloth of Gold. They're all over in the same direction.

"Good to be out in the air, eh? I vow, I never was great on churches. What boat did you come over on? Did it roll? Ours rolled and pitched, too. I never saw such a rolling.

"So that's the clock! Well, it's a big one, surely—almost as wide as the street, although candor compels us to own that the street is about the narrowest ever. All right, I'm done; a clock is a clock, and one look in its face always tells me all I want to know. Come on; we can't stand dilly-dallying if we're to get through Rouen to-day, and I must say I consider a day to a town as quite enough in Europe. I know, when I was young and traveled for wholesale shoes, I used often to do three towns a day and never turn a hair. I tell you, Bob, when I was—

"'So That's the Clock!'"

"Is that the fountain? Hold on; we want to see that! The guide-book has it in italics. I don't see anything to underline, though; looks foreign to me. Come on; we've got to be getting somewhere, or I shall feel I was a fool to stop off at Rouen. Not that I'm not glad to have met you again, Bob; but that could have happened anywhere else just as well, you know. When did you come over? Last year! Great Scott, what are you staying so long for? I bet I get enough in six weeks; I feel as if I'd got pretty close to enough now. Not that time ever hangs heavy on my hands, you know.

"What's our Goddess of Liberty doing up there? What's that Indian beadwork around her feet for? Who? You don't mean to tell me that's Joan of Arc? Well, all I can say is, I never imagined her like that. But what are the beads? French funeral wreaths! Great Scott! do they keep Charlemagne wreathed, too, or is 500 years the bead-wreath limit? Pretty idea, to put up a fountain where they burnt her—keep her memory damp at all events, eh? What's the moral of her train turning into a dolphin? Just to bring the mind gradually down to the level of the fact that it is a fountain, after all, I suppose.

"She wasn't burnt here, anyhow, the book said. The book said she was burnt farther over. Smart people here—have two places where she was burnt, so people must trot through the whole market if they try to be conscientious.

"Well, where can we go now? I say to set out and have a look at the tower where she was imprisoned. Pulled down! It isn't, either; it's starred in the book. What's that! This tower named for her, and hers pulled down! Well, there's French honor for you again. I don't want to see the tower if it ain't the real one I want to see the bas-reliefs of the Field of the Cloth of Gold, and then I want to go back to the hotel to lunch. I tell you, this sight-seeing is a great appetizer. The more old ruins and burnings I look over, the hungrier I get.

"Is this the place? Makes me think of a sort of glorified gate to a wood-yard. What is it, now? Well, ask somebody! A bank, eh? Are those the famous basreliefs? Those! Them! Well, well, I must say the touring public is easy game. They're all worn off. What's the tin overhead for? To keep the rain from damaging them, eh? Pretty bit of sarcasm, eh, Bob? Great pity they didn't think to put it up four or five hundred years sooner. I don't see a man with a head or a horse with a leg from here. It lacks character, to my idea. Let's go home. Come on. I've racked around Rouen all I care to for one day."

Dwindling Swiss Industry.

The Swiss watchmaking industry has shrunken to half of its one-time size.

A NURSE'S EXPERIENCE

Backache, Pains in the Kidneys, ing, Etc., Overcome.

A nurse is expected to know to do for common ailments, and en who suffer ache, constan guor, and othe mon sympton kidney com should be grate Mrs. Minnie T of E. B. St., darko, Okla., pointing out th to find quick relief. Mrs. Turner Doan's Kidney Pills for a run-dow dition, backache, pains in the sid kidneys, bloated limbs, etc. "Th they have built me up is simply velous," says Mrs. Turner, who nurse. "My health improved ra Five boxes did so much for me telling everybody about it."

Remember the name—Doan's, by all dealers. 50 cents a box. F Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Ever Notice?

"Why are the children of the so often intractable?"

"Where you see a home with woodshed, there you are apt to a spoiled kid."

When a man begins to tell a man about his past love affairs planning to add another to the li are the cause of many cases of Pneumonia and Consumption. No matter how slight your Cough or Cold may be, cure it before it has a chance to do any harm.

Neglected Colds and Coughs

DR. D. JAYNE'S Expectorant

is the oldest and best known medicine in the world for relieving and curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Croup, Whooping-Cough, and diseases of this class. Your druggist will supply you. In three sizes bottles, $1.00, 50c. and 25c.

Dr. D. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is an excellent tonic for both adults and children. It is also a safe worm medicine.

SICK HEADACH

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. TRADE MARK

Positively cured these Little Pil

They also relieve tress from Dyspepsia digestion and Too He Eating. A perfect edy for Dizziness, sea, Drowsiness, Taste in the Mouth, ed Tongue, Pain in Side, TORPID LIV

They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegeta

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRI

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUT

Our Men Make Big Money

Selling trees during Fall and Winter. Why you do the same? We want five men to represe in your county. Steady employment farmers or experienced salesmen. be hustlers. Handsome outfit free. weekly. Our Nursery is well k and stock easy to sell. 25 years i business. Reference: Any Bank in Moines. Write today.

Des Moines Nursery Co., Dept. A, Des Moines

For Rheumatism and Sore Muscles A-B-C LINIMEN "It's a Pain Stopper."

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, W ington, D.C. Books free. H est references. Best res

QUICKEST WITH SAFET

PISO'S CURE

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLD

For the baby often means rest for both mother and child. Little ones like it too—it's so palatable to take. Free from opiates.

All Druggists, 25 cents.

MPROVE BUTTER

County Dai.ymen to Employ An Expert.

LY OUTPUT 2,000,000 LBS.

Form an Association and Try Increase the Quantity of Butter Produced from Their cows—Mason City Awards.

Moines, Oct. 1—State Food Dairy Commissioner H. R. Wright reatly interested in a movement ed among the co-operative cream- managers of Worth county to per- an organization for the purpose mproving the quality and quan- of the cream produced by the rs. They held a preliminary ting at the North Iowa Fair at n City and they will meet again month. It is their plan to em- a dairy expert who will go about g the farmers instructing them to increase the quantity of butter ced by their cows and how to for the cream so it will arrive e creamery in first class condi-

out 2,000,000 pounds of butter a are produced by the Worth y creameries and if its value be increased one-tenth of a a pound they could afford to pay to an expert

J. Ross, assistant state dairy missioner, and H. G. Van Pelt, dairy expert, are active in ing about the proposed organiza- It will be the first associa- of the kind ever former any There will be no possibility ing prices for cream as the neries are all co-operative and only object is to produce more better butter.

e butter exhibit at the Mason ty fair excelled the one at the state The following awards were in the butter scoring contest: le milk class, E. A. Penson of rville, 97; C. J. Gudknecht of Lone k, 96.5. Cream class: J. P. Hanna Lone Rock, 94.5; C. A. Nureil of ton, 94.

ges Name of Stadium.

ting upon the request of the r, Norman Haskins of Des es, the trustees of Drake univers- changed the name of its great na- outdoor amphitheater from kins field to Drake stadium. Be- ng that the name of such a stad- should suggest its locality and university to which it belongs, her than the memory of one indi- ual. Mr. Haskins wrote personally e trustees asking for the change. as Mr. Haskins' gift of the ground made the stadium possible and his honor the athletic field was ed.

s Picture to State.

n interesting photograph of the ductoo club, a pioneer organiza- of Des Moines, will be present- to the state historical department Mrs Foster Ingalls The picture taken in 1876. Those shown in picture are Edward Smith, Frank e, George Myrick, Fred Wagner, rd Ainsworth, Chris Rathman, rles Passmore, Chas. Smith, J. P. s, Edward Whitcomb, Edward s, W. H. Lehman, Charles Mc- Professor Hartung, Theodore s, "Billy" Smith and R. H. Eddy. few of the members are living ys to Fight Civil Service.

hen Iowa postmasters meet in Moines October 13, 14 and 15, attack will be made on the civil ice system in vogue at the pres- time. Postmaster Robertson of t Dodge will lead the attack. He attempt to show that frequently most undesirable men pass the minations, and postmasters are ed to give them positions when they had the alternative of choos- their own help, an entirely dif- nt kind of a man would be se- ed.

y Report of Suit.

he minor stockholders of the Mu- Telephone company will not sue Iowa Telephone company to pre- it from merging the two systems, owing its purchase of a controll- interest of the "independent" cor- ation, so far as is known by the ers of the Mutual company. Man- r R. A. Walker of the Mutual pany and Manager W. J. Thill of Independent Telephone Clearing se, declared that they have heard hing of the reported suit.

arings Gain 30 Per Cent.

es Moines bank clearings show increase for the month of Septem- over the corresponding month last r of $4,227,040.92, or about a 30 cent increase.

Will Increase Expense.

With the return of Manager P. B. Sawyer of the Des Moines Electric company from Champagne, Ill., the home of W. B. McKinley, who recently purchased the lighting company, comes the announcement that $230,000 will be spent for improvements on the local plant instead of $200,000, as was first planned.

The additional expenditure of $30,000 will be made for the finest switchboards and other electrical apparatus used by any electric company in the middle west. The McKinley interests planned $100,000 improvements soon after acquiring the property. Then it was decided to double the capacity of the plant on the banks of the Des Moines river near the Center street dam. Now Mr. McKinley announces an expenditure of $30,000 more Library Meet Program is Out.

The list of subjects to be discussed at the twentieth annual meeting of the Iowa Library Association to be held in Des Moines October 12, 13 and 14, will include publicity or library advertising, making the township library law effective, farmers rest rooms, business side of the library, budget and tax levy, special endowments for books, library auxiliary clubs, and the use of books in high schools, normals and colleges. There will be a book symposium on Wednesday. At the symposium Honorable Irving B. Richman will discuss President Eliott's list of books and Johnson Brigham, state librarian, will discuss Swinburne's poetry.

Charged With First Degree Murder.

The Polk county grand jury "busted" all records when it returned two indictments charging first degree murder, one against John Smeltzer, slayer of Detective Frank Delmege, and the other against against Frank Webster, held for shooting and killing George Talbert. These, with the indictment for murder in the first degree returned against Mrs. Nellie Taylor, makes three first degree murder true bills in two days, which the court house officials say breaks all records.

Epworthians in Meeting.

The Des Moines conference board of control of the Epworth league was held in Ames. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Edward Pruitt of Coin; secretary, W. M. Harder of Des Moines; treasurer, Miss C. S. Erickson of Council Bluffs. The several district presidents are to act as vice presidents.

Eva Booth Coming to Des Moines.

Commander Eva Booth of the Salvation Army comes to Des Moines Oct. 14. She will give a public address at the Auditorium and will personally inspect the work of the army in Des Moines. This is the first time that Commander Booth has visited Des Moines since she accompanied her father, General Booth, two years ago.

Riggs Urges All to Attend Meeting.

John F. Riggs, state superintendent of public instruction, issued a circular letter to all city and county superintendents, requesting them to arrange the fall vacations so that they will occur the same week that the annual meeting of the Iowa State Teachers' association is held in this city, that is, November 4, 5 and 6.

Unitarians at Iowa City.

The annual conference of the Iowa Unitarian association will be held at Iowa City commencing Friday, Oct. 1. Owing to the holding of the annual meeting of the American Unitarian association in Chicago the latter part of September, the usual program will be dispensed with at Iowa City and a purely business meeting held.

Peddlers in State Increase.

Secretary E. J. Moore of the state pharmacy commission daily receives over $300 from medicine peddlers who journey from place to place in the country districts of the state selling patent medicines. He declares that there are seemingly more peddlers at the present time than ever before.

Body to be Cremated.

The body of Harry D. Allen, aged 46 years, son of H. B. Allen of Pasadena, Cal., who died at Mercy hospital of heart disease, was taken to Davenport for cremation. Later the ashes will be sent to California for final burial.

Boone Firm Bankrupt.

Voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in United States district court by Knert & Ford of Boone. Their liabilities are given as $10,785.31 and their stock is listed as $7,500.

Wants $10,000 for Husband's Love.

Mrs. Florence Hast, wife of Louis G. Hast, has filed original notice of suit for $10,000 against Louis Hast and Mrs. Anna Hast for the alienation of her husband's affections.

CHEAP LANDS OFFERED BY THE STATE OF COLORADO.

Land for 50c an acre is offered by the State of Colorado in the Little Snake River Valley, Routt County, Colorado, under the Carey Land Act. The perpetual water right to irrigate the land is sold under State authority for $35, under annual assessments extending over ten years.

This is pronounced one of the most fertile Valleys in Colorado and crops of all grains, grass, roots and hardier varieties of fruit are now being raised there.

The land now under cultivation under this canal systen, pays an average profit of $20.00 per acre.

Both the Moffat Road and the Union Pacific are building into the district and spending large amounts of money in developing the country.

The Routt County Colonization Company, 1734 Welton Street, Denver, Colorado, is sole agent for the sale of the land and water. There will be no drawing for this land; those desiring to select may make application and select in the order in which they apply.

HEALTH TOO PRECIOUS

"What do you mean by refusing to chop some wood after the good dinner I have give you!"

"Well, lady, de highest medical authorities gree dat workin' on a full stomach is injurious, an' I don't want to run any chances of ruinin' me superb health!"

CHILD ATE CUTICURA OINTMENT.

Spread Whole Box of It on Crackers —Not the Least Injury Resulted.

Cuticura Thus Proven Pure and Sweet.

A New York friend of Cuticura writes:

"My three year old son and heir, after being put to bed on a trip across the Atlantic, investigated the stateroom and located a box of graham crackers and a box of Cuticura Ointment. When a search was made for the box, it was found empty and the kid admitted that he had eaten the contents of the entire box spread on the crackers. It cured him of a bad cold and I don't know what else."

No more conclusive evidence could be offered that every ingredient of Cuticura Ointment is absolutely pure, sweet and harmless. If it may be safely eaten by a young child, none but the most beneficial results can be expected to attend its application to even the tenderest skin or youngest infant.

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

Come Home, Mother.

Mother, dear mother, come home from the club, and rustle some supper for me; 'tis time you were here working over the grub and getting things ready for tea. The table's not set nor the teakettle boiled, the vegetables are not prepared; no wonder my temper and feelings are roiled, though 'tis doubtful, indeed, if you cared. Come home, come home, come ho-ho-home! Yes, cut your symposium down a wee bit, dear mother, and hustle right home!—Los Angeles Express.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Repartee in the Bright Family.

"The newspapers are making a great stir about men's disinclination to marry," remarked Mrs. Bright.

"The Bible says there are no marriages in heaven," commented Mr. B.

"And what has that to do with us?" Bright laughed.

"Perhaps they are figuring on having a little heaven on earth."

Ladies who take pride in clear, white clothes should use the new RUSS BLUE. Sold by grocers.

It's almost as difficult for you to get a man to take your advice as it is for you to take his.

Constipation causes and seriously aggravates many diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. Tiny sugar-coated granules.

Gossip has a thousand tongues—and they all work overtime.

HUNTING FOR BIG GAME.

The Highlands of Ontario is an ideal spot for the sportsman during the open hunting season for big game. In the Temagami region moose are plentiful and may be killed during the period from October 16th to November 15th. This territory is a forest preserve of vast expanse, and in addition to being the hunter's paradise, its waters abound with game fish of many species. The home of the red deer is located somewhat to the south of Temagami, particularly in the districts known as "Muskoka Lakes," "Lake of Bays," "Maganetawan River," "Lake Nipissing," and "Kawartha Lakes" territories.

Write to W. S. Cookson, A. G. P. A., 135 Adams St., Chicago, for a copy of "Haunts of Fish and Game" issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System which fully describes the hunting territories reached by this line, giving game laws, maps and all information.

The Thirst for Gore.

Unsophisticated Onlooker—I think this is a first rate place. See what a fine view we have of this car coming.

Seasoned Spectator—Fine view fiddlesticks! Nothing ever happens on these straight stretches—not even a broken leg. Come on down to the turn and wait for the fun.—Puck.

Overcoming Tuberculosis.

Statistics published by the Imperial Gazette show that in recent years there has been a steady decrease in the number of deaths in Germany from tuberculosis, and especially from tuberculosis of the lungs. In urban centers the death rate per 100,000 fell from 226.6 in 1903 to 192.15 in 1908.

Exercise Recommended.

Weary Walker—What! Don't look like a sailor? Why, I've been following the sea for 30 years.

Farmer Haycrop—Well, you keep following it for 30 years more and perhaps you'll catch up with it.—Life.

Of Some Benefit.

Barber—Did the bottle of hair restorer I sold you do any good?

Customer—Yes, indeed; it kept me from wasting my money on any more.

The new RUSS BLUE is much the best. Insist that your grocer gives you this brand. Refuse imitations.

Strange how a girl's ideal can develop into merely her husband.

WE SELL GUNS AND TRAPS CHEAP N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

Many a true word has been spoken regardless of grammar.

Habitual Constipation

May be permanently overcome by proper personal efforts with the assistance of the one truly beneficial laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs & Elixir of Senna, which enables one to form regular habits daily so that assistance to nature may be gradually dispensed with when no longer needed, as the best of remedies when required are to assist nature, and not to supplant the natural functions, which must depend ultimately upon proper nourishment, proper efforts, and right living generally.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine,

MANUFACTURED BY THE

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS

ONE SIZE ONLY—REGULAR PRICE 50¢ PER BOTTLE

Work While You Sleep

Millions of people have CASCARETS do Health work for them. If you have never tried this great health maker—Get a 10c box—and you will never use any other bowel medicine. 912

CASCARETS 10c a box for a week's treatment, all druggists. Biggest seller in the world. Million boxes a month.

TEXAS LANDS

Forty acres rich chocolate sandy loam soil, in our Colony lands close to Houston, will earn MORE MONEY than 160 acres of best Iowa land. We can prove it to you. These lands have every convenience, Churches, Schools, Railroads, Shell-roads, Good Markets. Corn, Cotton, Sugar-cane, Oats, Alfalfa, Sorghum, Sweet and Irish Potatoes, in fact all kinds of Garden Truck can be produced EVERY MONTH in the year. Oranges, Figs, as well as all other fruits grow to perfection. Sell your 160 acres and take part of the money and buy one of these Forty Acre Tracts with a part of it and make more money.

PRICE $2500.00. EASY TERMS.

THE CHAS. B. MOLING CO.
HOUSTON, TEXAS

DEFIANCE STARCH easiest to work with and starches clothes nicest.

W. N. U., DES MOINES, NO. 41-1909.

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.

5 STICKS 5 CENTS!

Every stick is a delicious mouthful. Every mouthful has the delicious flavor of real

COLT DISTEMPER

Can be handled very easily. The sick are cured, and all others in same stable, no matter how "exposed," kept from having the disease, by using SPOHN'S LIQUID DISTEMPER CURE. Give on the tongue, or in feed. Acts on the blood and expels germs of all forms of distemper. Best remedy ever known for mares in foal. One bottle guaranteed to cure one case. 50c and $1 a bottle; $5 and $10 dozen of druggists and harness dealers, or sent express paid by manufacturers. Cut shows how to poultice throats. Our free Booklet gives everything. Local agents wanted. Largest selling horse remedy in existence—twelve years.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists, Goshen, Ind., U. S. A.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

GROCERIES & HARDWARE

COLD WEATHER

Is SURE to be here soon. Are you prepared for it? Perhaps you will need a new stove before winter sets in. If so you will miss it if you don't call and inspect our line of

HEATERS AND RANGES

We have just received a new shipment and will be glad to show them to you. Call early while the assortment is complete See the Summit Range

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

ONE PRICE CASH STORE

KLEMME, IOWA

DRUGS

A full line of patents of every manufacture. Jewelery, Wall Paper, Paints and Oils, School Supplies and Stationery.

TOILET ARTICLES

Face Powder, Talcum Powder, Sachet Powder, Face Creams, Toilet Waters, Hand Lotions.

MUSICAL GOODS

String and Brass Instruments, Edison Phonographs and Supplies. We are selling Phonographs on small weekly payments and going one better than the Chicago price by saving you the freight.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile. both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

See us when you want to buy TILE.

Northern Lumber Company

N. L. PALMER, AGENT

KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

"Printing That Pleases"

The TIMES Job Department

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

German M. E. Church Items

Fred Ridder and family left Tuesday for Watertown, South Dakota, where they will spend a few days with Mr. Ridder's two brothers and their families and then go to Hitchcock and visit a sister. They expect to be gone about a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beier and H. C. Beier left Monday evening for Waterloo. Iowa, where they will spend a week with relatives.

The Germantown W. F. M. Society met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Riemer for their monthly meeting.

John Gruetzmacher and ye scribe were in Garner Monday to act on a committee to adjust various ministerial supports and benevolences for the Upper Iowa district.

Arthur Wellemeyer and the Griewe sisters called on August Wenz in Britt last Sunday afternoon. Chas. Yahnke took them up in his auto.

The Klemme Epworth League will give the following temperance program in the Germantown church Sunday evening:

Declamation—Camilla Neff,
Duet—Emelia Lenz and Sarah Ludeke,
Reading—Clara Griewe,
Solo—Ida Ludeke,
Declamation—Esther Lenz,
Essay—F. C. Griewe,
Duet—Hulda and Esther Gruetzmacher,
Male quartet.
Declamation—Ralph Ludeke.
Closing remarks, Rev. Wessel

MORE LOCAL

Potatoes seem to be very plentiful this year and are now selling on the local market for about 35c per bushel.

We understand that Albert Koerner is building himself a new automobile and expects to have it in running order soon.

September was a beautiful month in old Iowa this year and the fine weather made lots of corn. What is so rare as a day in September in Iowa?

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gruetzmacher and son Raymond, of Charles City, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and daughter Fay. of Clear Lake, visited at the Gruetzmacher homes in Klemme last Sunday.

Wm. Bredlow was the victim of a painful accident last Saturday morning. While in the act of oiling his windmill, he in some manner got his left hand caught in the gearing and the member was very badly cut and bruised. Medical aid was summoned and it was found necessary to amputate the third finger. The other fingers on that hand were badly cut. The injured parts are healing nicely.

MILLINERY

Latest and Most Approved Styles---Right up to the Minute.

We are showing the nicest line of Stylish Millinery ever shown in our town and we want every lady in this vicinity to call and see our line.
Miss Lund is the best trimmer we have ever had and her work is sure to satisfy and please you.

New Shirt Waists in lawn and silk. Hair ornaments. Also newest in collars.

Bear-Skin Goods

Children's Bear-skin Tams, Hoods and Caps at about half price and a large assortment to select from.

Women's and Children's Wearing Apparel

An opportunity to make your selections from a complete variety of styles such as are carried only in the large cities. As a representative of Chas. A. Stevens & Bros., Chicago, I am prepared to show you samples representing a complete stock of High-Grade Ready-to-wear for Women, Misses and Children at Exceptionally Low Prices and Satisfaction Guaranteed. Call and look over our beautiful samples.

Cloaks, Suits, Skirts, Waists, Furs, etc.,

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

THRESHING COAL

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Sootless and Washed Egg. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

H. C. LAU

Thoroughbred Duroc Jersey Boars and Gilts For Sale

Two Strains. Sired by The Great Notcher and dams Ohio Chief; and others by Sure Money, dams Iowa Banker. This stock is first class in every respect.

——Call on or address——

J. T. GRIGGS. Goodell, Iowa

Save work, worry, money by using a

STOVER GASOLINE ENGINE

Made right—sold right. Send for an illustrated catalog of our

ENGINES

wind mills and feed grinders.

Sandwich Mfg. Co.

Mason City, Iowa General Agents

NEW CLOTHING

They go like Hot Cakes

Can hardly keep enough on hand of those $15.00 Suits for Men. It's the snap and style and above all the quality of the fabric that makes them go so.

Better take a peep at the new

Auto Coats for Men

They are "Snug as a bug in a rug." The new Overcoats with the golden brown plush lining and the Otter collar are the big hit—"Warm as Toast."

$18.00 to $26.00

New Store

We have re-modeled our Store and built a separate room for Clothing. In this "Cozy" well-lighted room, you can see all of these new Suits hanging. Step in, see the new Clothing in the new place. You will be delighted.

RTHUR WELLEMEYER

Our Principle is: "One good Suit brings you back for Another."

W. R. BLOOM
Buyer and Shipper of
Grain and Live Stock

Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.

Stock wanted 6 days in the week

Pictures

See me when you want a
Photograph
All kinds—inside or outdoor views. I make a specialty of photo postal cards, 75 cents a dozen. Good work at reasonable prices.

JOE MILLER, KLEMME IOWA

JOHN GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Headquarters for part of Heinz' Fifty-Seven Varieties, and Pickling Vinegar.
Try these goods; they are fine.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist

Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.

2nd door west of State Savings Bank

☞ Call in

RESTAURANT

Nicest Line of Candies in Town.
Fresh home made Bakery goods every day.
The best place in town to get a square meal for 25c.
Orangeade, Soft Drinks and Ice Cream.

A. Kirkwood & Son

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.

The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited

CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor

bout People You Know

LEMME MARKET.

.....	to 50c
.....	34 to 35c
.....	80 to 90
.....	38 to 40c
.....	4 00 to 6.00
.....	7.00 to 7.50
.....	3.00 to 6.00

fruits at Kluckhohn's.
irst National Bank has
of ad.
ested. Glasses fitted.
Missman.
Ell was at Forest City
ss Tuesday.
Lau shipped a car of day morning.
Wellemeyer has a new is issue to which your is directed.
y line of wagons at at are right. See us
n buy. H Lau & Son.
Landrey left last week ana and other western a "business and pleas ned" visit.
Achtermann left for on, Ind., on Tuesday
ake part in the sessions
od of the Northwest formed church there,
ivened on Wednesday
There will be no ser-
he Reformed church at next Sunday, Oct. 10,
the following Sunday,
because the congrega-
ited by the Ell Town church to celebrate ome with that congre-

obliged to take it for ll sell it out cheap;
ss Stock Food.
ss Poultry Panacea. ss Instant Louse Kill-ss Hog Worm Powder.

d at G. F. Schuler's
Iowa.

Read the new State Savings bank ad.

W. R. Bloom shipped a car of hogs yesterday.

The finest line of candies in town at Kluckhohn's. 45tf

Born—Monday morning, Oct. 4th, to Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Moberly, a daughter.

Bargains in Kemp Twentieth Century manure spreaders and Hero grinders and horse powers. H. Lau & Son.

Joe A. Moore, former publisher of the Meservey Messenger, has purchased the Courier at Sutherland, Iowa.

Now is a good time to select that seed corn for next year. Good seed is of utmost importance in the production of good crops.

Fred Barz and family, Ernest Palmby and wife and Wm. Schlawin and family visited at the Henry Wille home last Sunday.

M. Palmby, Rev. Wessel, Steve Day and Chas. Yahnke autoed over to Corwith yesterday to attend the County Sunday School Convention.

J. C. Ell, of Panama, Nebr., and his daughter, Mrs. Jacobson, of Rockford, Ill., arrived in Klemme yesterday for a few days' visit with relatives.

Two more of Klemme's young people have entered into the state of matrimony during the past week. On last Saturday, Oct. 2nd, occurred the marriage of Mr. Cloyd Lawhorn and Miss Lydia Freie. The contracting parties are well known to most of our readers, having been reared in this community, and need no introduction at our hands. They have a host of friends who wish them abundant happiness and prosperity. We extend the usual congratulations and best wishes.

Mrs. Ralph Blank is visiting in Garner.

Those owing us by note or on account, please call and settle at once and save costs. H. Lau & Son.

Nels Palmer is just more than putting on the style this summer. Now he is having his house all newly painted. C. C. Suckow is doing the work.

J. E Griewe went to Chicago last Sunday morning with a car of cattle. Jack is having some trouble with his neck since, from trying to see the top of the tall buildings

Jacob Walz came up from Belmond last week for a visit with his friend, Fred Haupt. Mr. Haupt has been under the weather for the past week or two, but is now somewhat on the mend.

Chas. Schroeder, who had been taking treatment at a hospital in Chicago, stopped off in Klemme last week on his way to his home at Garner. He has been so sick since he arrived here that he was unable to proceed to his home and has been staying at the H. C. Lau home. His parents have been down from Garner several days.

Klemme's lecture course was very auspiciously opened Tuesday evening by Dr. Edwin W. Lanham, who gave his famous lecture on "The World's Battleground." The opera house was filled to its utmost capacity and all seemed highly pleased with the evening's entertainment. Dr. Lanham dealt with the child problem and is well posted on his life's work of solving the problem of "What to do with the boy." He is a forceful speaker and has an excellent command of the English language. Some fine lessons could be learned from his talk.

Public Sale

As I shall move to Minnesota, I will have a closing out sale of the following property at the Lionel Fuller farm, 4½ miles northeast of Goodell, 5 miles southeast of Klemme and 6 miles northwest of Meservey, on

Tuesday, October 12, 1909,

Sale to commence at 10 o'clock sharp. Free Lunch at Noon.

6 Horses—Bay horse 10 years old wt 1350, bay horse 6 yrs old wt 1300, grey mare 4 yrs old with foal wt 1400, bay mare 3 yrs old with foal wt 1150, bay mare colt 2 yrs old, sucking colt.

61 Cattle—21 good milk cows some fresh and others will be soon, 6 steers coming 3 yrs old, 6 heifers coming 3 yrs old, 6 steers coming 2 yrs old, 5 heifers coming 2 yrs old, 15 Spring calves, 1 Angus Poll full blood bull coming 3 yrs old, Short-Horn bull one year old.

25 full blood Duroc Jersey pigs.

7 thorobred Duroc Jersey boars eligible to registration.

Sixty acres excellent corn.

Machinery— 4-in tire truck wagon, Osborne mower, hay rake, Tower corn plow, spade-disc, 6 shovel corn plow, buggy, corn sheller, 16 in. Cassady stir ring plow, DeLaval cream separator, broadcast seeder, 11 foot seeder, heavy harness as good as new and other articles.

Terms— Sums of $10.00 and under Cash; over that amount 12 months time on approved notes at 8 per cent. No property to be removed until settled for without permission of clerk.

FRANK UFKEN, Prop.
Col. J J. Wilson, Auct.
P. M. Griesemer, Clerk

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Phone No. 11. Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to calls day or night.
Eyes tested. Glasses fitted.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
☞ Eyes Tested Free.

SPECIAL

For a Short Time Only

Rock Island Lines

will sell one-way Colonist Tickets

To California

AND

Pacific Northwest Points

DAILY

September 15th to October 15th

Only $33	from	Chicago
32	"	Peoria
32	"	St. Louis
25	"	Kansas City
25	"	St. Joseph
25	"	Omaha
32	"	Memphis

to California, with similar low fares to points in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Arizona and Old Mexico.

Travel Rock Island way, in Rock Island clean, comfortable, easy-riding, vestibuled tourist cars.

Let me tell you how delightfully and economically the trip can be made.

G. TRENHAILE, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA

SUMMARY OF A WEEK'S EVENTS

Latest News of Interest Boiled Down for the Busy Man.

PERSONAL.

Robert S. Person, auditor for the interior department, has resigned. He asserts the senators from South Dakota have been working for his removal and that he doesn't wish to further embarrass the president.

President Taft, at Seattle exposition, in his speech said he would ask congress to pass a ship subsidy law.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jennings Bryan celebrated their silver wedding anniversary with a big reception at their home at Lincoln, Neb.

Dr. Harry E. Hutchins has been appointed temporary president of the University of Michigan at a salary of $7,000 a year.

War Secretary Dickinson is back in Washington after an extended vacation in the south. He said the department had reached no conclusion on the West Point hazing case.

Huntington Wilson, assistant secretary of state, has been threatened with another attack of appendicitis, but Washington reports say an operation will not be necessary.

Helen Keller, the deaf, dumb and blind marvel, is to make an airship flight with Charles J. Glidden of Boston and will record her sensations in the air.

GENERAL NOTES.

Prof. Jerome H. Raymond assumed the presidency of the municipally owned Toledo university, Toledo, O., and Prof. Harry B. Hutchins became acting president of the University of Michigan, the resignation of Dr. James B. Angell going into effect.

In the Long Island automobile derby, while running 65 miles an hour, a 60-horse power machine overturned, killing Mechanician James Bates and seriously injuring Driver Herbert Lytle.

The south is honoring the memory of Admiral Raphael Semmes, the naval hero of the confederacy, this being the one hundredth anniversary of his birth.

A romance in the wake of the Louisiana storm became known. A young woman of Leesville, La., lost her trousseau in the storm, and appeared at the altar in improvised attire, while the groom met her bare-footed, with his garments misfits.

D. J. Vent, one of the striking train dispatchers of the Mexican National railroad, who is now seeking employment in the United States, has fallen heir to $600,000 in Scotland.

A torchlight procession of 5,000 persons was a feature of a demonstration for Gen. Trevino given in Monterey, Mexico.

The National League of Veterans and Sons, organized two years ago to benefit men who have served in the regular army or National Guard and their sons, met in annual session at Bay City, Mich.

One thousand children, terrified by "Black Hand" stories, became panic-stricken in a Jersey City (N. J.) parochial school when they heard fireworks exploding on the outside. One child was fatally injured and 13 others more or less hurt.

Six survivors of an unknown vessel are aboard Winter Quarter lightship, the remaining 12 men of the crew having perished, according to a report made by Capt. Delano of the steamer Porto Rico which arrived at Baltimore from New York.

Sam Yong Ping, an aged Malay and one of the wealthiest fishermen on the Louisiana coast, hanged himself by his feet from a tree near his home on Paratana bay. He is supposed to have been crazed by the recent storm.

Passengers on some of the Omaha street cars drove off the crews and ran the cars themselves, when the motormen refused to start after the fares were collected. The crews sent in a riot call.

Another dissolution of the Finnish senate is imminent as a result of the clash over Finland's contribution to the Russian defense fund. The Russian cabinet asks $4,000,000 from Finland; the Finns will contribute only $2,000,000.

A Spanish force reconnoitering in the direction of Sokel Jemis, Morocco, encountered the Moors and met with a serious reverse. Four officers and 14 men were killed ond 182 men wounded.

Gifford Pinchot just returned to Washington from a western trip says that a trust is being formed to monopolize the water power sites of the country and declares congress must take drastic measures to throttle the combination.

A Mexican gunboat has seized an American fishing schooner off Progreso, Mexico, and placed the crew of seven in prison.

Commander Peary and his ship, Roosevelt, was given a grand welcome when they participated in the naval gageant from New York to Newburgh.

Census agents will be given a qualification test November 3 according to the announcement made by Census Director Durand.

Prince Miguel of Braganza, who married Miss Anita Stewart of New York at Tulloch castle, Dingwall, Scotland, September 15, has been sued by a Vienna money lender for $1,200.

The principal commercial apple orchards of the country are doomed to become infested with the San Jose scale, according to a bulletin published by the department of agriculture at Washington. The scale is spreading rapidly over vast areas and has made its appearance in orchards which until recently were free from its ravages.

Admiral Le Pord, in command of the French battleships at the Hudson-Fulton celebration in New York, has made public a statement that an ensign of the French navy was assaulted by a policeman, who struck him in the face at one of the elevated stations.

William Mitchell, white, convicted of murder, and Cecil Palmer, colored, convicted of attacking a woman, were hanged at Nashville, Tenn. These were the first executions under the new law, which provides that all executions must be carried out at the state prison.

The sixteenth annual convention of the United Boys Brigade of America opened in Pittsburg. Young men repsenting brigades in every state in the union are in attendance.

Secretary Dickinson sustains Gen. Frederick D. Grant in participating in a parade in Chicago last week saying the officer acted as an individual, which he has a perfect right to do.

Twenty-five thousand men were in line and 2,000,000 witnessed New York's great military parade which was the climax of the Hudson-Fulton celebration.

William Armstrong of Quincy, Ill., was killed and his brother, Harold, and Archie Johnson were seriously injured when their automobile in which they were riding was hit by a train at Buda, Ill.

The steamer Roosevelt, which carried Commander Peary to the arctic regions, is in New York harbor and will participate in the Hudson-Fulton naval parade up the Hudson river.

State Supreme Justice W. J. Gaynor was nominated by the Democrats for mayor of Greater New York.

Two armed bandits looted the Citizens' National bank of Glenwood Springs, Col., of $10,000 in a most spectacular manner and escaped to the mountains.

New York had a spectacular fire when the Dunham chocolate plant in Pearl street was damaged $200,000.

Rear Admiral Schley, retired, has canceled all his engagements in New York on account of his health and will return to Washington and seclusion.

The seventieth session of the Rock River conference of the Methodist Episcopal church opened in Rockford, Ill., with Bishop Goodsell of New York presiding.

Gen. Grant, at Washington, declares he will continue to lead parades that stand for law and order until prohibited. This is in reply to criticisms for his participation in Chicago's temperance parade.

Col. W. R. Morrison, former congressman, is dead at his home in Waterloo, Ill., after a protracted illness.

Dr. Frederick A. Cook was given a magnificent reception at Philadelphia, at which city he delivered a lecture.

Thomas Gray, 19 years old, walked the streets of New York two hours after he had been shot near the heart, fearing his father would not believe his story. He went to bed without telling of his injury, but his mother saw his blood-stained garments and he was aroused and walked a mile to Bellevue hospital with his father. The shot may prove fatal.

A Paris jury decided that Edward Baudin was justified in killing his wife at her request to end her suffering. The woman was a victim of asthma and the disease was strangling her.

Mrs. Linda Baldwin, who says she doesn't know how old she is, but who is supposed to be over 100, is detained at Ellis island, New York. She lived 60 years in Brooklyn and returned from Ireland to look after some property.

SHIP MANY APPLES

Thousands of Bushels Sent Out of Harrison County.

LOTS OF GRAPES ALSO GROWN

In Addition to Apples Put Up for Home Consumption and Shipped, Thousands of Bushels Have Gone to Waste.

Logan, Ia., Oct. 4—The time when wagon loads of apples hauled from the state of Missouri and peddled in the towns and rural districts of Harrison county is still within the memory of old settlers, but that time has gone and gone forever.

F. A. Young of Woodbine reports about 8,000 bushels of fall apples bought and shipped, and an aggregate of 4,600 bushels of other apples contracted at that place. R. L. Oliver of Pisgah reports 2,000 bushels of apples bought and shipped and an equal number of bushels in sight.

Adams brothers of Logan, assisted by Stocker company have bought and shipped twenty-three car loads of fall apples and shipped the same to Omaha, Sioux City, South Dakota, Oklahoma, and Chicago, and report from fifteen to twenty cars of winter apples in sight in addition to home consumption.

As Harrison county has become a fruit producing county, the shipments of grapes and apples from Missouri Valley and other points of the county, although not accurately known, are believed to have been heavy. Mondamin has been the market for fruits of many varieties; the fruit growers of that vicinity have made the pear, the apple, the strawberry and raspberry yield from $200, $300, and $700 to $1,500 per acre.

In addition to what has been put up for home consumption, and shipped to different markets, thousands of bushels have been blown from the trees and gone to waste in the orchards for want of a canning factory or ready market.

Largest Cannery in Iowa.

Marshalltown.—Another new enterprise for this city, which will result in the building of the largest canning industry in Iowa, will become a reality within the next few months when the Western Grocer company will install $25,000 worth of canning machinery in a four-story building remodeled for a factory, ready for operation by March of next year. The cannery will have a capacity of over 200,000 cases of canned goods per year. This will include corn, tomatoes, pumpkins, lima and navy beans, sauer kraut and hulled corn. The plant will be operated throughout the entire year.

New Gift to Wesleyan.

Centerville.—A cash gift of $1,000 for the endowment fund of Wesleyan university, of Mount Pleasant, was made by J. W. Williams, of this city, to President E. A. Schell, of the college. Mr. Williams is one of the most liberal Methodists in the Iowa conference, having been the largest contributor when the $50,000 church was built here three years ago. His son, Carl Williams of Chicago, has recently given $5,000 to the same college of which he is an alumnus.

State Pays for Monument.

Des Moines.—A warrant for $1,000 was drawn by the auditor of state in favor of the Jackson County Historical association to help pay the expenses of removing the body of former governor Ansel Briggs from Omaha to Andrew and erecting a monument over the grave. The total cost of the removal and erection of the monument was $1,025, of which the state will pay $1,000, the amount appropriated by the last legislature for that purpose.

Cedar Rapids Banker Is Dead.

Cedar Rapids.—G. F. Vanvechten, president of the Security Savings bank and a pioneer banker of this city, died, aged 80 years. His wife, Mrs. Emma F. Vanvechten, was formerly president of the Iowa Federation of Women's clubs.

Orient's "Pumpkin" Day.

Greenfield.—The town of Orient held its fourth annual celebration of "pumpkin" day. There was an excellent exhibit of stock, grains, vegetables, fruits and cooking. They had all sorts of sport, including baseball and tennis tourneys.

Howe Named on Board of Parole.

Des Moines.—Dr. John E. Howe of Greenfield has been named by Governor Carroll as a member of the state board of parole to succeed the late Dr. Joseph M. Emmert, who died in office. Dr. Howe will fill out the term which ends July 1, 1911.

Col. Swalm Sells His Farm.

Oskaloosa.—United States Consul and Mrs. A. A. Swalm have disposed of their Mahaska county farm at a good figure. They sold it to A. T. Van Houwellinger for $27,000. The sale is significant of the rapid rise in real estate in Mahaska county during the last decade. The Swalms bought the farm in 1901 from the estate of Charles Hutchinson, a former resident of Oskaloosa and Des Moines for $16,500, or $55 per acre, and just nine years later have sold it for nearly double the price, or $90 per acre. In addition to the $1,000 per year rental which the property brings, the increase has been almost $2,000 per year, or, in other words, the investment has netted them about $3,000 per year. The original entry of the farm was made in 1846 by William Bovel.

A Big Shipment of Hogs.

Knoxville.—There were probably more hogs in Knoxville a few days ago than in any other town of the equal size in the state. A special took twenty-four full car loads of porkers—1,500 animals of varying sizes from this place to the Morrell packing houses in Ottumwa. The entire consignment was by Davis & Way, who paid $23,169.60 for the hogs delivered at the stock yards. Of that amount one firm of hog raisers, Huffman brothers, two and one-half miles southeast of town, received a check for $20,511.90. They furnished 1,090 hogs, all of good weight.

Issues Decree Under Moon Law.

Marshalltown, Iowa.—The first decree under the new Moon law in Iowa was issued in the district court here when Judge Parker permanently enjoined W. E. Crinklaw and S. and Louis Bernstein from operating a saloon in Iowa for five years. The saloonists are prevented from ever engaging in the business in this district again, or in Iowa for a period of five years. The building in which the saloons were situated are enjoined and must be kept closed for one year.

Fortune for Two Young Iowans.

Knoxville.—S. B. Kennedy, a shoe dealer here, gives some particulars of a stroke of good fortune which has befallen his son, Charles Kennedy, in Idaho. Eighteen months ago the young man bought a claim relinquishment near the mountain town of Sunnyside. The town has now spread out so as to include the very edge of the Kennedy claim. Last week the townsite company offered Mr. Kennedy $12,000 for his 160 acres.

Auto Scares Horse to Death.

Tabor.—An auto frightened M. W. Gaylord's fine bay horses to death. Mr. Gaylord is superintendent of the Latter Day Saints' Sunday school that meets in their church northwest of Tabor, and as he was returning home he met Farmer Ray Rhode in his auto. The horse shied, lunged and tried to run away, but, failing in this, fell dead in the road.

To Appeal to Legislature.

Iowa City.—The next session of the legislature may be asked to legalize the paving and sewer bonds of the city of Iowa City, unless there is some modification of the ruling of Judge Howell that there is no tax against a majority of abutting property owners through failure to secure a lien as required by section 816 of the code.

Iowa Veterans to Meet in December.

Iowa City.—The first annual reunion of the Spanish-American war veterans will not be held until the latter part of December. It was found necessary to postpone the reunion until this time on account of the inability of the local committee to locate the veterans and to perfect arrangements.

Smeltzer Pleads Not Guilty.

Des Moines.—John Smeltzer, slayer of Detective Frank Delmege, entered a plea of not guilty to the indictment for murder in the first degree returned against him when arraigned before Judge Miller in the criminal division of the district court.

Corning to Hear Carrie Nation.

Corning.—The Women's Christian Temperance union of this city has engaged Carrie Nation to make an address at the opera house Monday evening, Oct. 11. She will also be at Villisca, Osceola, Leon, Creston and other points near during this tour.

Man Disappears.

Grinnell.—Arthur G. Swift has disappeared. His family does not know where he has gone and are in bad circumstances. An effort is being made by friends to locate him.

Des Moines Wins Western Pennant.

Des Moines.—Des Moines won the pennant! The Western base ball league race came to an end with Des Moines first, Sioux City second and Omaha third.

ANTHONY'S BIG FI

Over Half the Business Distri Iowa Town Swept Away

ESTIMATED LOSS IS $47,

Fire Started in the Postoffice Bui From Some Unknown Cause— Insurance Amounted to Only $17,700.

Marshalltown, Ia., Oct. 4.—Fir tally destroyed the west side o main street of Anthony, this co including the postoffice and two general stores, causing a los $47,700. More than half of the ness buildings of the town burned. Marshalltown and Zea were called upon for help, but a ance could not be given soon en to do any good. Seven buildings completely wiped out together contents and buildings across street were more or less damage heat. The total insurance on the is $17,700.

The fire started in the post building but the origin is unkno

The principal losers are:

Anthony R. Pierce, Pasadena, loss on postoffice building, $2,0

United States government, f ture and fixtures, $200.

J. F. Hixson, loss on stock, $2,

Michael Hormon, restaurant, los stock and furniture, $1,000; insura $700.

There was no insurance on postoffice building.

J. C. Evans, Turlock, Cal., los building, $2,200; insurance, $1,2

Lindquist & Son, loss on stoc general merchandise, $13,000; i ance, $5,000.

Fred Peters, hardware, loss building, $1,200; stock, $1,400; i ance on building, $500; on s $500.

Henry Haunsch, meat market, on building, $900; on stock and tures, $1,000; insurance on buil $500; on stock, $500.

J. A. Bryant, real estate office, $1,000; insurance, $300.

J. W. Parkhurst, loss on buil $2,500; insurance, $1,200.

Berge Brothers, general store, on stock, $10,000; insurance, $5,

John Mayer, hardware, loss building, $2,000; on stock, $4,000 surance on both, $1,800.

Business houses across the st including a bank and furniture s suffered total damage of $2,000 heat and smoke. The Christian ch was damaged, the loss being esti ed at $200.

TAFT LAYS A CORNERSTO

Executive Says He Is an Opti and Believes World Is Bette Than Ever Before.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 4—Presi Taft preached another sermon. scene had changed from the Mor tabernacle at Salt Lake City to cornerstone laying of the First versalist church in East Portland

The president handled the s trowel and worked hard to see the stone was properly adjusted. apparent earnestness in setting stone called out great applause the open air audience. The presi referred to his various church periences, and in concluding sai

"No church in this country, ever humble it may be, that prea the doctrine of true religion and ality will lack my earnest suppor make it more influential whenever portunity offers."

The president's train left at 6: m. over the Southern Pacific rail for Sacramento.

Mr. Taft had a truly religious which began when he attended morning services at the First tarian church in Portland and ened to a sermon by the Rev. W Elliott, Jr. Following the ser the president was the guest of h at a luncheon tendered by Sen Bourne, and which included the ious state and city officials.

Sues for Accident.

West Union, Ia., Oct. 4.—Miss Hall has commenced suit for $ 000 against the Chicago Telep company. Miss Hall was usin phone in Chicago when a live broke. She was thrown to the by the shock of the wire and sus ed many minor injuries. Her ear became deaf and she had to dergo an operation.

Duchess De Chaulnes in New Y

New York, Oct. 4—Accompa by her mother, Mrs. Theodore Shonts and her sister, Margue the duchess de Chaulnes, form Miss Theodora Shonts, arrived New York on the steamer Ge Washington. With her was her months old son, the little duke.

LIPS THAT WERE SEALED

BY ALMA MARTIN ESTABROOK

PICTURES BY A. WEIL

AUTHOR OF "MY COUSIN PATRICIA."

COPYRIGHT BY J. B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

SYNOPSIS.

The story opens with a scene at a box party. Miss Henrietta Winstanley, sister of Bishop Winstanley overheard Tucker Ankony propose to Barbara Hemingray, whose brother Dan was in his class at college. Dan was one of the town's popular young men. He showed some nervousness when Attorney Tom Twining told him that Barbara refused Ankony. Ankony the following day, summoning Twining, accused Dan of looting the bank. Twining refused to prosecute. Barbara persuaded Ankony to postpone starting prosecution. Twining learned of the engagement of Ankony and Barbara. He congratulated both. He visited Miss Hemingray and found her almost in tears. He told her he had loved her, but had prematurely announcing his affection. By actions alone she told him of her reciprocated. Mrs. Anson Dines, a wealthy widow, proposed a marriage by proxy with Bishop Winstanley. The latter consulted with Twining. The bishop had been paying attentions to Miss Winstanley.

CHAPTER V.—Continued.

"But could such a thing be done, Mr. Twining?"

"The marriage suggested?" I asked. "Certainly, sir. It would be as binding as one you yourself would perform, with the parties kneeling at your own chancel and all the usual fashionable formulae employed."

"Then there is no reason why the engagement suggested by Mrs. Dines might not be carried out?" he asked.

"There is none offered by the law, Bishop Winstanley," I replied.

"Upon my soul, I wish you could have apprised me of some technical objection, Mr. Twining; I do indeed," he exclaimed.

I lifted my brows.

"Because there is a very good reason outside the law, why no such shameful arrangement should be entered into."

"I should be interested to hear it if you feel disposed to speak of it," I said politely. I was in reality consumed to know what it was.

"I believe you legal men are considered deep wells into which all sorts of trouble and embarrassment may be safely poured," he remarked.

"The reason will be safe with me if you care to intrust it to me, sir."

He smiled a charming smile.

"It is very simple," he said; "I do not wish to marry the lady."

"Then why on earth do you consider it?" I cried.

"Bless your soul, I do not," he chuckled.

"But I thought—"

"I may have given you the impression. Frankly, I am somewhat disturbed to know just the way out of the absurd position in which the lady, encouraged doubtless by my sister, has put me. It is not an easy thing to decline even such an alliance as yours suggests, sir. I dare say you have had no experience—for which you should thank your stars It is only fair, perhaps, to admit that the ladies have had grounds for thinking I would not be entirely unwilling to enter into such an astonishing plan. To begin with, I am 45 years old—old enough to have thought of matrimony if I had expected to. Perhaps the fact that I have not thought of it has encouraged my sister and Mrs. Dines to assume that I do not mean to do so. Since they have frankly suggested it to me. Then I have always been an admirer of Mrs. Dines, who, as I have said, is an admirable woman, and many years my senior, and they have probably considered my admiration to have verged of reverence, which is not the case. There are besides these reasons others which I need not mention to you, not to speak of the financial issue, which, in her zeal for her sex's sake, my sister has not overlooked. But I cannot consider any of these. I sent for you hoping you would tell me that the illegality of such a step would put it out of the question. But since you cannot help me I must find a way of my own."

I smiled and held out my hand.

"I am more sorry than I can tell you I have failed you," I said; "but I have not a doubt that, left to your own devices, you will get delicately and quickly out of the matter."

He smiled back at me, retaining my hand.

"Did you ever have an elder sister, Mr. Twining?" he inquired.

I regretted that I had never been so favored.

"Ah," said he, "that accounts for it. Not being an attorney general or chief justice," and he smilingly showed me out.

CHAPTER VI.

"Mr. Hemingray is in the sitting room, sir, and wishes to see you at once."

I looked up into the reposeful countenance of my faithful and imperturbable Kimmens, who stood above my bed, a lighted candle in his hand, its rays over his ruddy face and ruddier pajamas.

"Mr. Hemingray!" I repeated in sleepy amazement.

"Mr. Dan Hemingray; yes, sir."

"What time is it?"

"A little past two. Mr. Hemingray just came in by train, I think."

"Bless me! Well, go to bed, Kimmens. I won't need you. I'll go right in, tell Mr. Hemingray."

Kimmens went with dignity and fluttering garments.

As I hurried in Dan looked up at me from a chair in which he had sunk in an odd heap.

"Sick, Dan?" I asked.

"Sick to death—at heart," he groaned.

"What's the matter?"

He wheeled on me sharply.

"You know all about it, don't you—what I did, you know?"

I stopped to light the gas in my grate.

"Yes, I know, old fellow."

There was an instant's silence.

"Did Ankony tell you?"

"Yes."

"He made Barbara believe no one knew."

"He told me before that. I'm sure he hasn't told any one else. You may depend on that, I think. He wanted—"

"He wanted you to prosecute; I know. I'm a nice sort, ain't I? What do you think of me?" he sneered.

"I think you may have been a bit weak, but that there's a bully lot of strength in you yet and that it's going to assert itself. That's what I think," and I stretched out my hand.

He gripped it absently. "Do you know what made Ankony change his mind about the prosecution?" he asked.

"I've imagined."

"Then you know that I'm a cad as well as thief. I let myself be saved by accepting Barbara's bondage. You know as well as I do how she hates him. It was you who told me how she scorned him the night before at the opera. She didn't change. You know that. She simply took him to save me, and I let her. Good Lord, Tom, I let her!"

"I know how hard it would have been to resist her pleading," I said.

"I was so sick I didn't know what I did. She's more to me than anybody on earth, and yet I let her sell herself for me; but, thank heaven, the sacrifice isn't consummated yet, and I've come to myself in time to stop it."

"I knew you would! I was sure of it," I exclaimed.

"Were you?" he asked wonderingly. "Did you have that much faith in me? It was more than I had in myself. I thought I meant to let it go on. I went away thinking I did."

"You didn't know what you thought. You were stunned."

"That's no excuse!" he cried, and I could see how he had been lashing himself.

"Oh, yes, it is! She can be very persuasive, and she meant you to yield to her."

"Yes, she meant it all right. But it's all off now. I've come back to give myself up. If Ankony wants to, he may put me behind the bars. I'm not anxious to have that happen, as I've got a lot to make good, you know. If he gives me the chance, Twining, I swear I'll do it; but if he don't—well, I'd rather be in prison than see her married to him."

I nodded.

"I've been thinking," he began hesitatingly, "that maybe you fellows who have been so good to me would put enough faith in me—rag of a man that I am—to lend me the three thousand to pay Ankony back. Would you?"

"We must find another way, Dan," I said, dreading to tell him that I had already tried that way; "but the fact of the matter is that Ankony refused to accept my offer to make good. I asked him to give me that privilege in the beginning. But there must be another way, and we'll find it."

"When did you see him?" he asked.

"Before there was anything said to you. Oh, don't make a fuss about it! It was little enough to do, goodness knows! Any one of half a hundred fellows and twice that many women would have done it if they'd known. But Ankony was stubborn."

"She Says She'll Marry Him Whether I Give Myself Up or Not."

He tramped up and down my little sitting room in a fury of impotent resentment.

"Then you don't think he'll take the money and let me go?" he asked after a little.

"I'm afraid not, unless he yields to her persuasions."

He shook his head hopelessly.

"He wouldn't listen to them before. He set his price and made her pay it," and he shivered uncontrollably and threw himself down on the couch.

"We can't do anything to-night," I said. "You must go to bed. You're undone and won't be fit for anything to-morrow unless you get some rest. I'll see if I have a bed ready."

"Don't bother. I can't sleep. I hated to get you out at this time of night, but I hoped we might settle upon something before morning."

"I wish to the Lord we could!" I fervently ejaculated.

"You can't think of any other way?"

"Not now. But we must. The trouble is, there's nothing to appeal to in Ankony, and nothing that I can get hold of to frighten him into decency. I wouldn't give a rap for his morals, but his discretion is unassailable."

"I've heard things hinted," he reflected, "but nothing openly suggested. He'd take precious good care of that. No, I don't believe we can reach him that way."

"I'm afaid not."

"I'm not worth all this trouble," he groaned.

"Shut up and come along to bed."

"I tell you I can't sleep."

"You must. Come along."

He followed me patiently.

"Have your man wake me at seven," he said; "I must get home early."

When I had seen him in bed, I went out into the dimly lighted sitting room and sat down to try once more to find some way out of the pressing difficulties.

Dan was awake and leaving the next morning when I awoke and, hearing him, looked out on the apartment.

"Stay for breakfast, can't you?" I called.

"No, thank you; I've got to get home, but I'll come back after I've seen Barbara, and tell you what's to be done; but," with a queer settling of his face, "I guess there's only one thing to do."

"Don't do it till you've seen me," I said hastily; "I haven't given up hope yet. Come to me before you go to Ankony. I'll turn heaven and earth to find something."

"Don't bother. It's no use. Honestly, I believe that. But she shan't marry him."

He went, leaving me to reflect anew on how much easier it is to tangle things than to untangle them.

I had scarcely reached the office before he came. He looked bewildered and uncertain, and, sitting down on the other side of the table in my private room, stretched out his arms across it and leaned over to me. "She says she loves him," he said.

"Of course she says that!" I exclaimed.

"Then you don't believe it?"

"Do you?"

"I don't know what to believe. I didn't think it possible before, and I can't conceive it now; but she swears she does, and she looks—she actually looks as if she means it. Do you think she's pretending so as to make it easier for me?"

"Don't ask me, Hemingray."

"It's just what you might expect her to do, isn't it? I accused her of it, but she only laughed at me and said I was silly to imagine such a thing. She says she refused him the night before because she was piqued at something he did and wanted to make him suffer, but that she has cared for him all the time. You can make what you like out of it."

I drummed on the table. I had nothing to say. Things were dim and vague and hateful to me in that acute moment. I did not know what I believed—what I wanted to believe. I was remembering all that had passed between her and me pertaining to her engagement, trying to make something definite and convincing out of it, but I decided that much of what I had deemed convincing had been based merely on my own conclusions and not upon anything she had actually said or conveyed.

"She says she'll marry him whether I give myself up or not," he went on; "that it won't make a particle of difference except that it will stir up an unnecessary fuss. Ankony won't do anything, of course, when she's going to marry him, and she says she is going to."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Newest Egg Breaker.

It is interesting to note the variety of inventions which have recently been brought forward to add to the comfort of diners and enhance the pleasure of the hours spent at the table, pleasant as they already are to most of us.

A Colorado man has just introduced an egg breaker which reduces to a science the breaking of an egg and makes what was some times a painful operation an interesting bit of work. This device consists of an apparatus much like a pair of pincers, with wire handlers and semi-circular jaws, each equipped with tiny teeth at the end. Above and below the jaws are conical springs, forming a receptacle and byshape of an egg.

The egg is placed in these springs and by gripping the handles of the device the jaws press upon it, cutting through the shell as neatly as a man might cut a piece of fruit with a knife. The egg is thus opened not only without soiling the colth, but without burning the hands, which was the invariable experience in the old way.

Rather Sharp.

The pretty girl wore one of those hats that resemble the blade of a buzz saw. As she passed the young man in the narrow doorway the rough edge of the hat skinned his cheek.

"Ah, there, Percy!" she called vivaciously. "Just tell them that you saw me."

The young man felt his stinging cheek.

"No, sis," he said grimly, "I guess I'd better tell them that you sawed me."

HER PHYSICIAN ADVISED

Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Columbus, Ohio.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during change of life. My doctor told me it was good, and since taking it I feel so much better that I can do all my work again. I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fine remedy for all woman's troubles, and I never forget to tell my friends what it has done for me."—Mrs. E. Hanson, 304 East Long St., Columbus, Ohio.

Another Woman Helped.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength, and proved worth mountains of gold to me. For the sake of other suffering women I am willing you should publish my letter."—Mrs. Charles Barclay, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Guess Where She Is From.

The head of the house had been ill for many months, and had lost his appetite entirely.

"I can't seem to fix anything that he'll enjoy and he hardly eats anything," the mistress was saying to the maid, who was a new arrival from the old country.

"That's always the way," returned the girl. "They're all the same, them invalids. All they want is nothing at all, and then when you bring it to them they don't eat it."

The Way of It.

"But I don't love you," objected the young woman.

"Then why," howled the indignant youth, referring hastily to divers memoranda in his pocket diary, "did you eat up a total of 65 boxes of chocolates I bought you during the past year if you didn't love me?"

"Because," she said, with a rapt expression on her lovely features, "I do love chocolate."

Physicians Everywhere Use Resinol With Very Great and Unvarying Success.

During the last six months I have prescribed Resinol in numerous cases of acute and chronic skin diseases and chronic ulcerations with very great and unvarying success. It is a reliable preparation, and its action is prompt and pleasing.

A. F. Volkman, Baltimore, Md.

Reasons Enough.

Father—You seem to look at things in a very different light since your marriage.

Mrs. Newly-Married Daughter—Well, I ought to after receiving 14 lamps and nine candelabra for wedding presents.—Tit-Bits.

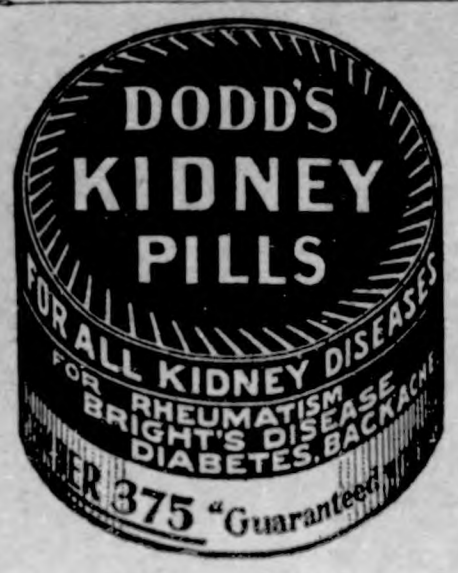
Every time a married woman begins to talk about her rights it's her husband's cue to enumerate a few of his wrongs.

No matter how long your neck may be or how sore your throat, Hamlins Wizard Oil will cure it surely and quickly. It drives out all soreness and inflammation.

You can't tell by the size of the gravestone how big the man was who lies in the grave.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Some men never do anything on time except quit work.



The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

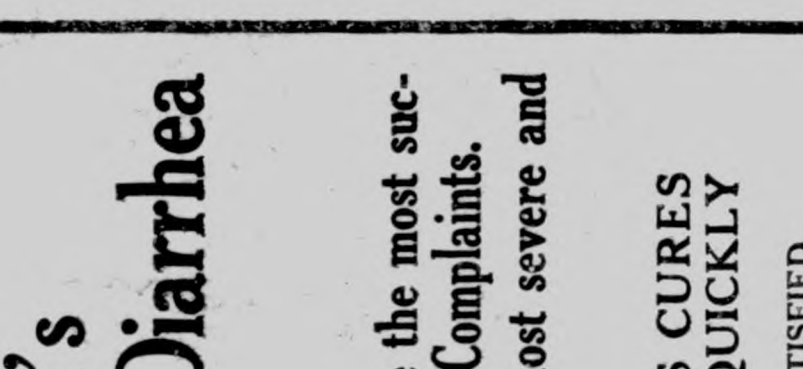
Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy

Acknowledged everywhere to be the most successful medicine in use for Bowel Complaints.

Can be depended upon in the most severe and dangerous cases.

REMEMBER ALWAYS CURES CURES QUICKLY

MONEY RETURNED IF NOT SATISFIED



Reduced fac simile

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

GOODELL

From the Globe:

Gus Okrueg was a visitor at Klemme last Saturday.

Misses Mamie Butts and Julia Finn were Klemme visitors last Saturday.

W. D. Lloyd is head cook in one of the large hotels at Hebron, Neb.

G. W. Butts and T. R. Burgess were business visitors in Des Moines the fore part of the week.

Mrs. Maude Hodgkinson and daughter Leah, returned Thursday from their visit with relatives in Canada.

Frank McNulty purchased the pool room and opera house of Wm. Wesenberg latter part of last week.

Dave Friedman and Fred Nolte who went west to register for land and also to take in the exposition at Seattle, returned home last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Porter and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hughes were enjoying themselves at the hospitable home of G. O. Miner, northeast of Klemme, on last Sunday. They also visited Clear Lake the same day.

Aug. Ahrenkiel, of Platteville, Colorado, who had been in Chicago buying his stock of fall and winter goods, stopped off in Goodell from Friday until Monday to see his many old friends. August reports that they are "making good" in their western home which all are glad to know.

The Bed-Rock of Success

lies in a keen, clear brain, backed by indomitable will and resistless energy Such power comes from the splendid health that Dr. King's New Life Pills impart. They vitalize every organ and build up brain and body. J. A. Harmon, Lizemore. W. Va., writes: "They are the best pills I ever used." 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

BRITT

From the News:

Ed Shields, who has been in Britt for some time looking after his real estate interests, left this week for his home in Rock Island.

Miss Anna Marshall of North Bend, Neb., is visiting friedds and relatives in Britt.

Quite a number of Britt citizens were at the county seat interviewing the grand jurymen.

Information comes from Rochester, Minn., that Mrs. E. F. Larson had undergone a very successful surgical operation and was recovering nicely.

A. T. Stivers of Mason City, has resigned his position as a missionary of the American Sunday School Union and in a few days will move to Fort Lauderdale, Florida, where he will make his future home. He has felt compelled to take this action on account of his health, he being unable to stand the severe northern winters.

Just as we go to press we learn that Nick Burgardt's big barn at the home place, together with the corn crib, hog house and contents, and several horses were burned.

Frightful Fate Averted

"I would have been a cripple for life from a terrible cut on my knee cap," writes Frank Disberry, Kelliher, Minn. "without Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which soon cured me." Infallible for wounds, cuts and bruises; it soon cures burns, scalds, old sores, boils, skin eruptions. World's best for piles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

The October Housekeeper

Either by design or chance, the fiction in The Housekeeper for October is written by women and the special articles by men. Among the capital short stories are, "Mrs. Rossiter's Awakening," by Nellie Cravey Yillmore, "The Heart of the Junior Interne," by Mary Minor Lewis, and "The Writer Man," by Jessie Knight Hart. "Some Popular Notions Exploded," takes up common fallacies and is by Warwick James Price. No department devoted to the home is neglected and all the pages are bright and attractively illustrated, some in colors. The Housekeeper Corporation, Minneapolis, Minn. Seventy-five cents a year.

Money Comes in Bunches

to A. A. Christolm, of Treadwell, N. Y., now. His reason is well worth reading: "For a long time I suffered from indigestion, torpid liver, constipation, nervousness and general debility," he writes. "I couldn't sleep, had no appetite, nor ambition, grew weaker every day in spite of all medical treatment. Then used Electric Bitters. Twelve bottles restored all my old-time health and vigor. Now I can attend to business every day. It's a wonderful medicine." Infallible for stomach, liver, kidneys, blood and nerves. 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Books
Pamphlets
Cards
Invitations

Everything printed from

TYPE

At the Times office.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELL

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN M
LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN T
Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISE days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medic detention from business. Patients at a distance treated press. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or brea low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send f sultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter.
to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured with harmful instrument fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins causing nervous de of the nervous system, etc., permane

BLOOD POISON —That terrible its stages, cure Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet a private diseases cured to stay Cured

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a f pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon description of abov effects and cure, sent sealed in plain

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES M

RUPTURE, PILE

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEE

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolute and permanent. Write to or ca the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were affl Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moi
E. C. Miller, Des Moine
John H. Looby, Des Mo

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to postage paid. This book much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimoni

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to Write today—it will pay you.

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINE

TIME TABLE.

Rock Island System

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:34 p. m.
82 ..... 2:35 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:55 a. m.
435 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C

PATENTS

DESIGNS
TRADE-MARKS
AND COPYRIGHTS
OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

McCALL PATTERNS 10 AND 15 NONE HIGHER

McCALL PATTERNS
Celebrated for style, perfect reliability nearly 40 years, every city and town in the Canada, or by mail direct, any other make. Send for

McCALL'S MAGAZINE
More subscribers than any magazine—million a month, best styles, patterns, dress plain sewing, fancy needlework etiquette, good stories, etc. year (worth double), including Subscribe today, or send for

WONDERFUL INDUCEMENTS to Agents. Postal brings particulars and new cash prize offers. Address

THE McCALL CO., 238 to 248 W. 37th

Electric Bitters

Succeed when everything In nervous prostration weaknesses they are the remedy, as thousands have FOR KIDNEY, LIVER STOMACH TROUBLES it is the best medicine over a druggist's co

Just Dust it on
HEALS Wire Cuts
HEALS Collar Chafes
work.
HEALS Old Sores
HEALS From the Start
Leaves No Scar
At Druggists' or Post
Money Back If Not Cured
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO.
(25c. and 50c. Cans).

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 11 — KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1909. — $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

Don't Miss This!

THE M. SKOW PUBLIC SALE

TUESDAY, October 19, 1909

Commencing at 1 o'clock, p. m.

Head of Horses
Head of Cattle
good thrifty Shoats
Machinery, etc.

12 months time at 8 per cent

J. Wilson, Auctioneer
P. M. Griesemer, Clerk

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

A CONVINCER

The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.
We claim for our lumber and building material that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.
May we figure on your next lumber bill?

H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

J. W. WATERMAN

AUGUST WENZ IS DEAD

We just received word this (Thursday) morning that Aug Wenz had passed away at the home of his sister in Britt. Funeral will probably be held in Klemme Friday or Saturday. Obituary next week.

COUNTY SEAT NEWS LETTER

A new boiler was put in at the electric light plant last week.

"A Royal Slave" will be given at the opera house Saturday evening.

Anna Richter very becomingly celebrated her tenth birthday one day last week.

A pleasant reception was given Rev and Mrs. Klaus at the German M. E. parsonage Tuesday evening.

F. L. DeGraff has moved into the house just east of the M. E. church, formerly occupied by Chas. Brown.

F. C. Bush and wife went to Fort Dodge last week where Mrs. Bush entered the sanitarium for treatment.

Miss Blanche Schneider has recovered from her recent illness and has again taken up her position with the Garner Mercantile Co.

Charles Hollatz and Miss Emma Yante were married at the German Lutheran church north east of Garner on Tuesday. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony.

APPLES IN IOWA

In reply to the lurid stories which William E. Curtis has sent from Oregon about the apple industry in that state, alleging that one man has made worthless land worth $500, and more an acre, through planting it to apple trees, the Marshalltown Times-Republican says: "Well, what of it? We just hear from Mills county, Iowa, that a hotel man at Glenwood, who has as a side issue a little orchard of 100 acres near Pacific Junction, will clear from his Johnathans this year about $10,000. This is Iowa. We dare even Hood river to beat it." which goes to show that we can do in Iowa anything that they do anywhere in this country.

Its a Top Notch Doer

Great deeds compel regard. The world crowns its doers. That's why the American people have crowned Dr. King's New Discovery the King of throat and lung remedies. Every atom is a health force. It kills germs, and colds and lagrippe vanish. It heals cough-racked membranes and coughing stops. Sore, inflamed bronchial tubes and lungs are cured and hemorrhages cease. Dr. Geo. More, Black Jack, N. C. writes "it cured me of lung trouble, pronounced hopeless by all doctors." 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

FARM FURROWS

From The Homestead:

There is one thing that I admire about an automobile, and that is, it never gets its tail over the line.

The largest lobster I ever saw had just two legs. I don't like to mention any names so I'll point him out to you some time.

The fellows who have discovered the North Pole haven't yet told us whether it is willow, cedar, osage or re-enforced concrete.

I wonder if there is any way of attaching a gasoline engine to a wheelbarrow. Some way or other there is a lot of wheeling to do around our farm and I am beginning to realize that most of it falls to my lot. If any reader knows of a good gasoline engine that would navigate a wheelbarrow he will confer a favor by informing Farm Furrows where it can be purchased.

We are threatened with the establishment of correspondence schools to give instruction in aerial navigation. High positions are promised to those who succeed in passing all the examinations.

The automobile may in time take the place of the driving horse to a certain extent, but a pair of old plugs is a handy thing to have around occasionally to pull the machine home when the spark plug refuses to make it plug along.

The Bed-Rock of Success

lies in a keen, clear brain, backed by indomitable will and resistless energy. Such power comes from the splendid health that Dr. King's New Life Pills impart. They vitalize every organ and build up brain and body. J. A. Harmon, Lizemore, W. Va., writes: "They are the best pills I ever used." 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

MESERVEY

From the Messenger:

Mother Starnes, southwest of town, is reported quite sick.

Henry Peters left Saturday night to spend a couple of weeks at Steele, N. D.

W. R. Bloom and John Tanner, of Klemme, were visiting at Col. J. J. Wilson's Sunday.

Jesse Hartwig hauled a load of oats from the home place, 6 miles to town, yesterday that weighed 5,910 pounds gross. The oats weighed out 133 bushels and 31 pounds.

Mrs. M. S. Braga was accompanied Sunday by Dr. Agler to the hospital at Minneapolis. Word was received yesterday that she had gone through her operation and was getting along nicely.

Rev. Sands, of Thornton, the preacher heretofore holding services in the M. E. church here Sunday afternoons, has been transferred to a larger church at Armstrong, Iowa. Rev. Findley, at Latimer last year, succeeds him at Thornton and this charge also.

Frightful Fate Averted

"I would have been a cripple for life from a terrible cut on my knee cap," writes Frank Disberry, Kelliher, Minn. "without Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which soon cured me." Infallible for wounds, cuts and bruises; it soon cures burns, scalds, old sores, boils, skin eruptions. World's best for piles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

GOODELL

From the Globe:

Jack Houghton is working in the Savogue restaurant this week.

O. H. Gartin and family spent Sunday at the Johnson home near Kanawha.

Sid Barnhardt and family are living in the I. Markle house, recently vacated by Bert Butterfield, who has moved to the Sheffield farm west of town where he expects to work this winter.

J. E. Savogue and wife left Monday for Pierre, S. D., for a visit with relatives. J. E. will register for a farm in the coming land opening.

Bargains in Standard Pianos

If you know of anyone who desires a very good piano at a bargain price you will be interested in the fact that at the present time the well-known music house of Lyon & Healy, Chicago, have an entire floor filled with slightly used Uprights, all of which are practically as good as new.

In order to facilitate the work of putting in new flooring, which improvement is now being made, Lyon & Healy offer these pianos at greatly reduced prices.

You can have any of these fine instruments at from 20 to 40 per cent less than usual prices. They will be sold either for cash or upon easy monthly payments. All of these pianos are fully guaranteed to be exactly as represented. The opportunity to secure one will undoubtedly be taken advantage of by shrewd buyers in this vicinity.

A letter to Lyon & Healy, Wabash Avenue and Adams Street, will bring full particulars.

Money Comes in Bunches

to A. A. Chisholm, of Treadwell, N. Y., now. His reason is well worth reading: "For a long time I suffered from indigestion, torpid liver, constipation, nervousness and general debility," he writes. "I couldn't sleep, had no appetite, nor ambition, grew weaker every day in spite of all medical treatment. Then used Electric Bitters. Twelve bottles restored all my old-time health and vigor. Now I can attend to business every day. It's a wonderful medicine." Infallible for stomach, liver, kidneys, blood and nerves. 50c at G. A. Pabst &

The First National Bank

The Best Prophet of the Future is the Past

—o—

For more than 15 years the management of the First National Bank has been "First" in ability to care for the needs of its patrons and is pleased today to place at the disposal of its customers the experience gained in that period.....

—o—

CAPITAL $25,000

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

HARD UP FOR A CASE

Cop—Nar then, out of it! Mixed bathing ain't allowed!—Ally Sloper.

When to Send Children to Europe.

Some people wait so long before sending their children to Europe that the little ones are humiliated by others who have already been there. Every self-respecting parent will be careful not to subject his children to this evident injustice; at the same time all unseemly hurry is to be avoided.

Some people argue that as soon as a child can walk well and speak a few necessary French words, he should be placed in a stateroom, next to a private bath, and sent to Paris. Others feel that he must naturally lose much at this age, and that the proper time is between five and six, when—as an American—he has reached his maturity.

Probably the ideal age is about four. At four a child can easily do England, France and Italy, and get home in time for the first night at the opera.—Judge's Library.

Will Seek the South Pole.

A. Henry Savage Landor, the English explorer, who will soon make an attempt to reach the south pole, is of the opinion that Lieut. Shackleton failed through having a cumbersome and unnecessarily large expedition. Mr. Landor's theory is that a small caravan of trusted and hardy men, lightly equipped as in his expeditions through Asia and Africa, is best. Mr. Landor's activity in aeronautic investigations gives color to the rumor that an airship will be used by him in his expedition.

A Steady Thing.

Something had gone amiss with Bobbie and he had sought the comfort of tears. Noticing his wet cheeks, his mother said in a consolatory tone:

"Come here, dear, and let me wipe your eyes."

"'Tain't no use, muvver," returned Bobbie with a little choke; "I's doin' to cry again in a minute!"—Woman's Home Companion.

Against Pretenses.

Away with all those vain pretenses of making ourselves happy within our selves, of feasting on our own thoughts, of being satisfied with the consciousness of well-doing, and of despising all assistance and all supplies from external objects. This is the voice of pride, not of nature.—Hume.

Death from Sting of Poisonous Flies.

Three persons died recently at Marseilles after having been stung by poisonous flies. Several streets are infested by the insects, which are said to have been brought to Marseilles in a cargo of South American wool.—Echo de Paris.

FOOD QUESTION

Settled with Perfect Satisfaction by a Dyspeptic.

It's not an easy matter to satisfy all the members of the family at meal time as every housewife knows.

And when the husband has dyspepsia and can't eat the simplest ordinary food without causing trouble, the food question becomes doubly annoying.

An Illinois woman writes:

"My husband's health was poor, he had no appetite for anything I could get for him, it seemed.

"He was hardly able to work, was taking medicine continually, and as soon as he would feel better would go to work again only to give up in a few weeks. He suffered severely with stomach trouble.

"Tired of everything I had been able to get for him to eat, one day seeing an advertisement about Grape-Nuts, I got some and tried it for breakfast the next morning.

"We all thought it was pretty good although we had no idea of using it regularly. But when my husband came home at night he asked for Grape-Nuts.

"It was the same next day and I had to get it right along, because when we would get to the table the question, 'Have you any Grape-Nuts' was a regular thing. So I began to buy it by the dozen pkgs.

"My husband's health began to improve right along. I sometimes felt offended when I'd make something I thought he would like for a change, and still hear the same old question, 'Have you any Grape-Nuts?'

"He got so well that for the last two years he has hardly lost a day from his work, and we are still using Grape-Nuts." Read the book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

FRANK RUTT FOUND

Had Disappeared From Cairo in July Last.

AT KEOSAUQUA COUNTY HOME

His Wife and Two Friends Find Him There—Regained Normal Mental Attitude on Meeting His Wife. Taken to His Home.

Burlington, Ia., Oct. 11.—A telephone message from Keosauqua, Ia., states that Frank Rutt, the missing man who disappeared from Cairo, near Morning Sun on the 28th day of July last was found in the county home there by G. J. Tomlinson and his legal partner, Mr. Cortes, and Mrs. Rutt, who had gone there on information that a man answering the description of the missing man was there.

Mr. Cortes and the others at once recognized the long lost man and there was an affecting scene between husband and wife. As soon as his eyes lighted on Mrs. Rutt he appeared to regain his normal mental attitude and was eager to return home. Rutt states that in a vague way he remembers of having worked in and about Muscatine, Washington, Ia., in Johnson county and in and about Keosauqua. He was found wandering about Bentonport and was brought to the county house at Keosauqua, where he was recognized from a photograph.

He said he left home because he thought the neighbors were trying to drive him away.

Churchmen in Council.

Marshalltown.—The annual meeting of the Central Association of Congregation al churches, and the last meeting before its amalgamation with the Grinnell association, was held here, and was largely attended. Formal action was taken on the mer ger with the Grinnell association, which was decided on several days ago. Rev. W. J. Minchine of Ames acted as moderator of the meeting; Rev. W| E. Bovey of Traer, scribe and Rev. O. G. Mason, Toledo, registrar.

The Central association which went out of existence has been organized since April 23, 1869. The association now returns to the parent organization which dismissed several of the churches at Fairfax on April 27, 1869, in order that a new association might be formed. The churches that formed the association were Fairfax, Blairstown, Belle Plaine, Toledo, Buckingham (now Traer), Oxford (now Montour), Green Mountain, Marshalltown, Ames, Montant (now Boone), Boonesboro, and New Jefferson. The city of Grinnell is practically the geographical center of the newly combined associations.

Negro Club Women Meet.

Marshalltown. — The executive board of the Iowa Federation of Colored Women's Clubs met in this city to make preparations for the biennial session to be held in Des Moines next May. The work of the board is mainly the appointment of committees to take charge of the different phases incident to the biennial preliminaries including a program committee. Mrs. C. B. Lewis of Davenport is president of the board; Mrs. S. Joe Brown of Des Moines, vice president, and Mrs. Horn of Cedar Rapids, secretary.

Professor Fears Blindness.

Iowa City.—With the awful threat of blindness hanging over him, Prof. Isaac A. Loos, head of the department of economics at the state university, has resigned his work temporarily. A leave of absence has been granted Prof. Loos by the university authorities, and after twenty years of continuous service he will soon leave on an extended vacation for California.

Sentence Mrs. Swearingen.

Sidney.—Mrs. D. B. Swearingen, who was recently convicted of trying to shoot R. S. Williams, has been sentenced to pay a $500 fine or go to jail for three months. She is 70 years old. She claims that Williams had defrauded her out of her home.

Girl Caught Under Car Wheels.

Washington.—Edith Bailey, an academy student, 18 years old, was run over by the "firefly" at the Milwaukee station crossing, and may die from her injuries. Her skull was badly crushed and cut and her left hand mangled.

Mrs. Sweeney Dies in Hospital.

Des Moines.—Mrs. Rose Reese Sweeney, shot by her divorced husband, Dennis Sweeney, at New Saylor, following which he ended his own life near her prostrate form, died at Mercy hospital.

Fined for Using Profane Language.

Mount Ayr.—When Mayor E. B. Marshall of this city stepped from a train here he was promptly arrested and taken before Justice of the Peace J. W. Lineburd, where he was fined $11.85 on a charge of having used profane and indecent language in the postoffice here recently. The charge was filed by Sheriff Henry W. Tirrell during which the mayor is said to have used some rather strong language. Mayor Marshall pleaded guilty to the charge sentence being pronounced immediately afterwards. Sheriff Tirrell declares he will seek to have the mayor removed from office, under the Cosson law, following the mayor's plea of guilty. Sheriff Tirrell is serving his second term and is an announced candidate for re-election. Mayor Marshall was elected a year ago last March. The incident has caused a stir in the city.

S. U. I. Elections.

Iowa City.—C. W. Steels of Altamont, Mo., was elected president of the junior law class in the University of Iowa. The other officers follow: Vice president, W. W. Ream, of Malcolmn; secretary, Jesse J. Fishburn, of Muscatine; treasurer, Byron Goldwaite of Marengo; class delegate, Fred Hamilton of Decatur, Ill.; representative on the 1911 annual board, L. R. Kelly of Waterloo, editor, and Robert Jones of Iowa City, business manager.

The Australian ballot system was a pronounced success in the senior dental class election, which resulted as follows: J. W. Wray of Corydon, Ia., president; R. P. Booker, vice president; E. B. Smith, secretary; William Ruge, treasurer, and W. M. Storey, class representative.

Prizes to Road Builders.

Red Oak.—D. Ward King awarded the prizes in Red Oak's annual dragging contest. Mr. Thomas D. Murphy took Mr. King and a number of interested citizens in his automobile for an investigation of the contesting roads, driving about sevent miles.

The capital prize of $75 in gold was won by Mr. A. L. Taylor, who is a pioneer of the King road drag in this vicinity.

On their return the party was enthusiastic in their praise of many dragged stretches which were not entered for prizes but which are kept like boulevards by the public spirited residents of certain neighborhoods.

Knoxville's Home Coming Week.

Knoxville.—The people of Knoxville stood with outstretched arms to receive its former citizens who gathered to celebrate the annual home coming known as "Old Home Week." With "Uncle Joe" Cannon, speaker of the lower house of congress, as the main attraction a monster farmers' parade and a carnival with its many diversified forms of amusement as the side shows, the largest crowd that ever assembled in Marion county was in Knoxville on the opening day and another big crowd was present on the second day to hear Senator Cummins.

On First Steamboat Trip.

Sioux City.—Particular interest was taken in the great Hudson-Fulton celebration in New York by H. D. Brown, 3601 Jackson street, because of the fact that his great-grandfather, Ellis Colburn, was a member of the party which in 1809 Robert Fulton invited to accompany him on the first trip of the Clermont up the Hudson river. Mr. Brown used to visit his grandfather in central New York in the early 60's and remembers the stories he told of that historical trip. Mr. Colburn at that time was nearly 90 years of age.

New Gift to Wesleyan.

Centerville.—A cash gift of $1,000 for the endowment fund of Wesleyan university, of Mount Pleasant, was made by J. W. Williams, of this city, to President E. A. Schell, of the college. Mr. Williams is one of the most liberal Methodists in the Iowa conference, having been the largest contributor when the $50,000 church was built here three years ago. His son, Carl Williams of Chicago, has recently given $5,000 to the same college of which he is an alumnus.

Inebriate Tried by Jury.

Mason City.—The first instance of a trial by jury of an inebriate known in this judicial district was finished here when the jury brought in a verdict that William Ash, an old resident of this city, once a soldier of the English army, was a fit candidate for Knoxville. It is thought that no trial by jury of a case of this kind ever occurred in the state before.

Mrs. O. H. Brainerd Elected.

Iowa City.—A meeting of the Elder Daughters of the state university resulted in the election of Mrs. O. H. Brainerd as president. Other officers are: Vice president, Mrs. Guy Johnson; recording secretary, Mrs. Will Reed; historian, Mrs. J. W. Sterling; custodian, Mrs. T. C. Carson; treasurer, Mrs. George Koontz.

Facts For Sick Women

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or secured many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham Vegetable Compound.

In almost every community you will find women w have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's V etable Compound. Almost every woman you meet either been benefited by it, or knows some one who has

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files c taining over one million one hundred thousand letters fr women seeking health, in which many openly state o their own signatures that they have regained their health taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has sa many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made clusively from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless

The reason why it is so successful is because it conta ingredients which act directly upon the female organi restoring it to healthy and normal activity.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials s as the following prove the efficiency of this simple reme

Minneapolis, Minn.:—"I was a great sufferer from fem troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condit of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkha Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women, I sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me w nd fully. Within three months I was a perfectly well woman.

"I want this letter made public to show the benefits to derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Mrs. John G. Moldan, 2115 Second St. North, Minneapolis, M

Women who are suffering from those distressing peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these fa or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegeta Compound to restore their health.

Mayer Special Merit SCHOO SHOE

"WEAR LIKE IRON"

They wear best where the wear is hardest. Made of selected leather specially tanned to resist exactly the kind of wear a healthy boy or girl will give them.

Two layers of leather are sewed in at the tip instead of one, to prevent the toes kicking out. The soles are of extreme toughness.

Mayer Special Merit School Shoes are made to fit a child's foot in a comfortable, natural that will prevent foot trouble in later years, yet they stylish and good looking. Only the genuine have Mayer Trade Mark stamped on the sole.

FREE—If you will send us the name of a dealer who does n handle Special Merit School Shoes, we will send you, free, post paid, a handsome picture, size 15x20, of George Washington.

We also make Honorbilt Shoes for men, Leading Lady Shoes, Martha Washington Comfort Shoes, Yerma Cushion Shoes and Work Shoes.

THEY WEAR LIKE IRON

F. MAYER BOOT & SHOE MILWAUKEE WISCONS

SHINGLES TETTER BURNS ECZEMA ERYSIPELAS CHAFING

RESINOL

RING WO HERPE POISON I ITCHIN RASHES ABRASIO

a soothing, healing ointment for all eruptions and irritations of skin and a certain cure for itching piles. 50 cents a jar, druggists, or sent direct on receipt of price.

RESINOL CHEMICAL COMPANY, BALTIMORE, MD.

"RESINOL is the best application I have ever seen for burns."
H. B. Withers, Mineral Wells, Te

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE

FOR PINK EYE DISTEMPER CATARRHAL F AND ALL NOS AND THROAT

Cures the sick and acts as a preventive for others. Liquid the tongue. Safe for brood mares and all others. Best kidney r cents and $1.00 a bottle; $5.00 and $10.00 the dozen. Sold by all and horse goods houses, or sent express paid, by the manu

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists, GOSHEN, I

HAMLIN'S WIZARD OIL GRE FO PA
THE OIL THAT PENETRATES

WRIGLEY WRIGLEY WRIGLEY

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

CIGAR SALESMAN wanted in y to represent ence unnecessary; $110 per month and Write for particulars. Sales Manager, MONARCH CIGAR CO., St.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARM

OD LAUNDRY BAG

TTY GIFT FOUND USEFUL WHEN TRAVELING.

Sheer Handkerchiefs, with Linen nsertion, the Materials That Composed It—To Clean Wall Paper.

n attractive bag to hold handker- s neckties and other small arti- for the laundry, was made by a for a friend, who was going abroad her wedding trip.

o make the bag dainty and at the time serviceable was something problem. Six sheer handkerchiefs a graceful vine, in light blue, as border were picked up at a sale, some fine linen insertion that ed well.

he six handkerchiefs were joined strips of the insertion, one strip run- lengthwise and two across. This two handkerchiefs side by side ach of the three rows.

he strip was doubled over through middle row of handkerchiefs and outer edges overcast together in stitches. The bag was lined with and color of the blue vine and ends were bound in an inch-wide ng of the lawn, which was used as ing. A good quality of blue wash n was used for a draw string.

the center of the upper left hand dkerchief was worked the initials e bride-to-be in a heavy padded gram.

Cleaning Wall Paper.—To bright- all paper that is stained and dirty, a celanser made of equal parts cornstarch, whiting and Fuller's h. Mix these ingredients well and them into a pail. This cleanser ubbed on the walls with a pad, e by covering the end of a mop le with cheesecloth. This pad ld be about six inches long and inches wide, and must be soft.

p it in the powder and rub it on paper, making the strokes only up down. When the surface has been roughly rubbed, wipe with fresh esecloth.

rease spots will frequently disap- before a combination of am- a and Fuller's earth. Make a thin e of the two and spread it over stain. Let it remain until dry and h off.

Bread Baking.

After many years at bread baking," a woman, "I found my bread long ising in winter after working it on bread board, which was usually . I bought a tin one, heated it be- the fire and have never since ed the bread. Instead of using a which quickly chills, I bought a crock, always had it heated on stove, placed my bread in it and ered with a piece of woolen blank- with the result my bread was ready ks much sooner than it was when precaution was not taken."

slate slab, such as is used for g, also makes an excellent bread , and it is often procurable for ng. It can be heated very hot placed under a crock or pan of h to assist slow bread in rising very cold day.

Washing Stockings.

w colored stockings should be ed a half hour in a gallon of cold r containing either a cup of salt tablespoonful of turpentine to set olors. Do not mix brown and ones together when washing . Add a large amount of bluing ack ones and they will not turn gly brown; dry brown ones in the e.

Hot-Water Sponge Cake.

t together three eggs and one sugar. Sift together one cup of (sifted), one teaspoon cream of , one-half teaspoon salt. Beat to the eggs and sugar. Put into a one-half teaspoon soda and fill alf full with boiling water. Mix kly and beat well. Flavor.

Pressed Chicken.

t a small chicken into four parts, in as little water as possible with- burning, and watch constantly. en done very tender take out the , but keep broth boiling. Pick meat from the bones, chop it, and butter, pepper and salt. Take all of broth, then pour over the ed chicken. Then press it, put p with something heavy to hold own. Set on ice and when very slice it, and you have a delicious er or breakfast dish.

Boiled Cider Pie.

o tablespoonfuls of boiled cider, tablespoonfuls of sugar, three spoonfuls of water, two table- uls of flour and one egg. Beat gether and bake in a deep plate an upper and an under crust.

Cheap Fruit Cake.

o eggs, two cups sugar, one cup ses, one-half cup butter, one cup one teaspoon soda, five cups one cup of raisins, currants and to taste. Will make two round . Frost top. Very nice.

DES MOINES WINS

Interstate Commerce Commission Decides Railroad Case.

LOW RATES GO INTO EFFECT

Railroads Ordered to Put Them in Froce at Once—Affects Through Shipments—Appeal May Be Taken.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 11.—Chairman Martin A. Knapp announced in the case of the suit brought by the Greater Des Moines committee against the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad and other lines, that the commission denied a petition of the railroad for a rehearing and ordered the reduction of rates from the Atlantic seaboard to Des Moines to go into effect.

The shippers of Des Moines contended that the freight rates from the seaboard to Des Moines were unreasonable and suit was brought before the interstate commerce commission for a reduction.

The commission ordered a reduction in class rates of 8 to 10 cents a hundred-weight. The railroads resorted to the courts to restrain the enforcement of the order and succeeded in obtaining an extension of time.

A petition asking for a rehearing was denied.

IOWAN KILLED IN MISSOURI

W. M. Cordray, of Oskaloosa, Shot in the Head—Quarrel Over His Daughter.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 11.—With a bullet wound over his right ear, William M. Cordray, 42 years old, a restaurant keeper of Oskaloosa, Ia., went to the Railroad Y. M. C. A. in Argentine. Supporting him was Allen Bean, who has been working for Cordray as a cook in the restaurant at Oskaloosa. Bean told a story of being awakened in a box car in the Atchison & Santa Fe railway yards and hearing Cordray groaning. He said he believed someone had shot Cordray and ran away. Dr. D. C. Clapper, surgeon for the railway company, could not remove the bullet. He said the injury probably would be fatal. Cordray is in the Y. M. C. A. Emergency hispital in Argentine. Bean is being held by the Argentine police pending an investigation. Cordray told an officer that there has been trouble between him and Bean, over Cordray's 16-year-old daughter.

Iowan Is Honored.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Second and third class postmasters in convention here elected the following officers: President, A. K. Hoag, Orchard Park; first vice president, W. O. Beck, Iowa; second vice president, F. W. Kritz, Indiana; third vice president, J. F. Costell, South Dakota; secretary, C. C. Young, Illinois; treasurer, J. E. Cahill, Missouri.

Bolt Burns Fairfax Barn.

Cedar Rapids, Oct. 11.—During a thunderstorm, the new barn of David McNee, two miles northwest of Fairfax, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground with the large double corn crib adjoining. The barn contained hay, grain, harness, etc., and the loss will be about $3,000.

Nebraska Farmer Murdered.

Nelight, Neb., Oct. 11—A. C. Rakow, who lived in Willow township, fourteen miles northeast of Neligh, was found dead in his pasture with a bullet hole in his head. He is believed to have been murdered. A neighbor with whom he had trouble is suspected.

Lightning Destroys Farm Home.

Boone, Ia., Oct. 11—A terrific thunderstorm raged during the night. Lightning struck a $13,000 house in process of construction on the farm of George Wahl, two miles north of the city. It was completely destroyed.

Fifty Men Hurt.

Ballston, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Fifty workmen bound from Ballston to Schenectady were injured, many of them badly, in a collision between trolley cars on the Schenectady railway here.

Kansas Drought Broken.

Hutchinson, Kas., Oct. 11.—A prolonged drought was broken here by a fall of an inch and a quarter of rain. The rainfall was general throughout southwestern Kansas.

Aged Ex-Mayor Is Dead.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11.—James S. McCrady, ex-mayor of Indianapolis, and said to have been the oldest may or in the United States, died here at the age of 93.

FREED AT LAST

From the Awful Tortures of Kidney Disease.

Mrs. Rachel Ivie, Henrietta, Texas, says: "I would be ungrateful if I did not tell what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for me. Fifteen years kidney trouble clung to me, my existence was one of misery and for two whole years I was unable to go out of the house. My back ached all the time and I was utterly weak, unable at times to walk without assistance. The kidney secretions were very irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to good health, and I am able to do as much work as the average woman, though nearly eighty years old."

Remember the name—Doan's. Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

TAKE CARE OF GOOD HEALTH

Mistake Most People Make Is In Waiting for Bad to Come and Then Coddling It.

If we would take as good care of our good health as we do of our bad health we would have more of the former and less of the latter. We set our good health down in a draft and let it get its feet wet; we infringe on its sleep time and gorge it with unsuitable food at irregular hours. We load it with nerve-racking cares and duties, and reply to its frantic appeals for rest with, "You haven't time." We squeeze it with clothing; we distract its ears with noise and its lungs with bad air. But we put our bad health in a quiet room, on a soft couch. We robe it in a comfortable gown; we give it pure air at stated intervals; we put ice on its head and hot water at its feet; we feed it with food convenient for it. We take away all care and responsibility; we give it a soothing draught to rest it; and we pay a doctor two dollars to come and leave it a scrap of paper and say that it will better to-morrow. One might think we preferred bad health to good health. —From an article in Good Health.

TOTAL LOSS OF HAIR.

Seemed Imminent—Scalp Was Very Scaly and Hair Came Out by Handfuls—Scalp Now Clear and

New Hair Grown by Cuticura.

"About two years ago I was troubled with my head being scaly. Shortly after that I had an attack of typhoid fever and I was out of the hospital possibly two months when I first noticed the loss of hair, my scalp being still scaly. I started to use dandruff cures to no effect whatever. I had actually lost hope of saving any hair at all. I could brush it off my coat by the handful. I was afraid to comb it. But after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and nearly a box of Cuticura Ointment, the change was surprising. My scalp is now clear and healthy as could be and my hair thicker than ever, whereas I had my mind made up to be bald. W. F. Steese, 5812 Broad St., Pittsburg, Penn., May 7 and 21, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

Appropriate.

First Milliner—You have designed the north pole hat?

Second Milliner—Yes, it will be a matter of dispute between the purchaser and her husband.

The new RUSS BLUE makes clothes whiter than snow. Delights the laundress. All grocers sell it.

Young man, beware of the peach who is the apple of your eye. She may prove to be a lemon.

Suicide!

A cheat dealer tried to sell imitation Wrigley Spearmint to a pugilist!

The only way to get something for nothing is to start a fight about it.

WE SELL GUNS AND TRAPS CHEAP N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

Some people assume that hearing is just as good as seeing.

Do All Your Cleaning With this One Cleanser

You don't have to go to all the bother and expense of getting soap, soap-powder, scouring-brick and metal-polish to do your different kinds of cleaning any more. You can now do all your cleaning with one, handy, all-'round cleanser — Old Dutch Cleanser. It and saves you labor, time and money in keeping your house spic-and-span from cellar to attic.

Cleans, Scrubs, Scours, Polishes

Avoid Caustic and Acids

Old Dutch Cleanser cleans mechanically, not chemically. That is why it never roughens or reddens your hands like caustic and acid cleaners.

Large Sifting-Top Cans, 10c

If your dealer doesn't keep it, send us his name and 10c in stamps (the regular price), and we'll send you a full-size can. Write for our free booklet, "Hints for Housewives."

Cudahy—Maker—Omaha

When In Town

Get a load of Milwaukee Solvay Coke. Thousands of farmers burn it exclusively, knowing it is the one absolutely reliable domestic fuel—they take home a load every time they go to town until their bins are filled.

Hard coal is expensive—soft coal wastes 50% in soot, smoke and unburned ashes.

BUY MILWAUKEE Solvay Coke

"The Fuel Without a Fault"

A ton equals two cords of hard wood—produces more heat than a ton of hard coal and costs less. There are no ashes to sift—it gives complete combustion. Warms the house thoroughly while you would wait for hard coal to get started.

"We heat a fourteen room house with two or three buckets a day," writes a user last winter.

2,000 dealers in the Northwest sell Milwaukee Solvay Coke—all sizes—ask your dealer, and write for interesting booklet of coke information to

PICKANDS, BROWN & COMPANY
Colby-Abbot Building - - Milwaukee, Wisconsin

Libby's Food Products

RECEIVED THE ONLY

GRAND PRIZE

(HIGHEST AWARDS)

At the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition

AGAINST ALL COMPETITORS ON

PICKLES—OLIVES—CONDIMENTS—CALIFORNIA ASPARAGUS—PRESERVES—JELLIES—SALAD DRESSING—CONDENSED MILK—EVAPORATED MILK—CALIFORNIA FRUITS

CANNED MEATS

CORNED BEEF—SLICED DRIED BEEF—OX TONGUE—VEAL LOAF—HAM LOAF—VIENNA SAUSAGE

WHERE QUALITY COUNTS WE LEAD

Your Grocer Has Them—Insist on Getting Libby's

LIBBY, McNEILL & LIBBY

When You Think

Of the pain which many women experience with every month it makes the gentleness and kindness always associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a naturcl necessity there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well, and gives them freedom from pain. It establishes regularity, subdues inflammation, heals ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 31 stamps.

You Can Shave Yourself With

Gillette

NO STROPPING NO HONING
KNOWN THE WORLD OVER

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT THE FLAVOR LASTS

Des Moines Directory

Bale Ties For Hay and Straw
Des Moines Bale Tie Co., 8th and Vine Sts., Des Moines, Iowa

FURS TO ORDER AND REPAIRED
25 to 35 per cent discount
Seal Skin and all other furs made over to 1910 season's style.
All Work Strictly Guaranteed
S. B. SEFREN, 510 Locust St., Des Moines, Ia.
Expert Furrier, Designer, Cutter and Fitter.

GROCERIES & HARDWARE

COLD WEATHER

Is SURE to be here soon. Are you prepared for it? Perhaps you will need a new stove before winter sets in. If so you will miss it if you don't call and inspect our line of

HEATERS AND RANGES

We have just received a new shipment and will be glad to show them to you. Call early while the assortment is complete. See the Summit Range

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

ONE PRICE CASH STORE

KLEMME, IOWA

DRUGS

A full line of patents of every manufacture. Jewelery, Wall Paper, Paints and Oils, School Supplies and Stationery.

TOILET ARTICLES

Face Powder, Talcum Powder, Sachet Powder, Face Creams, Toilet Waters, Hand Lotions.

MUSICAL GOODS

String and Brass Instruments, Edison Phonographs and Supplies. We are selling Phonographs on small weekly payments and going one better than the Chicago price by saving you the freight.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile. both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

See us when you want to buy TILE.

Northern Lumber Company

N. L. PALMER, AGENT

KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

"Printing That Pleases"

The TIMES Job Department

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

How About YOU?

It may be rather early to be speaking of New Year's resolutions, but we have just about made up our mind on one "Resolve" that the Times is going to make on the first of next January. For some reason unknown to us, a man who is good pay at home does not feel kindly towards paying a subscription account after he has moved out of the county. Since coming to Klemme, a little less than six months ago, we have taken off our single or foreign list several names, some being back two or three years and some eight and even ten years. In all, these would aggregate a sum of over $200.00, which would come in mighty handy at the present writing to yours truly. These accounts we bought with the paper, so we are the losers. And again, there are some now on our list who are a year or so in arrears and it don't seem to bother them much either. In consequence of this state of affairs, we are very seriously contemplating putting our foreign —or outside the county—list on a cash-in-advance basis, or in other words stopping the paper when the time for which it is paid has expired. This money has been honestly earned. Why not pay up? We are not begging; we are not in the begging business. We are asking only for what RIGHTFULLY belongs to us.

Peary is having an awful time trying to prove to the public that Dr. Cook did not reach the North Pole and in a very flimsy manner tries to discredit all of Cook's statements. This kind of a deal does not go with the American people who believe in a square deal and Peary is only wasting his breath, and at the same time he is lowering himself in the estimation of a majority of the people who think. There was glory enough in the achievements of these two men for both of them, and the petty jealousy of one is only detracting from his own glory and honor.

Honors Easy.

People who were present smiled at the little passage of arms which took place between two young ladies at a luncheon recently. One of them, a bride, shaking hands in her characteristically cordial way, said to the other:

"I'm so glad to meet you! You have afforded me so very much amusement just 'ately."

"Amusement?" said the other.

"Oh, yes," went on the bride. "I've been through my husband's desk, and I've read all his old love letters. I found several very affectionate letters from you, and I enjoyed reading them, really, ever so much."

"I'm so glad you enjoyed them," purred the other. "But do come and see me very soon. Here is my card. I have the answers to all those letters and you might like to read them as well. Mr. X——'s letters are so much more affectionate than those I wrote to him. I know you'll enjoy reading them ever so much more than you did mine."

MILLINERY

Latest and most approved styles

We are showing the nicest line of Stylish Millinery ever shown in our town and we want every lady in this vicinity to call and see our line.

Bear-Skin Goods

Children's Bear-skin Tams, Hoods and Caps at about half price and a large assortment to select from.

Women's and Children's Wearing Apparel

An opportunity to make your selections from a complete variety of styles such as are carried only in the large cities. As a representative of Chas. A. Stevens & Bros., Chicago, I am prepared to show you samples representing a complete stock of High-Grade Ready-to-wear for Women, Misses and Children at Exceptionally Low Prices and Satisfaction Guaranteed. Call and look over our beautiful samples.

Cloaks, Suits, Skirts, Waists, Furs, etc.,

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

THRESHING COAL

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Sootless and Washed Egg. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

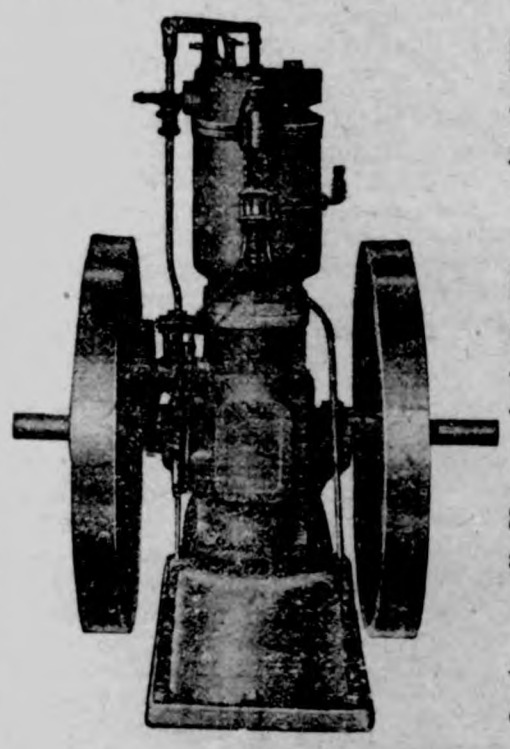
H. C. LAU

Thoroughbred Duroc Jersey Boars and Gilts For Sale

Two Strains. Sired by I Great Notcher and da Ohio Chief; and others Sure Money, dams Iow Banker. This stock is fi class in every respect.

——Call on or address——

J. T. GRIGGS. Goodell, Iow



Save work, worry, money by using a

STOVER GASOLINE ENGINE

Made right—sold right Send for an illustrated catalog of our

ENGINES

wind mills and feed grinders.

Sandwich Mfg. Co.

Mason City, Iowa General Agent

PUBLIC SALE

The Sale Bill season is with us once more. Don't forget the Times Printery when you order those bills

"Lanpher Sheep Lined Coats"

A NEW DUCK COAT

For the MAN or BOY Who WORKS

Made full across the shoulders—It will not bind.
Made roomy in the arm-hole—It will not pinch.
All buttons sewed on—not rivited .....
You will feel like thanking me if I sell you this splendid coat. It will fit. Price $1.00 TO $4.00

The best way to PROTECT YOUR FAMILY from sickness during the winter months is to provide each member with suitable

UNDERWEAR! We have It

For Children all ages
For Men and Women

Our 50c wool fleeced garment for men is unusually good.
Our seal-lined union suits for women and children are splendid.
Buy now—WINTER is coming!

ARTHUR WELLEMEYER

About People You Know

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	45 to 50c
Oats	34 to 35c
Wheat	80 to 90
Barley	40 to 45c
Hay	4 00 to 6.00
Hogs	6.25 to 6.75
Cattle	3.00 to 6.00

Fresh fruits at Kluckhohn's.

Wow! Snow! Cold! Winter underwear, etc.

Eyes tested. Glasses fitted. Dr. W. F. Missman.

The First National Bank has a change of ad this week.

Sale Bills—The big black kind that attract attention—At the Times Printery.

Rev. and Mrs. Lillie are the happy parents of a bouncing baby girl which arrived to bless their home last week Friday.—Forest City Summit.

Notwithstanding the cold and blustery weather, the Frank Ufken sale on Tuesday was quite well attended and things brought a very satisfactory price.

Henry Yahnke, who was injured on July 25th, 1909, was insured in the Woodmen Accident Association and on October 5th, 1909, he received a check from the company covering the full amount called for in his policy for a four weeks' total disability and two weeks partial disability. He is well pleased with his treatment at the Company's hands.

Lew Lewis, Wm. Lau, Theo. Henschen and Billie Greimann were at the Lake fishing last Friday and Saturday, and they brought home a beautiful lot of fish. They were out in the storm Friday night and Lew and Wm. got a good soaking, but that kind of treatment don't bother these old anglers in the least. They are getting the reputation of being the champion fishermen of the Northwest

Being obliged to take it for rent I will sell it out cheap;
Dr. Hess Stock Food.
Dr. Hess Poultry Panacea.
Dr. Hess Instant Louse Killer.
Dr. Hess Hog Worm Powder.
To be had at G. F. Schuler's Garner, Iowa.

Read the new State Savings bank ad.

George Ell, of Belmond, was in Klemme Monday.

Want to buy a few Hubbard squashes. A. C. Flint.

The finest line of candies in town at Kluckhohn's. 45tf

Don't neglect to cast your optics over the new ad of State Savings Bank.

Mrs. Henry Baack, of Woden, arrived here Tuesday for a visit at the home of Mrs Wm. Baack.

This cold snap has made a booming business for the coal dealers, and tons upon tons have been hauled from the Klemme market this week.

Mrs. E. J. Studer went to Klemme last Saturday for a visit with her daughter Flora who is teaching school at that place.—Forest City Summit.

Notice the new ad of Mrs. John Josten this week. She has something to say therein concerning Ladies' Tailor-made garments which should interest the ladies.

Sheriff Suurballe has recovered the team which was recently stolen from the streets of Britt but the thieves had made their getaway, leaving the team in the country near Emery.

J. N. Day and wife came down from Buffalo Center the first of the week for a visit with relatives. John returned home yesterday and Mrs. Day will visit here the rest of the week.

Our nice summer weather underwent an awful sudden change last Friday night and Saturday while on Sunday and Monday overcoats were in evidence and a bright fire was a most comfortable affair.

On last Monday, Henry Medaus sold his fine 160 acre farm, six miles west of town, to W. C Schmidt, the consideration being $75 per acre. Mr. Medaus expects to move into his residence in the west part of town some time this fall.

Dr. George, of Dows, was here Tuesday between trains, in consultation with Dr. Zinn on the Chas. Schroeder case. We are sorry to report that Charley's condition remains very serious, and it has been impossible to remove him to his home at Garner.

Read Arthur Wellemeyer's new ad in this issue.

Henry Yahnke lost a valuable spring colt one day last week.

If you want to see some fine samples of good old Iowa corn, just take a glance at those in the window of the butcher shop and ask Billie to tell you all about it.

Mrs. G. H. Wessel and Miss Bertha Bettien have been at Kirksville, Mo, the past two weeks taking treatment at the Osteopath Infirmary. Their many friends hope that they may derive much benefit from the treatment.

The following is a report of School District No. 1, Twin Lake township, for month ending October 1, 1909: No. enrolled 24. The following pupils received certificates for perfect attendance: Reginald Houghton, Rose Etchen, Clara Swalve, Joseph Houghton, John Etchen, Rettie Thrun, Willie Thrun, Lena Swalve, Gilbert Thrun, J. D. G. Houghton, Teacher.

The following from the Lehigh Valley Argus concerning a former Klemme young man will be of interest to our readers: "Rev. H. C. Nissen returned Tuesday from Estherville where he went last week to attend the Northwest Iowa Conference. Rev. Nissen of this place and Rev. W. F. McDonald of Sioux City, were the only pastors out of 175 in the conference that were returned for their sixth year, which shows the popularity of these two pastors in the community where they have labored. The people of Lehigh are well pleased that Rev. Nissen has been returned for another year."

Our reporter has a good one on a certain Klemme young man. We promised not to give away his name, but we can tell the story. The young man went to our livery barn a few days ago for a rig to take his best girl for a ride. In explaining the peculiarities of the horse to the young man, our accommodating liveryman told him the horse was perfectly safe except when the rein got under its tail and for the young man to be careful. While they were out driving a storm came up and our young hero asked the young lady to kindly hold her parasol over the horse as it might run away and smash things up if the 'rain' got under its tail.

German M. E. Church Items

Mrs. Richter, of Garner, was a visitor at the E. H. Lenz home last week.

John Tanner has been serving as a juryman the last few weeks but there was not enough doing to satisfy John.

Wm. Gast, Sr., came up from Steamboat Rock last week to spend a few weeks on the old homestead and visit with his children.

H. J. Stille accidently stepped on a rusty nail last Saturday which soon caused him considerable pain and Dr. Zinn was called to dress the wound.

Frank Gruetzmacher, John Terhufen and Chas Busch went to Dakota Monday to register, with the bright prospect of drawing a fine quarter of land later on.

The temperance program which was to be given in the Germantown church last Sunday evening turned out "wet," not by liquor but a heavy rain. It will probably be given October 24th.

Ye scribe was in Britt last Friday to see August Wenz. We found him in bed, too weak to sit up, but otherwise looking better than we had expected to find him. His physician told us that his general condition is improving, but it is too slow to suit August.

As was mentioned in this paper last week, the writer, in company with others, attended the Hancock County Sunday School convention at Corwith. The attendance from the various townships was good, but the people of Corwith turned out poorly. The program consisted largely in round table discussions, which were practical and interesting. How poorly many of our Sunday Schools are managed and mostly so because so few ever attend a convention where new ideas and methods are exchanged and the worker is encouraged and inspired. Our aim is a cradle roll, home department, organized classes, teachers' training class and an I. B. R. D. in every school in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tanner are the proud parents of a baby girl, born Friday morning, Oct. 8th, 1909.

Col. J. J. Wilson
MESERVEY, IOWA
LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEER
Dates made at either bank in Klemme, Iowa. Terms reasonable.

DOCTORS
GEO. ZINN EDGAR ZINN
Office: State Savings Bank
Phone No. 19
KLEMME - - IOWA

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Phone No. 11. Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to calls day or night.
Eyes tested. Glasses fitted.

W. G. AMBOEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician.
Garner : : Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

W. R. BLOOM
Buyer and Shipper of
Grain and Live Stock
Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.
Stock wanted 6 days in the week

Pictures
See me when you want a Photograph
All kinds—inside or outdoor views. I make a specialty of photo postal cards, 75 cents a dozen. Good work at reasonable prices.
JOE MILLER, KLEMME IOWA

JOHN GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Headquarters for part of Heinz' Fifty-Seven Varieties, and Pickling Vinegar.
Try these goods; they are fine.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in

RESTAURANT
Nicest Line of Candies in Town.
Fresh home made Bakery goods every day.
The best place in town to get a square meal for 25c.
Orangeade, Soft Drinks and Ice Cream.
A. Kirkwood & Son

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor

SPECIAL

For a Short Time Only

Rock Island Lines

will sell one-way Colonist Tickets

To California

AND

Pacific Northwest Points

DAILY

September 15th to October 15th

Only $33	from	Chicago
32	"	Peoria
32	"	St. Louis
25	"	Kansas City
25	"	St. Joseph
25	"	Omaha
32	"	Memphis

to California, with similar low fares to points in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Arizona and Old Mexico.

Travel Rock Island way, in Rock Island clean, comfortable, easy-riding, vestibuled tourist cars.

Let me tell you how delightfully and economically the trip can be made.

G. TRENHAILE, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA

SUMMARY OF A WEEK'S EVENTS

Latest News of Interest Boiled Down for the Busy Man.

TOUR OF THE PRESIDENT.

President Taft was given a hearty welcome on his arrival at San Francisco and the program for his entertainment was carried out without a hitch.

President Taft, at Seattle exposition, in his speech said he would ask congress to pass a ship subsidy law.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. E. E. Pitts of Laurens, S. C., is said to have been cured recently of pellagra in an advanced stage.

Miss Ruth Bryan has announced herself as a candidate for congress from a Colorado district.

Attorney General Wickersham and Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor arrived in Washington after their vacations.

Richard U. Sherman, son of Vice-President Sherman, and Miss Eleanor Mills, a society belle of Utica, N. Y., were married at that city.

Postmaster General Hitchcock is at Flagstaff, Ariz., for a bear hunt. He will join the Taft party at Yuma.

Prof. Abbott Lawrence Lowell was inaugurated as president of Harvard university.

GENERAL NOTES.

Sensational developments are expected in the jury-tampering scandal at Chicago. State's Attorney Wayman has discovered much new evidence and drafts of more indictments are being prepared and the present grand jury is expected to return them.

Action has been begun at Washington before the interstate commerce commission by the Federal Sugar Refining Company of New York against several eastern railroads in which allegations of unjust and unreasonable charges for transportation of sugar are made.

The Spanish ambassador to France has again formally assured Foreign Minister Pichon that Spain has no intention of departing from her original program regarding Morocco as communicated to the powers.

The Upper Mississippi River Improvement association in session at Winona, Minn., has adopted a resolution requesting congress to appropriate $20,000,000 for a six-foot channel in the Mississippi river from Minneapolis to St. Louis.

The Mayor of Marshalltown, Ia., and six members of the police force and sheriff's office have been indicted by a federal grand jury for placing an Indian service officer in jail and keeping him there for more than 24 hours.

The old-fashioned lord mayor's show, which for many centuries has been one of the most picturesque functions to be witnessed in England, will be abandoned this year by the new lord mayor-elect, Sir John Knill.

"King's Mountain day," the anniversary of the victory over the British in 1780 at King's Mountain, N. C., was celebrated in South Carolina and Tennessee.

Wilbur Wright made the most spectacular flight in his aeroplane at New York that the world has ever witnessed. He circled the air 100 feet over New York harbor in an 18-mile wind.

Costly war in Morocco is rapidly precipitating a crisis in Spain, which may bring about the overthrow of King Alfonso. Spanish affairs are causing much uneasiness among the other powers.

Aviator Wilbur Wright announces he will hereafter direct his efforts to the commercial exploitation of his machines and will make no more public flights.

Capt. Samuel C. Lemly, formerly judge advocate general of the navy, who became prominent in connection with the famous Schley court of inquiry, died at St. Elizabeth's hospital in Washington.

As each graduating class at West Point is about eighty men short of the number of officers needed by the army, an effort will be made by President Taft to persuade congress to increase the number of cadets to be appointed.

William R. Hearst has accepted the nomination for the New York mayoralty, tendered him by a mass meeting at Cooper Union, called by his admirers.

St. Charles, Mo., the first city to be incorporated in Missouri, began a week's celebration of its hundredth birthday with parades, races and other entertainments.

The annual convention of the Polish National alliance opened in Milwaukee, Wis., with about 450 delegates present.

A fine granite monument erected by the federal government and the state of West Virginia was unveiled at Point Pleasant, W. Va., to commemorate the defeat of the allied Indians there on October 10, 1774, at the close of Lord Dunmore's war.

The fourteenth annual state conference of charities and corrections was held in Peoria, Ill., and was addressed by many experts in philanthropic service.

Seventeen men were killed and ten severely injured in a collision between freight and work trains on the Santa Fe road near Topeka. Nearly all the victims were Mexican laborers.

Naphtali Herz Imber, the Hebrew poet who wrote "Hatikvah," the Zionist national hymn, will probably be buried at New York in a grave which he purchased several years ago, giving in exchange a 14-line poem in classic Hebrew.

Four persons perished in a Nashville (Tenn.) fire which destroyed a brick residence. Two negroes were arrested on suspicion of having fired the structure.

Pittsburg champion National baseball team defeated Detroit, winners of American league pennant, in the first game of the world championship series.

J. C. Mabray and 89 others were indicted by the grand jury at Omaha on the charge of promoting fake sporting events.

Dr. Frederick A. Cook had to be escorted from the Coliseum at Chicago by the police, so great was the enthusiasm of the audience to pay him homage.

Dr. Cronk, medical inspector of New Brunswick, N. J., urges the board of education to provide every public school pupil with a tooth brush, as a health measure.

Mary Keegan, who was a domestic for 30 years on the family of Thomas B. Kerr of New York, has been rewarded by a legacy of $10,000 in Mr. Kerr's will.

A woman confederate is supposed to have aided Oscar Dragege, alleged embezzler of New York hospital funds, to escape from Denver jail.

Francis Joseph, brother of Prince Miguel of Braganza, and Prince Alexander Georgievitch Romanowski, duke of Leuchtenberg, a protege of the czar, are said to be rival suitors for the hand of Marjorie Gould, daughter of George Gould of New York.

Mrs. F. A. Haight of Chicago fell in front of a New York subway train and escaped death by a narrow margin. She was taken to a hospital slightly injured.

Because John F. George, vice-president of the Harrington Leather Company at Elizabeth, N. J., would not resign when the United States Leather Company bought the plant, but relied on his contract of employment, he was put to work as an ordinary laborer. He continues to draw $10,000 a year salary.

The birthday of the late John H. Reagan, who was postmaster general of the confederacy and who was the last member of the cabinet to die, was celebrated in Texas.

A Hudson-Fulton fete was held every night in midocean on the steamer President Grant on the voyage to New York.

The reproduction of Henry Hudson's exploring vessel Half Moon, which took a central part in the Hudson-Fulton celebration, will be permanently placed in a lake in Prospect park, Brooklyn.

A monument to the Rhode Island troops who fell in the civil war at Newbern, N. C., was dedicated there, Gov. Pothier and other Rhode Island officials taking part.

A flock of over 4,500 sheep and lambs from Colorado is under quarantine at the Kansas City stockyards by order of Inspector H. B. Adair, who declares that the animals are afflicted with the "lip and leg" disease.

Lieut. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, retired, does not believe enforced idleness is causing the high death rate among retired army officers, according to a statement he made at Los Angeles.

The climax of the north pole controversy is expected within a week when the Peary Arctic club will make public Peary's statement, which he declares will prove that he was the only white man to reach the pole.

More than three billion fishes and fish eggs were distributed by the bureau of fisheries of the department of commerce and labor in the last year.

Pittsburg tendered Dr. Frederick A. Cook such a warm ovation that the northern explorer was visibly affected. He announces that the facts in the pole controversy will be given to the public soon, and everything settled within six months.

GEN. BUSSEY IS 76

He Celebrated Birthday Anniversary at Daughter's Home.

THRONG HEADED BY GOVERNOR

Venerable Pioneer Statesman and Civil War Commander Honored by Gentry of Great State of Iowa.

Des Moines, Oct. 9.—Gen. Cyrus Bussey, venerable pioneer statesman and commander during the civil war, received a grand compliment at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Isaac L. Hillis, when the gentry of the great state of Iowa assembled to do him honor. The throng was led by Governor Carroll, an old time friend of the general in their former Davis county home village of Bloomfield. The prominent guests were numerous.

Not the least of the pleasing tributes to the general was the attendance enmasse of the Davis County Social club, numbering Congressman J. A. T. Hull, John Hamilton, General Weaver and many others of note.

Mrs. Hillis, who is devoted to her father, was radiant with pleasure and the spirit of hospitality shone joyously throughout her fine home on Sixth avenue. She was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. G. W. Miller, Mrs. O. B. Frye, Mrs. E. D. Hadley, Mrs. Harry Blackburn, Mrs. J. W. Hillis and Mrs. Frank Chafe.

The parlors were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, typifying that the general had reached the autumn of his life, and American flags, under which he was always glad to serve. The luncheon of two courses was served on a table fairly banked with smilax decorations. In the center was a heap of autumn fruit, while near it was an immense birthday cake. In the cake were 100 candles, seventy-six to signify the years which the general had already passed and the other twenty-four to show the years which he expects to pass in the future.

Railways Make Reports.

Not a person was killed on the Iowa lines of the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad during the year ending June 30, 1909, according to the annual report of the company filed with the railroad commission. The total number of persons injured amounted to only fifty-two, six of whom were passengers. The reports of the Iowa Central shows there were seven persons killed and 55 injured on its lines in Iowa during the year. Of the injured only eight were passengers. None of those killed were passengers.

The financial report of the Iowa Central shows that its total revenues from operating during the year were $2,088,455.69, while the operating expenses for the same period amounted to $1,814,384.54. For the M. & St. L. the operating revenues were shown to be $1,086,025.82 and the operating expenses were $78,699.54.

Receive Valuable Data.

B. F. Tillinghast, veteran editor of the Davenport Democrat, has sent to Curator Harlan of the historical collection, complete data on the part played by Iowa in sending aid to the starving Russians in 1901. The data includes letters from James G. Blaine, Senator W. B. Allison, Bishops Lenihan, Perry and Cosgrove, Clara Barton, Jeremiah M. Rusk, H. C. Wheeler, Dr. J. B. Hubbell, Congressman Rumple and Col. L. M. Martin. It also tells how the Iowa supplies were distributed in Russia, and shows how thoroughly the work of collecting the supplies was done.

Want River Straightened.

A petition has been received by the state conservation commission from residents of Fort Dodge asking that the Des Moines river be straightened where it flows through Palo Alto county. It is claimed that by straightening the river the land will be made to drain itself, thus saving the expense of constructing an extensive drainage system in the county.

Mrs. Henry Back From Vacation.

Mrs. Matilda Henry, for a number of years head matron of the Home for the Aged, recently returned from a vacation of ten months in California. Mrs. Henry has been made matron emeritus of the home since her return and will continue to make her home at this institution for the aged in Des Moines.

State Library's Books.

State Librarian Brigham has placed orders for new books for the state library costing about $900. They include a large collection of current literature and several works of a more permanent nature, which are purchased for reference purposes only.

State Finances in Good Shape.

The quarterly report of the state finances for the quarter ending September 30 show that they are in good condition. The amount which the treasurer should have is $1,150,963.24, divided as follows: General revenues, $386,656.26; Agriculture college bonds, $685,950; Agriculture college endowment fund, cash, $92,797; Agriculture college, special tax, $40,692.42; State university, special tax, $29,133.36; Agriculture college interest, $222.50; State Normal school, special tax, $4,336; surveying lake bed, $3,014.63; permanent school fund, $100.

The other side of the ledger shows the total cash in the state treasury at the end of the quarter to be $5,588.72; cash in banks, $459,424.52; Agriculture college bonds, $685,950.

The state of Iowa is the only state in the union that has no bond issue.

Harlan Ready for Iowa Figurehead.

The figurehead of the battleship Iowa will be added to the collection in the historical department, according to advices received by Curator Harlan. The figurehead will be placed in what is known as the naval collection. This includes among late gifts the name plate of the battleship Oquindo, the Spanish battleship which the Iowa engaged during the memorable battle Admiral Sampson had with Admiral Cervera off the Santiago harbor. The plate was presented to the collection by Admiral Evans, who commanded the Iowa in that battle.

Corporations Must Pay.

Over 3,000 corporations in Iowa have thus far become liable to the penalty of $6 for failing to file their annual report by the first of September. Some of them are remitting their penalties to the secretary of state, but the vast majority of them have not done so. Under the new law the penalty is two dollars for the first month, four dollars for the second, and increasing two dollars each month. Those who file before November 1 will have only $6 to pay. After November 1 they will have to pay $8 and so on as long as they fail to report.

Board Has Full Power.

Business men declare that it rests with the board of railroad commissioners of the state whether or not Des Moines is given facilities to care for the freight that pours in and out of it each day. It is within the jurisdiction of the board to say whether or not the railroads entering the city shall enlarge their freight depots and employ enough men to straighten out the congestion that has handicapped the business of the jobbers and manufacturers of the city for more than a month.

Club to Honor Its Dead.

The Grant club will hold a commemorative service for those of its members who have died the past year on October 21. Biographies of the deceased members will be read Addresses will be given by Richard R. Rollins, H. B. Wyman, Simon Casady and J. G. Olmsted. The members who have died are: W. H. Quick, G. B. Pray, R. C. Bartlett, T. C. Hurley, L. M. Byers, J. T. Barclay, T. S. Cathcart and C. E. Laird.

New Worm Attacks Apple Trees.

A new worm which attacks apple trees has made its appearance in Iowa. Wesley Greene of the state horticultural department has received from the Duer orchard at Missouri Valley several sprigs containing leaves which had been skeletonized by the pest. Although the entire orchard was affected the crop was not damaged this year. Mr. Greene says the worm can be killed by a poison spray.

Toledo Gets U. B. Conference.

Ministers in the United Brethren churches in Iowa will all have their salaries increased ten per cent hereafter as the result of a resolution passed at the state conference. Much stress was laid by Bishop Weekley on the low salaries paid ministers and he at last roused the conference to action. Toledo, Iowa, has been chosen as the next meeting place for the state conference.

Says Low Wages Cause Tie-up.

The refusal of the railroads to meet the local labor scale is attributed by Geis Botsford, secretary of the Commercial club, as the cause for the congestion in the local freight houses. He declares that the railroads refuse to pay more than $1.75 a day for freight house truckers when a common day laborer working on the street or for contractors can get $2.25 a day.

Postoffice Gets New Carriers.

Five new carriers will be put on by the postoffice department in Des Moines Oct. 16. Postmaster Myerly applied for additional carriers to keep the force apace with the growing city a month ago. An additional collector also will be added to the force when the new building is occupied in November.

True Representative of Race.

Dr. Bethmann-Hollweg may cl... this distinction, that he is the ... German chancellor to wear a be... Bismarck hastened to shave his ... when he entered upon diplomacy, ... showed his rivals and enemies ... massive jaw and clear-cut chin; ... he shaved to the end, with an in... val enforced by neuralgia in the ea... '80s. As a soldier, too Caprivi shav... all but his mustache, and so ... Hohenlohe and Bulow. But B... mann-Hollweg is gaunt, rugged, ... sute, pan-Germanic.

A Rare Good Thing.

"Am using Allen's Foot-Ease, and ... truly say I would not have been with... it so long, had I known the relief it wo... give my aching feet. I think it a rare g... thing for anyone having sore or tired f... —Mrs. Matilda Holtwert, Providence, ... I." Sold by all Druggists, 25c. Ask to-d...

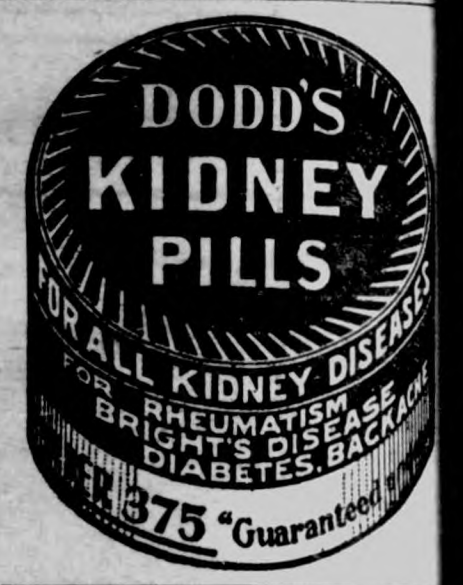
Conclusive.

Mother—Tommy, why don't ... play with Frank any more? I thou... you were such good chums.

Tommy—We was, but he's a mo... coddle! He paid to get inter ... ball grounds.

But above all—don't forget this! It's called Spearmint because of ... spear on every package.

If a man's wife cuts his hair he ... entitled to a lot more sympathy th... he gets.



WRIGLEY'S

SICK HEADACH...

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured ... these Little Pill...

They also relieve D... tress from Dyspepsia, ... digestion and Too Hea... Eating. A perfect re... edy for Dizziness, Na... sea, Drowsiness, B... Taste in the Mouth, Co... ed Tongue, Pain in t... Side, TORPID LIVE...

They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetab...

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRIC...

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good...

REFUSE SUBSTITUTE...

PROOF in the Morning!

We tell you about how good you'll feel after taking a CASCARET—that millions of people—buy, use and recommend them—But that's talk—you buy a box now—take as directed to-night and get the proof in the morning—After you know CASCARETS you'll never be without them.

CASCARETS 10c a box for a week's treatment, all druggists. Biggest seller in the world. Million boxes a month.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

AGENTS:—IF I KNEW YOUR NAME, ... would send you our $2.19 sample outfit free this ve... minute. Let me start you in a profitable busine... You do not need one cent of capital. Experien... unnecessary. 50% profit. Credit given. Premium... Freight paid. Chance to win $500 in gold extra. Eve... man and woman should write me for free outf... JAY BLACK, President, 240 Beverly Street, Boston, Ma...

BEAUTIFUL SIGNET RIN... Gold Filled 12c. with any initial Ha... Engraved Free. Warranted 3 yrs. Se... by return mail. Vance Co. 45 W B'way, N.... 15 Beautiful Colored Art Post Cards with your Full Name 1... embossed in gold on each. ART CO. 45 W B'way, N...

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT CHEWING GUM

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Was... ington, D.C. Books free. Hig... est references. Best result...

For Kidney, Liver and Bowel Trouble A-B-C TEA... 25cts. All Dealers. 25cts.

Children Like PISO'S CURE

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

It is so pleasant to take—stops the cough so quickly. Absolutely safe too and contains no opiates.

All Druggists, 25 cents.

LIPS THAT WERE SEALED

BY ALMA MARTIN ESTABROOK

PICTURES BY A. WEIL

AUTHOR OF "MY COUSIN PATRICIA."

COPYRIGHT BY J. B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

SYNOPSIS.

The story opens with a scene at a box party. Miss Henrietta Winstanley, sister of Bishop Winstanley overheard Banker Ankony propose to Barbara Hemingray, whose brother Dan was in his employ. Dan was one of the town's popular young men. He showed some nerviness when Attorney Tom Twining told him Barbara refused Ankony. Ankony the following day, summoning Twining, accused Dan of looting the bank. Twining refused to prosecute. Barbara persuaded Ankony to postpone starting prosecution. Twining learned of the engagement of Ankony and Barbara. He congratulated both. He visited Miss Hemingray and found her almost in tears. He told her he had loved her, but feared prematurely announcing his affection. By actions alone she told him she reciprocated. Mrs. Anson Dines, wealthy widow, proposed a marriage by proxy with Bishop Winstanley. The latter consulted with Twining. The bishop had been paying attentions to Miss Streeter. Dan consulted Twining, saying his sister was determined to marry Ankony, declaring she actually loved the banker, though he could not help believing she was making a sacrifice to save him from jail.

CHAPTER VI.—Continued.

"Then I don't see anything for it but for you to leave things as they are," I admitted.

He was not satisfied, however, to do that on his own judgment.

"If I could only be sure she isn't playing a part," he mused.

"Then you're not sure?"

"One minute I think I am and the next I think I'm not. If there wasn't so much at stake, I'd risk my own opinion more readily. As it is, I'm afraid to do it." He looked at me with a sudden wistfulness. "Twining, do you—you do care a little for her, don't you?" he asked frankly.

"Not a little," said I grimly.

"Then will you help me to make sure?"

"How?"

"Go to her and find out."

I took a turn or two up and down the room.

"I'll go," I said.

"Maybe you'll be able to make her out better than I. I don't deny it seems to me she loves him. But pin her down. Don't let her wriggle away, whatever you do. You know she'll try to. And see here, Twining, I don't want her to know that you know about—about the money. She thinks nobody knows but Ankony, and it'd kill her to find out that he'd told it, even to you—or rather, to you of all others. Remember you must keep that from her if you can."

"Trust me," I said, as I took up my hat.

"Oh, you're not going now, are you? I've just come from her, you know, and she'll be suspicious. Why not give her time to forget a little? It isn't easy to wait, but I believe it's better. Mrs. Ankony gives her dinner to-night. You'd have a chance to talk with her there, wouldn't you?"

"You're right," I said; "I'll wait."

Mrs. Ankony was in high and becoming feather that evening. She managed to veil her complacency until it missed being objectionable. This, however, was one of the few occasions which had come her way upon which she could distinctly congratulate herself: a dinner in compliment to "my dear Barbara;" a perfectly appointed dinner, too, and one I think most of her guests enjoyed. For myself, I thought it would never end.

Most of Barbara's friends were there, and but few of Ankony's. The Forlorn Hope was there to a man, seeking to present an unbattered front. I had a kindred feeling for them. Dan was not there. He simply would not go. Bishop Winstanley sat on the left of the hostess, beside Miss Streeter. He was delightfully fluent, and she sympathetically attendant. The soft light of the candles fell on her hair, on her pure contour, on her ivory skin and her pale shimmering gown. She ate, as the rest of us, but to me it was exactly as if a Correggio or a Botticelli had leaned from her frame to nibble a sweet wafer or trifle with a salad. Occasionally she spoke, but I did not hear what she said. I seem never, somehow, to hear her say anything, but when one looks as she does what one says is immaterial.

Barbara was scintillant, with all her old charm illuminated, as it were, by something new and vivifying within. I watched her with a sinking heart; surely she cared for Ankony or she could not look like this. I told myself so half a hundred times through dinner, and after, finding her with only three men dancing attendance upon her, I promptly put them all to rout that I might carry her off and have it over.

"Come out and see the roses," I said.

"Mr. Ankony showed me them before dinner. They are beautiful."

"But he didn't show you the moon," I smiled, trying to keep to the old way of chaffing and laughter and so not frighten her into being guarded. "There is a very benign lady smiling out of it to-night, instead of our fat friend with the round face and the wide grin. Do come. You really must see."

She arose with a laugh. "I suppose I may as well, or you'll be peopling it with all sorts of impossible creatures just to tempt me."

We went through the French windows together, and I found her a chair at the corner of the long porch. I turned it about for her.

"But it's directly in the light," she objected.

"Exactly. I like you in the light. I can see you better."

"You could have seen me much better indoors, if that is all you want."

"It isn't all I want. I am not so modest. My wants are large to-night."

"Were they ever otherwise?" she smilingly inquired.

"You ought to know. My prayers have all been made to you."

"Oh, absurd! You don't expect me to believe that, Mr. Twining."

"Those of them that have amounted to anything," I modified.

"That is better. But what is it you want to-night? You make me curious."

Unable to keep up the bantering tone longer and fearing a sudden interruption, I leaned to her quickly:

"There Must Be Something Else. What Is It?"

"I want you tell me the truth about something, Barbara; will you?"

She moved a little so that her eyes were in the shadow.

"I don't quite like the sound of your voice," she confessed; still lightly, "it makes me a little apprehensive."

"Won't you be serious, and honest?" I begged.

"Dear me, am I ever anything else than honest?"

"Often, but come—"

"Why, what can you be about to ask me?"

"Only if you are happy. Don't start and don't be angry with me. And don't answer hastily nor with evasion. I am not to be evaded. You must understand how serious I am to have put such a question to you."

"It is certainly the most extraordinary behavior," she remarked coldly. She was looking at me with widely questioning eyes, and she had grown suddenly white. Did I know what Dan had done? That was what she was asking herself, I am sure. "I am entirely at a loss to explain why you should have dared to ask me this."

"I owe it to myself to make sure, Barbara," I told her. "Will you answer me?"

"This is not the real reason for your most unheard-of behavior," she said in a tense voice. "There must be something else. What is it?"

"Shall I tell you?"

"You must."

"Ankony is not the man you could have been expected to love," I blundered, not knowing how to find my way beneath her eyes. "Do you love him? If you tell me that you do, I will not distress you further."

"Are you intimating, with other kind friends, that I am marrying him for reasons other than those of affection, that—oh, it is unthinkable! And from you!"

"Barbara, listen to me," I cried.

"No, not a word. You have said too much now. Can't you see that it makes me rise in a kind of vicious protest to have my happiness inspected on every side as if it were some wretched vagrant seeking shelter where nobody had any faith in it?"

"Have you faith in it yourself?" I asked.

She lifted her head and faced me.

"All the faith in the world," she declared.

And then she saw Ankony, who had come at the moment searching for her, and held out her hand to him. As he approached and took it, she leaned for an instant against his arm with an indescribable movement that had nothing of defiance in it, it seemed to me, but only affection.

"I have been telling Mr. Twining how happy I am," she said to him, in a soft voice that must have moved a wooden man to adoration. "I hope you don't mind my being so foolish, do you?"

Still holding her hand, Ankony bent and touched her hair with his lips.

"I should mind if you were unhappy and told him that," he said with a laugh. "They want you in there. Will you come? I promised to bring you."

She stood up and laid her fingers on his arm.

"Will you come along, Mr. Twining?" she asked.

"Thank you, not now," I replied.

I watched them as they moved away. At the window he stood aside for her to enter, and I saw her smile into his face in the way women have with the men they love.

As soon as I could find Mrs. Ankony I said good-night.

Dan was waiting for me.

"Well?" he questioned eagerly, as I went in.

"You were right," I said dully; "she loves him."

He looked at me pityingly and said nothing.

After a while he came over and stood by the mantel, staring down at the hearth.

"I suppose I might as well get back to Jack Ankony," he said; "he needs me, if I'm going to stay with them; and there doesn't seem to be anything else for it just now."

I nodded absently.

"There's nothing I can do, I guess," he muttered hopelessly.

"No, there's nothing."

"It's a confounded shame, Tom," he declared, and I read the sympathy in his eyes.

"We won't talk about it," said I.

"I know . . . Talking's no good."

I lit a cigar, and he found one to suit him in the box on the table.

"Sit down," I said.

He threw himself down opposite me, and we finished two cigars in silence, he on his side of the hearth, I on mine.

"I'll be off in the morning," he said, at the end of his second.

CHAPTER VII.

It was a wretched night two weeks later, gloomy and winterish, although spring was old enough to have done much better. I was dining alone and rather forlornly when I heard Kimmens open the outer door of my apartment and admit some one. There was the click of brisk heels along the hall, and Miss Winstanley beckoning me through the glass doors of the dining room to go on with my dinner.

"Don't get up," she cried, as Kimmens threw open the doors and I hurried to meet her; "do let me be unceremonious, won't you? Go on with your dinner; I'll sit by you till you've finished. I've dined."

"I have just finished," I insisted.

"Then come into your sitting room. I've a great deal to say."

"Welcome home," said I, warmly, as I closed the sitting room door behind us.

"It's quite time I got here, I'm sure. Such things as have been doing while I was away! What do you suppose I found in a memoranda book on my dressing table?—my brother had been using my rooms, you know. A pressed rose!"

The scorn in her voice made me laugh heartily.

"I'm glad you find it amusing. I didn't," she declared.

"But the right sort of a memoranda book always has a rose in it," I contended.

"Nonsense! Has yours?"

"I think it probable," I admitted, without humility.

"What foolishness! I can tell you that mine has not."

"Your heart holds your roses, dear lady."

She unfastened her fluffy black boa and smiled at me with a twinkle in her eyes—the twinkle that I like so much.

"Your pretty speeches won't throw me off the scent, Mr. Twining. I am going to find out whose rose that is in Charles' book. Think of it! At his age."

"At any age a man is sure to have something wrong with him if he never purloins a rose," I insisted. "He is lacking in something as certainly as the fellow who never sees a rose on a bush."

"There are plenty of them who don't know they grow on bushes," she said quickly. "They think they grow only on pretty girls' corsages."

I placed her a chair and she sank into it, but slipped quickly out to its edge and sat perched there, looking at me with her keen, eager old eyes.

"I came to talk to you about Barbara Hemingray," she said at once. "This engagement of her to Ankony is monstrous. There can be but one reason for it, and that is that Dan has been getting himself into some sort of trouble that she has to get him out of, and could find no other way. Isn't that it? You know, of course."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Corn Products Entrained.

The president of a western railroad system was spending the week-end at the country house of a friend in New York, when one evening some reference was made by a layman touching the commercial greatness of the country as evidenced by railroad operations.

"What you say is quite true," observed the head of the big system. "Do you know that if the corn products in this country for the year just ended were loaded into one train, the engine thereof would be entering the state of New Jersey just as the caboose was leaving Los Angeles."

At this remark a woman present could not suppress her astonishment and incredulity. "How you men do exaggerate!" she exclaimed. "You know very well that even two engines could not pull such a train!"—The Sunday Magazine.

Huckleberry Finn.

D. A. McDaniel of Chicago, arrived in the city recently. He asked the first thing about his old playmate, Dr. R. A. Gardner, and was nonplused when he learned that the doctor died just a year ago.

"The doctor," said Mr. McDaniel, "together with my brother James, Harry Hunstock, Clarence and Frank Crout, were the five boys lost in the Hannibal cave along in the early seventies, on which Mark Twain based one of his famous stories. My brother James was the inspiration of the famous author's character of Huckleberry Finn."—Quincy (Ill.) Whig.

Brasenose College.

The four hundredth anniversary of the foundation of Brasenose college, Oxford, England, reminds us that a banquet was once given to the doorknocker from which the college takes its name. That knocker was carried off to Stamford by seceding scholars, who attempted to found a rival college in the Lincolnshire town. Centuries elapsed before that historic symbol was regained and restored to its rightful place at Oxford. This was celebrated by a triumphant banquet, which even among a nation so given to public dinners as the British, is unique as the only feast ever held in honor of a doorknocker.

Complementary Colors.

Recent experiments, the results of which have been placed before the Academy of Sciences in Paris, appear to demonstrate that the true complementary colors of the spectrum have not hitherto been recognized. Red was formerly considered to be the complement of green, yellow of violet and blue of orange. But according to Mr. Rosenstiel, the complementaries of red and orange are neither green nor blue, but two greenish-blue tints, and the complement of yellow is blue, and not violet, which is the complement of green. Mr. Rosenstiel has accordingly formed a new "chromatic circle" for the use of artists, which he believes is more correct than its predecessors.—Youth's Companion.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

The American Cat-Tail.

The cat-tail of the American swamps is almost exactly the same plant as the Egyptian bulrush. It is no longer used for making paper, as it once was, but from its root is prepared an astringent medicine, while its stems, when prepared dry, are excellent for the manufacture of mats, chair-bottoms and the like.

Don't think Wrigley's Spearmint is only good for indigestion. It gives you an appetite besides.

A young widow can make a man believe he is making love to her, when in reality she is making love to him.

Instant Relief for All Eyes, that are irritated from dust, heat, sun or wind, PETTIT'S EYE SALVE, 25c. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

The average man thinks his bump of generosity is at least three times as large as it actually is.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Smith—So the will was read?
Jones—Yes; but the air was blue.

Help, help—your indigestion with Wrigley's Spearmint.

The silent man is more to be feared than the garrulous chap.

DO YOUR CLOTHES LOOK YELLOW? If so, use the new RUSS BLUE. It will make them white as snow. All grocers.

After breaking a $5 bill the pieces are soon lost.

Finest outdoor sport! Chewing Wrigley's Spearmint.

The door of success is marked: "Push."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Don't abuse the rich; we can't all be paupers.

Quaker Oats

is the perfectly balanced human food

China for your table in the Family Size Packages

ROLL IT UNDER YOUR TONGUE!

The flavor lasts! You can't chew it out—the delicious juice of real crushed mint leaves. Fine for teeth! Fine for digestion!

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT PEPSIN GUM — THE FLAVOR LASTS

Look for the spear

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

The City Dray Line

Will do your coal and other hauling at reasonable rates. Leave your orders at the store or ring up No. 37.

ELL BROS. Klemme, Iowa

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

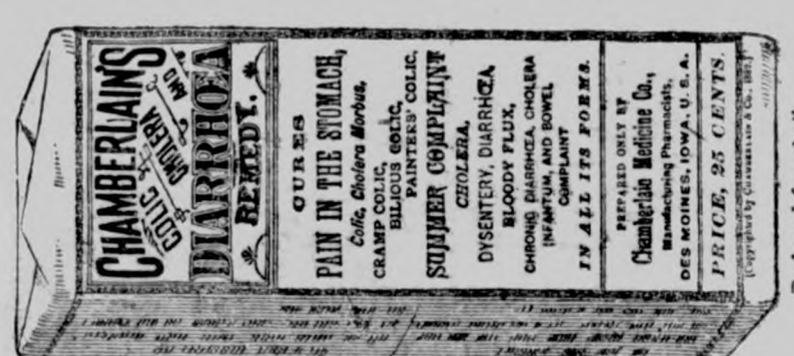
Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy

Acknowledged everywhere to be the most successful medicine in use for Bowel Complaints.

Can be depended upon in the most severe and dangerous cases.

REMEMBER ALWAYS CURES CURES QUICKLY

MONEY RETURNED IF NOT SATISFIED



Reduced fac simile

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

Notice of Levy of Special Execution

State of Iowa, Hancock County, } ss

First National Bank of Belmond, Plaintiff. AGAINST H. W. Schoper, Anna Schoper, H. L. Suckow, Taldine Suckow, and Rock Island Plow Co., Defendants. | Notice to Defendants

To H. W. Schoper, Anna Schoper, H. L. Suckow Taldine Suckow, and Rock Island Plow Co.,

Sirs: You are hereby notified that, by virtue of a Special execution issued by the Clerk of the District Court of Hancock County, in the above entitled cause, to me directed, I have levied upon as your property, the following described real estate, to-wit: Lots Three (3) and Four (4) in Block Ten (10) in the original town of Klemme, Hancock County, Iowa, and I have advertised the same to be sold on the 27th day of October, A. D. 1909, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the front door of the Court House in Garner, Hancock County, Iowa.

Witness my official signature this 25th day of September, A. D. 1909.

JOHN SUURBALLE,
Sheriff of Hancock County, Iowa.

Notice of Levy of Special Execution in Attachment

State of Iowa, Hancock County, } ss

First National Bank of Klemme, Iowa, Plaintiff, AGAINST Charles Kuskie, Fred Wacker, et al, Defendants. | Notice to Defendants

To Charles Kuskie, C. W. Kuskie, Fred Wacker, et al:

Sirs: You are hereby notified that, by virtue of a Special Execution in attachment issued by the Clerk of the District Court of Hancock County, in the above entitled cause, to me directed, I have levied upon as your property, the following described personal property, to-wit: One sorrell mare, with white face and about seven years old; Five cows owned by C. W. Kuskie, as follows: One red with some white spots, two red with some white under belly, and two red with white faces; Also, the undivided two-thirds of about twenty acres of corn standing in the field on SW¼ 14 95 23, also about fifteen acres of oats raised on said land; And I have advertised the same to be sold on the 22nd day of October, A. D. 1909, at 10 o'clock, A. M., at the Fred Wacker premises, being SE¼ 15-95-23, Hancock Co. Iowa.

Witness my official signature this 21st day of September, A. D. 1909.

JOHN SUURBALLE,
Sheriff of Hancock County, Iowa.

The October Housekeeper

Either by design or chance, the fiction in The Housekeeper for October is written by women and the special articles by men. Among the capital short stories are, "Mrs. Rossiter's Awakening," by Nellie Cravey Yillmore, "The Heart of the Junior Interne," by Mary Minor Lewis, and "The Writer Man," by Jessie Knight Hart. "Some Popular Notions Exploded," takes up common fallacies and is by Warwick James Price. No department devoted to the home is neglected and all the pages are bright and attractively illustrated, some in colors. The Housekeeper Corporation, Minneapolis, Minn. Seventy-five cents a year.

A Radical Departure

There never was a time in the history of the world when good stories and articles could command such large prices as they do today. It is an extremely expensive thing to publish a high-class magazine nowadays, filled with the best products of the most famous authors and artists.

Yet together with its many attractive features The Chicago Record-Herald furnishes its readers with its Sunday Magazine section that compares favorably with the best weeklies and monthlies, and has some merits peculiar to itself. The most famous writers and illustrators contribute to it. Some of the choicest novels of the year are published serially in its columns before they see the light in book form. The best new humorist since Mr. Dooley began writing is a regular contributor to its columns alone. To furnish such a magazine with every copy of a Sunday newspaper is an amazing venture, yet the experiment has proved a complete success and is now firmly established.

Read the Times.

Books — Letter Heads
Pamphlets — Envelopes

Everything printed from

TYPE

At the Times office.

Cards — Bill Heads
Invitations — Posters

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED, REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE.

Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fifteen days' student free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund money. All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used. No detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Charges low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. Consultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or write to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our book fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrotum—causing nervous debility, weakness of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in all its stages, cured for life. Skin Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all forms of private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days without pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, with description of above diseases, the effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES, IA.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:34 p. m.
82 ..... 2:35 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:55 a. m.
435 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

McCALL PATTERNS 10 AND 15 NONE HIGHER

McCALL'S MAGAZINE 50 A YEAR INCLUDING A FREE PATTERN

McCALL PATTERNS
Celebrated for style, perfect fit, simplicity and reliability nearly 40 years. Sold in nearly every city and town in the United States and Canada, or by mail direct. Never equaled by any other make. Send for free catalogue.

McCALL'S MAGAZINE
More subscribers than any other fashion magazine—million a month. Invaluable. Latest styles, patterns, dressmaking, millinery, plain sewing, fancy needlework, hairdressing, etiquette, good stories, etc. Only 50 cents a year (worth double), including a free pattern. Subscribe today, or send for sample copy.

WONDERFUL INDUCEMENTS to Agents. Postal brings particulars and new cash prize offers. Address

THE McCALL CO., 238 to 248 W. 37th St., NEW YORK

Electric Bitters

Succeed when everything else fails. In nervous prostration and female weaknesses they are the supreme remedy, as thousands have testified.

FOR KIDNEY, LIVER AND STOMACH TROUBLE

it is the best medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter.

Just Dust it on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The REDSTAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 12 — KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1909. — $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

¶If you earn $10,000 a year and spend $11,000 you will fall behind. If you earr ten dollars a week and save part of it you will get ahead—and there is no other way to do so.

¶Let your money grow.

¶Start TODAY.

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

A CONVINCER

The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.
We claim for our lumber and building ma'erial that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.
May we figure on your next lumber bill?

J. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN — J. W. WATERMAN

MESERVEY

From the Messenger:

D. Mosher returned home Wednesday from his visit with his son Roy, at Pine Island, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Freeman, of Tonica, Ill., came Saturday for a visit with Mrs. Freeman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Quandt, Sr.

The cold snap, following Cook and Peary's invasion of the west, has caught quite a number unprepared, and there was great activity in the potato digging and coal-hauling lines yesterday.

Every other man you met on the streets yesterday was muttering to himself, and by a smudge of black somewhere on his countenance, one could tell he had been engaged in close combat with a stove.

Its a Top Notch Doer

Great deeds compel regard. The world crowns its doers. That's why the American people have crowned Dr. King's New Discovery the King of throat and lung remedies. Every atom is a health force. It kills germs, and colds and lagrippe vanish. It heals cough-racked membranes and coughing stops. Sore, inflamed bronchial tubes and lungs are cured and hemorrhages cease. Dr. Geo. More, Black Jack, N. C. writes "it cured me of lung trouble, pronounced hopeless by all doctors." 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst &Co.

The Best Prophet of the Future is the Past

—o—

For more than 15 years the management of the First National Bank has been "First" in ability to care for the needs of its patrons and is pleased today to place at the disposal of its customers the experience gained in that period.....

—o—

The First National Bank
CAPITAL $25,000

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

Men's and Boys' Clothing

in the "Latest of the Late" "Newest of the New"

We call your attention to our large stock of Men's and Boys' Clothing—
They are fresh from the Factory
No "Used-to-be's" or "Has-been's"

New, snappy, up-to date, stylish goods and every garment backed by the maker's guarantee as well as our own.....

Men's Suits

Newest of the New Styles will be found in our Men's Suits in blues, blacks, browns, greens, greys and fancy weaves, prices—
$9.98 $10.50 $11.50 $12.50 $13.50 and $15.00

In our cheaper Suits you will find extra good values, prices—
$4.98 $5.50 $6.50 $7.50 and $8.50

Boys' Suits and Overcoats

An immense stock of Boys' Suits and Overcoats in grey's, blue's, black, green's, and fancy mixtures, prices—
$1.98 $2.25 $2.50 $3.00 $3.50 $4.00 $4.50 and $5.00

Underwear

Men's heavy fleeced lined Shirt & Drawers, extra good value	45c
Men's heavy fleece lined Union Suits.....	$1.00
Boys' fleece lined Shirts and Drawers....25c and	33c
Boys' Union Suits, fleece lined.. .....50c and.....	65c

Sweater Coats

In greens, greys, maroon, browns, black, white, and fancy weaves
Prices 50c $1.00 $1.50 and $2.00

Men's Handkerchiefs 3c. — Men's cotton Sweaters 23c
Men's work Shirts 33c — Men's $1.00 Dress Mittens, a Snap—57c
Boys' Mittens 25c and 39c — Men's regular 50c Mitten 39c

"Remember your money is never our money until you are perfectly satisfied."

M. A. McCARTHY

GARNER'S ONE PRICE CLOTHIER

F. E. Walsh, Mgr.

Men's Overcoats

With Anto collars, paten pockets, cuffs on sleeves in grey, green, brown, etc., prices—

$10.00, $11.50, $12.50, $13.50 and $15.00.

A large stock of Overcoats in black, blues, greys, browns and fancy weaves $4.98, $5.50, $6.50, $8.50, and an extra good value at $7.50.

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, . . . IOWA

IMPORTANT NEWS NOTES OF A WEEK

LATEST HAPPENINGS THE WORLD OVER TOLD IN ITEMIZED FORM.

EVENTS HERE AND THERE

Condensed Into a Few Lines for the Perusal of the Busy Man—Latest Personal Information.

PERSONAL.

George Wharton Popper, a prominent churchman and lawyer of Philadelphia, was a speaker at the Brotherhood of St. Andrew convention in Providence, R. I.

Mrs. Edith T. Perkins of Burlington, Ia., has given Harvard university $30,000 to establish scholarships for Iowa graduates, in memory of her husband who was president of the Burlington railroad for many years.

George A. Edes, veteran editor, who in early life was associated with Horace Greeley and Mark Twain, died at Oakland, Cal., of cancer of the throat, aged 69. His great-uncle was associated with Benjamin Franklin in the publication of the Boston News Letter.

Charles T. Ripley, a graduate of the University of Illinois in the railway electrical engineering department, has been awarded the first prize in an electric car design contest conducted by the Brill Company of Philadelphia The prize is the John G. Brill medal and $250.

Clyde Fitch, the playwright, left no will and his property will go to his father, W. G Fitch, of Hartford, Conn By some the estate is estimated at $1,000,000.

Samuel Gompers was accorded an enthusiastic demonstration at Washington in honor of his return home from Europe.

Representative A. W. Rucker of Colorado was injured severely when he was struck by the boom of a boat he was sailing in Lake Lano in Mindinao in the Philippines.

Dr J. B Shober reports through the Journal of the American Medical association a substitute for radium in treating disease. It is cocoanut charcoal after it has been charged with a current of air from a solution of radium bromide.

According to Rev. Charles L. Goodell, pastor of Calvary Methodist church of New York, old age begins at 45 years, and from that age a man is in his decline.

Two sisters, Mrs. Clara Pfeltsenmeier of Chicago and Mrs Minnie Lehmann of Brooklyn, found a long lost brother at the Hudson-Fulton celebration in New York. He is a second lieutenant in the German navy and his name is Fritz Heyl.

GENERAL NOTES.

The New York Globe publishes a copy of affidavit made by Edwin N Barrill, who accompanied Dr. Frederick A. Cook at the time he announced reaching the summit of Mount McKinley in which Barrill states that Cook never reached the summit and charges the explorer with forcing him to change dates and figures in his diary. Dr. Cook, at Atlantic City, N. J., emphatically denies the charge and says proofs of his climb are buried on the summit of the mountain.

In the sixth game for the world's championship Detroit defeated Pittsburg 5 to 4.

Edward Singer, aged 35, of Chicago has been arrested for rifling merchandise mail pouches.

The twelfth annual meeting of the Eastern Illinois Teachers' association is being held at Danville.

A high-salaried appointment soon to be made by President Taft will be Panama canal commissioner to succeed ex-Senator Blackburn of Kentucky, whose resignation is expected The position pays $14,000 a year.

Of the 285 county reporters who report crop conditions to the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture, 194 have served in that capacity more than twenty years, according to the official crop reporter.

George Shima, the Japanese potato king of Stockton, Cal., gave his second annual banquet to potato buyers Shima sent his launch, the Shima Maru, for his guests. He has the largest potato patch in the world, 14,000 acres.

Revolutionists are now in possession of seven towns in Nicaragua and martial law has been proclaimed at the capital, Managua.

Civil war is impending in Spain. Several bombs have been exploded near the royal palace in which King Alfonzo is practically a prisoner, being guarded by a double cordon of troops.

President Taft and President Diaz of Mexico exchanged visits at El Paso Tex., and Ciudad, Juraez, both executives leaving their native countries for the first time in an official capacity.

Dr. Frederick A. Cook, refuting the charges that he did not ascend Mount McKinley, will organize an expedition to ascend the mountain and procure the records he left there. He asserts Guide Barrill has perjured himself

Thirty-seven persons are dead, many injured, and property damaged to about $1,000,000, as a result of the storm which swept Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Arkansas and South Carolina.

The National Purity congress opened in Burlington, Ia., with President B. S. Steadwell in the chair and about 500 reformers and social workers present. Many well known men and women were on the program.

Plans for a campaign for the passage of an act to enable Illinois municipalities to adopt the commission form of government were discussed at the annual meeting of the Illinois Mayors' association in Elgin.

The Portola festival, celebrating the discovery of San Francisco bay, opened in the Golden Gate city.

The National Spiritualists' association began their seventeenth convention in Rochester, N. Y.

A convention of employing printers met in Chicago to adopt uniform methods that would end the price war

Mrs. Georgie Ferguson, associate pastor of the People's church in Washington, says her sex would obtain the ballot if they adopted the method suggested by Samuel Adams in revolutionary days—elect state committees study conditions and adopt state platforms.

Marines from the cruiser Idzuma were landed in San Francisco to aid in fighting a fire. The visitors thought the city was threatened. They were not needed.

Because he ran down and killed a woman with his automobile, T. C. Goetz of Stamford, Conn., was convicted of involuntary manslaughter and sentenced to jail for one year.

Wilfrid Thibeault and Prof. Frank Hill were charged in the Fall River (Mass.) police court with the murder of Amelia St. Jean, whose mutilated body was found at Tiverton, R. I. They pleaded not guilty and their cases were continued.

A receiver was appointed for Solomon Brothers, dealers in oriental goods at New York, with branches at Pittsburg, Cleveland, Chicago and St. Louis.

In an interview at Buffalo, Explorer Cook reiterated that he would bring the Eskimos who accompanied him to the north pole to this country in order to disprove alleged distorted declarations in Commander Peary's statement.

Pittsburg won the fifth world's championship baseball game from Detroit by a score of 8 to 4. The Pirates now lead the Tigers in the series by one game.

The second national convention of the Congregational Brotherhood of America is in session at Minneapolis with a very large number of representatives present from all parts of the country.

The constitutionality of the Illinois two-cent rate law is attacked in an action brought in the federal court at Springfield by the Chicago, Peoria & St Paul Railroad Company.

Milwaukee for ten days will be the Mecca of the dairy farmers and persons engaged in allied interests as the National Dairy show there is now on.

A famous portrait by Velasquez, purchased by a wealthy American abroad, will soon arrive in this country, according to H. R. Duneen, an art dealer, who has returned to New York from Europe. He says it is likely to become the most noted picture in America. The name of the owner is not revealed.

The general understanding in Washington is that the court of appeals will render its decision in the contempt case against Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor within a week.

The Norwegian Sterk, a small freighter, foundered off the coast of Norway. The crew of 12 was lost.

It has developed that the shortage in the Mineral Point (Wis.) First National bank failure will reach nearly $400,000. It is said that Vice-President Allen has lost heavily in mining investments.

Charles R. Crane of Chicago, minister designated to China, was practically deposed by a demand from Secretary Knox for his resignation. The latter charges Mr. Crane with indiscretion. The latter had already tendered his resignation to President Taft.

Pittsburg defeated Detroit in the third game of the world's championship series by a score of 8 to 6.

Detroit defeated Pittsburg 5 to 0 in the fourth game of the world's championship series.

BUTTER TEST SCORE

Many Took Part in Educational Scoring Contest

LONE ROCK CARRIED OFF PRIZE

There Were 159 Butter-Makers Entered in Dairy Commissioner's Butter Scoring Contest Just Closed.

Des Moines, Oct. 18.—In the dairy commissioner's four month's educational butter test scoring, 159 buttermakers took part, with the result that some exceptionally fine scores were made. The report of Commissioner Wright shows that of the 359 tubs exhibited, 311 of them scored over 90 points, 27 of them scored 90 points, while the remaining 21 scored under 90. This is considered a good record. There were 84 exhibitors in the milk class and 75 in the cream class.

In the milk class C. J. Gudknecht of Lone Rock, scored 95.62, while P. M. Peterson of Rake, his nearest competitor, scored 95.37. In the cream class J. T. Hanna of Lone Rock scored 93.35, while N. A. Dahlen of Northwood, his nearest competitor, scored 93. Thus it came about that Lone Rock carried off the prizes in the four scorings. In the three scorings O. H. Barber of Randalia scored 94, as did F. J. Schroeder of Wadena. This was in the milk class. In the cream class, three scorings, M. J. Rohe of Algona scored 92.33, as did C. A. Nurell of Sexton.

In his report Commissioner Wright says: "It is to be regretted that no more of the buttermakers of Iowa take advantage of the opportunity for having their butter criticised. Only sixty-seven out of a possible five hundred buttermakers sent butter to as many as three scorings."

Keokuk Woman Heads P. E. O.

Mount Pleasant.—At the session of the supreme lodge of the P. E. O. officers were elected and it was decided to meet in 1911 at St. Louis. The new suyreme officers are: President, Miss Winona Reeves, of Keokuk; first vice president, Mrs. Grace R. Clarke, of Chicago; Second vice president, Mrs. Annie B. Grimes, of Hutchinson, Kan.; recording secretary, Miss Hattie Liddle, of Geneva, Neb.; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Hilda Miller, of Los Angeles; treasurer, Mrs Nettie Hoffman, of Trenton, Mo.; organizer, Mrs. Edith Prouty, of Humboldt, Ia.; auditor P. E. O. record, Miss Mary Osmond, of Osceola, Ia.

Nora Springs Pioneer Dead.

Nora Springs.—John Henry, one of the earliest pioneer settlers of Floyd county, died at Nora Springs at the age of 80 years. He came to this county (Floyd) from Indiana fifty-five years ago, and his marriage to Miss Ann Workman was the first to take place in Rock Grove township. Mrs. Henry died about four years ago. Six children survive them: Mrs. Lora Taber and Warren and Monroe Henry of Nora Springs, Walter Henry of Des Moines, Wilson Henry of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Clara Rose, lately of Wallace, Idaho.

Choose Stock Judging Team.

Ames.—The stock judging team to represent Ames at the Royal Stock show in Kansas City has been chosen. The men who will compose the team are: R. W. Cassady, Whiting; M. H. Fedderson, Bryant; M. W. O'Donnell, Ames; J. E. Thompson, Jamaica; and M. G. Thornburg, Ames. They will compete with teams from all over the west.

The team to judge dairy stock at the National Dairy show next month will consist of J. M. Leffler, G. M. Nelson and E. A. Quaife.

$100,000 Iowa Farm Deal.

Bridgewater.—Something over a $100,000 land deal was made here when John McDermott traded for the J. H. Hulbert ranch, six miles southeast of town. Mr. McDermott paid $85 per acre for the 717 acres of the Hulbert ranch and traded his 160 acres near Prescott in at $85 per acre. He also traded his 320-acre farm eight and one-fourth miles north of town in at $125 per acre.

Indoor Baseball.

Marshalltown.—The Y. M. C. A. of this city is making active preparations for an early start in indoor baseball, and a schedule is now being made for the regular league season. Three teams have already begun practice.

Editors Will Meet.

Iowa Falls.—The Hardin county editors have decided to meet Friday, October 22. The meeting will be held at Alden. A program for the day has been arranged by a committee.

Arrested for Kidnaping Own Child.

Des Moines.—After a chase which has continued more than two months, leading the searchers along a devious route through four states, and participated in by the detective departments of a dozen cities, the efforts of Rev. John McD Horne and Chief Detective Johnston, were rewarded with the recovery of Marguerite, the 3-year-old foster daughter of the minister, who was kidnaped from the home on August 4. The child was discovered in the possession of Mrs. Laura McConkey, her mother, at Amboret, Mo., fifty miles south of Kansas City, by the Rev. Mr. Horne and City Detective C. C. Jackson. She was taken into custody on a charge of kidnaping her arrest being followed later by that of her mother, Jennie Polk Bain, grandmother of the child, in Hiawatha, Kans.

Lyal Will Case Settled.

Newton.—After more than a year of litigation the famous Lyal will case was settled here and the property of the late George W. Lyal, who committed suicide three years ago, will be apportioned almost equally among his third wife, his second wife and his grandson, who is also the grandson of the second wife. Lyal was married three times. His first wife is dead, the second was divorced, and now lives in Kewanee, Ill., and the third resides in Newton. The estate left by the suicide is worth between $75,000 and $85,000.

New Turn in Telephone Case.

Des Moines.—An entirely new turn was taken in the telephone situation when the Iowa Telephone company announced that after the consolidation of the Iowa and the Mutual, the present Iowa rates will be maintained for a period of at least five years to all subscribers. The company agrees to make such a contract with the city, thus binding itself to furnish the service at that price without binding the people to take it.

Hunting License to Women.

Iowa City.—Mrs. L. W. Dean, wife of Dr. Dean, and Miss Alice Kubichek, daughter of Wesley Kubichek, a gunsmith, have taken out licenses to hunt in Johnson county. Miss Beula Riggs of Lone Tree has also announced her intention of becoming a nimrod. All are well known in this neighborhood and are the first three women to take out hunting licenses here.

To Treble Capacity.

Marshalltown.—The Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company is making preparations for the installation of stone crushing machinery to treble the capacity of the quarries at Quarry, Iowa, east of this city, which the railroad acquired recently from the LeGrand Quarry company. The stone from the quarries will be used for ballast and concrete work over the entire system.

Aged Iowans Will Gather.

Des Moines.—The octogenarian association of Iowa will celebrate the sixty-third anniversary of Iowa's first state election on Oct. 26, with a 1 o'clock dinner at the Savery. Invitations have been mailed to aged residents of Iowa by T. B. Perry of Albia, the president, and John L. Crawford of Des Moines, secretary of the association. A large attendance is anticipated.

Blaze on Iowa River.

Iowa City.—Sparks from a passing engine ignited a pile of straw on a barge belonging to the Iowa City Sand company started a small blaze on the Iowa river. The Iowa City firemen put out the fire, with small damage.

Babe Ate Strychnine Tablets.

Mason City.—The little thirteen-month-old daughter of H. L. Green, ate a strychnine tablet, taken from her mother's handbag while she was getting supper, and died in a short time, in spite of the doctor's efforts.

Pays Bounty on Forty-one Snakes.

Ottumwa.—Forty-one rattlesnakes were brought to the court house during the month of September. The county paid out $21 bounty. Perry Owings brought in 14 of the snakes.

Pony Burned in Barn.

Creston.—Fire destroyed the barn and part of the contents belonging to A. E. Mickle, of this place, and a pony was badly burned in the conflagration. The property was insured.

Boys Will Meet.

Waterloo.—The annual conference of the Iowa boys of the Y. M. C. A. will be held here November 5, 6 and 7. R. A. Waite, C. S. Medbury and F. M. Hansen will be among the speakers.

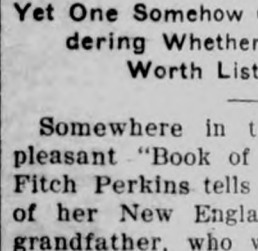
Work on Building.

Iowa City.—Work on the new $20,000 engineering shops has been started. The buildings will have to be completed by the first of January.

ANOTHER WOMAN CURE

By Lydia E. Pinkham Vegetable Compo

Gardiner, Maine.—"I have great sufferer from organic t and a severe weakness. doctor said I have to go hospital f operation, could not think of it cided to try E. Pinkham etable Com and Sanativ —and was e cured after months' use of them."—Mrs. WILLIAMS, R. F. D. No. 14, Gardiner, Me.



No woman should submit to a cal operation, which may mean until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham Vegetable Compound, made exc ly from roots and herbs, a fair This famous medicine for has for thirty years proved to most valuable tonic and rene the female organism. Women ing in almost every city and to the United States bear willing mony to the wonderful virtue of E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com It cures female ills, and create ant, buoyant female health. are ill, for your own sake as w those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, M invites all sick women to her for advice. Her advice is and always helpful.

GENTLE REBUKE FROM PU

Yet One Somehow Cannot Help dering Whether Sermon Wa Worth Listening To.

Somewhere in the pages of pleasant "Book of Joys" Mrs. Fitch Perkins tells a delightful of her New England clerical grandfather, who was a man genuity and resources. She says

"He employed more than one to secure wakefulness on the pa his weary congregation. Sta during the prayer was but on many. My grandfather used to us with pride of an instance whic curred at a time when a new ch edifice had been proposed, and under warm discussion. Great-g father thought this a worldly an necessary expense, and empha his opinion by pausing in the mid his sermon on a Sunday, saying pressively, as he fixed the somn members of his congregation wi stern look:

"'You are talking about buildi new church. It seems to me quit necessary, since the sleepers in old one are all sound!'"—Youth's panion.

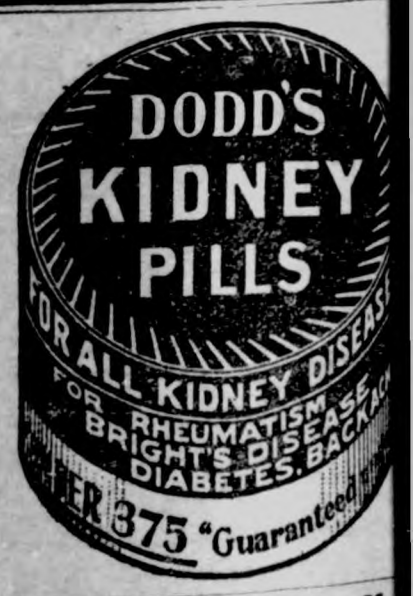
Why Not?

Aunt Spinsterly—I hope that opinions uphold the dignity of sex, Mamie, and that you believe every woman should have a vote.

Mamie—I don't go quite so fa that, aunty; but I believe that woman should have a voter.—Sk

DON'T TAKE ANY CHANCES The new RUSS BLUE does the best 5cts. at leading grocers. Avoid imita

We live truly for ourselves when we live for others.—Seneca



When You're Hoarse Use

PISO'S CURE

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

Gives immediate relief. The first dose relieves your aching throat and allays the irritation. Guaranteed to contain no opiates. Very palatable

All Druggists, 25c.

LIPS THAT WERE SEALED

BY ALMA MARTIN ESTABROOK

PICTURES BY A. WEIL

AUTHOR of "MY COUSIN PATRICIA."

COPYRIGHT BY J.B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

SYNOPSIS.

e story opens with a scene at a box Miss Henrietta Winstantley, sis- of Bishop Winstanley overheard er Ankony propose to Barbara Hem- y, whose brother Dan was in his y. Dan was one of the town's pop- young men. He showed some nerv- ss when Attorney Tom Twining told Barbara refused Ankony. Ankony following day, summoning Twining, ed Dan of looting the bank. Twin- refused to prosecute. Barbara per- ed Ankony to postpone starting cution. Twining learned of the en- ment of Ankony and Barbara. He ratulated both. He visited Miss ingray and found her almost in . He told her he had loved her, but ed prematurely announcing his af- ion. By actions alone she told him reciprocated. Mrs. Anson Dines, althy widow, proposed a marriage by y with Bishop Winstanley. The lat- consulted with Twining. The bishop been paying attentions to Miss eter. Dan consulted Twining, say- his sister was determined to marry ony, declaring she actually loved the ker, though he could not help believ- she was making a sacrifice to save from jail. Miss Winstanley, find- a pressed rose in the bishop's book, ted a love affair.

CHAPTER VII.—Continued.

"I wish that I could tell you that are wrong," I answered.

She nodded. "I knew it. I told my- f the minute I heard it that there uld be but one meaning to it! I n't ask you what he did. I don't nt to know. All I'm concerned in how to get them both out of their ficulties. Dan is a good boy, if he been weak. I'm not excusing him, nd you, but my heart is with him. e are all assailable at times. Now may be adamant to-day and as soft a marshmallow to-morrow. Do you what I mean? Our moral nature just like our physical one: it has good and its bad days, and poor n was tempted on a bad one. That's l. But what I can't understand is at he was willing to accept his good me at such a cost."

I told her what I knew then, and her yes brightened and her head nodded ll through the recital like that of a ttle marionette.

"Ah, that's what I like to hear! My ope for the boy is restored. We'll ake a fine man of him yet. But"— nd there was a clouding of the fine yes—"but the engagement isn't roken? What does that mean?"

"That she loves Ankony," said I.

For an instant she stared at me, speechless in the force of her amaze- ment, then she actually smiled in her corn.

"Oh, you men! You let a woman make you believe whatever she wants you to believe! I am provoked with you, Mr. Twining. You are clever enough about most things. How can you be so easily put upon in this?"

"You have only to see them togeth- er. You know how much I would like to believe otherwise."

"It were a preposterous impossibili- ty! She, a Hemingray, to love him, an Ankony! Bah! it's too absurd to think of!"

"Love is an acrobat," I reminded her, trying to speak with some degree of lightness; "he lands where you least expect him to."

"Oh, don't make your figures for me! And don't try to hide from me all that you feel. Come, let us cease to be at cross-purposes."

"Most willingly; but, granted that you are right, what is to be done? You can't force her to admit to you that she doesn't love him."

"I've no mind to try to reach the solution through her."

"Dan can do nothing."

"Oh, I quite understand that, too."

"Then where do you expect to go with your prayer?" I asked.

She hesitated an instant.

"I think it isn't going to be a pray- er," she said.

"What can you threaten? Ankony won't give her up. Besides, as I told you, if she isn't happy she is the most consummate actress I have ever seen."

"Of course she is. Now you are sensible in your deductions. Some- body says that Poverty is the mother of all the arts, you know, but it isn't so; it's Love who is their mother, and Barbara's skill at acting is born of her love for Dan."

She leaned on her elbow and was silent for a little, her eyes vague and troubled.

"You have nothing to offer—nothing at all?" she appealed.

"Nothing," I admitted ignominiously.

"I'm going to see her," she said.

She patted my arm as she passed me.

"I know," she murmured; "I know. But don't give up. We'll find a way yet. Mark me, we will." She smiled a queer little half-tearful smile in which there was a spark of the old humor. "The good always triumph, you know."

And she was gone.

CHAPTER VIII.

One early morning some days later, Bishop Winstanley was shown into my office. A glance sufficed to tell me that he was laboring under unusual excitement. He waited for my clerk to leave the room, when he announced, without prelude:

"A most astonishing thing has happened; Mrs. Anson Dines has sailed for America."

"Is it possible!" I exclaimed. "I thought she meant to remain abroad."

"So she did. So she did—indefinitely."

"And are you disposed to regard her change of plans as significant?" I inquired.

He looked at me oddly.

"The question shows how little you know the lady," he remarked.

I smiled. The situation seemed amazingly funny to me. But the bishop was not inclined to regard it as being at all so.

"Then you await her coming with some anxiety," I observed.

"As a matter of fact, with the greatest anxiety."

I muttered my polite regret at this unexpected and startling crook in the straightness of his affairs.

He made no reply, but leaned back in his chair, with perturbation written large on his handsome and ordinarily composed features.

"Mrs. Dines evidently believes in going after what she wants—to use a common expression," I remarked.

He nodded, dismally.

"She is famous for it," he said. "What she determines upon neither heaven nor earth can dissuade her from. And she is evidently determined this this marriage shall be carried through."

"Bless me!" I murmured.

"My own inclinations in the matter seem not to enter in," he said grimly.

"Then you have sent her an answer to her remarkable document?"

"Oh, at once."

"May I inquire if it had the ring of finality to it?" I asked.

"The finality of an ultimatum," he assured me.

"Dear me, and still she comes!" I exclaimed.

"And still she comes," he echoed.

"What do you propose?" I inquired.

"I am a little bewildered," he confessed. "I must, however, find a way to extricate myself."

"Then you do not mean—"

"No, indeed. It is not, you understand, as if the lady had any sentiment in the matter. To decline an offer of—matrimony is never quite easy, I fancy"—and the bishop smiled less grimly—"but to decline it when one is assured that no affection enters in makes one a little more comfortable. Mrs. Dines is very clever and far-seeing, and she regards this marriage merely as an enterprise. She has become convinced that she can do more good in the field she has chosen as my wife than as Anson Dines' widow; Anson Dines was a good fellow, but not a philanthropist, you understand—nor a bishop. Mrs. Dines never overlooks the possibilities of any situation. She doesn't care a rap for me. She was devoted to her husband, and she isn't the sort of a woman who loves twice. Why, you see yourself that she distinctly proposes that we shall occupy different continents."

"And you?"

"I have, unfortunately, my own plans."

"Which are not concurrent with hers?"

"In no way concurrent," he replied with emphasis.

"Yours is not an enviable position," I admitted.

"Enviable!" he cried. "I should think not. You understand that my sister is arrayed with her against me?"

I bowed. There was a moment's silence.

"Mrs. Dines has contracted the habit of succeeding in what she undertakes," he observed presently. "It is a most uncomfortable habit for all parties concerned, as I am always telling my sister, who seems herself to be on the verge of falling into it."

"Miss Winstanley is a most successful woman," I made enthusiastic comment.

"Undoubtedly," he agreed; "but I insist that successful women may pile up trouble and anguish for themselves —and others. It is so amazing when they fail that they resign themselves badly to it."

"I see," said I.

"Mrs. Dines will not like coming across to meet with failure," he remarked. "I wish it might be spared her. I also wish I knew how to ease the situation all around. Have you a suggestion?"

"A good idea; I think I shall adopt the situation all around. Have you a suggestion?"

"I only know what I should do under similar circumstances," I declared, trying not to smile broadly.

"Would you mind telling me what it is?" he asked.

"Not at all; but it is, of course, nothing that you would consider."

"I am not so sure. Suppose you let me hear it."

"I should resort to—absence," said I. it."

"I don't wish to seem false to your siste". I am her friend in all things, you understand, but surely—"

"We'll Find a Way Yet. Mark Me, We Will."

"Have no sense of disloyalty, Mr. Twining," he urged, with his old smile. "If my sister were thoroughly conversant with affairs, she would not think of pressing so preposterous a plan for my marital disposal, and in any case, what Mrs. Dines has asked would be impossible. But as Henrietta really got me into this, I think she may get me out. It is only fair, isn't it? However, I didn't come here to bother you with this affair. I am commissioned by my sister to ask you to come to see her as soon as you conveniently can. I think she wishes to consult you about a matter of business, perhaps. She did not tell me."

"I shall go at once."

"Oh, it isn't so important as that. Since I think of it, however, she did seem a little eager."

"I am free for the hour."

"That's very good of you. I am greatly obliged to you for your excellent suggestion. One would think you had had some experience yourself in similar situations."

And he smilingly departed.

I went at once to Miss Winstanley. From an upper window she must have seen me coming, for as I was admitted she ran down the stairs quite like a little girl, and led me into her sitting room, closing the door carefully behind us. She had a letter in her hand, and as she extended it to me, I recognized the bold chirography of Mrs. Anson Dines.

Clearly I was to have both sides of this most interesting story.

Miss Winstanley was trembling with excitement, and her eyes shone. I could see that she was joyous in her eagerness and anticipation, and I had not till then realized how much she had set her heart on the ridiculous marriage which she and Mrs. Dines had planned for her amiable brother.

"Read it!" she cried, as she thrust the letter at me.

Expecting to read of the bishop, I was dumbfounded at Mrs. Dines' brief lines.

"I shall be in America on the heels of my letter," she wrote. "I am coming to stop the marriage of Edward Ankony and Barbara Hemingray. It must not take place. I shall come to you at once. I sail on the Cambria the 25th."

I looked up at Miss Winstanley, and for a moment we stared at each other. She sat in a low chair in front of me, swinging forward in it, crushing her stiff black skirts in the embrace of her tense little arms.

"Well!" cried she.

"What does she mean?" I exclaimed. "Do you understand?"

"Not at all," she admitted promptly. "That's why I sent for you. This came last night, and I couldn't sleep for thinking of it and trying to make it out. But I can't; so I gave it up and sent for you. You see what possibilities it opens."

They were indeed almost painful in their strength and suggestion.

"One thing is certain," she went on; "Hannah Dines is not the woman to cross the sea to no purpose. She knows what she is about. The moment I had news of Barbara's engagement, I wrote her, knowing that, as an old friend of the family, she would be greatly interested. This is her reply."

"And you have no explanation—does she dislike Ankony?"

"I never heard her mention him. I think she hardly knows him."

"She is fond of Barbara?"

"Oh, immensely so. She must know something—"

"Undoubtedly."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

His Important Service.

One of the greatest nuisances of traveling is tipping. A smile from a head waiter is a costly commodity, and no menial service is too small for remuneration. An unusually ingenious plea for a tip is that of a small Hibernian, mentioned by Mr. John Augustus O'Shea in "Roundabout Recollections." The author was traveling in Ireland.

I drove down to the station on the faint chance of catching the train to Dublin. When I got out of the cab at the station a bright-faced boy accosted me.

"Ah, sure, sir, you've just missed the train," he said.

It was true. I booked my luggage and ascertained when the next train would leave. While I was waiting the lad came up to me and asked me for a tip.

"What for?" I asked.

"Sure, sir. I told you that you were too late," he unblushingly responded.

Belgian Coal Miners.

While coal is mined at a greater depth in Belgium than in most countries, the number of miners killed in accidents is less in that country than in any other. For the ten-year period from 1891 to 1900 the number of fatalities per 10,000 workmen was 16.84 per annum. In the metallic ore mines the number of workmen who have been killed by accident is one-third that in the coal mines.

The Awful Folly of Wars.

Mad wars destroy in one year the work of many years of peace.—Benjamin Franklin.

Dutch Proverb.

One can't shoe a running horse.

BACKACHE IS KIDNEYACHE.

Usually There Are Other Troubles to Prove It.

Pain in the back is pain in the kidneys, in most cases, and it points to the need of a special remedy to remove and cure the congestion or inflammation of the kidneys that is interfering with their work and causing that pain that makes you say: "Oh, my back."

Thompson Watkins, professional nurse, 420 N. 23rd St., Parsons, Kan., says: "For some time I was annoyed with sharp twinges across the small of my back and irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills, I am free from these troubles."

Remember the name—Doan's. Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

JUST AS GOOD.

"Did you send your wife to the sea this year?"

"No. I just bought her a deck chair for the balcony."

The Soft Answer.

At a dinner in Bar Harbor a Boston woman praised the wit of the late Edward Everett Hale.

"Walking on the outskirts of Boston one day," she said, "he and I inadvertently entered a field that had a 'No Trespassing' sign nailed to a tree.

"Soon a farmer appeared.

"'Trespassers in this field are prosecuted,' he said in a grim tone.

"Dr. Hale smiled blandly.

"'But we are not trespassers, my good man,' he said.

"'What are you then?' asked the amazed farmer.

"'We're Unitarians,' said Dr. Hale."—Washington Star.

Prison for Obstreperous Tramps.

Tramps who spend the week-end at Salisbury (England) workhouse are deprived of their clothes on Sundays and are compelled to remain all day in the cells in a shirt provided by the guardians. One tramp named Thomas demanded his clothes, and because he could not get them assaulted the porter and smashed the windows. The Salisbury magistrates sent him to prison for 21 days.

Expensive Silence.

Little four-year-old Alice was lying on the floor whining and crying steadily one afternoon, until, her father's patience exhausted, he called out to her: "Oh, stop, Alice, and I'll give you a penny."

Alice stopped only long enough to answer: "I can't stop for less than a nickel! Boohoo! Boohoo!"

A One-Part Melodrama.

"But you can't have a big scene with only one person in it.'

"Sure I can," said the star. "After a struggle with myself I throw myself over the bridge."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

It is not what he has, nor even what he does, that directly expresses the worth of a man, but what he is.—Henry F. Amiel.

A BANKER'S NERVE

Broken by Coffee and Restored by Postum.

A banker needs perfect control of the nerves, and a clear, quick, accurate brain. A prominent banker of Chattanooga tells how he keeps himself in condition:

"Up to 17 years of age I was not allowed to drink coffee, but as soon as I got out in the world I began to use it and grew very fond of it. For some years I noticed no bad effects from its use, but in time it began to affect me unfavorably. My hands trembled, the muscles of my face twitched, my mental processes seemed slow and in other ways my system got out of order. These conditions grew so bad at last that I had to give up coffee altogether.

"My attention having been drawn to Postum, I began its use on leaving off the coffee, and it gives me pleasure to testify to its value. I find it a delicious beverage; like it just as well as I did coffee, and during the years that I have used Postum I have been free from the distressing symptoms that accompanied the use of coffee. The nervousness has entirely disappeared, and I am as steady of hand as a boy of 25, though I am more than 92 years old. I owe all this to Postum." "There's a Reason." Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. Grocers sell.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

GROCERIES & HARDWARE

COLD WEATHER

Is SURE to be here soon. Are you prepared for it? Perhaps you will need a new stove before winter sets in. If so you will miss it if you don't call and inspect our line of

HEATERS AND RANGES

We have just received a new shipment and will be glad to show them to you. Call early while the assortment is complete. See the Summit Range

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

ONE PRICE CASH STORE

KLEMME, IOWA

DRUGS

A full line of patents of every manufacture. Jewelery, Wall Paper, Paints and Oils, School Supplies and Stationery.

TOILET ARTICLES

Face Powder, Talcum Powder, Sachet Powder, Face Creams, Toilet Waters, Hand Lotions.

MUSICAL GOODS

String and Brass Instruments, Edison Phonographs and Supplies. We are selling Phonographs on small weekly payments and going one better than the Chicago price by saving you the freight.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile, both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

See us when you want to buy TILE.

Northern Lumber Company

N. L. PALMER, AGENT

KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

THRESHING COAL

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Scottless and Washed Egg. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

H. C. LAU

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

LOCAL NEWS

Mesdames A. B. Shafer and N. L. Palmer were Garner visitors between trains Saturday.

Rev. Achtermann went to Thompson last Saturday where he preached on Sunday to the German Reformed congregation.

Fred Schmidt, Fred Schwartz and wife and Mrs. Otto Schmidt came up from Oelwein, Iowa, by auto last Saturday to visit at the Schmidt and Medaus homes near Klemme. They returned home Monday.

Mrs. Henry Schroeder arrived in Klemme Tuesday from Chicago to attend the Chas. Schroeder funeral. Henry is taking treatment for inflamatory rheumatism at some Springs near Chicago and was unable to be present.

H. N. Church picked a good day for his sale, the weather last Thursday being fine. The attendance was fairly good. Mr Church has rented the largest portion of his farm, retaining about forty acres for his own use.

Ell Brothers have sold their dray outfit and business to their father Phil Ell and his son Lee, and the firm name hereafter will be styled Ell & Son. We wish the new firm success. Ell Bros. will now give their full attention to their egg and poultry business.

I handle the Ball Band and the Royal Blue rubber goods in the first qualities, and am selling these goods at about the price usually charged for the second quality. Buy your winter supply of footwear for the whole family NOW. Frank Gruetzmacher.

Mrs. George Fuller, of Owasa, Iowa, who has been here the past two weeks visiting at the home of her son, Wm. Fuller, left last Saturday for Buffalo Center for a short visit with relatives. She expects to return to Klemme before going to her home at Owasa.

Four carloads of stock were shipped from this point to the Chicago market last Sunday morning. W. R. Bloem and H C. Lau each shipped a car of hogs and John A. Johnson and Wm. Lau each a car of cattle. The two last named gentlemen and Joe Miller went in with the consignment.

The R. N. A. will hold a basket social on Friday evening, Oct. 29th. at the opera house. Coffee will be served free. The ladies are planning on having some kind of a contest to enliven the occasion and guarantee a pleasant evening for all who attend. Ladies are requested to bring well filled baskets. All are invited.

MILLINERY

Latest and most approved styles

We are showing the nicest line of Stylish Millinery ever shown in our town and we want every lady in this vicinity to call and see our line.

Bear-Skin Goods

Children's Bear-skin Tams, Hoods and Caps at about half price and a large assortment to select from.

Women's and Children's Wearing Apparel

An opportunity to make your selections from a complete variety of styles such as are carried only in the large cities. As a representative of Chas. A. Stevens & Bros., Chicago, I am prepared to show you samples representing a complete stock of High-Grade Ready-to-wear for Women, Misses and Children at Exceptionally Low Prices and Satisfaction Guaranteed. Call and look over our beautiful samples.

Cloaks, Suits, Skirts, Waists, Furs, etc.,

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

The Winter Season

Is now close at hand and it calls for good, warm wearing apparel, good Shoes and Overshoes, etc. We are, as usual, prepared to furnish you with the needed articles and our prices are as low as possible, consistent with the quality of goods we furnish. We want to call your special attention to our full and complete line of

Genuine Old Fashioned Wool Flannel

Ranging in price per yard from.... 50c TO $1.50

LARGE LINE TO SELECT FROM

Outing Flannels

The kind usually sold for 10c per yard we sell for.... 8c

The kind usually sold for 12c per yard we sell for... 10c

This is no special sale, just our every-day prices.

See our complete line of Seasonable Goods.
We absolutely guarantee satisfaction.

W. J. BARZ, - Garner, Iowa

Thoroughbred Duroc Jersey Boars and Gilts For Sale

Two Strains. Sired by The Great Notcher and dams Ohio Chief; and others by Sure Money, dams Iowa Banker. This stock is first class in every respect.

——Call on or address——

J. T. GRIGGS Goodell, Iowa

German M. E. Church Items

Grandma Schwichtenberg returned last Friday from her visit in Deleware county.

E. H. Bettin has been about laid up with a carbuncle on one knee the last few days.

The Klemme Epworth League will give their temperance program in the Germantown church Sunday evening.

Wm. Sampson spent part of Saturday and Sunday in Germantown, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. A. Gast.

Miss White of Garner, spent a few days in Klemme the first of the week, the guest of Mrs. Geo Gruetzmacher.

John Josten is enjoying this brisk fall weather out in the country. He is helping Emil Bettin with his work.

Wm. Gast, Sr. expects to return to Steamboat Rock this week, and will make his home with his sister at that place this winter

If you are interested in a teachers' training class, come to the church Thursday evening. We have text books in the English and German languages.

Lydia Beier left for Kirksville, Mo., today, where she expects to take a course of treatments. Lydia has been ailing for more than a year. We hope she may find relief.

Mrs. Louis Sampson was called to Buelah, Iowa, last week, to the home of her daughter Esther, now Mrs. Klotzbach. Her husband received the glad tidings from her this week that he is grandpa to a little daughter.

Mrs. Wessel writes from Kirksville Mo., that she expects to be home in about a week. Bertha Bettin's condition was such that she had to go to the hospital for a few weeks and it will be some months before they can even hope to improve her much. Wm. Brandt expects to return home this week Saturday a cured man.

"Lanpher Sheep Lined Coats"

A NEW DUCK COAT

For the MAN or BOY Who WORKS

Made full across the shoulders—It will not bind.
Made roomy in the arm-hole—It will not pinch.
All buttons sewed on—not rivited .....
You will feel like thanking me if I sell you this splendid coat. It will fit. Price $1.00 TO $4.00

The best way to PROTECT YOUR FAMIY from sickness during the winter months is to provide each member with suitable

UNDERWEAR! We have It

For Children all ages
For Men and Women

Our 50c wool fleeced garment for men is unusually good.
Our seal lined union suits for women and children are splendid.
Buy now—WINTER is coming!

ARTHUR WELLEMEYER

About People You Know

KLEMME MARKET.

.....	45 to c
.....	34 to 35c
.....	80 to 90
.....	40 to 45c
.....	4 00 to 6.00
.....	6.00 to 6.80
.....	3.00 to 6.00

resh fruits at Kluckhohn's.

ges tested. Glasses fitted. W. F. Missman.

Miss Anna Griewe was a Garrisitor Saturday.

Geo. Sweely and wife, from nkonda. S D. are visiting at home of Byron Sweely.

John Schroeder, of Lyons, ., arrived here yesterday to end the funeral of his nephew.

Mrs. Lawrence Larsen and ildreu left last Friday for a t with relatives at Mcnona, yton county, Iowa.

Henry Lau and family and andma Lau returned Tuesday m au extended visit with rel es at East Elkport, Iowa.

Mary VanHousen returned Saturday to her home at ar Lake, after a visit here h her sister. Mrs. Albert ller.

If you are in the market for a soline engine, see us about Gade engine before purchas. Wm Schmidt or J. W. tt. 12-5*

Miss Esther Bloom spent Sunat Belmond visiting with s Bessie Ely and with her t. Mrs. J. S. Pritchard. She rned home Monday.

HENRY MANN PASSES AWAY

Word was received in Klemyesterday stating that Henry nn, former editor of this pa, had died that morning at pena, Mich., after an operan for gall stones and an ab ss on the liver This comes a sad surprise to Henry's ends here. We have heard further particulars.

Being obliged to take it for nt I will sell it out cheap;
Dr. Hess Stock Food.
Dr. Hess Poultry Panacea.
Dr. Hess Instant Louse Kill-
Dr. Hess Hog Worm Powder.
be had at G. F. Schuler's arner, Iowa.

The finest line of candies in town at Kluckhohn's. 45tf

PAY UP—Those owing the undersigned are asked to settle AT ONCE and save trouble and costs. H. Lau & Son.

The George Christie farm at Butterfield Grove southwest of here has been purchased by Harry Sandry, the deal being made through G. W. Kluckhohn.

The Epworth League of the German M. E. church is planning on giving an entertainment in the opera house about the middle of November. Particulars later.

C. P. Ell and wife were called to Thornton last Saturday on account of the death of Mrs Ell's sister, Miss Ada Sweely, who died following an operation for appendicitis. The funeral was held Monday. Byron Sweely and wife were also over to attend the funeral.

THE GRIM REAPER CALLS TWO RESPECTED CITIZENS

CHARLEY SCHROEDER

After several weeks of intense suffering, Charley Schroeder passed to the Great Beyond last Sunday evening, October 17th, at about half past six o'clock—aged 32 years, 8 months and 18 days. The cause of death was lost compensation of the heart and complications.

Carl Herman Christof Schroeder was born in Barnstedt, Westphalia, Germany, on January 29th, 1877. In 1883, when he was six years old, his parents emigrated to America, and first settled at Itzen, Minnesota, and here Carl received his education, was confirmed, and grew to manhood. In 1896 the Schroeder family moved to Klemme, Iowa, where they engaged in business

Carl was united in marriage to Miss Lena Barz on October 8th, 1902. To this union one child, a daughter, was born. Carl farmed in this vicinity for six years, and until last spring, when he had to give up farming because of ill health. He then moved to Garner where he engaged in the butcher business with his father. His health failed so rapidly, however, that he was compelled to quit work entirely.

About two months ago he went to Chicago to take treatment in a hospital, but was only able to obtain temporary relief. About three weeks ago he returned to Klemme where he remained at the H. C. Lau home up to the time of his death. Here loving hands ministered to his every want until the end.

Deceased leaves a loving wife, a three-year-old daughter, a mother and father, one sister and one brother, besides other relatives and many friends, to mourn his early demise. The funeral was held yesterday at one o'clock from the German Reformed church, Rev. Achterman conducting the last sad rites. Interment was made in the Klemme cemetery.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved ones in their affliction.

AUGUST WENZ

August Wenz was born May 26, 1862, near Elkport, Clayton county, Iowa. When a boy about twelve years of age his parents moved to Hancock county where he spent his youthful days on the farm. His education having been neglected in the proper time, he started to college when most men think it is too late, but he succeeded. The greater part of seven years was spent seeking after knowledge. As he had to make his own way, he did janitor work during the school months and his vacations he spent at the carpenter trade. His honesty, straightforwardness and unselfishness endeared him to all the students, and seemingly, everyone knew and remembers August Wenz.

Some eight years ago he returned to Klemme as an employe of E. L. Schaub. When the latter sold his business to Arthur Wellemeyer he remained with the new firm. In this business relation August again made many friends and was a favorite with the farmers especially. He was always to be found at his place of duty from early morning till late at night. The close confinement undoubtedly had much to do with the breaking down of his health. Since early spring he was ailing, but went on with his work till the fore part of July. He then set out to take a vacation and hoped in a short time to regain his health. He spent several weeks in Charles City, the guest of Rev. Henke and family, took in the Chautauqua and placed himself under a physician's care. He had planned to return to Klemme, but feeling worse, he went to the home of a sister, Mrs. W. Wright of Britt, who most tenderly cared for him to the end. His condition was in no wise considered alarming. Only a few days before his death he had planned with Rev. Wessel to have him take him to some hospital where he might receive treatment for his stomach trouble. Not until last Wednesday did he seem to realize his true condition. Then he asked his sister if she knew how one felt when death came on, and a little later he remarked that his hands felt so numb. When his sister tried to open his watch but could not, he said, "Let me show you how to open it," but as he took the watch he could not tell which was the front side. This seemed to astonish him and he said, "Everything looks so different to me in the room." When the doctor stepped into the room towards evening, his first remark was, "Doctor, I am dying." Slowly his strength gave way and at about 10 o'clock Wednesday evening he peacefully fell asleep to wake no more.

On Friday his remains were brought to Klemme and the funeral services were held on Saturday forenoon from the German M. E. church. Long before the appointed time the church was packed and many failed to get in. For ten miles around people had come in to attend the services. Every place of business was closed and nearly every family in town was represented at the services. Elmer Arnold, Aug. Schuldt, Leonard Sampson, Emil Beier, Roy Schaefer and Herm Gast acted as pallbearers, and Edgar Zinn and Frank Wenck as honorary pallbearers.

The floral offerings were very beautiful. The Sunday School furnished a pillow with the inscription: "Our S. S Superintendent." The business men contributed a "Broken Wheel." Rev. Henke and wife of Charles City an Anchor, Arthur Wellemeyer a variety of roses and carnations, and Mr. and Mrs. Henschen of Garner, a wreath.

Besides a host of admiring friends, deceased leaves to mourn his loss, an aged father, two brothers and two sisters.

W. R. BLOOM
Buyer and Shipper of
Grain and Live Stock
Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.
Stock wanted 6 days in the week

Pictures
See me when you want a
Photograph
All kinds—inside or outdoor views. I make a specialty of photo postal cards, 75 cents a dozen. Good work at reasonable prices.
JOE MILLER, KLEMME IOWA

JOHN GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Headquarters for part of Heinz' Fifty-Seven Varieties, and Pickling Vinegar.
Try these goods; they are fine.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in

RESTAURANT
Nicest Line of Candies in Town.
Fresh home made Bakery goods every day.
The best place in town to get a square meal for 25c.
Orangeade, Soft Drinks and Ice Cream.
A. Kirkwood & Son

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor

When you go to Chicago it's worth while to land at La Salle Station, in the heart of the city—right down town, within a few minutes' walking distance of

THE WHOLESALE CENTER
THE BANKING CENTER
THE SHOPPING CENTER
THE HOTEL CENTER
THE THEATER CENTER.

La Salle Station
ROCK ISLAND LINES
CHICAGO TERMINAL

is the only railway station on the elevated railway loop, the finest, most commodious and best-equipped station in Chicago.

Among the features that make La Salle Station a model of its kind are the handsome and convenient woman's parlor, with maid, nearby telegraph and telephone booths, baggage and parcel rooms and an excellent restaurant.

On your next trip East take the Rock Island and land in La Salle Station.

Time tables and information on request.

G. TRENHAILE, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

Col. J. J. Wilson
MESERVEY, IOWA
LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEER
Dates made at either bank in Klemme, Iowa. Terms reasonable.

DOCTORS
GEO. ZINN EDGAR ZINN
Office: State Savings Bank
Phone No. 19
KLEMME - - IOWA

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Phone No. 11. Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to calls day or night.
Eyes tested. Glasses fitted.

W. E. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner : : Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

TO IMPROVE RIVER

Waterways Conference Delegates to Work for Iowa.

MILLER GOES TO NEW ORLEANS

Prof. Stevenson and Senator Frudden Also Delegates to the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterway Association Meeting.

Des Moines, Oct. 16.—At the regular meeting of the East Des Moines Commercial league, A. C. Miller was appointed delegate of the association to the annual convention of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterways association to be held in New Orleans October 30 and November 1 and 2. Mr. Miller, as chairman of the Iowa State waterways and conservation commission, had earlier in the day appointed Prof. W. H. Stevenson, instructor of drainage and waterways subjects in the state agricultural college and Senator A. F. Frudden of Dubuque as the Iowa delegates to the convention. All three men are members of the state commission and are thoroughly interested in the project to open up a navigable stream from the great lakes to the gulf.

But the special object of Mr. Miller and his associates will be to obtain a recognition of the Des Moines river as a part of the upper Mississippi river project. They will do their best to have this stream included in the scheme of improvements which is planned.

"Many years ago," said Mr. Miller, "the Des Moines river was covered with all sorts of craft doing an immense business in carrying freight. With proper care and scientific endeavor this traffic could be restored and the city would take its place as one of the greatest shipping centers of the northwest.

"As fast as laws governing freight rates on the railroads are made a way is found by the shrewd lawyers to evade them. Were the Des Moines river opened to navigation such a formidable competition would be afforded that the officials of the roads could no longer ignore the demands that their rates be lowered.

"Every year in this city there is a time when the railroads become congested and the shippers are made to suffer for carelessness. Such a time is now on us. Were the river opened much of the business would be taken out of the hands of the railroads and the congestion would be relieved. Therefore the whole city should get behind this movement."

Postal Inspector Discusses Duties.

People who lead double lives—those who are possessed of dual personalities—generally have two postoffice boxes and receive their mail under two names.

The white slave traffic would not be so great if parents would prevent postmasters from giving out mail to young girls at general delivery windows.

These are a few of the facts which came out in the address of Postoffice Inspector Robert B. Mundel before the annual meeting of the first, second and third class postmasters of Iowa in the county building at Des Moines.

Inspector Mundel, whose chief business is the inspection of registered mail, was a member of the committee of the postoffice department staff which drew up the new laws regarding registered mail. His address was one of the most instructive talks ever delivered before the postmasters of Iowa.

"When you know anyone named Smith and he has two boxes and receives mail under his own name and the name of Jones, report the case to the third assistant postmaster general," said Inspector Mundel. "In many cases these persons are practicing frauds and it pays to have an investigation. However, in most cases it has developed that these people are living double lives and have a box for each life."

Convention Comes to Des Moines.

The 1910 Iowa State Convention of the Court of Honor has been secured for Des Moines. It will be held the first week in February. A great campaign for a class of 1,000 for initiation at that time is now on in full force. Frank Johnson has been appoitned city manager.

State Library's Books.

State Librarian Brigham has placed orders for new books for the state library costing about $900. They include a large collection of current literature and several works of a more permanent nature, which are purchased for reference purposes only.

Trashy Reading Cause of Crime.

"Many of the criminals of the world today come to lead their lives of lawlessness, of shame and of ferocity, because in their younger days, they were given no opportunity to read the better books by the master minds, but instead had thrust under their noses the vicious trash, bound in paper and printed on the coarsest fiber."

This was the lament uttered by J. F. Newton of Cedar Rapids, in addressing the members of the librarians' convention in session at the public library of Des Moines. He was speaking on the influence which books have upon the lives of people.

"On the other hand," continued Mr. Newton, "cases abound all down the ages of young men and women, reared in an atmosphere of crime and of vice, who have been lifted above the limits of their environment by the chance picking up of some volume containing the magic words which delivered a message of truth."

With the passion of honest conviction ringing in his voice, he said that the works of Emerson, of Browning and others of the greater writers had furnished the inspiration for many a noble life.

Twelve New Attorneys.

Twelve applicants for certificates admitting them to the bar and to the practice of law were successful, according to the announcement made by the state board of law examiners. The names of the twelve successful applicants are Agnes Te Paske of Sioux Center, E. B. Mount of Des Moines, H. R. Mosnat of Belle Plaine, Edward A. Schmidt of Oskaloosa, L. A. McIntosh of Iowa City, George Durward Long of Lyons, Frank M. Beatty of Sigourney, Thomas A. E. Lally of Denison, Sylvan L. Olson of Forest City, Arthur J. Palas of Des Moines, John Scott Hamilton of Fort Madison, Clyde C. Coyle of Humboldt.

Fairs Get More Money.

Each of ten Iowa fairs will receive nearly $300 more from the state this year than formerly, under the new law increasing their appropriation. As amended the law extends the limit of the amount of state aid that can be extended the county fairs from $200 to $300. They are paid 40 per cent of their premium list up to $500 and ten per cent of the total premiums if they are over $500. All but two of the ten fairs receiving state aid were given increased appropriations this year as a result of the new law, the total increase being $297.38. The total amount paid to all of them was $2,200.94.

Would Have Courts Rule.

Whether a county superintendent has the power to prevent school boards from employing teachers without state certificates is a question which State Superintendent Riggs would like to have decided by the courts. He received a letter from a county superintendent who wants to know what he can do to compel the directors in one of his districts to hire a teacher who has a certificate. The state superintendent is vested with power to compel school boards to employ only licensed teachers.

Benefit for Mrs. Delmege.

The benefit for Mrs. Frank Delmege and children at the Empire theatre was a huge success, the house being packed. Vocal and instrumental numbers proved highly entertaining to the audience, who had come to pay tribute to the memory of Des Moines' beloved city detective who fell trying to enforce the law. From a financial standpoint the benefit proved all that its promoters had hoped, as almost $3,000 was realized, which will be turned over to Mrs. Delmege.

Widow of Wreck Victim Gets Money.

Mrs. Alice McCourty, widow of the late Peter S. McCourty, the street car motorman, who was killed in the collision between his car and an interurban train, has received a check for $3,500 in settlement for the damage suit which she was about to file against the companies. The interurban company paid one-half of the amount and the street car company the other.

Railroad Making Money.

The annual report of the Manchester & Oneida Railroad company, filed with the state railroad commission, shows that in the year ending June 30,1909, no passenger was killed or injured. The operating revenues of the company were $22,437.96, and the expenses were $13,382.63, leaving a net revenue of $9,055.33.

Lenora Owens Weds in Secret.

Quietly slipping away to Chicago, ostensibly for a visit, Miss Lenora Owens of 935 Fourth street was married there to Charles C. Brantingham of Washington, D. C.

Postal Receipts Show Big Gain.

Des Moines postal receipts for September, 1909, were $58,412.49, an increase of $3,045.58 over the same month last year. This is a gain of 5.5 per cent.

PAYNE FOUND DEAD

Federal Land Office Registrar Turned On Gas and Died.

LAST SEEN ALIVE WEDNESDAY

Deceased Had Lived in Des Moines For Many Years and Had Been Prominent as Expert Accountant.

Des Moines, Oct. 16.—J. J. Payne, aged 70, well known resident of Des Moines, and federal land registrar, was found dead in the house at 827 Seventh street, where he has lived alone for a year or more with every indication pointing to a suicide as the cause of death. The body was in a state of semi-decomposition which indicated that life had been extinct at least two days. Payne was last seen alive Wednesday afternoon.

A. G. Loring, a man connected with Mr. Payne in business dealings, became alarmed at his continued absence. With A. M. Foster, a neighbor, the two men burst into the house and made the ghastly find when they entered the kitchen. The dead man had evidently made preparations for his death, as a number of cushions and some bed clothing were formed into a bed where the body lay.

The gas stove near-by had two burners wide open, but as the meter is a prepaid meter the gas had run out, and there was but little gas in the room.

Since his wife died about a year ago Payne has lived alone, practically isolated from human fellowship, in the great house. Neighbors say that since the day of his wife's funeral he has been a changed man. From a once strong man enjoying life and looking forward to each new day with hope he became a reticent, secretive person who seldom stirred from his house except to attend to his duties as land registrar.

He employed no servants in his house, but did his own cooking and performed the various household duties.

Mr. Payne was at one time an expert accountant and bookkeeper, and during one of the city campaigns under the old administration made an effort to secure the appointment as city clerk under the old soldiers' preference law.

Mr. Payne was the father of Mrs. Edith Payne-Parsons. She left the city some time ago, and it is understood that she took up her residence on the Pacific coast.

BOOST FOR IOWA CARRIERS

Many Mail Carriers of the State Given Advance in Salary by Uncle Sam.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—Increases of salary have been granted Iowa letter carriers as follows: Algona, Martin J. McCall, Walter S. Reed and Arthur A. Smith, $600 to $900; Ames, Edwin L. Ellis, Elmer A. Greenlee and William A. Beser, $800 to $900; Davenport, Conrad M. Heescher, $900 to $1,000; Dubuque, David A. Putman and Herbert T. Weller, $800 to $900; Marshalltown, George A. Gregory, $600 to $800; Shenandoah, William G. Rubey, $900 to $1,000; Sioux City, A. W. W. Johnson, $900 to $1,000; Reginald P. Young, $800 to $900; Webster City, F. M. Doty, $900 to $1,000.

Additional carriers have been appointed for Iowa cities as follows: Council Bluffs, Marion R. Butes and Clarence E. Weaver, $600; Ottumwa, Carl E. Collings and Oliver O. Rogers, $600. Additional substitute carriers appointed are: Anamosa, John R. Fagon; Spencer, David F. Paulson.

Rural route carriers named for Iowa are: Correctionville, John H. Stubbs vice Arthur J. Handley, substitute, Annie Stubbs; Graettinger, Ward H. Noble vice Edward B. Merriman; Dexter, Sherman S. Lewellen vice Clyde B. Williams, substitute, Alice V. Lewellen.

New Clue in Murrow Case.

Des Moines, Oct. 16—The Polk county grand jury has received new clues in the Charles E. Murrow murder mystery. This developed yesterday when the jury failed to make a report in the case, though it had examined all the witnesses who were before the coroner's jury and all the witnesses whom the officers have thus far found to know anything of the case. Just what the new clues point to or of what importance they are, and whether they change the whole phase of the case is not known, but it is certain that the grand jurors will resume investigations into the tragedy Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the brand new evidence will be submitted then.

FOR DEAR TEACHER.

"You're a dear, sweet little boy to take flowers to your teacher!"

"Yes'm. An' I sprinkled lots of pepper on 'em, so she'll sneeze real hard when she smells 'em!"

AS SOON BE WITHOUT MATCHES AS WITHOUT RESINOL IN THE HOUSE.

Resinol is the never failing article resorted to by my wife for the many bruises, chafings, cuts, burns and accidents of the children and has been our cure-all for years. I have used it in cases of irritation and inflammation and have invariably been relieved almost instantly. We would as soon think of being without matches in our house as without Resinol Ointment.

B. Rush Davenport, Philadelphia, Pa.

Tuberculosis Among Soldiers

For 1,000 active troops in the armies of the great world powers, the following figures show the percentage of cases of pulmonary tuberculosis: United States, 4.72; Great Britain and colonies, 2.4; France, 5.3; Germany, 1.5; Austria, 1.0, and Russia, 2.7.

Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna

acts gently yet promptly on the bowels; cleanses the system effectually; assists one in overcoming habitual constipation permanently.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SOLD BY LEADING DRUGGISTS 50¢ A BOTTLE

Des Moines Directory

Our Men Make Big Money

Selling trees during Fall and Winter. Why don't you do the same? We want five men to represent us in your county. Steady employment for farmers or experienced salesmen. Must be hustlers. Handsome outfit free. Pay weekly. Our Nursery is well known and stock easy to sell. 25 years in the business. Reference: Any Bank in Des Moines. Write today.

Des Moines Nursery Co., Dept. A, Des Moines, Ia.

Machinery Machine Shop and Foundry. Largest stock of used machinery in Iowa. Engines, Boilers, Steam Pumps, Belting, Shafting, Hangers, etc., bought and sold. American Iron Works, 213-223 E. First St., Des Moines, Iowa

The Best Kind Of Life Insurance is health insurance. The best way to insure the health of your family when any member gets in a "run-down" condition, is to use a tonic that removes the cause of the ill-health. Such a tonic is

DR. D. JAYNE'S TONIC VERMIFUGE

A "run down" condition is generally due to the failure of the digestive organs to properly digest the food. Dr. D. Jayne's Vermifuge tones up the digestive organs so that they supply the body with proper nourishment, and in this way bring about lasting health. Ordinary tonics simply supply food material in predigested form, and consequently are only effective as long as the tonic is taken.

Sold by all Druggists—two sizes, 50c and 35c.

Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant has been relieving and curing Coughs, Colds, and similar ailments for nearly four generations.

The Rayo LAMP

Is a low priced lamp. There are lamps that cost more but there is no better lamp made at any price. It is made upon scientific principles. There is nothing in lamp making that can add to the value of the

RAYO

Every dealer everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

STANDARD OIL COMPANY (Incorporated)

DEFIANCE STARCH—16 ounces to the package—other starches only 12 ounces—same price and "DEFIANCE" IS SUPERIOR QUALITY.

Have Heat Brought To You

When your bed-room, bath-room or dining room is chilly, you may have heat brought to you in just the degree you desire. It is easy when you have a

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

available. Place the heater where the cold is most annoying, strike a match.

No fuss—no flurry—no smell—and, above all, no smoke, even though you turn the wick as high as it will go.

The temperature runs up quickly. In ten minutes the average sized room glows with cheer and comfort that genial heat brings—the heat that is smokeless and odorless.

Automatic Smokeless Device

which automatically locks and absolutely prevents smoke, by keeping the wick out of the smoke zone, is on the Perfection only.

The solid brass font holds four quarts, which gives a full-head flame for nine hours.

Flame burns from side of wick instead of from the top. The brass wick carrier does not rust and clog the wick. Damper top, cool handle.

Aluminum metal window frames that heat cannot tarnish. Japan or nickel finish. Various styles and finishes.

Every Dealer Everywhere. If Not At Yours, Write for Descriptive Circular to the Nearest Agency of the STANDARD OIL COMPANY (Incorporated)

DENIES ALL CLAIM

PEARY OUTSPOKEN IN REGARD TO COOK'S JOURNEY

Naval Officer Insists That the Doctor Did Not and Could Not Reach the North Pole, as He Says He Did.

(Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1909, by the Peary Arctic club, in the office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, D. C.)

New York, Oct. 12.—The following statement of Commander Robert E. Peary, which he submitted to the Peary Arctic club in support of his contention that Dr. Cook did not reach the north pole, is now made public for the first time. The statement has been copyrighted by the Peary Arctic club.

INTRODUCTION BY PEARY.

Some of my reasons for saying that Dr. Cook did not go to the north pole will be understood by those who read the following statements of the two Eskimo boys who went with him, and who told me and others of my party where he did go. Several Eskimos who started with Dr. Cook from Anoratok in February, 1908, were at Etah when I arrived there in August, 1908. They told me that Dr. Cook had with him, after they left, two Eskimo boys, or young men, two sledges and some twenty dogs. The boys were I-took-a-shoo and Ah-pe-lah. I had known them from their childhood One was about eighteen and the other about nineteen years of age.

On my return from Cape Sheridan and at the very first settlement I touched (Nerke, near Cape Chalon) in August, 1909, and nine days before reaching Etah, the Eskimos told me, in a general way, where Dr. Cook had been; that he had wintered in Jones Sound, and that he had told the white men at Etah that he had been a long way north, but that the boys who were with him, I-took-a-shoo and Ah-pe-lah, said that this was not so. The Eskimos laughed at Dr. Cook's story. On reaching Etah, I talked with the Eskimos there and with the two boys and asked them to describe Dr. Cook's journey to members of my party and myself. This they did in the manner stated below.

(Signed) R. E. PEARY.

Signed Statement of Peary, Bartlett, McMillan, Borup and Henson, in Regard to Testimony of Cook's Two Eskimo Boys.

The two Eskimo boys, I-took-a-shoo and Ah-pe-lah, who accompanied Dr. Cook while he was away from Anoratok in 1908 and 1909, were questioned separately and independently, and were corroborated by Panikpah, the father of one of them (I-took-a-shoo), who was personally familiar with the first third and the last third of their journey, and who said that the route for the remaining third, as shown by them, was as described to him by his son after his return with Dr. Cook.

The narrative of these Eskimos is as follows:

They, with Dr. Cook, Francke and nine other Eskimos, left Anoratok, crossed Smith's Sound to Cape Sabine, slept in Commander Peary's old house in Payer Harbor, then went through Nice strait to Buchanan bay. After a few marches Francke and three Eskimos returned to Anoratok.

Dr. Cook, with the others, then proceeded up Flagler bay, a branch of Buchanan bay, and crossed Ellesmere Land through the valley pass at the head of Flagler bay, indicated by Commander Peary in 1898, and utilized by Sverdrup in 1899, to the head of Sverdrup's "Bay Fiord" on the west side of Ellesmere Land.

Their route then lay out through this fiord, thence north through Sverdrup's "Heuerka Sound" and Nansen strait.

On their way they killed musk oxen and bear, and made caches, arriving eventually at a point on the west side of Nansen strait (shore of Axel Heiberg Land of Sverdrup), south of Cape Thomas Hubbard.

A cache was formed here and the four Eskimos did not go beyond this point. Two others, Koolootingwah and Inughito, went on one more march with Dr. Cook and the two boys, helped to build the snow igloo then returned without sleeping.

After being informed of the boys' narrative thus far, Commander Peary suggested a series of questions to be put to the boys in regard to this trip from the land out and back to it.

These questions and answers were as follows:

Did they cross many open lands or much open water during this time? Ans. None.

Did they make any caches out on the ice? Ans. No.

Did they kill any bear or seal while out on the ice north of Cape Thomas Hubbard? Ans. No.

Did they kill or lose any of their dogs while out on the ice? Ans. No.

With how many sledges did they start? Ans. Two.

How many dogs did they have? Ans. Do not remember exactly, but something over twenty.

How many sledges did they have when they got back to land? Ans. Two.

Did they have any provisions left on their sledges when they came back to land? Ans. Yes; the sledges still had about all they could carry, so they were able to take but a few things from the cache.

From here they went southwest along the northwest coast of Heiberg Land to a point indicated on the map (Sverdrup's Cape Northwest).

From here they went west across the ice, which was level and covered with snow, offering good going, to a low island which they had seen from the shore of Heiberg Land at Cape Northwest. On this island they camped for one sleep.

From this island they could see two lands beyond (Sverdrup's Ellef Ringnes and Amund Ringnes Lands). From the island they journeyed toward the left-hand one of these two lands (Amund Ringes Land), passing a small island which they did not visit.

The answers of the Eskimo boys to Commander Peary's series of independent questions, showing that they killed no game, made no caches, lost no dogs, and returned to the land with loaded sledges, makes their attainment of the pole on the trip north of Cape Thomas Hubbard a physical and mathematical impossibility, as it would demand the subsistence of three men and over twenty dogs during a journey of ten hundred and forty geographical miles on less than two sledge loads of supplies

If it is suggested that perhaps Dr. Cook got mixed and that he reached the pole, or thought he did, between the time of leaving the northwest coast of Heiberg Land at Cape Northwest, and his arrival at Ringnes Land, where they killed the deer, we must then add to the date of Dr. Cook's letter of March 17th, at or near Cape Thomas Hubbard, the subsequent four or five sleeps at that point, and the number of days required to march from Cape Thomas Hubbard to Cape Northwest (a distance of some sixty nautical miles), which would advance his date of departure from the land to at least the 25th of March, and be prepared to accept the claim that Dr. Cook went from Cape Northwest (about latitude eighty and a half degrees north) to the pole, a distance of five hundred and seventy geographical miles, in twenty-seven days.

After killing the deer they then traveled south along the east side of Ringnes Land to the point indicated on the chart, where they killed another deer.

They then went east across the south part of Crown Prince Gustav sea to the south end of Heiberg Land, then down through Norwegian bay, where they secured some bears, but not until after they had killed some of their dogs, to the east side of Graham Island; then eastward to the little bay marked "Eid's Fiord" on Sverdrup's chart; then southwest to Hell's Gate and Simmon's peninsula.

Here for the first time during the entire journey, except as already noted off Cape Thomas H. Hubbard, they encountered open water. On this point the boys were clear, emphatic, and unshakable. They spent a good deal of time in this region, and finally abandoned their dogs and one sledge, took to their boat, crossed Hell's Gate to North Kent, up into Norfolk Inlet, then back along the north coast of Colin Archer Peninsula to Cape Vera, where they obtained fresh eider duck eggs. Here they cut the remaining sledge off, that is shortened it, as it was awkward to transport with the boat, and near here they killed a walrus.

From Cape Vera they went on down into the southwest angle of Jones Sound, where they killed a seal; thence east along the south coast of the sound, killing three bears at the point noted on the map, to the peninsula known as Cape Sparbo on the map, about midway on the south side of Jones Sound. Here they killed some musk-oxen and, continuing east, killed four more at the place indicated on the chart, and were finally stopped by the pack ice at the mouth of Jones Sound. From here they turned back to Cape Sparbo, where they wintered and killed many musk-oxen.

After the sun returned in 1909 they started, pushing their sledge, across Jones Sound to Cape Tennyson; thence along the coast to Clarence Head; (passing inside of two small islands not shown on the chart, but drawn on it by the boys), where they killed a bear; thence across the broad bight in the coast to Cadogan Fiord; thence around Cape Isabella and up to Commander Peary's old house in Payer Harbor near Cape Sabine, where they found a seal cached for them by Panikpah, I-took-a-shoo's father. From here they crossed Smith Sound on the ice, arriving at Anoratok.

(Signed) R. E. PEARY, U. S. N.
ROBERT A. BARTLETT,
Master S. S. Roosevelt.
D. B. M'MILLAN,
GEORGE BORUP,
MATTHEW A. HENSON.

(S450 D)

LEFT THEIR SEATS HASTILY

Fair School Teachers Blissfully Unaware of Contents of Box on Which They Rested.

"While in Paris this summer another girl and I went out to Versailles one afternoon," said a school teacher who had just returned from abroad. "It was dusk when we reached the railway station, and as there was no waiting room we sat down on two crates that were out on the platform among a lot of others. We noticed that the station employes kept staring at us with a persistence that was annoying. Presently a man in a shabby uniform with a bucket on his arm approached us. He touched his cap deferentially and said—in French, of course:

"'Mesdames, pray do not let me disturb you, but I am forced to open the boxes on which you are seated in order to feed the boa constrictor and other serpents that are within.'

"When we recovered from our fright we found we had been seated in the midst of a huge collection of snakes that had just arrived from their native jungles en route for the zoo near Versailles."

BABY'S WATERY ECZEMA.

Itched and Scratched Until Blood Ran —$50 Spent on Useless Treatments —Disease Seemed Incurable.

Cured by Cuticura for $1.50.

"When my little boy was two and a half months old he broke out on both cheeks with eczema. It was the itchy, watery kind and we had to keep his little hands wrapped up all the time, and if he would happen to get them uncovered he would claw his face till the blood streamed down on his clothing. We called in a physician at once, but he gave an ointment which was so severe that my babe would scream when it was put on. We changed doctors and medicine until we had spent fifty dollars or more and baby was getting worse. I was so worn out watching and caring for him night and day that I almost felt sure the disease was incurable. But finally reading of the good results of the Cuticura Remedies, I determined to try them. I can truthfully say I was more than surprised, for I bought only a dollar and a half's worth of the Cuticura Remedies (Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills), and they did more good than all my doctors' medicines I had tried, and in fact entirely cured him. His face is perfectly clear of the least spot or scar of anything. Mrs. W. M. Comerer, Burnt Cabins, Pa., Sept. 15, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

POOR BOY.

"Dear me! Why do you cry so bitterly?"

"I'm cryin' 'cause I'm so wicked dat I'm goin' ter play hookey, instead of goin' ter school, boo hoo!"

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A girl never feels more important than when she is getting married, and a man never looks more inconspicuous.

The highest medical authority on foods,

Sir James Crichton Browne, LL. D.—F. R. S. of London, gives the best reasons for eating more

Quaker Oats

In an article published in the Youth's Companion of September 23rd, 1909, Dr. Browne, the great medical authority on foods, says, about brain and muscle building—

"There is one kind of food that seems to me of marked value as a food to the brain and to the whole body throughout childhood and adolescence (youth), and that is oatmeal.

"Oats are the most nutritious of all the cereals, being richer in fats, organic phosphorus and lecithins."

He says oatmeal is gaining ground with the well-to-do of Great Britain. He speaks of it as the mainstay of the Scottish laborer's diet and says it produces a big-boned, well-developed, mentally energetic race.

His experiments prove that good oatmeal such as Quaker Oats not only furnishes the best food for the human being, but eating it strengthens and enlarges the thyroid gland—this gland is intimately connected with the nourishing processes of the body.

In conclusion he says—"It seems probable therefore that the bulk and brawniness of the Northerners (meaning the Scotch) has been in some measure due to the stimulation of the thyroid gland by oatmeal porridge in childhood."

The Scotch eat Quaker Oats because it is the best of all oatmeals.

How She Knew.

The cartoonist's wife was talking to a friend.

"I just know Fred didn't want to work at the office last night," she said.

"Why, how do you know?" was asked.

"Because in his sleep he said: 'Well, I'll stay, but I don't want to draw.'"—Lippincott's Magazine.

In case of pain on the lungs Hamlins Wizard Oil acts like a mustard plaster, except that it is more effective and is so much nicer and cleaner to use.

What can harm us if we are true to ourselves and to what we think is right?—Black.

YELLOW CLOTHES ARE UNSIGHTLY. Keep them white with the new RUSS BLUE. Get the genuine. 5cts., at grocers.

It is daily life that tests us—the manner of men we are.—Max Muller.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

To the good the world is very good; to the bad it is bad.—Smiles.

Dr. Pierce's pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take.

Money talks, but it often fails to tell the truth.

WE SELL GUNS AND TRAPS CHEAP N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

Don't get rusty and you won't squeak.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

Up-Set Sick Feeling

that follows taking a dose of castor oil, salts or calomel, is about the worst you can endure—Ugh—it gives one the creeps. You don't have to have it—CASCARETS move the bowels—tone up the liver—without these bad feelings. Try them. 911

CASCARETS 10c a box for a week's treatment, all druggists. Biggest seller in the world. Million boxes a month.

Cheap Homes for the Million

Along the

Kansas City Southern Ry.

In Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana.

Write for copy of "Current Events" Gulf Coast Book, etc., to

F. E. ROESLER, Land Commissioner, K. C. S. Ry.
KANSAS CITY, MO.

INVEST If you have corns, callous feet, cold feet, rough elbows, hangnails, wrinkles in neck or face, learn simplest way to get rid of them by sending one dollar (in paper currency) to Miss Jane, Box 233, Courtland, Arizona.

LIVE STOCK AND MISCELLANEOUS ELECTROTYPES
In great variety for sale at the lowest prices by WESTERN NEWSPAPER UNION, 554 W. Adams St., Chicago

For Cold in Chest, Neuralgia, Backache A-B-C LINIMENT All Dealers.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM---it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, In Plain English; or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, paper-bound, sent for 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO, Quincy, Illinois.

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

The City Dray Line

We wish to announce that we have purchased the dray line from Ell Bros. and ask a continuation of your valued patronage. We will do all hauling entrusted to us promptly and carefully. Give us a trial.

ELL & SON, Klemme, Iowa

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

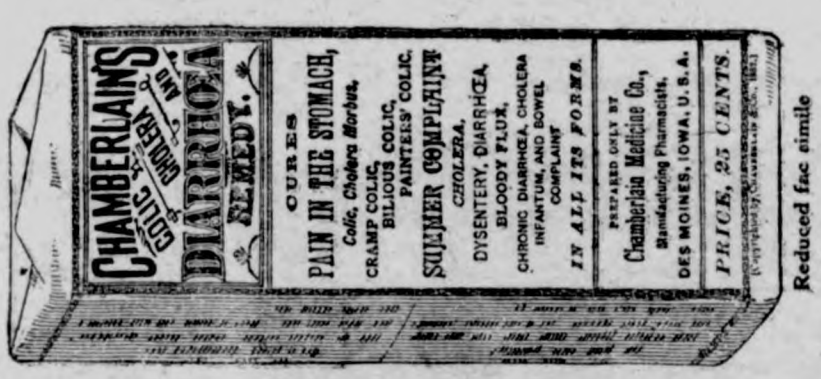
G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy

Acknowledged everywhere to be the most successful medicine in use for Bowel Complaints. Can be depended upon in the most severe and dangerous cases.

REMEMBER ALWAYS CURES CURES QUICKLY

MONEY RETURNED IF NOT SATISFIED



Reduced fac simile

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

Notice of Levy of Special Execution

State of Iowa, Hancock County, } ss

First National Bank of Belmond, Plaintiff. AGAINST H. W. Schoper, Anna Schoper, H. L. Suckow, Taldine Suckow, and Rock Island Plow Co., Defendants. } Notice to Defendants

To H. W. Schoper, Anna Schoper, H. L. Suckow Taldine Suckow, and Rock Island Plow Co.,

Sirs: You are hereby notified that, by virtue of a Special execution issued by the Clerk of the District Court of Hancock County, in the above entitled cause, to me directed, I have levied upon as your property, the following described real estate, to-wit: Lots Three (3) and Four (4) in Block Ten (10) in the original town of Klemme, Hancock County, Iowa, and I have advertised the same to be sold on the 27th day of October, A. D. 1909, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the front door of the Court House in Garner, Hancock County, Iowa.

Witness my official signature this 25th day of September, A. D. 1909.

JOHN SUURBALLE,
Sheriff of Hancock County, Iowa.

Notice of Levy of Special Execution in Attachment

State of Iowa, Hancock County, } ss

First National Bank of Klemme, Iowa, Plaintiff, AGAINST Charles Kuskie, Fred Wacker, et al, Defendants. } Notice to Defendants

To Charles Kuskie, C. W. Kuskie, Fred Wacker, et al:

Sirs: You are hereby notified that, by virtue of a Special Execution in attachment issued by the Clerk of the District Court of Hancock County, in the above entitled cause, to me directed, I have levied upon as your property, the following described personal property, to-wit: One sorrell mare, with white face and about seven years old; Five cows owned by C. W. Kuskie, as follows: One red with some white spots, two red with some white under belly, and two red with white faces; Also, the undivided two-thirds of about twenty acres of corn standing in the field on SW¼ 14-95-23, also about fifteen acres of oats raised on said land; And I have advertised the same to be sold on the 22nd day of October, A. D. 1909, at 10 o'clock, A. M., at the Fred Wacker premises, being SE¼ 15-95-23, Hancock Co. Iowa.

Witness my official signature this 21st day of September, A. D. 1909.

JOHN SUURBALLE,
Sheriff of Hancock County, Iowa.

The Bed-Rock of Success

lies in a keen, clear brain, backed by indomitable will and resistless energy Such power comes from the splendid health that Dr. King's New Life Pills impart. They vitalize every organ and build up brain and body. J. A. Harmon, Lizemore, W. Va., writes: "They are the best pills I ever used." 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

A Radical Departure

There never was a time in the history of the world when good stories and articles could command such large prices as they do today. It is an extremely expensive thing to publish a high-class magazine nowadays, filled with the best products of the most famous authors and artists.

Yet together with its many attractive features The Chicago Record-Herald furnishes its readers with its Sunday Magazine section that compares favorably with the best weeklies and monthlies, and has some merits peculiar to itself. The most famous writers and illustrators contribute to it. Some of the choicest novels of the year are published serially in its columns before they see the light in book form. The best new humorist since Mr. Dooley began writing is a regular contributor to its columns alone. To furnish such a magazine with every copy of a Sunday newspaper is an amazing venture, yet the experiment has proved a complete success and is now firmly established.

Frightful Fate Averted.

"I would have been a cripple for life from a terrible cut on my knee cap," writes Frank Disberry, Kellihef, Minn. "without Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which soon cured me." Infallible for wounds, cuts and bruises; it soon cures burns, scalds, old sores, boils, skin eruptions. World's best for piles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Books — Letter Heads
Pamphlets — Envelopes

Everything printed from

TYPE

At the Times office.

Cards — Bill Heads
Invitations — Posters

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOW

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE. Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fi... d. ys tr atment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund m... All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medic nes used... detention from business. Patients at a distan e treated by mail a... p. ess. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Ch... low. Thous nds of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. ... sultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or ... to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men. The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the ... harmful instruments. Our b... fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scro... causing nervous debility, wea... of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease i... its stages, cured for life. Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all for... private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days wi... pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, ... description of above diseases, effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES,

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Money Comes in Bunches

to A. A. Chisholm, of Treadwell, N. Y., now. His reason is well worth reading: "For a long time I suffered from indigestion, torpid liver, constipation, nervousness and general debility," he writes. "I couldn't sleep, had no appetite, nor ambition, grew weaker every day in spite of all medical treatment. Then used Electric Bitters. Twelve bottles restored all my old-time health and vigor. Now I can attend to business every day. It's a wonderful medicine." Infallible for stomach, liver, kidneys, blood and nerves. 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

PATENTS

DESIGNS
TRADE-MARKS
AND COPYRIGHTS
OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

McCALL PATTERNS 10 AND 15 NONE HIGHER

McCALL'S MAGAZINE 50 A YEAR INCLUDING A FREE

McCALL PATTERNS
Celebrated for style, perfect fit, simplicity, reliability nearly 40 years. Sold in every city and town in the United States, Canada, or by mail direct. More so... any other make. Send for free cata...

McCALL'S MAGAZINE
More subscribers than any other fa... magazine—million a month. Invaluable... est styles, patterns, dressmaking, mil... plain sewing, fancy needlework, hairdre... etiquette, good stories, etc. Only 50 c... year (worth double), including a free pa... Subscribe today, or send for sample...

WONDERFUL INDUCEMENTS
to Agents. Postal brings premium c... and new cash prize offers. Addr...

THE McCALL CO., 238 to 246 W. 37th St., NEW ...

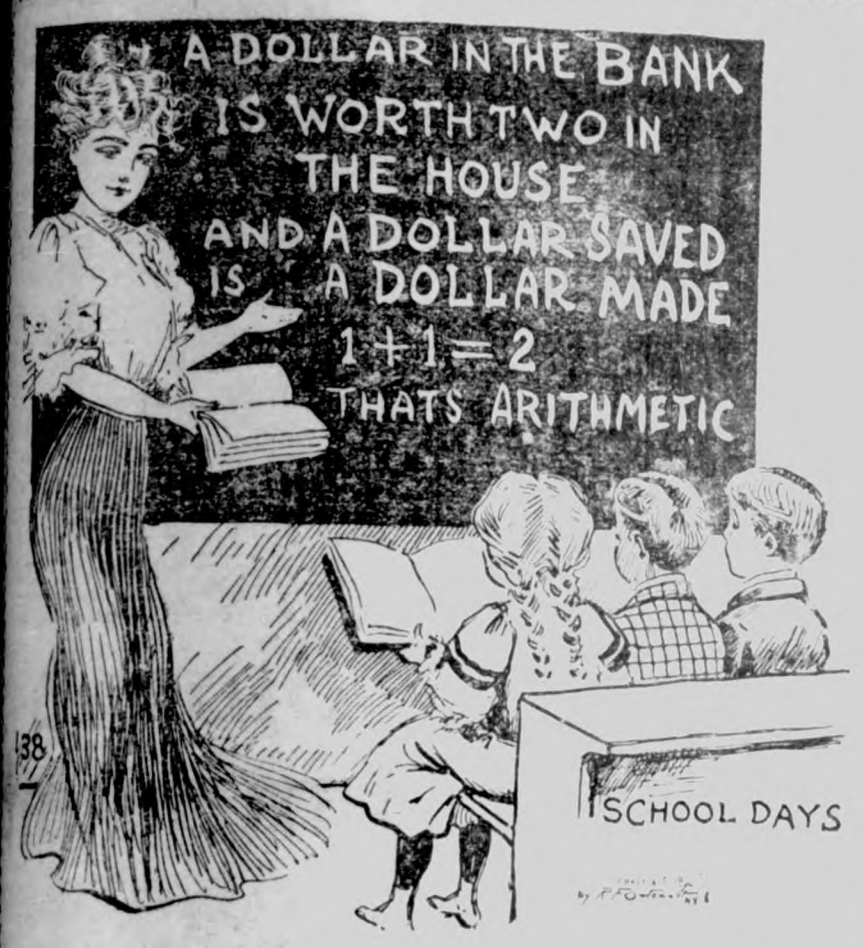
Electric Bitters

Succeed when everything else fails. In nervous prostration and female weaknesses they are the supreme remedy, as thousands have testified. FOR KIDNEY, LIVER AND STOMACH TROUBLE it is the best medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter.

Just Dust it on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom a... Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by M...
Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER C...
(25c. and 50c. Cans)., GARNER, IOW...

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 13 — KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1909. — $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE



¶If you earn $10,000 a year and spend $11,000 you will fall behind. If you earn ten dollars a week and save part of it you will get ahead—and there is no other way to do so.

¶Let your money grow.

¶Start TODAY.

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

A CONVINCER

The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.
We claim for our lumber and building material that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.
May we figure on your next lumber bill?

J. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

ELL CENTER

Special Correspondence.

Elmer Yohn was a Forest City visitor Sunday.

The Center school closes Friday for the fall vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Adwell entertained their friends at a dance Saturday evening.

Mrs. Haskin and children, of Klemme, spent Sunday with Dan Webner and wife.

Mrs. George Lawhorn, of Storm Lake, visited here with relatives the first of the week.

Misses Letha and Ethel Stoker came down from Miller Saturday evening and visited over Sunday at Hod Lawhorn's.

Its a Top Notch Doer

Great deeds compel regard. The world crowns its doers. That's why the American people have crowned Dr. King's New Discovery the King of throat and lung remedies. Every atom is a health force. It kills germs, and colds and lagrippe vanish. It heals cough-racked membranes and coughing stops. Sore, inflamed bronchial tubes and lungs are cured and hemorrhages cease. Dr. Geo. More, Black Jack, N. C. writes "it cured me of lung trouble, pronounced hopeless by all doctors." 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

The Best Prophet of the Future is the Past

—o—

For more than 15 years the management of the First National Bank has been "First" in ability to care for the needs of its patrons and is pleased today to place at the disposal of its customers the experience gained in that period.....

—o—

The First National Bank
CAPITAL $25,000

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

ON CLOTHING

Copyright 1909 by Hart Schaffner & Marx

We can save you from $2 to $5 on Men's Suits and Overcoats. These goods are all backed by the maker's guarantee as well as our own. You are sure to get full value for your dollar at our store.

A Large Stock of Fur Coats, Corduroy Coats and Duck Coats

The largest and best line you have ever seen. That's what you will say when you see it. A complete showing of Fur Coats in Raccoon, Russian Calf, Bulgarian Lamb, Wombat, Mocha, Dog and Kangaroo, at prices that will save you from $5 to $10 on a Coat.

Corduroy Sheep and Plush lined Ulsters with Wombat and Opossum collars—
$8.00 $10.50 $12.50

Corduroy sheep-lined Coats, Wombat collars, 32 to 34 in. long—
$4.75 $5.50 $6.50

Duck sheep-lined coats, 32 to 34in. long—
$3.50 $4.00 and $4.50

Duck Coats, blanket lined, 98c, $1.25, $1.50, $2.

Boys' duck coats, " " 98c, $1.25 and $1.50

Boys' sheep-lined Duck and Corduroy Coats—
$3.50 $4.00 and $5.00

Men's Suits

Good values, from $4.98 and up.

Men's Overcoats

Good values, $4.98 and up. Our $7.50 is an extra good value.

An Immense Stock of Boys' Clothing

Boys' Suits 98c and up. Boys' Overcoats $1.25 up.

Sweater Coats

In grey, green, black, maroon, etc. Prices—
50c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00

Men's cotton sweater, regular 50c sweater ..... our price 23c
Men's Work Shirts, our price..... 37c
Men's regular 50c mitten, our price..... 39c
Men's handkerchief..... 03c

When in Garner stop in and look our Clothing over and be convinced that you can buy cheaper than elsewhere.....

M. A. McCARTHY

GARNER'S ONE PRICE CLOTHIER

F. E. Walsh, Mgr.

"Remember your money is never our money until you are perfectly satisfied."

Seeing France with Uncle John

By ANNE WARNER

YVONNE to Her MOTHER

Copyright, by the Century Co.

Paris.

Dearest Mamma: Well, we are arrived! It is Paris at last! But I thought we should surely die in transit. I don't know what uncle would have said if he had known that Lee was in Rouen; he was dreadfully upset over Mrs. Braytree's telling him that she saw Lee in Havre.

We arrived last night, and the only drawback is that Mrs. Clary isn't here. She left a note, and M. Sibilet's wife is his mother, and has a place out at Neuilly, and they were invited there for three days. She will be back tomorrow, and she left word for us to go straight to the Bon Marche and look at the white suits; so we did so. We told uncle it was all right for us to go alone, and he had just gotten his mail, so he only said "Hum!" and we went. Just as we were taking the cab, who should we see but Mr. Chopstone. It was so lovely to see him again, and he got into the cab and went with us. We went to the Bon Marche, but it wasn't much fun with a man, so we came out after a little, and he proposed taking the subway and going to the Trocadero. Just then we met a man that Mr. Chopstone knew, and he had red hair and eye-glasses. Mr. Chopstone introduced him, and invited him to go along; but he said it was no use, because it was the wrong day and we couldn't get in when we got there. By this time we were down in the subway, and Mr. Chopstone suggested that we go to the Bois, so as not to have to go back up the stairs again. While we were talking the train came and went in a terrible hurry, and we got aboard in between. After we were off we found that Mr. Chopstone wasn't on. We didn't know what to do, because, of course, it was he that we knew, and not the red-haired man. The red-haired man said he would do whatever we pleased, and Edna thought we had better get right off; but I thought we ought to go right on. We didn't know what to do, and so we kept on to the Bois.

"She Took Hold of Our Hands as if She's Been Our Long-lost Mother for Years."

The Bois was just lovely—all automobiles and babies; and who do you think we met? Betty Burleigh. We were so surprised, for I thought she was in California for her lungs; but it seems that she's been in Dresden for her music all winter, and now she's here for her clothes. She was with an elderly French lady, and I don't think that the elderly French lady liked to have her stop and talk to us. I thought at first that perhaps it wasn't proper on account of the red-haired man, but in a second I saw the real reason. Betty glanced around and said, "Oh, madam, ou est Fakir?" Whereupon the elderly French lady looked absolutely terrified and tore madly off. We had quite a long talk before she came back with the most awful little black dog, which they evidently had no string to. She put him down and began to look displeased again, and Betty just glanced about and said calmly, "Oh, madam, ou es Fakir?" He had absolutely vanished again, and the elderly French lady sort of threw up her eyes and rushed wildly away. The red-haired man said, "Why don't you buy a chain for him?" Betty shrugged the Frenchiest kind of a shrug and said, "I don't have to chase him." The red-haired man said, "I should think she would buy the chain then!" and Betty shrugged a much Frenchier shrug, and said: "I wouldn't allow it. While she is running after him I can do as I please." The red-haired man laughed. Poor madame came panting up with the creature just then, and Betty said sweetly, "Laissez-lui courir," so she had to put him down; but I could see that she meant to keep a sharp eye on him. Betty wanted us all to come to the Palais and lunch with her; but of course we refused, because you wouldn't have liked it, and, anyway, we had to go back to uncle. She wanted the red-haired man to stay, any how, and was quite put out when he declined. Just then two men in an automobile came up and asked her to go and see the balloon ascension. They didn't invite the elderly French lady, and she protested about "comme il faut"—but Betty said, "Ou est Fakir?" and, if you'll believe me, that little beast was gone again, and poor madame dashed off in pursuit. Betty made short work of bidding us good-by then, and at once got into the automobile, and was off.

We came slowly along back with the red-haired man, and at the Arc de Triomphe we ran into Mr. Chopstone. It seems he went a station too far because he met some people he knew in the car behind us, and he says we must all go to the Chatelet with him to-night to make up. He said "uncle, too," so we accepted. Then we took a cab and came back to the hotel, where we found our beloved relative with his feet on the center-table, reading the Paris Herald. He looked over the top at us and announced that he'd "done the Louvre." I think we must have looked startled, for he went on to say at once that he knew that it was something that had got to be done, and that he shouldn't enjoy, and so he had thought it best to go at it the first thing on the first morning and get it off his mind at once.

We had to go to lunch, and uncle doesn't like the food very much; he says it strikes him as "flummery," and he is really very much vexed over Mrs. Clary's being at Neuilly. Edna is vexed because Harry is there, too, and I'm very much vexed indeed because she thoughtlessly gave uncle the letter at lunch, and when he read about Monsieur Sibilet's wife being his mother he was more put out than ever. He said we could look out for ourselves this afternoon, as he had to go to the bank. Edna suggested that we go to the Louvre, and he said yes, that would be wise, because then we would all be free to enjoy ourselves. Uncle speaks of the Louvre exactly as if it were the semi-annual siege at the dentist's. But he was kind enough to offer to leave us there on his way to the bank, and when we took the cab, he arranged with the cabman and the hotel-porter exactly what the fare was to be, and held it in his hand the whole way.

Edna and I were mighty glad to get to the Louvre without uncle, especially with the way he feels to-day, and we were wandering along in a speechless sort of ecstasy when all of a sudden I heard some one calling my name. I whirled around, and if it wasn't Mrs. Merrilegs, in a state of collapse on one of the red-velvet benches. We went to her, and she took hold of our hands as if she'd been our long-lost mother for years. She looked very white and tired and almost ready to faint, and we sat down on each side of her in real sincere sympathy, and she held our hands and told us how it was. It seems that they left home the last of last month, and they've been all through the British Isles, Denmark, Holland, and Belgium, and they are going to finish Europe and be home the first of next month. She could hardly speak for tears. She says Mr. Merrilegs made out the itinerary before they sailed and that they have lived up to it every day except just one, when he ate some lobster crossing the Irish sea, and they lost a day that night. She says they drive a great deal, because they can hardly walk any more, and that she doesn't believe that there will be a museum or palace in Europe that they won't be able to say that they have driven by when they go home. She said they had come to the Louvre to see what pictures they wanted for their new house, and that they never meant to take more than 20 minutes for the selection, and that they had been there an hour already. She felt badly because the itinerary had them visit Notre Dame, the Eiffel tower as high as the elevator goes, and Versailles this afternoon. She said they wanted to try and call on the American consul, too, to ask about a masseur. She said Mr. Merrilegs said he thought if they could get hold of a good masseur and keep him right with them that they could manage to rub through to the end.

Edna and I felt dreadfully sorry for her; but there did not seem to be anything to do except look sad, and we did that as heartily as we knew how until in a minute or two Mr. Merrilegs hove in sight with a funny little Frenchman dancing round and round him. Mr. Merrilegs looked almost as exhausted as his wife, and called Edna by my name and me by hers. His wife asked him if he had ordered the pictures, and he said: "No; I haven't any more time to waste here. I've given Claretie the paper with the sizes of the spaces marked on it, an he's to go through and measure till he finds a famous picture to match each space." Mrs. Merrilegs sort of nodded faintly and said: "But we don't want any martyrs in the dining-room, you know," and her husband said, "Yes, yes, he understands; and he says he'll find a Susanna to fit your bath, too." Mrs. Merrilegs stood up then with a very audible groan, and they both shook hands with us in a way that quite wrung our hearts. Then they limped away with the little Frenchman spinning gaily about them, and we went on alone.

In the very next room we met Mr. Chopstone. He was awfully glad to see us, and said, with our permission, he'd join us; but as he seemed joined anyway, we didn't even dream of refusing. He asked if we'd told uncle about the Chatelet, and then we remembered that we had forgotten. He said he was so glad, because he couldn't get any seats except baig noirs, and they looked queer, because no one can see you. He asked if we would like to go to the opera instead, and we were just discussing it when we turned a corner and ran right on to Betty Burleigh and the red-haired man. His name is Potter, and, did you ever! They looked so upset that it can't have been an accident, their being together. But how coud they have arranged it? If they didn't arrange it, why did they look upset? Betty had on a bright green cloth dress and a violet hat, and the red-haired man heightened the general effect so much that we moved on as quickly as possible. Mr. Chopstone said very roundly: "You'd better fight shy of her, I think," and Edna said dryly: "Of him, too, don't you think?" I waited a minute, and then I said it seemed droll to think that if we were all English, we'd be pleased to call poor Betty a typical American.

We came home when the Louvre closed and found uncle back with his feet on the center-table. He had had a big fire built, for he said it gave him chills to look at the nymph over his bed. He had put in a true Merrilegian afternoon, having been to the Palais de Justice, Sainte-Chapelle, Notre Dame, and driven by the Hotel de Ville and around the Opera house—"completely around." He says there won't be a thing left for him to look at by Monday. He says if he was pressed for time he'd hire a cab for one whole day and lump the business; but that, seeing that we have the time, it really doesn't seem necessary.

Mrs. Clary will be back to-morrow and we're very glad, for uncle is awful peppery and tartary, and says "Hum!" when we least expect it. Edna sent Mr. Chopstone a petit-bleu, asking him please not to ask us to go anywhere to-night. Mr. Edgar sent me some violets, but I had time to give them to the chambermaid before uncle came in. It doesn't seem possible that uncle could really care for Mrs Clary; but he's so cross if she talks to any one else that I almost wonder if he doesn't.

We talk Italy and mark Brittany every chance we get, but uncle says "Hum!" to Italy the same as he does to everything else these days. I'm sure I don't see what we'll do if he takes the rest of Europe as hard as he does this much. But of course I don't mean that we're not having a lovely time, and we never forget for a minute how kind he was to bring us.

Try This in November.

Thousands upon thousands of families who have not been regular eaters of Quaker Oats will begin on the first of November and eat Quaker Oats once or twice every day for thirty days of this month; the result in good health and more strength and vigor will mean that every other month in the year will find them doing the same thing.

Try it! Serve Quaker Oats plentifully and frequently for the thirty days of November and leave off a corresponding amount of meat and greasy foods. You'll get more health, more vigor and strength than you ever got in thirty days of any other kind of eating.

While you are trying this see that the children get a full share.

Quaker Oats is packed in regular size packages and large size family packages. 7

A Resemblance.

Canon Hensley Henson, at a dinner in New Haven during his Yale lectures, condemned the ugliness of the English archbishop's attire.

"One of our archbishops," he said, "preached in a Kansas church in his panoply of knee breeches, gaiters and apron, and the leading paper of the town concluded an admirable report of his sermon with the words:

"'The archbishop wore Highland dress.'"

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

The Main Question.

This story is current in the Arkansas hills. A woman was telling some friends what a delicate childhood was hers.

"When I was born I weighed only four pounds. They put me in a cigar box for a cradle."

"Goodness gracious!" exclaimed one of the listening women, leaning forward with great interest, "and did you live?"—Kansas City Times.

Ladies Can Wear Shoes
One size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder. It makes tight or new shoes easy. Cures swollen, hot, sweating, aching feet, ingrowing nails. Always use it to Break in new Shoes. At all Druggists. 25c. Don't accept any substitute. Trial package FREE by mail. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N.Y.

The rule of three is fully recognized by the man who lives with his mother-in-law, his wife and his first baby.

Only a disinterested third party is able to realize that there are two sides to a question.

The U. S. Government has bought 25 Gross (3,600 boxes) of Rough on Rats to send to the Panama Canal Zone, because it does the work. The old reliable that never fails. The unbeatable exterminator. 15c, 25c, 75c.

When a man says he is willing to change his opinion if you can convince him that he is wrong it's a sign you'll never be able to convince him.

The proprietor of Wrigley's Spearmint chewed it in preference to all his other brands before he advertised it.

Don't think that because a man is willing to lend you a helping hand he'll stand for a touch.

BEAUTIFUL WHITE CLOTHES
are a delight to the eye. Be sure to get them by using RUSS BLUE. 5c at grocers.

France produces more than twice as much wine as any other country.

Wrigley's Spearmint soothes better than a cigar—costs less than a cigar.

Boarding house coffee is one of the things that are well roasted.

WE PAY HIGH PRICE FOR HIDES and furs. & sell guns and traps cheap. N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

Some men are born liars and some are compelled to acquire the art.

Don't believe a word when they try to sell you imitations of Wrigley's Spearmint.

People who borrow trouble are always anxious to turn it over to others.

For Lam Bac

An aching back is instantly relieved by an application of Sloan's Liniment.

This liniment takes the place of massage and is better than sticky plasters. It penetrates—without rubbing—through the skin and muscular tissue right to the bone, quickens the blood, relieves congestion, and gives permanent as well as temporary relief.

Here's the Proof.

Mr. JAMES C. LEE, of 1100 9th St., S.E., Washington, D.C., writes: "Thirty years ago I fell from a scaffold and seriously injured my back. I suffered terribly at times; from the small of my back all around my stomach was just as if I had been beaten with a club. I used every plaster I could get with no relief. Sloan's Liniment took the pain right out, and I can now do as much ladder work as any man in the shop, thanks to

Sloan's Liniment

Mr. J. P. EVANS, of Mt. Airy, Ga., says: "After being afflicted for three years with rheumatism, I used Sloan's Liniment, and was cured sound and well, and am glad to say I haven't been troubled with rheumatism since. My leg was badly swollen from my hip to my knee. One-half a bottle took the pain and swelling out."

Sloan's Liniment has no equal as a remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia or any pain or stiffness in the muscles or joints.
Prices, 25c., 50c. and $1.00

Sloan's book on horses, cattle, sheep, and poultry sent free. Address
Dr. Earl S. Sloan,
Boston, Mass., U.S.A.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

SICK HEADACH

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured these Little Pills

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER.

They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature
Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTE

Sickly Smile

Wipe it off your otherwise good looking face—put on the good health smile that CASCARETS will give you—a result from the cure of Constipation—or a torpid liver. It's so easy—do it—you'll see

CASCARETS 10c a box for a week's treatment, all druggists. Biggest seller in the world. Million boxes a month.

APPLE ORCHARD LAND
In the Bitter Root Valley

We sell 10-acre apple orchard tracts on a down payment of $500, balance easy terms. We care for and cultivate your orchard for 5 years, turning it over at the end of this time as a fully matured orchard. $3,000 to $6,000 per year can easily be made on one of our tracts. Irrigation insures good crops. Write for booklet. Excursion Nov. 2nd.

BITTER ROOT VALLEY LAND CO.
620 Metropolitan Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

ITIONAL GRANGE

orty-Third Annual Session Will Be Big Affair.

T DES MOINES, NOVEMBER 10

The Program as Announced Indicates One of the Biggest Conventions in History of Des Moines Next Month.

Des Moines, Oct. 23.—The program r the forty-third annual session of e National Grange, Patrons of Hus-ndry, which will be held in Des oines, beginning Wednesday, No-mber 10, has been announced. It still incomplete in many respects all the speakers have not been se-ured. Headquarters will be at the avery and the meetings at the Audi-rium, the convention being expected bring about 1,200 people here. The llowing is the program so far as mpleted:

Wednesday, November 10.

Session convenes at 11 o'clock, op- the Sixth Degree. Roll call and port of committee on credentials. National master's address. Reports of officers and executive mmittee.

Reports of state masters.

Thursday, November 11.

Farmers' meeting open to the rld. Sessions morning, afternoon d evening. Addresses upon the fol-wing subjects may be expected: The Great State of Iowa, the De-rtment of Agriculture at Washing-n, the National Grange, what it has ccomplished, the Agricultural Col-ges of Iowa and adjoining states ill be represented in their work. Congress of the United States: The riff, Taxation, Good Roads, Par-ls Post and Postal Savings Banks. The fruit growers of California, co-eration in Michigan in the purchase farm supplies, the social life in ral sections, the corn growers of wa.

It gives the committee great pleas-re to announce that the Right Hon. r Horace Plunkett of Ireland will e present and tell of the great co-erative movement in Ireland.

Friday, November 12.

West View Grange of Eldridge, wa, Adolph P. Arp, master, will ex-mplify the first and second degrees uring the morning session. The af-rnoon and evening will be the con-rring of the sixth and seventh de-rees.

Saturday, November 13.

During the morning session mem-ers from the Brookings County ranges, South Dakota, will exempli-y the third and fourth degrees. The ening will be devoted to a meeting the Priests of Dameter.

Sunday, November 14.

A memorial service.

Monday, November 15.

nd the following days will be de-oted to the usual business of the ession.

An invitation to visit the State Ag-icultural college at Ames has been eceived.

At this session is the biennial elec-on of officers and one member of e executive committee.

Telephone War to Continue.

Whipped in their first attempt to revent the lease of the Mutual Tele-hone company to the Iowa Tele-hone company, the minority stock-olders of the Mutual company are ot yet out of the fight. They have ecided to carry the case up to a nal hearing on their application to ave the lease set aside as illegal. hen Judge McHenry ruled against em and refused to issue a tempo-ary injunction stopping the propos-d transfer of the Mutual to the Iowa ompany, it was generally believed e telephone fight had ended. But e fighting minority say not.

Damage Costs $15,000.

In his official report of the damage one by the recent storm which truck Shiloh battlefield, Cornelius adle, chairman of the Shiloh Nat-nal Military Park commission, esti-ates the cost of restoring the Iowa onument at $15,000. A copy of his eport has been received by Governor arroll. In regard to the monument, r. Cadle says two tons of the upper ronze work is destroyed, as is the gure "Peace" at the base. The die ed inscriptions remain intact, ac-ording to the report.

Lutheran Synod Elect Officers.

Rev. H. M. Leech, of Dubuque, was lected president of the Iowa Luth-ran synod. Other officers were elect-d as follows: Secretary, Rev. W. uther Bright, Fairfield; treasurer, . H. Bailey, Iowa City; statistician, . W. Snyder, Council Bluffs. The tiring president, Rev. J. A. McCul-ch, recommended that a laymen's ovement be started in connection ith the English speaking Lutheran hurches of the state to hold annual onvention with the synod.

Express Company Must File Report.

An attempt on the part of the Wells-Fargo Express company to avoid filing with the Iowa railroad commission a report of its receipts in this state has been blocked by the commissioners. When the company filed its annual report the statement of receipts and expenditures in Iowa was omitted, it being explained that orders of the interstate commerce commission prevented the company from keeping such a record. Secretary Lewis immediately wrote H. C. Adams, in charge of statistics and accounts for the interstate commission asking whether such a rule had been made. Mr. Adams' reply, just received, shows that on the contrary the rules of the board specifically direct railroad and express companies to divide their statements by states, when necessary. Secretary Lewis wrote to the company for the desired figures, sending a copy of the ruling, quoted by Mr. Adams.

Women's Plea Is Not Guilty.

Mrs. Laura McConkey and her mother, Mrs. Jennie Polk-Bain, were arraigned in district court before Judge McHenry and pleaded not guilty to the charge of abduction, furnished bond, and were released from the county jail. Mrs. McConkey is the mother of Marguerite the 3-year-old foster daughter of Rev. and Mrs. John McD. Horne, whom the women kidnaped from the Horne home early last August.

Flays Society Women.

Mrs. A. B. Sims, winner of the national whist trophy and a reformed society card player who has been heard before church and Chautauqua audiences, speaking on the evils of the card game, is preparing a new lecture which will take up the immoderate drinking of wine by the society women of today. She will flay the modern society woman who serves cocktails and high balls at her afternoon teas.

Sees Brother First Time in Years.

Tacitus Hussey, pioneer of Iowa, at the Home for the Aged, saw his brother, Richard Taylor Hussey, of Colorado, for the first time in fifty-two years. The brothers parted when they were stalwart young men at their old homestead near Terre Haute, Ind. Tacitus came west to Iowa, while Richard remained at home for awhile and then went to Colorado.

State to Fight Cholera.

Dr. P. O. Koto, state veterinarian, will soon be turning out hog cholera serum for the use of the farmers of Iowa. A 114-acre farm north of the old sanitarium, near the fair grounds, has been leased by the state and on it Dr. Koto will establish his plant for the manufacture of cholera serum. The legislature last winter appropriated $8,000 to carry on this work.

Trimble Reward Is Divided.

Governor Carroll has rendered his decision in the division of the reward offered by the state for the conviction of the murderer of Linn Trimble at Union. He gives $200 of the $300 to Thomas Walsh of Eldora and $20 each to G. W. Cogswell, Albert Meyer, W. T. Hall, Herman Nelson and George R. Westlake, all of Titonka.

Commission Makes Money.

The state food and dairy department is proving a money maker for the state. Commissioner H. R. Wright has turned over to Treasurer Morrow $1,119.15 collected during September in stock food tax. Iowa manufacturers of all kinds of feed except bran shorts and middlings must pay an inspection fee of ten cents a ton on their product.

Will Try Mrs. Taylor.

Mrs. Nellie Taylor, the girl mother held for first degree murder for the killing of her baby, is improving so rapidly in Dr. Hill's "retreat" that it is believed she will be sufficiently strong to be placed on trial in criminal court next week to decide the question of her sanity at the present time.

Convention Comes to Des Moines.

The 1910 Iowa State Convention of the Court of Honor has been secured for Des Moines. It will be held the first week in February. A great campaign for a class of 1,000 for initiation at that time is now on in full force. Frank Johnson has been appointed city manager.

Music Festival in Coliseum.

The Des Moines Coliseum will be formally dedicated in April. This was definitely decided by the sub-committee of the Greater Des Moines committee, appointed to consider the plans for a mammoth musical festival for the opening night.

Yeomen Apply to Byers.

Attorney General Byers must now pass on the revised constitution of the brotherhood of American Yeomen. The matter was submitted to him by the state insurance department.

THE 'DRY' FARMERS

Open Fourth and Biggest Dry Farming Congress.

MEETING AT BILLINGS, MONT.

Immense Crowd Present and Cheered Addresses of Messrs. Norris, Rutherford, Dixon, Moody, Hill and Others.

Billings, Mont., Oct. 25.—The playing of "America" by a band on the steps of Exposition hall this afternoon signalized the opening of the fourth and biggest dry farming exposition and congress. An immense crowd was present at the ceremony, and cheered the addresses by Gov. Edwin L. Norris, W. J. Rutherford, deputy commissioner of agriculture of Regina, Sask.; United States Senator J. M. Dixon of Montana; H. L. Moody of Spokane, James J. Hill of St. Paul, and B. B. Moss, who acted as master of ceremonies.

The convention itself really opens tomorrow morning, and will be called to order by Frank C. Bowman of Idaho Falls, Idaho, chairman of the international executive committee. Addresses of welcome will be made by P. B. Moss, Mayor Thompson, President W. A. Selvidge of the local Chamber of Commerce and Gov. Norris. Responses will be made by Dr. John A. Widtsoe, vice president of the congress, and Dr. Laurence Baeta-Neves, the Brazilian vice-president of the congress. James J. Hill will then speak on "The Development of the West."

The program for the rest of the week is full of interest, among the speakers being such noted foreigners as Herr Nikolas Kaumanns, imperial German agricultural attache, now in Chicago; Dr. Ladislaus Georgia, representing the Hungarian government; E. J. McMillin, Salisbury, South Africa, an official of the department of agriculture of the Orange River Colony; Dr. Adolph Aaronson, in charge of the dry farming experiments in Palestine for the Turkish government, and Senor Don Remlue Escorda of the agricultural college at Juearez, Mexico.

COTTON FIRMS ARE INDICTED

Indictments Will Affect Seventy-five Persons, and Gin Owners May Close Plants to Public Business.

Guthrie, Okla., Oct. 25—Charged with violation of the federal and state anti-trust laws, the largest cotton purchasing, ginning and oil mill concerns of Oklahoma were indicted by a special grand jury ordered by the district court to probe the cotton situation in Logan county. Certain individuals concerned in the management of these companies were also indicted.

The following were indicted: W. H. Coyle Consolidated Oil companies, Guthrie; Southwestern Cotton Oil company, Oklahoma City; The Cawthorn company, Crescent; W. H. Coyle, F. E. Houghton, T. Cook and A. T. Beunting, all of Guthrie; R. A. Vose, Oklahoma City and W. O. Cawthorn, Crescent.

Under the law each day a monopoly is maintained is a separate offense, and as the present indictments fix November 15, 1907, as the beginning of the alleged combine, the minimum fine for the persons indicted would approximate $30,300, and the maximum fine $80,300,000.

Midget Babe Dies.

Marshalltown, Ia., Oct. 25.—Albion's midget babe, Chester Carton, the 1-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Graves, who weighed three pounds at birth, gave up the unequal struggle for existence, due to mal-nutrition. The babe when born, could be completely covered by a quart cup.

Justice Peckham is Dead.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 25—Rufus W. Peckham, associate justice of the United States supreme court, died at Coolmore, his summer home at Altamont, Alban county. Death was due to a complication of diseases—heart trouble, Bright's disease and hardening of the arteries contributing.

Stole to Buy Headstone.

New York, Oct. 25.—Joseph Goldstein, has surrendered himself to the police and has been held for trial in $1,000 bail on his voluntary confession that he stole $29 to buy a headstone for the grave of his wife, who died in July, after they had been married only two months.

Robbers Dynamite Bank.

Carthage, Mo., Oct. 25.—Robbers dynamited the safe in the postoffice at Jasper, twelve miles north of here, and secured $15 in currency and a few stamps.

The Farmer's Wife's Best Servant—

Old Dutch Cleanser

Keeps Everything About the Farmhouse and Farm Spick and Span for 10c a Month—Just You Try It!

The farmer's wife is the hardest working woman in the world. She deserves every help that will enable her to save her labor and time—and there is nothing that will save her so much time and labor as Old Dutch Cleanser. This handy, all-'round Cleanser does the work of old-fashioned soap, soap-powders, scouring-bricks and metal-polishes combined—and does it easier, quicker and better.

Cleans, Scrubs, Scours, Polishes

Old Dutch Cleanser removes dirt, grease, grime, stains, rust and tarnish from everything almost instantly. Its flaky, porous particles absorb and carry away the dirt. It takes all the hard work out of cleaning. It cleans everything, from milk pails and pans to farm implements. It also keeps the hands soft and white.

Avoid caustic and acids and do all your cleaning in half the time and with half the labor, by using this handy, all-round mechanical Cleanser.

Large, Sifter Can at your dealer's 10c

or write

CUDAHY—MAKER—OMAHA

The Wizard of Horticulture

Hon. Luther Burbank

says: "Delicious is a gem—the finest apple in all the world. It is the best in quality of any apple I have so far tested."

And Mr. Burbank knows.

Delicious is but one of the hundreds of good things in Stark Trees—the good things you should know about before you plant this fall or next spring.

Let us tell you about them by writing to-day for our complete, illustrated price-list-catalogue which describes our complete line of fruit trees, ornamentals, etc.

Wanted

A Bright, Capable Man

in each county of this state to sell Stark Trees on commission. No previous experience necessary. The work is pleasant, clean work, highly profitable; and the positions are permanent to the right men.

Many of our salesmen are earning $50 to $80 per month and expenses; some are making more. You can do as well or better if you're a hustler and trying to succeed.

No investment called for; we furnish complete order-getting outfit freeand the most liberal contract.

For complete information address the Sales Manager of Stark Bros., N. & O. Co., Louisiana, Mo.

Smokeless Oil Heater

The automatically-locking Smokeless Device is an exclusive feature of the Perfection Oil Heater. This doesn't allow the wick to rise to a point where it CAN smoke, yet permits a strong flame that sheds a steady, glowing heat without a whiff of smoke.

Automatic Smokeless Device

No other heater in the world compares with the

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

Turn the wick high or low—no smoke, no smell. Burns for 9 hours with one filling.

The locking device on the inside of the draught tube holds the wick below the smoke zone—always responds, and automatically, insuring perfect combustion and utmost heat without the slightest trace of smoke. Oil Indicator. Damper top. Cool handle. Finished in Nickel or Japan in a variety of styles.

Every Dealer Everywhere. If Not Yours, Write for Descriptive Circular to the Nearest Agency of the

STANDARD OIL COMPANY

(Incorporated)

RESINOL is the best remedy for stubborn skin and scalp troubles, burns, stings, bruises, boils, and all eruptions. It soothes pain, stops itching and is a certain cure for itching piles. 50 cents a jar, all druggists or sent direct on receipt of price.

RESINOL CHEMICAL COMPANY, BALTIMORE, MD.

"I consider RESINOL OINTMENT indispensable. I have never used anything that gave me so much comfort." W. C. Starbuck, Jamaica Plains, Mass.

The Modern Razor

NO STROPPING NO HONING

TRADE Gillette MARK

KNOWN THE WORLD OVER

WRIGLEY'S

Des Moines Directory

Bale Ties For Hay and Straw

Des Moines Bale Tie Co., 8th and Vine Sts., Des Moines, Iowa

FURS TO ORDER AND REPAIRED 25 to 35 per cent discount. Seal skin and all other furs made over to late season's style. All Work Strictly Guaranteed. S. B. SEFREN, 510 Locust St., Des Moines, Ia. Expert Furrier, Designer, Cutter and Fitter.

GROCERIES & HARDWARE

COLD WEATHER

Is SURE to be here soon. Are you prepared for it? Perhaps you will need a new stove before winter sets in. If so you will miss it if you don't call and inspect our line of

HEATERS AND RANGES

We have just received a new shipment and will be glad to show them to you. Call early while the assortment is complete. See the Summit Range

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

ONE PRICE CASH STORE

KLEMME, IOWA

DRUGS

A full line of patents of every manufacture. Jewelery, Wall Paper, Paints and Oils, School Supplies and Stationery.

TOILET ARTICLES

Face Powder, Talcum Powder, Sachet Powder, Face Creams, Toilet Waters, Hand Lotions.

MUSICAL GOODS

String and Brass Instruments, Edison Phonographs and Supplies. We are selling Phonographs on small weekly payments and going one better than the Chicago price by saving you the freight.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile, both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

See us when you want to buy TILE.

Northern Lumber Company

N. L. PALMER, AGENT

KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

THRESHING COAL

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Smokeless and Washed Egg. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

H. C. LAU

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

The fraternal orders are a national blessing. They promote thrift, economy, sobriety, without freezing the soul into selfishness, as is apt to be the case in the usual struggle for wealth or a high social position. They bring men into closer social relations and cherish those feelings that thrive and put forth blossoms in each other's welfare. They make men thoughtful and helpful, expanding the sentiments of love, charity and good will. They teach us the religion that breaks bread to the hungry, gives a cup of water to the thirsty, watches at the bed of the sick, visits the imprisoned, the fatherless and widows—duties that are sadly neglected, and for a long time were supposed to be confined to the church.—Ex.

He had a pocket full of cash, the proceeds of his farm, and he came to see the city never fearing any harm. He met a dapper stranger who escorted him around to where the jovial tiger and the elephant abound. He dallied with the festive and he lingered by the bowl, and awoke upon the sidewalk minus his plethoric roll. He was a jay? Of course he was, a green and verdant thing; but he didn't read the papers, which accounts for everything. The street was rather crowded and the pavements they were wet, but he started from the curbstone to the other side to get. He saw the car but never thought that harm it could portend, for he looked and noticed that there were no horses on the end. He never knew what struck him and what chopped him like a knife, for the electric doesn't linger when it yanks away a life. He should always know? Of course, and then he'd not have met his fall, but he didn't read the papers and thought he knew it all.—Ex.

Pianos at a Discount of 20 to 40 Per Cent

When Lyon & Healy of Chicago, undertook to put in new flooring in their entire Piano Department it became necessary to move a vast number of Upright pianos so that the work of the carpenters might not be hampered.

To move these pianos quickly, Lyon & Healy offer them at a discount of 20 to 40 per cent. Some of these pianos have been slightly used, but have been put through the Lyon & Healy factory and are practically as good as new. These are no cheap factory pianos but pianos of makes of good reputation.

What Lyon & Healy have done is to mark all these superb pianos (and there are hundreds of them) at greatly reduced prices. The response upon the part of the public is marvelous.

If you know the prices usually paid for good standard makes of pianos, you will need no second invitation to write to Lyon & Healy, Wabash Avenue and Adams Street, Chicago, for alteration sale list and terms, for you can secure a genuine $700 Upright for about $190, or other bargains in proportion.

Lyon & Healy give their own guarantee with every one of these pianos, regardless of make. Nothing like this opportunity has ever been given to music teachers, students, and music lovers heretofore.

MILLINERY

Latest and most approved styles

We are showing the nicest line of Stylish Millinery ever shown in our town and we want every lady in this vicinity, to call and see our line.

Bear-Skin Goods

Children's Bear-skin Tams, Hoods and Caps at about half price and a large assortment to select from.

SPECIAL SALE

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 29 and 30, and Nov. 5 and 6. On Children's Headwear

Children's Tams, Caps and Hoods at COST.

A fine line of Bengaline and Moire Silks for ladies waists at Reduced Prices.

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

The Winter Season

Is now close at hand and it calls for good, warm wearing apparel, good Shoes and Overshoes, etc. We are, as usual, prepared to furnish you with the needed articles and our prices are as low as possible, consistent with the quality of goods we furnish. We want to call your special attention to our full and complete line of

Genuine Old Fashioned Wool Flannel

Ranging in price per yard from.... 50c TO $1.50

LARGE LINE TO SELECT FROM

Outing Flannels

The kind usually sold for 10c per yard we sell for.... 8c

The kind usually sold for 12c per yard we sell for... 10c

This is no special sale, just our every-day prices.

See our complete line of Seasonable Goods.
We absolutely guarantee satisfaction.

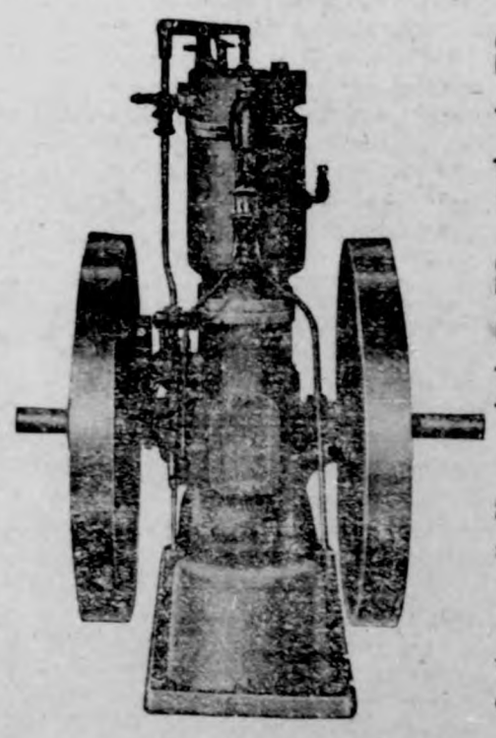
W. J. BARZ, - Garner, Iowa

Thoroughbred Duroc Jersey Boars and Gilts For Sale

Two Strains. Sired by The Great Notcher and dams Ohio Chief; and others by Sure Money, dams Iowa Banker. This stock is first class in every respect.

——Call on or address——

J. T. GRIGGS. Goodell, Iowa



Save work, worry, money by using a

STOVER GASOLINE ENGINE

Made right—sold right. Send for an illustrated catalog of our

ENGINES

wind mills and feed grinders.

Sandwich Mfg. Co.

Mason City, Iowa — General Agents

"School Days, School Days, dear old Golden Rule days,
Reading and 'Riting and 'Rithmetic
Taught to the tune of a hickory stick."

Things swap around a great deal, don't they?

The school proposition with the hickory stick attachment has certainly changed. The hickory stick has been discarded.

When we went to school the most we wore (on our feet) was one smashed toe-nail and two stone-bruises. If the weather turned cold we pulled on the copper-tipped boots.

Now-a-days every school kid must have good Shoes and good Overshoes.

We are lucky enough to have the best line of Children's Shoes in Klemme, the best to wear—They meet every requirement and every expectation.

We also have Overshoes with extra thick bottom—made especially for the hard wear of Children.

Bring in the Kids and have them shod

ARTHUR WELLEMEYER

About People You Know

KLEMME MARKET.

.....	45 to c
.....	34 to 35c
.....	80 to 90
.....	45 to 48c
.....	4 00 to 6.00
.....	6.00 to 7.00
.....	3.00 to 6.00

d Wellemeyer's ad.

sh fruits at Kluckhohn's.

enir dishes at Kluck- s. 13tf

s tested. Glasses fitted. F. Missman.

n Baumgartner was at er between trains Monday.

s. Josten is advertising a al sale in her ad this week. it.

ary Ludeke left for Iowa last Friday evening for a visit.

we Watterston was down Garner in his auto Tues- afternoon.

wrence Larsen, M. I. Par- J F. Hartfelder and C. A ld went over to Mason City tomobile Sunday.

e Best Ever—Blue Point r crackers. They're fine. a package with your next rs. At Kluckhohn's. 13tf you are in the market for a line engine, see us about ade engine before purchas- Wm Schmidt or J. W. 12-5* esident Taft wears the ite House Shoe," size 11½E. shoe is made from the very quality Patent leather with ppers and a very pleasing e. These shoes can be seen ellemeyer's. He sells them.

handle the Ball Band and Royal Blue rubber goods in irst qualities, and am sell- these goods at about the e usually charged for the nd quality. Buy your win- supply of footwear for the le family NOW. Frank etzmacher.

eing obliged to take it for I will sell it out cheap; r. Hess Stock Food. r. Hess Poultry Panacea. r. Hess Instant Louse Kill-

r. Hess Hog Worm Powder. be had at G. F. Schuler's rner, Iowa.

Mrs. G. H. Carlson is on the sick list.

Fresh oysters daily at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

Mrs John Josten was a Mason City visitor Tuesday.

Dave Ross is building an addition to his farm house.

August Lau went in to Chicago with a car load of cattle Sunday.

Rodney Hill, a banker and an old settler of Britt, died at his home in Britt last Friday morning.

George Ell, of Belmond, has been here the past week or two helping Jack Henschen with his mason work.

Ralph Blank and wife left for Minneapolis Tuesday night on account of the illness of Mrs. Blank's mother.

F. A. Arnold and Frank Gruetzmacher were business visitors at the county seat between trains Monday.

Mrs. John Swalve, from Little Rock, Iowa, arrived here Tuesday for a visit at the home of her son, B. Swalve.

PAY UP—Those owing the undersigned are asked to settle AT ONCE and save trouble and costs. H. Lau & Son.

Several of our subscribers are a year or more in arrears. Isn't it about time to square up? The amount is small but every little helps. Pay the printer so he can pay his bills.

Chas. Kluckhohn came down from Swea City last Sunday for a visit at the home of his parents. Louie Turgasen, the Rock Island agent at that place, is taking a vacation, so Charley concluded to take a lay off at the same time.

Parties living within two miles of Belmond were up here buying cloaks at Wellemeyer's store last Saturday. Only one more evidence of the fact that Klemme merchants have the goods and sell them right. It pays to trade at Klemme.

We are considering the advisability of quitting the newspaper business and getting a job running some trust.

The biggest difference between the Esquimo and some of our statesmen (?) is that it takes only a few gum drops to buy the Esquimo.

Henry Medaus is reported quite sick.

Fresh apple cider at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

A new heating plant is being put in the drug store building

A full line of Post Cards at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

Misses Emelia Lenz and Elnora Koerner were at Garner between trains Saturday.

We understand that J Harlan has purchased the F. Gruetzmacher property occupied by the Henschen family, possession to be given in the spring.

The man who does outdoor work during the bitter cold weather of winter will be interested in a new kind of warm footwear at Wellemeyer's.

The R. N. A. will hold a basket social on Friday evening, Oct. 29th. at the opera house. Coffee will be served free. The ladies are planning on having some kind of a contest to enliven the occasion and guarantee a pleasant evening for all who attend. Ladies are requested to bring well filled baskets. All are invited.

READ IT

Much valuable information will be found in the last week's issue of Wallace's Farmer, on page 6. (Oct 22, '09) I personally endorse every word on that page and ask all my customers to read it. Arthur Wellemeyer

Henry Lewis and Harry Smith have started a new industry for Klemme—that of capturing and shipping turtles to the eastern markets. Their shipment of a week or so ago consisted of six barrels packed full and they are sending out another consignment equally as large today. We presume these animals will make a large quantity of high-toned soup, but some way we don't feel that we would relish the dish very much.

German M. E. Church Items

Our farmers are busy husking corn this week.

Aug. Nuehring is working for E. H Bettin this week

F. C. Griewe made a business trip to Burlington last week, returning Friday.

Lurena Wessel spent Sunday at home returning to Charles City Monday evening.

The Klemme Standard Bearer Society will meet with August Schuldt next Monday evening.

Emelia and Esther Lenz and Elenor Koerner were Garner callers last Saturday between trains.

Mrs. Wessel returned from Kirksville last Saturday much improved, but very tired and sore from the treatments which she had taken.

Bennie Riemer has been very sick with an attack of lung fever since the fore part of last week. We are glad to state that he is some better at this writing.

F. C. Griewe left for Gladbrook Tuesday morning, where he is working for the German-American Equation Premium Insurance Co. We wish him much success in his new line of work.

Henry Ludeke went to Iowa City last Friday to take an examination relative to an ailment which has continued to trouble him more or less since his operation last winter. He returned Tuesday.

The Klemme League gave a temperance program in the Germantown church last Sunday evening, which was of good measure and full weight. It was nearly two hours in length, and we heard several say it was as good as it was long. Everyone was well prepared and the large audience seemed pleased.

Hulda Gruetzmacher had her Sunday School class invited to her home last Sunday and gave the little folks a delightful time. To end up with, each child received a dainty little basket filled with sweets to remember the occasion. But we feel safe to say that they will remember such kind treatment long after the little baskets have succumbed to the waste of time.

Fred Blank had his arm dislocated at the elbow last evening while playing football.

Born—Wednesday evening, the 27th, to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Kinsella, a daughter.

POULTRY PRICES FOR ALL OF THIS WEEK

For all the Poultry you will deliver this week we will pay you:

Hens	8c
Springs	8c
Ducks	8c
Geese, 10 pounds or better	6c
" under 10 pounds	5c
Turkeys—Hens	11c
" Toms	10c
Cream	31c
Eggs	21c

ELL BROTHERS,
Klemme, Iowa

Col. J. J. Wilson
MESERVEY, IOWA
LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEER
Dates made at either bank in Klemme, Iowa. Terms reasonable.

DOCTORS
GEO. ZINN EDGAR ZINN
Office: State Savings Bank
Phone No. 19
KLEMME - - IOWA

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Phone No. 11. Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to calls day or night.
Eyes tested. Glasses fitted.

W. G. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner : : Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

W. R. BLOOM
Buyer and Shipper of
Grain and Live Stock
Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.
Stock wanted 6 days in the week

Pictures
See me when you want a
Photograph
All kinds—inside or outdoor views. I make a specialty of photo postal cards, 75 cents a dozen. Good work at reasonable prices.
JOE MILLER, KLEMME IOWA

JOHN GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Headquarters for part of Heinz' Fifty-Seven Varieties, and Pickling Vinegar.
Try these goods; they are fine.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
Call in

RESTAURANT
Nicest Line of Candies in Town.
Fresh home made Bakery goods every day.
The best place in town to get a square meal for 25c.
Orangeade, Soft Drinks and Ice Cream.
A. Kirkwood & Son

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.
The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited
CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor

When you go to Chicago it's worth while to land at La Salle Station, in the heart of the city—right down town, within a few minutes' walking distance of

THE WHOLESALE CENTER
THE BANKING CENTER
THE SHOPPING CENTER
THE HOTEL CENTER
THE THEATER CENTER

La Salle Station
ROCK ISLAND LINES
CHICAGO TERMINAL

is the only railway station on the elevated railway loop, the finest, most commodious and best-equipped station in Chicago.

Among the features that make La Salle Station a model of its kind are the handsome and convenient woman's parlor, with maid, nearby telegraph and telephone booths, baggage and parcel rooms and an excellent restaurant.

On your next trip East take the Rock Island and land in La Salle Station.

Time tables and information on request.

G. TRENHAILE, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, . . . IOWA

IMPORTANT NEWS NOTES OF A WEEK

LATEST HAPPENINGS THE WORLD OVER TOLD IN ITEMIZED FORM.

EVENTS HERE AND THERE

Condensed Into a Few Lines for the Perusal of the Busy Man—Latest Personal Information.

PERSONAL.

Privy Councillor Albert Meissner, secretary to Emperor William, died in Berlin. He was in public life over 50 years.

Senator Patrick McCarren, the New York Democratic leader, died as a result of an operation for appendicitis.

Dr. James H. Carlisle, president emeritus of Wofford college and one south's best-known educators, died at his home in Spartanburg, N. C. He was 84 years old.

Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale university says the normal span of human life is 150 years, and declares the longevity of man increases as science and medicine make advances.

Mrs. Josephine Floyd Jones, who was a member of one of the oldest families on Long Island, in her will left $10,000 and her personal wardrobe to her faithful servant, Hannah Davenport, who is to have a grave in the family burial plot.

Bernhard Dernburg, German colonial secretary, who is at Kansas City, derides the suggestion of war between Germany and England.

Miss May Clayton, 25 years old, daughter of a wholesale liquor merchant, and Peary S. Tsuji, a Japanese restaurant keeper, were married at Seattle, Wash. It was a romance of the Seattle fair, the couple having met at the "Pay Streak."

Rudolph Gluck, 19 years old, will sail for Russia from New York in a few days to serve three years in the Russian army, and so save his mother's property at Kaprin, near Warsaw, from confiscation.

Lieut. Foulois of the American army has arrived in New York after attending the International Aeronautical congress in Paris. He says France is crazy over flying machines, and this class of craft is bound to supplant dirigible balloons.

King Manuel of Portugal is confined to his bed with an intestinal trouble accompanied with a light fever.

GENERAL NOTES.

A family of five, it is feared, have perished on the Mojave (Cal.) desert. A rancher discovered the trail of a man, woman and three children and from the appearance of their tracks they were in search of water.

Federal authorities are seeking to have John R. Walsh, the former Chicago banker, sent to jail, pending the appeal to the supreme court of the United States of his case.

Six trainmen and a tramp were killed and a score of other persons injured in a head-on collision between a fast passenger train and a freight on the Pennsylvania railroad near Collinsville, O.

Ohio Wesleyan university is in a campaign to raise $500,000 by April 1, 1911. Of this sum Andrew Carnegie has given $25,000 and the educational board $125,000.

The report of Gen. Benjamin F. Tracy, as referee, fixing the margin of unused bonded indebtedness of New York city on June 30, 1908, at $106,205,714, was practically sustained by the New York court of appeals.

G. Stengel-Sembrich, husband of Mme. Sembrich, the singer, and Andreas Dippel, director of the Metropolitan opera house, were injured in an auto accident in New York.

F. E. Hanscome, cashier of the wrecked Mineral Point (Wis.) First National bank, killed himself at the grave of his mother. Worry over the bank's affairs was the cause. Mrs. John Gray, his aged mother-in-law, fell dead upon seeing his body.

Mrs. Richard McMartin of Thompsonville, Mich., visiting at Ashland, Wis., walked out of the house while asleep during the night and off the bridge over the Bay City creek, falling on the rocks and breaking both legs.

A diamond ring worth $1,100, the property of Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, was found on the mountain side near the Edison estate in New Jersey. It was lost six years ago. Robert McCarthy, the finder, was rewarded with $100.

The Spanish cabinet, headed by Premier Maura, resigned and is superceded by one formed by Senor Moret, former premier. This change resulted from the outcry over Revolutionist Ferrer's execution.

The American Ice Company of New York is on trial in the criminal court on the charge of violating the state law preventing monopoly. The concern is charged with creating an artificial ice famine.

A dam at Lake Derkos, which supplies Constantinople with water, burst and 25 persons were drowned.

Calcutta dispatches to London say 10,000 people have perished in a terrific storm which swept the plains in the delta of the Ganges and Brahmaputra, in Bengal, India.

According to a report from United States Consul General Griffiths, at London, the army of unemployed in Great Britain has grown steadily and has now reached proportions that are causing the government great uneasiness.

The grand jury at Chicago has caused a stir by joining State's Attorney Wayman in his demand that the judges of Cook county courts clean out the county jury commission in such a drastic manner as will prevent any opportunity for jury tampering in the future.

A copy of a book written in 1810 by Robert Fulton, inventor of the steamboat, and entitled, "Torpedo War and Submarine Explosions," has been sold at auction in New York for $60.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Whitlock of East Orange, N. J., were so affected at the prospect of "losing" their two daughters by marriage that they went to their country home to escape being present at the double wedding. They are said to be well pleased, nevertheless, with their sons-in-law.

A fund to be known as the Charles Eliot Norton memorial fund has been endowed to the Archaeological Institute of America in Washington by James Loeb, a retired banker of New York city.

Army officers to the number of 35 started from Fort Meyer, Va., under the lead of Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, president of the war college, for a 90-mile endurance test.

It is reported in Lisbon, Portugal, that King Alfonso's mind is in a serious condition because of fear of an uprising in Spain and of his own assassination.

King Edward of England is much exercised over the socialistic demonstrations in connection with Ferrer's execution and is laboring hard to prevent a general election on the budget, fearing that owing to the highly feverish condition of public opinion the house of lords would be in peril and possibly abolished.

A typhoon of unusual severity swept over the island of Luzon, washing out railroad beds, cutting off telegraphic communication and doing much other damage.

President Taft had the time of his life on his brother's ranch in Texas. He rode a balky cayuse, saw wild steers roped by cowboys and witnessed the rounding up of a herd of cattle, together with many other interesting things connected with ranch life.

The Minocqua (Wis.) bank was robbed of several thousand dollars by five men who, after being rounded up at a small station near there by a sheriff's posse, turned on the latter with rifles and made their escape.

The American Antiquarian society laid the corner-stone of its new building in Worcester, Mass., in connection with the opening of the organization's annual convention.

Miss Eleanor Lorraine Beattie, who was recently extradited from London on a charge of grand larceny and who is now under bonds for trial, has advertised in New York for a position as chauffeur. She is willing to wear a uniform and pilot a taxicab.

William Fason, a blind negro, who killed two men in a Paterson (N. J.) saloon, when he was denied a drink, was sentenced to 40 years in prison.

W. R. Hearst won a "strike" in the New York political campaign Saturday night when he threatened to retire from the race for mayor and to leave the fusion ticket to its fate unless his fellow nominees appeared on the stage with him.

Two schooners, with 11 persons aboard, are missing off the Newfoundland coast and are believed to have foundered in the gale last week.

The annual convention of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union opened in Omaha with about 500 delegates in attendance. National President Lillian M. N. Stevens delivered her yearly address.

Illinois cities and towns celebrated the second arbor and bird day of the year with exercises in the public schools.

The United States supreme court has issued an order staying proceedings in the northern Illinois circuit court in the matter of the application of Capt. M. Carter for the allowance of further counsel fees in the government's suit against him for the restoration of the funds alleged to have been procured by him through defalcation.

BIG IMPROVEMENTS

Southern Iowa Cities Will Spend More Than $3,000,000.

ACTIVITY SHOWN IN ALL LINES

Large Sums Are Being Expended for Sewers, Water Works, Paving, Electric Light Plants, Etc., Says C. P. Chase.

Clinton Ia., Oct. 22—More than $3,000,000 will be spent in municipal improvements in the southern part of Iowa this year, and during the coming spring. Extraordinary activity in the line of improvement is manifest in that section of the state, says C. P. Chase of this city, former city engineer who has extensive contracts throughout that section of the state of Iowa. He outlines the work under way or contemplated in the larger towns as follows:

Atlantic—$50,000 for street paving.

Pella—$140,000 for water works, sewers, and electric light plant.

Greenfield—$45,000 for water works and sewers.

Leon—$55,000 for water works and sewers.

Seymour—$30,000 for water works.

Fairfield—100,000 for sewers.

Osceola—Water works system will be entirely rebuilt.

Clarinda—$25,000 for sewers.

Bedford—$15,000 for sewers and pavement.

Red Oak—$25,000 for pavement.

Stuart—$15,000 for water works.

Perry—$75,000 for pavement.

Colfax—$50,000 for pavement and sewers.

Grinnell—$200,000 for pavement.

Indianola—$25,000 for sewers and pavement.

Hamburg—$15,000 for sewers.

In addition to this work, nearly all of the smaller towns have municipal improvements under way costing from $5,000 to $15,000. An era of prosperity exists in the southwestern section of Iowa, hitherto unequalled in the Hawkeye state.

Odd Fellows to Cedar Rapids.

Davenport.—Cedar Rapids was selected as the next meeting place of the Iowa grand lodge. Nominations for officers were made as follows, to be voted on by all the lodges of the state next June:

Grand master, H. C. Ring, Marion; deputy grand master, E. Stymert, Stevenson, Council Bluffs; grand warden, W. W. Brunton, Boone; E. W. Cutting, Decorah; J. T. Temple, Davenport; J. W. Marshall, Storm Lake; H. F. Wagner, Sigourney; W. C. Kummer, Keokuk; J. P. Lambertson, Albia; C. E. Wallace, New Sharon; grand treasurer, J. W. Reihman; grand mountain, A. S. Holmes, Perry; A. E. Hindorff, Newton; grand representative, L. W. White, Woodbine.

The new officers of the department council were re-elected as follows: President, Major General E. E. Lambert, Newton; vice president, Brig. Gen. C. W. Paschal, Belle Plaine; secretary, Lieut. Col. H. S. Rayburn, Newton; treasurer, Capt. A. O. Peterson, Estherville.

Iowa's Great Corn Harvest Is On.

Sheldahl.—Bump, bump, bump; it's harvest time in Iowa again, and the music of the nubbin striking the throw boards can be heard on all sides on a still day. Yes, Iowa's big annual harvest of the yellow corn is on, and few are the farmers seen in town these days except those on business of urgent necessity. The yield this year, though not up to the standard of previous years, and considerably below the yield of last year, is still better than it was generally believed to be before the harvest commenced. The stalks stand nice and straight except in occasional fields where it is badly torn down and twisted. The fine weather gave many of the farmers a fine start and if this kind of weather continues we will see the finish of the corn husking in a remarkably short time.

Overholt's Ashes at Iowa City.

Iowa City.—Ashes of former Postmaster H. D. Overholt, who committed suicide in the Kirkwood hotel in Des Moines, were brought to Iowa City and interred in the family lot at Oakland cemetery. He took his own life a year ago last summer. The body was cremated at Davenport, removed to Des Moines and later brought here.

Lost $5,000 in Jewelry.

Boone.—Mrs. John Reynolds who, with her husband, left for Clinton and Chicago, lost a hand bag containing $5,000 worth of jewelry, mostly in diamonds. She declares she left it in the Boone station of the Northwestern road, but no trace can be found. A very liberal reward has been offered for the recovey of the jewelry.

Three Murderers Sentenced for Life.

Des Moines, Iowa.—The most unusual session of the district court in the history of the state of Iowa was held in Polk county when Judge Miller, who presides over the criminal division, sent three murderers to the penitentiary at Ft. Madison to work at hard labor for the remainder of their natural lives.

The session was not only the most unusual, but undoubtedly one of the most dramatic, for the words had just passed the lips of Judge Miller sentencing the last man to the penitentiary until death, when a number of women sitting in the rear of the court room exclaimed in unison, "Thank the Lord!" It was the only remark they made and the only words that broke the silence immediately following the pronouncing of the sentences.

The men who were the center of attraction in this remarkable session were: John Smeltzer, convicted of the murder of City Detective Frank Delmege; James Watkins, convicted of the murder of John Weaver, and William Webster, convicted of the murder of George Talbot.

Had a jury returned a verdict of death penalty in any one of the three Judge Miller said he would have had no hesitancy in imposing the sentence, for he declared it would tend to put a curb on the would-be murderer.

Pastor Loses 400 Sermons in Fire.

Cedar Falls.—George Hugh Birney, for some years pastor of the First Methodist church here, recently assigned to the biggest Methodist church at Grand Rapids, Mich., is mourning the loss of 400 sermons which he has been preparing since his college days. The pastor had left the sermons in an old suit case. He went to Mason City to attend the conference leaving orders that the trash in the house be destroyed after his household goods were packed. The party who remained to pack up discovered the old valise and not knowing the importance of the contents, threw it into the furnace, destroying valise, sermons and the work of years. The loss is very keenly felt by the pastor, particularly now, that he is entering a new field of labor.

Motorman Gets Watch As Reward.

Boone.—The Fort Dodge Des Moines and Southern railway has presented a gold watch to J. S. Stokes, a motorman. The watch was given to him as a reward for his rare presence of mind in a time of danger. Recently Stokes was taking a crowded passenger car up Fraser hill. A runaway freight was tearing down the hill when seen by Stokes. He reversed his power and began to go back towards Boone. When the crash came no one was injured.

Heavy Fine on Druggist.

Webster City.—Judge Wright who is holding court in this city is making it most uncomfortable for illegal dispensers of intoxicating liquors. He has just assessed a fine of $550 and costs against W. T. Faucett, a local druggist. Faucett was indicted last spring and at the present term of court entered a plea of guilty.

Honor Late Priest.

Ft. Dodge.—Solemn high requiem mass, in memory of the late Monsignor B. C. Lenehan, was said at Corpus Christi church at which about sixty priests from this diocese officiated. The service is known as the month mind mass, and was held just thirty days from the funeral of the departed prelate.

Advance in Jasper County Land.

Colfax.—Mr. S. A. Sharp sold his 125 acre improved farm to J. W. Kartchner for $125 per acre. The land lies a mile north of this city and was bought four years ago for $85 per acre. The price advanced $50 per acre. Mrs. T. J. Shaw sold her fine farm near Mitchellville for $150 per acre.

Sues Liquor Man.

Creston.—Mrs. E. Wilkins has started a suit against L. M. Tourman, a liquor dealer, for selling her husband liquor after he had been warned not to do so. She wants $5,000 damages. She declares her husband is unable to work and is abusive while under the influence of liquor.

Apple Crop Is Blighted.

Burlington.—Reports received indicate that the apple orchards in southeastern Iowa have been almost blighted by the frost of the past several mornings. Only a small portion of the apple crop had been harvested and thousands of bushels are still on the trees.

Oxford Farmer Found Dead.

Iowa City.—The body of Adam Probst, a young farmer, was found on his father's farm near Oxford. It is supposed his neck was broken by being pitched from a horse while herding cattle. The family thought he was visiting a neighbor. He was 20 years old.

Silk Stockings Indispensable.

Susan B. Anthony was a woman of simple taste in dress, but her close friends knew of one pretty feminine vanity she always held to. She had a weakness for silk stockings. Being pressed on one occasion for an explanation of what most women at that time regarded as an unnecessary extravagance, she laughingly exclaimed: "Oh, I just love 'em. They are my inspiration. If I have my silk stockings on when I rise to make an address, I feel just like I am walking among the clouds. They help me to soar away on flights of eloquence. I wouldn't be without them."

CURED ITCHING HUMOR

Big, Painful Swellings Broke and Did Not Heal—Suffered 3 Years.

Tortures Yield to Cuticura.

"Little black swellings were scattered over my face and neck and they would leave little black scars that would itch so I couldn't keep from scratching them. Larger swellings would appear and my clothes would stick to the sores. I went to a doctor but the trouble only got worse. At this time it was all over my arms and the upper part of my body in swellings as large as a dollar. It was so painful that I could not bear to lie on my back. The second doctor stopped the swellings, but when they broke the places would not heal. I bought a set of the Cuticura Remedies and in less than a week some of the places were nearly well. I continued until I had used three sets, and now I am sound and well. The disease lasted three years. O. L. Wilson, Puryear, Tenn., Feb. 8, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

In Confidence.

"Do your cows give much milk?" queried the fair summer boarder.

"Do they?" echoed the old farmer. "Say, jist atween yew an' me, they give so all-fired much that we dilute th' well water we sell tew th' campers with it."—Chicago Daily News.

Stop guessing! Try the best and most certain remedy for all painful ailments—Hamlins Wizard Oil. The way it relieves all soreness from sprains, cuts, wounds, burns, scalds, etc., is wonderful.

Experienced.

Non-Com. (to recruit)—I don't suppose you ever smelt powder, have you?

Recruit—Oh, yes. I was in a drug store before I enlisted.

Pettit's Eye Salve Restores.

No matter how badly the eyes may be diseased or injured. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

Home is the place a married man stays while they are cleaning house at his club.

Don't think Wrigley's Spearmint only whitens the teeth. It helps digestion and perfumes the breath.

Ever hear of a man getting rich by following the advice given in books on the subject?

NASTY YELLOW CLOTHES will forever disappear if you use RUSH BLUE. All good grocers, 5c.

The bravery of some men is like that of bulldogs; they haven't sense enough to be afraid of anything.

SPRAINS AND BRUISES disappear like magic under the healing touch of Perry Davis' Painkiller. During this icy weather no household should be without it. In 25c, 35c, 50c sizes.

Great men do not drop out of the sky in evening dress.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

A homely truth is better than a handsome lie.

LOSE NO SLEEP through a nagging cough or irritated throat. Allen's Lung Balsam will heal the affection quickly and harmlessly. All druggists. 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles.

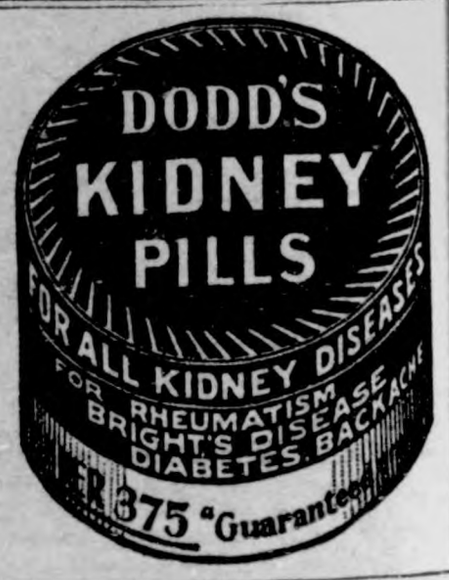
The man who has been down can appreciate being up in the world.

Greatest health exercise known! Chew Wrigley's Spearmint.

If we all had our own way other people would quickly get out of it.

Constipation causes many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a laxative, three for cathartic.

When duty calls on a man he is apt to be out.



WRIGLEY WRIGLEY WRIGLEY

LIPS THAT WERE SEALED

BY ALMA MARTIN ESTABROOK

PICTURES BY A. WEIL

AUTHOR OF "MY COUSIN PATRICIA."

COPYRIGHT BY J. B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

SYNOPSIS.

The story opens with a scene at a box party. Miss Henrietta Winstantley, sister of Bishop Winstanley overheard Ankony propose to Barbara Hemingray, whose brother Dan was in his employ. Dan was one of the town's popular young men. He showed some nervousness when Attorney Tom Twining told him Barbara refused Ankony. Ankony the following day, summoning Twining, accused Dan of looting the bank. Twining refused to prosecute. Barbara persuaded Ankony to postpone starting prosecution. Twining learned of the engagement of Ankony and Barbara. He congratulated both. He visited Miss Hemingray and found her almost in tears. He told her he had loved her, but feared prematurely announcing his affection. By actions alone she told him the reciprocated. Mrs. Anson Dines, wealthy widow, proposed a marriage by proxy with Bishop Winstanley. The latter consulted with Twining. The bishop had been paying attentions to Miss Hemingray. Dan consulted Twining, saying his sister was determined to marry Ankony, declaring she actually loved the banker, though he could not help believing she was making a sacrifice to save him from jail. Miss Winstanley, finding a pressed rose in the bishop's book, suspected a love affair. Mrs. Dines sailed for America. Miss Winstanley informed Twining that Mrs. Dines was intent upon stopping the marriage of Barbara and Ankony.

CHAPTER VIII.—Continued.

I tramped the floor, and Miss Winstanley did innumerable things as an outlet for her brimming emotions. She closed an open magazine, patted a depressed pillow into plumpness, hovered over a bowl of flowers, and teased her spaniel, talking all the time about what this might mean to us all.

"You may put your faith in Hannah Dines," she said.

"I wish I felt as sure of it as you do."

"She means just what she says, and she knows she can do it. The marriage is as good as stopped, Mr. Twining; you may take my word for it."

"Mrs. Dines is counting without her host; they will not give each other up."

"Rubbish!" she cried, confronting me with an indignant face, and snapping her fingers. "Why will you insist that she cares for him? I tell you she does not. Once the reason for her marrying him is removed, you will see."

"The Lord grant that I may!" I fervently ejaculated.

"You will," she insisted.

"Mrs. Dines should be here within four days," I said, making a rapid calculation.

She nodded.

"What are we to do in the meantime?" I asked.

"Possess ourselves in patience."

She was rapturously jubilant.

"I wish I could be as sanguine as you," said I.

"If you knew Mrs. Dines you would be," she declared. "I should have had my doubts if any other woman had written this, but I know how perfectly sure of herself she is."

I recalled one failure of hers. Then I remembered the bishop's distress and smiled.

"We must keep the matter entirely between ourselves," said Miss Winstanley. "I have not even told my brother what her coming will mean. He is a long-time friend of hers; so I have told him that she is on her way to America, knowing that he would be interested to hear it, but I made no mention of her errand, nor do I expect to."

She was standing at the window, looking out. She turned on the instant and came toward me.

"Do try to be a little glad," she cried.

"You know what a second disappointment would mean," I said. "I am trying not to hope too much."

"But you may hope all you like. I have faith in Hannah Dines, and I am sure things are coming out right; sure of it, sure of it, sure of it," and she laughed blithely.

CHAPTER IX.

The steamer on which Mrs. Dines arrived was three days belated, to our great impatience, arriving only the day but one before the wedding invitations were to go out; and as the bishop was away from town on a trip, which annoyed and puzzled his sister, it fell to my lot to accompany her to meet Mrs. Dines.

It had been years since I had seen that lady and then but once and briefly, but I knew her the moment she came down the gang-plank, so exactly did she look as I had been sure she would; a large, ruddyish woman, in an indifferently tailored cheviot, with a man's keen eyes, a woman's nose, the copious chins of the bishop's description, and a mouth inclining slightly to gentleness, with a firm jaw; the brusque, direct woman that one finds in a thousand. She had come easily into success, as the bishop had said, and one could see that if Anson Dines had not accomplished anything for himself, she must have accomplished it for him, since a woman built in her mold could not have been a failure nor have allowed the man she married to remain one.

"I am ill," she said at once, as we moved to meet her and she stooped to offer a grayish cheek to her friend's lips. "The passage was frightfully rough. I don't know when I've had such a trip. I must get home and to bed."

She nodded briefly when I was presented to her, declined the arm I proffered, and, when we had finally got to the carriage, leaned back and closed her eyes, maintaining an absolute silence except when she aroused herself to answer briefly some question in the flow of Miss Winstanley's solicitude. It was evident that mal de mer did not leave her in the most amiable spirits in the world.

Henrietta Winstanley sank lower and lower in her corner of the carriage, looking at me with appealing and dejected eyes. It was no wonder; to have waited all these nervewearing days on Mrs. Dines and then to have her arrive in this undone and uncommunicative condition was enough to sink even her buoyant spirits. For myself, I felt the hopelessness of the whole affair as I had felt it from the beginning.

She Looked at Me Questioningly.

As we neared the Winstanley house, Miss Winstanley said, quite casually: "By the way, Hannah, the Hemingray-Ankony invitations are out day after to-morrow."

"What!" cried Mrs. Dines, and her eyes flew open on the instant. "Why didn't you tell me at once? I had no idea it was to be so soon. I must see Dean at once."

Dean was her agent and adviser.

Miss Winstanley revived immediately.

"Are you able?" she inquired tenderly.

Mrs. Dines nodded, swallowed hard, and tried to sit up. She was greenish gray and looked frightfully ill.

"It isn't a question as to that," she declared; "I must see Dean this morning, at once. Aren't we almost home?"

"You see she has come fortified," said Miss Winstanley to me, as I was leaving, after having assisted Mrs. Dines into the house.

I went back to my office and managed to put in the rest of the morning and part of the afternoon, but my nerves were ragged and my alarm as to Mrs. Dines' condition was very real. Miss Winstanley had mentioned the physician she meant to call, and I went round to see him late in the day to inquire as to his patient, but his report of her was not at all encouraging and I almost wished I had stayed away. He thought it probable that she would not be out of bed for a fortnight.

Toward evening, as I came out of my club and started through Union square, I became suddenly conscious of a slender familiar figure ahead of me, and, hastening, overtook Barbara. She was walking rapidly, and she turned at my salutation with a start, as if her thoughts had been far from her surroundings. Her eyes were feverish and I could see at once that she was very tired.

"Are you walking home?" I asked. "May I come along?"

She looked at me, hesitating.

"I don't think you had better," she said. "I am hurried and cross and absent-minded."

"I've seen you all three and still found you fairly—"

"Oh, don't muster out any silly compliments," she broke in quickly. "I know that in my present mood I couldn't inspire a genuine one; so don't try to palm off any spurious ones on me. I'm not in the humor to be easily deceived. But you may come along if you're sure you don't mind. Perhaps it's just as well; there is—I have just posted you a note to say good-by."

"Good-by!" I gasped. "Where in the world are you going?"

"We sail for London to-morrow. Mr. Ankony has been called there by important business. We are to be married at noon. It's very sudden, isn't it? I feel as if I had been caught up by a huge whirlwind that wouldn't let me down."

"To-morrow! You sail to-morrow!" I repeated.

She nodded. "It was only a matter of a few weeks at most," she said.

"But to-morrow!" I echoed inanely.

She did not reply. Gathering her skirts out of the way of the fountain spray that drifted across the asphalt, she kept her eyes resolutely ahead. The roar of Broadway was in our ears. Through Fifteenth street the late sunshine poured, and a mist came up from the bay. River whistles blew, and here and there an electric light sprang out. Walking hurriedly and in silence we crossed Broadway and came into the kindling shadows of the side-street, turning presently into Fifth avenue.

"And your note?" I asked.

"Was only to say good-by and explain our hurried departure. We are so sorry to not have you all with us at the marriage, as we had expected. Even Dan may not get to town in time. I wired him at once, of course, but I'm afraid he can't make it. And Bishop Winstanley is away! It is all so unsatisfactory! I had never thought to have anyone marry me but him, you know. I'm afraid it will seem a sort of makeshift ceremony," with a little sigh.

"Suppose something should come up to prevent your sailing?" I asked, with an uncontrollable impulse.

She turned to me quickly, an odd look in her eyes, but in the same instant it faded and she lifted the shield of an impersonal smile.

"That is quite improbable. I never think of such things. Some people do, I know. But in this case we are almost quite ready. Mr. Ankony is rushing his preparations through, and I had even this half-hour's breathing space, so I walked through the old Square for the last time. Does that sound ghastly?" she asked, with a smile. "But I dare say it will never seem quite the same again."

Her tone was light, but it held the pang of sadness. Was it only the sadness that a woman must naturally feel at such a time, I asked myself, or did it hold all the ache and bitterness that Henrietta Winstanley still stoutly contended that it did? I looked at her keenly, and, feeling my glance, she put up a quick, impatient hand to her cheek.

"It isn't nice to stare at a bride-elect like that on the eve of her wedding," she said "Don't you know that? She is always cross and pale and nervous. It isn't fair."

"Forgive me; but to-morrow—to-morrow I can't look at you—nor for weeks and months perhaps. Oh, I know I'm hurting you! I'm a beast to do it. But a man can't mask a thing forever. And it hurts. God! how it hurts to think of your going!"

"Does that make it any harder—the going?" she asked.

"It is the suddenness of it," I said dully, and we walked a little way in silence. It was she who broke it.

"I am so sorry! so sorry!" she said, in the lowest, softest voice, and the regret and the tenderness in it touched me profoundly. "If I could say something, do something, to help—to make it easier for you! But I can't, and it—it hurts me, too. Oh, look at me once in friendliness and forgiveness!"

A lovely April twilight was setting about us, and in its shadows I turned to her.

"Can you do me the injustice to believe that I have anything but friendliness for you, dear?" I asked. "I am a poor whimpering thing to trouble you like this now—to let you see."

We had reached the steps of her house, and as we mounted them she slipped her hand through my arm with a little pressure, then quickly withdrew it.

"No, no, you are not that," she protested warmly; "you are all that is considerate and kind and good, and I—"

"If I were yielding you to any one else—" I blundered.

"Don't!" she cried; "you have your own little shrine in the temple of my heart, and I don't want you to dethrone yourself at the last. This is—is the last, you know. Good-by. I can't ask you in, and we shall not meet again before I go."

"Yet I think," said I, "that I will not say good-by."

She looked at me questioningly.

"Do you think leaving out a good-by makes a separation seem less real?" she smiled.

"This one would set the seal upon too many things," I replied.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Father Was "Wise" to Game

Possibly Dad Had Recalled a Few Incidents of His Own College Days.

A student at the University of Pennsylvania had been going a fast pace with the boys of his class and fraternity and had had frequent interviews with father concerning debts and other financial troubles occasioned by the drain his pleasures had made on his source of supply.

Several times the "governor" had been compelled to get various articles of value back from the boy's "uncle," and the relation of provider and spender was strained.

One day the student wired father that his watch had fallen into deep water in the Schuylkill river and he wanted "at once" $25 to hire a diver to recover it. The answer came as follows:

"Nothing on the $25. Cheaper to soak the watch where it is."

Every One.

Every woman believes that if she should die right after her husband has scolded her the coroner would find her heart covered with black and blue spots.—Atchison Globe.

The Triumphant Feminine.

Woman's superiority over man is proved by the fact that she can be a heroine even to the maid who pins on her switches and adjusts her rat.

Taking Well-Earned Rest.

The oldest waiter in Germany, age 77, recently retired from his work at Elbing.

ANOTHER SUFFERER ONE MORE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Milwaukee, Wis. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world of it. I suffered from female trouble and fearful pains in my back. I had the best doctors and they all decided that I had a tumor in addition to my female trouble, and advised an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I hope I can help others by telling them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me." — MRS. EMMA IMSE, 833 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

FREE

Mary T. Goldman's Gray Hair Restorer restores original color in mild, healthful manner in from 7 to 14 days. Entirely different from anything else. Its effect is permanent. Does not wash off nor look unnatural. Has no sediment, so it's neither sticky nor greasy—it's as pure and clear as water. Don't experiment—use what thousands of others have found safe and satisfactory. For sample and comb absolutely free, write to MARY T. GOLDMAN, 466 Goldman Bldg., St. Paul, Minn. Be sure to mention original color of your hair. Full size bottles for sale by all dealers.

Trade Mark Registered

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT PEPSIN GUM

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

LIVE STOCK AND MISCELLANEOUS ELECTROTYPES
In great variety for sale at the lowest prices by WESTERN NEWSPAPER UNION, 554 W. Adams St., Chicago

For Constipation and Bladder Trouble A-B-C TEA
25cts. All Dealers. 25cts.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT THE FLAVOR LASTS

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

Save the Baby—Use
PISO'S CURE
THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS
Should be given at once when the little one coughs. It heals the delicate throat and protects the lungs from infection—guaranteed safe and very palatable.
All Druggists, 25 cents.

The Kl...

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

The City Dray Line

We wish to announce that we have purchased the dray line from Ell Bros. and ask a continuation of your valued patronage. We will do all hauling entrusted to us promptly and carefully. Give us a trial.

ELL & SONS, Klemme, Iowa

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

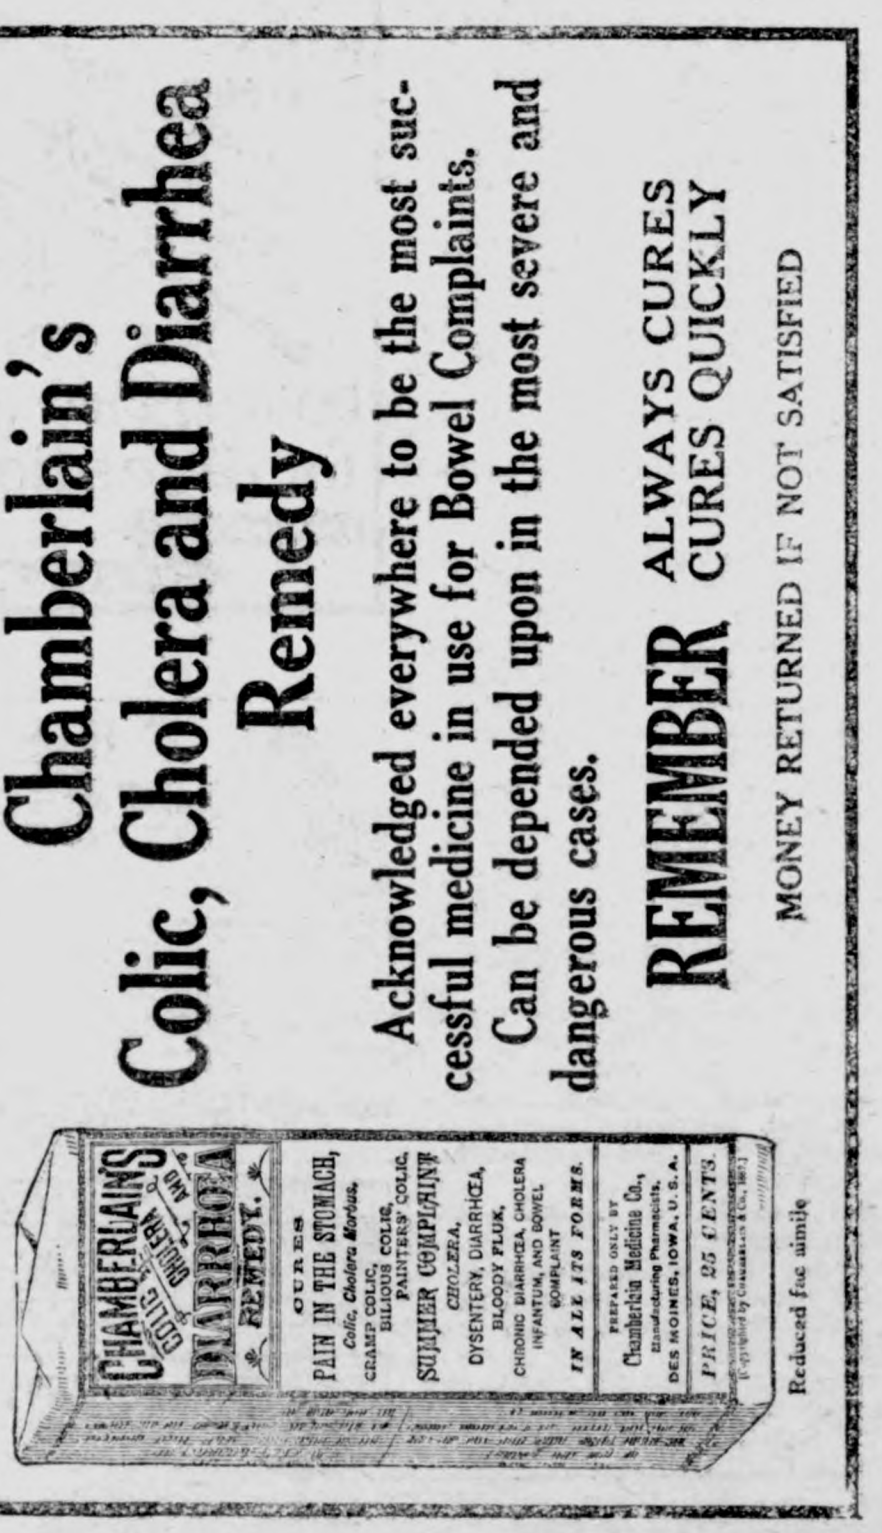
Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy

Acknowledged everywhere to be the most successful medicine in use for Bowel Complaints.

Can be depended upon in the most severe and dangerous cases.

REMEMBER ALWAYS CURES CURES QUICKLY

MONEY RETURNED IF NOT SATISFIED



Reduced fac simile

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

GOODELL

From the Globe:

T. R. Burgess is building an addition to his residence in Goodell.

Ed Cashman came down from Hayfield and spent Sunday in Goodell.

B. H. Luken was a business visitor at Mason City the fore part of the week.

Mrs. S. E. Hall, of Moline, Ill., is a guest at the S. P. Kennett home west of town.

A. R. White and wife, of near Klemme, spent Sunday at the A. D. White home.

S. E. Eldred and family, of Clear Lake, attended the funeral of Peter Nelson here on last Sunday.

L. D. Harmon, of Oshkosh, Wisconsin, is having a large barn built on his farm which is rented by Gus Okrueg west of town.

Rev. Doty and wife, of Clarksville, Iowa, spent Sunday in Goodell. Rev. Doty preached three sermons here during the day. It is expected that Rev. Doty will be the new U. B. pastor and they will probably move their household goods here this week.

The Bed-Rock of Success

lies in a keen, clear brain, backed by indomitable will and resistless energy Such power comes from the splendid health that Dr. King's New Life Pills impart. They vitalize every organ and build up brain and body. J. A. Harmon, Lizemore, W. Va., writes: "They are the best pills I ever used." 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

MESERVEY

From the Messenger:

Mrs. H. Raecker is reported on the sick list.

James P. Courtney, who has been sick with typhoid, is able to be about town.

A. C. Mayers came home Monday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christ Mayers.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moehl and two children left Monday for their home at Granville, Ill., after visiting their relatives.

Mrs. Wm. Quandt returned home Friday after visiting three weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Immel, at Waukomis, Oklahoma.

Frightful Fate Averted

"I would have been a cripple for life from a terrible cut on my knee cap," writes Frank Disberry, Kelliher, Minn. "without Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which soon cured me." Infallible for wounds, cuts and bruises; it soon cures burns, scalds, old sores, boils, skin eruptions. World's best for piles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Modern Silo Construction

During the summer of 1908 a bulletin on the above subject was published by the Agricultural Engineering section of the Iowa Experiment Station. The demand for this bulletin was so great that the supplp was exhausted within three months after it was received from the printer. In order to supply the requests which have been coming in ever since, a revised edition has been printed. This contains practically the same material as was given in the first edition, with the addition of a few notes which were necessary in order to bring the discussion up to date. The most important addition is a description of the first year's experience with the new tile silo which was erected at the Station last summer.

Any farmer who intends to erect a silo will find Bulletin No. 100, "Modern Silo Construction," a very valuable help in deciding on the type and size of silo to build. A great many practical hints on the details of construction are also given. Copies of the revised edition of this bulletin can be obtained free by applying to C. F. Curtiss, Director Iowa Experiment Station, Ames, Iowa.

Notice of Probate of Will

STATE OF IOWA, } ss
Hancock County, }

To Whom It May Concern:

Notice is hereby given that an instrument in writing, purporting to be the last will and testament of Charles Schroeder, deceased, was filed in the office of the undersigned on the 25th day of October, A. D. 1909, and that December 6th, 1909, was fixed for hearing proof in relation thereto.

Witness my hand and the Seal of the District Court attached at Garner, in said County, this 25th day of October, A. D., 1909.

(SEAL) O. F. MISSMAN,
Clerk of the District Court.
13-3 Hancock County, Iowa.

Books — Letter Heads
Pamphlets — Envelopes

Everything printed from

TYPE

At the Times office.

Cards — Bill Heads
Invitations — Fosters

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOW

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE. Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fi... days tr atment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund m... All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used... detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail a... press. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. C... low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. ...sultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or ... to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the ... harmful instruments. Our ... fully explain.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scro... causing nervous debility, we... of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease ... its stages, cured for life. Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, and all for... private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days w... pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application ... description of above diseases ... effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES,

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliabl... and permanent. Write to or call and se... the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted wit... Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free... postage paid. This book contains... much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters... Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book... Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Money Comes in Bunches

to A. A. Chisholm, of Treadwell, N. Y., now. His reason is well worth reading: "For a long time I suffered from indigestion, torpid liver, constipation, nervousness and general debility," he writes. "I couldn't sleep, had no appetite, nor ambition, grew weaker every day in spite of all medical treatment. Then used Electric Bitters. Twelve bottles restored all my old-time health and vigor. Now I can attend to business every day. It's a wonderful medicine." Infallible for stomach, liver, kidneys, blood and nerves. 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

McCALL PATTERNS 10 AND 15c HOME HIGHER

McCALL'S MAG... 50c A YEAR INCLUDING A FREE...

McCALL PATTERNS
Celebrated for style, perfect fit, simplic... reliability nearly 40 years. Sold in... every city and town in the United St... Canada, or by mail direct. More re... any other make. Send for free cat...

McCALL'S MAGAZINE
More subscribers than any other ... magazine—million a month. Invaluable ... est styles, patterns, dressmaking, ne... plain sewing, fancy needlework, hairdr... etiquette, good stories, etc. Only 50c ... year (worth double), including a free ... Subscribe today, or send for sample...

WONDERFUL INDUCEMENTS
to Agents. Postal brings prospectus, cat... and new cash prize offers. Address...

THE McCALL CO., 238 to 248 W. 37th St., N.Y.

Electric Bitters

Succeed when everything else fa... In nervous prostration and fem... weaknesses they are the supre... remedy, as thousands have testifi...

FOR KIDNEY, LIVER AN... STOMACH TROUBLE...

it is the best medicine ever s... over a druggist's counter.

Just Dust it on the Co...
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls whi... work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom... Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by ...
Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDE...
(25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IO...

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 14 — KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1909. — $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

ONE REASON IF NO OTHER

WHY YOU SHOULD HAVE MONEY IN THE BANK

IS BECAUSE ITS SAFE THERE FROM FIRE, BURGLARS OR YOUR OWN EXTRAVAGANCE

Saving money means saving not only money but health, power, independence, security, satisfaction and protection.

Few friends are as ready and able to serve you as your MONEY.

Begin to save NOW.

Open that savings account to-day.

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

SCHOOL NOTES

The general averages of pupils show an improvement this month over the last month's examinations.

The school board has kindly consented to give the teachers a holiday in order to take in the State teachers' meeting in Des Moines November 4, 5 and 6.

Pupils neither absent nor tardy for month ending Oct. 29th:

High School Room— Esther Lenz, Verner Lewis, Gail Bloom Clarence Waterman, Holly Lewis.

Intermediate—Harold Gruetzmacher, Ella Ridder, Paul Achtermann, Ada Bowker, Miriam Achtermann, Cyrus Griewe, George Musfeldt, Florence Sampson, Vera Flint, Howard Terhufen.

Primary—Beryl Flint. Linda Musfelt, Ariel Achtermann, Florence Bowker, Frank Bowker, Mabel Waterman, Walter Bloom, Mark Achtermann, Evelyn Elder, Sadie Bowker.

Isaac Sweigard and George Asplin were down from Garner last week Thursday in Mr. Sweigard's Brush runabout.

The Best Prophet of the Future is the Past

—o—

For more than 15 years the management of the First National Bank has been "First" in ability to care for the needs of its patrons and is pleased today to place at the disposal of its customers the experience gained in that period.....

—o—

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

A CONVINCER

The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.

We claim for our lumber and building material that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.

May we figure on your next lumber bill?

J. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

$10.00 SUITS

¶ Our showing of Men's and Young Men's Suits at this price are of the very latest styles and shades and an assortment of patterns that are sure to please you.....

¶ Our $10.00 Suits not only look well but they wear well and we guarantee the biggest ten dollars worth you ever had.....

¶ If you are looking for a medium priced suit come and see us. We are here to please you.

At the same time see our furnishings, winter underwear, winter Caps, dress Shirts, Neckties, Everything for Men and Boys from head to foot.

We can save you money on fur coats, duck coats, Plush lined Coats, and Sheep lined Coats. See ours before buying elsewhere.

M. A. McCARTHY

Garner's One Price Clothier

F. E. Walsh, Mgr.

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA

IMPORTANT NEWS NOTES OF A WEEK

LATEST HAPPENINGS THE WORLD OVER TOLD IN ITEMIZED FORM.

EVENTS HERE AND THERE

Condensed Into a Few Lines for the Perusal of the Busy Man—Latest Personal Information.

PERSONAL.

Horace H. Lurton of Nashville is believed in Washington to have the best chance for appointment to the bench of the supreme court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Peckham. Lurton is an old friend of President Taft.

G. A. Simpson, a Grant county (Ky.) tobacco grower, who shipped 75,000 pounds of his 1909 crop, with the aid of state troops, says he will move to New Mexico, as he fears night riders.

Jacob M. Dickinson, secretary of war, says if his candidacy for senator in Tennessee would unite the Democratic factions in the state, he would make the race.

Prof. Headlee of the Kansas agricultural college says chinch bugs cause from $5,000,000 to $25,000,000 loss annually to the farmers of the state. He is experimenting with destroyers.

Dr E. B. Morgan, an eye and ear specialist of Paterson, N. J., has come into possession of $1,000,000 through the generosity of a brother who made $7,000,000 in stock deals and shared his fortune.

Cardinal Gibbons says he pities the friendless rich. "Millions," he says, "avail nothing to a man if he have no one to give him solace in sorrow."

Richard Croker's trip to the United States this fall is not in response to a call for aid from Charles W. Morse, according to a statement by Mr. Morse, who is a prisoner in the Tombs at New York.

GENERAL NOTES.

Five hundred Indian bucks and squaws, after receiving their annuities, indulged in one of the wildest orgies that the Leech Lake (Minn.) agency ever witnessed. It was the last day when saloons could sell liquor to the redskins.

Mrs. Frank Stanley, at Pana, Ill., shot and killed her husband, Frank, during a struggle for the possession of a shotgun. The woman claims she shot in self-defense.

Frederick Gebhardt, the New York self-confessed wife murderer, admits he has been guilty of three such crimes, for the purpose of securing the women's money.

Grand jury at Chicago in their final report to Judge Tuthill, declared the jury-drawing system of Cook county "rotten and corrupt," and charge the commissioners with wholesale violations of the law.

Gen. Oliver O. Howard, the last of the union commanders of the civil war, died at his home in Burlington, Vt., of heart disease, aged 79 years.

Credence is given by Tokyo officials to the report that the assassination of Prince Ito was the culmination of a plot, the ramifications of which extended through Korea and into China.

Federal Judge Holt, at New York, handed down a decision which will allow Gustav E. Kissel and Thomas B. Harned, who were among those indicted along with the American Sugar Refining Company for criminal conspiracy, to escape prosecution through the provisions of the statute of limitations.

John R. Walsh, the former Chicago banker, has received $100,000 for an option on his railroads from the United States Steel Corporation, which will enable him to settle his financial difficulties for the time being, at least.

A secret investigation into alleged irregularities in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., is being made by Alexander Bruce Bielaski, a special examiner from the department of justice at Washington.

The fourth annual convention of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterway association is in session at New Orleans, with President Taft, Vice-President Sherman, Speaker Cannon, several members of the cabinet, numerous governors, senators, representatives, members of state legislatures and members of industrial and semi-public organizations in attendance.

The thirty-ninth annual reunion of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee was held in Columbus, O., Gen. James Grant Wilson delivering the address.

KEEP OF CONVICTS

Quarterly Report Shows State Expense Is Quite Cheap.

ONLY FIFTY-TWO CENTS A DAY

Illinois Prison Officials Have Asked the Iowa Board for Copies of Supply Specifications—Summary of Expense.

Des Moines, Oct. 29.—Accountant of the state board of control A. B. McCowan, has made his quarterly report of the expenses of maintaining the 454 convicts at Fort Madison. It costs 52 cents per day to care for each of them. Officials of Illinois prisons have written the Iowa board asking for copies of supply specifications, stating that the big wholesale houses of Chicago have commended the shrewd purchasing system of the Iowa board.

The summary of expense follows:

Anamosa, 432 inmates, daily cost per capita, 59 cents; Cherokee, 893 inmates, daily cost per capita, 43 cents; Clarinda, 1,070 inmates, daily cost per capita, 34 cents; Council Bluffs, one inmate, no estimate given; Davenport, 531 inmates, daily per capita cost, 30 cents; Eldora, 603 inmates, daily per capita cost, 42 cents; Fort Madison, 454 inmates, daily per capita cost, 52 cents; Glenwood, 1,102 inmates, daily per capita cost, 38 cents; Independence, 1,163 inmates, daily per capita cost, 39 cents; Oakdale Sanatorium, daily per capita cost, $1.43; Knoxville, 68 inmates, daily per capita cost, 82 cents; Marshalltown, 102 inmates, daily per capita cost, 45 cents, Mitchellville, 767 inmates, daily per capita cost, 49 cents; Mount Pleasant, 191 inmates, daily per capita cost, 33 cents; Vinton, 46 inmates, daily per capita cost, $1.16.

Attacked by Meningitis.

Mason City.—The first case of the dread cerebo-spinal meningitis known here in years made its appearance attacking the 2-year-old daughter of R. E. Eldred and the family, preferring to accompany the child, have been placed in the detention hospital. There is considerable alarm and the disease is epidemic in form. A new serum, a discovery of Dr. Flexner, has been administered but the child is in a critical condition. Two years ago an elder child died from the same disease while the family were residents of Blooming Prairie, Minn., and the living child has been wearing some of the clothing left by the elder which it is said were not fumigated.

Big Apples in Harrison County.

Logan.—A short time ago Preston Walker picked from an orchard near Logan an apple measuring fourteen inches in circumference. T. M. Adams of Logan has had on exhibition in his store an apple measuring fifteen inches in circumference, but Clay F. Johnson of near Logan has produced an apple that put Walker and Adams out of commission. Mr. Johnson has grown an apple on his farm measuring seventeen inches in circumference.

Brick Mason Kills Tailor in Fall.

Des Moines.—Losing his balance while working at the top of the south wall of the Coliseum, W. J. Kennedy, a bricklayer, plunged with terrific force through fifty-five feet of space striking squarely upon John A. Holmquist, a tailor, who was passing beneath. Holmquist's neck was broken, and he died within a few minutes. Kennedy suffered only a slight scalp wound, and his right ear was partly torn off.

Northern Iowa Potato Harvest.

Forest City.—While other sections of north Iowa met serious loss by frost to their potato crop, the loss here will be slight. The potato harvest is in full blast and the yield throughout the country is averaging 150 bushels per acre. About 5,000 bushels were marketed here in one day, many being shipped out, at a price on the cars of 35 cents per bushel.

Draw Plans for Hospital Wing.

Iowa City.—Architect W. T. Proudfoot, Des Moines, is perfecting plans for the new wing of the university hospital. The wing will cost $75,000. The contract will be let in January and work will probably be commenced next spring. The building will be modern in every way.

Shoots Off Toe.

Mt. Pleasant.—Emery Martin accidentally shot off a part of one of his toes while shooting at rats at the county jail. He is serving a sentence and being a trusty was given the gun to shoot the rats which were getting thick around the jail.

Delegates to Farm Land Congress.

Des Moines, Iowa.—Before leaving for St. Louis, where he will join President Taft's down-the-Mississippi party, Governor Carroll named the Iowa delegates to the National Farm Land congress, which meets in Chicago for a five day session Nov. 16.

The twenty-four men who will represent Iowa are: O. J. Gibson, Red Oak; Winfield Smouse, Washington; A. F. N. Hambleton, Oskaloosa; F. B. Rogers, Britt; J. W. Topping, Burlington; M. V. Bolton, Cedar Rapids; Eugene Secor, Forest City; William Stewart, Mount Pleasant; P. A. Fisher, Fairfield; E. T. Meredith, Des Moines; E. L. Roth, Ottumwa; Julius Kunz, Wesley; B. T. Nix, Afton; Frank Sheldon, Mount Ayr; Frank E. Jones, Corning; J. W. Reed, Ida Grove; H. P. Snover, Battle Creek; John H. Riley, Waterloo; J. A. Mooney, Waverly; S. L. Berry, Bloomfield; E. A. Walker, Moulton; B. R. Vail, Bonaparte; John Ledgerwood, Leon; W. C. Brown, Clarion.

Charles A. Walsh, former state chairman of the democratic central committee, is secretary of the congress. The president of the United States, the secretary of the interior, secretary of agriculture, governors of all states and territories and hundreds of other men high in the business world and in state and federal administration are members of the congress.

The object of the congress is to educate and inform the people of the country as to the possibilities for development of all lands in the United States; to promote the movement for farm land reclamation and farm development; to encourage colonization and settlement, and the like.

The session Nov. 16 will be the first in the history of the organization.

Unusual Family Reunion.

Marshalltown.—By means of publicity by the newspapers of Iowa, Mrs. O. O. Donley of Vinton, Ia.; Mrs. Clarence Kirk of Bangor, Ia.,; Mrs. John Cole of Newton, Kan., and Lee Chase of Burlington, Ia., have been brought to know one another as brother and sisters should. Twenty years ago the family was separated in this city and the children were reared in different homes. No one knew of the other's whereabouts until Mrs. Donley made an appeal through the newspapers. Two of her sisters were found within a few days, and now the brother's attention has been called to the notice. The three sisters returned from Burlington, where they went to see their brother, and the reunion proved a most happy one. There are two brothers, Henry and Roy Chase, some place, but their whereabouts are still unknown.

Farmers' Mutual Election.

Allison.—The Butler County Farmers' Mutual Insurance company has insurance in force to the amount of $5,145,203. At the annual meeting of the company the following officers were elected: W. P. Miller, president; W. A. Broka, vice president; A. T. Perrin, secretary; W. F. Ray, treasurer.

Gets Thirty Years In Pen.

Le Mars.—Judge Mould in the district court sentenced Caspar Mehuis to thirty years in the penitentiary. Mehuis attempted to murder Anna Wengles, a 17-year-old girl on April 14 because she rejected his attentions. He fired five shots into her body. He pleaded guilty.

Midget Babe Dies.

Marshalltown. — Albion's midget babe, Chester Carton, the 1-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Graves, who weighed three pounds at birth, gave up the unequal struggle for existence, due to mal-nutrition. The babe when born could be completely covered by a quart cup.

Try to Burn Church.

Council Bluffs.—An attempt was made to burn the St. Paul's church. A cocoa matting was picked up, thrown over the rear seats of the church and set on fire. When discovered by the janitor the church was filled with smoke but the fire had burned out.

Oxford Farmer Found Dead.

Iowa City.—The body of Adam Probst, a young farmer, was found on his father's farm near Oxford. It is supposed his neck was broken by being pitched from a horse while herding cattle. The family thought he was visiting a neighbor. He was 20 years old.

Require Parents Consent.

Belle Plaine.—The Belle Plaine school board has adopted and published resolutions to the effect that any pupil in the public schools must obtain the written consent of its parents or guardian to permit the pupil to take part in a game of football.

Has Pellagra.

Marengo.—C. E. Vance has pellagra according to a local physician. This is the first case of the kind in Iowa. The disease is common in Europe.

PENSION TEACHERS

Fund Certain to Be Asked of the Next Legislature.

PROGRAM FOR CONVENTION

Topics for Lectures at State Meeting in Des Moines Auditorium, November 4-6, Announced—Headquarters at Savery.

Des Moines, Oct. 30—A State Pension fund maintained by biennial appropriation for the benefit of the teachers of Iowa who have taught in the public schools twenty-five years or over, will be asked of the next legislature by the teachers of the state in association in Des Moines, Nov. 4-6.

By ruling of the association, subjects that affect the welfare of the teachers and mean legislative enactments, must first pass the consideration of the educational council of the association twice before coming before the assembled body for final adoption. This was done at the educational council meeting last year. The plan was adopted unanimously by the council on second years consideration and now comes to final adoption at the state meeting. That this plan will be adopted is without doubt. The teachers believe it is now public policy for the state to recompense its teaching force in the public schools for remainder of life after they have spent a quarter of a century in moulding the state's citizenship. W. H. Bender of Cedar Falls, will bring this subject up again in the educational council which meets the day previous to the annual meeting. Another subject that may reach conclusion will be state jurisdiction over medical inspection of the public schools. J. C. King of Boone will have charge of this school inspection discussion.

The official program for the association has been issued by the executive committee. The official headquarters will be the Savery hotel and the general association sessions will be held in the Auditorium. The program for the general association opens Thursday evening with the annual address of the president, E. J. H. Beard of Newton. He will be followed by Dr. Frank Crane of Chicago. The superintendent of public instruction gives his annual address to the association Friday morning. His subject will be: "The State Association and School Legislation." His address will be followed by that of President A. Ross Hill of Missouri and Professor Rollin D. Salisbury of Chicago university on the subject, "Theories of the Origin of the Earth." Friday evening, Dean James E. Russell of the Teachers' college of Columbia university will give the address on the subject, "School Training Through Handiwork and Headwork." On Saturday morning Dean Charles H. Judd of the school of education of the University of Chicago will give an address on "Scientific Study of Education." He will be followed by Miss Jane Brownlee of New York, subject not announced. A. S. Draper, educational commissioner for New York state, will give an address on the subject, "Public Morals and Public Schools." The business meeting of the association will be held all of Saturday afternoon, that the questions of a pension fund and medical inspection of schools may be given entire attention and some policy adopted for legislative enactment.

Th eround table of the association will be held Thursday afternoon in the class rooms of the West Des Moines High school. The college department will be in charge of Dean J. P. Stephenson of Des Moines college. It is this department this year that names the president. The departments and chairman are as follows: County superintendents and principals, W. E. Cramer, Red Oak; intermediate and grammar, O. W. Hunt, Sioux City; primary, Miss Fannie Foster, Sioux City; English, Miss Ellen M. Geyer, Iowa City; Mathematics, A. W. Merrill, Des Moines; Latin, Louise Smith, Cedar Rapids; German, Charles Bundy, Wilson; history and civics, President Charles Eldred Shelton, Indianola; manual training, R. C. Kelly, Sioux City; drawing, Miss Clara A. Wilson, Des Moines; physical education, Otto Wendelburg, Des Moines; physics, L. Begeman, Cedar Falls; chemistry, Sarah Nollen, Des Moines; biology, B. E. Conkin, Des Moines.

The departments and sections will be held Friday afternoon. The mothers' congress of Iowa meets as an auxiliary with the teachers' association. Mrs. Florence Ward of Cedar Rapids and Mrs. J. G. Grundy of Des Moines will have charge of the program.

The annual college reunions and banquets will be held at the different hotels Friday evening at 5 o'clock.

State Fair Nets Neat Sum.

The financial statement of t partment of agriculture coveri last state fair has been made b retary John Simpson showing the profits from this year's fair $29,828.56. This is considerabl than last year due to the inc expenses of the fair and to the The total expense was $10[illegible],353, last year the expense was bu 000. The receipts this year were 182 which is but about $1,500 g than last year. The two rainy cost the state fair over $25,000 least calculation.

The statement shows that the proceeds from the state fai 000 was put into improvement year. The year before, $53,000 a year before that $41,000 was pu improvements on the grounds the proceeds of the fair making tal of $150,000 that has been pu improvements above the appr tions made by the legislature. ing the appropriations from the lature the improvements made fair grounds this year amou $155,899.11.

Fine Legal Point in Case.

County Attorney A. M. Clou Delaware county, acting for the treasurer, has brought action to the supervisors of Delaware to pay the state a collateral i tance tax of 5 per cent on the farm left by Harry Spangler fo inmates of the Delaware county farm.

The case is now up to the su court, Prosecutor Cloud having ried the case there after being aganist in district court.

The Spangler bequest to th fortunates is one of the most bequests ever made and has mad county farm inmates famous. Th provided that a farm valued at was to be held in trust by the supervisors and that once each all the unfortunates in the poor were to be given to eat all tha income could buy.

For several years the inmates strived to meet this provision b yet have never been able to e that the income from the $9,000 could buy. Everything eatable had a place on the unfortunates' the day of the annual "big feed always there was money left ov

Des Moines Shows Big Building

Des Moines made the biggest of any city in the country in bui operations for September over same month a year ago.

Building permits aggregating 760, an increase of 730 per cent, issued during September of this according to statistics issued by street's. New Orleans made the ond biggest gain in building tions with 239 per cent, while kane was third with 236 per ce crease.

The total building operations Greater New York for the were $13,890,596, which sum sents an increase of only 3.5 per over September of last year.

San Francisco showed a loss o per cent in the building for month. This was because of th building of San Francisco last Detroit and Buffalo also showed es for the month.

Injured in Bridge Smash.

Edith Lowe, an occupant of th fated Highland Park street car collided with an interurban ca the Highland Park bridge a time ago and resulted in the of two men, has brought actio district court to recover $10,000 ages from the city and inter railway companies to cover he juries.

Baby Drowns in Wash Tub.

A sad accident is reported Huxley, where the little son o and Mrs. Ben Storm, aged 18 mo was drowned in a tub containin inches of water. The mother m the little fellow and began a se which resulted in the finding o child's corpse, headforemost in tub.

Carroll Names New Examiners.

Governor Carroll has appointe T. A. Cook of Burlington and I A. West of Des Moines membe the state board of medical exam Dr. Cook succeeds Dr. Conne Dubuque, whose term has ex and Dr. West will take the pla Dr. Ball of Tama, who resigne

Convention Comes to Des Moine

The 1910 Iowa State Conventi the Court of Honor has been se for Des Moines. It will be hel first week in February. A great paign for a class of 1,000 for initi at that time is now on in full Frank Johnson has been appo city manager.

Bride Dies at Hospital.

Mrs. C. R. Hardin, formerly Iva Ashley and a bride of only ven weeks, died at Mercy ho after a lingering illness. Her fa who came to Des Moines from shalltown died here only a few ago of asthma.

LIPS THAT WERE SEALED

BY ALMA MARTIN ESTABROOK

PICTURES BY A. WEIL

AUTHOR OF "MY COUSIN PATRICIA."

COPYRIGHT BY J. B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

SYNOPSIS.

The story opens with a scene at a box party. Miss Henrietta Winstantley, sister of Bishop Winstanley overheard Banker Ankony propose to Barbara Hemingray, whose brother Dan was in his company. Dan was one of the town's popular young men. He showed some nervousness when Attorney Tom Twining told him Barbara refused Ankony. Ankony the following day, summoning Twining, accused Dan of looting the bank. Twining refused to prosecute. Barbara persuaded Ankony to postpone starting prosecution. Twining learned of the engagement of Ankony and Barbara. He congratulated both. He visited Miss Hemingray and found her almost in tears. He told her he had loved her, but regretted prematurely announcing his affection. By actions alone she told him of reciprocated. Mrs. Anson Dines, wealthy widow, proposed a marriage by proxy with Bishop Winstanley. The latter consulted with Twining. The bishop had been paying attentions to Miss Fleeter. Dan consulted Twining, saying his sister was determined to marry Ankony, declaring she actually loved the banker, though he could not help believing she was making a sacrifice to save him from jail. Miss Winstanley, finding a pressed rose in the bishop's book, suspected a love affair. Mrs. Dines sailed for America. Miss Winstanley informed Twining that Mrs. Dines was intent upon stopping the marriage of Barbara and Ankony. Mrs. Dines arrived and Ankony immediately set about to sail with Barbara for Europe the following day, in order, it seemed, to avoid Mrs. Dines.

CHAPTER IX.—Continued.

She regarded me curiously there in the dim light of the old door-way, then bent her head distractingly until I could see only her lips and her rounded chin. That the lips trembled a little I could have sworn, but her voice was steady, although it was so low I could scarcely hear it.

"The seal was set long ago," she said. And for just an instant we stood, her fingers in mine; then she withdrew them and went in and left me.

I hailed a cab and went at once to Henrietta Winstanley. I found her poring over her charity accounts in her brother's study, looking miserable and down-spirited.

"Have you heard?" I demanded at once.

"Nothing. Not a word. What is there to hear?" she cried, with kindling excitement.

"She sent you a note, too, I suppose. It must have been delayed."

"Who sent me a note? Do try to be a little lucid, won't you? What has happened?"

"Nothing yet. It all happens tomorrow. Ankony is to marry Barbara at noon and sail with her by the Deutschland in the afternoon. I have just seen her. How is Mrs. Dines? Dare we hope—"

She caught me by the arm and shook it in her agitation.

"Dean has warned him! Don't you see? I told Hannah that he was Ankony's friend before he became her agent. That's exactly what he has done. You see, she sent for him yesterday and made him bring a packet of papers that she went over with him. Those papers incriminate Ankony. And Dean has warned him. If he marries Barbara, he knows that Mrs. Dines will not prosecute him. He'll be safe forever as Barbara's husband. And so he has the double motive in carrying her off; he wants her, and he wants to stop Hannah. But we'll see whether he can do it or not. We'll see. Wait for me. I must tell her at once."

She ran from the room and pattered up the stairs. I heard the excited babble of their voices from a room above, and her brisk steps as she paced the floor over my head.

I was as excited as she and impatient of any delay, but they did not keep me waiting long, and when she came again her cheeks were burning like a girl's.

"She'll stop him," she declared, in a high-pitched voice that trembled in its own elation. "She says she can do it. You leave it to her. She'll attend to it."

"But is she able? Isn't she abed?"

She laughed out sharply.

"My dear, if she were dead she'd send her spirit back to outwit him. That's what she'd do."

"What has she come armed with?" I mused.

She shook her head, smiling.

"Something that will do the work," she declared; "you may rely on that." And she put her hands in mine and smiled a flashing smile up at me.

With her assurance ringing in my ears and all my nerves throbbing, I left her, and went home and tried to dine, and then to sleep, but could do neither.

CHAPTER X.

At an unearthly hour the next morning Ankony sent for me to go over some last company affairs with him. He looked as if he had slept as little as I, and was exceedingly nervous.

"Miss Hemingray wrote you that we are to be married at noon," he said. "We sail by the Deutschland. This business which is taking me will admit of no delay. It is awkward, coming just at this time. There are several affairs I shall have to leave unsettled here, but I'll explain them to you, and you can keep an eye on them while I'm away. We expect to get back as quickly as possible. I tried to find you yesterday, but you were out. However, I have as much time now as I had then—which isn't a great deal, you will understand."

"You came to this decision yesterday?" I asked, looking at him with deliberate inspection.

He nodded. "Annoyingly sudden all round; but, fortunately, Miss Hemingray can make herself ready to go with me. Nothing but this very necessary business in London could make me change her plans so completely."

I looked at him curiously, and, giving me a quick glance, he moved to his desk.

"We must get to business," he said."

"By all means," I answered.

Throughout the consultation he kept looking at his watch and glancing toward the door, as if he feared an interruption and wanted to put himself out of reach of it. I expected it, too, but hardly so soon as it came.

Mrs. Dines Turned Her Chair Till She Faced Him.

"Mrs. Dines and Miss Winstanley," the office boy announced.

My eyes fixed eagerly upon Ankony. He went as white as chalk as he turned toward the door and saw them there, and his jaw took an ugly set.

Mrs. Dines was as pale as she had been when she came down the gangplank of the Cambria, but she was quite composed. Beside her little Miss Winstanley looked like an agitated moth beside a placid robin. I was nearer the door than Ankony, and in sweeping me with her glance Mrs. Dines bowed curtly, then let her eyes travel on at once to him.

She overlooked the hand that he extended rather hesitatingly, and, sitting down where I had sat beside his desk, motioned him to his chair.

"I have heard of your engagement to Miss Hemingray," she said at once.

He murmured a conventional reply, and I took up my hat.

"Don't go, if you please, Mr. Twining," she said, without so much as turning to me. "We shall probably require your services, if you will be so good as to remain."

The scent of battle was thick in the air. Ankony had lost his pallor and was turning gray; he is always gray or choleric under emotion. I began to believe in Mrs. Dines, even as Henrietta Winstanley did. There was that about her which seemed to denote certain victory.

Poor Miss Winstanley, however, looked decidedly uncomfortable, in spite of the fact that she felt she was about to witness the culmination of this engagement which she held to be so monstrous. She too was a general, and a good one—one whose record none could assail—but her mode of attack differed widely from that of her friend Mrs. Dines. She was a stategist, pure and simple, while one could see with half an eye that Mrs. Dines had been born to the hammer-and-tongs method. She scorned strategy as some illustrious generals scorn latter-day war tactics.

She leaned toward Ankony across his wide desk.

"I have come from Africa to tell you that you must break the engagement at once," she said, making no pretense at lowering her full, steady voice.

Over the gray of his face a dull red spread and his lip curled slowly into an ugly downward curve.

"The statement is amazing, as well as amusing, madam," he observed, meeting her eyes steadily enough.

But she refused to skirmish. Her attack was to be open and direct, with no foolish beating about in the bushes.

"You know precisely why I make it, and how I can compel you to comply with it," she said.

He answered her with a smile of bravado.

"It has been a long time since this thing happened to which I refer, Mr. Ankony," she went on quickly; "but the sense of injury is not short lived. I may seem to have forgotten, as did my husband, no doubt. But he remembered, and so do I. Shall I go further?"

"We must speak in private," he said.

Miss Winstanley and I arose at once, but Mrs. Dines motioned us to remain.

"Miss Winstanley is equally interested with me in the establishment of justice," she said to him, "and Mr. Twining may be required to distinguish for you between the illegal and the merely dishonorable. They must both remain. I should have been glad to spare you this, as I think my continued inaction in the matter must prove to you. But you have forced me to act. You have violated all sense of honor and right, and you have brought upon your head precisely the thing you would most eagerly have averted. If you thought I would stand by and see you marry Barbara Hemingray, knowing you to be the sort of man you are, you greatly misjudge me. But I am inclined to believe that you did not think me to be my husband's confidante, and that you felt yourself secure, your ignominy buried with him."

Ankony arose and held open the door into the inner office.

"I must insist upon discussing this matter in private," he protested hotly, in a voice that quavered.

Mrs. Dines sat still, an imperative hand held out detainingly to us. "The time is past for that," she told him; "if you had sought me out long ago it might have been very different. But understand that I mean to make no public disclosures if you accede to my demand. It remains with you to decide whether or not the very unpleasant facts go forth."

He continued to stand across the room from her, his hand still upon the door. He did not reply, and I could feel, rather than see, that he was terribly shaken. Mrs. Dines turned her chair till she faced him.

"That we may come to an understanding at once, I think I should tell you in the beginning that I know that when you were my husband's agent some years ago you hypothecated securities that were his—not yours. You were hard pushed then, and he knew it to be the crucial period of your whole business career; so he waited, believing that his confidence in you had not been entirely misplaced and that when you could you would make good the amount you had—stolen. But you did not. And after two years, when you had become amply able to do so, and did not, he realized that you had grown secure in the belief that your peculation was not discovered, and that you were without even the semblance of honor. He admitted this with singular reluctance, Mr. Ankony, for I think you know that he trusted you as not many men trust their fellows."

She paused, her eyes on his face. His muttered reply was not coherent, and she went on at once:

"When he saw you at last as you really were, he determined to prosecute you; but there came his last long illness and his death, and afterward my heart had softened a little to you and I had not the mind beside to put shame and sorrow upon your mother, so I did nothing. But when I heard the amazing news that you had proposed to marry a girl like Barbara Hemingray, I came back to America to tell you that you must give her up or the delayed prosecution will begin at once."

Then he spoke. "You understand what this is you ask of me?" he said thickly.

"Perfectly," she nodded, and her tone was less unkindly. "If I did not know just how sweet and lovely and full of grace and innocence she is, I might perhaps have stayed away and left you to your wooing."

There was a long silence.

"You demand large interest, Mrs. Dines," he said.

"Accumulated interest is always large," she retorted. "But I do not wish to humiliate you any more than is necessary. You must, of course, bring to an immediate end this unfortunate engagement—I believe you were to have been married at noon, were you not?" She glanced at the clock. "You have not much time. Some part of the truth Miss Hemingray must know. But you may make your own explanation aside from that. I only exact that she shall be made to understand that whatever sense of obligation she may have entertained for you is dissipated."

Ankony colored painfully and made no reply.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Totem Pole Thief is Punished

The theft of an ancient totem pole from the old Tongass Indian village on Cat Island, Alaska, is what caused the arrest and imprisonment of Clarence McBeth, a resident of Ketchikan, Alaska, recently. The story of the arrest was received in detail at the office of E. T. Allen, district supervisor of government forest reserves.

With a party of friends McBeth chartered the launch Elk and went over to the island. The totem pole was stolen under cover of darkness from the Indian village, tied to the boat and towed behind on the return trip.

According to Supervisor Allen, the government's regulations concerning the protection of aboriginal antiquities are very stringent, and officials hope this case will prove an object lesson to persons who have been making it a business to collect these relics and sell them. The Indians regard the action of the palefaces as nothing short of sacrilege.

The Pessimist.

We make him pause in his repining; make him admit the silver lining may be there, as stated. Alas, he is a hardened sinner, and says he'll wager us a dinner that lining's only plated.

Must Do It.

When a man takes his wife to the theater he thinks it's up to him to go out between the acts and telephone home to learn if the house is still there.

Gigantic Grain Elevator.

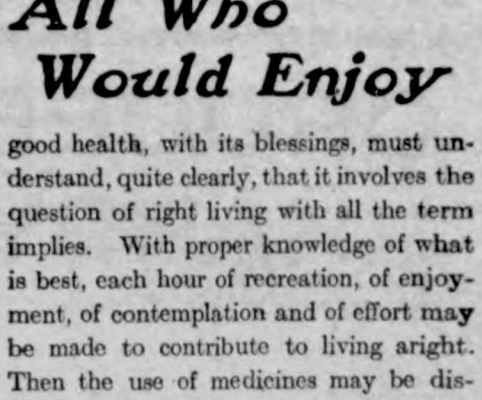
The port of Rosario, Argentina, has a grain elevator capable of loading 1,000 tons an hour. Its cost was $1,000,000.

All Who Would Enjoy

good health, with its blessings, must understand, quite clearly, that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best, each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to living aright. Then the use of medicines may be dispensed with to advantage, but under ordinary conditions in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time and the California Fig Syrup Co. holds that it is alike important to present the subject truthfully and to supply the one perfect laxative to those desiring it.

Consequently, the Company's Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna gives general satisfaction. To get its beneficial effects buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

WHAT DIFFERENCE?



"Half a pound of tea, please?"

"Green or black?"

"Doesn't matter which. It's for a blind person."

SUFFERED TERRIBLY.

How Relief from Distressing Kidney Trouble Was Found.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wolf, 388 W. Morgan St., Tipton, Mo., says: "Inflammation of the bladder reached its climax last spring and I suffered terribly. My back ached and pained so I could hardly get around and the secretions were scanty, frequent of passage and painful. I was tired all the time and very nervous. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, and after taking a few boxes was cured and have been well ever since."

Remember the name—Doan's. Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

ALSO TO BE CONSIDERED.

Doctor—I advise you to go to Nest. It's a small place far away from everywhere. There your nerves will get better.

Patient—Oh, but, doctor, I've frocks as well as nerves.

RASH ALL OVER BOY'S BODY.

Awful, Crusted, Weeping Eczema on Little Sufferer—A Score of Treatments Prove Dismal Failures.

Cure Achieved by Cuticura.

"My little boy had an awful rash all over his body and the doctor said it was eczema. It was terrible, and used to water awfully. Any place the water went it would form another sore and it would become crusted. A score or more physicians failed utterly and dismally in their efforts to remove the trouble. Then I was told to use the Cuticura Remedies. I got a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, and before we had used half the Resolvent I could see a change in him. In about two months he was entirely well. George F. Lambert, 139 West Centre St., Mahanoy City, Pa., Sept. 26 and Nov. 4, 1907."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

A woman's idea of a tactful man is one who is able to increase the admiration she has for herself.

RUSS BLUE IS GOOD BLUE
Preserves clothes and makes and keeps them white as snow. All grocers 5c.

The first time a girl is disappointed in love she imagines she has nothing left to live for.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, small, sugar-coated, easy to take as candy, regulate and invigorate stomach liver and bowels and cure constipation.

Somehow the majority of our habits seem to be bad ones.

GROCERIES & HARDWARE

COLD WEATHER

Is SURE to be here soon. Are you prepared for it? Perhaps you will need a new stove before winter sets in. If so you will miss it if you don't call and inspect our line of

HEATERS AND RANGES

We have just received a new shipment and will be glad to show them to you. Call early while the assortment is complete. See the Summit Range

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

ONE PRICE CASH STORE

KLEMME, IOWA

DRUGS

A full line of patents of every manufacture. Jewelery, Wall Paper, Paints and Oils, School Supplies and Stationery.

TOILET ARTICLES

Face Powder, Talcum Powder, Sachet Powder, Face Creams, Toilet Waters, Hand Lotions.

MUSICAL GOODS

String and Brass Instruments, Edison Phonographs and Supplies. We are selling Phonographs on small weekly payments and going one better than the Chicago price by saving you the freight.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile. both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

See us when you want to buy TILE.

Northern Lumber Company

N. L. PALMER, AGENT

KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

THRESHING COAL

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Sootless and Washed Egg. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

H. C. LAU

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

Peck Hanson and O. F. Missman returned from the Dakotas the last of the week. Should they both succeed in getting good claims near each other one could clerk the work, the other could put it on record, but who would do it?—Garner Democrat.

Such base insinuations against two of our hustling, ambitious, energetic, hard-working county officials should not be tolerated and could be concocted only in a rank, dyed-in the-wool, rip-roaring democratic sanctum. Anyone who is acquainted with either Missman or Hanson knows it would be a source of much contention between them as to which would be allowed to do the most hard work. These worthy officials will be able to get even with the greatest and only democratic paper in the county for the above vile slander upon their innocent heads by turning that paper down the next time it asks for republican patronage. Wow! The very fact that a person tries to get a farm shows that he wants to work—although it is sometimes done by proxy or deputy.

Frank Ufken is a new subscriber to this great family journal.

Sheriff Suurballe was down from the county seat last Thursday.

German M. E. Church Items

Grandpa Kraus was on the sick list the first of the week.

The Klemme W. F. M. S. met with Mrs. Arthur Wellemeyer Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Griewe spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Kanawha.

Camilla Neff was in Garner a few days last week and took the teachers' examination.

John Gruetzmacher and family were Germantown callers last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. John Schuler and children of Garner, visited several days at the John Gruetzmacher home.

A number of our school teachers will attend the state teachers convention at Des Moines this week.

On account of the unpleasant weather the Standard Bearer meeting was changed from Monday to Tuesday evening.

Florence Sampson went to Buelah, Iowa, last Saturday to get acquainted with her new relatives. She will return with her mother the last of this week.

The Standard Bearers spent a delightful evening at the home of Joe Schuldt, Sr., on Tuesday. There were 31 present besides the family. For a change the young men furnished the entire program for the evening. After the regular mission study they entertained the ladies with a few hallowe'en stunts which were enjoyed by all The Misses Tena and Friede Schuldt had prepared a splendid lunch consisting of coffee, sandwiches and pumpkin pie which was relished like a good breakfast by a hungry tramp.

Young Girls are Victims

of headache as well as older women, but all get quick relief and prompt cure from Dr. King's New Life Pills, the world's best remedy for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

MILLINERY

Latest and most approved styles

We are showing the nicest line of Stylish Millinery ever shown in our town and we want every lady in this vicinity to call and see our line.

SPECIAL SALE

on Trimmed Hats

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 29 and 30, and Nov. 5 and 6. On Children's Headwear

Children's Tams, Caps and Hoods at COST.
A fine line of Bengaline and Moire Silks for ladies waists at Reduced Prices.

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

The Winter Season

Is now close at hand and it calls for good, warm wearing apparel, good Shoes and Overshoes, etc. We are, as usual, prepared to furnish you with the needed articles and our prices are as low as possible, consistent with the quality of goods we furnish. We want to call your special attention to our full and complete line of

Genuine Old Fashioned Wool Flannel

Ranging in price per yard from.... 50c TO $1.50

LARGE LINE TO SELECT FROM

Outing Flannels

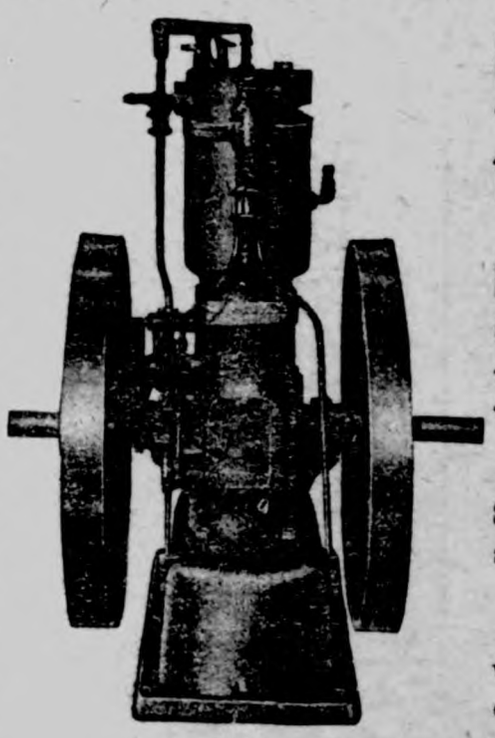
The kind usually sold for 10c per yard we sell for.... 8c

The kind usually sold for 12c per yard we sell for... 10c

This is no special sale, just our every-day prices.

See our complete line of Seasonable Goods.
We absolutely guarantee satisfaction.

W. J. BARZ, - Garner, Iowa



Save work, worry, money by using a

STOVER GASOLINE ENGINE

Made right—sold right. Send for an illustrated catalog of our

ENGINES

wind mills and feed grinders.

Sandwich Mfg. Co.

Mason City, Iowa General Agents

Notice of Probate of Will

STATE OF IOWA, } ss
Hancock County, }

To Whom It May Concern:

Notice is hereby given that an instrument in writing, purporting to be the last will and testament of Charles Schroeder, deceased, was filed in the office of the undersigned on the 25th day of October, A. D 1909, and that December 6th, 1909, was fixed for hearing proof in relation thereto.

Witness my hand and the Seal of the District Court attached at Garner, in said County, this 25th day of October, A. D., 1909.

(SEAL) O. F. MISSMAN,
Clerk of the District Court.
18-3 Hancock County, Iowa.

SEE OUR BIG LINE OF

Ladies' Small Furs

In bewildering variety. We have Scarfs, Throws, Muffs, Collarettes, in mink, marten, fox, squirrel, coon and all the other popular skins. Price only ... $1.00 to $12.00

FUR COATS

Well made, selected hides, warranted to be the Best

CENTRAL RACCOON -	$35 to $45
NORTHERN RACCOON	$50 to $60
WOMBAT, choice black -	$28
Siberian Calf, plain or trimmed	$22 to $35
Russian Lamb, rat trimmed	$32 to $37
BLACK CHINESE DOG -	$12 to 18

PLUSH LINED COATS

for men and for women; with fur collar and edge---are the new thing. Price

$16.50 to - - $27.50

The above are all LANPHER Garments and I GUARANTEE THE WEAR on each and every one of them. You can't always tell what you are getting when you buy Furs; but this, my personal guarantee, will protect you .....

Arthur Wellemeyer

About People You Know

KLEMME MARKET.

.....	45 to c
.....	34 to 35c
.....	80 to 90
.....	40 to 45c
.....	4 00 to 6.00
.....	6.00 to 7.00
.....	3.00 to 6.00

ad Wellemeyer's ad.

esh fruits at Kluckhohn's.

Kirkwood & Son have a ad.

venir dishes at Kluck-'s. 13tf

G. Ell was a business vis-at Dows Monday evening iss Anna Griewe was a coun-at visitor between trains rday.

e Best Ever— Blue Point er crackers. They're fine. a package with your next ers. At Kluckhohn's. 13tf

rs. George Schuler and Mrs Schuler, of Garner, visited a few days during the past at the John Gruetzmacher e.

handle the Ball Band and Royal Blue rubber goods in irst qualities, and am sell-these goods at about the e usually charged for the od quality. Buy your win-supply of footwear for the e family NOW. Frank etzmacher.

Fresh oysters daily at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. John Newberger, on Monday, Nov. 1, a boy.

A foundation is being built under the barber shop building. Harve Allen is doing the work.

Henry Schroeder and family drove down from Garner yesterday for a visit with friends and relatives.

Mrs. O. S. Bailey and little son, of Britt, visited this week in Klemme with her sister, Mrs. A. C. Flint.

A dance is billed to take place in the Klemme opera house Friday evening. Nov. 12th. The Imperial Harp Orchestra will furnish the music.

Mrs. A. B. Shafer celebrated her 63rd birthday on Tuesday, and on that day her friends from near and far showered her with post cards, she receiving in all about eighty cards.

Fresh apple cider at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

Being obliged to take it for rent I will sell it out cheap;

Dr. Hess Stock Food.

Dr. Hess Poultry Panacea.

Dr. Hess Instant Louse Killer.

Dr. Hess Hog Worm Powder. To be had at G. F. Schuler's Garner, Iowa.

A full line of Post Cards at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

M. E. Peck was down from Garner Saturday.

A new baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stille on Sunday, Oct. 31st.

Lawrence Larsen, M. I. Parker and Frank Wenck were Garner visitors last Thursday.

C. C. Suckow and wife drove up to Garner Sunday. Their daughter Fern, who had been visiting at the Schuldt home there, returned home with them.

Autos are all right sometimes but a team of horses is a more sure means of locomotion in all kinds of weather—as one of our autoists who lives east of town found out last Sunday night when he got stuck in the mud down in Avery Center.

Carrol Church and Miss Alpha Christenson, both of Goodell, were married at the German Reformed parsonage in Klemme on Wednesday evening, October 27, Rev. Achtermann officiating. Earl Clark and Gertrude Parker accompanied the contracting parties and acted as witnesses.

Our friend, Fred Haupt of Klemme, was so sick that he was taken to Dubuque to the hospital. They feared cancer of the stomach. The doctors at Dubuque told him that was not the case and he would better return home. He came back Tuesday and as he was out to the Dakotas he thought the derangement might have been caused by alkali water.—Garner Democrat.

Read the new State Savings Bank ad.

Mrs. Wm. F. Lau came down from Garner Saturday evening.

If you are in the market for a gasoline engine, see us about the Gade engine before purchasing. Wm Schmidt or J. W. Scott. 12-5*

Mrs. A. C. Flint entertained a few lady friends Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. A. B. Shafer and Mrs. O. S. Bailey of Britt.

George Wellemeyer was down from Garner Sunday visiting with relatives and friends. George some years ago presided over the destinies of this paper.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. White are the happy parents of a brand new baby boy of regulation size and fineness. The little fellow came to take up his abode with them last Thursday, the 28th.

Misses Pearl Volding and Isabel Milde, of Crystal Lake, came down last Thursday evening for a visit at the L. E. Bowker home. They were former pupils of Prof. Bowker when he was at the Lake.

We note a great improvement in the appearance of the old Hancock County Democrat the past two weeks, since G. L. Wellemeyer has been working in that office. Last week the paper had nearly twice the usual amount of local news and there was a marked improvement in the ads and general make-up.

FURS

We are paying leading prices for No. 1 Furs of all kinds, Mink, Muskrat, Weasel, Skunk and Civot Cat. Don't fail to let us examine your furs as our price will buy them. Yours for a prosperous fur season,

ELL BROS.

The basket social given in the opera house last Friday evening by the Royal Neighbors was a most successful affair. A good sized crowd was present and the baskets sold well. A guessing contest as to the number of seeds in a large pumpkin was won by M. I. Parker and he received a handsome prize.

Ralph Blank and wife returned last Saturday evening from Minneapolis where they had been called by the illness of Mrs. Blank's mother. On Monday morning Ralph went to Goodell where he has secured a position as section foreman for the Rock Island, and we understand he intends to move down there soon.

The Des Moines Capital and the Klemme Times will be sent to any address from now until Jan. 1, 1911, on receipt of $2.85. This is an exceptionally liberal offer and should be taken advantage of at once to secure its full benefits. If you have already paid in advance for the Times, ask for our rate on the Capital. Call at this office today and get a daily paper for the winter's reading.

The Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York last week made a prompt settlement of the $10,000 policy held by the late Rodney Hill, of Britt. During the month of September (4 weeks) it issued twenty-four and a half million dollars of 'new business.' Drop a post card to its agent, J. D. G. Houghton, Goodell, Iowa, and get particulars of the strongest and safest Insurance Co. and the policies that give best returns. 14-2

Wm. Fuller's mother left last Monday evening for her home, after an extended visit with him here.

Ray Hillary and Miss Avis Sage drove down from Garner Sunday afternoon and visited at the Times home.

We are glad to report that Henry Medaus has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be up and around again.

The Northern Lumber Company is building new cement walks along the front of their business lots, which is a noteworthy improvement. John Henschen and his men are doing the work.

At the October meeting of the Klemme Fire Company the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—John Baumgartner.

Vice President—Arthur Wellemeyer.

Secretary—F. A. Arnold.

Treasurer—Chas. Yahnke.

Chief—Herman Miller.

Ass't Chief—Fred Ridder.

Trustees — Fred Henschen, John Terhufen and Herman Miller.

A Scalded Boy's Shrieks

horrified his grandmother, Mrs Maria Taylor, of Nebo, Ky., who writes that when all thought he would die, Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured him. Infallible for burns, scalds, cuts, corns boils, skin eruptions, chilblains, chapped hands. Soon routs piles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

W. R. BLOOM

Buyer and Shipper of

Grain and Live Stock

Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.

Stock wanted 6 days in the week

RESTAURANT

Russel's Maple Nut Chocolates—Try them and you will buy nothing else.

Get one of our delicious Oyster Stews and you will become a regular customer.

HOME MADE BAKERY GOODS

A. Kirkwood & Son

When you go to Chicago it's worth while to land at La Salle Station, in the heart of the city—right down town, within a few minutes' walking distance of

THE WHOLESALE CENTER
THE BANKING CENTER
THE SHOPPING CENTER
THE HOTEL CENTER
THE THEATER CENTER.

La Salle Station

ROCK ISLAND LINES
CHICAGO TERMINAL

is the only railway station on the elevated railway loop, the finest, most commodious and best-equipped station in Chicago.

Among the features that make La Salle Station a model of its kind are the handsome and convenient woman's parlor, with maid, nearby telegraph and telephone booths, baggage and parcel rooms and an excellent restaurant.

On your next trip East take the Rock Island and land in La Salle Station.

Time tables and information on request.

G. TRENHAILE, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

TAFT FOR WATERWAY

TELLS CONVENTION AT NEW ORLEANS HE FAVORS THE PROJECT.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF ALL

President Promises the Support of the Administration, But Will Not Stand for Any "Pork Barrel"—Sherman, Cannon and Dickinson Pledge Aid.

New Orleans, Nov. 1.—Ringing demands for "14 feet through the valley" and elaborate argument in support of the program for the creation of a deep waterway from the lakes to the gulf have marked the great convention of the Deep Waterway association that opened here Saturday.

President Taft, Vice-President Sherman, Speaker Cannon, governors of the Mississippi valley states, innumerable senators and representatives and a mighty throng of private citizens who believe in the big river project are here and all urge that it be undertaken and carried to a speedy conclusion.

President Taft Promises Support.

President Taft, who arrived in New Orleans escorted by a great flotilla, after an illuminating trip down the Mississippi river from St. Louis, landed from the lighthouse tender Oleander about eight o'clock Saturday morning, and was driven to his hotel through streets that were canopied with magnolia barnches, palmettoes and southern moss, and everywhere the mottoes "Fourteen Feet Through the Valley" and "River Rate Regulation Is Rate Regulation." At the Athenaeum in the afternoon the president aroused a storm of cheers by promising that if the 14-feet project proved feasible and advisable, the present administration would favor the issuance of government bonds to defray the cost.

Not for a "Pork Barrel."

At the same time Mr. Taft made it plain that he would not stand for any plan to make a "pork barrel" of the project. He said he opposed any such general bond issue of $500,000,000 or $1,000,000,000 for waterways improvement, the money to be cut up and parceled out to different sections. He declared that the improvement of waterways had been carried forward in a haphazard fashion in the past, and that a new method should be adopted.

Vice-President Sherman.

"I believe in the deep waterway," said the president. "I am for it, and I shall use all the power that I possess in doing what may be accomplished to give you citizens of this great valley what you so earnestly desire. It is all a part of a still greater movement inaugurated by Theodore Roosevelt, and properly called by him the conservation of our national resources.

"The projects for irrigation and for the improvement of waterways in the future are not to be for the purpose of distributing 'pork' to every part of the country. Every measure is to be adopted on the ground that it will be useful to the whole country. They are not to be adopted for sending certain congressmen back to Washington or for making certain parts of the country profitable during the expenditure of the money.

"We should take up every comprehensive project on its merits and determine whether the country where the project is to be carried out has so far developed as to justify the enormous expenditure of money and if it will be useful when done. When we decide in favor of a project, I believe in issuing bonds to carry it to completion as rapidly as possible. It has been proposed that we issue bonds for $500,000,000 or $1,000,000,000, and cut it up and parcel the money out in this and that section of the country. I am opposed to any such proposition, because it not only smells of the 'pork barrel,' but would be a 'pork barrel.'"

Sherman, Too, Is for It.

Vice-President James S. Sherman has brought to the people of the middle west the message of the east, promising enthusiastic support of the waterway program. "We people of the east depend on your people of the west," said he. "When we help you, we help ourselves, so there is every reason why we should do all in our power for you, as soon as we realize what you want and why you want it."

Speaker Cannon and Secretary of War Dickinson are no less outspoken in their assurances of support, and many senators and representatives, among them Senator Lorimer of Illinois, the father of the deep waterway movement, this afternoon made addresses full of hopeful enthusiasm.

Kavanaugh Opens Convention.

William K. Kavanaugh of Missouri, president of the association, called the convention to order Saturday morning and set forth briefly the aims and plans of the organization. He said the deep waterway work is now in this condition:

Speaker Joseph G. Cannon.

1. The sanitary district of Chicago has built the deep waterway, practically to Joliet, nearly 40 miles, and $60,000,000 have been spent thus far on the work.

2. The entire route of the lakes-to-the-gulf deep waterway from Joliet to New Orleans, through the Des Plaines river, the Illinois river and the Mississippi river, has been surveyed under direction of congress by United States engineers, who have officially reported to congress that the building of the deep waterway is feasible.

3. The people of the state of Illinois have adopted a constitutional amendment providing for a bond issue of $20,000,000, the money to be spent in constructing the deep waterway southward from Joliet.

4. A bill introduced by United States Representative Richard Bartholdt of Missouri is now pending in congress, providing for the issuance by the United States government of bonds to the amount of $500,000,000, the money to be spent in constructing this deep waterway from the lakes to the gulf and other meritorious projected river improvements.

5. It is intended to ask the Sixty-first congress to pass a bill providing definitely that the United States government undertake the construction of the deep waterway from the point where the Illinois work will end, to the Gulf of Mexico.

In the afternoon, following the address of President Taft, Clifford Pinchot, head of the government forestry department, made an address on the conservation of the nation's natural resources.

In the evening the delegates to the convention were entertained at a stag smoker by the Progressive union of New Orleans. This evening all the delegates and the ladies accompanying them were the guests of the Progressive union at the New Orleans Opera house, where "La Juive" was given by the French Opera Company.

Philately of Aviation.

One of the very few genuine "varieties" in stamps is announced. It would be more correct to say it is a rare postmark. Rare it will be if interested parties did not take advantage of the occurrence and have addressed to themselves thousands of envelopes bearing the mark. It seems that during the now historical aviation week at Rheims a temporary postoffice was set up on the aviation ground and all letters there posted bearing the ordinary French stamps were postmarked "Betheny-Aviation," besides the various service marks. The marking stamp was hexagonal instead of round. These stamps will, no doubt, be curiosities. Time will tell whether they will be sought after like the unnecessary Brunei provisionals, which in the aggregate must have fetched just as high a sum as the year's revenue of the swamp in which they were issued.

HUNTING FOR BIG GAME.

The Highlands of Ontario is an ideal spot for the sportsman during the open hunting season for big game. In the Temagami region moose are plentiful and may be killed during the period from October 16th to November 15th. This territory is a forest preserve of vast expanse, and in addition to being the hunter's paradise, its waters abound with game fish of many species. The home of the red deer is located somewhat to the south of Temagami, particularly in the districts known as "Muskoka Lakes," "Lake of Bays, "Maganetawan River," "Lake Nipissing," and "Kawartha Lakes" territories.

Write to W. S. Cookson, A. G. P. A., 135 Adams St., Chicago, for a copy of "Haunts of Fish and Game," issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System which fully describes the hunting territories reached by this line, giving game laws, maps and all information.

How to Care for the Child.

Perplexed mother writes: "My child has sneezing fits after the morning sponge bath. What would you advise?" Some mothers give their babies a hypodermic of morphine for sneezing. But we have always felt that this was too harsh a remedy. Give the baby about three tablespoonfuls of Old Tom gin with a little sugar and a pinch of lemon peel. The sugar makes this remedy more grateful to the child. Be sure to keep this prophylactic away from father.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Two Items.

"I suppose with all this modern prison philanthropy, abolishing stripes and convict uniforms generally, they will soon introduce dress suits for the well-behaved prisoners in our penal institutions."

"Well, you know, they already give convicts watches and chains."

Rough on Rats fools the rats and mice, but never fools the buyer. The secret is, you (not the maker) do the mixing. Take a hint, do your own mixing; pay for poison only, then you get results. It's the unbeatable exterminator. Don't die in the house. 15c, 25c, 75c.

Why He Won.

Abou Ben Adhem set forth his claim.

"I never lied about what a good time I had on my vacation," he cried.

And, lo, etc.

Protect your life. Phones spread disease. Send 10c for device to keep telephone mouthpiece clean and sanitary. Frank V. Belvel, Des Moines.

Hardly.

"Would you," he asked, "care to live to be 100 years old?"

"Not if anybody knew it," she replied.

Some people would drown with a life preserver at hand. They are the kind that suffer from Rheumatism and Neuralgia when they can get Hamlins Wizard Oil, the best of all pain remedies.

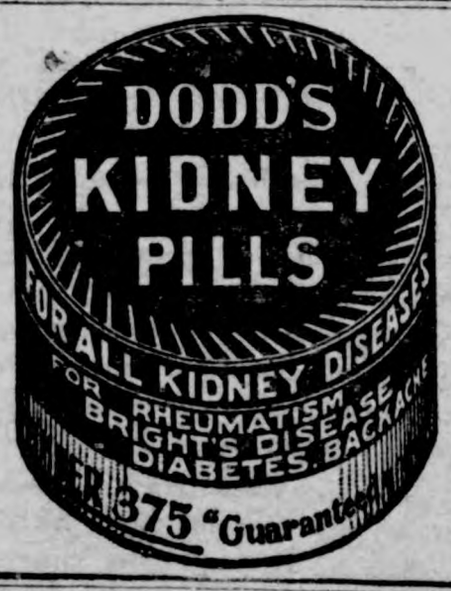
Contentedness in all accidents brings great peace of spirit, and is the great and only instrument in temporal felicity.—Jeremy Taylor.

ARE YOU LOSING FLESH through a racking cough that you cannot seem to check? A bottle of Allen's Lung Balsam will cure the trouble and help you back to health.

You can save a lot of time by being sure where you want to go before starting.

WE PAY HIGH PRICE FOR HIDES and furs. & sell guns and traps cheap. N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

When the end of your work is out of sight, look aloft.—De Lesseps.



Des Moines Directory

EAT PURITY CHOCOLATES

M'f'd by Windsor-Purity Candy Co., Des Moines
For sale by all first-class dealers.

WRIGLEY'S

Tastes like delicious SPEARMINT leaves—and nothing else, because it's flavored with delicious SPEARMINT leaves and nothing else!

Fine* For Digestion!

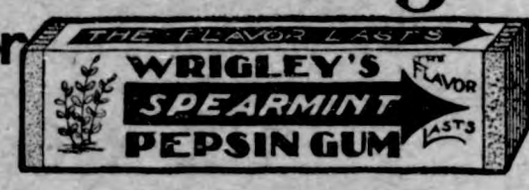
Look for the spear



The flavor lasts

Mayer

LEADING LADY SHOES

There are no other shoes at popular prices that in any way compare with these classy, fashionable, good-fitting shoes. They are made on lasts that insure the utmost comfort, yet give your feet that trim and stylish look.

Leading Lady

shoes combine style and wearing qualities to a degree that easily makes them the most popular, dressy and serviceable ladies' fine shoes obtainable, at a cost no greater than ordinary shoes. Your dealer will supply you; if not, write to us.

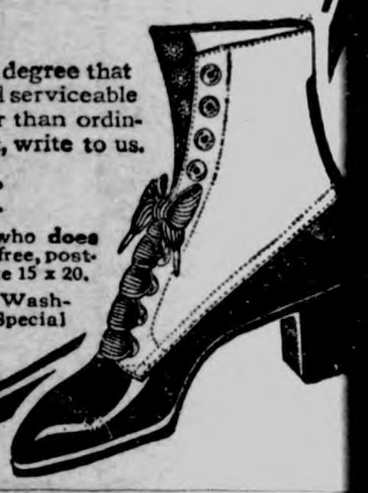
To be sure you get the LEADING LADY, look for the Mayer Trade Mark on the soles.

FREE—If you will send us the name of a dealer who does not handle Leading Lady Shoes, we will send you free, postpaid, a beautiful picture of Martha Washington, size 15 x 20.

We also make Honorbilt Shoes for men, Martha Washington Comfort Shoes, Yerma Cushion Shoes, Special Merit School Shoes and Work Shoes.

MILWAUKEE Mayer CUSTOM MADE

F. Mayer Boot & Shoe Co.
Milwaukee, Wis.



The Wizard of Horticulture
Hon. Luther Burbank

says: "Delicious is a gem—the finest apple in all the world. It is the best in quality of any apple I have so far tested."

And Mr. Burbank knows.

Delicious is but one of the hundreds of good things in Stark Trees—the good things you should know about before you plant this fall or next spring.

Let us tell you about them by writing today for our complete, illustrated price-list-catalogue which describes our complete line of fruit trees, ornamentals, etc.

Wanted
A Bright, Capable Man

in each county of this state to sell Stark Trees on commission. No previous experience necessary. The work is pleasant, clean work, highly profitable, and the positions are permanent to the right men.

Many of our salesmen are earning $50 to $80 per month and expenses; some are making more. You can do as well or better if you're a hustler and trying to succeed.

No investment called for; we furnish complete order-getting outfit free and the most liberal contract.

For complete information address the Sales Manager of

Stark Bro's. N. & O. Co., Louisiana, Missouri

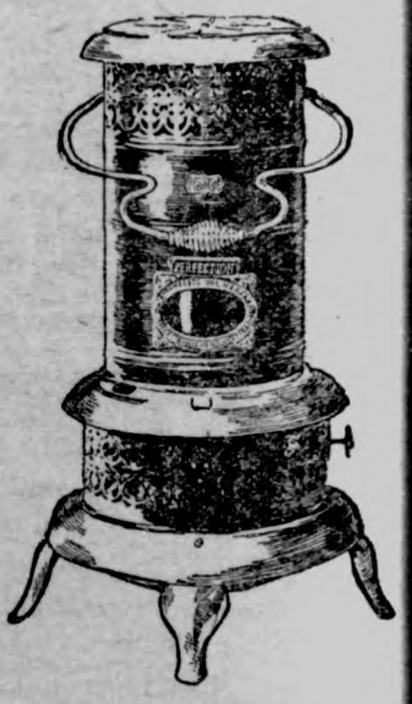
Raising Temperature

depends upon the heater—how constructed—whether it gets all the fuel-energy or only some of it.

If the heater is a

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)



the raising of the temperature is certain.

Turn the wick as high or low as it will go—there's no danger, no smoke, no smell—just an emphatic raising of temperature. The is a permanent check upon carelessness, making the heater safe in the hands of a child. Burns nine hours with one filling, heats all parts of a room quickly.

Automatic Smokeless Device

Oil indicator tells amount of oil in the all-brass font. Damper top. Cool handle. Aluminum window frame. Cleaned in a minute. Finished in Nickel or Japan. Various styles and finishes.

Every Dealer Everywhere. If Not at Yours, Write for Descriptive Circular to the Nearest Agency of the

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
(Incorporated)

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Louisville, Ky.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has certainly done me a world of good and I cannot praise it enough. I suffered from irregularities, dizziness, nervousness, and a severe female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored me to perfect health and kept me from the operating table. I will never be without this medicine in the house."—Mrs. Sam'l Lee, 3523 Fourth St., Louisville, Ky.

Another Operation Avoided.

Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered untold misery from female troubles, and my doctor said an operation was my only chance, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me without an operation."—Lena V. Henry, R. F. D. 3.

Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

FROM
WINTER TO SUMMER
Three Ideal Winter Cruises to the

WEST INDIES

etc., 16 and 28 days duration, by twin-screw S. S. MOLTKE (12,500 tons) during January, February, and March. Also cruises to the Orient and South America.

HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINE
41-45 Broadway - - - New York

Paper-Hangers & Painters

You can greatly increase your business with no extra investment by selling Alfred Peats' Prize Wallpaper. We want one good worker in each vicinity, and to the first worthy applicant will send FREE, by prepaid express, five large sample books showing a $250,000.00 Wallpaper Stock for customers to select from. We offer liberal profits to our representatives. Answer quickly that you may get the agency in your vicinity for 1910.
Alfred Peats Co., 144-146 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

Don't Putter Around

fifteen or twenty minutes every morning poking out clinkers and slate. Why pay for ashes, unburned coal and smoke? Quit using coal and buy Milwaukee Solvay Coke—the fuel that burns up slick and clean, not even leaving ashes to sift.

It is cheaper than hard coal and lasts longer.

BUY MILWAUKEE Solvay Coke

"The Fuel Without a Fault"

Lay in a supply for winter use while the roads are good. It is a perfect fuel for summer or winter use—starts quickly—warms the house in a few moments and can be smothered until needed. Solvay Coke does not create smoke, soot or poisonous gases—it is a clean fuel, perfectly adapted for domestic use. Every user is a continual user.

2,000 dealers in the Northwest sell Milwaukee Solvay Coke—all sizes—ask your dealer, and write for interesting booklet of coke information to

PICKANDS, BROWN & COMPANY
Colby-Abbot Building - - Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

$5.00 to $15.00 Daily

Selling Little Patent Article

Carry dozen in pocket. New here. Selling like wild fire on coast. Agents report 25 a day; profit 50c each. Local agents wanted throughout Iowa. Write or call.

G. W. Skilling, Room 7, News Arcade, Des Moines

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

Cold on chest? Never mind—A-B-C LINIMENT will promptly cure it. Try it.

DEFIANCE STARCH for starching finest linens.

The Best Food for Workers.

The best food for those who work with hand or brain is never high priced.

The best example of this is found in Quaker Oats. It stands at the top among foods that supply nourishment and vigor, without taxing the digestion, and yet it is the least expensive food one can eat.

This great food value and low cost make it an ideal food for families who want to get the greatest good from what they eat.

Laborers, factory or farm hands, fed plentifully on Quaker Oats will work better and with less fatigue than if fed on almost any other kind of food. All of these facts were proved and very interesting information about human foods were gathered by Professor Fisher of Yale University in 1908. In addition to the regular package Quaker Oats is packed in large sized family packages either with or without china dishes. 8

DOUBLE SARCASM.

Old Crab—What be ye doin' araound this place, eh? Wanter buy it?

Nervy Nicholas—Why I'se do special agent of Andrew Morganfeller and I'se lookin' fer a site ter lay out his enormous estate on. I'll offer yer t'ree plunks fer dis place if ye'll trow off 90 per cent. fer cash.

Resinol Quickly Cures Ills and Accidents the Skin Is Subject To, Also Heals Wounds.

I find occasion almost daily to recommend Resinol to some of my friends, and hear of most gratifying results. We use the ointment altogether in my family, and are never without a jar of it, for it promptly cures the ills and accidents the skin is subject to. D. M. Castle, Philadelphia, Pa.

Waste Material.

In process of time it was observed that the multi-millionaire philanthropist had ceased giving costly library buildings to towns and cities.

"Why is this, Mr. Canaggy?" the reporters asked him.

"Young men," he said, "what is the use of building great houses for libraries when all a man needs for an education is five feet of books?"

Whereat they marveled, but they could not answer him.

Fools in glad rags are often permitted to rush in where unlaundered hobos would be knocked down and dragged out.

PERRY DAVIS' PAINKILLER has no substitute. No other remedy is so effective for rheumatism, lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia or cold of any sort. Put up in 25c, 35c and 50c bottles.

Anything a woman won't talk about isn't worth mentioning.

Busted

Many a man goes broke—in Health—then wealth. Blames his mind—says it don't work right; but all the time it's his bowels. They don't work—liver dead and the whole system gets clogged with poison. Nothing kills good, clean-cut brain action like constipation. CASCARETS will relieve and cure. Try it now. 916

CASCARETS 10c a box for a week's treatment. All druggists. Biggest seller in the world. Million boxes a month.

SEMINARY IS 80 YEARS OLD

HISTORICAL ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT MOORE.

McCormick Theological Institution at Chicago is Celebrating the Anniversary of its Founding.

Chicago, Nov. 2—The McCormick Theological seminary of the Presbyterian church is 80 years old today, and is celebrating the anniversary in fitting manner. Eminent theological educators and divines from various parts of the country are here to take part in the ceremonies. The celebration was formally begun last night when the historical address was delivered by President W. W. Moore of Union seminary, Richmond, Va.

At ten o'clock this morning Rev. S. J. Nicolls of St. Louis, president of the board of directors, presided over a conference on the seminary outlook, at which papers were read by Rev. Augustus H. Strong, Rochester, N. Y.; Prof. R. W. Rogers, Madison, N. J. and Prof. Williston Walker, of New Haven, Conn.

In the afternoon there was a conference on ministerial leadership, with papers by three of McCormick's alumni pastors: Rev. J. Ross Stevenson, D. D., New York; Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, D. D., Brooklyn, and Rev. Edward Yates Hill, D. D., Philadelphia, following which a reception was tendered to invited guests, alumni and students.

This evening, with Rev. J. M. Barkley, D. D., moderator of the general assembly, presiding, the closing address will be delivered by President Woodrow Wilson, Princeton, N. J.

JAPS SEE POTOMAC DRIVE

View Boulevard Along Which Cherry Trees Sent by Mikado Will Be Planted.

Washington, Nov. 1—The honorary commercial commissioners of Japan and their large retinue arrived in Washington today and were given a fitting official welcome. The most interesting event of the day for the visitors was an automobile ride out Potomac drive, for it is along this boulevard that the 2,000 cherry trees presented to the United States by the emperor of Japan will be planted.

The shipment and planting of the trees was intrusted to Torajira Watase, one of the commissioners, who said they were sent especially to Mrs. Taft for presentation to the government. In Japan, the land of the cherry blossoms, there are many legends about the cherry tree and flower. The blossom of the Japanese cherry is of a peculiarly delicate beauty and there is a tradition that if the same tone appears in the blossom planted in country, that country can be subjugated by Japan.

Mr. Watese is authority for the statement that while many Japanese trees have been brought to the United States, the color of the blossoms, although just as beautiful, is unlike that in Japan.

NEBRASKA TEACHERS MEET

Forty-fourth Annual Session of Their State Association is Opened in Lincoln.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 3—The forty-fourth annual meeting of the Nebraska State Teachers, association opened here today with a session of the school officers' section presided over by J. C. Elliott of West Point. The speakers were J. J. Tooley of Anselmo, J. F. Daly of Wisner, Charles D. Marr of Fremont and C. E. V. Smith of Beaver City. Tomorrow, in St. Paul's church, President A. L. Caviness of Fairbury will call to order the first general session.

There will be four banquets this evening, one for state university and college graduates, one for the Kearney and Fremont normal graduates, and the fourth for graduates and senior classes from normal training high schools.

Among the well known men who will address the teachers during the meeting are Earl Barnes of Philadelphia, Henry Turner Bailey of Massachusetts, Dr. Luther H. Gulick of New York, W. N. Clifford of the government forestry service, Gilbert B. Morrison of St. Louis, Henry G. Williams of Ohio university and Booker T. Washington.

Interurbans to Meet at Stuart.

Des Moines, Oct. 30.—The directors of the Red Oak, Des Moines and Northern interurban railway and those of the Des Moines, Council Bluffs and Western interurban railway have agreed that the proposed lines shall meet at Stuart.

Forest Fires Uncontrolled.

Deadwood, S. D., Oct. 30—The fire in the Black Hills forest reserve has got beyond control and already 5,000 acres of the finest pine timber in the central hills has been destroyed.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs.

Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.

The patriotism of the office seeker is the greatest ever.

EVERY GOOD HOUSEKEEPER wants white clothes. It's easy if she uses RUSS BLUE. 5c at grocers.

Some family skeletons are padded beyond recognition.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Inherited.

"Willie Holt seems to be developing into a very fast young man."

"What else could be expected in his case? Hasn't his father been fined nearly a dozen times for exceeding the speed limit?"

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

The Rare Gift of Courtesy.

Courtesy includes not merely social kindness, graces of speech, absence of rudeness, but honorable treatment of business associates and of all the fellow citizens with whom a man of affairs may have business to transact. It is not American to keep one citizen waiting all day at the door because he is poor, and to grant another citizen an interview because it is believed he is rich. Wisdom is not confined in a purse, and frequently much wisdom may be learned from a poor man.

Snake Story.

"Before he went fishin'," said the town story teller, "he swallowed 'bout a pint an' a half of snakebite remedy, an' of course you know what that is. Well, after the snake bit him the reptile cut all sorts o' capers, kaze the remedy went straight to its head. Last thing it tried to do wuz to swaller its tail, an' it got itself in the form of a hoop an' I'm a liar ef the children didn't roll it around all day!"

Heartless Parent Again.

Beautiful Girl—Gardener, don't make a flower bed there. It will spoil our croquet ground."

Gardener—Can't help it, miss. Them's my orders. Your father says he is going to have this garden devoted to horticulture, not husbandry.

Beaten by Nature.

Waggs—I had the laugh on my wife yesterday

Boggs—How did it happen?

Waggs—We were out driving and she discovered an echo that beat her out of the last word.—Stray Stories.

THE DIFFERENCE
Coffee Usually Means Sickness, But Postum Always Means Health.

Those who have never tried the experiment of leaving off coffee and drinking Postum in its place and in this way regaining health and happiness can learn much from the experience of others who have made the trial.

One who knows says: "I drank coffee for breakfast every morning until I had terrible attacks of indigestion producing days of discomfort and nights of sleeplessness. I tried to give up the use of coffee entirely, but found it hard to go from hot coffee to a glass of water. Then I tried Postum.

"It was good and the effect was so pleasant that I soon learned to love it and have used it for several years. I improved immediately after I left off coffee and took on Postum and am now entirely cured of my indigestion and other troubles all of which were due to coffee. I am now well and contented and all because I changed from coffee to Postum.

"Postum is much easier to make right every time than coffee, for it is so even and always reliable. We never use coffee now in our family. We use Postum, and are always well."

"There's a reason" and it is proved by trial.

Look in pkgs for a copy of the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

For Croup and Whooping Cough

there is no quicker, surer remedy known than Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant. Four generations of children have been relieved and cured by this old and reliable medicine.

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

has been successfully employed for over 78 years in countless cases of Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Lungs and Chest, Pleurisy, and similar ailments.

For the sake of your children keep a bottle of Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant in your home where you will have it at hand in an emergency. Sold by all druggists in three size bottles, $1.00, 50c and 25c.

Dr. D. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is the ideal worm medicine, and an effective tonic for adults and children alike.

If you wish to be Cured of Constipation Use

Uncle Sam Breakfast Food

A delightful food made from wheat and flax—nature's own remedy.

Ask your grocer

He Certainly Knows

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

10 Beautiful Embossed Flower and Birthday Post Cards. No two alike. The best ever offered or money back 10c

IMPERIAL MFG. CO. LA CROSSE, WIS.

Don't Cough!—Use PISO'S CURE

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

Will instantly relieve your aching throat. There is nothing like it for Asthma, Bronchitis and lung troubles. Contains no opiates. Very pleasant to take.

All Druggists, 25 cents.

The Goodell Concrete Mfg. Co.

of Goodell, Iowa

wishes to inform the public that they have completed their factory and installed their machinery and are making cement tile that are ranging in sizes from 5 to 16 inches made by the only tamping tile machine on earth today. We make the wire connected building block the only dry wall block, also the 4 wire reinforced Electrica Cement Post, Cement Water Tanks, Cement Chimney Blocks and a first class brick. We invite you to inspect our goods and get prices.

Yours respectfully,

Luken & Gilbert, Props.

The City Dray Line

We wish to announce that we have purchased the dray line from Ell Bros. and ask a continuation of your valued patronage. We will do all hauling entrusted to us promptly and carefully. Give us a trial.

ELL & SONS, Klemme, Iowa

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

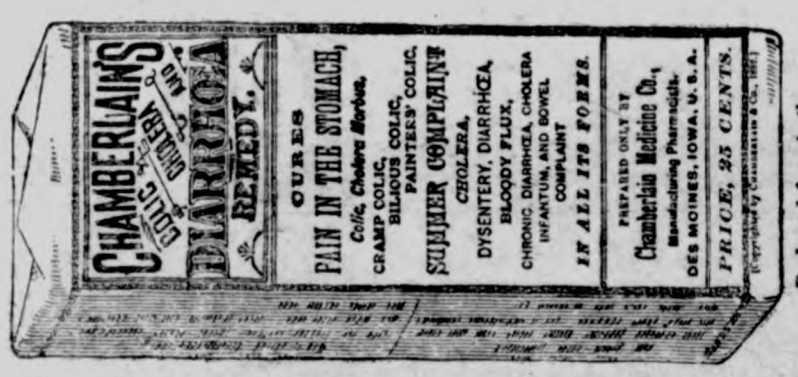
Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy

Acknowledged everywhere to be the most successful medicine in use for Bowel Complaints.

Can be depended upon in the most severe and dangerous cases.

REMEMBER ALWAYS CURES CURES QUICKLY

MONEY RETURNED IF NOT SATISFIED



Reduced fac simile

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

MOST LIKELY.

"Who was the fellow who went around with a lantern looking for an honest man?"

"I don't know; but if he were to try it to-day somebody would steal his lantern!"

True Genius.

"Your daughter has genius, Mr Straightout."

"Nonsense! She can't sing, nor she can't play!"

"No. But she knows it."

The Worst.

Young Wife (whose elderly husband is desperately ill)—Doctor, do not keep me in suspense! Tell me the worst!

Doctor—Then, madam. listen! He will get well!

Kills Her Foe of 20 Years

"The most merciless enemy I had for 20 years," declares Mrs. James Duncan of Haynesville, Me., was dyspepsia. I suffered intensely after eating or drinking and could scarcely sleep. After many remedies had failed and several doctors gave me up I tried Electric Bitters. which cured me completely. Now I can eat anything. I am 70 years old and am overjoyed to get my health and strength back again. For indigestion, loss of appetite, kidney trouble, lame back, female complaints, its unequalled. Only 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

JOHN GRIEWE

City Meat Market

Dealer in

All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Headquarters for part of Heinz' Fifty-Seven Varieties. and Pickling Vinegar.

Try these goods; they are fine.

Col. J. J. Wilson

MESERVEY, IOWA

LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEER

Dates made at either bank in Klemme, Iowa. Terms reasonable.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner . . Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

DOCTORS

GEO. ZINN EDGAR ZINN

Office: State Savings Bank

Phone No. 19

KLEMME . . IOWA

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Phone No. 11. Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to calls day or night.
Eyes tested. Glasses fitted.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist

Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.

2nd door west of State Savings Bank

Call in

Books
Pamphlets
Letter He Envelope

Everything printed from

T Y P E

At the Times office.

Cards
Invitations
Bill Hea
Fosters

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLO

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STAT

Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. days tr atment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines u detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail p ess. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for term sultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call o to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the harmful instruments. Our fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the sc causing nervous debility, w of the nervous system, etc., permanently cur

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease its stages, cured for lif Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all f private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon applicati description of above disease effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliab and permanent. Write to or call and s the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted wi Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, I

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you fre postage paid. This book contain much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letter Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the boo Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOW

Forced Into Exile

Wm. Upchurch of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home. Mountain air, he thought, would cure a frightful lung-racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, death dogging his steps. "Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes, 'and after taking six bottles I am as well as ever." It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for coughs and colds, it dispels hoarseness and sore throat. Cures grip, bronchitis, hemorrhages, asthma croup, whooping cough. 50c and $1 00, trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

Pictures

See me when you want a Photograph

All kinds—inside or outdoor views. I make a specialty of photo postal cards, 75 cents a dozen. Good work at reasonable prices.

JOE MILLER, KLEMME IOWA

LIVERY and FEED STABLE.

The only livery in town
Good rigs and careful drivers
Rates reasonable
Your patronage solicited

CHAS. L. YAHNKE, Proprietor

McCALL PATTERNS 10 AND 15 NONE HIGHER

McCALL'S MA 50 A YEA INCLUDING A FRE

McCALL PATTERNS
Celebrated for style, perfect fit, simpli reliability nearly 40 years. Sold in every city and town in the United St Canada, or by mail direct. More re any other make. Send for free ca

McCALL'S MAGAZINE
More subscribers than any other magazine—million a month. Lov est styles, patterns, dressmaking, s plain sewing, fancy needlework, fashi etiquette, good stories, etc. Only $1.0 year (worth double), including a free Subscribe today, or send for samp

WONDERFUL INDUCEMENTS
to Agents. Postal brings premium c and new cash prize offers. Addr

THE McCALL CO., 238 to 248 W. 37th St., NEW

Electri Bitters

Succeed when everything else fa In nervous prostration and fem weaknesses they are the supre remedy, as thousands have testifi

FOR KIDNEY, LIVER AN STOMACH TROUBLE

it is the best medicine ever s over a druggist's counter.

Just Dust It on the So
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls whi work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDE (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, I

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 15 KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1909. $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

GET READY NOW

And attend the Public Sale of C. Kuskie & Sons, on

FRIDAY, NOV. 12. 1909

Commencing at One o'clock p. m. sharp:

4 Horses
3 milch cows
One Good Shepherd Dog
20 young hens and some Guineas
Machinery; Household goods.

Col. J. J. Wilson, Auct. P. M. Griesemer, Clerk

One year time at 8 per cent on sums over $10, under $10 cash.

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

LIST OF PETIT JURORS

Drawn for the December term, 1909, to appear Tuesday, Dec. 7th, at 10 o'clock a. m. List furnished by O. F. Missman, Clerk District Court:

NAME	TOWNSHIP
Thomas Ormsby	Bingham
Frank Coyier	Ell
Chas. Hutson	Madison
Wm Gunsell	Amsterdam
C H Nelson	Concord
Joe May	Magor
Fred Henschen	Ell
C H Anderson	Boone
F H Clark	Twin Lake
John Pfeffer	Corwith P'cnt
Fred Greiman	Ell
Charles Trail	Crystal
J W Whitney	Britt
Peter Greenfield	Bingham
Martin Rasmussen	Crystal
Enoch Westerberg	Ellington
Rudolph Upmeyer	German
Lewis Croath	Ellington
F W Jurgens	Erin
George Whiteis	Ellington
Richard Zwald	Garfield
Charles Cramer	Concord
Jake Cram	Avery
Saul Truit	Britt
Charles Howlett, Jr.	Erin
Joe Anderson	Amsterdam
Nick Hauptly	Orthel
Lue Gutterman	Crystal
Ed Onstad	Amsterdam
J J Becker	Concord

Don't forget the Eva Bartlett Macey Company at the Klemme Opera house, Nov. 23rd

THE affairs of the First National Bank are under Government supervision, which is so rigid that the word NATIONAL is a synonym for safety. You are privileged to draw your money or any portion of it at any time you desire if you have an account at

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

A CONVINCER

The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.
We claim for our lumber and building material that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.
May we figure on your next lumber bill?

J. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J.W.WATERMAN

WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY

On Suits and Overcoats for Men and Boys

What Ten Dollars will buy in a Suit depends on where you buy to a great extent.

If you get one of our $10.00 Suits, assures you a perfect fit, smart styles, honest tailoring and the best materials to be had for the money. If you favor us with a call we will be glad to have you try on some of our $10.00 models.

Our clothing is guaranteed by the makers guarantee as well as our own, and will guarantee you satisfaction.

If you are in need of a Duck Coat, Plush-lined Coat, Sheep-lined coat, Ulsters, Flannel Shirts, and Sweater coats, we can save you from 25c up to $3 on a coat.

Fur Coats sold on the smallest living profit:--
$1.00 on a Coat.

M. A. McCARTHY

Garner's One Price Clothier

F. E. Walsh, Mgr.

——Remember your money is never our money until you are perfectly satisfied——

HUNTING FOR BIG GAME.

The Highlands of Ontario is an ideal spot for the sportsman during the open hunting season for big game. In the Temagami region moose are plentiful and may be killed during the period from October 16th to November 15th. This territory is a forest preserve of vast expanse, and in addition to being the hunter's paradise, its waters abound with game fish of many species. The home of the red deer is located somewhat to the south of Temagami, particularly in the districts known as "Muskoka Lakes," "Lake of Bays, "Maganetawan River," "Lake Nipissing," and "Kawartha Lakes" territories.

Write to W. S. Cookson, A. G. P. A., 135 Adams St., Chicago, for a copy of "Haunts of Fish and Game," issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System which fully describes the hunting territories reached by this line, giving game laws, maps and all information.

Lost in Antiquity.

A little fellow who had just felt the hard side of the slipper turned to his mother for consolation.

"Mother," he asked, "did grandpa thrash father when he was a little boy?"

"Yes," answered his mother, impressively.

"And did his father thrash him when he was little?"

"Yes."

"And did his father thrash him?"

"Yes."

A pause.

"Well, who started this thing, anyway?"—Cassell's Saturday Journal.

She Could Not.

"With one wave of my wand," says the fairy, "I can make you grow young again."

"Excuse me," replied the woman, "if I decline your kind offer. If you can bring youth to me at my present age, all right; but I positively refuse to travel back through pyrography, the first stages of bridge, the habit back, the straight front, balloon sleeves, and all the rest of the fads I can remember."

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

In the Same Boat.

A magazine contributor, being hard pressed by his creditors, recently wrote to his editor: "Please send check at once, as my gas bill is due." The candid editor replied in this brief fashion: "So is mine. God help us all."

Many Children Are Sickly.

Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children, used by Mother Gray, a nurse in Children's Home, New York, cure Summer Complaint, Feverishness, Headache, Stomach Troubles, Teething Disorders and Destroy Worms. At all Druggists', 25c. Sample mailed FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Finis.

Wigg—Scribbler's stories all have such sad endings.

Wagg—Yes, they generally find their way into the wastebasket.—Philadelphia Record.

Take a hint, do your own mixing. Rough on Rats, being all poison, one 15c box will spread or make 50 to 100 little cakes that will kill 500 or more rats and mice. It's the unbeatable exterminator. Don't die in the house. Beware of imitations, substitutes and catch-penny ready-for-use devices.

How Kind.

Edyth—Jack says I was made to kiss.

Mayme—A diplomatic way of referring to your turned-up nose, wasn't it?

Give children pennies if they buy digestible WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT. It is much better for them.

If a giddy woman could hear what is said about her giddiness behind her back it would knock some of the giddiness out of her.

PERRY DAVIS' PAINKILLER has no substitute. No other remedy is so effective for rheumatism, lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia or cold of any sort. Put up in 25c, 35c and 50c bottles.

He that does a base thing in zeal for his friend burns the golden thread that ties their hearts together.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

If a man is a liar it is useless to tell him so. He knew it all the time.

Less and less cigar smoke. More and more WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT fragrance.

A cynic is a person who makes a specialty of telling the truth.

DON'T USE IMITATION BLUE. Use genuine RUSS BLUE. It preserves clothes and makes them white as snow. 5c.

The right kind of experience is worth all it costs.

WE PAY HIGH PRICE FOR HIDES and furs. & sell guns and traps cheap. N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

The spirits fail to materialize at a temperance seance.

BELL IS PRESIDENT

Drake Educator Heads State Teachers' Association

SUCCESSFUL MEETING CLOSED

Summary of the Resolutions Passed at the Closing Session—Attendance More Than Double Any Previous Meeting.

Des Moines, Nov. 8.—While the other 3,960 teachers of Iowa supposed to be in attendance at the closing session of the state teachers' association meeting at the Auditorium, were rooting for their favorite team on the side lines of the Iowa-Drake football game, a few conscientious teachers of the state sat through the long hours and conducted the business for the entire association.

There were about 4,000 teachers registered at this meeting, which is more than double the number present at any previous meeting.

At the closing session the fifty-fifth annual convention of the Iowa State Teachers' association, declared for a liberal increase in the salary of the state superintendent of education; a minimum salary for teachers; longer tenure for teachers; the abolition of the registration fee; pensions for teachers; the establishment of two state normal schools; the appointment of a high school inspector whose duty shall be to recommend and approve high school training courses that prepare teachers for rural and elementary schools; the general introduction of manual training and domestic science as a means of developing habits of attention, accuracy and self control; that pupils living in districts which have no high schools be permitted to attend high schools at the expense of the state; endorsed the efforts of State Superintendent Riggs for larger unit of organization of schools; asked for legislation for a township, township-county or county system of organization of rural schools; thanked the local press for correct reports and President Beard and the executive committee for the fine program and the local committee for looking after the wants of the teachers. These provisions were all contained in the report of the committee on resolutions, presented by Superintendent F. T. Oldt of Dubuque and were adopted.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Hill M. Bell, Drake university, Des Moines.

First vice president—George H. Kellogg Tipton.

Second vice president—O. P. Boswick, Clinton.

Third vice president—Margaret Dolliver, Morningside college, Sioux City.

Secretary—O. E. Smith, Indian ola.

Secretary—O. E. Smith, Indianola. Cedar Falls.

Executive committee — Maurice Ricker, chairman, Des Moines; Frank L. Smart, Davenport; O. H. Benson, superintendent Wright county.

GIRL RUN DOWN BY AN AUTO

Miss Beatrice Booth Badly Injured by Machine Which Puts on Speed and Disappears.

Carroll, Ia., Nov. 8.—Miss Beatrice Booth of Glidden, with one leg broken and crushed in half a dozen places and other severe injuries is lying in the Carroll hospital as a result of an automobile accident.

Miss Booth was hit by a machine, driven by unknown parties, a few miles west of Glidden. The machine was a Chalmers-Detroit and carried the number N. A. 306.

After striking Miss Booth the occupants of the car put on all possible speed and disappeared in the direction of Harlan.

Big Fire at Morrison.

Reinbeck, Ia., Nov. 8.—Three buildings at Morrison, near here, were destroyed by fire entailing a loss of $5,500; insurance $2,700. The fire started in the dry goods store of Mike Haddy which was totally destroyed, as were the adjoining buildings on each side. One of these was the city calaboose, and the other belonged to T. E. Dickey.

Aldrich to Speak in Des Moines.

Des Moines, Nov. 8.—Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Providence, R. I., author of the tariff bill enacted by the last special session of congress, will address the business men of Des Moines at a banquet in the Savery hotel Thursday evening next at 5:30 o'clock.

Girl Kills Young Man.

Portsmouth, O., Nov. 8.—Just after she had finished singing his favorite song Miss Bontha Wolf shot and fatally wounded Thomas Fetty in her father's home in New Boston.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT VICTORY FOR THE CARTER MEDICINE COMPANY IN THE UNITED STATES COURT.

The United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York—sitting in New York City—has just awarded to the Carter Medicine Company a decree which again sustains the company's exclusive right to use the red package for liver pills.

By the terms of the decree, it is, among other things:

Adjudged that the Carter Medicine Company is the owner of the sole and exclusive right to the use of red colored wrappers and labels upon said small, round packages of liver pills of the style described in the bill of complaint; said right having been acquired by the prior adoption of said style and color of package for liver pills by the complainant predecessors more than thirty years ago, and established by the continuous and exclusive use of the same in constantly increasing quantities by said predecessors and by the complainant, the Carter Medicine Company, itself, from the time of their said adoption until the present day.

The decision just announced is perhaps the most important and far-reaching of all, by reason of the character of the tribunal which rendered it. No Court in the country stands higher.

—National Druggist, St. Louis, Mo.

Ruled by Kindness.

Lucy Burd's success with boys at the reform school in Bucks county, Pennsylvania, she thinks, is due simply to kindness. She has reformed more than 100 boys in her term of five years as superintendent. Some of her boys are in the navy some on farms. Few have gone back to their old ways after coming under her influence.

As to the Hessian Fly.

The Hessian fly is a German product which was conceived in iniquity and born in sauerkraut. It is a long, rangy fly with a bite like a steel trap, and it lays a pale blue, oblong egg at the rate of 30,000 an hour. The Hessian fly will eat anything from decayed custard pie to a glass inkwell, but its favorite dish is the double neck of a fat gent. This bird can perform a two-step on sticky fly paper without crooking its toes, and is proof against rough on rats, the daisy fly killer, and a strychnine hypodermic. No Hessian fly was ever known to die of anything but old age, which accounts for the color of its whiskers. If it ever fastens upon your jowl, it will stay until removed by the undertaker.—Manchester (Ia.) Press.

Mistake Somewhere.

A story comes from a Kentucky town that is worth repeating. There lives there a woman who says that she has immediate communion with the Almighty, and now and then delivers to those of common clay a message that she has received from on high. The fact that these messages sometimes take on a very materialistic hue does not alter their effectiveness, in her opinion.

One day she went into the office of a well known attorney and approached him solemnly as one about to reveal an awe-inspiring secret.

"The Lord sent me to you for $25," she announced.

The attorney looked up and smiled.

"That must be a mistake," he replied, blandly, "because the Lord knows I have not got it."

Celestial communication was thereupon broken off.

SOME HARD KNOCKS
Woman Gets Rid of "Coffee Heart."

The injurious action of Coffee on the heart of many persons is well known by physicians to be caused by caffeine. This is the drug found by chemists in coffee and tea.

A woman suffered a long time with severe heart trouble and finally her doctor told her she must give up coffee, as that was the principal cause of the trouble. She writes:

"My heart was so weak it could not do its work properly. My husband would sometimes have to carry me from the table, and it would seem that I would never breathe again.

"The doctor told me that coffee was causing the weakness of my heart. He said I must stop it, but it seemed I could not give it up until I was down in bed with nervous prostration.

"For eleven weeks I lay there and suffered. Finally Husband brought home some Postum and I quit coffee and started new and right. Slowly I got well. Now I do not have any headaches, nor those spells with weak heart. We know it is Postum that helped me. The Dr. said the other day, 'I never thought you would be what you are.' I used to weigh 92 pounds and now I weigh 158.

"Postum has done much for me and I would not go back to coffee again for any money, for I believe it would kill me if I kept at it. Postum must be well boiled according to directions on pkg., then it has a rich flavour and with cream is fine."

Read "The Road to Wellville," found in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

The Best All-'Round Cleanser for the Farm

Old Dutch Cleanser

For cleaning and brightening up the metal parts of harness, farm implements and machinery, farm wagons, etc.; for keeping cream separators, milk pails, pans, tins, etc., "sweet" and clean; for scouring pots, kettles and all kitchen utensils; for keeping everything spick and span, you will find Old Dutch Cleanser the easiest, quickest and best cleanser you have ever used. This new, handy, all-'round Cleanser takes the place of old-fashioned caustic and acid cleaners, such as soap, soap-powders, scouring-bricks and metal-polishes, and does all their work in a new and better way.

Cleans Scrubs Scours Polishes

Old Dutch Cleanser is a pure mineral, absolutely free from caustic, acid or alkali. Its flaky particles absorb and carry off every speck of dirt. It is also excellent for removing grease and grime from the hands.

Just try it and learn how much better it is. You'll never afterwards be without it.

Large, Sifter Can (At Your Dealers) 10c

CUDAHY—MAKER—OMAHA

The Wizard of Horticulture

Hon. Luther Burbank

says: "Delicious is a gem—the finest apple in all the world. It is the best quality of any apple I have so far tested,"—and Mr. Burbank knows.

Delicious is but one of the hundreds of good things in Stark Trees—the good things you should know about before you plant this fall or next spring.

Let us tell you about them by writing today for our complete, illustrated price list-catalogue which describes our complete line of fruit trees, ornamentals, etc.

Wanted—A Bright, Capable Man

in each county of this state to sell Stark Trees on commission. No previous experience necessary. The work is pleasant, clean work, highly profitable, and the positions are permanent to the right men, who apply immediately.

Many of our salesmen are earning $50 to $80 per month and expenses; some are making more. You can do as well or better if you're a hustler and trying to succeed.

No investment called for; we furnish complete order-getting outfit free and the most liberal contract.

For complete information address the Sales Manager of

STARK BRO'S NURSERIES & ORCHARDS CO., LOUISIANA, MO

For Rheumatic Pains

As we get older the blood becomes sluggish, the muscles and joints stiffen and aches and pains take hold easier. Sloan's Liniment quickens the blood, limbers up the muscles and joints and stops any pain or ache with astonishing promptness.

Proof that it is Best for Rheumatism.

Mrs. DANIEL H. DIEHL, of Mann's Choice, R.F.D., No. 1, Pa., writes:—"Please send me a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for rheumatism and stiff joints. It is the best remedy I ever knew for I can't do without it."

Also for Stiff Joints.

Mr. MILTON WHEELER, 2100 Morris Ave., Birmingham, Ala., writes:—"I am glad to say that Sloan's Liniment has done me more good for stiff joints than anything I have ever tried."

Sloan's Liniment

is the qickest and best remedy for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Toothache, Sprains, Bruises and Insect Stings.

Price 25c., 50c., and $1.00 at All Dealers.

Send for Sloan's Free Book on Horses. Address

DR. EARL S. SLOAN, BOSTON, MASS.

HAMLIN'S WIZARD OIL THE OIL THAT PENETRATES — GREAT FOR PAIN

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT THE FLAVOR LASTS

IN LOOKING for cheap and medium priced lands in Iowa, the Dakotas or Minnesota and Canada and other changes, write J. N. Nienhuis, Sheldon, Iowa.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

School children should eat

Quaker Oats

at least twice a day

9

Assorted china in the Family Size Package

The Last Resort.

"They're going to increase the tax on beer!" "Then we won't drink any." "And they're going to increase the tax on spirits." "Then we won't drink any." "And they're going to tax wine." "Then we won't drink any." "And they're going to tax inheritances!" "Then let's drink up our money!"

You can't stop smoking without a substitute. Don't accept a substitute for WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT. It makes not-smoking easy.

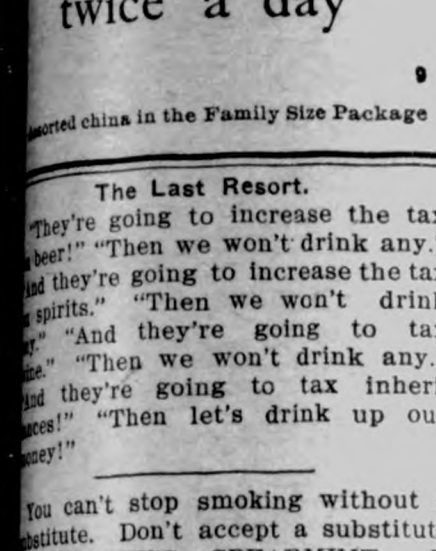
A Name That Names.

"Why does Penryn call his coming novel 'A Scrap Book?'"

"Because it is a story of a married life."

Strong Winds and Sand Storms cause granulation of the eyelids. PETTIT'S EYE SALVE soothes and quickly relieves. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

We judge ourselves by what we feel capable of doing, while others judge us by what we have already done.



If you wish to be Cured of Constipation Use

Uncle Sam Breakfast Food

A delightful food made from wheat and flax—nature's own remedy.

Ask your grocer

He Certainly Knows

CRUISE To the ORIENT

"CINCINNATI"

21st Annual Cruise Leaves New York January 29, 1910

80 days $325 up

An Ideal Trip under most Perfect Conditions

Also cruises to the West Indies and South America

HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINE

41-45 BROADWAY, - - NEW YORK

P. O. Box 1767

RAW FURS Ship them to us and we will allow highest market price. We do not charge commission or expressage like Western houses, thereby saving you about 10 per cent to begin with. Write for Price List, Tags, etc. Mention this paper.

S. DORMAN & SON, Inc.

36-38 East Ninth St., New York

REFERENCES: Banks and Commercial Agencies.

Children's Coughs Cause the Little Ones Much Unnecessary Suffering

PISO'S CURE

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

Gives instant relief—soothes and heals the little throats and prevents more serious illness. Children like it too—so pleasant to take and does not upset the stomach.

All Druggists, 25 cents.

IOWA GETS BIG SUM

From the Nearly 80,000 Licenses Issued to Hunters.

TO PROTECT FISH AND GAME

Funds Coming in From Hunters' Licenses Expected to Reach Total of $80,000 the First Year.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Nov. 8.—The sportsmen of Iowa are wondering what the state is going to do with the immense amount of money that is being derived from the issue of hunters' licenses.

Already 73,750 blank licenses have been sent out from the office of State Fish and Game Warden Lincoln in this city to the various counties of the state, a major portion of which, it is believed have been issued. Estimates place the total number of hunters' licenses that will be issued at 80,000, as many more will doubtless call for them when the quail season opens and the winter shooting of rabbits begins. The number of licenses to non-residents will be comparatively small, as there is no shooting in Iowa as compared with that to be had in Minnesota the Dakotas and other neighboring states.

It is safe to assume, therefore, that the state will derive a net revenue of something more than $80,000 from this source which will go under the terms of the new law, to the credit of the fish and game protection fund. This amount is practically six times more than the fish and game warden's department has ever had to expend in any one year, and as no plan has been laid for the expenditure of this money it will be seen that by the end of five years a fund will have accumulated that will enable the state authorities not only to maintain a strong and vigorous warfare against the violators of the game laws, but as well to do something substantial in the way of propogating fish and game.

New Matron Installed.

Cedar Falls—The finance committee of the state board of education have equipped the old home of President H. H. Seerley on the college campus up for a hospital, and hereafter all sick students at the Iowa State Teachers' college will be cared for at the hospital. Each student will be permitted to have the doctor of their choice. Mrs. A. M. Potter of Wilton Iowa, has been made the first matron of the new hospital and will take up her work at once.

Crawford County Land Sales.

Denison.—The highest price ever paid for Crawford county land in farms of over twenty acres, was paid when Ben Smith sold his 160 acres near Denison for $175 per acre. This price is considered a record breaker, as there is considerable timber on the land and it has been farmed for many years. H. Mordhorst was the purchaser. At the same time he sold his 240 acres to Wm. McBride of Dow City for $120 per acre. Both farms are well improved.

Bishop Keane Hits Woman's Sucrage

Dubuque.—Bishop J. J. Keane, probably the next archbishop of Dubuque, in an interview, gave out a statement to the effect that the home was woman's sphere and what women might gain by suffrage would be a loss to society and the world. He believes there are more effective reforms in political and other fields through women's influence at home than in the political arena.

Repv. Fox's Daughter Divorced.

Jefferson.—Mrs. G. M. Miller has been granted a divorce from G. M. Miller. Cruel and inhuman treatment were the grounds of the action. The wife, who is the daughter of Representative John Fox of Dallas Center, retains the custody of the two children.

Killed in Coal Mine.

Seymour.—Erni Magers, 24, was killed when a car of coal was overturned falling on him in a mine here. He leaves a wife and two children. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and had a local reputation as a ball player.

Woman Committed Suicide.

Fertile.—Found in a stream near the mill dam lends the theory that Mrs. Nels Jorgenson, wife of a well known resident here, committed suicide. She leaves a family of children, the youngest four months old.

Dubuque Brakeman Killed.

Dubuque.—Charles First, aged 18, brakeman on the Milwaukee here, was crushed to death in the upper shop yards. A misplaced switch threw a train into a string of standing cars, killing him.

Simpson Gets a Gift of $20,000.

Indianola.—Three prominent Indianola business men have donated $20,000 to Simpson college. The announcement was made at chapel by President Shelton. Wm. Buxton, Sr., Harry E. Hopper, and F. C. Signer were the donors. Recently these men bought a large tract of timber land in Canada for speculation. They announced that when the land was sold one-fourth of the proceeds would be given to Simpson. The deal recently was closed at a profit of $80,000, thereby netting the college $20,000.

Carmody's Slayer Gets Twenty Years

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—Arthur Johnson alias Harris, convicted of the burglary of the home of Dr. J. H. Smith last May, was sentenced under the indeterminate law to Fort Madison for a term not to exceed twenty years. Johnson will undoubtedly be tried on several other charges, including the shooting of Mayor Carmody in his home on the night of May 24, from which the mayor died in August. Johnson has served one penitentiary term in Illinois and six in Missouri.

Engineer Killed in Cab.

Sioux City.—Sitting in the cab of his engine, making the fastest time on the Sioux City division of the Milwaukee railroad, which run he had won through promotions on account of long and faithful service to the road, John Smith, one of the most popular and efficient engineers in the service of the company was almost instantly killed by the breaking of the driving rod on his side of the engine.

Wedded for Half a Century.

Washington.—Mr. and Mrs. Adam Guy, pioneers of the county, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their West Chester home. They were married in this city at the United Presbyterian parsonage by the Rev. Mr. Van Atta. Over half a century they have lived in Washington county and for forty years have resided at their present home. Mr. Guy is aged 71 years and Mrs. Guy 70.

McArthur Gets Parole.

Dubuque.—Word was received in Dubuque that Arthur McArthur, sentenced to four years in Fort Madison prison on Nov. 18 1907, has been paroled and will arrive home. McArthur was former superintendent of the Dubuque municipally owned water works, and figured in a scandal that cost the water works $60,000. He was convicted of embezzlement of funds.

Minus the Dark Dance.

Iowa City.—Minus the dark dances the sophomore cotillion in the University of Iowa will be given on December 17. The committee, despite the fact that the party will not be so attractive as it was with the dark dances, has decided to give the party. Efforts will be made to bring parties from Coe college and Cornell to attend.

Former Iowa Minister Weds.

Mason City.—Friends here have received announcement of the marriage of Rev. Albert H. Jordan, formerly pastor of the Congregational church of this place, but now pastor of a large church of St. Louis, to Miss Emma Stewart Bixby daughter of a prominent resident of that city.

Create New Office.

Sioux City.—The new office of second vice president has been created by the directors of the live stock fair and Captain W. S. A. Smith has been given the position and will have charge of the live stock exhibits. President F. L. Eaton and the other officers were re-elected.

Iowa City Water Plant.

Iowa City.—The Iowa City Water company has commenced work on a $20,000 filtering plant which will insure pure water for the people of the state university and of Iowa City. The work had been temporarily delayed by fire which destroyed the Horrybin sand pump.

Keokuk Man Takes His Own Life.

Keokuk.—Constantine Lieffier, 62, a machinist, after suffering ill health for sixteen years, shot himself through the heart with a 38 calibre revolver, dying instantly. He leaves a wife, who found his body in a coal shed shortly after the suicide.

County Attorney Appointed.

Clarion.—A. R. Ladd of the firm of Ladd and Rogers, has been appointed county attorney by the county commissioners to fill the unexpired term of Bradford Knapp who has resigned to accept a position in Washington, D. C.

High School Orchestra.

Washington.—An orchestra has been organized in the Washington High school under the direction of Prof. Frank Sherratt, of Burlington. Ths is the first orchestra in the history of the high school to be organized.

Women Who Suffer

from woman's ailments are invited to write to the names and addresses here given, for positive proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does cure female ills.

Tumor Removed.

Chicago, Ill.—Mrs. Alvena Sperling, 11 Langdon Street.
Lindley, Ind.—Mrs. May Fry.
Kinsley, Kans.—Mrs. Stella Gifford Beaman.
Scott, N.Y.—Mrs. S. J. Barber.
Cornwallville, N.Y.—Mrs. Wm. Boughton.
Cincinnati, O.—Mrs. W. K. Housh, 7 Eastview Av
Milwaukee, Wis.—Mrs. Emma Imse, 883 1st St., German.

Change of Life.

South Bend, Ind.—Mrs. Fred Certia, 1014 S. Lafayette Street.
Noah, Kentucky.—Mrs. Lizzie Holland.
Brookfield, Mo.—Mrs. Sarah Lousignont, 207 S. Market St.
Paterson, N.J.—Mrs. Wm. Somerville, 195 Hamburgh Avenue.
Philadelphia, Pa.—Mrs. K. E. Garrett, 2407 North Garnet Street.
Kewaskum, Wis.—Mrs. Carl Dahlke.

Maternity Troubles.

Worcester, Mass.—Mrs. Dosylva Coté, 117 Southgate Street.
Indianapolis, Ind.—Mrs. A. P. Anderson, 1207 E. Pratt Street.
Big Run, Pa.—Mrs. W. E. Pooler.
Atwater Station, O.—Mrs. Anton Muelhaupt.
Cincinnati, Ohio.—Mrs. E. H. Maddocks, 2135 Gilbert Avenue.
Mogadore, Ohio.—Mrs. Lee Manges, Box 131.
Dewittville, N.Y.—Mrs. A. A. Giles.
Johnstown, N.Y.—Mrs. Homer N. Seaman, 108 E. Main Street.
Burtonview, Ill.—Mrs. Peter Langenbahn.

Avoid Operations.

Hampstead, Md.—Mrs. Jos. H. Dandy.
Adrian, Ga.—Lena V. Henry, Route No. 3.
Indianapolis, Ind.—Bessie V. Piper, 29 South Addison Street.
Louisville, Ky.—Mrs. Sam Lee, 3523 Fourth St.
South West Harbor, Maine.—Mrs. Lillian Robbins, Mt. Desert Light Station.
Detroit, Mich.—Mrs. Frieda Rosenau, 544 Meldrum Avenue, German.

Organic Displacements.

Mozier, Ills.—Mrs. Mary Ball.
Ligonier, Ind.—Mrs. Eliza Wood, R.F.D. No. 4.
Melbourne, Iowa.—Mrs. Clara Watermann, R. F. D. No. 1.
Bardstown, Ky.—Mrs. Joseph Hall.
Lewiston, Maine.—Mrs. Henry Cloutier, 56 Oxford Street.
Minneapolis, Minn.—Mrs. John G. Moldan, 2115 Second Street, N.
Shamrock, Mo.—Josie Ham, R.F.D. No. 1; Box 22.
Marlton, N.J.—Mrs. Geo. Jordy, Route No. 3, Box 40.
Chester, Ark.—Mrs. Ella Wood.
Ocilla, Ga.—Mrs. T. A. Cribb.
Pendleton, Ind.—Mrs. May Marshall, R.R. 44.
Cambridge, Neb.—Mrs. Nellie Moslander.

Painful Periods.

Goshen, Ala.—Mrs. W. T. Dalton, Route No. 3.
Chicago, Ill.—Mrs. Wm. Tully, 465 Ogden Av.
Paw Paw, Mich.—Mrs. Emma Draper.
Flushing, Mich.—Mrs. Burt Loyd, R. F. D. No. 3; care of D. A. Sanborn.
Coffeeville, Miss.—Mrs. S. J. Jones.
Cincinnati, Ohio.—Mrs. Flora Ahr, 1362 Ernst Street.
Cleveland, Ohio—Miss Lizzie Steiger, 5510 Fleet Avenue, S.E.
Wesleyville, Pa.—Mrs. Maggie Ester, R.F.D. 1.
Dyersburg, Tenn.—Mrs. Lue Hilliard, R.R. 1.
Hayfield, Va.—Mrs. Mayme Windle.

Irregularity.

Herrin, Ill.—Mrs. Chas. Folkel.
Winchester, Ind.—Mrs. May Deal.
Dyer, Ind.—Mrs. Wm. Oberloh, R. F. D. No. 1.
Baltimore, Md.—Mrs. W. S. Ford, 1938 Lansdowne Street.
Roxbury, Mass.—Mrs. Francis Merkle, 13 Field Street.
Clarksdale, Mo.—Miss Anna Wallace.
Guysville, Ohio.—Mrs. Ella Michael, R.F.D. 3.
Dayton, Ohio.—Mrs. Ida Hale, Box 25, National Military Home.
Lebanon, Pa.—Mrs. Harry L. Rittle, 233 Lehman Street.
Sykes, Tenn.—Minnie Hall.
Detroit, Mich.—Mrs. Louise Jung, 332 Chestnut St.

Ovarian Trouble.

Vincennes, Ind.—Mrs. Syl. B. Jerauld, 508 N. Tenth Street.
Gardiner, Maine.—Mrs. S. A. Williams, R. F. D. No. 14; Box 39.
Philadelphia, Pa.—Mrs. Chas. Boell, 2407 N. Garnet Street.
Plattsburg, Miss.—Miss Verna Wilkes, R.F.D. 1.

Female Weakness.

Willimantic, Conn.—Mrs. Etta Donovan, Box 299.
Woodside, Idaho.—Mrs. Rachel Johnson.
Rockland, Maine.—Mrs. Will Young, 6 Columbia Avenue.
Scottville, Mich.—Mrs. J. G. Johnson, R.F.D. 3.
Dayton, Ohio.—Mrs. F. R. Smith, 431 Elm St.
Erie, Pa.—Mrs. J. P. Endlich, R. F. D. No. 7.
Beaver Falls, Pa.—Mrs. W. P. Boyd, 2109 Seventh Avenue.
Fairchance, Pa.—Mrs. I. A. Dunham, Box 152.
Fort Hunter, Pa.—Mrs. Mary Jane Shatto.
East Earl, Pa.—Mrs. Augustus Lyon, R.F.D. 2.
Vienna, W. Va.—Mrs. Emma Wheaton.

Nervous Prostration.

Oronogo, Mo.—Mrs. Mae McKnight.
Camden, N.J.—Mrs. Tillie Waters, 451 Liberty Street.
Joseph, Oregon.—Mrs. Alice Huffman.
Philadelphia, Pa.—Mrs. John Johnston, 210 Siegel Street.
Christiana, Tenn.—Mrs. Mary Wood, R F. D. No. 3.
Pecos, Texas.—Mrs. Ada Young Eggleston.
Granitevillo, Vt.—Mrs. Chas. Barclay, R.F.D.

These women are only a few of thousands of living witnesses of the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. Not one of these women ever received compensation in any form for the use of their names in this advertisement—but are willing that we should refer to them because of the good they may do other suffering women to prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a reliable and honest medicine, and that the statements made in our advertisements regarding its merit are the truth and nothing but the truth.

Refuted.

"Just think of it! One person in every 37 in England is a pauper!"

"Why, John," she returned, "it isn't so. I met more than 37 people in London last summer, and there wasn't a pauper in the lot!"

A man never realizes what a small potato he really is until he hears in a roundabout way what the girl whom he could have married but didn't thinks of him.

Don't stop eating to chew WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT. Chew it after. It's fine for digestion.

Happiness is increased, not by the enlargement of the possessions, but of the heart.—Ruskin.

DON'T NEGLECT THAT COUGH
It certainly racks your system and may run into something serious. Allen's Lung Balsam will check it quickly and permanently. For sale at all druggists.

Gratitude is the sweetest music that flows from the human heart.—Henry Lee.

ASK YOUR OWN GROCER to give you RUSS BLUE. It will whiten your clothes and preserve your temper.

Some people are more afraid of germs than they are of a mad dog.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny, granules, easy to take. Do not gripe.

Procrastination is the thief of many a good time.

Here's something good that bad little boys like.—WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT.

Often the milk of human kindness tastes of the can.

Five Minutes in the Morning
NO STROPPING NO HONING
TRADE Gillette MARK
KNOWN THE WORLD OVER

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so?

The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R.V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N.Y.

GROCERIES & HARDWARE

COLD WEATHER

Is SURE to be here soon. Are you prepared for it? Perhaps you will need a new stove before winter sets in. If so you will miss it if you don't call and inspect our line of

HEATERS AND RANGES

We have just received a new shipment and will be glad to show them to you. Call early while the assortment is complete. See the Summit Range

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

ONE PRICE CASH STORE

KLEMME, IOWA

DRUGS

A full line of patents of every manufacture. Jewelery, Wall Paper, Paints and Oils, School Supplies and Stationery.

TOILET ARTICLES

Face Powder, Talcum Powder, Sachet Powder, Face Creams, Toilet Waters, Hand Lotions.

MUSICAL GOODS

String and Brass Instruments, Edison Phonographs and Supplies. We are selling Phonographs on small weekly payments and going one better than the Chicago price by saving you the freight.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile. both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

See us when you want to buy TILE.

Northern Lumber Company

N. L. PALMER, AGENT

KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

THRESHING COAL

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Sootless and Washed Egg. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

H. C. LAU

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

STATEMENT

of the condition of the

State Savings Bank

organized under the laws of Iowa, located at Klemme, in the county of Hancock, at the close of business on the 3rd day of November A. D., 1969, made to the Auditor of State as required by law.

ASSETS

Amount of Bills, Bonds and other evidences of debt discounted or purchased actually owned by the Bank (carried out)			$117,407 17
Amount of cash on hand described as follows:
Gold coin,	435 00
Silver coin and bullion	536 51
Legal tender and national bank notes and subsidary coin	3129 00
Drafts and checks on other solvent banks and other cash items not dishonored on hand and belonging to the bank	1470 91	4,599 91
			$5,571 42
Amount subject to be drawn at sight on deposit with solvent banks or bankers (specifying names and locations of the banks):
Continental Nat'l Bk. Chicago, Ill.	2,193 80
Merchants Nat'l Bk. Cedar Rapids, Iowa	1,231 72
Drovers Deposit National B Chicago, Ill	546 35
Farmers Nat'l Bk. Garner, Iowa	1,515 66
Century Savings Bk. Des Moines, Iowa	1,394 53	6,882 06
Overdrafts secured		2,778 26
Expense account			2,778 26
Value of real property (owned by the Bank)		9,949 34
Value of personal property [owned by the bank]		1,784 92	11,734 26
Total Assets			144,373 17

LIABILITIES

Amount of capial stock actually paid up in cash			15.000 00
Total amount due depositors, as follows:
Amount sight deposits	31,759.16
Amount demand deposits	1,200.00
Amount time deposits	82,489.87	115,449.03
Indebtedness of every kind, due banks, bankers, or persons other than regular depositors:
Bills Payable	$2.500 00		$2,500 00
Surplus fund	10,500 00
Other profits on hand (after deducting taxes and expenses)	924 14		11.424 14
Total Liabilities			144.373.17
Amount of all liabilities to the Bank on part of its directors:
As borrowers	6,403.51
As endorsers	4,167 22		10,570.73

STATE OF IOWA, HANCOCK COUNTY. } ss.

We, W. R. Bloom, President and F. J. Wenck, Assistant Cashier of the Bank above named, do solemnly swear that the foregoing statement is full, true and correct. to the best of our knowledge and belief, that the assets therein set forth are bona fide the propery of said Bank in its corporate capacity and that no part of the same has been loaned or advanced to said Bank for the purpose of being exhibited as a portion of its assets.

W. R. BLOOM, President.

F. J. WENCK, Asst. Cashier.

{ SEAL } Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence by W. R. Bloom and F. J. Wenck, this 9th day of November, A.D. 1909.

F. E. BLACKSTONE,
Notary Public in and for Hancock County

Attested by:

P. M. Griesemer, }
D. D. Ross, } Directors.

Great Sacrifice SALE ON Trimmed Hats

Commencing Nov. 9th, continuing ONE WEEK ONLY

Ten per cent off on Black Trimmed Hats

Greater Reduction on Colors.

Pretty Pattern Hats worth $12.00 go at $9.50

Pretty Pattern Hats worth $8.00 go at $6

Pretty Pattern Hats worth $7.00 go at $5.50

Children's Tams, Caps and Hoods at COST.

A fine line of Bengaline and Moire Silks for ladies waists at Reduced Prices.

Special Reduction on Corsets during this sale.

Buy Now and Save Money

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

The Winter Season

Is now close at hand and it calls for good, warm wearing apparel, good Shoes and Overshoes, etc. We are, as usual, prepared to furnish you with the needed articles and our prices are as low as possible, consistent with the quality of goods we furnish. We want to call your special attention to our full and complete line of

Genuine Old Fashioned Wool Flannel

Ranging in price per yard from.... 5oc TO $1.50

LARGE LINE TO SELECT FROM

Outing Flannels

The kind usually sold for 10c per yard we sell for.... 8c

The kind usually sold for 12c per yard we sell for... 10c

This is no special sale, just our every-day prices.

See our complete line of Seasonable Goods.
We absolutely guarantee satisfaction.

W. J. BARZ, - Garner, Iowa

A good one

The Eva Bartlett Macey Co.

Second Number Lecture Course, at opera house,

November 23

Miss Macey—Reader, banjoist and entertainer.
Miss Chamberlain—Violin soloist.
Walter Ammann—'Celloist.
William R. Kirn—Vocalist and Accompanist.

A company of Artists

You cannot afford to miss this high-class entertainment. A musical treat.

YOUR NEW FALL CLOTHING was so popular that we almost run out of Men's Suits and were obliged to have another large shipment made up which just arrived today.....

BY FAST EXPRESS

Talk about correct color and shade!
Talk about quality in fabric!
Talk about Pure Wool!
Talk about style and fit!

These new suits have all that and more too.

The rich Olive Suits at - $18.00
The Splendid Taup Blue Suits at $20.00

HAVE A LOOK

Today or Tomorrow and prepare for Thanksgiving Day.

Arthur Wellemeyer

bout People You Know

KLEMME MARKET.

.....	45 to c
.....	34 to 35c
.....	80 to 90
.....	40 to 48c
.....	4 00 to 6.00
.....	7.00 to 7.25
.....	3.00 to 6.00

d Wellemeyer's ad.

sh fruits at Kluckhohn's.

sh apple cider at Kluck- 13tf

A. Fell was down from r Monday.

R. Bloom shipped a car f hogs Sunday morning.

tlieb Goll is hauling lumber e erection of a large new ond number lecture course ay, Nov. 23—Eva Bartlett Company.

Fred Ridder and Mrs. t Lau were Garner visit- st Thursday.

W F. Missman was visit- the home of his parents rner last Friday between Koerner has now secured e parts to his automobile ith the new engine at work es nobody's dust.

Bros. are presenting their mers with a Wall Pocket dar for 1910 which is one neatest and nobbiest we ever seen—and we have ots of them too. It is a of art, neatly embossed— ad for their business and rnament good enough for dy's wall.

g obliged to take it for will sell it out cheap;
Hess Stock Food.
Hess Poultry Panacea.
Hess Instant Louse Kill-
Hess Hog Worm Powder.
e had at G. F. Schuler's r, Iowa.

Fresh oysters daily at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

Mrs. Houghton and daughter were north bound passengers Thursday.

Poultry wanted every day. Highest market price paid. H. Lau & Son.

Mrs. Sweigard and Mrs. Freeman, of Goodell, were visiting Klemme friends last Thursday.

The Best Ever—Blue Point oyster crackers. They're fine. Try a package with your next oysters. At Kluckhohn's. 13tf

Mrs. O S. Bailey returned last Thursday to her home in Britt, after visiting a few days with her sister, Mrs. A. C. Flint.

J. W. Scott has joined the "progressives" and last week had new cement walks laid along the front of his blacksmith shop. This has been a great cement year for Klemme.

E. P. Dow, of Rake, Iowa, was a Klemme caller a few hours Monday forenoon on his way home from a trip to the western part of the state. We acknowledge a friendly call.

The teachers in our public schools all went to Des Moines to attend the state teachers' meeting last week Thursday, Friday and Saturday. A large attendance and a very interesting meeting is reported.

The next number of the Lecture Course will be given in the opera house on Tuesday evening, Nov. 23rd. The attraction is the Eva Bartlett Macey Company, which comes very highly recommended as a company of artists. Don't forget the date and don't fail to attend.

Notice

Having finished my work on the farm, I will now devote my time to my practice and to the collections for what I have done. Pay up Dr. Geo. Zinn.

A full line of Post Cards at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

The National Bank has a change of ad.

H. Lau & Son are painting their machine shed.

Mrs. H. Missman and Mrs. Wm. Schaper were down from Garner Monday.

Frank Terhufen was the only Klemme man who was lucky enough to draw a South Dakota farm, his number being 6626.

Mrs. L. A. Turgasen and little son of Swea City, is visiting here at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kluckhohn.

T. A. Williams arrived here from Ward, So. Dak., last week and assumed charge of the Rock Island station here. He expects to move his family here as soon as he can find a suitable residence.

I handle the Ball Band and the Royal Blue rubber goods in the first qualities, and am selling these goods at about the price usually charged for the second quality. Buy your winter supply of footwear for the whole family NOW. Frank Gruetzmacher.

Wm. Schmidt, Jr., was thrown from his buggy last Saturday night and had his face somewhat skinned and was badly shaken up. He was driving a spirited team which did not take kindly to passing a noisy automobile, so they spilled Bill out that they might run things to suit themselves.

Arthur Wellemeyer was a Forest City visitor Monday to see Buster Brown and Tige in their demonstration and advertising campaign setting forth the merits of the products of the factories of the Brown Shoe Co., of St. Louis. Mr. Wellemeyer informs the writer that he expects to have Buster and Tige in Klemme some time next year if things work out right.

The Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York last week made a prompt settlement of the $10,000 policy held by the late Rodney Hill, of Britt. During the month of September (4 weeks) it issued twenty-four and a half million dollars of 'new business.' Drop a post card to its agent, J. D. G. Houghton, Goodell, Iowa, and get particulars of the strongest and safest Insurance Co. and the policies that give best returns. 14-2

Another thunder shower last Sunday.

Souvenir dishes at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

Read the new ad of the State Savings Bank.

Mrs. Geo. Kluckhohn and daughter Lola were Garner visitors Friday.

If you are in the market for a gasoline engine, see us about the Gade engine before purchasing. Wm. Schmidt or J. W. Scott. 12-5*

This is to call your attention to the new ad of Mrs. John Josten in this issue. She is holding a special sale on trimmed hats and if you want a bargain you had better read her ad.

Your attention is respectfully directed to the statement of the State Savings Bank in this issue This report shows this popular banking institution to be in a flourishing condition and enjoying a healthy and continually increasing business.

R. M. Day returned Monday from an extended trip to South Dakota. He reports that he has disposed of his real estate holdings there at a handsome profit. He still has some chattles there however which will demand more or less of his attention during the coming year.

The Des Moines Capital and the Klemme Times will be sent to any address from now until Jan. 1, 1911, on receipt of $2.85. This is an exceptionally liberal offer and should be taken advantage of at once to secure its full benefits. If you have already paid in advance for the Times, ask for our rate on the Capital. Call at this office today and get a daily paper for the winter's reading.

Young Girls are Victims

of headache as well as older women, but all get quick relief and prompt cure from Dr. King's New Life Pills, the world's best remedy for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

German M. E. Church Items

Mrs. Bettin went to Charles City last Saturday to spend a few days with her children.

Chas. Albrecht left Monday for Kirksville, Mo., where he will take treatment for various physical disorders.

A series of gospel meetings will begin in Klemme Sunday evening and continue about three weeks. All are cordially invited.

Elmer and Walter Weisbrod, of Fenton, put in an appearance last Saturday and Sunday, and of course some one was all smiles.

Ella Griewe returned home from Charles City last Saturday to be present at the birthday surprise of her father. She returned Tuesday morning.

F. C. Griewe returned from his maiden trip in his new line of work. He is well pleased with it thus far and has good prospects of working up a nice business. In our humble judgment he has the best and fairest plan of life insurance out.

The writer conducted the quarterly meeting in Garner and Hayfield last Sunday and administered the Lord's Supper at both places. Wm. Bredlow had charge of the services in Germantown and Geo. Gruetzmacher in Klemme in the morning and Henry Griewe in the evening.

Some one who must have known that ye scribe was not at home Monday night, thought it an opportune time to visit our hen roost, but he had not figured that the alarm would be heard in the house before he ever touched a chicken. Too bad we were not at home or we should have assisted him a little. As it was, Mrs. Wessel asked him what he wanted but he failed to tell her and she only heard him make a hasty retreat over fence and across lots.

A number of his friends, remembering that Henry Griewe had reached three score years last Sunday, planned a surprise on him in which they were successful. When he arrived home from church at noon he found a number of people occupying the house and a sumptuous dinner was in readiness. Those present were F. C. Griewe and family, Arthur Wellemeyer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kluckhohn, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ell, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bredlow, Mrs. Wessel, and the other children of Mr. and Mrs. Griewe. The afternoon was spent in pleasant conversation.

PUBLIC AUCTION

As I have decided to quit farming, I will offer at Public Auction on the farm now occupied by me, 4 miles northeast of Klemme and 5½ miles southeast of Garner, on

FRIDAY, NOV. 12, 1909,

commencing at 1 o'clock p. m. sharp, the following property:

4 Horses—Black mare 3 years old wt 1300, black mare 2 years old wt 1100, bay mare 2 years old in Spring, black gelding 2 years old in Spring.

3 milch Cows.

One good Shepherd dog.

20 young hens and some guineas.

Machinery — McCormick mower, McCormick hay rake, Kingman corn planter with 160 rods wire, 2 Deere walking cultivators, one 16-in. Sterling plow, 1 three-section steel drag, endgate seeder with seed attachment, fanning mill, 2 hole corn sheller, set bob sleighs, wagon box 36 in., 20 ft. galvanized pipe, 2 scythes, 2 scoops, scoop board, 2 sets harness.

Household Goods— Story & Clark organ, Singer sewing machine, 6-hole Majestic steel range, 2 tables, 2 bureaus, 3 rocking chairs, 6 chairs, 1 set chairs, heating stove, cupboard, dishes, 5 iron bedsteads, wooden bedstead, 2 cream cans, washing machine, 3 mattresses.

Terms—Sums of $10 and under Cash; over this amount a credit of 12 months time will be given on approved notes bearing 8 per cent interest.

C. KUSKIE & SONS, Props.
Col. J. J. Wilson, Auct.
P. M. Griesemer, Clerk.

Notice of Probate of Will

STATE OF IOWA, } ss
Hancock County, }

To Whom It May Concern:

Notice is hereby given that an instrument in writing, purporting to be the last will and testament of Charles Schroeder, deceased, was filed in the office of the undersigned on the 25th day of October, A. D. 1909, and that December 6th, 1909, was fixed for hearing proof in relation thereto.

Witness my hand and the Seal of the District Court attached at Garner, in said County, this 25th day of October, A. D., 1909.

(SEAL) O. F. MISSMAN,
Clerk of the District Court,
13-3 Hancock County, Iowa.

RESTAURANT

Russel's Maple Nut Chocolates—Try them and you will buy nothing else.

Get one of our delicious Oyster Stews and you will become a regular customer.

HOME MADE BAKERY GOODS

A. Kirkwood & Son

Ask for a Copy of our folder, just issued, account

NATIONAL

Corn Exposition

to be held for the third consecutive year at

OMAHA, NEBRASKA
December 6 to 18, 1909

The scope of the exposition is much larger this year than in the past and will cover the small grains and grasses as well as corn.

Exhibits from twenty States and the United States Department of Agriculture.

$50,000 in Premiums

A splendid program of addresses on topics pertaining to advanced work in agriculture.

EDUCATIONAL—ENTERTAINING

Information as to fares and copy of folder on request.

Rock Island

T. A. WILLIAMS, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA

IMPORTANT NEWS NOTES OF A WEEK

LATEST HAPPENINGS THE WORLD OVER TOLD IN ITEMIZED FORM.

EVENTS HERE AND THERE

Condensed Into a Few Lines for the Perusal of the Busy Man—Latest Personal Information.

PERSONAL.

Rev. Elwood Worcester of Boston, founder of the Emmanuel healing movement, declares the movement has grown to such an extent and so many ministers are interested that a college at which the teaching of Emmanuel methods shall be the principal feature of the curriculum is demanded.

Dr. Jennie McCowen, president of the Iowa Conference of Charities and Correction, called to order the eleventh annual meeting of that organization in Davenport.

Jose R. Capablanca, the 21-year-old Cuban chess expert, has played 29 opponents simultaneously at New York, defeating 26, losing one game and drawing two.

Samuel Untermeyer, the well-known New York lawyer, has been awarded the prize by the Horticultural society for a chrysanthemum plant 30 feet in circumference and bearing more than 1,000 large and perfect blooms.

Rev. John R. Pratt, pastor of the First Congregational church of Verona, N. J. has been elected mayor of the borough, because no one would run against him, and he is now the busiest man in Verona.

Mrs. Raymond Robins, who is in New York to welcome Mrs. Pankhurst, the English suffragette, said western factory girls are superior physically to those of the east.

Congressman Aiken of South Carolina says he will introduce a bill in the next congress for prohibition in the District of Columbia.

De Witt Clinton Duncan, the well-known Cherokee writer and statesman, is dead at his home in Vinita, Okla., at the age of 75 years. Mr. Duncan wrote many notable articles on Cherokee affairs and poems under the Indian name of "Too-Qua-Stee."

GENERAL NEWS.

Seth Low, former mayor of New York, refused to discuss a report that he was to succeed Whitelaw Reid as ambassador to Great Britain.

William Dobson, cashier of the Canadian Express Company at Niagara Falls, was sandbagged while alone in the company's office at the Grand Trunk station and a package containing $14,156 taken from him by two unknown men in broad daylight.

The British house of commons has passed the third reading of the finance bill by a vote of 379 to 149, the government's majority being much larger than had been anticipated.

A terrific battle between the revolutionists and the Nicaraguan government forces has been fought and the rebels are in possession of Las Lajas, near Los Chiles. Many are reported to have fallen on both sides, Maxim guns being used with terrible effect.

Martin Kaufmann of New York is under arrest at Berlin on the charge of frauds amounting to $107,000 in connection with the Cotton Goods Converter's Company of New York. He was for many years considered one of the most worthy business men of New York.

The twenty-fifth annual national horse show opened in Madison Square garden, New York, with a remarkable display of western draft horses among the exhibits.

It is said that Speaker Cannon is making an effort to purchase the franchise of the South Bend (Ind.) baseball club of the Central league and then transfer it to Danville, Ill., his home.

Twelve miners were killed by a gas explosion in the Cambria Steel Company's coal mine near Johnstown, Pa. All were foreigners.

Judge Marvin of the probate court at Hartford, Conn., announced that he would appoint a conservator for Mrs. Lucinda Treat Goddard, the 70-year-old bride of Charles R. Goddard, a Yale student, who but recently reached his twenty-first birthday.

Leonard Dunmore, a negro, was burned to death by a mob at Knoxville, Miss., and his daughter, who attempted to render him aid, was shot and fatally wounded. The black man was charged with arson.

Problems of city management and betterment were taken up by the American Society of Municipal Improvements which began its sixteenth annual meeting in Little Rock, Ark., James Owen of Montclair, N. J., presiding.

The Central Conference of American Rabbis began an eight days' session in New York. Rabbi David Philipson of Cincinnati is president.

United States Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, addressing the Marquette club of Chicago, vigorously defended himself and the other "insurgent" senators against the attacks of Speaker Cannon.

The Chicago police are searching for E. J. Goshorn, a prominent business man of Charleston, W. Va., who disappeared from his home on October 20 with about $30,000 in his possession. On the day he vanished Goshorn wrote letters to his wife and several confidential acquaintances stating that he had left home never to return.

Theft of a mail pouch, which it is estimated contained between $25,000 and $50,000 in express and post office orders, was revealed through the cashing of several of the stolen orders in Chicago. The rifled bag was discovered by a farmer boy in a cornfield near Tolono, Ill. Scores of secret service men and post office inspectors are searching for the robbers.

Government troops defeated the Nicaraguan revolutionists in a sharp engagement. Many of Gen. Estrada's followers were killed, wounded or captured. The government lost 15 men, including Gen. Castillo Chammoro.

John Stewart Kennedy, one of America's little-known rich men, who recently died of whooping cough in his New York residence, left bequests of more than $25,000,000 to 60 religious, charitable and educational institutions in his will. The gift is the largest single contribution of its kind ever made.

Former President Roosevelt has lost his record as the highest paid author. For the narrative of his hunt in Africa it is generally understood he is to receive a dollar a word, but a comparatively new magazine announces it has contracted to pay Commander Robert E. Peary $1.20 a word for a north pole story of about 50,000 words.

Following the donation of $1,000,000 by John D. Rockefeller to be used in fighting the hook worm disease in the south, Washington officials have received information that two other $1,000,000 donations are likely to be forthcoming very soon—one from Mrs. Russell Sage, to be used in extending the work for the eradication of tuberculosis, the other from Andrew Carnegie, for fighting pellagra.

Jesse James, Jr., son of the famous bandit, now living in Kansas City, has been sued by his wife for divorce. The couple were married in 1900, a few months after James had been acquitted on a charge of robbing a Missouri Pacific train.

Cholera has invaded the German side of the Russian border and the consular agent at Koenigsburg has reported to the state department at Washington 22 cases, including seven deaths, so far.

Mount Vernon, one of New York city's largest suburbs, has adopted the "Des Moines plan" and it will be the first city in New York state to try the commission plan, including the "recall."

Twenty-two persons were killed and 34 seriously injured by automobiles and horse-driven trucks in New York city during October. This is twice as many as in any other month and forms the largest list of casualties resulting from such accidents of of any city in the country for the same time.

All of the original "V. D. B." Lincoln pennies, which aroused such wide interest because of the prominence of Designer Brenner's initials on them and the subsequent change in dies to make the initials less conspicuous, have passed entirely into the public's hands.

Because he spanked a 12-year-old schoolboy with a shingle, Timothy Tripp, a district schoolmaster in the town of Greene, N. Y., was found guilty of assault and sentenced to pay a fine of $20 or serve 20 days in the county jail.

The National Geographic society at Washington has accepted Commander Robert E. Peary's evidence that he reached the north pole, and presented him with a gold medal for accomplishing his achievement.

Attorney Stephen G. Porter filed an appeal in the superior court of Pennsylvania at Pittsburg in behalf of Helen Boyle, asking for a reversal of her sentence of 25 years to the Western penitentiary, inflicted in Mercer recently, after she was convicted of complicity in the kidnaping of Billy Whitla, the son of Attorney James Whitla of Sharon, Pa.

In the Steinheil trial at Paris, a wild scene of disorder was created when a man giving the name of Lefevre arose and loudly proclaimed that he was the slayer of M. Steinheil and Mme. Japy for whose murder the widow of the former is being tried. Not much credence is placed in the man's confession.

IOWA CHARITY CONFERENCE

WARDEN SANDERS TALKS ON "MAKING OF CRIMINALS."

Dr. Jennie McCowen Presides Over the Eleventh Annual Meeting of State Organizations.

Davenport, Ia., Nov. 8.—The Iowa Conference of Charities and Correction began its eleventh annual meeting here today, its three-fold object being to discuss the problem of charity and correction, to improve the methods of dealing with dependents and delinquents and to disseminate information on these subjects. Dr. Jennie McCowen of this city, president of the conference, is presiding over its deliberations.

In a way, the meeting began yesterday, for the pulpits of 11 churches were filled by conference speakers and in the afternoon a mass-meeting was addressed by Warden Sanders of the state penitentiary on "The Making of Criminals." This morning the general sectional sessions began, all being largely attended. Among those on the program for papers are: Miss Marjorie Sutherland of Ida Grove, Miss E. L. Meacham matron of the Cook Home for Old Ladies, of Davenport; Miss Eva Shaw of the Davenport Ladies' Industrial Relief society; R. K. Atkinson, president Tri-City Social Service club; Miss Bessie A. McClenahan of Des Moines; Henry T. Burt of Minneapolis, Dr. Max E. Witte, superintendent of the Clarinda state hospital; Dr. George Mogridge, head of the state institution for the feeble minded; Dr. H. H. Hart of the Russell Sage Foundation, of New York, and others. The conference will close Wednesday.

BETTER CITIES THEIR AIM

Members of American Society of Municipal Improvements Are in Session at Little Rock.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 9.—Hundreds of experts in the management of cities and hundreds of other persons who want to be experts met here today when the sixteenth annual convention of the American Society of Municipal Improvements was called to order by its president, James Owen of Montclair, N. J., in the city hall. Acting Mayor John H. Touhey and H. L. Remmel, president of the board of trade, welcomed the delegates, and the society heard the address of the president and the reports of its officers.

At the second session this afternoon, many committees reported and papers on public parks were read by William Solotaroff of East Orange, N. J., and E. A. Harper of Kansas City, and on water supply by Morris R. Sherrerd of Newark, N. J., and Lucien Buck of Canton, N. C. All kinds of municipal problems will be discussed during the succeeding sessions which will continue until Thursday evening.

The local committees have arranged for a number of entertaining events, the first of which will be a tour of industrial plants tomorrow morning. Friday all the visitors will be entertained in Memphis by the city officials and the Business Men's club.

GREAT MEETING OF FARMERS

National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, is Holding Its Annual Session in Des Moines, Ia.

Des Moines, Ia. Nov. 10—The forty-third annual session of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, convened this morning in the Hotel Savery, Nahum J. Bachelder, the national master, was in the chair and after the roll call he delivered his address. Reports of the officers, committees and state masters followed, this routine business taking up the day's session.

Tomorrow there will be a great farmers' meeting, open to all, with sessions morning, afternoon and evening. Sir Horace Plunkett of Ireland will be present and tell the meeting about the co-operative movement in the Emerald Isle. Other well-known men will speak, among the topics being the department of agriculture at Washington, the agricultural colleges of the middle west, the tariff question. good roads, parcels post and postal savings banks. Friday and Saturday will be devoted to exemplification of the degree work of the order. Sunday memorial services will be held and Monday and the following days will be devoted to the usual work of the Grange.

Twenty-five Hurt in Joplin Wreck.

Joplin Mo., Nov. 6.—Twenty-five persons were injured, three it is believed, seriously, when train No. 408 on the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad was derailed near Granby No one was killed.

Aged Man Burns to Death.

Leon, Ia.. Nov. 6—Samuel Farquhar, an aged man residing in the outskirts of this city, was burned to death in a fire which consumed his home.

If You Were Sure that AN INVESTMENT OF $350.00 would make you independent for life, would you make it? We claim such an investment will make it possible for you to make $5,000.00 a year, and we ask you to give us a chance to prove it.

Investigate now; don't delay; we furnish highest bank references and stand rigid investigation; land deeded as absolute security for your money, so that you can't lose; you can buy on monthly payments; $15 cash and $15 per month. Write at once for particulars.

ALABAMA SUMATRA & HAVANA TOBACCO CO.
1303 Heyworth Building, Chicago, Illinois

Difference That Te

Minutes Make

From 35 degrees to 70 degrees—from an unbearable cold to a glowing heat that contributes the cheery comfort you want in your home is the difference that can be made in 10 minutes when you have the

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

to do your heating. It is unrivaled for quick work—and effective, cleanly work.

Impossible to turn the wick too high or too low—impossib to make it smoke or emit disagreeable odor—the self-locking absolutely prevents smoke. Lighted in a second—cleaned in a minu —burns Nine Hours with one filling. Rustless brass font.

Automatic Smokeless Device

Automatic smokeless device instantly removed for cleaning.

Highest efficiency in heating power—Beautifully finished Japan or Nickel—an ornament anywhere—a necessity everywhe Variety of styles.

Every Dealer Everywhere. If Not At Yours, Write for Descriptive Circular to the Nearest Agency of the

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
(Incorporated)

There is positively no bounds to the utility of

ERUPTIONS POISON IVY BURNS ITCHING ECZEMA NETTLE RASH

RESINOL

ERYSIPELAS ABRASIONS HERPES SCALDS CHAFING RING WORM

for home or family use when soreness of the skin prevails, it first soothes, then heals. A certain cure for itching piles.

RESINOL CHEMICAL COMPANY, BALTIMORE, MD.

Resinol Ointment, Resinol Toilet Soap, Resinol Medicated Shaving Stick are sold at all Drug Stores.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. TRADE MARK

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

LIVE STOCK AND MISCELLANEOUS ELECTROTYPES

In great variety for sale at the lowest prices by WESTERN NEWSPAPER UNION, 554W. Adams St., Chicago

WRIGLEY WRIGLEY WRIGLEY

For Indigestion and Heartburn A-B-C TEA 25cts. All Dealers. 25cts.

Millions Say S

When millions of people use years a medicine it proves its me People who know CASCARE value buy over a million boxe month. It's the biggest seller cause it is the best bowel and li medicine ever made. No ma what you're using, just try C CARETS once—you'll See.

CASCARETS 10c a box for a week's treatment, all druggists. Biggest seller in the world. Million boxes a month

Paper-Hangers & Painte

You can greatly increase your business with tra investment by selling Alfred Peats' P Wallpaper. We want one good worker in vicinity, and to the first worthy applicant will FREE, by prepaid express, five large sa books showing a $250,000.00 Wallpaper for customers to select from. We offer liberal to our representatives. Answer quickly that yo get the agency in your vicinity for 1910. Alfred Peats Co., 144-146 Wabash Ave., Chi

WRIGLEY'

PARKER'S HAIR BALSA
Cleanses and beautifies
Promotes a luxuriant g
Never Fails to Restore G
Hair to its Youthful Col
Cures scalp diseases & hair fall
50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

LIPS THAT WERE SEALED

BY ALMA MARTIN ESTABROOK

PICTURES BY A. WEIL

AUTHOR OF "MY COUSIN PATRICIA"

COPYRIGHT BY J. B. LIPPINCOTT CO

SYNOPSIS.

The story opens with a scene at a box party. Miss Henrietta Winstantley, sister of Bishop Winstanley overheard Hicker Ankony propose to Barbara Hemingray, whose brother Dan was in his employ. Dan was one of the town's popular young men. He showed some nervousness when Attorney Tom Twining told how Barbara refused Ankony. Ankony the following day, summoning Twining, accused Dan of looting the bank. Twining refused to prosecute. Barbara persuaded Ankony to postpone starting prosecution. Twining learned of the engagement of Ankony and Barbara. He congratulated both. He visited Miss Hemingray and found her almost in tears. He told her he had loved her, but hesitated prematurely announcing his affection. By actions alone she told him of reciprocated. Mrs. Anson Dines, wealthy widow, proposed a marriage by proxy with Bishop Winstanley. The latter consulted with Twining. The bishop had been paying attentions to Miss Streeter. Dan consulted Twining, saying his sister was determined to marry Ankony, declaring she actually loved the blacker, though he could not help believing she was making a sacrifice to save him from jail. Miss Winstanley, finding a pressed rose in the bishop's book, suspected a love affair. Mrs. Dines sailed for America. Miss Winstanley informed Twining that Mrs. Dines was intent upon stopping the marriage of Barbara and Ankony. Mrs. Dines arrived and Ankony immediately set about to sail with Barbara for Europe the following day, in order, it seemed, to avoid Mrs. Dines. Mrs. Dines confronted Ankony with evidence of his peculations while attorney for the late Mr. Dines.

CHAPTER X.—Continued.

"I shall not intrude upon you further", she said; "but I desire you to understand that I am prepared to do all that I say I will do in case you do not yield to my stipulation. I have with me the papers which leave no room for doubt as to your guilt. Shall I give them to Mr. Twining, as your attorney?"

"I am the attorney of the company of which Mr. Ankony is the president, madam," I said; "but in no case—"

"It is not worth while," Ankony interrupted.

Mrs. Dines bowed. "My own attorney, Mr. Dean, has examined the papers, and he will tell you—"

"If he has not already done so," Miss Winstanley ventured, as her one little shot.

"That I am able to carry out my plans," Mrs. Dines finished. "But I think you will see the wisdom in following the less aggressive course."

"You leave me no choice in the matter," he said bitterly. "I am the under dog in the fight."

"The under dog is often to blame for the fight," she said, tersely.

She approached the door, and I held it open for her.

"Do you sail alone by the Deutschland, Mr. Ankony?" she asked, turning.

He smiled grimly.

"I shall sail alone," he said.

CHAPTER XI.

Once in the corridor Mrs. Dines put out an unsteady hand to her friend.

"My tablets, Henrietta. It is so annoying to be weak."

"Weak!" echoed Miss Winstanley; "you were magnificent!" She clicked open her bag and produced a small white box, whose lid she quickly slipped, extending it to the suffering lady, while I begged them to come into my office until Mrs. Dines had rested and felt a little recovered. But Mrs. Dines declined.

"We must go to Barbara at once," she said. "Why, the poor child is probably getting into her wedding-gown at this minute. Think of it! Ankony will go to her, of course, with some explanation; but she must have enough of the truth from us to prevent any further mistake."

"And oh, the blessed relief it will be to her!" breathed Miss Winstanley.

"You forget that she may love him," I suggested.

Mrs. Dines spun round on me at that like a huge, laboriously spinning top.

"You think that possible? Gracious heaven, I hope not! I came to bring her happiness, not to break her heart."

"You need have no fear as to that," Miss Winstanley hastened, assuringly. "You have done her a service beyond words. You see, she has been very clever in carrying forward her part of the hideous program which she mapped out, and her cleverness has deceived Mr. Twining. I am willing to stake everything I have that she doesn't love Ankony, and that she does—" She paused, her significant glance full upon me.

Mrs. Dines lifted her brows, and, comprehending suddenly, held out her hand to me with gratifying and unexpected warmth.

"I hope Henrietta is right, Mr. Twining," she said; "I do indeed."

"You cannot hope it as I do," I replied earnestly; "but I have none of her assurance, and a great many doubts."

"We shall see," declared Miss Winstanley blithely.

We went down to the carriage in silence. There we found the Winstanley coachman about to ascend with a telegram which a house servant had just brought, knowing his mistress was to make her first visit to Ankony and hoping to find her there. She climbed into the carriage, opened the message, read it, went so white I was sure she was going to faint, and held it out to me without a word.

I read it with amazement and a conscience that gave me some decided twinges.

"Married!" I exclaimed. "Bishop Winstanley married! And to the Sistine!"

"What!" cried Mrs. Dines; "did I scare him like that?"

Her pallor gave way to a rush of color, and, leaning back, she laughed till her eyes fairly brimmed with tears. There was no attitudinizing about it—done better. Besides, she's prodigious—she was simply overcome with the humor of the situation, and I hoped I knew. Oh, yes, immensely so. My earnestly that the bishop's sister would gradually yield herself to it also. At present she showed no signs of it.

"To Run Away!" She Moaned; "at Charles' Age."

"Get in," she said to me; "we can't discuss it here."

Obeying, we rolled decorously off.

Mrs. Dines' hand went out and covered her friend's.

"My dear, can you ever forgive me for precipitating such a thing as this?" she asked anxiously.

Miss Winstanley shook her head.

"You—you didn't do it," she murmured; "he has been—been carrying pressed roses; I suppose any one else would have known what that meant, but I—dear heaven, how could I believe such a thing?" she wailed. "And to elope—oh, Hannah, think of it. Charles to elope!"

Mrs. Dines' laugh rumbled forth so contagiously that to save me I could not help echoing it softly.

"That's just what I am thinking of, dear," she said. "To think of his imagining that he had to fly from poor me like that! It's so funny! Oh, do try to see how very funny it is, Henrietta," and she sobbed in her enjoyment of the affair.

"It is absurd and unforgivable," said Miss Winstanley austerely.

The large hand tightened over hers, and Mrs. Dines' tones became serious.

"You are not to hold it against him. Promise me that. Take it out of me, but don't spoil his happiness by censuring him. I'm the one to be punished, for anybody can see that the hastening is entirely due to me. I suppose if I had any vanity I'd be getting my punishment right now, but, unfortunately, my sense of the humorous outweighs my vanity and I can only—only—oh, Henrietta, for goodness' sake, laugh!"

A faint—a very faint twinkle lit in Miss Winstanley's hurt eyes.

"It is absurd for him to run away from us like this," she said. "For you know, Hannah, I was arrayed with you."

Her friend nodded warmly, laughter dancing over her face and in and out among the copious chins.

"She is really a charming girl," I put in.

"Who is she, anyway?" asked Mrs. Dines. "To think of my not asking that before!"

"Miss Streeter," said I; "a cousin of Mrs. Jack Ankony."

"Not Cecelia Streeter! You don't tell me! Why, Henrietta, dry your eyes; this match was made in heaven. She was born for the bishopric. Think how she looks the part."

"So I am always reminding Miss Winstanley," I ventured.

"Then that's all she ever does," wailed her sister-in-law miserably.

"Oh, by no means. You greatly misjudge her," Mrs. Dines contended. "She is calm, I grant you, but a bishop's wife should be calm. No, really, since your brother wouldn't have married—I don't know where he could have done better. Besides, she's prodigiously rich, you know. What! You didn't know? Oh, yes, immensely so. My poor little dot looks small beside hers. She doesn't talk about it, but—"

"Does she talk about anything?" I inquired.

Mrs. Dines shot me an amused glance over her friend's head.

"Silence is an excellent qualification for a bishop's wife, I'm sure, Mr. Twining; then she isn't always getting herself and the diocese into trouble. Now, see here, Henrietta, considering her looks and her reserve and her money, surely you might forgive her for letting your brother run off with her."

"It's very good of you to try to cheer me up," Miss Winstanley responded, vaguely.

"And it's downright foolish of you to hold out against so beautiful an arrangement. To my mind this is as admirable a match all round as I have known of in a very long time. So do cheer up and be glad. Don't you agree with me, Mr. Twining?"

"Most heartily, as Miss Winstanley knows," said I.

That little lady was not, however, ready to yield herself at once to the sudden situation.

"To run away!" she moaned; "at Charles' age!"

"But don't you see that it's a great compliment to me?" smiled Mrs. Dines. "Let me get that much out of it, won't you? It shows how much confidence he has in my getting what I—want. You see, he didn't know what brought me to America, and, following on the heels of my proposal to him, it really seemed, you know, that I was coming to marry him, whether or no. You can see for yourself how the poor dear man must have felt. Did he imagine, I wonder, that if everything else failed I should kidnap him? Well, I forgive him even that. And I want you to forgive him, Henrietta. You must. That's a good, sensible sister. And now it's quite time we came back to our mutton. Tell the man to drive us to the Hemingrays', will you, Mr. Twining? If you don't feel up to going in, Henrietta, I'll go alone, but one of us must certainly see Barbara at once."

"Then you may let me down at the Fifteenth street corner of the Square," said I. "I'll get along back to the office."

As the carriage stopped, Miss Winstanley bent forward, looking eagerly after a fast-disappearing figure.

"Isn't that Dan?" she cried. "Can you overtake him? He is the one to take her the word."

I sprang out and caught up with him within the block, although he was swinging along at an uncomfortably brisk gait.

"On your way to the house, are you?" he asked when he saw me. "It must be pretty nearly time for the wedding. I was afraid I couldn't make it in time, but I caught a flyer within the hour after I had Barbara's message."

"Miss Winstanley wants you," I said, nodding to the carriage, that had turned and was bringing up to the curb.

He was surprised to see Mrs. Dines, and greeted her with a boyish affection that must have warmed her heart.

"All on the way to the wedding?" he inquired after he had shaken hands.

"There is to be no wedding, Dan," Miss Winstanley said, gently.

He had paled before she could explain.

"Nothing's wrong with Barbara?" he asked, quickly.

"No, no; everything is just coming right for her. Get in"—with a glance toward the coachman. "We are driving to the house now, and Mrs. Dines will explain to you. Then you must tell Barbara what is to be told. We'll wait outside, and if she wants us we'll come right in. If not you must tell us, and we'll go away again. Don't you—will you—"

"I must tell you good-by," I said.

As I started off across the Square, Miss Winstanley called after me that she would send for me later in the day.

But I was too impatient to await her summons, and four o'clock found me at her door. As I turned in at the steps, the door opened and Dan came out, hurrying down and stopping at sight of me to wring my hand. He was beaming. I had not seen him so much like his old self in months, and it did my heart good. Somehow it also seemed to presage well for me. All his buoyancy had returned, and he was once more the charming, irresistible fellow we all loved.

(TO BE CONCLUDED.)

In Praise of Georgia Grub

Macon Man Waxes Eloquent Over the Excellence of the Eating Common in His Territory.

"Come down in the goober fields of Georgia if you want to know what good eating is," said Mr. James Jackson of Macon, Ga., to a reporter of the Washington Post. "Did you ever eat a possum stuffed with goobers and sweet potatoes, with corn pone and gravy on the side, topped off with ice-cold buttermilk right from the spring-house? If you haven't, you have missed something," declared Mr. Jackson. "You can talk about your canvasback duck, your terrapin, and your turtle soup, if you think that is the finest of fare here, but wait until you eat what I have described. Or try a fat turkey, cooked with chestnuts, like only one of 'before de war' black 'mammies' can prepare it. The goober country in Georgia is the most prosperous and contented anywhere in the south," continued Mr. Jackson. "The people down there are extraordinarily hospitable, and no stranger traveling through the country can possibly get away from the farmers, who will insist that the traveler stop and stay over night to enjoy some of that celebrated eating. When you come that way, if you ever do, I will show you what sure enough 'grub' is."

A Deal That Fell Through.

"Baron Fewcash was rather exacting as to the dot."

"That wasn't what broke the engagement," answered Mr. Cumrox. "I don't object to seeing a young man look out for his interests. But when he applied for a cash advance in order to buy an engagement ring, I must say it struck me as unbusinesslike."

DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION.

Quickly Cures Rheumatic Pains, Also Splendid System Builder.

Go to any good prescription druggist and get the following and mix them: If he does not have these ingredients he will get them from his wholesale house.

One ounce compound syrup of Sarsaparilla, and one ounce Toris compound. Add these to a half pint of first-class whiskey, and use a tablespoonful before each meal and at bed time. The bottle must be well shaken each time. This simple remedy is one of the most effective known. The restorative action will be felt after the first few doses.

A CLOSE BOND.

Farmer's Wife—They were born the same day.

Neighbor—Twins, in fact.

NEW STRENGTH FOR WOMEN'S BACKS.

How to Make a Bad Back Better.

Women who suffer with backache, bearing down pains, dizzy spells and that constant feeling of dullness and tiredness, will find hope in the advice of Mrs. Mary Hinson of 21 Strother St., Mt. Sterling, Ky. "Had I not used Doan's Kidney Pills, I believe I would not be living today," says Mrs. Hinson. "My eyesight was poor, I suffered with nervous, splitting headaches, spots would dance before my eyes and at times I would be so dizzy I would have to grasp something for support. My back was so weak and painful I could hardly bend over to button my shoes and could not get around without suffering severely. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me from the first, and I continued until practically well again."

Remember the name—Doan's. Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

JUST SO.

"Your majesty, there's a creditor without."

"Let him go without."

ECZEMA COVERED HIM.

Itching Torture Was Beyond Words—Slept Only from Sheer Exhaustion—Relieved in 24 Hours and Cured by Cuticura in a Month.

"I am seventy-seven years old, and some years ago I was taken with eczema from head to foot. I was sick for six months and what I suffered tongue could not tell. I could not sleep day or night because of that dreadful itching; when I did sleep it was from sheer exhaustion. I was one mass of irritation; it was even in my scalp. The doctor's medicine seemed to make me worse and I was almost out of my mind. I got a set of the Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent. I used them persistently for twenty-four hours. That night I slept like an infant, the first solid night's sleep I had had for six months. In a month I was cured. W. Harrison Smith, Mt. Kisco, N. Y., Feb. 3, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

Brought Their Relations.

Small Nettie, seeing some large insects on the back porch, asked what they were, and was told that they were ants. The next morning she discovered a number of small ants among the large ones, and exclaimed: "Oh, mamma, the aunts have bringed their little nieces with them to-day!"

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

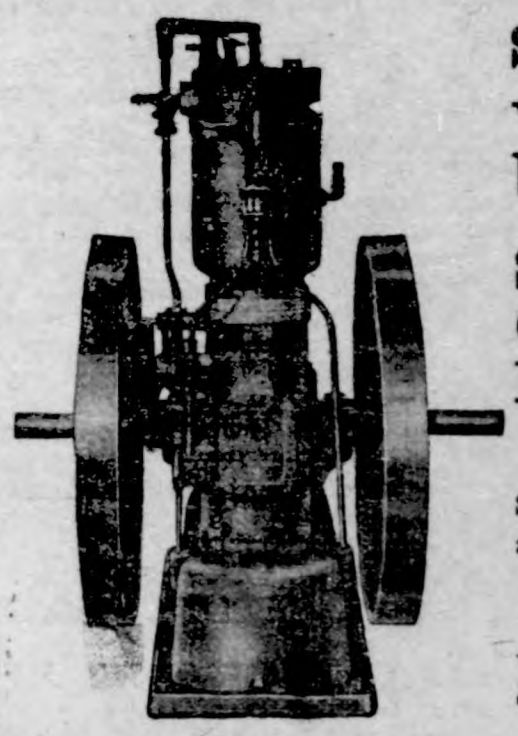
In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Some people's cast-off happiness, like their cast-off clothes, would make some other people very happy.



Save work, worry, money by using a

STOVER GASOLINE ENGINE

Made right—sold right. Send for an illustrated catalog of our

ENGINES

wind mills and feed grinders.

Sandwich Mfg. Co.

Mason City, Iowa — General Agents

The City Dray Line

We wish to announce that we have purchased the dray line from Ell Bros. and ask a continuation of your valued patronage. We will do all hauling entrusted to us promptly and carefully. Give us a trial.

ELL & SONS, Klemme, Iowa

The old story of love is told in a new way in that interesting story about to be published in these columns

One Way of Love

IT is entirely unlike the love story of your imagination. It is a story that will grip the heart of every reader that has experienced the meaning of the word "love." In other words, if a really GOOD story appeals to you, watch for the opening chapter of

One Way of Love

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE TIMES

THE HUNGER FOR LAND

Measures of the Government to Appease the Appetites for Farms.

A Wonderful Exhibit by the Departments of the Interior and Agriculture at the United States Land and Irrigation Exposition at Chicago from Nov. 20th to Dec. 4th.

A debt of gratitude and a vote of thanks will be due the Chicago Tribune from the American people when the United States Land and Irrigation Exposition is over. The inception of this great undertaking was entirely due to the Tribune. The idea originated with the Tribune, and the entire responsibility, financial and otherwise, was assumed by the Tribune.

So timely did this enterprise seem to be that all the great irrigation and other land interests were quickly won and promised their participation and support. The United States government has thought so well of the Tribune's idea that it will be the largest exhibitor.

All the exhibits of the exposition will deal with the idea of establishing American homes upon small farms. All the features of this unique and wonderful show will be pivoted around the idea that the best place for an American family is in a home of its own, and that home a tract of land large enough to maintain the family in any emergency. With our better knowledge of plants and soils and cultural practices a few acres have an astonishing capacity for production. Valuable instruction along these lines will be found by the visitor at the coming exposition, Nov. 20 to Dec. 4, at Chicago's great Coliseum.

Besides the features specially prepared and brought from Washington, the best features of the government's exhibit at Seattle will be installed at Chicago. The reclamation service, the geological survey, the land office, the forestry service, the patent office, the bureau of animal industry, the bureau of plant industry, the weather bureau, the office of experiment stations and the bureau of entomology will all participate in a manner worthy of the govenment of eighty million people.

The value of the government exhibits to the visitor will lie in the fact that they are new and represent the latest thought and development in the various lines which they represent. All will relate to irrigation, drainage, dry farming and to the industries of the farm, especially of the new farms which are being reclaimed from what has long been regarded as waste land.

Kills Her Foe of 20 Years

"The most merciless enemy I had for 20 years," declares Mrs. James Duncan of Haynesville, Me., was dyspepsia. I suffered intensely after eating or drinking and could scarcely sleep. After many remedies had failed and several doctors gave me up I tried Electric Bitters, which cured me completely. Now I can eat anything. I am 70 years old and am overjoyed to get my health and strength back again. For indigestion, loss of appetite, kidney trouble, lame back, female complaints, its unequalled. Only 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Still in the Majority.

Orrin Johnson was swopping weird tales of hard luck on the road with some fellow actors, when he told this one.

One night in a small western city, while waiting for the curtain to rise, Johnson said to one of his company who, with eye glued to the peephole in the drop curtain, was looking at the audience:

"What sort of a house have we got?"

"Well, some of the seats are filled," answer the man behind the peephole, "but we are still in the majority."—Young's Magazine.

Forced Into Exile

Wm. Upchurch of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home. Mountain air, he thought, would cure a frightful lung-racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, death dogging his steps. "Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes, 'and after taking six bottles I am as well as ever." It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for coughs and colds, it dispels hoarseness and sore throat. Cures grip, bronchitis, hemorrhages, asthma croup, whooping cough. 50c and $1.00, trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN, Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOW

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE

Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. ... days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund ... All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines ... detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail ... press. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. ... low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms ... sultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call ... to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men — The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the harmful instruments. Our ... fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the ... causing nervous debility, ... of the nervous system, etc., permanently cur...

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease ... its stages, cured for life. Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, and all ... private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days ... pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon applicati... description of above disease ... effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

JOHN GRIEWE

City Meat Market

Dealer in

All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Headquarters for part of Heinz' Fifty-Seven Varieties, and Pickling Vinegar.

Try these goods; they are fine.

DOCTORS

GEO. ZINN — EDGAR Z...

Office: State Savings Ba...

Phone No. 19

KLEMME - - Iow...

Just Dust it on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.

Physician and Surgeon,
Phone No. 11. Klemme, Io...
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to ... day or night.
Eyes tested. Glasses fitt...

W. R. BLOOM

Buyer and Shipper of

Grain and Live Stock

Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.

Stock wanted 6 days in the week

Pictures

See me when you ... Photogra...

All kinds—inside ... door views. I make a specia... photo postal cards, 75 cents a ... Good work at reasonable prices.

JOE MILLER, KLE...

A Scalded Boy's Shrieks

horrified his grandmother, Mrs Maria Taylor, of Nebo, Ky., who writes that when all thought he would die, Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured him. Infallible for burns, scalds, cuts, corns boils, skin eruptions, chilblains, chapped hands. Soon routs piles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

THE GRAND CANYON IN OIL

The Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone river will be represented in a painting covering 3,000 square feet of surface at the north end of the gallery in the Coliseum during the Land and Irrigation Exposition, which begins Nov. 20. The Yellowstone Park is the mother of several great rivers that are now used for irrigation and the subject is a very fitting one for such an occasion. This will be the largest reproduction of the famous canyon ever shown. Thousands of electric lights will give the effect of water flowing through the canyon and will show in the perspective the living watarfall which in reality is more than one thousand feet high.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.

Graduate Optician,

Garner - - Iowa

☞ Eyes Tested Free.

Col. J. J. Wils...

MESERVEY, IOWA

LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEE...

Dates made at either bank in K... me, Iowa. Terms reasonable...

J. E. BAUMGARTNE...

The Tonsorial Artist

Will give you an easy shave or a hair cut.

2nd door west of State Savings B...

☞ Call in...

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 16 KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 18. 1909. $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

The C. F. RALSTON Closing Out Sale!

FRIDAY, NOV. 26. '09

Commencing at 10 o'clock a. m. sharp.

7 head of Horses
38 head of Cattle
15 Duroc Jersey Brood Sows
1200 bushels of corn in crib
35 acres stock feed with 80 acres range
10 tons of good hay
Machinery

Terms—One year's time at 8 per cent. Under $10 Cash.

Are You Satisfied

with what you have to show for last year's hard work? You are a year older, why not be a year wiser?

Start that savings account today. NOW IS THE TIME. It will make you happy and every dollar added to it makes you a happier man and a better citizen.

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

A CONVINCER

The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.
We claim for our lumber and building material that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.
May we figure on your next lumber bill?

J. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

IOWA PATENTS

Patents issued to Iowa inventors during the week were:

H. F. Cook, Lake Mills—Window shade and lace curtain support.

M. J. Frambach, assignor of one half to E. F. Broders, Hartley—Anti-slipping attachment for tires.

W. Hopper, Jefferson—Windmill tower.

L. and D. Moeller, Andrew—Lock bolt.

A. H. Neller and W. Louden, Fairfield—Supporting device for overhead tracks.

C. E. Olden, Mason City—Clay gathering machine.

T. R. Stam, West Union—Trolley head.

V. Willimack, Lost Nation—Sharpener for lawn mower cutters.

Notice of Appointment of Administrator

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been duly appointed and qualified as Administrator of the Estate of August H. Wenz, late of Hancock County, State of Iowa, deceased. All persons indebted to the estate are requested to make immediate payment; and those having claims against the same will present them, duly authenticated, to the undersigned, for allowance.

Dated at Garner, Iowa, November 12th, A. D. 1909.

GEO. H. WESSEL, Administrator.
163 J. E. WICHMAN, Attorney.

Opera House, November 23rd.

THE affairs of the First National Bank are under Government supervision, which is so rigid that the word NATIONAL is a synonym for safety. You are privileged to draw your money or any portion of it at any time you desire if you have an account at

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

WHEN IN NEED OF A

New Suit or Overcoat

Come to Garner. We have a large stock to select from and can save you Money.

Men's Suits

In green, brown, greys, black and brown etc. mixtures
Prices $4 98 $5.50 $6.00 $6.50 $7.00 $8.00 $8.98 $9 98

In our better grade of Suits—Prices—
$10 00 $11.50 $12 00 $12 50 $13 00 $14.00 and $15.00

Men's Overcoats

In greys, green, brown, fancy weaves with auto collars
Prices—$5 $5.50 $6 $6.50 $7, $8 $8.50 $9.50
Extra good value at 7.50

We carry a large stock of Boys' Clothing

Boys' Suits

In green, brown, black, blue, etc. Prices from $1.98 up to $5.00

Boys' Overcoats

In many different shades and patterns
$1 48 $1.98 $2.25, $2.50 $2.98 $3 25 up to.....$5.00

Sweater Coats

in brown, green, grey, white, black, etc, prices 48c up to $3.00.
Fleece lined Underwear, regular 50c value, our price 45c

When in Garner step in and try one of our models on whether you buy or not.....

M. A. McCARTHY

Garner's One Price Clothier

F. E. Walsh, Mgr.

—Remember your money is never our money until you are perfectly satisfied—

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, - - - - IOWA

IMPORTANT NEWS NOTES OF A WEEK

LATEST HAPPENINGS THE WORLD OVER TOLD IN ITEMIZED FORM.

EVENTS HERE AND THERE

Condensed Into a Few Lines for the Perusal of the Busy Man—Latest Personal Information.

PERSONAL.

Senator Aldrich in an address before the bankers of Des Moines declared that if a central bank of the United States should ever come it must be the servant and not the master of existing financial institutions.

Commissioner Henry W. West of the District of Columbia has sent his resignation to the president. Mr. West was appointed seven years ago by President Roosevelt. He resigns to resume newspaper work in Washington.

W. Cameron Forbes has assumed the office of governor general of the Philippines. The formal inauguration will take place November 24.

James J. Corbett, a bricklayer and former Bostonian, who when last heard from was seeking employment at Pittsburg, Pa., is heir to $250,000, which will be turned over to him when he puts in an appearance at Boston.

Charles P. Taft, brother of the president, has purchased a rare portrait, probably the finest of its kind in the world, in Limoges enamel, for which it is understood he paid $100,000. It is a portrait of the duke of Nevers, by Limousin, a sixteenth century artist.

Franklin Taylor, who ran for municipal judge in the New York election and lost, filed an expense account of $832.23, accompanied by the remark that "A fool and his money are soon parted."

Mrs. Sarah T. Rorer, the well-known culinary expert, shocked the Mothers' club of New York by declaring that men were not fit to bring up their own sons.

Gen. Thomas H. Hubbard has been elected president of the Lincoln University Endowment association, to succeed the late Gen. O. O. Howard.

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, as president of the National Conservation association, authorizes a statement on the danger of the monopolistic control of water power and coal lands, which is declared to be urgent.

Rev. Harry E. Woodcock, who was ordained as a minister of the Congregational church in 1848, celebrated his ninety-third birthday in Kansas City by preaching a sermon.

GENERAL NEWS.

The national apple show opened in Spokane, Wash., with exhibits from commercial orchards in all parts of the northwest and a prize list of $25,000.

Advocates of an inland waterway from the Mississippi to the Apalachicola and thence across the Florida penisula to the Atlantic met in convention in Jacksonville, Fla.

A Cairo (Ill.) mob lynched Will James (negro) the confessed slayer of Miss Anna Pelley, and Henry Salzner, (white) a photographer accused of the murder of his wife. James confessed his crime implicating another colored man named Arthur Alexander. The rope by which James was strung up broke and he was then shot to death. Later his body was burned on a pyre built by his slayers. Salzner was hanged afterwards and a search for Alexander instituted. Gov. Deneen ordered several companies of state militia to the scene.

The American Federation of Labor in convention at Toronto, Ont., has gone on record as favoring trade schools in connection with the public school system.

Mrs. Jeannette Ford-Stewart, accused by C. L. Warriner, the defaulting Cincinnati treasurer of the Big Four Railroad Company, denies that she shared in his peculations by blackmailing him, and declares she will tell the whole story in court. She says her tale will disclose some sensational facts.

President Taft, in a speech at Richmond, Va., outlined his annual message to congress and put reclamation and irrigation first in importance, with anti-trust, interstate commerce and postal savings banks following.

The Kansas board of health has issued a decree against the roller towel, and that feature of the country hotel will have to go in Kansas.

The National Municipal league and the American Civic association began their annual meetings in Cincinnati with a joint session at which addresses were made by Charles J. Bonaparte and J. Horace McFarland, presidents of the organizations.

Fragmentary reports received at Kingston, Jamaica, from the countryside show that the damage to railroads, plantations and telegraph lines by a hurricane is very heavy. In and around Kingston the property loss is estimated at $500,000.

Arthur Alexander, the negro whom William James, the black man lynched at Cairo, Ill., implicated in the murder of Miss Anna Pelley, was taken to Kankakee by a strong guard of soldiers and safely lodged in jail there. Cairo is under martial law but the mob spirit there is apparently broken.

Ransom R. Cable, one of the builders of the Rock Island Railway system, is dead at the home of his son, Benjamin F. Cable of Chicago, after a brief illness. He was 75 years of age.

Clara Brodenberger, an 18-year-old girl, told the Chicago police that her mother, who is now confined in an insane asylum, shot and killed her husband, Henry Brodenberger, a jeweler of Madison, Wis., three years ago because she was jealous of him. This clears up a case that has mystified the police for years.

James F. Bendernagel, for many years general superintendent of the Williamsburg Sugar Refinery Company, was arrested and indicted at New York, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government by false weighing of sugar. He was released on $5,000 bail.

President Taft delivered an address at the installation ceremonies of making Dr. William Arnold Shanklin president of Wesleyan university, at Middletown, Conn.

Driven to bay by an armed mob, Earl Bullock, the 17-year-old bandit of Lawrence, Kan., held up the Endora (Kan.) State bank for the second time. He shot Fred Starr, a patron of the bank and snatching $800, fled. A mob pursued him and when capture was inevitable Bullock fired a bullet into his own head and will probably die. He was accompanied by William McKay, aged 15 years, who was jailed. Less than a month ago Bullock robbed the same bank of nearly $1,000 and when Policeman Wilson Pringle undertook to arrest him, the youthful robber shot and killed the officer.

Mrs. Isabella G. McCosh, widow of the late Dr. James McCosh, who was president of Princeton college from 1868 to 1888, died at her home at Princeton, N. J. She was the mother of Dr. Andrew McCosh, who was killed in a runaway accident in New York last year.

Gustav H. Schwab of the Merchants' association of New York, announced that in the near future he will resign from the chairmanship of the executive committee of the National Council of Commerce owing to pressure of business.

Directum, 2:05¼, who set a world's record for four-year-old trotters in 1893 on the Nashville track, died at Savage, Minn. Death was due to blood poisoning. M. W. Savage purchased Directum, who was 21 years old, in 1898 for $20,000.

That Samuel L. Clemens is the greatest living literary man was the opinion voiced by Prof. Brander Matthews of Columbia university during his fourth lecture on "Moliere" at the Cincinnati university. This opinion was called forth by a series of questions from one of the students in the audience.

Because his wife would not get up and prepare his breakfast as quickly as he thought she should Steve Wasmenski of Paterson, N. J., set fire to the bed on which she lay and nearly made himself a widower.

After 48 years of active service in the United States army, Maj. Gen. John F. Weston, commander of the department of California, has retired, having passed the age limit.

The grand encampment of Illinois Odd Fellows began in Springfield.

Thomas J. Hall, aged 17, the son of a Louisville furniture dealer, entered the Merchants' National bank at New Albany, Ind., and in an attempt to hold up the institution shot and killed J. H. Fawcett, the cashier, and seriously wounded President J. K. Woodward. In attempting to escape young Hall shot and mortally injured a colored chauffeur when the latter failed to start his automobile. The youthful robber was captured on the Kentucky side of the river after an exciting chase and only escaped the vengeance of a mob by a ruse on the part of the sheriff.

Deputy United States Attorney General Stimson at New York is making preparations to push criminal proceedings against the sugar trust which, it is charged, has stolen $30,000,000 from the United States treasury through underweighing importations in the last 20 years.

Seven persons were injured, some probably fatally, in a wreck on the Missouri, Oklahoma & Gulf railroad, five miles south of Henryetta, Okla. Two passenger coaches left the track and turned over.

DIE IN MINE FIRE

Many Perished in Flames Which Followed Explosion.

FIVE HUNDRED MEN AT WORK

Fifty Miners Went Home and Twenty-five Escaped After Explosion—Little Hope for Entombed Men in Horrible Disaster.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 15.—Mine officials of the St. Paul Coal company, after an explosion which occurred Saturday, say that 400 men are dead in the mine. Twelve bodies have been taken out. Six of these were heroes, not employed in the mine, who gave their lives in a futile effort to save the imprisoned workers.

Mine Superintendent James Steele declared five hours after the explosion that it was almost impossible that any of the miners could escape. The mine has a day shift of 484 men. Of these fifty left the mine at noon. Twenty-five are known to have escaped after the fire broke out. The others are believed to be dead.

The entrance to the mine has been sealed in the hope of checking the flames. The building above the pit entrance was blown up to permit this.

The fire causing the explosion, which may prove one of the greatest tragedies in the list of mine horrors, had an origin most trivial. A pile of hay allowed to smolder too long, finally ignited the timbers of the mine and before the workers realized their danger the mine was filled with smoke, gases and flames, and all exit was impossible.

Heroism such as is rarely exhibited, was shown by officials of the mine and residents of the town of Cherry. These men, who were outside the mine when the fire originated, contributed five to the list of twelve known dead. Alexander Herberg, a pitman, gave his life in a futile effort to save those of his comrades who risked their lives with him.

Standing at the bottom of the shaft he carried the bodies of four men into the cage, the only way of escape; as the last was carried in, he fell unconscious across the body. He was dead, as were all his companions, when the cage had been lifted to the top. Those who had gone into the pit with him were John Bundy, the mine superintendent, John Flood and Isaac Lewis, merchants of Cherry, and Dominic Fonenti.

KANSAS TOWN DESTROYED

Shook Hit by Cyclone, But No Lives Were Lost—Storms in Michigan and Elsewhere.

Wichita, Kan., Nov. 15.—With the restoration of the telegraphic communication it was learned that the town of Shook, a small station on the Missouri Pacific railway forty miles southwest of here, was practically destroyed by a tornado. The depot was demolished and the general stores and a grain elevator were blown from their foundations. No lives were lost.

In Europe Also.

Berlin, Nov. 15.—Hurricane-like winds have raged in northern Europe winds have raged in northern Europe. There has been some loss of life. In this city many buildings in the course of construction were blown down while others were unroofed. There was one fatality and several persons were injured here.

Cape Haytien, Nov. 15.—No news has been received of the effect of the storm at Port de Paid. That place is stil isolated. Heavy seas are still running on the coast and the storm, while its severity has decreased, is continuing.

Port Au Prince, Hayti, Nov. 15—The hurricane that has swept over Hayti has wrought immense damage, the extent of which it is as yet impossible to determine, but up to the present time no news has been received here of any serious loss of life.

Intelligence received here from Gonaives describes great property losses, but makes no mention of loss of life.

Deep Michigan Snow.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 15.—Eight inches of snow fell on the Keweena peninsula. Deer hunters are flocking into the woods while on Lake Superior all vessels are seeking shelter.

Many Bridges Went Out.

Mason City, Ia., Nov. 15.—The hardest rain of the season occurred here Saturday. All small streams are out of their banks, and many bridges are gone in the county. A concrete arch bridge under construction here was damaged.

Texas Drought Broken.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 15.—A drouth of several months' duration has been broken by snow and rain. The heaviest rain in two years fell in western Texas.

POOR WITNESS FOR FRIEND

Deacon's Brief Emphatic Testimony Probably Somewhat Impressed the Jury.

Deacon Stephen Potter, one of the pioneers of Utica, N. Y., was a man of great eccentricity but high moral character. The deacon will speak the truth and shame the devil," was often said of him.

On one occasion a friend was engaged in a lawsuit in regard to some land a few miles from Utica. He held the land at a high price. During the trial he called Deacon Potter as a witness, to prove how valuable the land was. The deacon was sworn and asked if he knew the land.

"Yes," he replied, "I know every foot of it."

"What do you think it is worth, Mr Potter?" was the next question.

The old man paused a moment and then said, slowly: "If I had as many dollars—as my yoke of oxen—could draw—on a sled—on glazed ice—I vow—I would not give—a dollar an acre for it!"—Youth's Companion.

Taking Care of Yourself.

There never was a time when people paid as much attention to their health and strength as they do now. Time was when fine stock and fine horses were fed more carefully than human beings.

The result of properly balanced rations has worked wonders with stock and recent experiments are proving that the same thing is true of mankind.

It has been found that Quaker Oats eaten often and regularly taking the place of heavy, greasy foods will work wonders in the health and strength of a family.

School children fed frequently on Quaker Oats thrive physically and are always capable of the best work at school. For athletes, laborers, it is the best food.. One of the attractive features of Quaker Oats is the perfect way it is packed. Besides the regular size package there is the large size family package. 10

The Dollar Sign.

When it came time for Mrs. Bluffer to pack her trunk and depart from the resort where she had spent many pleasant days, where she had been the cynosure of all eyes, where she had flirted and gossipped (and been gossiped about), she visited the proprietor.

"I've just received a check for $50 from my husband," she told him. "You will honor it, won't you?"

The proprietor bowed and rubbed his hands.

"My dear Mrs. Bluffer," he ventured. "I will not only honor it, but will fall down and worship it."

Suspicious.

The father of Judge W. H. Wadhams had a chicken-coop and a dog and a stable hand. It began to look to Mr. Wadhams as though some one had discovered the combination. So he kept the coop and the stable hand, but he got a new dog. Next day the bent old negro who groomed the Wadhams' horses came to him. "You los' you affection foh me, boss?" he asked. "No, Scipio," said Mr. Wadhams. "I like you as well as ever." "Then," said Scipio, peevishly, "w'yn't you tie Old Rover in de chicken-coop, 'stid of dat new dorg?"

Chloroform Zoo Animals.

The practice of cutting the claws of the more ferocious animals of the London zoological garden has recently been greatly facilitated by chloroforming the animals. Heretofore it was done by sheer force by a squad of men, the animal being first secured by ropes.

CAREFUL DOCTOR

Prescribed Change of Food Instead of Drugs.

It takes considerable courage for a doctor to deliberately prescribe only food for a despairing patient, instead of resorting to the usual list of medicines.

There are some truly scientific physicians among the present generation who recognize and treat conditions as they are and should be treated regardless of the value to their pockets. Here's an instance:

"Four years ago I was taken with severe gastritis and nothing would stay on my stomach, so that I was on the verge of starvation.

"I heard of a doctor who has a summer cottage near me—a specialist from N. Y., and as a last hope, sent for him.

"After he examined me carefully he advised me to try a small quantity of Grape-Nuts at first, then as my stomach became stronged to eat more.

"I kept at it, and gradually got so I could eat and digest three teaspoonfuls. Then I began to have color in my face, memory became clear, where before everything seemed a blank. My limbs got stronger, and I could walk. So I steadily recovered.

"Now, after a year on Grape-Nuts I weigh 153 lbs. My people were surprised at the way I grew fleshy and strong on this food."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

"There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

GOING UP!

City ways were not altoget to him, but, as he waited at t tor shaft, in one of Omaha's fice buildings, he said to panions.

"Well, I'll be hanged if tha beater."

"Why, what?"

"Just look at that confound road advertising on an Omah tor—UP! What won't they d

His companion replied, "Sh— those letters mean 'up.'"

When I see that word, thi always comes to my mind:

'Whenever the little word see,
Think of Safety, Speed, Ser U. P.'

You will see that word at every passenger elevator in t try, but before you leave for th be sure to buy your ticket v Safe Road to Travel."

MAID FOUND A FEW T

As a Result, Brooklyn Woma Home to Make a Few Rem to Hubby.

Irving Berlin, the author Wife's Gone to the Country," a recent dinner in New York.

"A true happening was the tion of this song.

"In July a Brooklyn woman for Ocean Grove, and on her discovered that her watch, a s fair, was missing. She thou had probably dropped on the soft dining-room rug, so she w the maid at home:

"'Let me know if you find a on rug in dining-room.'

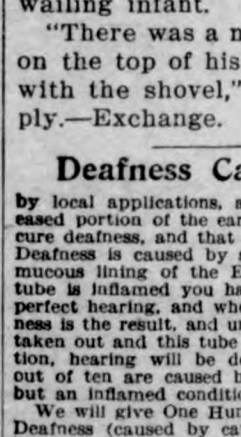
"A few days later she got the maid a letter saying:

"'Dear Madam: I was to know if I found anything on t ing-room rug. This is what I this morning: Three champagne 18 cigar butts, five cigarette end blue chips, 36 burnt matches a pink satin slipper.'"

A GREAT ANNOYANCE.

Kidney Disease Chows Many and Unpleasant Symptoms.

George S. Crowell, 1109 Bro Helena, Mont., says: "I was t with a diso condition of t neys, some ba and irregular ages of secreti times I was o to get up out at night, an urine was unn in appearance. advice of a fr procured Doan's Kidney Pills began using them. This remedy h me at once, strengthened my ki and corrected the disordered tion."



Remember the name—Doan's. by all dealers. 50 cents a box. F Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

A Hero.

Tommy's mother had made h present of a toy shovel and sen out in the sand lot to play wit baby brother. "Take care of now, Tommy, and don't let an hurt him," was mamma's partin junction.

Presently screams of anguish baby sent the distracted parent to the sand lot. "For goodness' Tommy, what has happened to baby?" said she, trying to sooth wailing infant.

"There was a naughty fly bitin on the top of his head, and I kil with the shovel," was the prou ply.—Exchange.

Deafness Cannot Be Cur

by local applications, as they cannot reach eased portion of the ear. There is only one cure deafness, and that is by constitutional r Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. Wh tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound perfect hearing, and when it is entirely close ness is the result, and unless the inflammation taken out and this tube restored to its norma tion, hearing will be destroyed forever; nin out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is but an inflamed condition of the mucous sur

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot b by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars. fr F. J. CHENEY & CO., To

Sold by Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Beautiful Structures Dreams Rea

Every beautiful structure is dream of the architect. St. Pau but a dream of Christopher Without the dreamers the world be a dull place. Dreamers lif out of the darkness of barbaris ignorance and placed it in the light of civilization and knowled

FOR DEEP-SEATED COLDS and Allen's Lung Balsam cures when all other re fail. This old reliable medicine has been s over 40 years. 25c, 50c, $1.00 bottles. All deale

Crude.

"This is crude," said John D. tasted oil in the milk.—Cornell W

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup For children teething, softens the gums, red lammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c

The average man is satisfied his past if it is past finding out.

Nothing so good as the new BLUE. Delights the laundress. Imitations.

It's a lot easier for a child herit red hair than brains

LIPS THAT WERE SEALED

BY ALMA MARTIN ESTABROOK

PICTURES BY A. WEIL

AUTHOR OF "MY COUSIN PATRICIA"

COPYRIGHT BY J. B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

SYNOPSIS.

The story opens with a scene at a box party. Miss Henrietta Winstantley, sister of Bishop Winstanley overheard Banker Ankony propose to Barbara Hemingray, whose brother Dan was in his employ. Dan was one of the town's popular young men. He showed some nervousness when Attorney Tom Twining told him Barbara refused Ankony. Ankony the following day, summoning Twining, accused Dan of looting the bank. Twining refused to prosecute. Barbara persuaded Ankony to postpone starting prosecution. Twining learned of the engagement of Ankony and Barbara. He congratulated both. He visited Miss Hemingray and found her almost in tears. He told her he had loved her, but feared prematurely announcing his affection. By actions alone she told him she reciprocated. Mrs. Anson Dines, wealthy widow, proposed a marriage by proxy with Bishop Winstanley. The latter consulted with Twining. The bishop had been paying attentions to Miss Streeter. Dan consulted Twining, saying his sister was determined to marry Ankony, declaring she actually loved the banker, though he could not help believing she was making a sacrifice to save him from jail. Miss Winstanley, finding a pressed rose in the bishop's book, suspected a love affair. Mrs. Dines sailed for America. Miss Winstanley informed Twining that Mrs. Dines was intent upon stopping the marriage of Barbara and Ankony. Mrs. Dines arrived and Ankony immediately set about to sail with Barbara for Europe the following day, in order, it seemed, to avoid Mrs. Dines. Mrs. Dines confronted Ankony with evidence of his peculations while attorney for the late Mr. Dines. She told him that if he persisted in marrying Barbara that day that she would prosecute him. Finally he agreed to her proposition that he should give up Barbara as the price of Mrs. Dines' silence. Ankony notified Barbara of the necessity for breaking the engagement. Dan was informed also.

CHAPTER XI.—Continued.

"Everything's all right at last, Tom," he cried. "I don't deserve it, but I'm down on my knees giving thanks for it, just the same, and if ever—" he lowered his voice, looking over my shoulder at some one who was approaching—"if ever I get any of you into such a muss again, may I be hanged! Oh, it's been awful! You'll never know. But it's over, thank God! And now it's up to me to make good. And that's what I'm going to do, old man. Who is this confounded fellow coming? I wanted to talk with you a minute, but I'll look in after dinner, if you're to be at home. There's a deal to tell you," and he was off.

An ecclesiastical-looking gentleman mounted the steps with me, inquiring for the bishop, while I went in to Miss Winstanley.

She was flushed and smiling and bright-eyed.

"Did you think I had forgotten you? Bless you, no. But there has been so much to do. We only left Barbara, poor child, an hour ago. There were messages to be sent for her, orders to countermand, and—"

"Then she isn't going with him?" I broke in.

"Oh, did you think—is it possible you gave her credit for so little—"

"If she loved him—"

She caught me up sharply. "Of course she didn't love him. I always told you that, but you would go on in your stubborn unbelief in my intuitions, you foolish, foolish fellow. My, but she was gallant, though! She had me almost bewildered at first; but the moment she found that she could have done with all pretense and that her fancied obligation to Ankony was at an end, then how she changed! It was pitiful to see her. One understood the terrific strain she has been under. I'm not pretending to say whether or not she cares for you, Mr. Twining—that's for you to find out for yourself, you know—but I think it is only fair to tell you that she never has cared for Ankony."

"Thank God!" I devoutly murmured.

She patted my arm and made funny little dabs at her eyes with a dot of a handkerchief.

"She is going out of town to stay with some friends until the storm of the broken engagement has blown over, she told me. They go to-morrow, she and Dan. He will stay with her a fortnight, until she is a little recovered, for in spite of her wonderful courage and poise, she is tremendously undone by all this."

"And is there nothing—"

"Nothing just yet," she smiled. "Now let me tell you what Dan and I are going to do. You remember that I have some undeveloped mining property in Montana. Experts have given me a good deal of encouragement over it, but I have been waiting to find just the right man to put at the head of the work. And now Dan is to undertake it. Oh"—at my glance—"it isn't a philanthropic scheme. The boy will give me excellent service. If it is a good thing for him, it's a better thing for me. And I'm to go out with him to launch the enterprise. I've no notion of being in the way when my brother and his wife return."

"But your brother can't do without you. You will always be as necessary to him as his wife."

"Later, perhaps, but not just at first," she said. "We don't know much about honeymoons, you and I, Mr. Twining; but I'm sure you'll agree with me that no man wants even his beloved sister underfoot at that time. So Dan and I are off in a fortnight."

"Good!" I approved; "and if things don't go well with me I'll come along. May I?"

CHAPTER XII.

Barbara was away several weeks, and then one day Mrs. Dines, meeting me on the street, told me that she had come back to town and that she was well and entirely recovered from the effects of the unfortunate publicity of her broken engagement.

I went to see her that evening. It was just after dinner, and the maid told me that Miss Hemingray was going out, but that she would ask if she would see me for a few minutes.

As we stood talking, Barbara came down the stairs. She wore a rather scrumptious gown of white—one from her trousseau, I imagine, and the hope went over me that it might yet fulfill the purpose for which it had been designed. Her cloak was white too—a velvety thing that I had not seen before. It became her wonderfully, with its bewitching folds and curves and richness. And her brown head, lifting itself with all its charming poise above the new loveliness, thrilled me while the eyes that looked down on me were more like the eyes of the Barbara I loved than they had been for a very long time.

"Oh, you!" she exclaimed, from the landing where she paused an instant at sight of me.

"Going out?" I asked, lightly, as if I were not dazzled and palpitant.

"To a very small affair at the Averills'. Why not come along?"

"Because I'm not asked. But you will give me a minute before you go?" I pleaded.

She glanced at the hall clock.

"Yes, I think so. Hord Averill is coming for me, but it isn't time for him yet."

"Annie," said I to the maid, "if Mr. Averill arrives, show him into the drawing-room and let him wait."

"You are very urgent," Barbara said, with a rather uncertain smile.

I held open the library door and she entered. She did not sit, but stood half turning to me, leaning against the corner of the table near the fire place, where a low fire burned. I had never seen her half so lovely, nor so adorable.

"We have abused our friendship and treated it shamefully," I said at once, "and now perhaps I am about to maroon it; but I must take the chance. Forgive me if I have come too soon, dear, but I can wait no longer. I must know—now that you are free to tell me—whether I can ever hope that you will care for me."

"Do you know all that has happened?" she asked. She was as white as her gown, and her eyes only half lifted to mine.

"Yes, Barbara. Don't mind, dear. Part of it I guessed and the other part had to be told me. But I am glad that there is nothing for you to tell me—nothing but the one thing I am so eager to hear. Yon won't keep me waiting any longer, will you?"

"After all that has happened you still want me for—your—"

"More than ever; a thousand times more than ever!" I cried.

"I don't understand how you can," she said. She turned her face from me, leaning heavily on the table, the soft firelight over her. "Could you ever be sure of me? I have deceived you so long."

"You must deceive neither yourself nor me now," I said, seriously. "I want the truth, whatever that is. Be honest. Don't try to be kind to me. You have had to make pretense so long. Think only of yourself now."

I waited for her reply, but it was long in coming, so long that my heart sank.

"If I am to be honest," she began, "I must tell you that—that—"

"Yes? Don't be afraid, dear."

"My Waiting Is Over," I Breathed.

"That it would be foolish—foolish for me to—to try to—to care for you, for I—"

"Don't try to go on," I cried. "I see. I have been a fool to expect it."

A little sound of pain escaped her.

I pulled myself together with an effort.

"You mustn't worry," I said, dully. "I can't blame you, heaven knows! I wouldn't have you come to me unless you love me, you know that. And I would rather go on—alone—than have you give yourself to me through pity."

"Oh, yes, yes!" she cried.

I stared into the fire. I had thonght I was prepared!

Presently she began to speak again: "Won't you let me finish, please? I—I want you to understand. It would be foolish for me to—to try to care for you, because—because—"

"Oh, don't try to ease it for me!" I broke in. "I must learn to bear it. Forgive me for being so long getting myself in hand. You're not to blame yourself, dear. You never gave me any reason to hope, but I did. I told myself that I didn't, but I did—even when I thought Ankony was going to carry you off the next day. I still hoped. It seemed to me that heaven meant you should belong to me, and that I must have you. But there, there! don't look at me like that, and don't—"

"I am going to finish," she said, resolutely. "Let me go on."

"I wish you wouldn't," I urged.

She sat down, bending to the fire. I could not see her eyes, but I knew they were misty, and the softness of her voice was indescribable.

"I couldn't try to care for you because—because I have been—have been fighting for months—to—to quit caring. Oh, why—why will you be so dense?"

"Barbara!" I cried, bending over her.

She put up a futile little hand between us, but I laughed in the rapture of the moment and caught her in my arms.

"Wait," she pleaded.

"My waiting is over!" I breathed. "Oh, look at me, dear one, and let me have the testimony of your eyes. I'm afraid of your lips."

"Foolish!" whispered she, lifting her eyes to mine. And then: "But oh, you are—Tom, Tom! you are crushing my beautiful new gown, and it—it did cost such a pile," with a little breathless laugh.

"There will be plenty of other gowns," I exclaimed, "but never another moment quite like this."

The fire did its best to be up to the situation; it crackled in a sudden noisy glee and threw enchanting shadows over Barbara's head as I looked down on it. Dan's rheumatic old spaniel, who haunted the library, awoke from his nap in the corner at the moment and, coming to stretch himself on the hearth-rug, observed something unusual going on, and, looking up inquiringly, brushed against Barbara's skirts to attract her attention.

The maid's light steps passed down the hall and I heard the outer door open and a man's voice in the vestibule.

"It's Averill," I said. "I shan't so much mind having to give you up to him now."

But he did not seem to enter into the moment with her.

"Oh, it has been so hard," she whispered, a little half sob breaking the sweetness of her voice. "There were times when I thought I should never, never be able to stand it," and I felt her shiver in my arms.

"I know, my brave one," I whispered back; "I know."

She lifted her head a moment later and looked at me, and my heart bowed beneath the shining of her eyes and the tremulous beauty of her dear face.

"But it doesn't matter now. Nothing matters now," she said, thrillingly.

(THE END.)

MANY WORKED ON WIRELESS

As Far Back as 1853 Lord Kelvin Was Experimenting with the Principle.

Wireless telegraphy has many discoverers. As has been so often the case in any branch of physics, whether pure or applied, the name of Lord Kelvin is associated with the discovery. In 1853 he gave forth the theory of oscillation. In 1865 Maxwell propounded the theory of electrical waves, and in 1888 Hertz practically discovered them. Sir Oliver Lodge was looking for the waves at the same time, and was successful in finding them running along wires in the same year that Hertz discovered them going through space. In 1890 he was able to take a further step, developing the receiving arrangements for the detection of these waves by means of the principle which he decided to call syntony.

At the same time another word, coherer, was added to the language. In 1894 he was able to give a demonstration before the British association of signaling across space without wires, and about the same time he published a book.

In 1895 Admiral Popoff of the Russian navy and Capt. Jackson of the English navy carried the idea a little further, and then in 1896 Marconi took up the matter with great success.

A Fruitful Potato Plant.

Not satisfied with yielding an enormous output in the regular way, an Irish potato vine growing in the garden of C. C. Nall at Luthersville, Ga., some time ago began to put out potatoes all along its branches, and when sent to the Constitution office the other day, had potatoes as large as eggs growing practically all over the vine.

In a letter accompanying the freak Mr. Nall states that the vine grew in his garden, where the land is a mixture of sand and red clay. On taking up the plant, he found that the industrious vine had not neglected its regular duty while pulling off its unusual stunt, as proven by the fact that an unusually large number of potatoes were found in their accustomed place in the ground.—Atlanta Constitution.

Mrs. Ferguson (trying on another spring hat)—George, what do you think of this one? You didn't like the other.

Mr. Ferguson—Well, if you are limited to two styles, the inverted waste basket and the inverted coal scuttle, my choice would be the coal scuttle. We need another one at home, anyway.

CERTAIN DEATH.

Hilda—Would you lay down your life for me?

Harold—Gladly, dearest.

Hilda—Then go and tell father of our engagement.

Philosophy.

Billy—Ma, does it do you any good to spank me?

Mother—No, my son; it hurts me to do it.

Billy—Then don't you think it's rather foolish to be hurting the two of us and not benefiting any one?

For a Poor Memory.

"Say, Mayme, what's that ring on your finger for?"

"That's so I won't forget that I promised to marry Tommy. Beats a string for looks, too."

If you wish beautiful, clear white clothes, use the new RUSS BLUE. All grocers sell it.

Lots of garrulous people make a specialty of saying nothing.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, small, sugar-coated, easy to take as candy, regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Do not gripe.

A little learning makes a bore doubly tiresome.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
FOR RHEUMATISM
BRIGHT'S DISEASE
DIABETES, BACKACHE
1875 "Guaranteed"

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
TRADE MARK
Positively cured by these Little Pills.
They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable
SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature
Brent Good
REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

Oh! That Awful Gas

Did you hear it? How embarrassing. These stomach noises make you wish you could sink through the floor. You imagine everyone hears them. Keep a box of CASCARETS in your purse or pocket and take a part of one after eating. It will relieve the stomach of gas. 918

CASCARETS 10c a box for a week's treatment. All druggists. Biggest seller in the world—million boxes a month.

A CRUISE TO
SOUTH AMERICA
BRAZIL, ARGENTINA
URUGUAY and CHILE
First trip of its kind ever arranged—will be made by the S.S. Bluecher (12,500 tons) leaving New York January 22, 1910. Duration
81 Days . $350 up
Also cruises to the West Indies and Orient
P. O. Box 1767
HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINE
41-45 Broadway - - - - New York

For Man or Beast the Best A-B-C LINIMENT
"It's a Pain Stopper"

For Asthma, Bronchitis and all Throat Troubles Take
PISO'S CURE
THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS
The relief is as quick as it is certain. Pleasant to take and guaranteed absolutely free from opiates.
All Druggists, 25 cents.

GROCERIES & HARDWARE

COLD WEATHER

Is SURE to be here soon. Are you prepared for it? Perhaps you will need a new stove before winter sets in. If so you will miss it if you don't call and inspect our line of

HEATERS AND RANGES

We have just received a new shipment and will be glad to show them to you. Call early while the assortment is complete. See the Summit Range

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

ONE PRICE CASH STORE

KLEMME, IOWA

DRUGS

A full line of patents of every manufacture. Jewelery, Wall Paper, Paints and Oils, School Supplies and Statiouery.

TOILET ARTICLES

Face Powder, Talcum Powder, Sachet Powder, Face Creams, Toilet Waters, Hand Lotions.

MUSICAL GOODS

String and Brass Instruments, Edison Phonographs and Supplies. We are selling Phonographs on small weekly payments and going one better than the Chicago price by saving you the freight.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile. both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

It's about time you was seeing us about that

STORM SASH

Don't be fooled by a few warm days. You'll need 'em most any minute. Better see us today.

Northern Lumber Company

N. L. PALMER, AGENT

KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

Get your Winter's Coal Now

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Sootless and Washed Egg. Petroleum Coke. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

H. C. LAU

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

HUSKING BEE THING OF PAST

Farm note in Manchester Press: What has become of the old fashioned husking bee? It seems to have gone the way of the pompadour and the Congress shoe. In the good old days people used to husk with their hands and feet. Now they don't dare look a nubbin in the face unless they have on more armor than a deep sea diver. The girls used to think it worth while to swat their sweethearts on the jaw with a red ear and thus earn a kiss, but if the young folks waited to spoon at a husking bee nowadays they would go unkissed to a mournful grave. The times are sadly out of joint.

DOCTORS, PLEASE DON'T READ

Britt Tribune: Although a dentist is called "Doc" there is all the difference in the world between a dentist and a doctor. A dentist gets fifty cents for pulling a tooth, a doctor gets five hundred dollars for pulling a leg. A dentist accidentally drops a piece of gold filling worth fifty cents in a man's throat which he immediately expels by coughing, the same day the man's brother has to cough up three hundred dollars to a doctor for medical attendance to his wife until she dies. The dentist fills cavities the size of a flax seed for five dollars, the doctor fills one six feet by three and six feet deep in half the time and gets five hundred dollars. A dentist earns his living with "great pains," a doctor pains the living with great urns. A dentist stops pains when his patient is in great misery, the doctor is in misery when the patient stops "payin." A dentist makes a mistake, the patient kicks, the doctor makes one and he don't. The dentist's pull is quick and may slip, the doctor's pull is slower but awful sure. When a dentist works for a dollar his patient takes a rest, when the doctor works for a dollar he gets all the rest himself.

DIDN'T HAPPEN IN KLEMME

They tell it that in the village of Washington, Iowa, a citizen went to the meat market to buy twenty cents worth of steak. The butcher sliced it off for him and he handed the market man a quarter, received a nickle in change and departed. When he arrived home he could not locate the steak he had bought. He found the nickle loose in his pocket and then discovered what he had done. He had absent mindedly put the nickle in his pocket and the steak in his pocketbook.

It won't be long until some fool will have a law passed prescribing corn cobs and hot water as being the food a man shall eat for breakfast.—Goodell Globe.

And that isn't the worst of it. The rest of us would probably eat it.

Don't forget the Eva Bartlett Macey Company at the Klemme Opera house, Nov. 23rd

Forced Into Exile

Wm. Upchurch of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home. Mountain air, he thought, would cure a frightful lung-racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, death dogging his steps. "Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes, "and after taking six bottles I am as well as ever." It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for coughs and colds, it dispels hoarseness and sore throat. Cures grip, bronchitis, hemorrhages, asthma croup, whooping cough. 50c and $1.00, trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

SPECIAL LOW PRICES on MILLINERY

Ten per cent off on Black Trimmed Hats

Greater Reduction on Colors.

Pretty Pattern Hats worth $12.00 go at $9.50

Pretty Pattern Hats worth $8.00 go at **$

Pretty Pattern Hats worth $7.00 go at $5.50

Children's Tams, Caps and Hoods at COST.

A fine line of Bengaline and Moire Silks for ladies wais at Reduced Prices.

Special Reduction on Corsets during this sale.

Buy Now and Save Mone

We teach Tapestry and Mexican Pigment painting and furni materials for same. The Grandest Sofa Pillows and Table Spread Headquarters for Pyrography Patterns.

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

The Winter Season

Is now close at hand and it calls for good, warm wearing apparel good Shoes and Overshoes, etc. We are, as usual, prepared to furnish you with the needed articles and our prices are as low as possible, consistent with the quality of goods we furnish. We want to call your special attention to our full and complete line of

Genuine Old Fashioned Wool Flannel

Ranging in price per yard from.... 50c TO $1.50

LARGE LINE TO SELECT FROM

Outing Flannels

The kind usually sold for 10c per yard we sell for.... 8c

The kind usually sold for 12c per yard we sell for... 10

This is no special sale, just our every-day prices.

See our complete line of Seasonable Goods.
We absolutely guarantee satisfaction.

W. J. BARZ, - Garner, Iowa

A good one

The Eva Bartlett Macey Co.

Second Number Lecture Course, at opera house,

November 23

Miss Macey—Reader, banjoist and entertainer.
Miss Chamberlain—Violin soloist.
Walter Ammann—'Celloist.
William R. Kirn—Vocalist and Accompanist.

A company of Artists

You cannot afford to miss this high-class entertainment. A musical treat.

Kills Her Foe of 20 Years

"The most merciless enemy I had for 20 years," declares Mrs. James Duncan of Haynesville, Me., was dyspepsia. I suffered intensely after eating or drinking and could scarcely sleep. After many remedies had failed and several doctors gave me up I tried Electric Bitters. which cured me completely. Now I can eat anything. I am 70 years old and am overjoyed to get my health and strength back again. For indigestion, loss of appetite, kidney trouble, lame back, female complaints. its unequalled. Only 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

The Des Moines Capital the Klemme Times will be to any address from now Jan. 1, 1911, on receipt of $ This is an exceptionally li offer and should be taken ad tage of at once to secure its benefits. If you have alr paid in advance for the Ti ask for our rate on the Cap Call at this office today and a daily paper for the win reading.

Every man feels the need of

GOOD CLOTHES

on that great National Holiday

THANKSGIVING

.....We can supply your need.....

A New Suit
A New Cap or Mittens
A New Overcoat
A New Necktie
A Pair of New Shoes

Our store is full of new things and good things for Men

ARTHUR WELLEMEYER

About People You Know

KLEMME MARKET.

orn.....	45 to c
ats.....	34 to 35c
heat.....	80 to 90
arley.....	40 to 48c
ay.....	4 00 to 6.00
ogs.....	7.00 to 7.25
attle.....	3.00 to 6.00

Did you shovel snow?

Fresh fruits at Kluckhohn's.

Fresh apple cider at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

W. R. Bloom shipped a car of hogs Sunday morning

Klemme dealers report a brisk trade in rubbers and overshoes Tuesday.

Second number lecture course Tuesday, Nov. 23—Eva Bartlett Macey Company.

Poultry wanted every day. Highest market price paid. H. Lau & Son.

On our inside pages will be found an account of the awful mine disaster at Cherry, Ill.

Miss Nellie Griggs left last evening for Iowa Falls where she will take a course in music.

The Best Ever—Blue Point oyster crackers. They're fine. Try a package with your next oysters. At Kluckhohn's. 13tf

Peter Josten was a pleasant caller at the Times den Tuesday. He said that he had all but one acre of his corn husked before the big snow.

Charley Gibbs reports that the Woodmen Accident Association of Lincoln, Neb., settled his recent claim promptly and in a satisfactory manner.

New ads this week—Arthur Wellemeyer, Mrs. John Josten, Rock Island System, H. C. Lau, Northern Lumber Co., M. A. McCarthy, State Savings Bank.

I handle the Ball Band and the Royal Blue rubber goods in the first qualities, and am selling these goods at about the price usually charged for the second quality. Buy your winter supply of footwear for the whole family NOW. Frank Gruetzmacher.

Being obliged to take it for rent I will sell it out cheap;
Dr. Hess Stock Food.
Dr. Hess Poultry Panacea.
Dr. Hess Instant Louse Killer.
Dr. Hess Hog Worm Powder.
To be had at G. F. Schuler's Garner, Iowa.

Fresh oysters daily at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

Good sleighing in November is a rare occurrence, but be it remembered that it happened in 1909.

Get your reserved seats for the Eva Bartlett Macey Co. entertainment NOW at the State Savings Bank.

If you are in the market for a gasoline engine, see us about the Gade engine before purchasing. Wm Schmidt or J. W. Scott. 12-5*

New hitching posts were put in this week along the side streets east of the State Savings Bank building and Terhufen's store building. These have been needed for some time and will be welcomed by our good farmer customers.

The dance at the opera house last Friday evening was quite well attended considering the inclement weather. Good music was furnished by the Imperial Harp Orchestra of Mason City. Another dance is billed to take place on Friday evening, November 26th.

Twin Lake Township No. 1—Pupils neither absent nor tardy during last month of school were: Clara Swalve, Lena Swalve, Bennie Swalve, Ada Wenig, Oscar Wenig, Gladys Wenig. Winter term begins Nov. 22nd. Val. Josten, Jr. Director. J. D. G. Houghton, Teacher.

Souvenir dishes at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

The regular subscription price of the Chicago Daily Farmers and Drovers Journal is $4 per year, but we have made arrangements whereby we can furnish that paper and the Klemme Times both one year for $4 05. The Chicago F. and D. Journal twice-a-week, and the Times, both one year for $2.05. The Journal once a week and the Times, both one year for $1.55.

Thanksgiving Day comes on Thursday of next week, so this paper will be issued one day earlier, that the "devil" may observe the day the same as decent folks. We may eat turkey if our delinquent subscribers come to the front in time, if not we may eat one of our own chickens. Anyway, don't forget to bring in the copy for your ads next week on Monday.

A full line of Post Cards at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

Mrs C. C. Suckow and daughter Fern were Garner visitors Saturday.

Louie Turgasen was down from Swea City last Sunday visiting old friends and acquaintances.

Goodell Globe: Mrs. A. D White returned from Klemme Tuesday, where she has been for the past two weeks looking after Albert Thomas White.

Col. J. J. Wilson, of Meservey, was a pleasant caller last Friday. He was over to cry the sale of C. Kuskie & Sons, which was quite well attended and very satisfactory as to prices received

The next number of the Lecture Course will be given in the opera house on Tuesday evening, Nov. 23rd. The attraction is the Eva Bartlett Macey Company, which comes very highly recommended as a company of artists. Don't forget the date and don't fail to attend.

We very much dislike to "holler our heads off" about that dollar or two that you owe on subscription, but the fact remains that we unfortunately have bills to pay and what's more we have to pay them. You don't want to beat anyone out of a dollar, but probably just neglect these small matters. We will have to place these accounts in the hands of competent collectors unless they are settled right away, as we have earned the money and need it in our business. It is not a matter of sentiment with us—but necessity. Don't compel us to ask you again or to send a collector after these small accounts. Square up.

The first snow of the season fell last Friday night but it quickly disappeared the next morning when the rain commenced to fall in torrents It continued to rain hard all day Saturday and through the night. The storm must have been general as the river was reported higher on Sunday than it has been for years. To cap the climax in good shape a snow storm struck this country Monday night and on Tuesday morning there was four or five inches of the "beautiful" covering the landscape. Iowa is getting her wet season this fall, preparatory to having a dry spring and a bumper crop next year. At least that's the way we have the dope figured out.

Don't pass up the State Savings Bank ad. Read it.

Miss Amanda Arnold has been quite sick, but is now improving.

The Northern Lumber Company talks about storm sash in their ad this week. Read it and act.

The Northern Lumber Company finished invoicing the stock in the Klemme yard this week.

Mrs. L Sampson returned home last Thursday from an extended visit at Beulah, Iowa, so Lou is again on his good behavior.

Fred L. Flint, of Fairfax, So. Dak., a brother of the writer, arrived in Klemme yesterday for a visit. He has recently sold his newspaper, the Fairfax Advertiser, and will devote his attention to a claim he has acquired in Tripp county, South Dakota.

NOTICE

I am in need of money, therefore cheer up and pay up.

DR. GEO. ZINN,

German M. E. Church Items

Mrs. Bettin returned from Charles City Monday afternoon.

Both Sunday Schools have adopted their Christmas programs for good, old fashioned celebrations.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hartwick, of McGregor, Iowa, arrived last Friday to spend a week with their daughter, Mrs. Wessel.

On account of the inclement weather, the special meetings did not begin this week, but are expected to begin Sunday evening.

The river was so high last Sunday that it was over two feet deep on the grade west of town. As far as we know the writer was the only one who crossed it that day.

The excessive rains of last week and snow storm on Monday makes corn picking very unpleasant, especially since so much of the corn is down. But those who began to pick corn early have their trouble in keeping it. A number of farmers have been obliged to move their corn to keep it from spoiling.

CLOSING OUT SALE!

As I have decided to quit farming I will sell to the highest bidder on place rented by me 1½ miles southeast of Klemme, known as the Wm. Smith farm the following property on

FRIDAY, NOV. 26th, 1909,
Commencing at 10 o'clock a. m.
A big Free Lunch at Noon.

7 head of Horses,
38 head of Cattle,
15 Duroc Jersey Brood Sows,
1200 bushels corn in crib.
35 acres stock feed with 80 a. range.
10 tons of good hay,
Machinery.

Terms—$10 and under cash; over $10 one year's time at 8 per cent.

C. F. RALSTON, Prop.
Col. J. J. Wilson, Auct.
P. M. Griesemer, Clerk.

Col. J. J. Wilson

MESERVEY, IOWA

LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEER

Dates made at either bank in Klemme, Iowa. Terms reasonable.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER

The Tonsorial Artist

Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.

2nd door west of State Savings Bank

☞ Call in

A Scalded Boy's Shrieks

horrified his grandmother, Mrs Maria Taylor, of Nebo, Ky., who writes that when all thought he would die, Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured him. Infallible for burns, scalds, cuts, corns boils, skin eruptions, chilblains, chapped hands. Soon routs piles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Phone No. 11. Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to calls day or night.
Eyes tested. Glasses fitted.

DOCTORS
GEO. ZINN EDGAR ZINN
Office: State Savings Bank
Phone No. 19
KLEMME - - IOWA

JOHN GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Headquarters for part of Heinz' Fifty-Seven Varieties, and Pickling Vinegar.
Try these goods; they are fine.

W. R. BLOOM
Buyer and Shipper of
Grain and Live Stock
Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.
Stock wanted 6 days in the week

RESTAURANT
Russel's Maple Nut Chocolates—Try them and you will buy nothing else.
Get one of our delicious Oyster Stews and you will become a regular customer.
HOME MADE BAKERY GOODS
A. Kirkwood & Son

UNITED STATES
Land and Irrigation Exposition
CHICAGO COLISEUM
November 20 to December 4, 1909

Will provide authoritative, graphic information about the vast opportunities now opening up in many States for homeseekers, farmers and investors.

There will be exhibits of the wonderful fruits of virgin soil from all sections.

Elaborate panoramas will show what is being done to irrigate, drain and cultivate it.

INTERNATIONAL
Live Stock Exposition
TENTH ANNIVERSARY
Chicago Union Stock Yards
November 27 to December 10, 1909

The world's greatest collection of prize-winning cattle, horses, sheep and hogs ever brought together will be on exhibition.

All the progress and all the best brains of the live stock industry will be there. Millions of dollars invested in the exhibits.

A liberal education. You can't afford to miss either event. Information as to fares on request.

Rock Island

T. A. WILLIAMS, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

HUNTING FOR BIG GAME.

The Highlands of Ontario is an ideal spot for the sportsman during the open hunting season for big game. In the Temagami region moose are plentiful and may be killed during the period from October 16th to November 15th. This territory is a forest preserve of vast expanse, and in addition to being the hunter's paradise, its waters abound with game fish of many species. The home of the red deer is located somewhat to the south of Temagami, particularly in the districts known as "Muskoka Lakes," "Lake of Bays, "Maganetawan River," "Lake Nipissing," and "Kawartha Lakes" territories.

Write to W. S. Cookson, A. G. P. A., 135 Adams St., Chicago, for a copy of "Haunts of Fish and Game," issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System which fully describes the hunting territories reached by this line, giving game laws, maps and all information.

PICTURE ON MEMORY'S WALL.

Uncle—Well, Tommy, how was your report this term?

Nephew—I call feel it yet, uncle.

SKIN TROUBLES CURED.

Two Little Girls Had Eczema Very Badly—In One Case Child's Hair Came Out and Left Bare Patches.

Cuticura Met with Great Success.

"I have two little girls who have been troubled very badly with eczema. One of them had it on her lower limbs. I did everything that I could hear of for her, but it did not give in until warm weather, when it seemingly subsided. The next winter when it became cold the eczema started again and also in her head where it would take the hair out and leave bare patches. At the same time her arms were sore the whole length of them. I took her to a physician, but the child grew worse all the time. Her sister's arms were also affected. I began using Cuticura Remedies, and by the time the second lot was used their skin was soft and smooth. Mrs. Charles Baker, Albion, Me., Sept. 21, '08."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

A Monument in the Snows.

The highest placed monument in the world is situated on La Combra, the summit of a pass in the Andes, and marks the frontier of the Chilian and Argentine republics. It stands at an altitude of 12,796 feet above the sea level, and for awe-inspiring grandeur its surroundings would be hard to match.—Wide World Magazine.

The next time you feel that swallowing sensation, the sure sign of sore throat, gargle Hamlins Wizard Oil immediately with three parts water. It will save you days and perhaps weeks of misery.

In the Future.

Knicker—Well, my dear?

Mrs. Knicker—Wipe your wings before you come into the house.

PERRY DAVIS' PAINKILLER
should be taken without delay when sore chest and tickling throat warn you that an annoying cold threatens. At all druggists in 25c, 35c and 50c bottles.

As long as a man can find something to kick about he feels that life is worth living.

WE PAY HIGH PRICE FOR HIDES and furs. & sell guns and traps cheap. N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

A man likes a giggling girl about as well as he does a crying baby.

To Enjoy

the full confidence of the Well-Informed of the World and the Commendation of the most eminent physicians it was essential that the component parts of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna should be known to and approved by them; therefore, the California Fig Syrup Co. publishes a full statement with every package. The perfect purity and uniformity of product, which they demand in a laxative remedy of an ethical character, are assured by the Company's original method of manufacture known to the Company only.

The figs of California are used in the production of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna to promote the pleasant taste, but the medicinal principles are obtained from plants known to act most beneficially.

To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

THANKSGIVING

From The Christian Science Sentinel

ETERNAL God of Life and Truth and Love,
I thank Thee who hast to my soul conveyed
A consciousness of spiritual birth.
To see Thy face, mine eye is turned above
That I may catch a clear, diviner sense
To use in aid of mortals on the earth.

Bert Poole.

The Prodigal's Wife

A SLIGHT rap at the outer door drew the attention of the gray-haired woman.

"Come in," she called.

The door suddenly opened. A trim young woman stood at the threshold. She looked around and smiled and nodded.

"Good morning," she said, and her voice was clear and pleasant. "May I come in?"

The elderly woman stepped forward.

"Why, yes," she answered. Take this chair. Have you walked far?"

"Only from the village. The hill is a little steep. I am not used to hills lately."

She smiled and nodded again.

"You are very good," said the stranger. "I am not really so tired. It was the dear old house that drew me in. I thought I would like to come."

"Our home is an old one," she said, with a little sigh. "It needs many improvements. But we haven't the means to make them."

"So?" said the girl with a touch of sympathy in her voice. "Perhaps these improvements would take away the dear old home's niceness. You do not live alone?"

"No, there are two of us—my husband and I."

"And the children—they are away, then?"

The gray haired woman turned back to the table.

"We have a child—a son. He is away."

The girl arose quickly.

"Let me help you, madam." She drew off her jacket and hung it on a hook behind the door. "Ah, you will see what a fine bringing up I have. Is there not an apron I may wear?"

The gray haired woman smiling hesitated.

"There isn't much to do," she said. "And we have no money to pay for help."

"Let us not talk of it," cried the girl. "I am not so very poor. You will let me stay a few days. Perhaps you will not like me at all."

The gray haired woman smiled.

"I think I like you already," she said.

The girl pinned up her sleeves on her fair round arms.

"Now you will tell me what to do, and while we work we will talk. You have said something about your son—has he gone far away?"

The woman looked at her with troubled eyes.

"It is an unhappy story," said the mother. "My son quarreled with his father. It was about a girl. Our boy had gone away to the city. There was so little for him on the farm. His father thought he was wrong to go. But John was ambitious and there was no chance for him here. And one day he came home and said he was going to marry. And it came out that the girl was foreign and on the stage. And when John's father heard this he was very angry. To him the theater is a wicked place. It was in the way he was brought up. Perhaps he is too hard. Anyway, he told John that the must give up the girl or he would disown him. And John is proud, too, and they had words and John went away, and since that day his father has never spoken his name." She suddenly put her apron to her eyes. "My dear, dear son," she sobbed.

The girl's face flushed. She went to the weeping mother and touched her hand.

"Don't cry," she gently said. "Perhaps there is good news. Look at me. What do you see?" She drew back a little and her laughing eyes grew serious and she held up her pretty head. "A young woman; a strong and healthy and useful young woman—a good young woman, believe me."

The mother's wet eyes stared at the girl.

"Why do you tell me this?" she asked.

The mother took a step nearer.

"You!" she whispered.

"I see you guess," cried the girl. "Yes, I am your son's wife!"

The girl gently pushed the gray-haired woman into a chair.

"Let me tell it all in my own way, madame mother. It is like this. John married me one—two—three years ago. Who was I? A poor girl trying to earn a living, madame mother. On the stage, yes. I will tell you how that was. When we came to this country my father was a carver of wood and stone, had a fine business. Then he was killed in an accident and we were very poor, my mother and I. And so, because we were so poor I sang for a manager and he gave me a place on the stage.

"And so because I loved John we were married and went away, far away into the desert and into the wilderness. John had the fever and there was only me—I was doctor and nurse and all—and, please God, he did not die." The hand of the older woman stole into the girl's and held it close. "Then the luck changed. John is made manager. And pretty soon my big, hopeful, always patient, always loving John—I kiss his mother's hand—is rich, quite rich."

The mother arose.

"My boy is coming home," she cried. Then her face clouded. "But his father—he is so hard and unyielding—I'm afraid he has not forgiven him."

"Leave him to me, madam," cried the girl. "Hush, I think he is coming. Not a word, madam. Leave him to me."

The bent form of the tall old man appeared in the doorway.

"Hiram," said the gray haired woman, "I have a visitor here. She will stay with us for a day or two."

The old man looked at the girl curiously.

"You are quite welcome," he said.

The girl had left a bag at the station and the old man drove with her to get it. And when she came back she waved her hand to John's mother on the porch and there was something more than a graceful greeting in the gesture.

"Wait, good sir, if you please," she said to the old man before he could drive away. "To-morrow is Thanksgiving day. May I ask a friend to dine with me here? The good mother is willing."

The old man nodded.

It certainly was a fine Thanksgiving spread. The turkey was the tenderest, and all its train of accessory dishes the most palatable that culinary art could offer. And presently, when the girl had cast a final glance at the clock and another through the window, the old man was bidden to the feast.

"You spoke of a friend," he said.

"Yes, sir," she quickly answered. "He will be here. Seat yourself, madam. Hark, he is here."

The outer door suddenly opened, a tall young man stepped into the room and looked quickly about him. With a swift movement he stepped to his mother's side and kissed her cheek, and then drew back.

"John," the mother whispered, but her eyes were on the stern face of the old man.

"Father," she bravely said, "this is my friend, my dearest friend—will you bid him welcome?"

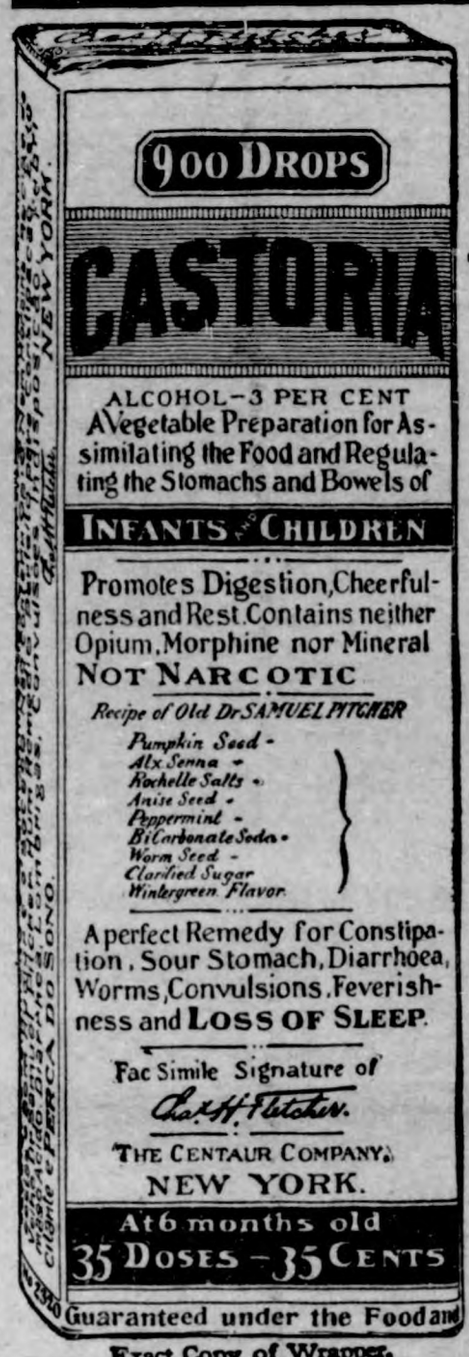
The old man's face was dark, he hesitated, his troubled look rested on the girl's sunny face.

Then he spoke, but his voice was hoarse and scarcely audible.

"Your friend is welcome for your sake," he slowly said.

At that the young woman cried out and ran around the table and put her arm about his neck and kissed his wrinkled cheek.

"Ah, such a Thanksgiving," she murmured.—W. R. Rose, in Cleveland Plain Dealer.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Mayer HONORBILT SHOES

The proper shoes for men: shoes that look, fit, feel and wear right. Made of selected leather—leather that is best by every test. Correct in style. Made by the finest shoe makers, in the best equipped factory in existence.

MAYER HONORBILT

shoes are "built on honor"—built for combined style and service—built for absolute satisfaction and lasting comfort. Biggest values you can ever hope to get for the money.

There is an Honorbilt style that will exactly suit you and fit you. Ask your shoe dealer; if he hasn't it, write us. Look for the Mayer Trade Mark on the sole.

FREE—If you will send us the name of a dealer who does not handle Mayer Honorbilt Shoes, we will send you free, postpaid, a handsome picture, size 15x20, of George Washington.

We also make Leading Lady Shoes, Martha Washington Comfort Shoes, Yerma Cushion Shoes, Special Merit School Shoes and Work Shoes.

MILWAUKEE Mayer CUSTOM MADE

F. MAYER BOOT & SHOE CO. MILWAUKEE WISCONSIN

Just the Same! No Difference! Pluck SPEARMINT leaves from the bush. Chew them Buy Wrigley's SPEARMINT Chew it. Exactly the same SPEARMINT flavor! No Difference!

FINE FOR DIGESTION!

THE Famous Rayo Lamp

Once a Rayo user always one

The RAYO LAMP is a high-grade lamp, sold at a low price. There are lamps that cost more, but there is no better lamp at any price. The Burner, the Wick, the Chimney-Holder—all are vital things in a lamp; these parts of the RAYO LAMP are perfectly constructed and there is nothing known in the art of lamp-making that could add to the value of the RAYO as a light-giving device. Suitable for any room in any house.

Every dealer everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest Agency of the

STANDARD OIL COMPANY (Incorporated)

SEED CORN INJURED

Dr. Chappel Says Fifty Per Cent Hurt by October Freeze.

CONCERNS NEXT YEAR'S CROP

Head of the Iowa Crop Bureau Warns Farmers to Take Care in Selecting Their Seed Corn for the Coming Year.

Des Moines, Nov. 15—The heavy frost on the mornings of October 12 and 13 so seriously damaged the germinating qualities of corn that farmers of Iowa will have to be exceedingly careful in selecting and caring for their seed corn during the winter. If they don't, there will be a very poor corn crop for the year 1910.

This information and warning was given out by Doctor Chappel, section director of the Iowa weather and crop service.

He said he wanted it to be understood that he did not give it out to the press to scare the farmers, but only as a warning for their own benefit, and he declared that it could not be impressed upon them too vividly for the welfare of the entire corn crop is at stake.

"It is of the most vital importance that the farmers heed this warning, for I am now in the possession of data showing that 50 per cent of the corn was so badly damaged by the freeze on the dates referred to, that it cannot possibly be used for seed purposes. In some sections of the state the damage affected as much as 90 and 95 per cent of the corn," he said.

"When the farmers select their seed, they must see to it that it comes from the very earliest fields that were matured long before the first frost occurred. This is of the most vital importance, and unless they observe it they will find that the corn which appeared to be dry and matured had too much sap or moisture in the cob, which caused the germ at the base of the kernel to be injured when the cold wave came."

Doctor Chappel's information comes from hundreds of letters he has received from crop correspondents in every county and township in the state of Iowa. All report the great damage done and suggest that the warning be spread broadcast.

Nearly Bit Tongue Off.

Sidney.—The 2-year-old child of W. D. Wightman and wife was the victim of a very painful accident. The mother was outside pumping water when the child, unobserved, came up and got in the way of the handle of the pump, which struck the little fellow under the chin, causing him to almost sever a piece from his tongue. Several stitches were necessary to close the cut caused by the teeth.

Funds for Interurban.

Iowa City.—A mass meeting at Wellman raised $25,000 for the Ottumwa-Iowa City interurban and right-of-way for three miles secured on each side of Wellman. At Keota the same line secured $60,000 with five miles of right-of-way on each side. Frank Tanner of Iowa City is at the head of the scheme. The company is chartered under the laws of South Dakota.

Missouri Valley Saloons Close.

Logan.—The anti-saloon forces of Missouri Valley have filer their revocation petition and the saloons closed down at once as a result. In co-operation with the mayor and anti-saloon people of Missouri Valley and vicinity, County Attorney Thomas Corwin Smith will renew the fight against the booz dispensers.

Fire at Corwith.

Corwith.—Fire completely destroyed the big barn owned by Dr. Hoag and his brother J. B. Hoag, near here. The loss is estimated at $10,000. The structure was 60x120 feet, contained 100 tons of hay 1,000 bushels of oats, a filled silo, besides much harness and machinery. The cause of the fire is not known.

Six Brothers Her Pallbearers.

Epworth.—Her six brothers acted as pall bearers at the funeral of Mrs. Paul Latiner, which was held at Lattnerville near here. Her maiden name was Breitbach and she was one of a family of thirteen children, and aunt of Rev. Father Breitbach, professor of St. Joseph's college, Dubuque.

Rural Carrier Uses Auto.

Garner.—Rural Carrier T. H. Reim, who has one of the heaviest routes out of this place, is using an automobile instead of a team. The good weather and the good roads makes the trip one of pleasure and is done in about one-fourth the usual time.

Baby is Victim of Tuberculosis.

Indianola, Iowa.—All because the baby of one of his customers, which had been fed on the milk of one certain cow, had been pronounced by Dr. E. L. Baker to have tuberculosis, Mr. Ed. Greenfield, a dairyman near Indianola, sent for Drs. Haworth and Frank to apply the tuberculin test to his entire herd. The veterinarians were ignorant when making the test that suspicion rested on any cow in the herd, but when they closed the test they pronounced forty-six out of the forty-seven cows to be sound, and the forty-seventh, the cow on whose milk the sick baby had been nourished, to "be afflicted with the disease known as tuberculosis."

The father of the child had bought the cow, a grade Holstein a few months ago from a prominent Des Moines dairy herd. When he secured employment in Omaha about the first of October he sold the cow to the Greenfield dairy, with the stipulation that so long as his family remained in Indianola it was to be supplied with milk from this cow, as the baby had become accustomed to it and they did not want to make a change.

When Dr. Baker diagnosed the sickness of the child as tuberculosis, he made inquiries as to the milk it received. Learning the conditions he notified Mr. Greenfield, who immediately had not only the one cow, but the entire herd tested, with the above result. The herd had been tested about a year ago and pronounced healthy. The infected cow had been in the herd only a short time. She will be slaughtered subject to post mortem inspection.

Patents New Mail Crane.

Marshalltown.—Although only 23 years old, in this country only two years, and still a subject of the Norwegian throne, Axel H. Stone, a carpenter of this city, has secured a patent on a mail crane that gives promise of proving a good thing for him. Stone's crane is a safety lock device for holding the mail bag, and is constructed in such a manner that the bag cannot be removed excepting when unlocked by a complementary device on a passing car. Stone will begin at once interesting railroads with a view of securing the adoption of the cranes into practical service.

His Wife Alleges Bigamy.

Dubuque. — Mr. Joseph Cludry, husband is a bigamist, and deserted her to marry Miss Emma Matthews, at Menominee, Wis., Mrs. Gertrude Strand Shaub, a former Marshalltown girl, is plaintiff in a petition for divorce against Frank R. Shaub, in the circuit court at Rock Island, Ill. where Mrs. Shaub is now living. Shaub was a former outfielder for the Marshalltown team in the old Iowa League, and played with the team here in 1905.

Wreck at Mason City.

Mason City, Ia., Nov. 10.—Two sections of a stock train experienced a collision at Hanlontown. The second section, unable to see the first on account of a dense fog, plowed into the rear end of the first section and very seriously injured Corbett Melin, an Illinois man returning from the Dakotas.

Malpractice on a Colt.

Burlington.—A unique suit for personal damages was filed in court by Fred Wellington of Burlington against L. D. Tague, a veterinarian, whom Wellington claims sewed up in Wellington's colt a bundle of rags after an operation on the animal. The colt died and Wellington sues for $125 damages.

Mrs. Nance Gets Lawyer.

Dubuque.—Announcement of the retention of counsel by Mrs. Lucy Nance of Epworth, Ia., who is charged with the murder of her husband Charles Nance, at Epworth by administering strychnine, was made Nance died October 23.

Cludry is Likely to Die.

Dubuque.—According to the doctor's statement, Joe Cludry who was frightfully injured by flames as he rescued his wife and child from their burning home, will die. The woman and child are also in the hospital in a critical condition.

Jury Acquits Harry Hutchings.

Indianola.—After being out for over seven hours, the jury acquitted 12-year-old Harry Hutchings of the murder of his stepfather, Thomas Carraher, who was found dead in a ditch near his hog lot at New Virginia, last March.

Iowa Girl Weds in Canada.

Iowa City.—The wedding of Miss Nell Russell of Iowa City to Mr. A. B. McDonald took place in Winnipeg, Can. The bride is well known here where she has a host of friends and several relatives.

Bluffs Banker Is Dead.

Council Bluffs.—John Beresheim, president of the Council Bluffs Savings bank and pioneer resident of the city, died suddenly of heart disease.

It Cured My Baby—Hereafter I Will Always Keep It in the House.

I cannot speak too highly for Resinol Ointment. It cured my baby boy of Eczema. He had a very severe case and numerous other remedies failed to do any good. I would not be without Resinol Salve in the house.

It is good to apply in cases of burns, cuts or sores of any kind.

Mrs. F. Cox, Chicago, Ill.

Getting in Deep.

The ladies devoted to reform were in session.

"I believe," said one, "that only good men should be permitted to marry."

"But," interposed a second, "would not such a radical policy be promotive of race suicide?"

On the instant they perceived that they had tackled a real problem.

OWES HER LIFE TO

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vienna, W. Va.—"I feel that I owe the last ten years of my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Eleven years ago I was a walking shadow. I had been under the doctor's care but got no relief. My husband persuaded me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it worked like a charm. It relieved all my pains and misery. I advise all suffering women to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Emma Wheaton, Vienna, W. Va.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

WESTERN CANADA

What Governor Deneen, of Illinois, Says About It:

Governor Deneen, of Illinois, owns a section of land in Saskatchewan, Canada. He has said in an interview:

"As an American I am delighted to see the remarkable progress of Western Canada. Our people are flocking across the boundary in thousands, and I have not yet met one who admitted he had made a mistake. They are all doing well. There is scarcely a community in the Middle or Western States that has not a representative in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta."

125 Million Bushels of Wheat in 1909

Western Canada field crops for 1909 will easily yield to the farmer $170,000,000.00 in cash.

Free Homesteads of 160 acres, and pre-emptions of 160 acres at $3.00 an acre. Railway and Land Companies have land for sale at reasonable prices. Many farmers have paid for their land out of the proceeds of one crop. Splendid climate, good schools, excellent railway facilities, low freight rates, wood, water and lumber easily obtained.

For pamphlet "Last Best West," particulars as to suitable location and low settlers' rate, apply to Sup't of Immigration, Ottawa, Can., or to Canadian Gov't Agent.

E.T. Holmes, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; W.V. Bennett, 801 N.Y. Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

(Use address nearest you.) [1]

If you wish to be Cured of Constipation Use

Uncle Sam Breakfast Food

A delightful food made from wheat and flax—nature's own remedy.

Ask your grocer

He Certainly Knows

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

R. V. Pierce M.D.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

When Cold Winds Blow

When cold winds blow, biting frost is in the air and back-draughts down the chimney deaden the fires, then the

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

shows its sure heating power by steadily supplying just the heat that is needed for comfort.

The Perfection Oil Heater is unaffected by wea her conditions. It never fails. No smoke—no smell—just a genial, satisfying heat. The new prevents the wick being turned too high. Removed in an instant.

Automatic Smokeless Device

Solid brass font holds 4 quarts of oil—sufficient to give out a glowing heat for 9 hours—solid brass wick carriers—damper top—cool handle—oil indicator. Heater beautifully finished in nickel or Japan in a variety of styles.

Every Dealer Everywhere. If Not At Yours, Write for Descriptive Circular to the Nearest Agency of the

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
(Incorporated)

The Wizard of Horticulture

Hon. Luther Burbank

says: "Delicious is a gem—the finest apple in all the world. It is the best in quality of any apple I have so far tested."—and Mr. Burbank knows.

Delicious is but one of the hundreds of good things in Stark Trees—the good things you should know about before you plant this fall or next spring.

Let us tell you about them by writing today for our complete, illustrated price-list-catalogue which describes our complete line of fruit trees, ornamentals, etc.

Wanted—A Bright, Capable Man

in each county of this state to sell Stark Trees on commission. No previous experience necessary. The work is pleasant, clean work, highly profitable, and the positions are permanent to the right men, who apply immediately.

Many of our salesmen are earning $50 to $80 per month and expenses; some are making more. You can do as well or better if you're a hustler and trying to succeed.

No investment called for; we furnish complete order-getting outfit free and the most liberal contract.

For complete information address the Sales Manager of

STARK BRO'S NURSERIES & ORCHARDS CO., LOUISIANA, MO.

W·L·DOUGLAS

$3.00 $3.50 & $4.00 SHOES

Wear W. L. Douglas comfortable, easy walking, common sense shoes. A trial will convince any one that W. L. Douglas shoes hold their shape, fit better and wear longer than other makes.

They are made upon honor, of the best leathers, by the most skilled workmen, in all the latest fashions, shoes in every style and shape to suit men in all walks of life.

CAUTION! The genuine have W. L. Douglas name and price stamped on bottom, which guarantees full value and protects the wearer against high prices and inferior shoes. TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

BOYS SHOES $2.00 & $2.50

Wherever you live, W. L. Douglas shoes are within your reach. If your dealer cannot fit you, write for Mail Order Catalog. W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.

RAW FUR BUYERS WANTED

in every town and village. W. G. Co., 216 Nicollet Av., Minneapolis, Minn.

1,000,000 RAW FUR SKINS WANTED

for my manufacturing and exporting trade. Skunk, Mink, Muskrat and others. Top prices. Write for special quotations.

A. E. BURKHARDT
International Fur Merchant,
CINCINNATI, O.

LIVE STOCK AND MISCELLANEOUS ELECTROTYPES
In great variety for sale at the lowest prices by WESTERN NEWSPAPER UNION, 554 W. Adams St., Chicago

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

Paper-Hangers & Painters

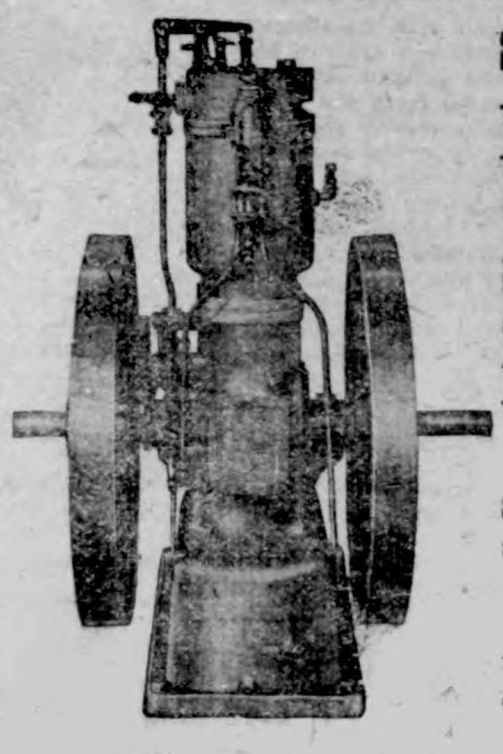
You can greatly increase your business with no extra investment by selling Alfred Peats' Prize Wallpaper. We want one good worker in each vicinity, and to the first worthy applicant will send FREE, by prepaid express, five large sample books showing a $250,000.00 Wallpaper Stock for customers to select from. We offer liberal profits to our representatives. Answer quickly that you may get the agency in your vicinity for 1910.

Alfred Peats Co., 144-146 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

DEFIANCE STARCH—16 ounces to the package—other starches only 12 ounces—same price and "DEFIANCE" IS SUPERIOR QUALITY.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.



Save work, worry, money by using a

STOVER GASOLINE ENGINE

Made right—sold right. Send for an illustrated catalog of our

ENGINES

wind mills and feed grinders.

Sandwich Mfg. Co.

Mason City, Iowa — General Agents

The City Dray Line

We wish to announce that we have purchased the dray line from Ell Bros. and ask a continuation of your valued patronage. We will do all hauling entrusted to us promptly and carefully. Give us a trial.

ELL & SONS, Klemme, Iowa

¶ The old story of love is told in a new way in that interesting story about to be published in these columns

One Way of Love

IT is entirely unlike the love story of your imagination. It is a story that will grip the heart of every reader that has experienced the meaning of the word "love." In other words, if a really GOOD story appeals to you, watch for the opening chapter of

One Way of Love

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE TIMES

HOTELS READY FOR THE RUSH

All the Hostelries, Big and Little, Are Prepared for the Coming of the Land and Exposition Guests.

"Chicago is not going to be caught unprepared for the big crowds that will attend the Land and Irrigation Exposition," is the report given by a leading hotel manager. "We have been keeping our ear to the ground, and we hear reports from every direction that we are going to be surprised by the number of guests on account of the 'novel show' at the Coliseum, Nov 20 to Dec. 4. Of course, we always expect a big attendance at the Live Stock Show, which occurs on the same dates, but we shall have a crowd that will surpass anything seen in many years when the doors of the Land and Irrigation Exposition are thrown open on Nov. 20. Every hotel in Chicago is looking forward to this event and is prepared to see its capacity packed to the full by a class visitors who do not often get in Chicago.

"This Land Exposition has a different sort of pull from the other big affairs that are held at the Coliseum from time to time. We appreciate the fact that we are going to have a very substantial class of visitors on this occasion and that they will come from many states.

"According to the plans of the exposition it will be a great educational event and enable the land seeker to save money by having concentrated under one roof all the leading regions of the country where life is made attractive by irrigation and an agreeable climate and productive soil You may tell all prospective visitors that we are ready for them and for them to come and enjoy this feast which Chicago has spread."

The theater managers are also making preparations for special attractions during the exposition period. They will also take steps to be rid of the ticket scalpers and speculators who often interfere with patrons of the theater and prevent them from getting seats at the regular prices.

"We shall do our part to entertain the exposition visitors in a fitting manner," said one of the prominent theater managers, speaking for all of the prominent theaters.

THE GREAT LAND SHOW

The Men Who Are Behind Chicago's Unique Expostiion, Nov. 20 to Dec. 4.

The United States Land and Irrigation Exposition to be held in the famous Coliseum in Chicago during the two weeks of the International Live Stock Exposition is supported by men who occupy prominent places in the country's large affairs. The advisory committee is composed as follows:

Edmund T. Perkins, engineer in charge, U. S. reclamation service.

Darius Miller, first vice president, C. B. & Q. Ry. Co.

E. O. McCormick, assistant traffic manager, U. P. Ry. Co.

Geo. T. Nicholson, third vice president, A. T. & S. F. System.

J. H. Hiland, third vice president, C. M. & St. P. Ry. Co.

Jno. Sebastian, passenger traffic manager, C. R. I. P. Ry. Co.

W. B. Kniskern, passenger traffic manager, C. N. W. Ry. Co.

Frank I. Bennett, president, Bitter Root Valley Irrigation Co.

H. L. Hollister, Twin Falls North Side Land and Water Co., Sacramento Valley Irrigation Co.

D. R. Niver, Trowbridge & Niver Co., bankers.

John Farson, Farson, Son & Co.

Medill McCormick, publisher, Chicago Tribune.

James Keeley, managing editor, Chicago Tribune.

Harrison M. Parker, business manager, Chicago Tribune.

Robert P. Cross, Chicago Tribune.

The promotions committee has the following membership:

E. A. Abbott, C. B. & Q. Ry. Co.

Max Bass, Gt. N. Ry. Co.

Geo. De Haven, U. P. Ry. Co.

Geo. Haynes, C. M. & St. P. Ry. Co.

Louis Larson, F. E. C. Ry. Co.

C. A. Matthews, N. P. Ry. Co.

C. L. Seagraves, A. T. & S. F. Ry. Co

C. B. Schmidt, C. R. I. & P. Ry. Co.

F. K. George, Pere Marquette System.

J. C. Waite, U. S. reclamation service.

Harrison M. Parker, Chicago Tribune.

Robert P. Cross, Chicago Tribune.

Quixotism.

"So Mukraiker is beginning to crusade against sausage?" we ask of our well posted friend. "He doesn't eat sausage. Why should he attack it?"

"He says he can't help sympathizing with the under dog."—Chicago Post.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN, Proprietor.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOW

OLDEST IN AGE AND LONGEST LOCATED. REGULAR GRADUATES IN MEDICINE. LONGEST ESTABLISHED AND MOST RELIABLE SPECIALISTS IN THE STATE. Authorized to treat CHRONIC, NERVOUS AND SPECIAL DISEASES. Fif days treatment free. If not satisfactory we guarantee to refund mo All medicines furnished ready for use—no injurious medicines used, detention from business. Patients at a distance treated by mail and express. Medicines sent everywhere free from gaze or breakage. Ch low. Thousands of cases cured. State your case and send for terms. sultation FREE and confidential, in person or by letter. Call or to-day. Don't delay.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND WEAKNESSES of Men The results of youthful follies and excesses—causing losses by dreams or with urine, pimples and blotches on the face, rushes of blood to the head, pains in the back, forgetfulness, bashfulness, loss of vital forces, loss of manhood, etc., cured for life. We can stop unnatural losses, restore lost vitality, develop and mature young or middle aged and make them fit for marriage.

HYDROCELE Dropsy of the scrotum cured without pain.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & PROSTATIC DISEASES Successfully treated and permanently cured.

STRICTURE radically cured without the use of harmful instruments. Our b fully explains.

VARICOCELE —Enlarged veins in the scrot causing nervous debility, weak of the nervous system, etc., permanently cured.

BLOOD POISON —That terrible disease in its stages, cured for life. Diseases, Sores, Gonorrhoea, Gleet and all form private diseases cured to stay Cured.

PHIMOSIS See Book—Cured in a few days wit pain.

BOOK FREE TO MEN upon application, description of above diseases, effects and cure, sent sealed in plain wrapper.

DRS. FELLOWS & FELLOWS CO., 325 WALNUT ST., DES MOINES,

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia.
Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Books — Letter Heads
Pamphlets — Envelopes

Everything printed from

TYPE

At the Times office.

Cards — Bill Heads
Invitations — Fosters

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

Just Dust it on the Co
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls whil work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Money Back If Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDE (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IO

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:34 p. m.
82 ..... 2:35 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:55 a. m.
435 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

50 YEARS EXPERIENC

PATENTS

TRADE MAR DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &

Anyone sending a sketch and description quickly ascertain our opinion free whether invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. rec special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdeal

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New Yo
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D

THE CHILDREN LIKE KENNEDY'S LAXATIV COUGH SYRUP

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 17 — KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1909. — $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

The C. F. RALSTON Closing Out Sale!

FRIDAY, NOV. 26, '09

Commencing at 10 o'clock a. m. sharp.

7 head of Horses
38 head of Cattle
15 Duroc Jersey Brood Sows
1200 bushels of corn in crib
35 acres stock feed with 80 acres range
10 tons of good hay
Machinery

Terms—One year's time at 8 per cent. Under $10 Cash.

The Thanksgiving season is again at hand and if we ever sum up our reasons for being grateful to our Cre tor for the good things we enjoy, this is naturally the time we do so. Anyone who is enjoying a reasonable amount of health has an abundance of reasons for being glad—glad that he is alive—glad that the old world is so big and bright—glad that he lives in this land of the free where educational and religious advantages are so great. That man is poor indeed who has no thankfulness in his system Be ye thankful. If you can't be very thankful, be as thankful as you can.

HOW are you going to pay for the coal you use this winter? The answer is easy if you have saved a portion of your last summer's wages and deposited them regularly in this bank. Have you?

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

Are You Satisfied

with what you have to show for last year's hard work? You are a year older, why not be a year wiser?

Start that savings account today. NOW IS THE TIME. It will make you happy and every dollar added to it makes you a happier man and a better citizen.

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

A CONVINCER

The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.
We claim for our lumber and building material that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.
May we figure on your next lumber bill?

J. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J.W.WATERMAN

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE---THE HOST FOR EXPOSITION VISITORS.

The illustration shows the splendid building occupied by the Chicago Tribune, which has been chiefly instrumental in bringing about the United States Land and Irrigation Exposition, to be held in Chicago's famous Coliseum Nov. 20 to Dec. 4. This is the same period as the International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago. The Tribune as the host extends a welcome to all visitors. This building will be their downtown headquarters. Special waiting rooms will be set apart for the use of the guests, and guides will be in attendance to show the visitors through the building, that they may see how the greatest metropolitan newspaper is produced. The Tribune building will be open night and day. A special free information bureau, desks and stationery, and a checking room for bundles, will at all times be at the disposal of visitors. The central location of the Tribune at the southeast corner of Madison and Dearborn streets will make these conveniences particularly appreciated.

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, - - - - IOWA

IMPORTANT NEWS NOTES OF A WEEK

LATEST HAPPENINGS THE WORLD OVER TOLD IN ITEMIZED FORM.

EVENTS HERE AND THERE

Condensed Into a Few Lines for the Perusal of the Busy Man—Latest Personal Information.

PERSONAL.

Count Boni de Castellane has been in Rome two weeks trying to arrange for papal annulment of his marriage with Anna Gould, now the Princess de Sagan, so he may remarry.

President Simon of Haiti arrived at Cape Haitien on the gunboat Liberte and was given an enthusiastic welcome. The town was decked with flags in his honor.

Mrs. Marie Radleigh of New York city, 48 years old and married 20 years, has given birth to her nineteenth child. Only nine are living, but one of them, a daughter 19 years old, is married and the mother of one baby.

Rings lost by Mrs. Goldie Dixon of New Town, Mo., valued at $500, were found by Mrs. Margaret Adams of Chicago at the Union station in Kansas City and restored to their owner.

Col. Charles Smith, 81 years old, who served in the Mexican war and in the civil war, died at his home in Terre Haute, Ind.

Herman Erenhaft, a New York tailor with a large family, will soon come into possession of $100,000. He inherits from an aunt in Austria the fortune which will relieve him and his family from the stress of poverty.

GENERAL NEWS.

There is a possibility that President Zelaya of Nicaragua may attempt further high-handed action toward the United States and show his contempt of President Taft's refusal to receive the new Nicaraguan minister by giving the American consul at Managua his passports before he can act further on behalf of this government.

"The safety of a ship going to a port which is closed or blockaded in fact or in theory is a question for the interested parties to determine and act on and not a question for determination by the officials concerned in clearances."

Two heroic men, R. Y. Williams and F. M. Morris, descended into the St. Paul mine at Cherry, Ill., and paved the way for a fight against the flames, and it is confidently believed that the entombed men dead or alive will soon be reached. They went down through the air shaft and found that the fire was raging at the foot of the shaft but in other portions of the mine the temperature was nearly normal, this gave the stricken women and children renewed hope.

John Mitchell, in a speech before the American Federation of Labor, indorsed a report of the committee on boycott and declared that he intended while at liberty to declare for the rights guaranteed him by the organic law of his country.

The body of Hedwig Zinda, the young Polish girl who had been missing several days, was found in an abandoned office at Milwaukee. She had been assaulted and murdered by unknown fiends.

A whole family is dead as the result of a three-cornered duel that was fought at Pioneer, La., between Clarence Compton and Sylvester and Albert Owen. Compton, his wife and his little daughter were all killed and Sylvester Owen was slightly wounded. After the killing he and his brother surrendered to the sheriff. The trouble grew out of an unkind remark made by Compton to the boys' sister. Mrs. Compton with her child stepped into the line of fire during the shooting.

Rumors are current in New York that the government will halt, temporarily at least, the merger of the Western Union Telegraph and American Telephone & Telegraph Companies, and determine whether the law prohibiting combinations in restraint of trade is not being infringed upon.

Rev. J. C. Hathaway, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, at Maryville, Mo., committed suicide by hanging. No reason can be assigned for the deed.

The National Association of Railway Commissioners have adopted a uniform code of demurrage rules applicable alike to state and interstate transportation.

Washington.—The tense situation resulting from the reported execution of two Americans, LeRoy Cannon and Leonard Grace by the order of President Zelaya of Nicaragua, for their alleged participation in the revolution now in progress in that country, has become aggravated by the failure to receive definite news of their fate and caused the state department to make the announcement Friday that in the future every American citizen abroad will be as safe as though he was in his own home.

The present heads of the department have chafed under the old-time statement that a British citizen was safe anywhere, but that if an American crossed a frontier he had to put himself under the protection of the British minister or consul before he could go out and look at the scenery with an unruffled mind.

That is the real movement back of the strenuous way in which the department of state is going after President Zelaya of the Nicaraguan republic, who is reported to have shot two American revolutionists without consulting representatives of this country.

Impatient over the inadequacy of the information received in two telegrams from the American consul at Managua, Secretary Knox dispatched a peremptory order for full and complete advices.

"Immediately ascertain and cable full and positive information as to the fate of the two captured Americans," says his message. "This government," the dispatch continues, "can scarcely credit the report of the summary execution of two American citizens taken with the revolutionary army. The charge d'affaires of Nicaragua here has also been asked telegraphically to demand full information for this government, which will not for one moment tolerate such treatment of American citizens."

This is a pronunciamento to the Central and South American governments in particular that care must be exercised in their treatment of questions affecting American individuals and American interests.

There is a grimness about the attiture of the state department officials which does not usually attach to the adjustment of diplomatic questions. The department is determined to go to the bottom of this affair.

A further interpretation of the recognition of the belligerency of the revolutionists was made by Secretary Knox, in response to inquiries from various merchants doing business with Atlantic ports. To each has been repeated the previous announcement with this addition.

The first body to be removed from the St. Paul mine at Cherry, Ill., was that of Ollie Freiberg. Searchers saw 19 other bodies but were unable to recover them. The fire is under control.

Richard Watson Gilder, the author and editor of the Century Magazine, is dead of heart failure at New York, aged 65 years.

The inquiry instituted by the department of the interior into the validity of coal entry lands in Alaska, around which the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy centers, has begun at Seattle, Wash.

No trace of the murderers of little Hedwig Zenda, at Milwaukee, has yet been obtained by the police. A big reward will be offered for their capture by the city council.

Sheriff F. R. Davis of Alexander county, Illinois, from whom the Cairo mob took the negro Will James and lynched him, has been removed from office by Gov. Deneen, in accordance with mob violence act, which leaves him no discretion.

Two Americans, Leonard Grace and LeRoy Cannon, have been executed in Nicaragua by order of President Zelaya. They were captured while serving with the revolutionary army. The state department has ordered two warships to proceed to Nicaraguan ports with all possible speed and President Taft says Zelaya will be held responsible for his action.

Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, for years one of the most powerful leaders of the Christian Science denomination in New York, has been ex-communicated by the board of directors of the mother church at Boston, on the charge of persisting in teaching and practices contrary to Christian Science.

Henry S. Boner, for 32 years superintendent of the Lutheran Publication society, died at his home in Philadelphia. He was 73 years old.

Max O. Drelcorn was killed and William B. Reid and A. La Laberte were probably fatally injured in an automobile accident at West Springfield, Mass.

As a result of the voters of Waukegan, Ill., defeating a $55,000 bond issue, Mayor Fred Buck ordered all street lights put out of commission and the fire and police department curtailed so that only one fireman will be on duty days and one nights and only one policeman on days and one nights.

Blaine Selvage, a young mechanic of Eureka, Ill., made a trial flight of three-quarters of a mile at an average height of three feet in one minute and a half with a monoplane of his own construction.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Governor Carroll Issues His Proclamation.

NAMES THURSDAY, NOV. 25

Iowa Executive, Following Lead of President, Tells Why People of Commonwealth Should Be Thankful.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 22.—Governor Carroll, following the lead of the president, has performed the duty of designating Nov. 25 as Thanksgiving day, saying:

"This year of our Lord, 1909, has been one of the most prosperous and successful in the history of the state. The benign Ruler of the universe has graciously granted unto us unlimited and untold blessings and has filled our borders with abundance of everything needed to make a happy and contented people. Our great commonwealth, through the thrift and industry of her people and by the grace of God, has again yielded an abundance of all products common to our state and her people have been accorded freedom from both pestilence and want. Rich in everything that the hand of man can produce, or that the heart of man could desire, our people should approach Thanksgiving day with hearts full of gratitude and thankfulness to Almighty God for His mercies and blessings during the year which is nearing its close."

IOWA KEEPS THE FRUIT MEN

St. Paul Withdrew in Favor of Council Bluffs Just Before Ballot Was Taken.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Nov. 22.—After three days of strenuous work on the part of a live delegation from St. Joseph, Mo., bent upon taking the national horticultural exposition away from Council Bluffs next year, and after the St. Paul, Minn., delegation had withdrawn from the race just as the vote was to be taken, Council Bluffs won out by an overwhelming majority.

Officers were elected as follows: President, J. P. Hess Council Bluffs; first vice president Capt. J. H. Shawhan, Payette, Idaho; second vice president, Professor Close, College Springs, Mo.; secretary and treasurer, George W. Reye, Council Bluffs; superintendent, Freeman L. Reed, Council Bluffs.

Resolutions were adopted urging the passage of pure insecticide and fungicide laws by congress and a state law requiring all orchardists to spray their trees and take proper care of their orchards.

In the award of premiums Iowa horticultural societies and Iowa fruit growers carried off a good share.

Tot Chloroforms Baby.

Charlotte, Mich., Nov. 22—For a second time Ruth Butler, 4 years old, is responsible for the death of a little sister. Some time ago she pushed a baby sister off the bed and the infant strangled to death. Now a 15-day-old babe died from the effects of chloroform playfully administered by Ruth who had seen the mother use the drug to stop aching teeth.

Astor Yacht at San Juan.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 22—At 12:30 this morning wireless communication with Guantanamo was established here and a partial confirmation of the safety of the Nourmahal at San Juan was secured. The wireless station at that point reported to the effect that the Nourmahal was safe in port. Efforts to raise San Juan have been unsuccessful.

Mine Rescue Work.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 22—Twenty saved ninety-two known dead and 198 missing was the record at the St. Paul mine last night. Ten dead were brought to the surface and thirty-seven dead were located in the second level, but were not brought up on account of black damp.

Des Moines Gets 1910 Tournament.

Des Moines Nov. 22—Des Moines will be host to the United States army again next fall, for a dispatch from Capt. J. A. T. Hull at Washington, D. C., conveyed the information that the secretary of war has chosen this city for the 1910 army tournament.

Former Des Moines Woman Dead.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 22—Mrs. J. M. Bolton, youngest sister of Col. Lafayette Young of Des Moines, died at her home near this city, after an illness of five months from ulceration of the liver and a complcation of diseases.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Canada's Day of Thanks a Month Earlier Than in the United States.

For some reason better known to the Canadians themselves than to the people on this side of the line, our Canadian cousins celebrated their Thanksgiving a month or more earlier than we do. It may be that the Canadian turkey had become impatient, and sounded a note of warning, or it may be that the "frost on the pumpkin" declared itself. But whatever the reason, their Thanksgiving day is past. It may have been that the reasons for giving thanks so much earlier than we do were pushing themselves so hard and so fast that the Canadians were ashamed to postpone the event. They have had reasons, and good ones, too, for giving thanks. Their great broad areas of prairie land have yielded in abundance, and here, by the way, it is not uninteresting to the friends of the millions of Americans who have made their home in Canada during the past few years to know that they have participated most generously in the "cutting of the melon." Probably the western portion of Canada, comprising the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, have the greatest reason of any of the provinces to express in the most enthusiastic manner their gratitude. The results in the line of production give ample reason for devout thanksgiving to Providence. This year has surpassed all others in so far as the total increase in the country's wealth is concerned. There is no question that Providence was especially generous. The weather conditions were perfect, and during the ripening and harvesting period, there was nothing to interfere. And now it was well it was so, for with a demand for labor that could not be supplied, there was the greatest danger, but with suitable weather the garnering of the grain has been successfully accomplished. There have been low general averages, but these are accounted for by the fact that farmers were indifferent, relying altogether upon what a good soil would do. There will be no more low averages though, for this year has shown what good careful farming will do. It will produce 130 million bushels of wheat from seven million acres, and it will produce a splendid lot of oats, yielding anywhere from 50 to 100 bushels per acre. This on land that has cost but from $10 to $15 per acre—many farmers have realized sufficient from this year's crop to pay the entire cost of their farms. The Toronto Globe says:

"The whole population of the West rejoices in the bounty of Providence, and sends out a message of gratitude and appreciation of the favors which have been bestowed on the country. The cheerfulness which has abounded with industry during the past six months has not obliterated the conception of the source from which the blessings have flown, and the good feeling is combined with a spirit of thankfulness for the privilege of living in so fruitful a land. The misfortunes of the past are practically forgotten, because there is great cause to contemplate with satisfaction the comforts of the present. Thanksgiving should be a season of unusual enthusiasm."

MRS. CAUDLE AT THE POLE.

"This is a nice time to get home. Here you've been gone six months."

"Sorry, my dear, but I was afraid to come home in the dark."

A Painless Death.

A teacher in the factory district of a New Jersey town had been giving the children earnest lectures upon the poisonousness of dirt.

One morning a little girl raised her hand excitedly and pointed to a boy who seldom had clean hands.

"Teacher," she said, "look quick! Jimmie's committin' suicide! He's suckin' his thumb."—Success Magazine.

Gleaming teeth! The more WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT you chew, the fewer dentist's bills you pay!

Ups and Downs.

"Why are you so hard up?"

"Oh, I'm down and out!"—Cleveland Leader.

DOCTOR YOURSELF when you feel a cold coming on by taking a few doses of Perry Davis' Painkiller. It is better than Quinine and safer. The large 50c bottles are the cheapest.

He who has conferred a kindness should be silent, he who has received one should speak of it.

The new RUSS BLUE is much the best. Insist that your grocer gives you this brand. Refuse imitations.

If man were not vain the power of woman would cease.—Smart Set.

On to the Pole!

When word of the discovery north pole came to Chattano slightly deaf old lady remarked ously: "Well, now I always sai Cook tourists got about 'most where. I ain't a bit surprised that one of 'em's reached th notch in the traveling line."—cott's.

Shake Into Your Shoes Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic It makes tight or new shoes feel is a certain cure for sweating, call hot, tired, aching feet. Always us Break in new shoes. Sold by all Dru 25c. Trial package mailed Free. Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, New Yo

Her Observation.

"Love," remarked the ro young man, "is said to brighte eye."

"I don't know about that," re the practical maid, "but it has dency to disarrange one's hair."

Look out for the imitatio WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT — if haven't tasted them. If you have, look out without being told.

The grandest time a man has scribing to his wife exactly ho election is coming out and the b explaining why it didn't.

The danger from slight cuts or w is always blood poisoning. The im ate application of Hamlins Wizar makes blood poisoning impossible.

The great and good do not die in this world, embalmed in books spirits walk abroad.—Smiles.

Pettit's Eye Salve for 25c. Relieves tired, congested, inflame sore eyes, quickly stops eye aches. druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo,

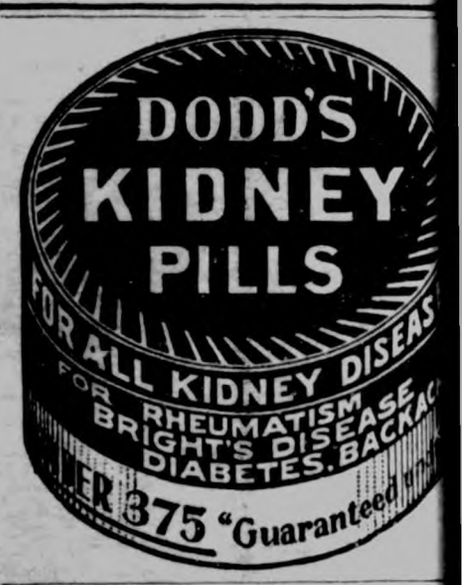
After acquiring all the know he can from books, many a man a postgraduate course by marryi widow.

Don't drink liquor except me ally. WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT the smell off your breath.

There is no playing fast and with truth, in any game, wit growing the worse for it.—Dicke

WE PAY HIGH PRICE FOR HI and furs. & sell guns and traps chea W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis,

The greatest necessity in a wom life is love.



SICK HEADACH

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cure these Little Pil

They also relieve tress from Dyspepsi digestion and Too He Eating. A perfect edy for Dizziness, sea, Drowsiness, Taste in the Mouth, ed Tongue, Pain in Side, TORPID LIV

They regulate the Bowels. Purely veget

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PR

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bea Fac-Simile Signatur

REFUSE SUBSTITUT

Murder

One gets it by highway men—T of thousands by Bad Bowels—No ference. Constipation and dead make the whole system sick—Ev body knows it—CASCARETS regula cure Bowel and Liver troubles by sim doing nature's work until you get we Millions use CASCARETS, Life Save

CASCARETS 10c a box for a week's treatment, all druggists. Biggest seller in the world. Million boxes a month.

W. N. U., DES MOINES, NO. 48–19

Best for Children

PISO'S CURE

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

Gives instant relief when little throats are irritated and sore. Contains no opiates and is as pleasant to take as it is effective.

All Druggists, 25 cents.

One Way of Love

...who may—I still can say,
...who win heaven, blest are they.
—Browning.

CHAPTER I.

A young man was walking slowly ...g the country road.

His eyes, fixed moodily before him, ... nothing. But his feet kept to the ...row path that skirted its edge, ...iding the wheel-tracks and hoof-...nts of the frozen surface, and keep-... well within the line of stiffened ...er and golden-rod that rose on ...y stalks beside the stone wall on ...her side.

Beyond the wall fields of stubble ...etched, brown and bare, in the twi-...ht. Everywhere hung the cold, un-...rying light, except along the west-...n horizon, where a band of orange ...owed against the darkening sky. Its ...ightness fell upon the shoulders of ...e young man, emphasizing the list-...ss stoop and the slow, dispirited ...alk. The air of dejection might have ...longed to a man of 60.

No human being was in sight. Pres-...tly he turned his head and looked ...ack, listening. The movement ...rought his face into the glow of light. ...t was a strange face, the dark, trou-...led eyes full of inquiry, the flexible ...ps, slightly parted, waiting upon si-...nce. Slowly a smile of amusement ...ept into the eyes, spread over the ...ace and drew from the lips a quick ...augh.

"Uncle Eben and Aunt Jerusha!" The listless shoulders straightened knuckles out, grasped the crossed reins and pulled gently now and then with a seesaw motion. The other figure, sitting stiffly erect, ended in a brown veil.

The young man waited till the clumsy wagon was abreast of him. He clambered over the end and, kneeling in the straw, laid an affectionate hand on each bundled figure.

The brown veil nodded graciously and stiffly. "How's the folks, Richard?" came from its folds.

"All well. Aren't you frozen?"

There was no reply from the veil. A wheezy chuckle from Uncle Eben and a gentle pull on the reins were the response.

The wagon rattled and bumped in the silence. The sky had deepened from orange to purple and hung its light around them. In the distance a gray, weather-beaten house lifted itself, tinged with the glowing light.

"There's mother," said the young man. "She's seen you."

A tall, raw-boned woman, with a shawl pinned over her head, squaw fashion, was coming down the path to the gate.

"Well, where did you come from?" she called out as they drew in. "I was just thinking about you today."

Her mouth was stretched in a smile of conventional welcome, but the high-pitched voice was cordial, and the dark eyes, as youthful as those of her son, looked out in pleased surprise.

Looked Back, Listening.

themselves, and the young man faced about, looking back.

Far up the road, outlined against the orange sky, a high farm wagon was approaching. The old horse made his way over the hubs with spasmodic, seesaw leaps.

The two figures planted firmly on the high seat seemed in no way incommoded by the gait. Both were bundled in shawls and furs. That one was a man might be known from the grayish fringe of beard that depended from under the blue and white tippet wound tightly around head and ears. One hand reaching in front of the bundled chest, palm down and

The rest of the face framed in the shawl was seamed with care and hard work. It beamed with good-humor and concern as she watched Uncle Eben, who, having descended from the high wagon with deliberation, was helping Aunt Jerusha to alight. The old lady hitched cautiously along the seat, put one ample foot tentatively on the step, glanced suspiciously at the motionless Jack, and was at last deposited on the ground.

With a smile on his lips the young man watched the absurd figure, supported on either side by his mother and Uncle Eben, waddle up to the front door. But as he turned towards the barn with Jack the smile disappeared and the listless look returned.

He was fighting his first real battle. Hard work, poverty, the heavy mortgage, had not served to darken his spirit. But to-night as he came by Emily Hutton's he had seen a yellow-wheeled buggy at the gate. It meant that Edwards, the storekeeper from Plainfield, was in the house, was perhaps at this minute talking to Emily. Richard's eyes smarted at the thought. He turned the hay-cutter swiftly and mixed old Jack's supper.

Perhaps Jack was surprised, a moment later, to feel an arm thrown about his neck. He turned his head inquiringly, munching. But there was no one else to see—the boy was weeping out the bitterness of his heart. She had smiled at him with her big, black eyes, and once, on a sleighing party, her head had rested for a moment on his shoulder. His heart beat faster with the thought. And now Edwards—this was the third time this week. She would marry him— A sob ended the thought.

Jack turned his head with a soft whinny. The boy raised his head, bashfaced. His hat had fallen to the floor and his eyes were full of tears. He looked very boyish to be crying for a lost love.

He threw his arm again across Jack's neck and stood for a moment with his face pressed in the thick fur. Then he straightened himself and clenched his hands. He would rather die than have the folks in the house know about it! His lips were firmly closed as he stepped into the fading light, a wooden pail in each hand, and crossed the barnyard to the old pump.

When he had filled the pails he dashed the water over his face and eyes. He turned back to the barn, his head erect, and whistling softly under his breath.

"There"—he thrust the brimming pail under old Jack's nose, and patted the dark coat—"drink that. It's well salted. It ought to agree with you." With a smile of somewhat determined cheerfulness he turned away to finish the chores.

CHAPTER II.

Within doors, in the warm kitchen, Mrs. Derring was getting supper. Aunt Jerusha's chair was drawn up to the stove. With her brown merino skirt turned safely back from the heat and her large feet resting comfortably in front of the oven door, she beamed over her gold-bowed spectacles, the picture of comfort. Uncle Eben with knees drawn up and boot-laces on the round of a straight wooden chair rubbed his fingers and chuckled into the conversation.

"Is that Edwards man going with Emily Hutton?" demanded Aunt Jerusha over her spectacles. "I saw his team hitched there as we came along."

Mrs. Derring was stooping to put wood in the fire. She lifted a flushed face. "Well, I do' know—" She hesitated. "He's been there once or twice, I believe."

"I thought she was Dick's gal," cackled Uncle Eben from his high seat.

Both women looked at him sternly—Aunt Jerusha on principle, Mrs. Derring from the mother-instinct to defend her young.

"I guess Dick didn't care much about her," she said decisively. She began to mix the light biscuit for tea.

Uncle Eben dropped his boot-heels and rose with a crestfallen air. He leered towards the sitting room and hurled his ignominy behind the Ashton Weekly Press.

"He's a dreadful trial sometimes," murmured Aunt Jerusha, with a glance towards the sitting room door. "He's so affectionate, you know—wants to hold my hand in meeting sometimes, and such like. Of course, the neighbors think it's dreadful queer." She had closed the oven door that the oven might be hot for the biscuit. She sat drawn well back in her chair, her merino skirt still tucked up and her feet planted firmly on the floor, looking inquiringly at Mrs. Derring.

"Yes, I know." Mrs. Derring's nod was sympathetic. "Father was some that way, too—dreadful affectionate. Only he was more masterful than Eben. Eben seems to give up pretty easy."

"Well, he has to, because I have to have my own way," answered Aunt Jerusha, settling herself more firmly in her chair.

The other woman seemed not to have heard her. Her dark eyes were looking wistfully through the window towards the barn. "Richard favors father some, I think," she said, as if following out her own thought, "and lately, it seems to me, he's grown more like him than ever. I don't seem to understand him."

Aunt Jerusha nodded sagaciously. "Richard 'ud do well enough if he'd give up writing poetry and get married and settle down. He needs a woman to look after him."

Mrs. Derring's thin face flushed. This time it was not the heat of the fire. "I guess, Jerusha—"

The door of the kitchen was flung wide. The young man appeared, a pail in each hand. "Well, well, Aunt Jerusha, aren't you thawed out yet?" He crossed the room with the brimming pails and deposited them on the pantry floor.

There was little of the heart-broken lover about him as he turned to the wide wooden sink and, dipping water into the big tin basin, began to wash his face and hands. He performed his public toilet with the unconscious ease of habit, dashing the water over his brown face and neck and running his fingers far back into the thick hair. He emerged from the folds of the heavy crash towel, his face glowing and his eyes shining.

His presence lighted the dim room. Mrs. Derring's face lost its tired look; Uncle Eben limped cheerfully back from the sitting room; and as they

"If Only He'd Give Up Writing Poetry and Get Married."

seated themselves at the supper table the boy's exuberant vitality gave a touch of unity that had been lacking before. Aunt Jerusha softened a little towards Uncle Eben, merely keeping a watchful eye on him, as one might on an irresponsible child.

"You needn't pass him the sweet pickles," she said.

But it was too late. The dish was already in Uncle Eben's trembling fingers, and a brown drop had fallen on the spotless cloth.

"I knew he'd spill it." She spoke in an impersonal, detached tone.

Uncle Eben hastily adjusted a glass to cover the spot.

Richard watched the by-play with dancing eyes. Uncle Eben and Aunt Jerusha were always irresistible. But to-night, as he watched them, the smile faded. A thought had flashed across it. Would he and Emily—in 30 years—? Impossible. Emily's dimples deepened to heavy lines—her laughing eyes behind spectacles. Absurd! Yet Aunt Jerusha's manner to Uncle Eben was grotesquely like. It all passed in an undercurrent of thought, scarcely recognized as he laughed and talked and played the part of host.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

BUILT TO DEFY EARTHQUAKES

Tree Homes of Mexico Made of Twigs and Grass Interwoven With Branches.

In order to protect their homes from earthquakes many of the natives in the territory around Chilpancingo and other towns in the State of Guerrero, Mexico, live in trees. Some of these tree homes are of large size and are ingeniously constructed. Reeds and grasses are interwoven with the twigs and branches of the tree, much in the manner that a bird builds its nest.

The severest wind seldom looses these houses from the tree. Where the trees are large and stand closely together houses of two and three rooms are frequently built in their branches. These houses also afford protection from the "tigers" and other wild animals which are found in that region in large numbers. It is claimed that a "tiger" will not attack its prey unless it is upon the ground. The prime object of elevating these houses into the trees, however, is to keep them from being shaken down by the severe earthquakes which visit the Guerrero territory at frequent intervals.

The rocking of the earth gives the trees a swaying motion that does no damage to the houses. In some localities whole villages of these tree homes are to be seen. None of them suffered damage from the recent earthquakes which wrought such ruin to the buildings on the ground.

Time's Changes.

Mildmay is a philosopher in his way. The other evening Mrs. M. gave him a scolding that would have made almost any other man crazy. But Mildmay said never a word in reply. He only murmured to himself: "And that is the woman I used to hold on my knee and call my little pootsy wootsy!"

Five Millions of Scots.

Scotland's population is estimated at close to five million.

WANTS HER LETTER PUBLISHED

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Female Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me, I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman.

"I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JOHN G. MOLDAN, 2115 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. For 20 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitate—write at once.

WRIGLEY'S

For sore throat, sharp pain in lungs, tightness across the chest, hoarseness or cough, lave the parts with Sloan's Liniment. You don't need to rub, just lay it on lightly. It penetrates instantly to the seat of the trouble, relieves congestion and stops the pain.

Here's the Proof.

Mr. A. W. Price, Fredonia, Kans., says: "We have used Sloan's Liniment for a year, and find it an excellent thing for sore throat, chest pains, colds, and hay fever attacks. A few drops taken on sugar stops coughing and sneezing instantly."

Sloan's Liniment

is easier to use than porous plasters, acts quicker and does not clog up the pores of the skin. It is an excellent antiseptic remedy for asthma, bronchitis, and all inflammatory diseases of the throat and chest; will break up the deadly membrane in an attack of croup, and will kill any kind of neuralgia or rheumatic pains.

All druggists keep Sloan's Liniment.
Prices 25c., 50c., & $1.00.
Dr. Earl S. Sloan,
BOSTON, MASS.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

Paper-Hangers & Painters

You can greatly increase your business with no extra investment by selling Alfred Peats' Prize Wallpaper. We want one good worker in each vicinity and to the first worthy applicant will send FREE, by prepaid express, five large sample books showing a $250,000.00 Wallpaper Stock for customers to select from. We offer liberal profits to our representatives. Answer quickly that you may get the agency in your vicinity for 1910.
Alfred Peats Co., 144-146 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

GROCERIES & HARDWARE

COLD WEATHER

Is SURE to be here soon. Are you prepared for it? Perhaps you will need a new stove before winter sets in. If so you will miss it if you don't call and inspect our line of

HEATERS AND RANGES

We have just received a new shipment and will be glad to show them to you. Call early while the assortment is complete. See the Summit Range

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

ONE PRICE CASH STORE

KLEMME, IOWA

DRUGS

A full line of patents of every manufacture. Jewelery, Wall Paper, Paints and Oils, School Supplies and Stationery.

TOILET ARTICLES

Face Powder, Talcum Powder, Sachet Powder, Face Creams, Toilet Waters, Hand Lotions.

MUSICAL GOODS

String and Brass Instruments, Edison Phonographs and Supplies. We are selling Phonographs on small weekly payments and going one better than the Chicago price by saving you the freight.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile. both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

It's about time you was seeing us about that

STORM SASH

Don't be fooled by a few warm days. You'll need 'em most any minute. Better see us today.

Northern Lumber Company

N. L. PALMER, AGENT

KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

Get your Winter's Coal Now

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Sootless and Washed Egg. Petroleum Coke. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

H. C. LAU

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

ELL CENTER

Special Correspondence:

Mr. Fitkin, of Garner, was a caller here Saturday.

Dirgie Wessels is working at the hotel in Klemme.

Cloyd Lawhorn and wife were Sunday visitors at Charley Lawhorn's.

Mrs. Grove visited her daughter Norma at Mason City a few days last week.

Misses Nettie and Lela Haskin spent Sunday with their grand-parents here.

The Misses Edith and Ruth Yohn and Edith Henar spent Sunday at Hod Lawhorn's.

Some of the young people from this neighborhood attended a dance near Ventura Saturday evening.

Young Girls are Victims

of headache as well as older women, but all get quick relief and prompt cure from Dr. King's New Life Pills, the world's best remedy for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

GOODELL

From the Globe:

Jake Bachman was at Belmond Tuesday.

A. Anderson was at Garner Monday on business.

Miss Laura Christie went to Klemme Friday and visited over Sunday with her sister Jennie.

Daniel Wenzel lost a large stack of hay recently by fire—lightning striking it during the recent heavy rain.

Mrs. Gus Church attended the wedding of her sister, Miss Flossie Ackerman, at Fort Dodge, Iowa, last week.

You size up a town in your own mind from the paper representing it. And it's a very reliable criterion. The logic is simple; the town to be a live one must have live business men. Live business men advertise, hence the paper crowded with advertising comes from a live town whose business men are hustlers.

Forced Into Exile

Wm. Upchurch of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home. Mountain air, he thought, would cure a frightful lung-racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, death dogging his steps. "Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes, 'and after taking six bottles I am as well as ever." It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for coughs and colds, it dispels hoarseness and sore throat. Cures grip, bronchitis, hemorrhages, asthma croup, whooping cough. 50c and $1 00, trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

MESERVEY

From the Messenger:

Jim Wilson was a Garner visitor Saturday.

Ruddie Quandt has been on the sick list the past week.

Chas. Olson became owner of the Blocher pool tables last week and has taken possession.

Cliff Brogan sent a sample of the hotel well water to Des Moines and had it analyzed. The chemists report no typhoid germs in it.

Miss Hartfelder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hartfelder, who is attending school at Mason City, returned home Monday for a visit with home folks.

The funeral of Louie Myers, who died Wednesday at his home north of town, was held in Thornton Friday at 2 p. m. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Findley, the church being decorated with plants and flowers. The pall-bearers were Chas. Waddingham, Frank Nissen, Moody Q andt, Elmer Nissen, Herman Hulsebus, Henry Fry, having been chosen from near friends and former school mates. A large concourse followed the body to its last resting place in the Thornton cemetery. The sudden death of this young man has cast a gloom over the entire community, which joins in sympathy with the bereaved family.

Kills Her Foe of 20 Years

"The most merciless enemy I had for 20 years," declares Mrs. James Duncan of Haynesville, Me., was dyspepsia. I suffered intensely after eating or drinking and could scarcely sleep. After many remedies had failed and several doctors gave me up I tried Electric Bitters, which cured me completely. Now I can eat anything. I am 70 years old and am overjoyed to get my health and strength back again. For indigestion, loss of appetite, kidney trouble, lame back, female complaints, its unequalled. Only 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Notice of Appointment of Administrator

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been duly appointed and qualified as Administrator of the Estate of August H. Wenz, late of Hancock County, State of Iowa, deceased. All persons indebted to the estate are requested to make immediate payment; and those having claims against the same will present them, duly authenticated, to the undersigned, for allowance.

Dated at Garner, Iowa, November 12th, A. D. 1909

GEO. H. WESSEL, Administrator.
163 J. E. WICHMAN. Attorney.

CLOSING OUT SALE!

As I have decided to quit farming I will sell to the highest bidder on place rented by me 1½ miles southea of Klemme, known as the Wm. Smi farm the following property on

FRIDAY, NOV. 26th, 1909,

Commencing at 10 o'clock a. m.

A big Free Lunch at Noon.

7 head of Horses,
38 head of Cattle,
15 Duroc Jersey Brood Sows,
1200 bushels corn in crib.
35 acres stock feed with 80 a. rang
10 tons of good hay,
Machinery.

Terms—$10 and under cash; ov $10 one year's time at 8 per cent.

C. F. RALSTON, Prop.
Col. J. J. Wilson, Auct.
P. M. Griesemer, Clerk.

The Child's Viewpoint.

Percy Alder, M. P., of London, tol an amusing story of a small girl a recent meeting of the Children' Happy Evenings association. Th child had been sent away to the cou try for a holiday, and questioned to what in all her holiday had please her most, this little slum maide whose London home adjoined a was piece of land, replied: "Seeing dead cats."

Birds Not Afraid of Man.

Among southern African bird which manifest wonderful tameness the Cape wagtail, which not onl penetrates to the living room in searc of flies, but will pick them from th old Boer's velschoons as he sits o his stoep, and perch about his chai

SPECIAL LOW PRICES on MILLINERY

Ten per cent off on Black Trimmed Hats

Greater Reduction on Colors.

Pretty Pattern Hats worth $12.00 go at $9.50

Pretty Pattern Hats worth $8.00 go at $6

Pretty Pattern Hats worth $7.00 go at $5.50

Children's Tams, Caps and Hoods at COST.
A fine line of Bengaline and Moire Silks for ladies waists at Reduced Prices.

Special Reduction on Corsets during this sale.

Buy Now and Save Money

We teach Tapestry and Mexican Pigment painting and furnish materials for same. The Grandest Sofa Pillows and Table Spreads Headquarters for Pyrography Patterns.

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

The Winter Season

Is now close at hand and it calls for good, warm wearing apparel, good Shoes and Overshoes, etc. We are, as usual, prepared to furnish you with the needed articles and our prices are as low as possible, consistent with the quality of goods we furnish. We want to call your special attention to our full and complete line of

Genuine Old Fashioned Wool Flannel

Ranging in price per yard from.... 50c TO $1.50

LARGE LINE TO SELECT FROM

Outing Flannels

The kind usually sold for 10c per yard we sell for.... 8c

The kind usually sold for 12c per yard we sell for... 10c

This is no special sale, just our every-day prices.

See our complete line of Seasonable Goods.
We absolutely guarantee satisfaction.

W. J. BARZ, - Garner, Iowa

The Des Moines Capital and the Klemme Times will be sent to any address from now until Jan. 1, 1911, on receipt of $2.85. This is an exceptionally liberal offer and should be taken advantage of at once to secure its full benefits. If you have already paid in advance for the Times, ask for our rate on the Capital. Call at this office today and get a daily paper for the winter's reading.

About People You Know

KLEMME MARKET.

.....	45 to c
.....	34 to 35c
.....	80 to 90
.....	40 to 48c
.....	4 00 to 6.00
.....	7.00 to 7.50
.....	3.00 to 6.00

sh fruits at Kluckhohn's.

sh apple cider at Kluck- s. 13tf sh Mrs. Josten's show w next week.

"One Way of Love"—a ating story—starts today.

C Lau and W. R. Bloom shipped a car of hogs Sunltry wanted every day. est market price paid. H. & Son.

k J Wenck will spend ksgiving at the home of arents in Garner.

d Wacker handed us the with to advance his sub- ion another year.

s. Ruiter returned Tuesday South Dakota. where she been visiting her daughter.

rman Priebe went in to go Sunday morning with a d cattle, returning Tuesday.

ave a few White Wyandot ts and cockerels to sell at uable prices if taken now. H. Wessel.

ss Ida Lund. the trimmer has been employed by Mrs. en during the fall season, last Thursday for St. Paul.

e Best Ever—Blue Point er crackers. They're fine. a package with your next ers. At Kluckhohn's. 13tf lph Blank loaded his house- goods Tuesday and has ed to Goodell, where he has ge as section foreman on Rock Island.

ook over the financial state- t of the First National Bank ch appears in this paper. t this bank and its officers e the confidence of our peo is clearly shown in this pub- ed statement. Read it.

handle the Ball Band and Royal Blue rubber goods in first qualities, and am sell these goods at about the e usually charged for the od quality. Buy your win- supply of footwear for the le family NOW. Frank etzmacher.

he second number of our re course—the Eva Bartlett cey Company—was given to acked house Tuesday even- It was a first class enter- ment in every respect, and member of the company artist. Every number on program received a hearty re, which was deserved in y instance. Lack of time y prevents us going into de- , but the Company fully its the high encomiums it received on every hand. You ed a treat if you failed to the Eva Bartlett Macey pany.

ing obliged to take it for I will sell it out cheap; r. Hess Stock Food. r. Hess Poultry Panacea. r. Hess Instant Louse Kill-

r. Hess Hog Worm Powder. be had at G. F. Schuler's ner, Iowa.

Fresh oysters daily at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

Mrs E H Lenz was a Garner visitor Saturday.

Mrs C C. Suckow and daughter Fern were Garner visitors between trains Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Lau and children, of Garner, spent Sunday at the Tom Blank home

Mrs Tom Elder and daughter Evelyn were passengers to Goodell Saturday evening for a visit with relatives.

As we go to press news reaches us that Aug. Stille died this (Wednesday) morning at about 9 o'clock. Obituary next week.

Mrs S L. Sage is expected to arrive here from Garner this (Wednesday) evening to spend Thanksgiving with her daughter Mrs. A. C. Flint.

Mrs. A. B. Shafer is entertaining her children and their families today. Mrs. A. L Spooner and little children arrived from LuVerne Monday evening. Lloyd Spooner of Lu Verne and Mrs. F. P. Dow and children of Rake are expected to arrive this (Wednesday) evening.

Ralph Blank had a birthday last Thursday. There is nothing particularly surprising about that, as we all have one once in a while—that is, the men do. The surprising feature was a party which Ralph's folks got up without his knowledge or consent, to which a number of friends were invited. All had a royal good time and Ralph will long remember the occasion with pleasure.

CAUGHT!

At about 10 o'clock Tuesday a. m. we accidentally run into them in the back room of Wellemeyer's store. They were carefully unwrapping the different "runners" and "backs" and "bottoms" and were setting up Rocking Chairs.

We were surprised to see so many new Rockers, whereupon Mr. Wellemeyer laid down his mallet and said: "My customers delight in giving useful gifts and most of these elegant rockers will go out from here as Christmas gifts, and the beauty of it is, a good rocker will last a lifetime."

Here he pointed to an elegant Mahogany Rocker at $9.00 and also to several Oak Rockers with spring bottom leather seats at $6.50 to $8.00, and said: "Just think of the comfort that a chair like this will give to your friend."

Wellemeyer's Rocker line also contains some splendid values in cheaper rockers at from $1.25 to $5.00. Call and see.

Souvenir dishes at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

As I have been appointed Administrator of the estate of August H. Wenz, I have a lot of furniture for sale, as rockers, chairs, rugs, stands, a bed room suit, organ, music rack, etc. Everything is new. Geo. H. Wessel.

If there is no town ordinance providing a penalty for failure to keep walks free from snow, then one should be passed at once. If there is such an ordinance, it should be enforced. It seems that there are a few who don't see the necessity of this little stunt, and they should be compelled to do it. We are living in the twentieth century.

A full line of Post Cards at Kluckhohn's. 13tf

Mrs. Mattie Lieuwen and Miss Mona Greasy, from Belmond, visited at the C. C. Suckow home last Friday.

Mrs. L. A. Turgasen and little son left last Saturday for their home at Swea City after a few weeks' visit at the parental home here.

Miss Daisy Schuldt, of Garner, visited Sunday with Fern Suckow and is visiting this week at the Fred Schuldt home southeast of town.

Fred Flint left last Saturday evening for his home at Fairfax, South Dakota, after a few days' visit with his brother, A. C. Flint, and family.

Arthur Wellemeyer and family leave this (Wednesday) afternoon for Charles City to eat Thanksgiving turkey at the home of Arthur's mother.

Rev Wessel did some good work in clearing the snow from the sidewalks about his end of the town, where some of the property owners don't seem inclined to do such work. He used a horse and a snow plow and made a quick job of it.

I have put in a crusher with elevators and am now prepared to do your grinding or crushing with the least possible labor. Elevators to the grinder and also back to the wagon. Rates by wagon box measure, special rate on amounts over 100 bushels. Henry A. Ludeke, in west part of town. 17-2

Mr Menno Swyter and Miss LuBena Blank, both of Erin township, were united in marriage on the afternoon of November 16th, 1909, at the home of the bride northwest of Klemme. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. H. Bruns, of Belmond, in the presence of their relatives and a few friends. The happy couple have been receiving the hearty congratulations of a large circle of friends They expect to make their home on a farm in Erin township.

No. 6659 Report of the Condition of

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

At Klemme, in the State of Iowa, at the close of business Nov. 16, 1909.

RESOURCES

Loans and discounts. . .		$111,893 55
Overdrafts secured and unsecured.		4,098 62
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation		25,000 00
Premiums on U. S. bonds..		1,032 75
Banking house furniture and fixtures		2,050 87
Due from National banks..		7,610 80
Due from approved reserve agents.....		17,103 16
Checks and other cash items		1,815 37
Notes of other National banks		310 00
Fractional paper currency nickels and cents.....		43 40
Lawful money reserve in bank:
Specie	$ 7,749 70
Legal tender notes	250 00	7,999 70
Redemption fund with U. S. treasurer.		1,250 00
Total		180,208 22

LIABILITIES

Capital stock paid in.....	25,000 00
Surplus fund.....	901 15
Undivided profits less expenses and taxes paid. ..	1,121 58
National bank notes outstanding	25,000 00
Individual deposits subject to check....	27,595 79
Time certificates of deposit	100,589 70
Total - - -	180,208 22

STATE OF IOWA, } ss
Hancock County, }

I, F. A. Arnold, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemny swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

F. A. ARNOLD, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 20th day of November, 1909.

FRANK M. HANSON,
Notary Public.

[SEAL]

Correct—Attest:
C. H. WIEGMANN
AUG. LAU
C. A. ARNOLD
} Directors

Wm. Baack has recovered from his recent illness.

Another extremely heavy fall of snow Sunday night. Many acres of corn remain unpicked, and to make matters worse, the corn is badly down this year.

H. J. Schlichting and Arthur Gibbs gave the printer something to be thankful for in the way of a subscription payment this week.

German M. E. Church Items

Henry Griewe was in Garner Monday between trains.

Chas. Lenz began clerking for Gruetzmacher Bros. Monday morning.

Mary Ahrenkiel was an over Sunday visitor with May Suckow in Germantown.

John Josten is having his heating plant in his house overhauled these days.

W. F. Lau and family of Garner, spent a few days in our burg, returning Monday.

Mrs. Wm. Wright, of Britt, was in our burg last Friday in the interest of the property of her brother, the late August Wenz.

Charley Lenz and family have now moved themselves into the Mrs. Lembgen house where they had their goods stored since last spring

Thanksgiving services will be held in Germantown Thursday at 10:30 a. m. and in Klemme in the evening. A collection will be taken at both services for the orphan homes.

Henry Ludeke is building up in the northwest part of town and almost ready to move in. Some inquisitive ones would like to know something about his plans but Henry seems indisposed to tell.

Rev. A. M. Brenner, a retired minister of the German M. E. church, passed away at his home in Charles City last Saturday and was buried Tuesday of this week. He was pastor of this charge from 1898 to 1901. He is still remembered by many as an earnest and faithful minister.

The inclement weather of the last two weeks has been something unusual for this part of the country and many of our farmers have been sadly disappointed. Only a few have finished their corn picking. Others have only a few days work to finish, but the storm of Sunday night brought so much snow that it is not possible to find the corn.

Pictures

See me when you want a Photograph

All kinds—inside or outdoor views. I make a specialty of photo postal cards, 75 cents a dozen. Good work at reasonable prices.

JOE MILLER, KLEMME IOWA

Col. J. J. Wilson
MESERVEY, IOWA
LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEER
Dates made at either bank in Klemme, Iowa. Terms reasonable.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist
Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.
2nd door west of State Savings Bank
☞ Call in

A Scalded Boy's Shrieks
horrified his grandmother, Mrs Maria Taylor, of Nebo, Ky., who writes that when all thought he would die, Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured him. Infallible for burns, scalds, cuts, corns boils, skin eruptions, chilblains, chapped hands. Soon routs piles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Phone No. 11. Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to calls day or night.
Eyes tested. Glasses fitted.

DOCTORS
GEO. ZINN EDGAR ZINN
Office: State Savings Bank
Phone No. 19
KLEMME - - IOWA

JOHN GRIEWE
City Meat Market
Dealer in
All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Headquarters for part of Heinz' Fifty-Seven Varieties. and Pickling Vinegar.
Try these goods; they are fine.

W. R. BLOOM
Buyer and Shipper of
Grain and Live Stock
Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.
Stock wanted 6 days in the week

RESTAURANT
Russel's Maple Nut Chocolates—Try them and you will buy nothing else.
Get one of our delicious Oyster Stews and you will become a regular customer.
HOME MADE BAKERY GOODS
A. Kirkwood & Son

UNITED STATES
Land and Irrigation Exposition
CHICAGO COLISEUM
November 20 to December 4, 1909
Will provide authoritative, graphic information about the vast opportunities now opening up in many States for homeseekers, farmers and investors.
There will be exhibits of the wonderful fruits of virgin soil from all sections.
Elaborate panoramas will show what is being done to irrigate, drain and cultivate it.

INTERNATIONAL
Live Stock Exposition
TENTH ANNIVERSARY
Chicago Union Stock Yards
November 27 to December 10, 1909
The world's greatest collection of prize-winning cattle, horses, sheep and hogs ever brought together will be on exhibition.
All the progress and all the best brains of the live stock industry will be there. Millions of dollars invested in the exhibits.
A liberal education. You can't afford to miss either event. Information as to fares on request.

Rock Island
T. A. WILLIAMS, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

Eating for Strength.

The greatest pleasure to be derived from eating is the pleasure one gets in the knowledge that his food is giving him greater strength and vitality.

Because of this fact there is a constant increase in the consumption of Quaker Oats; every time the strength making qualities of Quaker Oats have been tested by scientific investigation or by experiments in families it has been found to be a food without an equal.

It builds the muscles and brain without taxing the digestive organs; it costs so little anyone can afford it, and it is so carefully prepared and packed that it is absolutely pure and clean. A Quaker Oats eating family is always a healthy family. 11

Quaker Oats is packed in regular size packages and also in large size family packages. The latter very convenient for those not near the store.

THE "NEW" NOVEL.

"Have you read my last book, Mr. Goodchild?"

"Well, no—er—to tell the truth, my mother won't allow me to."

RECIPE FOR CATARRH.

Furnished by High Medical Authority. Gives Prompt Results.

The only logical treatment for catarrh is through the blood. A prescription which has recently proved wonderfully effective in hospital work is the following. It is easily mixed.

"One ounce compound syrup of Sarsaparilla; one ounce Toris compound; half pint first-class whiskey." These to be mixed by shaking well in a bottle, and used in tablespoon doses before each meal and at bedtime.

The incredients can be gotten from any well stocked druggist, or he will get them from his wholesale house.

Misery.

The neighbor's dog sits out on the front lawn and howls dismally. The man in the window looks out and yells: "Sh-h-h-, you beast!" The dog continues to howl. The man again comes to the window and this time hurls a shoe at the dog. Still the animal howls. Another shoe follows. The next day the man's wife goes around in her stocking feet because she can't find her shoes. The man hasn't the price of another pair of shoes for her, and the next night the dog howls louder than ever.

STATE OF OHIO CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY. }

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D., 1886.

{ SEAL }

A. W. GLEASON,
NOTARY PUBLIC.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Fighting the Slave Trade.

Although slave-trading is generally supposed to be a thing of the past, the United States contributes annually $100 as its share of the expense of keeping up at Brussels an institution known as the international bureau for the repression of the African slave trade.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Rather Opposite.

"Do you think your son will be an able factor in elevating the standard of living?"

"Able, nothing! He will do more in the line of raising Cain."—Baltimore American.

What's that clicking sound? Millions of white teeth—chewing fragrant WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT.

The best preparation for the future is the present well seen to, and the last duty well done.

Ladies who take pride in clear, white clothes should use the new RUSS BLUE. Sold by grocers.

To consider anything impossible that we cannot ourselves perform.

Chew WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT—promote saliva—release mint leaf juice. Fine for digestion!

Not to make allowances for the weaknesses of others.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

To believe only what our finite minds can grasp.

HILL WILL SPEAK

Railroad King Will Talk to Iowa Farmeas at Coliseum.

CORN SHOW, NOV. 29 TO DEC 11

Program for Big Exposition Is Now Being Arranged by the Officials —School Children Will Participate.

Des Moines, Nov. 22—James J. Hill of Minneapolis, the great railway king, will deliver an address at the Iowa corn exposition to be held in the Des Moines Coliseum from Nov. 29 to Dec. 11. While Mr. Hill has accepted the invitation extended by the Iowa Corn Growers' association the exact date of his visit to Des Moines has not been set.

The directors of the corn growers' association have arranged the program for the first five days of the big corn show which is expected to bring thousands of people from all parts of the state to Des Moines.

The school children of Des Moines will open the show on Saturday with a great parade on the river front and through the Coliseum. The children will carry stalks of corn and will be dressed in costumes made from corn leaves.

Sunday a sacred musical program will be given at 2 o'clock. The Sunday program will be opened by Dr. A. B. Storms, president of Ames college. The Rev. Charles Medbury of the University Church of Christ will speak and the Rev. Gertrude von Petzold will give a reading.

The formal opening of the corn exposition will be on Monday. The exposition will begin with John Sundberg of Whiting, president of the Iowa Corn Growers' association, in the chair. Jerry B. Sullivan of Des Moines will welcome the exhibitors and E. J. Curtin of the state agricultural society will respond together with Governor B. F. Carroll.

Monday will be grain men's day, and at the afternoon session Prof. H. G. Bell of Ames will preside. Papers will be read by the following: C. G. Messerole, Gowrie "Co-operation in Marketing Grain;" Prof. M. L. Bowman, Ames, "Improving Iowa's Oat Crop;" F. E. MacDonald, Waterloo, "Our Own Wheat, Our Own Mills;" George A. Wells, Des Moines, "Marketing Iowa's Surplus Grain," and Ed. N. Scharf, president of the St. Louis Merchants' exchange, will speak on "Future Competitors of American Grain Growers."

Tuesday will be devoted to the study of good roads. T. H. MacDonald will preside and papers will be read by the following: "The Present Condition of Iowa's Country Roads," Col. C. F. Baker of Council Bluffs; "Drainage as an Essential to Good Roads" Henry Houg, Jefferson; "Saving of the Cost of Farm Transportation by Good Roads," Walter Trueblood, president of the Iowa Thrashermen's association; "Iowa's Need for a Statewide Road Law," Senator C. G. Saunders, of Council Bluffs.

Wednesday will be education and home day. W. O. Riddell, superintendent of the Des Moines public schools, will preside. Papers will be read by the leading educators of the state.

"Organization day" is Thursday. Those who will speak are Henry Wallace of Des Moines, Prof. P. G. Holden of Ames, E. G. Orr of Harrison county and Oliver Wilson of Magnolia, Ill.

During the program the judges will pass upon the corn and grains.

Fine Iowa Stock Exhibited.

Cedar Rapids.—An address by Prof. C. F. Curtiss, dean of the state college at Ames was the feature of the second day's session of the Iowa dairymen's convetnion. Lectures by Charles L. Hill of Rosedale, Wis., and by Hugh G. Van Pelt, the state dairy expert were delivered. The livestock exhibit in connection with the convention has the largest number of high grade dairy cattle ever shown and is highly praised by the two hundred dairymen in attendance. All the sessions of the convention were well attended and the machinery and dairy products exhibition well patronized.

Holds City Must Pay Riot Loss.

Iowa City.—Manager Swan of the Coldren theater will hold the city of Iowa City liable for $60 damages inflicted upon his opera house by the rioters. Mayor Otto declared that the city would probably stand for the loss. All other damage inflicted by the mob was insured.

Dies While Sitting on Coal Wagon.

Des Moines.—William Barkley, driver for a coal company died as the result of heart disease while driving his team along Locust street. His horses continued plodding along and their master's body remained upright in the wagon seat.

Boone Druggists Haled Into Court.

Boone.—George H. Welsh, C. H. Munsen, Maurice Fitzgerald and the Elliott-Wilson Drug company. Boone drug firms, were cited to appear before Judge Lee at the next term of court to answer injunction proceedings brought by County Attorney Cederquist at the request of Judge Albrook, to have their liquor permits revoked, the charge being that they have violated the statute regarding filing requests with the county auditor. It is claimed that requests were not properly filled out and signed.

An Unusual Operation.

Marshalltown.—As a result of his fall on Aug. 17 last, when he attempted to board a Buffalo Bill train and fell striking his back on a car step, 17 year old Howard Guthrie, son of S. C. Guthrie, manager of the Standard Oil company here, submitted to the removal of one of the kidneys. The kidney had ruptured as a result of the blow, and had become gangrenous. The boy is in a critical condition, but if he can survive the next few days it is believed he will make a permanent recovery.

Phone Officers Elected.

Iowa City.—At a postponed meeting of the stockholders of the Johnson County Telephone company the following officers were elected: President, C. E. Hall, of Des Moines; vice president, G. E. McFarland, of Des Moines; secretary-treasurer, J. M. Rider; directors, Glen Averill, J. H. Shoemaker G. E. McFarland, J. M. Rider, C. E. Hall. The election designates the new control of the Bell system over the old mutual line of this county. The city subscribers will vote on the proposed consolidation of the two systems.

Forger at Perry.

Perry.—The Rall company Ryan Bros., James Dickerson, Mrs. Weidman, and probably some other Perry people are looking for one Bert Bourasse and any information concerning his whereabouts will be gratefully received. Not content with robbing his employers, Bourasse took advantage of the absence of his roommate, James Dickerson, and appropriated an overcoat, watch and chain and a diamond ring. He also got away with a ring belonging to Mrs. Weidman, and forgot to settle his board bill.

Rich Farmer Hangs Himself.

Sigourney.—John Dilan, a wealthy farmer living four miles northwest of here, committed suicide by hanging himself in the hay loft of his home. He was about 50 years old and leaves a wife and six children. He was well liked in the community but was extremely quiet and reserved and made few close friends. He recently sold his farm here and invested in land in Blackhawk county and is said to have regretted making the change. It is supposed he brooded over it until his mind became unbalanced.

Dog Attacks Child.

Fonda.—John Downing, aged 8, was attacked and terribly hurt by a big dog owned by E. S. Sayr. A large portion of the scalp was torn from the boy's head and flung aside by the dog. The animal then began to chew one of the boy's shoulders and later started to gnaw at one of the legs, tearing away the flesh from the knee to the ankle. The dog was of mixed Collie and St. Bernard and was shot by the city marshal.

Iowa Lawyer Barred.

Centerville.—Judge Anderson in district court has suspended John B. Smith from the practice of law for two years, after finding him guilty of attempting to deceive the court by altering freight and storage receipts and the assignment in one piano attachment case and swearing to them as costs in another similar case. Smith was admitted to the bar in Missouri.

Insurance Men in Convention.

Des Moines.—The annual convention of the Iowa Mutual Tornado Insurance association was held in Woodmen lodge hall. More than seventy-five insurance men from over the state were in attendance. N. Densmore was elected president; Alex Hartley, vice president; J. B. Herriman, secretary, and John Cooper, treasurer.

Fire in Mason City Tile Plant.

Mason City.—Fire which burned all night did $5,000 damage to the plant of the North Iowa Brick and Tile company. One hundred and seventy cars were burned and thousands of new made tile destroyed. The interior was gutted. Fire at the same time at the Unique Dye works did $1,000 damage.

Caboose of Freight Train Burns.

Mason City, Ia., Nov. 19—The caboose of an Iowa Central freight train was burned here. The fire started from the stove which was knocked over by a jolt from a switch engine. The men had hard work to save the train. Conductor Worley was in charge.

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indelicate. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and so they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely progresses from bad to worse.

It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in his offer of FREE consultation by letter. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores and regulates the womanly functions, abolishes pain and builds up and puts the finishing touch of health on every weak woman who gives it a fair trial.

It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

20,000 FOR FREE TRIA

$4.50 VALUE FOR $1.45

It's the Blade that does the wo

TEN DAYS' FREE TR

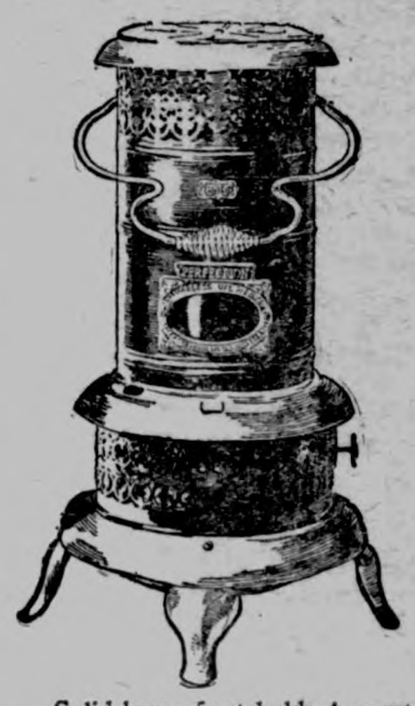
IF YOUR DEALER DOES NOT HANDLE OUR

Clean Cutter Razor And you want the cleanest cutting, smoothest shaving razor made, send your name and address and we will mail you, postage paid, this unexce
Clean Cutter Razor For a ten days' free trial. After trying it and you are fully satisfied m us $1.45. If unsatisfactory please return to us and there will be no cha
We Make This Low Price In order to introduce one of the best and easiest shav razors ever made. Try it.
We Guarantee It to Please You It has a black handle, ¾-inch blade, ¾ hollow grou round point. Every razor is set ready for u Carefully tested and inspected before leaving factory.
You Cannot Afford to Shave With a poor razor when you can get the best made a price far below its value.
With Each Razor We include a folder giving instructions how to shave with comfort, how to strop a razor. In ordering write your name and address plai and mail at once to

CLEAN CUTTER COMPANY, 234 La Salle St., Chicago, I

From Arctic to Tropics

in Ten Minutes



No oil heater has a higher efficiency or greater heating power than the

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

With it you can go from the cold of the Arctic to the warmth of the Tropics in 10 minutes.

The new

Automatic Smokeless Device

prevents smoking. Removed in an instant for cleaning.

Solid brass font holds 4 quarts of oil—sufficient to give out a glowing heat for 9 hours—solid brass wick carriers—damper top—cool handle—oil indicator. Heater beautifully finished in nickel or Japan in a variety of styles.

Every Dealer Everywhere. If Not At Yours, Write for Descriptive Circular to the Nearest Agency of the

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
(Incorporated)

W. L. DOUGLAS

$3.00 $3.50 & $4.00 SHOES

Wear W. L. Douglas comfortable, easy walking, common sense shoes. A trial will convince any one that W. L. Douglas shoes hold their shape, fit better and wear longer than other makes.

They are made upon honor, of the best leathers, by the most skilled workmen, in all the latest fashions, shoes in every style and shape to suit men in all walks of life.

CAUTION! The genuine have W. L. Douglas name and price stamped on bottom, which guarantees full value and protects the wearer against high prices and inferior shoes.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

BOYS' SHOES $2.00 & $2.50

Wherever you live, W. L. Douglas shoes are within your reach. If your dealer cannot fit you, write for Mail Order Catalog. W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.

RESINOL

stops itching. Is the most effective application known for eczema. The best dressing for burns or scalds, a prompt and effectual remedy in all forms of inflammation, eruptions and irritation of the skin. 50 cents a jar, all druggists or sent direct on receipt of price. A certain cure for itching piles.

RESINOL CHEMICAL COMPANY, BALTIMORE, MD.

"I have found in my experience nothing to equal RESINOL for all diseases of the skin." S. S. Stewart, Stewart Station, Pa.

1,000,000 RAW FUR SKINS WANTED

for my manufacturing and exporting trade. Skunk, Mink, Muskrat and others. Top prices. Write for special quotations.

A. E. BURKHARDT
International Fur Merchant,
CINCINNATI, O.

PATENTS OBTAINED OR NO CHARGE MADE
Send sketch for free search and report, also Guide Book. E. P. BUNYEA CO., Washington, D. C.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT THE FLAVOR LASTS

MILLIONS

OF WOMEN

Regard Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment as unrivaled for Preserving, Purifying and Beautifying the Skin, Scalp, Hair and Hands, for Sanative, Antiseptic Cleansing and for the Nursery.

Sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27, Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5, Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney; India, B. K. Paul, Calcutta; China, Hong Kong Drug Co.; Japan, Maruya, Ltd., Tokio; Russia, Ferrein, Moscow; So. Africa, Lennon, Ltd., Cape Town, etc.; U.S.A., Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

Post Free, Cuticura Booklet on the Skin

WESTERN CANADA

What Prof. Shaw, the Well-Known Agriculturist, Says About It:

"I would sooner raise cattle in Western Canada than in the corn belt of the United States. Feed is cheaper and climate better for the purpose. Your market will improve faster than your farmers will produce the supplies. Wheat can be grown up to the 60th parallel [800 miles north of the International boundary]. Your vacant land will be taken at a rate beyond present conception. We have enough people in the United States alone who want homes to take up this land." Nearly

70,000 Americans

will enter and make their homes in Western Canada this year.

1909 produced another large crop of wheat, oats and barley, in addition to which the cattle exports was an immense item.

Cattle raising, dairying, mixed farming and grain growing in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Free homestead and pre-emption areas, as well as lands held by railway and land companies, will provide homes for millions.

Adaptable soil, healthful climate, splendid schools and churches, and good railways.

For settlers' rates, descriptive literature "Last Best West," how to reach the country and other particulars, write to Sup't of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or to the Canadian Government Agent.

E. T. Holmes, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; W. V. Bennett, 801 N. Y. Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

(Use address nearest you) (2)

WRIGLEY WRIGLEY WRIGLEY

FROM
WINTER TO SUMMER
Three Ideal Winter Cruises to the

WEST INDIES

etc., 16 and 28 days duration, by twin-screw S. S. MOLTKE (12,500 tons) during January, February, and March. Also cruises to the Orient and South America.

P. O. Box 1777

HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINE

41-45 Broadway - - - New York

Get More for Furs

One shipment will convince you that we pay the highest prices for furs—from 20% to 40% more in actual cash than any other house. We do not pad our price list to tempt the trapper, but grade each skin honestly and pay the highest prices possible on this basis.

We furnish traps, bait and other supplies at cost. Send today for Free Catalog O and Market Reports and we'll give you absolutely free our new "Trapper's Guide," containing nearly 100 pages of valuable tips and secrets. Largest in the world in our line.

(2) Funsten Bros. & Co., 143 Elm St., St. Louis, Mo.

You Can Shave Yourself With
NO STROPPING NO HONING

TRADE Gillette MARK

KNOWN THE WORLD OVER

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT PEPSIN GUM

NEED OF ACCURACY

IF ONE WOULD GET SUCCESSFUL RESULTS IN COOKING.

Good Materials and Correct Measurements Absolutely Necessary—Measuring Spoons and Cups Best for Beginner.

BY JESSIE A. E. BESAW

Director Department of Domestic Science and Art, National Corn Exposition, Omaha, Neb.

Successful results in cooking can only be obtained by the use of good materials and correct measurements. One may have cooked enough to be able to measure with a fair degree of accuracy with the eye, but a beginner will do well to go back to first principles and use measuring spoons and cups.

It is not worth while to try to memorize many recipes, but it is a good plan to have some basic principles in the mind upon which to work in case one has not a recipe at hand.

Using the griddle cake as a batter foundation, the proportion of liquid to flour will be 1½ parts of flour to two parts of wetting.

For a muffin, 1½ parts of flour to one part of wetting.

For a plain cake, two cups of pastry flour to one-half cup of wetting.

In doughs, just enough flour to knead.

Because of the variation in flours the wetting should be held back, making the flour the basis of the mixture.

In the use of baking powder, the rule is one level teaspoon of baking powder to one cup of wheat flour, 1½ teaspoons of baking powder to one cup of corn meal, and two-thirds teaspoonful of soda to two cups of sour milk. If milk is only slightly sour, two-thirds of a tea spoon to two cups of milk will give sufficiency.

Eggs and shortening may be varied to suit conditions. Batter mixtures can be made without eggs, but are of course not so good. Butterine can be used in place of butter and the results are just as good.

Crumb Griddle Cakes.

One cup flour, one-half teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon baking powder. Sift together.

One cup sour milk, one cup stale bread crumbs, one cup sweet milk. Mash together and allow to stand until soft; then sift in flour and leavening agents.

Simplicity in Dress.

A great French authority on dress asserted once that no ornament in the way of a bow or even a button should be allowed to appear on a dress without some definite object. He argued, with a great show of reason that the bow should tie two pieces of ribbon together, and that the button should actually pass through a buttonhole. It would be as well sometimes if these principles could be carried into practice, if only to prevent such foolish forms of trimming as those long rows of many buttons which played a conspicuous part on many of the summer gowns, in some cases giving them exactly the appearance of a draper's show card, upon which samples of buttons are displayed.

Potato Fricassee.

If you are tired of the old ways of cooking the inevitable potato, which in most families forms part of the daily menu, despite doctors and dread of flesh, why not try a fricassee? It is a favorite method of cooking them in a certain Italian family, and is delicious.

Cut new potatoes, which have been peeled, into small squares or flute them with a fluting knife. Put a tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan, fry in it a small onion sliced, salt and plenty of paprica. Cook onion until a light brown; then add potatoes; cover with water and cook until the water has boiled away, when the potatoes should be soft and mealy.

Plain Orange Salad.

Housekeepers who are canny in other directions too often forget that a heavy salad is out of place at the dinner table. Plain orange salad served with French dressing on lettuce leaves cannot be improved upon for most persons by any admixture. Diced pineapple with orange is always delicious, and for variety peaches or pears may be added. Large ripe alligator pears, at their best now in the fancy fruit shops, are one of the possibilities.

Ginger Cakes.

Two sifters of flour, one pint of lard, a little salt; rub together; one pint of Orleans molasses, two eggs, one cupful of sugar, one-half pint of sour milk, one quart of hot water, tablespoonful of ginger, two tablespoonfuls of soda; dissolve soda in milk or hot water, which ever you use.

To Smooth Irons.

Tack a piece of sandpaper on the end of the ironing board to smooth the iron

A NURSE'S EXPERIENCE.

Backache, Pains in the Kidneys, Bloating, Etc., Overcome.

A nurse is expected to know what to do for common ailments, and women who suffer backache, constant languor, and other common symptoms of kidney complaint, should be grateful to Mrs. Minnie Turner, of E. B. St., Anadarko, Okla., for pointing out the way to find quick relief. Mrs. Turner used Doan's Kidney Pills for a run-down condition, backache, pains in the sides and kidneys, bloated limbs, etc. "The way they have built me up is simply marvelous," says Mrs. Turner, who is a nurse. "My health improved rapidly. Five boxes did so much for me I am telling everybody about it."

Remember the name—Doan's. Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Afterward.

Bachelor—Are wives as expensive as they are said to be?

Matrimony Victim—Not while they are wives.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM

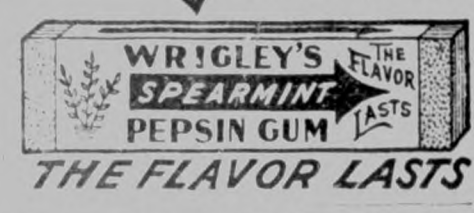
will cure that cough, a fresh cold, but one of those stubborn coughs that usually hang on for months. Give it a trial and prove its worth. 25c, 50c and $1.00.

A philosophical man when considering his own troubles isn't.

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. The favorite family laxative.

Not to alleviate if we can all that needs alleviation.

YOU WON'T GET REAL JUICE



THE FLAVOR LASTS

A Physician Says of

UNCLE SAM Breakfast Food

AS A CURE FOR CONSTIPATION

"In a number of cases of Constipation in my practice it has given very good results. Several patients claim to be entirely relieved of severe constipation by its use."

Dr. J. T. M.
(Name on request.)

If you don't know its merits
ASK YOUR GROCER ABOUT IT
HE CERTAINLY KNOWS
U. S. B. F. Co., Omaha

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

For Nursing Mothers and the Baby A-B-C TEA 25cts. All Dealers. 25cts.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

There's Nothing to Equal Old Dutch Cleanser For Cleaning Milk Pails

Milk Pans and Tins, Cream Separators, and all Kichen and Cooking Utensils. This pure mineral Cleanser is entirely free from caustic and acid, and cleans mechanically, not chemically. It is the best all-'round cleanser ever discovered. It keeps everything about the house and farm spick and span, and saves the farmer and his wife much labor, time and expense.

Cleans Scrubs Scours Polishes

wood floors, painted and unpainted woodwork, farm implements, machinery, etc.

If your dealer doesn't keep it, send us his name and 10c in stamps (regular price) for a full-size can.

Large, Sifter Can, 10c

CUDAHY—MAKER—OMAHA

PEARSON'S MAGAZINE

in every issue deals exhaustively with the great subjects of national and international importance. One-half of the magazine is devoted to the great questions of the day—the other half to the best short stories obtainable. If you're not reading Pearson's you're missing a real treat.

GUY de MAUPASSANT KING OF ALL SHORT STORY WRITERS

8 Volumes, Illustrated—Size, 4 1-2 x 7 inches—
OVER 200 COMPLETE STORIES—and

PEARSON'S MAGAZINE for One Year

Only $3.60 Delivered FREE

Most Exceptional Offer—LIMITED NUMBER

FRENCH authors have written many lively tales, which because of false conventional modesty, have been, until recent translations, unknown to those who read only English. Prudish modesty and unfair prejudice have deprived us of the merriest and liveliest tales ever written. Maupassant was the one man in France who, because of his environment and temperament, could write truly the realistic scenes of REAL PARISIAN LIFE so fascinatingly as to rivet your attention to his merry tales, to the exclusion of everything else.

Maupassant's eventful career gave him ideas, situations and local color for his unsurpassed stories. Strong in imagination, overflowing with natural enthusiasm and passion in his study of human life and phases of human conduct, things really happening—not as we imagine they might or as we would—BUT THE REAL DOINGS OF LIFE—is what Maupassant always gives us.

Poe describes the unusual, the unnatural, the impossible; Maupassant, the real, the natural, the possible, holding a mirror up to nature. His dramatic instinct, his situations and his climaxes are overwhelming. He always fixes upon the one thing of most human-soul interest and makes it as vivid as any stage scene. These absorbing stories should be in every library—tales of travel, mystery, adventure, comedy, pathos and tragedy, love and realism.

EIGHT BEAUTIFUL VOLUMES of the Most Fascinating Reading in the World. Contains over 2,500 pages, more than 300 pages to the volume, printed from a new cast of 8-point type, large and clear, on pure white antique paper, made specially for this edition. Pages are wide, with liberal margins, illustrated with specially made line-cut frontispieces, bound in de luxe art cloth, backs and sides stamped with an ornamental design.

WE GUARANTEE that this edition is the first printing from brand-new type and illustration plates.

PEARSON'S MAGAZINE is famous in two hemispheres for its fiction. It has the best that is written. The writers of stories appearing now include: Ruth McEnery Stuart, Charles Belmont Davis, Arthur Stringer, E. Phillips Oppenheim, Morgan Robertson, Inez G. Thompson, Margaret Busbee Shipp, Eleanor Stuart, Theodore Roberts, Joseph C. Lincoln, Philip Verrill Mighels, Robert Barr, George A. Birmingham, George Pattullo, Richard Barry, Casper Day.

CUT HERE. Mail at once.

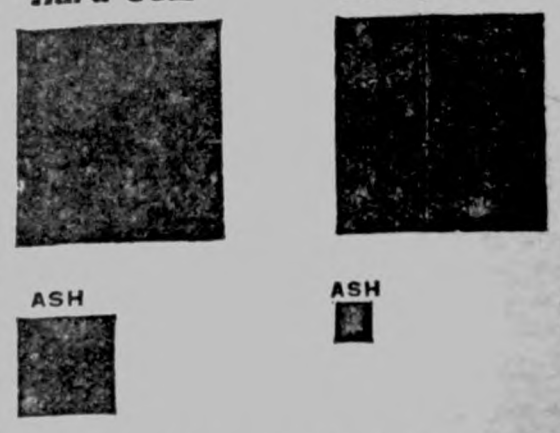
Dept. 8
Pearson's Magazine.
N. Y. City

Enclosed find $3.60. Send me the 8-vol. set of De Maupassant and Pearson's Magazine for one year.

Name.....

Address.....

A Couple of Tons



Hard coal is expensive—at least 23% is waste.

Solvay Coke is economical—practically pure carbon, the heat element.

Figure it over!

One of hard coal and one of Solvay Coke. The coal is only 77% fixed carbon and costs 20% more than Solvay Coke—the coke is 90% fixed carbon and costs 20% less than hard coal.

Buy Milwaukee

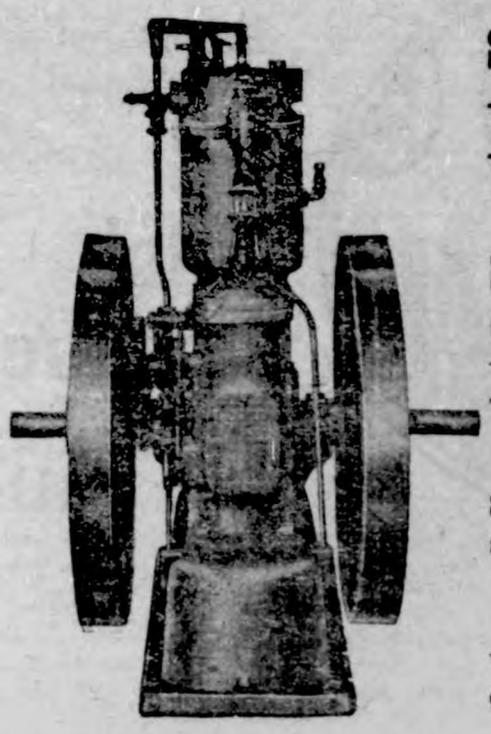
Solvay Coke

"The Fuel without a Fault"

It is smokeless, sootless and clinkerless—a clean fuel. Ideal for heating or cooking—always dependable.

2,000 dealers in the Northwest sell Milwaukee Solvay Coke—all sizes—ask your dealer, and write for interesting booklet of coke information to

PICKANDS, BROWN & COMPANY
Colby-Abbot Bldg., - - Milwaukee Wisconsin



Save work, worry, money by using a

STOVER GASOLINE ENGINE

Made right—sold right. Send for an illustrated catalog of our

ENGINES

wind mills and feed grinders.

Sandwich Mfg. Co.

Mason City, Iowa — General Agents

The City Dray Line

We wish to announce that we have purchased the dray line from Ell Bros. and ask a continuation of your valued patronage. We will do all hauling entrusted to us promptly and carefully. Give us a trial.

ELL & SONS, Klemme, Iowa

One Way of Love

By Jennette Lee

This is the title of a fascinating love tragedy of the present day that is about to be published in this paper. If you want to read—

One Way of Love that has never been told before—

One Way of Love that is different from the others—

One Way of Love that carries a charm in the telling—

One Way of Love with a tragic denouement—watch for the opening chapter of the interesting story which will appear in this paper within the next few days.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE TIMES

READY FOR CROWDS

All Chicago Prepared to Entertain the Visitors to Land Exposition.

Never Such an Interest in Land and Irrigation Before—All Parts of the Country Responding to the Call to the Great Land Rally.

When the Chicago Tribune first proposed the Land and Irrigation Exposition the public little realized the furor it would create throughout the country. The emissaries of the exposition management have gone into every western state and aroused an interest that will have its climax on the opening day of the coming show.

Other representatives were sent throughout the east and south, calling to this great convocation everyone who is interested in land development.

The work has gone on and on with such energy and united effort that the coming event will be one of the greatest in Chicago since the Columbian exposition in 1893.

Approximately half a million dollars will be expended on this magnificent display of western and southern products and the marvelous possibilities in the states of the west and south.

Never has an exposition been undertaken in Chicago where the entire scheme of installation has been planned on such a harmonious scale. The great Coliseum will be a thing of beauty throughout its vast interior. The decorations will be true to the spirit of the whole enterprise. Coming as this exposition does at the time of the International Live Stock Show, Nov. 20 to Dec. 4, Chicago will offer, as theatrical people express it, a "double bill" to the people of the country. It is the greatest "combined show" of the period.

All the railroads centering in Chicago, and all of their connections at distant points have prepared for a large traffic in view of the widespread interest which this exposition has created.

Chicago is unquestionably the greatest land center in America. All of the large companies which are developing the country have their headquarters here, and it is entirely fitting that Chicago should take the lead in planning and carrying out an exposition on the grand scale which is now reaching a stage of completion. There will be no disappointment for the coming visitor. The vastness of our land interests will amaze those who consider themselves familiar with this nation's development.

The orchards of the northwest and the central mountain districts; the great stock ranches of Montana and other states; the orange groves and peach orchards of California; the rich valley lands of Arizona where all subtropical fruits grow in such wonderful abundance; the great coastal plains of Texas and Louisiana with their vast sugar and rice plantations, will all be represented in the exhibits, and the homeseeker may have a choice of countless opportunities which these various regions offer.

The United States government is lending its aid to this enterprise and will have numerous exhibits. The great work of drainage and irrigation and the equally important work of soil survey and crop production will all be in charge of experts who will give first-hand information to every inquirer. It will be a splendid school for everyone who is at all interested in the great land movement of the present day.

The invitation to attend this exposition is extended to everyone by Chicago, and by the Tribune management, to whose energies and financial support the country is indebted for this magnificent enterprise.

CHICAGO'S BIG LAND BANQUET

Distinguished Men from Many States Will Attend the Land and Irrigation Exposition, and Be Royally Entertained.

A feature of the Land and Irrigation Exposition to be held in Chicago, Nov. 20 to Dec. 4, will be a banquet to distinguished men who have shown a marked interest in irrigation and other forms of land development. Among those invited to this affair are President Taft and cabinet, governors of many states, particularly those of the west and southwest; Hon. James J. Hill, and other distinguished railroad men; Arthur Stillwell, of Kansas City, Mo.; E. B. Ripley of the Santa Fe railroad; Edwin Hawely, B. F. Yoakum, George Gould, William K. Vanderbilt, C. K. G. Billings, Gage E. Tarbell, J. Pierpont Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, F. H. Newell of the reclamation service, Dr. W. J. McGee and others.

Not in many years has there been such feeling of enthusiasm over the development of our country's resources as at the present time. Scientists, financiers and men of all walks of life are turning to the land as the source of all our supplies and as affording a means of outdoor life and health. The great exposition in Chicago, under the auspices of the Chicago Tribune, will afford the opportunity for a great gathering of the forces that are doing so much for the irrigation and reclamation of what formerly were considered our waste lands.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia. — Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia. — E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia. — John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Books — Letter Heads
Pamphlets — Envelopes

Everything printed from

TYPE

At the Times office.

Cards — Bill Heads
Invitations — Posters

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

Just Dust it on the Sore
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom. Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail.
Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER Co.
(25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

THE CHILDREN LIKE IT
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE
COUGH SYRUP

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 18 KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 2. 1909. $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

OF COURSE

You are going to attend the Public Sale of

Curtis H. Luick

to be held on the F. L. Lemke farm one mile north and 3½ miles east of Goodell, on THURSDAY, DECEMBER 9

Commencing at 1 o'clock p m. sharp:

7 Horses
14 Cattle
17 Thrifty Shoats
Machinery
10 tons hay
800 bu. corn in crib, etc.

P. M. Griesemer, Clerk Col. J. J. Wilson, Auctioneer

USUAL TERMS

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

A CONVINCER

The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.
We claim for our lumber and building material that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.
May we figure on your next lumber bill?

J. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

THORNTON BOY IS A FOOT BALL VICTIM

John C. Peters Died at Sioux City Hospital as Result of Injuries Received in Scrimmage a Week Before.

A dispatch from Sioux City, Iowa, under date of Nov. 25th, says:

John C. Peters, of Thornton, Iowa, the Morningside College foot ball player who was injured in a scrimmage a week ago, died early this morning in a local hospital.

At the last he was conscious and there was a very touching scene in which he parted with his parents, his sweetheart, Miss Edith Gillin, and his college chums. The college, which had been earnestly hoping for his recovery, is today wrapped in gloom. The Thanksgiving day game with the University of South Dakota was cancelled.

PUBLIC AUCTION

As I have decided to quit farming, I will sell at Public Auction on the F. L. Lemke farm, 1 mile north and 3¼ miles east of Goodell, and 2 miles north and 3½ miles west of Meservey, on

THURSDAY, DEC. 9, 1909,

Commencing at 1 o'clock p. m. sharp, the following property:

7 Horses—Gray horse 5 years old wt 1250, bay mare with foal 8 years old wt 1100, bay horse 2 years old wt 1150, gray horse 14 years old wt 1200, spring colt, bay mare 3 years old wt 1350, bay horse 3 years old weight 1350.

14 Cattle— Consisting of 6 milch cows all giving milk, will be fresh soon; two 2-year-old steers, three 1-year-old heifers, 3 spring calves.

17 thrifty Shoats.
Lot of Farm Machinery.
10 tons good wild hay.
800 bu. corn in crib.
50 Chickens, etc. etc.
Usual terms.

Curtis H. Luick. Proprietor
Col. J. J. Wilson, Auct.
P. M. Griesemer, Clerk.

One on the Editor

A joke is told on an editor who went one evening to report a party at a home recently blessed with a new baby. He met his hostess at the door and after the usual salutations he asked after the baby's health. The lady who was quite deaf and suffering with the grip, thought he was asking after her cold and answered that although she usually had one every winter this was the worst one she ever had; it kept her awake at night a good deal and at first confined her to bed. Then noticing that the newspaper man was getting nervous she said she could tell by his looks that he was going to have one just like hers and asked him to go in and sit down.

SCHOOL NOTES

Roy Schaefer, Will Ridder and Fred Blank are the latest pupils to enroll.

In the 11th grade Fern Suckow ranks 1. In the 10th grade Esther Lenz ranks 1. Next month we may give 1st, 2nd and 3rd rank in the several grades.

The following pupils were neither absent nor tardy during the past school month ending Nov. 26th:

High School Room—John Weiland, Verner Lewis, Esther Lenz, Esther Bloom, Oscar Musfelt, Hattie Musfelt, Holly Lewis, Clarence Waterman, Bennie Ridder.

Intermediate Room-Harold Gruetzmacher, Ella Ridder, Paul Achtermann, Ada Bowker, Lloyd Lau, Miriam Achtermann, Levi Ridder, Cyrus Griewe, Herold Ridder, Donna Baumgartner, Viva Ridder, George Musfelt, Cora Lau, Howard Terhufen.

Primary Room — Linda Musfelt, Ariel Achtermann, Mark Achtermann, Florence Bowker, Frank Bowker, Sadie Bowker, Ewald Lau, Erwin Lau, Albert Lau, Glen Terhufen, Mabel Waterman, Elmer Larsen.

FIVE times a year this Bank is required to make sworn statements of its condition to the Government. This statement must account for every cent of its depositors,' as well as its own monies.....

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

Alone in Saw Mill at Midnight

unmindful of dampness, drafts, storms or cold, W J Atkins worked as Night Watchman, at Banner Springs, Tenn. Such exposure gave him a severe cold that settled on his lungs. At last he had to give up work. He tried many remedies but all failed till he used Dr. King's New Discovery. "After using one bottle," he writes, "I went back to work as well as ever." Severe colds, stubborn coughs, inflamed throats and sore lungs, hemorrhages, croup and whooping cough get quick relief and prompt cure from this glorious medicine. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

GOODELL

From the Globe:

Mrs. Dave Finn went to Estherville Wednesday to visit with relatives.

Mr. Blank, the new section foreman is now living over the State Savings Bank.

Miss Gertie Parker went to Klemme, Saturday, where she will teach school this winter.

Ernest Wilkins is suffering from a slight attack of typhoid fever at the home of his mother.

The home talent play at the opera house Saturday evening was well attended and all were well pleased.

Elmer Boren, who has been suffering for the past three months, went to Illinois a couple of weeks ago. We understand he has had to have his thumb amputated.

H. F. Freeman and family left Tuesday for Mason City where they expect to make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman have lived here the past three years and have many friends who regret to see them leave.

Rich Men's Gifts Are Poor

beside this: "I want to go on record as saying that I regard Electric Bitters as one of the greatest gifts that God has made to woman," writes Mrs. O. Rhinevault of Vestal Center, N.Y. "I can never forget what it has done for me." This glorious medicine gives a woman buoyant spirits, vigor of body and jubilant health. It quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache fainting and dizzy spells; soon builds up the weak, ailing and sickly. Try them. 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

MESERVEY

From the Messenger:

Mother Starnes is still on the sick list.

Miss Erma Nissen is on the sick list this week.

Rob Courtney is assisting A. J. Nissen in the Farmers Savings Bank.

Miss Nellie Myers is reported quite sick with appendicitis. At this writing she is resting easier.

Herman Gruis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gruis, has been suffering several days with blood poison.

Miss Luella Hanson who has been spending a couple of months with her sister, Mrs. Albert Paul, returned to her home at Zumbrota, Minn. yesterday, accompanied by her little niece, Miss Ruth Paul.

The farmer's wife who has been successful in raising a good flock of turkeys will be amply rewarded for her pains. The great American bird of feasts commands a high price this year.

Looking One's Best

It's a woman's delight to look her best, but pimples, skin eruptions, sores and boils rob life of joy. Listen! Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them; makes the skin soft and velvety. It glorifies the face. Cures pimples, sore eyes, cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands. Try it. Infallible for piles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

BRITT

From the News:

Miss Marie Hendrickson has been confined to her home the past week with tonsilitis.

Born, on Thursday, Nov. 18, 1909 to Mr. and Mrs. Alva Arnett, a daughter.

S. L. Lamoreaux expects to leave soon for Titonka to make his future home. He has sold his property to L. Martin.

Victor Nelson is assisting in the Citizens Bank.

The Britt band has reorganized and again engaged Fritz Granzou of Algona, for their leader.

Miss Alice Turner has given up her school and taken a position in C. P. Lewis' dry goods store.

Last Sunday night Philo and Eugene Blake, while driving along the grade in section 36, Bingham township, got off the road into the water and one of their horses was drowned. They tried to get help from J. F. Engleman who lives near by, but they did not arrive until the animal was dead. Neighbors say there is water along this grade almost all the year round and that it is a dangerous place especially at night.

Stung for 15 Years

by Indigestion's pangs— trying many doctors and $200.00 worth of medicine in vain, B F Ayscue of Ingleside, N. C. at last used Dr. King's New Life Pills, and writes they wholly cured him. They cure constipation, biliousness, sick headache, stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Notice of Appointment of Administrator

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been duly appointed and qualified as Administrator of the Estate of August H. Wenz, late of Hancock County, State of Iowa, deceased. All persons indebted to the estate are requested to make immediate payment; and those having claims against the same will present them, duly authenticated, to the undersigned, for allowance.

Dated at Garner, Iowa, November 12th, A. D. 1909.

GEO. H. WESSEL, Administrator.
16-3. J. E. WICHMAN, Attorney.

Do your Christmas shopping early and get the choicest bargains.

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, - - - - IOWA

IMPORTANT NEWS NOTES OF A WEEK

LATEST HAPPENINGS THE WORLD OVER TOLD IN ITEMIZED FORM.

EVENTS HERE AND THERE

Condensed Into a Few Lines for the Perusal of the Busy Man—Latest Personal Information.

PERSONAL.

J. Wilbur Chapman, the American evangelist, and Charles Alexander, the singer, who have just completed a tour of Australia and the orient, arrived at Victoria, B. C., on the steamer Empress of China.

Mrs. W. F. Goodspeed and Miss Helen Deshler of Columbus, O., have arrived in New York after making a trip around the world unattended. They say a world trip is just as safe for women alone as going from one city to another.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and children have returned home from their European tour.

Miss Bessie Wood Aspinwall of Newburg, N. Y., and Lieut. Hayden W. Wagner, U. S. A., of Dekalb, Ill., were married at Newburg.

James L. Davenport, first deputy commissioner of pensions, has been appointed commissioner, to succeed Vespasian Warner, resigned.

President Taft has named Chief Justice W. J. Mills of the New Mexico supreme court, as governor of that territory.

Baron Rosen, Russian ambassador to the United States, and the baroness sailed on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie from Cherbourg for New York.

Miss Annette Gardner Munro of Portland, Ore., has been selected as dean of the women's department of the University of Rochester.

The resignation of Vespasian Warner, as United States pension commissioner, has been accepted by President Taft. Mr. Warner resigned because of the illness of his son.

The duke of Roxburghe fell and broke his right leg while riding with the Quorn hounds. The duchess, who formerly was May Goelet of New York, is at his bedside.

Admiral Seymour of the British fleet presented the flagship Inflexible with a silver bowl for its wardroom to commemorate the battleship's part in the Hudson-Fulton celebration at New York.

John G. Carlisle, ill in St. Vincent's hospital in New York, is showing noted improvement.

GENERAL NEWS.

Records which Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the arctic explorer, will submit to the University of Copenhagen to prove his claim that he reached the north pole April 21, 1908, were in the possession of Walter Lonsdale, Cook's secretary when he sailed from New York on the steamer United States for Denmark.

Vote on the English budget has been postponed for a week because many peers desired to speak on the bill, thus upsetting the plan for an early prorogation of parliament outlined by the house of commons.

After 150 more bodies had been discovered in the Cherry (Ill.) mine efforts to carry them to the surface were abandoned because flames threatened the main shaft. Efforts on the part of the Chicago firemen to put out the fire proving futile, the mine was once more sealed and it is probable that the bodies of the dead miners will be incinerated. All hope that any of the men are alive in the shaft has been abandoned.

The disabled steamer Puritan was safely towed to South Chicago after a 24-hour struggle in a storm on Lake Michigan. Many of her 40 passengers and some of the crew were exhausted by the storm of the many hours in which the boat drifted in the trough of the sea.

The ship subsidy bill will be passed at the coming session of congress and without much opposition. The senate, where the measure has always been blocked, the friends of the bill claim, will not oppose its passage to any great extent.

A lull has come in the Nicaragua proceedings as the state department has been advised that President Zelaya's report on the shooting of the two Americans will arrive on the next steamer. However, the gunboat Princeton has been ordered to sail for Corinto as soon as repairs on the vessel have been completed.

Thomas C. Giddings, assistant weigher of the New York customs house, has been arrested on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the importation of figs. Collector Loeb discharged ten more employes, making 83 men dropped since March 9.

President Taft has not written his message to congress nor any part of it, although that body will assemble in a week's time.

Constable James H. Dobbs narrowly escaped lynching at Columbus, Ill., after he had shot and killed William Thompson, his neighbor, during a quarrel of their children.

In a speech at Chicago Mrs. Emmeline Parkhurst, the noted English suffragette, advised her audience to win woman's suffrage by force and advocated stone-throwing and other drastic measures to secure to women the ballot.

The Philadelphia National Baseball club has been sold to a syndicate headed by Horace S. Fogel, a sporting writer, and it is reported that John Kling, the star catcher, formerly of the Chicago team, was secured by the new management in the deal.

Ghouls stole the body of the infant son of Harfield Conrad, a banker, from its grave in Highland cemetery, near Great Falls, Mont., and are holding it presumably for ransom.

Maj. H. D. Bulkey, for more than twenty years prominently connected with the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, and for 18 years its comptroller, died in Baltimore, aged 79 years.

Mrs. Margaret Smith, aged 35 years, and Mrs. Minnie Wright, aged 50 years, were killed by a gas explosion in a boarding house in Rochester, N. Y. Mrs. Wright had applied a match to a leaking jet in their bedroom.

Accused of being a leader in the "white slave" trade, May von der Guyhte is on the way from Winnipeg, Man., to Montreal in irons to be deported to Belgium.

John Devery, homeless and friendless, died of hunger in New York while on his way to a Salvation Army Thanksgiving dinner.

The Doyen system of operating for the removal of cancer—the use of electricity instead of the knife—was employed on a case at St. Luke's hospital in Baltimore. A cancerous growth was removed from a patient's mouth and from parts of the face.

Evidence that Chauffeur Camp, who some weeks ago drove an automobile containing two persons besides himself into the Chicago river, and all three drowned, was incompetent, having had but four days' experience as a driver, was introduced at the coroner's inquest. The bodies of the two passengers of the taxicab have not been recovered.

The new $50,000 building of the University of Colorado, the gift of United States Senator Simon Guggenheim, was dedicated at Boulder, Col. Addresses were made by Senator Guggenheim, President Baker of the university and others.

A gift of $424,000 from an anonymous donor has been made to the Children's Aid society of New York. During the year the society has received more than $1,000,000, the largest fund in its history.

A delegation of college girls, under guidance of the College Equal Suffrage league, is arranging to go to Washington to present a resolution calling for the intereference by this government in the imprisonment in England of Miss Alice Paul of Mooresville, N. J., who smashed the window at the banquet of the lord mayor of London.

William McCormick, aged 31 years, a student at the Moody Biblical institute, Chicago, while temporarily deranged leaped from a third-story window to the pavement and was killed.

The St. Paul mine at Cherry, Ill., which has been sealed again owing to the ravages of fire, will probably not be reopened for three months.

Capitalized at $100,000, the Wright Company of New York has been incorporated at Albany, N. Y., "to manufacture, deal in, and operate machines, ships or other mechanical contrivances for aerial operation.

President Taft ate his Thanksgiving turkey with his family, there being no guests at the White House. He expressed his delight at being able to eat "real food" without being forced to make a speech.

The barge canal proposition voted on at the last state election at Ithaca, N. Y., which authorized the state legislature to spend $5,000,000 for connectin lakes Cayuga and Seneca, was carried by a majority of about 15,000.

Gov. Augustus E. Willson of Kentucky, acting as chairman of a committee to fix the date and place of the second annual conference of governors, announced from Lexington that it will be held January 18, 1910, at Washington.

During October there were 75,608 immigrant aliens and 16,764 nonimmigrant aliens admitted into the United States, 26,451 United States citizens arrived and 1,616 aliens were debarred, according to the October bulletin of the immigration bureau.

The casualty record for football this season includes 26 deaths and 69 players injured, with the Thanksgiving day games yet to be accounted.

FIRE AT DAVENPORT

Big Warehouse and Dozen Homes Wiped Out by Flames.

LOSS MORE THAN $100,000

Blaze Originated in Roberts Warehouse—People Escape in Night Clothes, Losing All Their Furniture.

Davenport, Ia., Nov. 29.—Dozens of families were driven from their homes before daylight by a fire which swept the blocks on both sides of Case street between Case street and Tremont avenue. The blaze originated in the immense warehouse of the U. N. Roberts company, used by Gordon, Vantine & Co. It was piled full of sash, doors, blinds and mouldings. The house and stock burned like tinder and was destroyed with a loss of $100,000, fully insured. Leaping across Case street the flames ignited ten private homes, which were burned, the inmates escaping in their night apparel.

Throughout a large section of the city, householders, hastily aroused in the night, commenced moving their furniture out into the yards, fearing a repetition of the big fire in 1901, when several blocks were swept bare just east of the district burned. The fact that little wind was blowing enabled the firemen, after a desperate fight, to confine the blaze to the neighborhood of the warehouse.

The dozen families that were rendered homeless saved nothing from the flames, and are being cared for by friends and neighbors.

RIGHTS OF "KIDS" UPHELD

City Fathers Refuse to Prohibit Use of Roller Skates and Push Wagons on Sidewalks.

Mason City, Ia., Nov. 29.—By a vote of 2 to 4 the city council at a special meeting killed an ordinance which prohibited the use of trunnel and push wagons and roller skates on the sidewalks of the city by the children. The line of demarkation among the city fathers was clearly drown between those who had boys and girls of their own and those who have not. The negative votes came from Aldermen Swale, McAuley, Burnham and Miller, each of whom have sturdy sons who enjoy a coast on the sidewalks. The affirmative votes were cast by Aldermen Stanton and Wilcox, who have never known the joys of paternity.

Wellman Talks.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29—Walter Wellman, whose preparations for a conquest of the north pole in an airship were abandoned upon the announcement of the claims of Dr. Frederick A. Cook and Commander Robert E. Peary issued a long statement in which he analyzes the claims of the two explorers, declaring that of Peary "Precise workmanlike, consistent, credible in every particular," and denouncing that of Dr. Cook as a self-evident and even deliberate imposture.

Iowa's Great Corn Show Opens.

Des Moines, Nov. 29—The doors of Des Moines' great coliseum opened this morning for the seventh annual Iowa Corn Growers' association contest and exposition—the greatest corn show ever held by a single state and one offering premiums valued at more than half the value of the premiums awarded at the national corn exposition.

Nevada Girl Commits Suicide.

Nevada, Ia., Nov. 29—Callie Skiles, the 16 year old daughter of F. W. Skiles, a farmer living nine miles southwest of this city, committeed suicide by hanging during the absence of the father and mother, who were in Ames.

Fall Cause of Death.

Des Moines, Nov. 29.—Mrs. Maggie B. Dow, aged about 65 years, slipped on the basement stairway at the home of her son-in-law, Hugh M. Schuler, and fell heavily to the cement floor of the basement, sustaining a fracture to the base of the skull which caused her death three hours later.

Crushed by Fall of Slate.

Oskaloosa, Ia., Nov. 29.—His first day's work in a coal mine terminated fatally for Alfred Looney, aged 28, who was caught in a fall of slate. The accident occurred at the Garfield company's mine at Evans, west of Oskaloosa.

Wires Are Down in Kansas.

Topeka Kans., Nov. 29—Telegraph wires all over western Kansas went down in a terrific sleet storm. No other damage has been reported.

JOY OF THE WILDERNESS

Small Piece of String Would Have Rendered Prospector's Long Journey Unnecessary.

There are situations worse than Gail Hamilton's famous "Twelve miles from a lemon." The man in this New York Telegram item seemed to have found one of them. A party was encamped on the Bear river in eastern Utah, when a prospector came along one morning on a mule. He had his jaw tied up, and at first seemed inclined to pass on without a word. On second thought, however, he halted and gruffly queried:

"How fur to Salt Lake?"

"Three hundred miles."

"Humph!"

"Traveled far?"

"About 200 miles."

"Get your jaw hurt?"

"No. It's just an infernal toothache, and I'm riding 500 miles to get it pulled."

We invited him down and one of the crowd got a piece of string round the tooth and jerked it out as slick as you please. After the overjoyed man had ceased dancing about I queried:

"Why didn't you try the string before starting on such a long ride?"

"Best kind of reason, sir. I hadn't nary a string."—Youth's Companion.

Schools for Tuberculous Children.

Special schools for tuberculous children have now been established in Providence, Boston, New York, Rochester, Washington, Hartford, Conn., Chicago and Pittsburg. New York has three schools and Washington, D. C., two. The board of education of New York city is proposing to establish three more, and similar institutions are being planned in Detroit, Buffalo, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Newark, N. J.

In cities like Providence, Boston and New York, where outdoor schools have been conducted for two years, the results obtained from the treatment of children in special tuberculosis open air schools seem to show the great advantage of this class of institutions. This, coupled with the experience of open air schools in Germany and England, proves that children can be cured of tuberculosis and keep up with their school work, without any danger to fellow pupils.

Boy's Essay on Clothing.

Here is an extract from an essay, written by a boy in a London school: "Clothing is an article which everybody should wear. The least of this article is worn by savages or natives, which is a piece of cloth or a few leaves or feathers round the waist. in cold countries, same as Eskimos, the people wear more clothes than we do, count of the icy cold out there. They can skate all the year round, except about one thaw there is in summer. If they walked about like natives they would catch cold directly and die of bronkitis. We put clothes on which are nearly like our bodies, some have caps, coats and trousers, but women and girls wear hats and frocks to tell who they are."

Prescriptions Not General.

Some people look on a doctor's prescription in the same light as a cookery recipe and pass it on to their friends for general use. They forget that some symptoms may come from totally different causes and that to take a medicine prescribed for a friend is a very risky thing to do and may do a great deal of harm.

The Likeness.

"He says he knows her like a book."

"Yes, so he does; like a Henry James book. He simply does not understand her at all."

WORK OF A BUDDING

Couplet That Lacked Some the Divine Fire, But Strik Original.

The ten-year-old daughter o ist believes that she is destin a great place in literature, an spare moments are devoted t poetry about every conceiva ject, according to the San F Wasp. Recently she attend first church wedding, and so fi inspiration was she that sh diately began to write a poem tive of the event. A few da ward, when her mother was e ing friends, the youthful prodig permission to read her poem the guests. Her mother hum with not a little secret pride. by stanza the poem progress the young lady reached th where the description of the maids was set forth. There her couplets read thus:

Some had pug noses and so Roman.
And each wore a blue ribbon a abdomen.

The Fez a Necessity.

All through the markets o Turkish city and village ar shops where the fez can be and ironed for a few cents. prayers a Moslem could not us with a brim, as his head mus the prayer rug a certain num times during each prayer. As th must be covered at all times, a some other brimless covering n used.

The finest assortment o table china in

Quaker Oa

Family Size Packa

WESTERN CANA

Senator Dolliver, of Iowa, say

"The stream of emigrants from the United to Canada will continue."

Senator Dolliver recently visit to Western C and says: "Ther land hunger in the of English speakin ple; this will accou the removal of so Iowa farmers to C Our people are p with its Governme the excellent ad tration of law, an are coming to y tens of thousand they are still comi Iowa contributed ly to the 70,000 A can farmers who made C their home during Field crop returns a during year added to the w of the country upwar $170,000,000.

Grain growing, mixed ing, cattle raising and dai are all profitable. Free H steads of 160 acres are had in the very best dist 160 acre pre-emptions at per acre within certain Schools and churches in settlement, climate unexc soil the richest, wood, wate building material plentifu

For particulars as to locatio settlers' railway rates and de tive illustrated pamphlet, Best West," and other info tion, write to Sup't of Imm tion, Ottawa, Can., or to Can Government Agent.

E.T. Holmes, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul
W.V. Bennett, 801 N.Y. Life Bldg., Omah

(Use address nearest you.

FREE — Given Away — FRE

Beautiful $400.00 Segerstrom Piano, One Diamond Ring, 1,000 Water Colored Pictures, 500 Russian Bread Knives, $17,000.00 Cash Value Prizes

TO ADVERTISE OUR FACTORY

and the fastest growing piano manufacturing business in the United States

As Follows: FIRST PRIZE—One $400.00 Segerstrom Piano;
TEN next best answers—Credit in the amount of $150.00 good same as cash towards the purch any new piano in the store and One Beautiful Water Colored Art Picture;
THIRD PRIZE—Diamond Ring and Credit in the amount of $100.00;
TWENTY-FIVE next best answers—Credit of $100.00 and One Beautiful Art Picture;
FIFTY next best answers—Credit of $75.00 each and One Russian Bread Knife;
NEXT SEVENTY-FIVE—Credit $50.00 each, then the balance $25.00 Credit to each, according to until the above amount has been disbursed.

Each contestant will be notified by mail of their prize. We will send you Credit Check in the a of your award which can be applied towards the purchase of any new piano in our store just the sa so much money. We have given away more prizes, including pianos, than any other concern in the ness. Hundreds of homes have been brightened thro ugh the liberal policy of this company. We this possible on account of manufacturing our pianos right here in Minneapolis and the large volu business which we do. If you have not been successful before it will cost you nothing to try now may be your last chance. Important—Send self addressed envelope to avoid your answer being m

SEGERSTROM PIANO MFG. CO.

Office and Salesroom: 804 Nicollet Ave., Minneapolis, Minn., U.

One Way of Love

By JENNETTE LEE

PICTURES BY A. WEIL

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY J. B. LIPPINCOTT CO. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

SYNOPSIS.

ichard Derring, returning from a winin the woods to his mother's farm , is overtaken by his uncle, accomed by his eccentric wife, coming to a visit at the farm. Aunt Jerusha's tions about Emily Hutton, supposed Richard's sweetheart, bring out the that she is to marry a merchant, ards.

(CHAPTER II.—Continued.)

ot until the good-bys had been said the clumsy wagon had rattled the road did he bring the ght to the light and face it. He alone in his room, a small, bare —like his life. No carpet on the , no curtain at the window, but lessly clean, from the blue and te homespun spread on the bed to square stand beside it. He sat the edge of the bed, one hand shadhis eyes from the light of the ll lamp, the other holding a pice on which his eyes rested eagerly. was a small tintype—the face of a ng girl—the eyes large, dark, and ght, the hair soft and curling, the ehead high, and the lips firmly ed.

It was like, yet curiously unlike, the e that was looking down at it with ger inquiry. These eyes, too, were ge and dark, but they were dreamy tead of bright; the lips were full d flexible instead of thin and close- set; and the broad forehead, even hen the shading hand pushed back hair impatiently, could not be lled high. In both dark faces was certain sturdiness of character. But girl's face bore the stamp of fully veloped powers, and the other that powers yet unformed.

Something was struggling in it. The uth was striving blindly to hold to a lief in his love for the face before m. That she was lost to him he d accepted without struggle. But at his love for her should go, too, at he should not love her always—s poet nature shrank from the ought. It was sacrilege. She had en so long enthroned in his heart—e belonged there. She might beme the wife of another man, let Edrds win her, she was still his. His al of her should not be torn from m. He could not bear it. It should t be.

And over his idealism, and around d under it, ran a conviction, a range certainty, that love was aldy dead.

CHAPTER III.

Richard was deep in the heart of e woods. The sound of his ax rang arp in the silence. Now and then blue-jay, startled by a heavier blow a falling limb, flew with a harsh y to a more distant tree. Richard arked the blue and white flash, tanding for a moment with ax susended, then the blow fell again, alays to the same bitter accompanient. The sight of the bird only oused a new phase of the old ought. "Last year I shot a blue-jay d gave the wings to her. Edwards n give her store things prettier than at." The blows fell again, faster d stronger.

Presently he dropped his ax. Walkg to a little distance, he kneeled own and began brushing the snow ghtly aside. Underneath the dark ines of partridge-berry—the bright erries shining red among the green nes. Swiftly he passed his hands cross them. The finger-tips seemed live. They raised a slender vine and eld it a moment, as if to pick it; ey laid it reluctantly again in its lace. "No"—he was brushing back e snow with quick fingers—"I can't arry them to her, and mother ouldn't want them."

He stood looking up through the etwork of branches into the clear y of the winter's day. His eyes dropped; they noted the straight, dark runks, the straggling underbrush, hrough which the sun fell softly, the hiteness of the snow, broken only by hadows. Long he looked, as if he ere bidding it all good-by; then he urned away and, shouldering his ax, alked swiftly down the snowy woodoad.

For a month past the neighbors had en discussing the engagement of ally and Edwards. They were to be married in the spring. Every one said it was a good match for Emily. They felt sorry for Richard. He was a fine fellow—but too dreamy and fanciful. It was a good thing that Emily was off with him. He had queer notions. That poetry he wrote for the Lyceum meeting—about "the red fingers of the woodbine at the throat of the dying year"—it sounded pretty, but it was queer—too much like his Grandfather Crane. No, he would never get on.

He followed the wood-road for about half a mile. Then he left even this slight trail and struck into the unbroken wood, making his way through the underbrush and light snow with free, swinging step.

He had evidently a goal in view, and he emerged at last into a small clearing. A small, time-worn house stood a few rods away. Beyond the house a long, sloping hill rose to the horizon, and half-way up the hill an isolated pine lifted its branches against the sky. A barn stood a short distance from the house, a path connecting the two. If there was any way of approach except that by which Richard had come, it did not appear.

Seth Shook His Head as He Watched the Listless Figure.

He struck across the open space, smiling as he looked up to the line of smoke rising from the chimney. "He's home, fast enough," he said to himself. He scarcely waited to hear the response to his knock before he lifted the latch and stood in the low doorway.

An old man was sitting by the stove. He had paused in the act of putting a stick of wood in the fire, and stood, with stove-lifter suspended, looking expectantly towards the door.

"Hallo, Dick," he said, nodding as he saw his visitor. Turning once more to the stove, he rapped vigorously on the stick until it fell into place.

Richard seemed to expect no other welcome. He crossed the room and seated himself on a rough, home-made bench near the fire.

The old man looked at him keenly from under shaggy gray brows as he brushed the chips and dust from his hands. "Pretty cold," he said at last.

Richard nodded. He knew from experience that the less he said himself the more Seth Kinney would say. He picked up a pine splinter from the floor and began whittling it as if unconscious of the shrewd look bent upon him from the other side of the stove.

The figure that stood there was a curious one. A rough gray beard and a shock of gray hair rose above the blue smock that reached to the tops of heavy cowhide boots. Short, square, solid, his feet well apart, he formed a striking contrast to the younger man, who sat leaning heavily forward, one elbow resting negligently on his knee, whittling the soft pine splinter.

Seth shook his head as he watched the listless figure. He seated himself by the western window and took up a book that was lying, face down, on the broad sill. "How are you feeling, Dick?" he asked abruptly.

"All right," was the answer. Silence fell on the room. The old man ran his eye rapidly down the page, found the place where he had left off, settled himself comfortably in his chair, and was lost in the book. The fire blazed and crackled and shone through the chinks of the warped stove.

Richard watched the blaze and waited. The silence was broken by an inarticulate sound from the window. It might be assent or it might be the end of a train of thought.

"What is it?" asked Richard.

The old man looked up absently. "Oh—still there, Dick? Just listen to this." He began to read from the brown book in his hand.

"Oh, bother!" said Richard impatiently. "Translate it, won't you, Seth? What is it, anyway? I can't understand Greek."

The old man waited a moment as if searching for fit words, and then read in a clear, full voice that contrasted oddly with his uncouth appearance:

"'If thou art pained by any external thing, it is not this thing that disturbs thee, but thy own judgment about it; and it is in thy power to wipe out this judgment now. But if anything in thy own disposition gives thee pain, who hinders thee from correcting thy opinion? And even if thou art pained because thou art not doing some particular thing which seems to thee to be right, why dost thou not rather act than complain? But some insuperable obstacle is in the way? Do not be grieved then, for the cause of it not being done depends not on thee. Therefore the mind which is free from passions is a citadel, for man has nothing more secure to which he can fly for refuge, and for the future inexpugnable. He then who has not seen this is an ignorant man; but he who has seen it and does not fly to this refuge is unhappy.'"

"That's all bosh!" said Richard irritably. "The fellow that wrote it never had anything worse to bear than the toothache."

He stopped a minute and then began again abruptly, the words tumbling out. "What can I do?—I can't stand it—I thought I'd stay home and fight it out. But I can't. It's killing me—but I don't want to go away," he added.

He had sunk again into the listless attitude. "It isn't worth while—nothing is worth while."

His companion said nothing. He was watching the listless figure keenly, as a physician might watch a restless patient. "Have you thought of killing yourself?" he said at last.

The young man started and flushed. "Yes"—under his breath and half shamed—"but somehow I don't dare. But I can't bear to live either," he went on. "Perhaps if I could get away from folks the way you have, I could stand it."

The other looked up quickly. He waited a minute. Then he spoke with slow emphasis. "You're not going to spoil your life. I've spoiled mine. That's enough."

"It isn't spoiled. You are contented. You believe all that stuff about philosophy and your mind being an impregnable citadel. Perhaps I should, too, after awhile."

"Resignation isn't living," said the old man bitterly. "I had power, I tell you." He was sitting erect and his eyes flashed. "I had a mind, and because a woman jilted me I threw it away. I buried myself. Don't do it, Dick," his voice had dropped, "no woman is worth it. Be a man. Show that you are made of better stuff." Again his voice rang out as if he were addressing a jury. He was transfigured.

Richard, watching, understood for the first time what his grandfather, Geoffrey Crane, had meant when he used to speak of Seth Kinney's power and of his spoiled life.

In a flash the young man, looking into the future, saw himself in the older man's place. His figure straightened and his hand clenched. The teeth behind the square jaw came together with even firmness.

"What shall I do?"

The older man paused a moment. "You'd better go to college," he said at last. "You have Latin enough. I'll teach you Greek and you can work up the mathematics by yourself. Go to work. Work hard. Don't give yourself time to think. That's the way out."

The young man rose, shutting his knife with a snap. "All right, Seth."

"Wait a minute." The old man mounted a chair and searched among the worn volumes on a high shelf. He selected one and, slapping the covers together, handed it to Dick. "Learn the first 20 pages," he commanded. "When you are ready, come and recite."

When Richard was outside the door he looked at the title-page in the fading light. It was "The Elements of Greek Grammar—Taken Chiefly from the Grammar of Casper Frederick Haschenberg, 1820."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

FISH DROPPED FROM CLOUDS

Originally Carried Aloft in Waterspout is Simple Explanation of Occurrence.

On Friday last a number of townspeople taking a walk on the slopes of Knockscalbert hill were surprised to see on the grass near Summerhill a large number of very small fishes, varying in length from 1 1-2 to 2 inches. The fish appeared to be the young of the herring.

In August, 1904, a shower of herring fry was experienced at the head of Longrow, but there was no doubt as to whence the miniature fish had come, for they fell from above on the hats and clothing of several men, and at the time a small black cloud of remarkable density was directly overhead.

The phenomenon of fish falling from the clouds is of more common occurrence than is generally supposed. It is undoubtedly due to some small fry of fishes having been lifted from the water and carried over dry land by what is popularly known as a waterspout.

Many cases are reported from abroad, and they are common in India. Last year Caithness reported a shower of small fishes, which were identified as herring fry, and there was also a similar occurrence in Rosshire.

Frogs, insects and other living creatures have also been known to be thus transported through the air.—Campbelltown Courier.

Clever Detective Work.

Capt. von Ermnerik of the roya' Dutch mail packet Van Spilbergen recently made a clever capture after a murderous assault on a wealthy saloon passenger while bound for Sydney from Batavia. After the alarm had been given he had the full crew of Malays lined up on deck and as he passed along the ranks he placed his hand on the bared breast of each man to feel the action of his heart. The blood coursed normally through the veins of all but one and his heart was throbbing violently. The captain arrested him on suspicion. Another man's hands were abnormally cold, but this fact was not considered sufficiently strong to justify arrest. However, the first man subsequently confessed to the crime and indicated the seaman with the cold hands as his accomplice.

The aeroplane is the real skyscraper.

WERE STILL SUPPLIED.

"Have you given some fresh water to the gold fish, Anna?"

"No, ma'am, they have not finished what I gave them the other day."

TORE HIS SKIN OFF

In Shreds—Itching Was Intense—Sleep Was Often Impossible.

Cured by Cuticura in Three Weeks.

"At first an eruption of small pustules commenced on my hands. These spread later to other parts of my body, and the itching at times was intense, so much so that I literally tore the skin off in shreds in seeking relief. The awful itching interfered with my work considerably, and also kept me awake nights. I tried several doctors and used a number of different ointments and lotions but received practically no benefit. Finally I settled down to the use of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Pills, with the result that in a few days all itching had ceased and in about three weeks' time all traces of my eruption had disappeared. I have had no trouble of this kind since. H. A. Krutskoff, 5714 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., November 18 and 28, 1907."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

"Julius Caesar" Sent to Bed.

At the British Authors' club banquet in his honor, Lieut. Shackleton told an amusing story of a man who went home one night after dinner and took with him four or five others.

"Come in, boys," he said, "and have a last drink."

"But your wife might not like it," one of the party replied.

"My wife!" was the answer; "I am Julius Caesar in my house."

On entering they were received by the lady of the house with the words: "Oh, walk in, gentlemen; there is plenty of drink in the dining room. As for Julius Caesar, he is going to bed."

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, price 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Marks on Silverware.

"Sterling" as used in connection with silverware means genuine silver. The addition of the word "patent" is to indicate that the particular design of the article on which the word appears is patented and that the article is genuine silver.

WE PAY HIGH PRICE FOR HIDES and furs. & sell guns and traps cheap. N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

The less a man knows about women the more he thinks he knows.

WHEN YOUR JOINTS ARE STIFF and muscles sore from cold, rheumatism or neuralgia, when you slip, strain or bruise yourself use Perry Davis' Painkiller. The home remedy 70 years.

Conscience is something those who need it haven't got.

The Exceptional Equipment

of the California Fig Syrup Co. and the scientific attainments of its chemists have rendered possible the production of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, in all of its excellence, by obtaining the pure medicinal principles of plants known to act most beneficially and combining them most skillfully, in the right proportions, with its wholesome and refreshing Syrup of California Figs.

As there is only one genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna and as the genuine is manufactured by an original method known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only, it is always necessary to buy the genuine to get its beneficial effects.

A knowledge of the above facts enables one to decline imitations or to return them if, upon viewing the package, the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. is not found printed on the front thereof.

EAT PURITY CHOCOLATES

M'f'd by Windsor-Purity Candy Co., Des Moines
For sale by all first-class dealers.

GROCERIES & HARDWARE

COLD WEATHER

Is SURE to be here soon. Are you prepared for it? Perhaps you will need a new stove before winter sets in. If so you will miss it if you don't call and inspect our line of

HEATERS AND RANGES

We have just received a new shipment and will be glad to show them to you. Call early while the assortment is complete. See the Summit Range

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

ONE PRICE CASH STORE

KLEMME, IOWA

DRUGS

A full line of patents of every manufacture. Jewelery, Wall Paper, Paints and Oils, School Supplies and Stationery.

TOILET ARTICLES

Face Powder, Talcum Powder, Sachet Powder, Face Creams, Toilet Waters, Hand Lotions.

MUSICAL GOODS

String and Brass Instruments, Edison Phonographs and Supplies. We are selling Phonographs on small weekly payments and going one better than the Chicago price by saving you the freight.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile. both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

It's about time you was seeing us about that

STORM SASH

Don't be fooled by a few warm days. You'll need 'em most any minute. Better see us today.

Northern Lumber Company

N. L. PALMER, AGENT

KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

Get your Winter's Coal Now

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Sootless and Washed Egg. Petroleum Coke. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

H. C. LAU

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

AUGUST STILLE.

August Stille was born October 3, 1866, in Missouri, where he spent his youthful days. In 1874 his parents moved to Hancock Co., Iowa. On Dec. 15 1894 the deceased was united in marriage to Miss Lydia Gast They settled on a farm and have been engaged in farming ever since. The home was blessed with four boys, of which the oldest is 14 and the youngest 3.

Some three years ago Mr. Stille was seized with an attack of diabetes, which in course of time so completely fastened it self that no medical aid could shake it off. Nevertheless no one surmised his end was so near.

While loading a load of hogs on Saturday and taking them to market he caught a slight cold, which confined him to the house a few days. But there was nothing to alarm him or the family until Tuesday when his heart became involved and the end came quick and fast. He died Wednesday morning about 9 o'clock.

He had united with the German M. E. church when a young man and was a member in good standing at the time of his death.

The funeral services were conducted at the house and then in the Germantown church. Tho the roads were very muddy a large concourse of neighbors and sorrowing friends followed the remains to the German township cemetery. Deceased leaves his bereaved wife and children. an aged mother, one brother. J. J. Stille, and one sister, Mrs. Chas Bredlow, to mourn his untimely departure. ***

We desire to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness shown us during the sickness and death of our beloved husband and father.

Mrs. A. F. Stille and Children,

A town that never has anything to do in a public way. is on the way to the cemetery. Any citizen who will do nothing for his town is helping to dig the grave. A man that curses the town furnishes the coffin. The man who is so selfish as to have no time from his business to give to town affairs is making the shroud. The man who will not advertise is driving the hearse. The man who is always pulling back from any public enterprise throws boquets on the grave. The man who is so stingy as to be howling hard times, preaches the funeral, sings the doxolcgy, and thus the town lies buried from all sorrow and care —Ex

THE CHILDREN LIKE IT
KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE
COUGH SYRUP

Trimmed Hats AT GREATEST SACRIFICE

The finest line of Linens. Table Spreads, Lunch Cloths, Dresser and Commode Scarfs. The prettiest Mexican Painted Spreads. Prettiest Sofa Pillows in Tapestry Painting. A large variety of stamped and drawn Linens.

Headquarters for Pyrography Patterns and Ready Burnt Goods. The largest assortment ever shown.

Don't fail to get tickets for the prettiest Doll ever shown. Yours for business,

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

The Winter Season

Is now close at hand and it calls for good, warm wearing apparel, good Shoes and Overshoes, etc. We are, as usual, prepared to furnish you with the needed articles and our prices are as low as possible, consistent with the quality of goods we furnish. We want to call your special attention to our full and complete line of

Genuine Old Fashioned Wool Flannel

Ranging in price per yard from.... 50c TO $1.50

LARGE LINE TO SELECT FROM

Outing Flannels

The kind usually sold for 10c per yard we sell for....8c

The kind usually sold for 12c per yard we sell for...10c

This is no special sale, just our every-day prices.

See our complete line of Seasonable Goods. We absolutely guarantee satisfaction.

W. J. BARZ, - Garner, Iowa

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

The City Dray Line

We wish to announce that we have purchased the dray line from Ell Bros. and ask a continuation of your valued patronage. We will do all hauling entrusted to us promptly and carefully. Give us a trial.

ELL & SONS, Klemme, Iowa

HINTS FOR

CHRISTMAS

You could hardly select a more suitable gift to give to your friend than a nice new piece of Furniture. Useful as well as ornamental. A lasting remembrance which will be of use to your friend a life-time.

Which of the following shall we set aside for you?

Elegant Rockers	$1.25 to $8.00
Parlor Tables -	1.75 to 8.00
Taborettes and Stands	.75 to 2.25
Couches and Sofas -	7.50 to 25.00
Desks and Book Cases -	7.50 to 20.00
Music Racks -	3.50
Sewing Baskets, on legs	3.50

Other articles too numerous to mention.

Have a Look. We invite You.

Arthur Wellemeyer

About People You Know

KLEMME MARKET.

rn.....	45 to c
ts.....	34 to 35c
heat.....	80 to 90
rley.....	40 to 48c
y.....	4 00 to 6.00
gs.....	7.00 to 7.60
ttle.....	3.00 to 6.00

Xmas toys at Kluckhohn's.

Thas. W. Stiehl was a Garner itor Friday.

J. W. Scott is re-shingling his cksmith shop.

For Sale— Single buggy al st new. C. C. Suckow.

Poultry wanted every day. ghest market price paid. H. n & Son.

Herman Miller was at Garner anksgiving Day, a guest at e home of Geo. Schroeder.

Mrs. Frank Goettel, from nsing, Iowa, visited over Sun- y at the Chas. Yahnke home.

I have a few White Wyandot llets and cockerels to sell at sonable prices if taken now. o. H. Wessel.

Mrs. A. A. Scott, of Vinton, wa, arrived here last week a visit at the home of her son W. Scott.

Verner Haberkamp and sis- s, Julius Priebe, John Josten, ed Haupt, Aug. Schulz and J. G. Houghton, with their es and families, were sump usly entertained on Thanks- ing day as guests at the Val- ine Josten home.

Being obliged to take it for t I will sell it out cheap; Dr. Hess Stock Food. Dr. Hess Poultry Panacea. Dr. Hess Instant Louse Kill- Dr. Hess Hog Worm Powder. be had at G. F. Schuler's rner, Iowa.

NOTICE

All those who have not made a settlement are requested to do so at once. I need cash to meet my obligations.

DR. GEO. ZINN.

Mrs. Phil Ell was a Garner visitor last Friday.

Christmas dishes—a beautiful line—at Kluckhohn's.

W. R. Bloom shipped a car of hogs Sunday morning.

Buy your Christmas goods early. Patronize Times advertisers.

Asa Gibbs, F. W. Tanner and J. E. Wichman have added to our exchequer the past week.

Mrs John Gruetzmacher and daughters Hulda and Esther spent Thanksgiving day in Garner.

Tom Blank's faithful old horse "Billy" passed to the happy hunting ground Tuesday morning.

Mrs. G. W. Kluckhohn and daughter Lola have been visiting the past week at the home of L. A. Turgaser at Swea City.

W. R. Bloom left Saturday night for Chicago where he is taking in the International Live Stock Exposition and seeing the sights.

New ads this week—First National Bank, State Savings Bank State Savings Bank, Arthur Wellemeyer, Mrs. John Josten. Elmer Ludeke.

I have put in a crusher with elevators and am now prepared to do your grinding or crushing with the least possible labor. Elevators to the grinder and also back to the wagon. Rates by wagon box measure, special rate on amounts over 100 bushels. Henry A. Ludeke, in west part of town. 17-2

Mrs. Ralph Blank was up from Goodell Friday.

Watch for Kluckhohn's big Christmas ad next week.

The dance last Friday evening was quite well attended.

For Sale— Single buggy almost new. C. C. Suckow.

Station Agent Williams is enjoying a visit from his wife and children.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Miller, Wednesday, night. Nov. 24, 1909, a baby boy.

P. M Griesemer spent Thanksgiving at the home of his parents in Garner.

Miss Elenora Koerner spent Thanksgiving day at the parental home in Charles City.

Those indebted to the undersigned are requested to call and settle at once. F. H. Ridder

Mrs. S. L. Sage returned to her home at Garner Friday after spending Thanksgiving at the Times home.

Kluckhohn is going to make some attractive prices on Xmas goods this year. Watch for his ad next week.

Mrs. E. P. Dow and children returned to their home at Rake, Iowa, after spending Thanksgiving here with her mother and sisters.

As I have been appointed Administrator of the estate of August H. Wenz, I have a lot of furniture for sale, as rockers, chairs, rugs, stands, a bed room suit, organ, music rack, etc. Everything is new. Geo. H. Wessel.

J. E. Stille called at this sanctum Tuesday and squared up with the printer for another year. J. E. is one of our subscribers who always keeps his paper dated a whole year ahead.

Bills are out announcing a dance to be held in the Klemme spera house Thursday evening, Dec 9 The Imperial Harp Orchestra of Mason City will furnish the music.

Mrs. A. L. Spooner and children left for their home at La Verne Monday morning after spending Thanksgiving here at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. B. Shafer.

The weather was warm and clear last Friday—the day of C. F. Ralston's big closing out sale and a large crowd was in attendance. Things brought a much higher price than was even hoped for, and the sale was most satisfactory in every way

The Des Moines Capital and the Klemme Times will be sent to any address from now until Jan. 1, 1911, on receipt of $2.85. This is an exceptionally liberal offer and should be taken advantage of at once to secure its full benefits. If you have already paid in advance for the Times, ask for our rate on the Capital. Call at this office today and get a daily paper for the winter's reading.

The regular subscription price of the Chicago Daily Farmers and Drovers Journal is $4 per year, but we have made arrangements whereby we can furnish that paper and the Klemme Times both one year for $4 05. The Chicago F. and D. Journal twice-a-week, and the Times, both one year for $2.05. The Journal once a week and the Times, both one year for $1.55.

The Best Ever— Blue Point oyster crackers. They're fine. Try a package with your next oysters. At Kluckhohn's. 13tf

German M. E. Church Items

Roy Schaefer started to attend school in town this week.

John Gruetzmacher was in Garner last Friday to have some dental work done.

Elenor Koerner spent Thanksgiving with her parents near Charles City, returning Saturday evening.

Wm. Gast. Sr. came up from Steamboat Rock last week to attend the funeral of his son in-law, Aug. Stille.

Ed Schaefer and son Roy ate their Thanksgiving dinner with the former's parents in Garner Others had planned to go from here but "got left."

T. Blank and family went to Hayfield last Saturday to be present at the "golden wedding" of Mr. Blank's parents. They all returned Monday evening.

As Arthur Wellemeyer could not get away last week, Anna Griewe accompanied her sister, Mrs. Wellemeyer and the children to Charles City, returning Friday evening.

Geo. Gast came down from Beltrami, Minn., to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law He will remain some time to assist his sister and also visit his many friends and relatives.

The time is here when nearly everyone asks: "What can I give as a Christmas present?" In most cases there is nothing more suitable than a good book. We have therefore, as in former years, stocked up with a lot of good books at a low price. But we have never before had as fine a lot of books as this year and at a discount of 40 to 80 per cent of their original price. We have a lot in de luxe binding which make an exceptionally fine present. Also a fine selection for children. Make your selection as they are going fast.

Rock Island System

TIME TABLE.

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:34 p. m.
82 ..... 2:35 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:55 a. m.
435 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

Special Christmas Offer

An opportunity for you to get one of the greatest Christmas presents ever offered on a deal like this. You can get it by buying a suit of Men's made to-order Clothes tailored by the American Woolen Mills Co. For particulars call on their agent—

Elmer Ludeke

Pictures

See me when you want a Photograph

All kinds—inside or outdoor views. I make a specialty of photo postal cards, 75 cents a dozen. Good work at reasonable prices.

JOE MILLER, KLEMME IOWA

Col. J. J. Wilson

MESERVEY, IOWA

LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEER

Dates made at either bank in Klemme, Iowa. Terms reasonable.

J. E. BAUMGARTNER

The Tonsorial Artist

Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.

2nd door west of State Savings Bank

Call in

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.

Physician and Surgeon,
Phone No. 11. Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to calls day or night.
Eyes tested. Glasses fitted.

DOCTORS

GEO. ZINN EDGAR ZINN

Office: State Savings Bank

Phone No. 19

KLEMME - - IOWA

JOHN GRIEWE

City Meat Market

Dealer in

All kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. Canned goods and oysters in season. Headquarters for part of Heinz' Fifty-Seven Varieties, and Pickling Vinegar.

Try these goods; they are fine.

W. R. BLOOM

Buyer and Shipper of

Grain and Live Stock

Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.

Stock wanted 6 days in the week

RESTAURANT

Russel's Maple Nut Chocolates—Try them and you will buy nothing else.

Get one of our delicious Oyster Stews and you will become a regular customer.

HOME MADE BAKERY GOODS

A. Kirkwood & Son

UNITED STATES

Land and Irrigation Exposition

CHICAGO COLISEUM

November 20 to December 4, 1909

Will provide authoritative, graphic information about the vast opportunities now opening up in many States for homeseekers, farmers and investors.

There will be exhibits of the wonderful fruits of virgin soil from all sections.

Elaborate panoramas will show what is being done to irrigate, drain and cultivate it.

INTERNATIONAL

Live Stock Exposition

TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Chicago Union Stock Yards

November 27 to December 10, 1909

The world's greatest collection of prize-winning cattle, horses, sheep and hogs ever brought together will be on exhibition.

All the progress and all the best brains of the live stock industry will be there. Millions of dollars invested in the exhibits.

A liberal education. You can't afford to miss either event. Information as to fares on request.

Rock Island

T. A. WILLIAMS, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

FARMERS INSTITUTE

And Agricultural Convention Will Be Held in Des Moines.

PROGRAM FOR THE MEETINGS

The State Board of Agriculture Will Meet and Organize for the Coming Year—State Fair Prize List Will Be Revised.

Des Moines, Nov. 29—C. E. Cameron, president, and J. C. Simpson, secretary of the Iowa State Board of Agriculture, have given out the following:

The literary program of the State Farmers' Institute and the Corn Belt Meat Producers' Association for Tuesday afternoon, December 7th, will be held jointly in the Convention room at the Savery hotel.

The State Agricultural convention for Wednesday, December 8th will be held in the rooms of the Department of Agriculture at the Capitol building.

The session of the Corn Belt Meat Producers' association for Wednesday will be held at the Savery hotel.

The Iowa State Horticultural society will hold its regular annual meeting during the week in the Horticultural rooms in the capitol building.

Program for joint session State Farmers' institute and Corn Belt Meat Producers' Association, Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 7:

1:30 P. M.—SAVERY HOTEL.
Invocation ----------Rev. Metcalf
Address ----------Hon. Henry Wallace, editor Wallace's Farmer
Address—"The Evolution of Live Stock Transportation" ---------- ----------James Downing, of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Husbandry
Address—"Cattle Feeding"------
Chas. Escher, Jr., Shelby county, Ia.
Address—"Hog Feeding"--------
R. M. Gunn, Black Hawk county, Ia.

Out of courtesy to the Iowa Corn Growers' association whose annual corn show is being held at the Coliseum, it was agreed to limit the joint program of the State Farmers' Institute and Corn Belt Meat Producers' association to one session, viz.: Tuesday afternoon, thereby giving every one ample time to attend the corn show.

On Tuesday afternoon the Iowa Fair Managers' association will begin their meeting. At 6:30 o'clock the banquet will be held at the Savery hotel. The banquet will be followed by the evening program. Every fair in Iowa is entitled to membership in this association. A very interesting program has been prepared by the officers. No fair in Iowa can afford not to have one or more representatives present at these meetings. For information regarding membership, etc., in the Iowa Fair Managers' Association, address W. M. Clark Secretary, Marshalltown, or A. Savage, Adair.

Agricultural Convention

At the rooms of the Department of Agriculture in the State House, Wednesday, December 8:

MORNING PROGRAM 9:30 A. M.
Invocation ----------
------Rev. J. W. Day, Des Moines
Committee appointments: Credentials, Resolutions.
Address of President of State Board of Agriculture-C. E. Cameron
Report of Secretary of State Board of Agriculture-J. C. Simpson
Address—"The State Fair and Exposition"- ----------
------W. R. Mellor, Lincoln, Nab.
Secretary Nebraska State Board of Agriculture.
Address----------Gov. B. F. Carroll
Address—"Iowa's Duty Toward Her State Fair and Expositions"-James Atkinson, Des Moines
Address—"What Inspiration and Benefits I Have Received from Attending the Iowa State Fair" ----------P. C. Winter, Creston, Ia.
Address—"How the Educational Exhibit of Farm Crops Was Made at the Last State Fair" ----------B. W. Crossley, Ames, Ia.
AFTERNOON PROGRAM, 1:30 P. M.
Continuation of morning program.
Report of Credentials committee.
Report of Resolutions committee.
Election of the following members of the State Board of Agriculture: President and Vice-President for the ensuing year, and District Members from the odd numbered congressional districts for the ensuing two years.
Unfinished business.
New business.
Adjournment.

Thursday and Friday at the meeting of the State Board of Agriculture the board will organize for the coming year. Various standing committees for the year will be named as well as the superintendents to have charge of the various departments of the fair for 1910. The revision or alterations in the prize list for the 1910 fair will be made.

Lake City Man Has Odd Egg.

Lake City.—Joe Sutter, a farmer, brought to this place a freak egg that has been the wonder of all who have seen it. The egg is about double the size of an ordinary egg, and the peculiar feature is that there are two distinct shells, one within the other. The outside or shell proper is remarkably thick and has tiny knobs on it. The inner shell is thin and yellow and perfectly formed. The egg was found to contain two complete eggs, one within the other. The inner egg shell is fastened to the small end of the outer shell.

Funds for Interurban.

Iowa City.—A mass meeting at Wellman raised $25,000 for the Ottumwa-Iowa City interurban and right-of-way for three miles secured on each side of Wellman. At Keota the same line secured $60,000 with five miles of right-of-way on each side. Frank Tanner of Iowa City is at the head of the scheme. The company is chartered under the laws of South Dakota.

Hurt by Steel Splinter.

Mason City.—With the force of a bullet, a sliver of steel flew from a beam which he was hammering with a sledge, pierced the arm of Edward Frojd near the shoulder, rendering the member as helpless as though paralyzed. The man was taken to a hospital and the steel extracted, which proved to be over two inches in length. Frojd is employed at the Northwestern round house.

Use Funds to Build Dam.

Marshalltown.—After much deliberation and consulting of legal advice the city council has decided that the $15,200 contained in the bond sinking fund, which has been lying idle for two years, could be rightfully used by the water works department, in defraying the expenses of building the new concrete dam and retaining walls, which, it is estimated, will cost about $33,000.

Steel Foundry at Lone Tree.

Iowa City—Lone Tree will soon be thep roud possessor of a new steel foundry, the property of the Zimmerman Steel company located at that place. Work is progressing nicely on the new building; the steel framework is in place and the laying of the concrete blocks is now in progress. The structure will be ready for occupancy within the next two months.

Dyer Will Run in 1910.

Mason City.—H. A. Dyer, who has returned from the Scottish Rite Masonic meeting at Des Moines, has announced his candidacy for commander of the Grand Army, department of Iowa. He is now president of the North Iowa Veterans' association and past post commander, past assistant adjutant general and junior vice commander department of Iowa G. A. R.

Failure of P. J. Regan.

Iowa City.—Referee in Bankruptcy F. B. Kimball has received the petition of P. J. Regan a former business man of Iowa City. The petition shows liabilities amounting to over $25,000, represented in chief by notes held by Iowa City people. To offset this is real estate and other property, including the Iowa City Country club to the amount of about $18,000.

$2,600 in Bills Burned.

Ottumwa.—Fate dealt Harry Skinner a cruel blow when the home he had just furnished for his bride was partially burned and $2,600 in crisp bills hiden in the attic were consumed in flames. Skinner had planned to marry a Miss Apple of Des Moines soon, and went to Des Moines to apprise his affianced bride of his misfortune.

Diphtheria at Iowa City.

Iowa City.—Diphtheria has invaded Iowa City—and it has come with fatality and especial sadness. Mrs. Guy Stevens, aged but 28, is the first victim, and her death was sudden. A three-weeks' old daughter and her young husband survive. The latter has diphtheria, and his brother's wife and brother's little girl are also victims.

Fire at Corwith.

Corwith.—Fire completely destroyed the big barn owned by Dr. Hoag and his brother J. B. Hoag, near here. The loss is estimated at $10,000. The structure was 60x120 feet, contained 100 tons of hay 1,000 bushels of oats, a filled silo, besides much harness and machinery. The cause of the fire is not known.

Blacking Stove Fatal.

Audubon.—A few days ago Miss Aline Martensen the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Martensen, who live down the valley near Hamlin Station, was terribly burned about the body from her clothing catching fire, caused by a gasoline explosion while she was blacking a stove, from which she died.

FREED AT LAST

From the Awful Tortures of Kidney Disease.

Mrs. Rachel Ivie, Henrietta, Texas, says: "I would be ungrateful if I did not tell what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for me. Fifteen years kidney trouble clung to me, my existence was one of misery and for two whole years I was unable to go out of the house. My back ached all the time and I was utterly weak, unable at times to walk without assistance. The kidney secretions were very irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to good health, and I am able to do as much work as the average woman, though nearly eighty years old."

Remember the name—Doan's. Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

A MAN OF RESOURCE.

Actor (of provincial company)—Can you give me ten cents on account? I must get a shave. I have been playing Hamlet for four days, and my beard is beginning to grow.

Manager—Well, that's easily remedied. We'll put on Othello.

Country Neglecting the Children.

If the percentage of tuberculous children recently ascertained by an investigation in Stockholm, Sweden (1.61 per cent.) were applied to the schools of the United States there would be 273,700 children between the ages of eight and fifteen who are positively affected with tuberculosis, according to a statement of the National Association for the study and prevention of tuberculosis. As contrasted with this figure, there are only 11 open-air tuberculosis schools in operation in the entire country, and nine more under consideration. At the lowest estimate, even with all the schools now in operation and those proposed, accommodations will not be provided for four-tenths of one per cent. of the children who need this special treatment.

The Cost of Politics.

In his reminiscences of Grover Cleveland, George F. Parker tells a story concerning prodigal expenditures in politics. A rich man who had been nibbling at the Democratic nomination for governor of New York asked William C. Whitney's advice. This is the advice: "Of course, you ought to run! Make your preliminary canvass, and when you have put in $200,000 you will have become so much interested in it that you will feel like going ahead and spending some money."

A Domestic Arrangement.

"Bluster and his wife seem to get along very well together."

"That's because they have set aside one day in the week to do all their fighting. On the other days they keep the peace."

SECRET WORKERS

The Plan Upon Which Coffee Operates.

Coffee is such a secret worker that it is not suspected as the cause of sickness or disease, but there is a very sure way to find out the truth.

A lady in Memphis gives an interesting experience her husband had with coffee. It seems that he had been using it for some time and was an invalid.

The physician in charge shrewdly suspected that coffee was the "Worm at the root of the tree," and ordered it discontinued with instructions to use Postum regularly in its place.

The wife says: "We found that was the true remedy for his stomach and heart trouble and we would have gladly paid a hundred times the amount of the doctor's charge when we found how wise his judgment was.

"The use of Postum instead of coffee was begun about a year ago, and it has made my husband a strong, well man. He has gained thirty-five pounds in that time and his stomach and heart troubles have all disappeared.

"The first time I prepared it I did not boil it long enough and he said there was something wrong with it. Sure enough it did taste very flat, but the next morning I followed directions carefully, boiling it for fifteen minutes, and he remarked 'this is better than any of the old coffee.'

"We use Postum regularly and never tire of telling our friends of the benefit we have received from leaving off coffee."

Look for the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Special Note from Atchison.

The engagement of Mr. Hiram Hardesty and Miss Suzette Snarley is announced. It occurred the other evening at 9:45 on the red sofa in Miss Snarley's parlor. The young lady was dressed in black, and wore no ornaments. She did not look unusually pretty, and what caused the young man's mental aberration is not known. Neither one could remember exactly what was said, and both admitted it was not the first time he kissed her. We print the details for the romantic young things who are always curious to know how an engagement is brought about.—Atchison Globe.

Resinol, the Best Healing Ointment That Can Be Found.

I have used Resinol Ointment now for two years and shall never give it up. I wouldn't be without it, being the best healing ointment I have found yet John B. Dain, London, Eng.

Imperfect.

Tommy—The doctors brought the baby.

Freddy—It looks just like ma had been shopping by telephone again.—Harper's Bazar.

DO YOUR CLOTHES LOOK YELLOW? If so, use the new RUSS BLUE. It will make them white as snow. All grocers.

A wise man suppresses fully two-thirds of his opinions.

A Prominent Doctor Says of

UNCLE SAM Breakfast Food

AS A CURE FOR CONSTIPATION

"As a natural remedy for constipation it is far preferable to any drugs or mineral waters."

DR. R. M. C.
(Name on request.)

Dr. M. uses Uncle Sam in his family and prescribes it to his patients.

ASK YOUR GROCER ABOUT IT

HE CERTAINLY KNOWS

U. S. B. F. Co., Omaha

The Truth ABOUT Life Insurance

Five booklets—"But," "Be Just," "How to Figure It Out" and opinions of Gov. Hughes of N. Y. and of Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage will save you many dollars—Sent prepaid upon receipt of 14c in stamps or coin.

CHAS. H. BROWNELL,
176 Federal Street, Boston, Mass.

W. N. U., DES MOINES, NO. 49–1909.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at these will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of native American medical, forest plants. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

WRIGLEY'S

Crush! go the mint leaves! OUT flows the delicious mint leaf juice!

WRIGLEY'S Spearmint* is full of it—and you can't chew it out.

Look for the spear — WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT PEPSIN GUM — THE FLAVOR LASTS — The flavor lasts

Mayer WORK SHOES

It is not necessary for a work shoe to look clumsy to give good wear. Have your dealer show you the good looking, comfortable, well-fitting, Mayer Work Shoes.

Made of tough stock, heavy soles, solid counters, double leather toes, double seams. Made solid and will last longer than any other shoes you can buy.

MAYER WORK SHOES

are made for working men of all classes and are "built on honor." You can save money by wearing them. Will outwear any other make.

To be sure you are getting Mayer Shoes, look for the Mayer Trade Mark on the sole. Your dealer will supply you; if not, write to us.

FREE—If you will send us the name of a dealer who does not handle Mayer Work Shoes, we will send you free, postpaid, a beautiful picture of George Washington, size 15x20.

We also make Honorbilt Shoes for men, Leading Lady Shoes, Martha Washington Comfort Shoes, Yerma Cushion Shoes and Special Merit School Shoes.

MILWAUKEE Mayer CUSTOM MADE

F. Mayer Boot & Shoe Co.
MILWAUKEE, WIS.

COLT DISTEMPER

Can be handled very easily. The sick are cured, and all others in same stable, no matter how "exposed," kept from having the disease, by using SPOHN'S LIQUID DISTEMPER CURE. Give on the tongue, or in feed. Acts on the blood and expels germs of all forms of distemper. Best remedy ever known for mares in foal. One bottle guaranteed to cure one case. 50c and $1 a bottle; $5 and $10 dozen of druggists and harness dealers, or sent express paid by manufacturers. Cut shows how to poultice throats. Our free Booklet gives everything. Local agents wanted. Largest selling horse remedy in existence—twelve years.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists, Goshen, Ind., U. S. A.

EXPERIENCED RAW FUR BUYERS WANTED

in every town and village.

Address Wulfsohn Ganss Fur Co., 216 Nicollet Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

LOST REGISTERED LETTERS FOUND IN QUEER PLACE

Missed From a Mangled Mail Bag, They are Recovered From Car Trucks.

It does not always follow that the disappearance of registered mail packages indicate a robbery of the mail. This was demonstrated on The Overland Limited train No. 2 Friday, November 5th, when a package of five registered letters from Schuyler disappeared between that point and Omaha.

The recovery of the lost package was as strange as its disappearance. The Schuyler pouch is picked up from a crane by means of a pouch catcher as the train passes. This pouch catcher is attached to the mail car and hooks onto the pouch suspended from the crane as the train passes. In this particular instance the pouch catcher did not make a good catch and the pouch fell under the wheels of the train and was cut in two. The mail was scattered along the track for a considerable distance, but the five registered letters, which were in a packet, could not be found when the other mail was picked up. The impression at once prevailed that the registered package had been found and kept by some one and it was reported as lost.

Postoffice Inspector L. A. Thompson was started out to investigate. His first visit was to Council Bluffs to make inquiries of the postal clerks on the car, and scarcely had he reached there when he received word that the registered package had been found by the car cleaner resting snugly on the trucks under the dining car, where it had been blown or thrown when the mail pouch was flung under the wheels at Schuyler.

That the package was not injured in the slightest, nor jarred from its position on the trucks, is simply another tribute to the Union Pacific's unsurpassed roadbed and perfect track.

Pathetic Pride.

Willie had had a tumble when he was a baby and his hip was so hurt that ever after ard he was obliged to use a crutch. On one occasion, when his mother had bought him a new crutch of the latest and most approved style, Willie expressed his enthusiasm and delight in the roundest terms. "And oh, mother!" he exclaimed, in conclusion, referring to a little friend of his who having the use of both legs had no need of crutches, "won't Johnny Knowles be jealous!"

Dr. S. F. Spohn, President of the Spohn Medical Co., proprietors of Spohn's Distemper Cure, was recently elected mayor of Goshen, Ind., by a good majority. Mr. Spohn was for a number of years County Supt. of Schools, making such a record that his neighbours and friends, regardless of political lines, insisted on his accepting the nomination for mayor.

That Single Thought.

You've heard the old story of sweet wedded bliss, of the two hearts that flutter as one, and the two souls single-thought sealed with a kiss, and have wondered, no doubt, how 'twas done. As a wise one who was by experience taught, this effect we will briefly explain; in most of the cases that "one single thought" is: "I wish I was single again!"

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Debut of the Green-Eyed.

Adam—I couldn't believe my eyes when I first beheld you!

Eve (wrathfully)—So you were expecting some other woman, were you?

What the Name Means.

"Pa, what is a pony coat?"

"Something I've got to work like a horse for to keep your mother peaceable."—Detroit Free Press.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action is remarkable. Removes the cause and disease quickly disappears. First dose benefits. 75c and $1. All druggists.

A man may be as brilliant, as clever, as strong and as broad as you please, but, with all this, if he is not good he may be a paltry fellow.—J. S. Blackie.

The new RUSS BLUE makes clothes whiter than snow. Delights the laundress. All grocers sell it.

The season is here when many a family man would like to swap his big automobile for a small coal yard.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Occasionally a thin woman acquires the art of not showing it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated tiny granules.

The worm may turn, but the grindstone has to be turned.

MINERALS IN FOOD

NECESSITY NOT ALWAYS THOROUGHLY UNDERSTOOD.

Work of All the Organs of the Body Dependent Upon Mineral Matters Furnished—Milk and Eggs Highly Desirable.

BY JESSICA E. BESACK.

Director Department of Domestic Science and Art, National Corn Exposition, Omaha, Neb.

The necessity of mineral matters in the food is not often understood. Few people give this matter any thought other than that mineral matter is needed for the bones and to "purify the blood," whatever that may mean.

As everyone knows, the food materials are carried to every part of the system by the blood and by a very exact arrangement, just the particular food and amount needed deposited. But what is not generally known is the fact that the work of all the organs of the body is dependent upon the mineral matters furnished. The beating of the heart is due to the presence of two mineral salts in the blood, one possessing the property of causing expansion and the other the property of causing contraction.

Many difficulties attend the use of foods and their effects upon the system. The experiments are long and expensive and subjects rare and reluctant. But recent investigations tend to show that minerals cannot be successfully supplied to the body in a medicinal form, without the accompanying food, rich in the mineral desired.

It follows that a diet rich in mineral matter is essential. Fresh vegetables, fresh fruits, milk and eggs are all rich in minerals and should find a place in all diets. Milk and eggs are expensive but the result will justify the expense in many instances. Skim milk and buttermilk are just as rich in minerals as whole milk, much cheaper and are deserving of much more attention than is usually given to them.

A pretty, inexpensive and attractive salad may be made from shredding a crisp cabbage and adding a few drops of onion juice and seasoning, using a French dressing. If oil is objectionable, melted butter may be successfully substituted.

RECIPE FOR RICE BAVARIAN

Housewife's Expenditure of Time and Trouble Will Be Well Repaid by the Result.

Put into a double boiler one and a half pints of milk and a few thin cuts of lemon peel. When it boils stir in one-half cup of well-washed rice and a saltspoon of salt. Cook until the rice is perfectly tender. The milk should be nearly boiled away, leaving the rice very moist. Then add or mix in carefully a half cup of sugar and a quarter of a box of gelatin which has soaked in half a cup of cold water for an hour and then melted by placing the cup containing it in hot water for a few minutes. When the mixture is partly cooled add three tablespoons of sherry or any preferred flavor. When it is beginning to set, stir in lightly half a pint of cream which has been whipped stiff, and put into a mold. Serve with crushed strawberries sweetened. The white mold with red sauce is a charming combination.

Yellow Tomato Soup.

The little yellow tomatoes make delicious bisque soup. Cook enough of the tomatoes with a teaspoonful of butter and a teaspoonful of sugar to make a cupful after the seeds and skins are strained out. Meanwhile make a sauce with three cupfuls of milk and a tablespoonful each of butter and flour, salt and a little paprika. Add to the tomatoes while very hot a level saltspoonful of soda and stir them into the hot milk.

Minced Lamb.

Remove all the good meat from what remains of roast lamb and mince fine. Put the bones and bits of skin in a saucepan and cover with a pint of water. Add one onion, one-half carrot cut small, a few sprays of parsley and two mint leaves, and simmer for one-half hour; add any gravy left from roast and strain. Thicken with one tablespoonful of flour rubbed in one tablespoonful of butter, add a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of cayenne and the minced lamb. Let it come to a boil and serve.

Dried Currant Pies.

Always put pastry on bottom of baking pans. Cover thickly with well-washed and dried currants, grate a little nutmeg over them and brown sugar last. Sprinkle a little water on to moisten, now put more pastry to fit pan, brush over with milk and cut in squares before baking.

To Remove Stains.

For removing the stain of perspiration, a strong solution of soda is first to be applied with a subsequent rinsing of water.

Foreign Trade of United States.

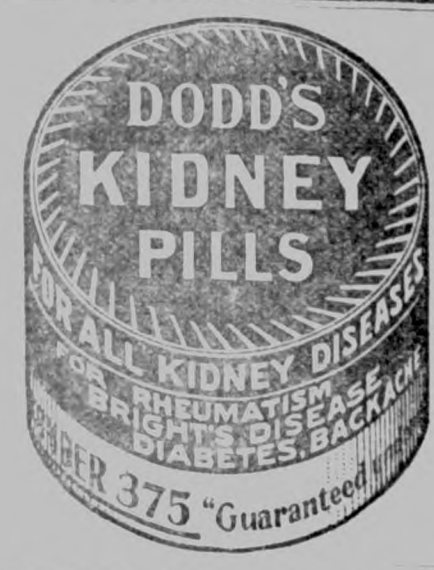
Great Britain buys more goods from the United States than from any other three principal countries in the world —$620,000,000 worth in 1908; $10,000,000 more than from France, Germany and Holland combined, according to the July report of the department of trade and commerce of Canada.

The next time you have a cold on the lungs try rubbing Wizard Oil on your best and see how quickly it will draw out the inflammation and break up the cold.

Every man has his gift, and the gods go to him that can use them.—Kingsley.

WHEN YOU'RE AS HOARSE as a crow. When you're coughing and gasping. When you've an old-fashioned deep-seated cold, take Allen's Lung Balsam. 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles.

A woman would rather suspect her husband than distrust her preacher.



SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

DYSPEPSIA

"Having taken your wonderful 'Cascarets' for three months and being entirely cured of stomach catarrh and dyspepsia, I think a word of praise is due to 'Cascarets' for their wonderful composition. I have taken numerous other so-called remedies but without avail, and I find that Cascarets relieve more in a day than all the others I have taken would in a year." James McGunc, 108 Mercer St., Jersey City, N. J.

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 919

CRUISE To the ORIENT

"CINCINNATI"
21st Annual Cruise Leaves
New York January 29, 1910

80 days $325 up

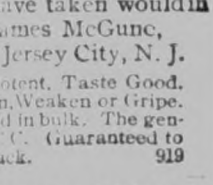
An Ideal Trip under most Perfect Conditions
Also cruises to the West Indies and South America
HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINE
41-45 Broadway, - - New York
P. O. Box 1707

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES

Instantly relieve Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Coughs. Unexcelled for clearing the voice. Absolutely free from opiates or anything harmful. Price, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00 per box. Sample sent on request.

JOHN I. BROWN & SON, Boston, Mass.

1,000,000 RAW FUR SKINS WANTED



for my manufacturing and exporting trade. Skunk, Mink, Muskrat and others. Top prices. Write for special quotations.
A. E. BURKHARDT
International Fur Merchant,
CINCINNATI, O.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results

For Croup or Bronchitis A-B-C LINIMENT
All Dealers.

TAKE A DOSE OF

PISO'S CURE

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

It will instantly relieve that racking cough. Taken promptly it will often prevent Asthma, Bronchitis and serious throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed safe and very palatable.

All Druggists, 25 cents.

PEARSON'S MAGAZINE

in every issue deals exhaustively with the great subjects of national and international importance. One-half of the magazine is devoted to the great questions of the day—the other half to the best short stories obtainable. If you're not reading Pearson's you're missing a real treat.

GUY de MAUPASSANT KING OF ALL SHORT STORY WRITERS

8 Volumes, Illustrated—Size, 4 1-2 x 7 inches—
OVER 200 COMPLETE STORIES—and

PEARSON'S MAGAZINE for One Year

Only $3.60 Delivered FREE

Most Exceptional Offer—
LIMITED NUMBER

FRENCH authors have written many lively tales, which because of false conventional modesty, have been, until recent translations, unknown to those who read only English. Prudish modesty and unfair prejudice have deprived us of the merriest and liveliest tales ever written. Maupassant was the one man in France who, because of his environment and temperament, could write truly the realistic scenes of REAL PARISIAN LIFE so fascinatingly as to rivet your attention to his merry tales, to the exclusion of everything else.

Maupassant's eventful career gave him ideas, situations and local color for his unsurpassed stories. Strong in imagination, overflowing with natural enthusiasm and passion in his study of human life and phases of human conduct, things really happening—not as we imagine they might or as we would—BUT THE REAL DOINGS OF LIFE—is what Maupassant always gives us.

Poe describes the unusual, the unnatural, the impossible; Maupassant, the real, the natural, the possible, holding a mirror up to nature. His dramatic instinct, his situations and his climaxes are overwhelming. He always fixes upon the one thing of most human-soul interest and makes it as vivid as any stage scene. These absorbing stories should be in every library—tales of travel, mystery, adventure, comedy, pathos and tragedy, love and realism.

EIGHT BEAUTIFUL VOLUMES of the Most Fascinating Reading in the World. Contains over 2,500 pages, more than 300 pages to the volume, printed from a new cast of 8-point type, large and clear, on pure white antique paper, made specially for this edition. Pages are wide, with liberal margins, illustrated with specially made line-cut frontispieces, bound in de luxe art cloth, backs and sides stamped with an ornamental design.

WE GUARANTEE that this edition is the first printing from brand-new type and illustration plates.

PEARSON'S MAGAZINE is famous in two hemispheres for its fiction. It has the best that is written. The writers of stories appearing now include: Ruth McEnery Stuart, Charles Belmont Davis, Arthur Stringer, E. Phillips Oppenheim, Morgan Robertson, Inez G. Thompson, Margaret Busbee Shipp, Eleanor Stuart, Theodore Roberts, Joseph C. Lincoln, Philip Verrill Mighels, Robert Barr, George A. Birmingham, George Pattullo, Richard Barry, Casper Day.

CUT HERE. Mail at once.

Dept. 8
Pearson's Magazine.
N. Y. City

Enclosed find $3.60. Send me the 8-vol. set of De Maupassant and Pearson's Magazine for one year.

Name.....

Address.....

Oil Heat

Without Smoke

No matter how sensitive your olfactory nerves may be, or under what working conditions you encounter the

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

you'll not detect the slightest odor of smoke. The new

Automatic Smokeless Device

positively prevents both. Removed in an instant for cleaning.

Solid brass font holds 4 quarts of oil—sufficient to give out a glowing heat for 9 hours—solid brass wick carriers—damper top—cool handle—oil indicator. Heater beautifully finished in nickel or Japan in a variety of styles.

Every Dealer Everywhere. If Not At Yours, Write for Descriptive Circular to the Nearest Agency of the

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
(Incorporated)

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.00 $3.50 & $4.00 SHOES

THE LARGEST MANUFACTURER OF MEN'S FINE SHOES IN THE WORLD

Wear W. L. Douglas comfortable, easy-walking shoes. They are made upon honor, of the best leathers, by the most skilled workmen, in all the latest fashions. Shoes in every style and shape to suit men in all walks of life.

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer and are of greater value than any other make.

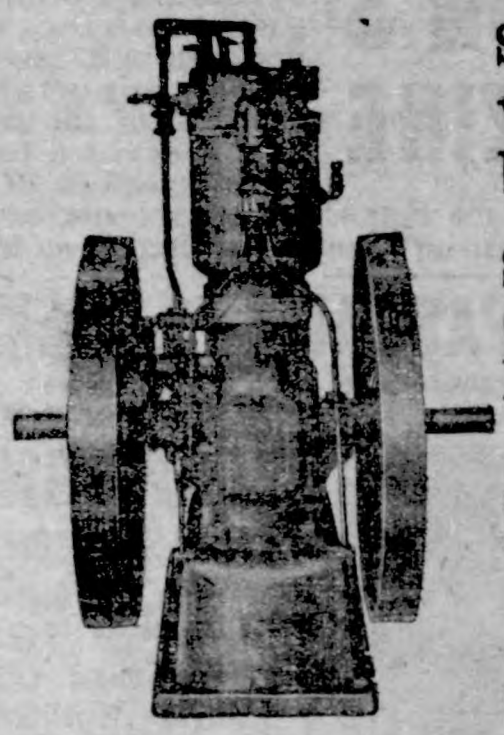
CAUTION.—See that W. L. Douglas name and the retail price is stamped on the bottom. Take No Substitute.

BOY'S SHOES $2.00 & $2.50

Wherever you live, W. L. Douglas shoes are within your reach. If your dealer cannot fit you, write for Mail Order Catalog. W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.



Save work, worry, money by using a

STOVER GASOLINE ENGINE

Made right—sold right. Send for an illustrated catalog of our

ENGINES

wind mills and feed grinders.

Sandwich Mfg. Co.

Mason City, Iowa — General Agents

RUPTURE, PILES

CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, CURE GUARANTEED.

YOU PAY NOTHING UNTIL CURED. My treatment is mild, absolutely reliable and permanent. Write to or call and see the parties whose names I publish in this advertisement, they were afflicted with Rupture or Piles I cured THEM and can CURE YOU.

R. E. Busby, Clearfield, Ia. — Silas C. Sweet, Des Moines, Ia.
Cas. Tucker, Boone, Ia. — E. C. Miller, Des Moines, Ia.
W. C. Hoff, Des Moines, Ia. — John H. Looby, Des Moines, Ia.

SEND FOR MY 52 PAGE FREE BOOK for men, I will send it to you free, postage paid. This book contains much information of great value to anyone afflicted, and many testimonial letters. Whether you take treatment or not, you are welcome to the book. Write today—it will pay you.

SPECIALIST ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS

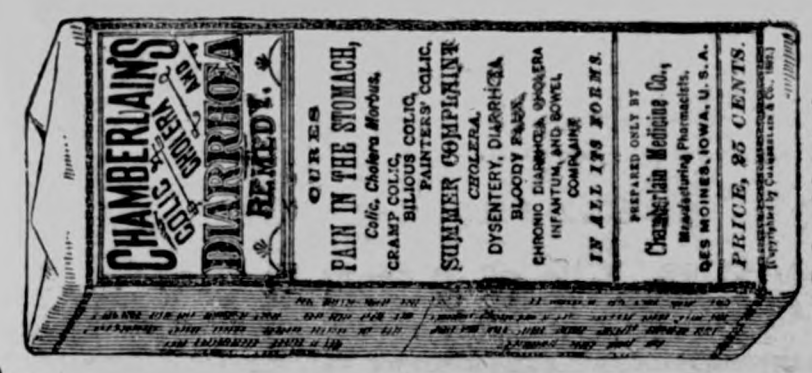
F. W. McCanon, M. D., DES MOINES, IOWA

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy

Acknowledged everywhere to be the most successful medicine in use for Bowel Complaints. Can be depended upon in the most severe and dangerous cases.

REMEMBER ALWAYS CURES CURES QUICKLY

MONEY RETURNED IF NOT SATISFIED

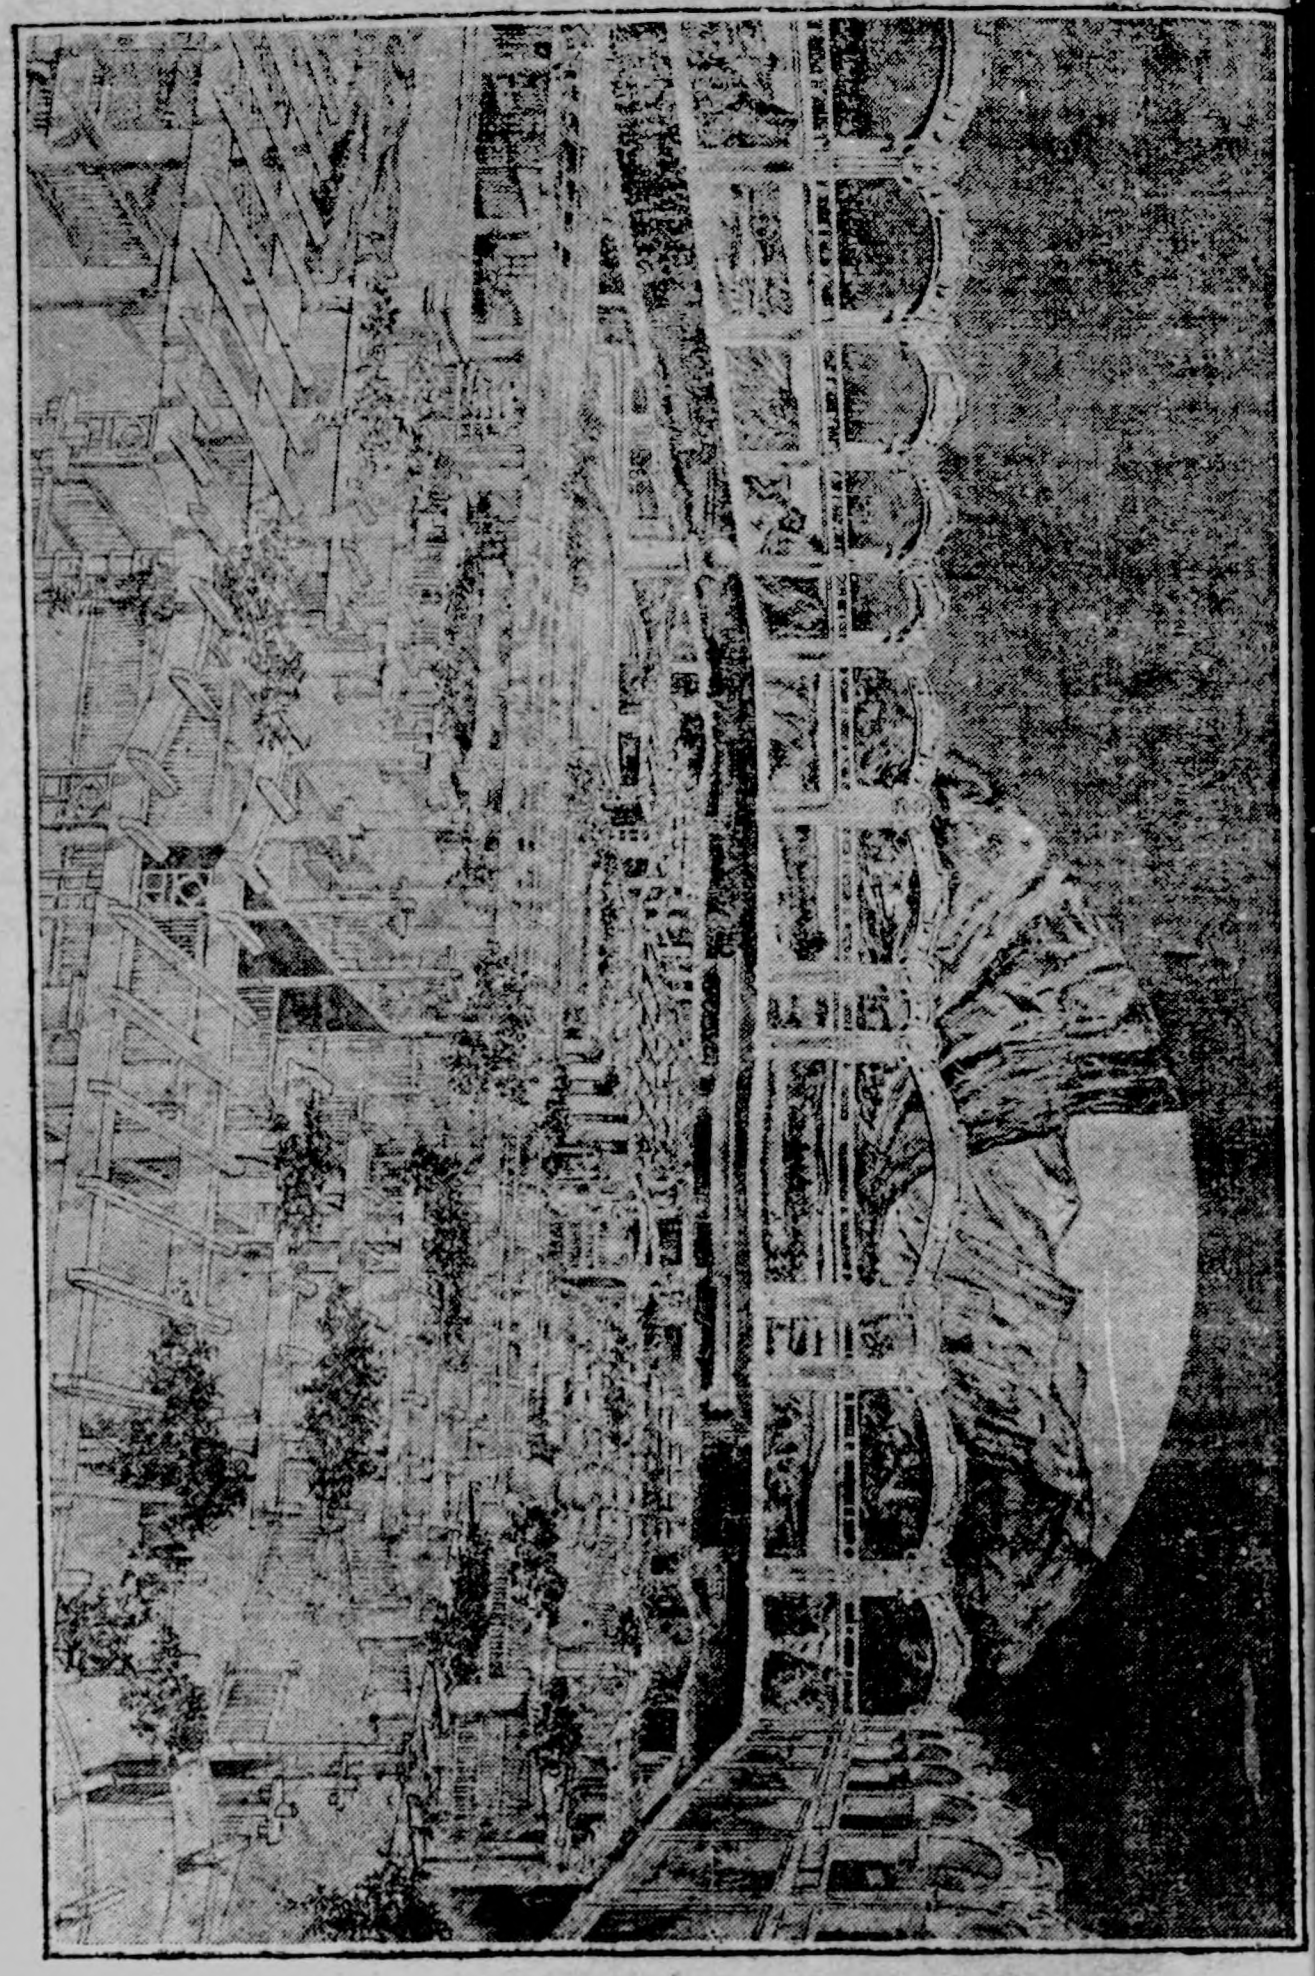


Reduced fac simile

50 PER CENT. SAVING. Requires no top or bottom rail and only ¼ as many posts as the old sty netting and makes a better fence. A full line of Field and Hog Fencing; Steel Picket Lawn Fence, Gates, Posts, Rail, etc. Write for full particulars.

UNION FENCE CO., De Kalb, Ill.

Decorative Plan of the United States Land and Irrigation Exposition, Coliseum, Nov. 20 to Dec. 4, 1909. Under the Auspices of the Chicago Tribune, the World's Greatest Newspaper.



THE BIG LAND SHOW

Chicago's Chief of Police Assures Visitors That Everything Will Be Ready for Their Comfort.

Chief of Police Steward of Chicago is mindful of the comfort of visitors during the coming Land Exposition, which will be held during the same time as the International Live Stock Show, Nov. 20 to Dec. 4.

"We shall not only police the exposition but also all those parts of the city which the visitors will frequent. If there are any suspicious characters in sight, we shall speedily warn them to leave the city. We are determined that our guests during the exposition season shall be as free from annoyance as a thoroughly organized police and detective force can make them. Ordinarily the stranger in Chicago is as safe here as in any city—we purpose to make him doubly so during the two weeks of the exposition and Live Stock Show.

"We have on the force many men who are experienced in looking after crowds and they will all be on duty at the right points during the Land and Irrigation festivities.

"I am taking a special interest in this coming land show for I realize its great importance to the country and to the city of Chicago, and I appreciate the earnestness of the people who are going to be Chicago's visitors. Many people who are seeking new locations for their homes will come to Chicago and many of them will not be on the alert for suspicious characters. To such people we shall give special care and do all in the power of our strong organization to see that no one falls into the hands of the confidence men or other swindlers during his presence within our gates.

"I appreciate the enterprise of the Chicago Tribune in promoting and financing this great exposition and it is my wish to have our police organization assume a large measure of the responsibility for the comfort of our guests on this splendid occasion."

New Decorative Idea.

The hostes who wishes something different is asked to try using striped and fancy grasses, rushes and little wild foliage plants that grow in damp places and along streams. A table can be made very pretty with these, using no flowers. Try it.

Books — Letter Heads
Pamphlets — Envelopes

Everything printed from

TYPE

At the Times office.

Cards — Bill Heads
Invitations — Posters

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner — Iowa
Eyes Tested Free.

Just Dust it on the Sor
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls whi
Work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom
Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by
Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDE
(25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, I

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's New Discovery

FOR COUGHS COLDS — PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free

AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.

GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

Wanted—An Idea Who can think of some simple thing to patent?

Protect your ideas; they may bring you wealth. Write JOHN WEDDERBURN & CO., Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C., for their $1,800 prize offer and list of two hundred inventions wanted.

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 19 KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1909. $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

IF YOU'D HAD IT IN THE BANK YOU WOULDN'T HAVE SPENT IT. IT IS NEVER TOO LATE TO LEARN.

37

Are You Satisfied

with what you have to show for last year's hard work? You are a year older, why not be a year wiser?

Start that savings account today. NOW IS THE TIME. It will make you happy and every dollar added to it makes you a happier man and a better citizen.

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

A CONVINCER

The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.
We claim for our lumber and building material that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.
May we figure on your next lumber bill?

J. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

THE COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE LAW

To the School Patrons of Hancock County:

The requirements of the compulsory attendance law as amended by the 33rd General Assembly are as follows:

"Any person having control of any child of the age of seven (7) to fourteen (14) years inclusive, in proper physical and mental condition to attend school shall cause such child to attend school, where the common branches of reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, grammar, geography, physiology and United States history are taught, for at least twenty-four (24) consecutive school weeks in each school year, commencing with the first week of school after the first day of September, unless the board of school directors shall determine upon a later date which date shall not be later than the first Monday in December. Provided, that this section shall not apply to any child who lives more than two miles from any school by the nearest traveled road except in those districts in which the pupils are transported at public expense, or who is excused for sufficient reasons by any court of record or judge thereof, or while attending religious service or receiving religious instruction.

"Any person who shall violate the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall pay a fine of not less than three ($3) dollars nor more than twenty ($20) dollars, for each offense.

"School officers who neglect or refuse to enforce the law, are liable to a fine of not less than ten ($10) dollars nor more than twenty ($20) dollars for each offense."

All cases of non-attendance should be reported to the secretary of the school board and he shall promptly inform the president of the board of directors. All teachers and school officers are requested to take notice of this requirement of the law.

All cases of non-enforcement of this law, from and after Dec. 6, the first Monday in December, should be reported to the county superintendent.

A. M DEYOE,
County Superintendent.

Champion Letter Writer

Uncle Sam is the champion letter writer of the world. If he were to pay regular rates of postage on all the mail handled by the Postal service for him, his postage bill would amount to $20,000,000 a year. He is always prone to refer to the Postal Service as being operated at a deficit. But as a matter of fact, in spite of rural free delivery and other improvements which call for the expenditure of vast sums of money, the people of the United States pay more than it costs to handle their mail. Deducting the amount of free matter which was sent out under franks and penalty envelopes, it was found that the postal service received $4,000,000 more for carrying the paid mail than it cost to carry it. In other words, had Uncle Sam paid the ordinary postal rates for his franked and penalty matter, there would have been a surplus of $4,000,000 in the postal revenues instead of a deficit of $16,000,000. —Ex.

COLD WEATHER

has no effect on interest. It works just as hard at 10 degrees as at 65 degrees. Interest paid on time certificates the year around.

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

The Winter Season

Is now close at hand and it calls for good, warm wearing apparel, good Shoes and Overshoes, etc. We are, as usual, prepared to furnish you with the needed articles and our prices are as low as possible, consistent with the quality of goods we furnish. We want to call your special attention to our full and complete line of

Genuine Old Fashioned Wool Flannel

Ranging in price per yard from.... 50c TO $1.50

LARGE LINE TO SELECT FROM

Outing Flannels

The kind usually sold for 10c per yard we sell for.... 8c

The kind usually sold for 12c per yard we sell for... 10c

This is no special sale, just our every-day prices.

See our complete line of Seasonable Goods.
We absolutely guarantee satisfaction.

W. J. BARZ, - Garner, Iowa

Christmas GOODS

The most complete line of Toys in Town.

Story Books, Games, Dolls, Tree Decorations, China and Glassware, Fancy and Common Lamps, Burnt Wood Goods.

Jewelery

Watches, Clocks, Rings, Bracelets, Chains, Lockets, Ladies' and Gent's Buttons and Pins of all kinds.

Musical Goods

Pianos, Brass and String Instruments, Sheet Music, Edison Records. They comprise recitations, vaudeville selections and music of every character.

G. A. PABST & CO.
DRUGGISTS

Rich Men's Gifts Are Poor

beside this: "I want to go on record as saying that I regard Electric Bitters as one of the greatest gifts that God has made to woman," writes Mrs O. Rhinevault of Vestal Center, N.Y. "I can never forget what it has done for me." This glorious medicine gives a woman buoyant spirits, vigor of body and jubilant health. It quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache fainting and dizzy spells; soon builds up the weak, ailing and sickly. Try them. 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Alone in Saw Mill at Midnight

unmindful of dampness, drafts, storms or cold, W J Atkins worked as Night Watchman, at Banner Springs, Tenn. Such exposure gave him a severe cold that settled on his lungs. At last he had to give up work. He tried many remedies but all failed till he used Dr. King's New Discovery. "After using one bottle," he writes, "I went back to work as well as ever." Severe colds, stubborn coughs, inflamed throats and sore lungs, hemorrhages, croup and whooping cough get quick relief and prompt cure from this glorious medicine. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, - - - - IOWA

IMPORTANT NEWS NOTES OF A WEEK

LATEST HAPPENINGS THE WORLD OVER TOLD IN ITEMIZED FORM.

EVENTS HERE AND THERE

Condensed Into a Few Lines for the Perusal of the Busy Man—Latest Personal Information.

PERSONAL.

Calvin Demarest is the new champion 18.2 balk line billiard player, having defeated George Sutton, who held the championship, at New York, by a score of 500 to 78.

Queen Wilhelmina of Holland and her consort, Prince Henry, went to England to visit the king and queen.

Mrs Rose Pastor Stokes, the settlement worker has promised to aid the striking shirtwaist makers in New York She says the girls were paid "miserable wages'

John G. A. Leishman, the newly appointed American ambassador to Italy, has arrived at Rome.

Mrs John Wright Hunt wife of the turpentine king, who eloped with Prince Alexander a cousin of the czar returned to New York without the prince and was welcomed by her father, Adelbert Babcock of Brookfield, N. Y.

GENERAL NEWS.

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers met in New York in its thirtieth annual session.

President Taft, head of the American Red Cross, opened the fifth annual meeting of that organization in Washington, and addresses were made on relief work in Italy, Key West and elsewhere.

The annual meeting of the Lake Michigan Commercial Fishermen's association was held in Charlevoix, Mich., H. Barlow presiding.

The state horticultural societies of Illinois and Michigan met in annual convention at Champaign and Kalamazoo, respectively.

Striking foreign workmen at a steel plant in Monaca, Pa., tore down an American flag and hoisted in its place a black flag, and when Deputy Sheriff Crowley sought to displace the latter he was shot and fatally wounded.

The Pennsylvania St. Louis-New York flyer was wrecked by a broken rail near Lewisville, Ind., and three express messengers seriously injured. None of the passengers were hurt outside of some minor bruises and cuts.

Secretary of the Navy Meyer in his annual report warned the government to hold on to the navy yards and recommended the immediate building of two battleships of the most destructive type and another dry dock on the Pacific coast capable of docking the largest "Dreadnoughts."

President Zelaya of Nicaragua has become a fugitive from justice and a common murderer in the eyes of the United States, according to a report which emanated from the state department. It is the intention of the government to capture him if possible and try him for the murder of Groce and Cannon, the Americans.

It is believed in New York that the purchase of the majority of the stock of the Equitable Life Assurance society by J. Pierpont Morgan foreshadows the mutualization of the Equitable.

The British parliament has been prorogued and the fight to end the powers of the house of lords has begun.

A full set of autographs of presidents of the United States, from Washington to Roosevelt, was sold in New York for $9,300.

That Mrs Jeanette Stewart Ford shot and tried to kill Edgar S. Cooke o. Chicago at New York several years ago is asserted by Prosecutor Henry Hunt of Cincinnati, after an investigation in connection with the Warriner embezzlement case.

Secretary Dickinson, in his annual report, recommends to the president many sweeping changes and reforms in the army, including the centralization of troops in forts erected adjacent to the principal cities of the United States, the abolishment of the Roosevelt physical tests for officers and governmental control of wireless telegraphy.

Robert R. Doherty, a prominent Methodist who was one of the founders of the Epworth league, is dead of pneumonia at his home in Jersey City. He was 62 years old.

More than 3,000 books which the police say were stolen from public libraries in New York city were found by detectives in two rooms in a Brooklyn boarding house. Many of the books are old and rare. The lot is said to be worth more than $10,000.

While sleep-walking, 17-year-old Hinman Knowlton of South Framingham, Mass., fatally shot both his parents. The boy was arrested.

Patrick Cox, who was extradited from Chicago a few months ago, and tried in County Mayo, Ireland, charged with the death of Edward Murray, was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to five months' imprisonment.

An endowment fund for the support of a post-graduate school for "teacher nurses" has been given to the teachers' college of Columbia university by Mrs. Helen Hartley Jenkins. The amount of the gift has not been made public.

The Canadian senate adopted the bill ratifying the Franco-Canadian treaty and it was assented to by the governor general. The French and Canadian governments will take immediate action to make the treaty effective before the first of the year.

Lewis Merickel, 40 years old, is dead from a rifle wound in the abdomen and Joseph Myers, 13 years old, who shot him is held at the Juvenile home. The boy says that Merickel dared him to shoot and that he fired, not thinking the gun was loaded.

A gift of $4,000,000 for the founding of a home for convalescents in New York city becomes available with the death of John Masterson Burke, one of America's little-known millionaires.

The third National Corn exposition opened at Omaha, Neb., with exhibits by the federal government and 25 states, and a vast quantity of competitive entries made by grain raisers.

Representatives of many civic and educational organizations met in New York to devise a means of co-ordinating civic activities and to plan more effective methods of studying political problems.

J. Pierpont Morgan has gained control of the Equitable Life Assurance Company with its $472,000,000 assets through the purchase of stock held by Thomas F. Ryan, the latter having bought the interests formerly owned by James H. Hyde.

Following the abrupt termination of diplomatic relations with Nicaragua the government has dispatched the cruiser Prairie from Philadelphia with 700 marines on board, the cruiser Albany and gunboat Yorktown to Central American waters and it is determined that a stable government shall be established and maintained in the war-riven republic.

A delegation of Chicago business men visited President Taft and made a plea for the suspension of the provisions of the corporation tax law. The president gave them but little encouragement, saying he would take their petition under advisement.

Albert I. Patrick, the New York lawyer under sentence of death for slaying Millionaire Rice, has lost his ninth fight for freedom through the dismissal by the appellate court at Brooklyn of the habeas corpus writ secured by him to determine whether he is being illegally retained by the state.

Woman suffrage advocates throughout New York state are raising a fund of several thousand dollars to be used for promoting the suffrage bill which will be put before the legislature of New York state this winter.

Vermont will erect a memorial to Champlain, the explorer, and will not join New York in such an undertaking.

The average temperature for November in Kansas City, Mo., was 52 degrees, and the highest was 80 on November 3. This breaks all records for the month since the weather bureau was established there.

Contracts are to be placed for two submarines for the Russian navy. They are planned to cruise in company with a battleship fleet.

The season of heavy gold receipts at the United States assay office in Seattle ended with a total of $11,733,489 for the six months beginning June 1. This is a falling off of $5,775,141, compared with the same period in 1908.

Twenty-three hundred switchmen on 13 railroads between Lake Superior and the Pacific coast have struck for higher wages and better conditions. Unless the strike is speedily settled a serious interruption in traffic is likely.

Combined resources of all the banks of the United States reach more than $21,000,000,000, or about one-fifth of the entire wealth of the country, according to special reports compiled for the use of the national monetary commission.

The National Asscciation of Live Stock Breeders and Raisers, at its convention in Chicago, determined to ask congress for a large appropriation for the prevention and eradication of highly contagious animal diseases.

President Zelaya of Nicaragua has made overtures to Estrada, the revolutionist, intimating that he would retire from the presidency and permit congress to choose his successor. Estrada promptly rejected the proffer and says he will fight the matter out.

THE NEW DISH.

"What do you call this—ice pudding?"

"Well, sir, it used to be called ice pudding, but now it is known as the north pole, or the Cook's Surprise."

SKIN ROUGH AS BARK.

Baby Boy Had Intense Itching Humor —Scratched Till Blood Ran.

Found a Cure in Cuticura.

"Our son, two years old, was afflicted with a rash. After he suffered with the trouble several weeks I took him to the doctor but it got worse. The rash ran together and made large blisters. The little fellow didn't want to do anything but scratch and we had to wrap his hands up to keep him from tearing the flesh open till the blood would run. The itching was intense. The skin on his back became hard and rough like the bark of a tree. He suffered intensely for about three months. But I found a remedy in Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. The result was almost magical. That was more than two years ago and there has not been the slightest symptom of it since he was cured. J. W. Lauck, Yukon, Okla., Aug. 28 and Sept. 17, 1908."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

No, Alonzo, we wouldn't advise a man with an impediment in his speech to go to a speakeasy for treatment.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action is remarkable. It Removes the cause and the disease quickly disappears. First dose greatly benefits. 75c Druggists.

Cherries.

A diminutive miss insisted upon helping her mother in putting up preserves. "Run away, there is nothing you can do," said mother.

"Yes I could," persisted the child. "I could unbutton the cherries for you."

All the Same to Her.

"I must warn you, dearest," he said, "that after we are married you will very likely find me inclined to be arbitrary and dictatorial in my manner."

"No matter," she replied, cheerfully, "I won't pay the slightest attention to what you say."

Good for the Nerves.

At a recent archery tournament in London 300 women took part in the contest, the game having become very popular. It is recommended by London physicians as splendid for the nerves. American women have never taken very kindly to the sport, but the renewal of interest abroad may effect a change in this country.

Astonished the Company.

A famous dean was once at dinner, when, just as the cloth was removed, the subject of discourse happened to be that of extraordinary mortality among lawyers. "We have lost," said a gentleman, "not less than six eminent barristers in as many months." The dean, who was quite deaf, rose as his friend finished his remarks, and gave the company grace—"For this and every other mercy, make us truly thankful."

RESULTS OF FOOD

Health and Natural Conditions Come From Right Feeding.

Man, physically, should be like a perfectly regulated machine, each part working easily in its appropriate place. A slight derangement causes undue friction and wear, and frequently ruins the entire system.

A well-known educator of Boston found a way to keep the brain and the body in that harmonious co-operation which makes a joy of living.

"Two years ago," she writes, "being in a condition of nervous exhaustion, I resigned my position as teacher, which I had held over 40 years. Since then the entire rest has, of course, been a benefit, but the use of Grape-Nuts has removed one great cause of illness in the past, namely, constipation, and its attendant evils.

"I generally make my entire breakfast on a raw egg beaten into four spoonfuls of Grape-Nuts, with a little hot milk or hot water added. I like it extremely, my food assimilates, and my bowels take care of themselves. I find my brain power and physical condition much greater and I know that the use of the Grape-Nuts has contributed largely to this result.

"It is with feelings of gratitude that I write this testimonial, and trust it may be the means of aiding others in their search for health."

Look in pkgs. for the little book, "The Road to Wellville." "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

HOWARD IS ELECTED

Schaller Man Heads Implement Dealers Association.

OTHER OFFICERS SELECTED

Merchants Protest Against High Rates and Pass Resolutions Asking for Legislative Committee That Already Exists.

Des Moines, Dec. 4.—Strongly protesting against the high rates which they claim are charged for the transportation of heavy castings for use on the farm by the railroads of the state, the members of the Iowa Implement Dealers' association directed their legislative committee to go before the railroad commission of the state and present the facts to its members. Thursday a committee headed by J. L. Farrington appeared before the commission, but received no satisfaction because they were unable to present any specific cases.

The protest of the dealers came in the form of a resolution introduced by Mr. Farrington and unanimously adopted by the convention. This resolution declares that the farmers are greatly harmed by the unjust rates on the heavier articles of farm machinery, and that the rates form an unjust discrimination against both the farmers and the implement dealers.

Although such committees already exist in both houses, the convention went on record as favoring the establishment of a committee of the state legislature on commerce and retail trade, and directed the legislative committee of the association to call upon the legislature and urge the adoption of this measure.

Governor Carroll's plan for narrowing the roads of the state and for taking part of the present state tax to really improve the roads was heartily indorsed by the convention.

The members of the association decided to continue their headquarters at the state fair as in the past and went on record as strongly favoring the erection of a manufacturers' building in the near future. They decided that they will in the future pay a great deal of attention to the state fair and will do all in their power to make it a success.

The convention also voted to ask the legislature for greater protection in their credit sales. At present they claim that they are not protected at all and that when they sell a man a piece of machinery on credit they do so at their own risk and have no way of action as men in other lines of business have. They want the right to attach the goods in case the farmer fails to pay his bills and to recover the articles if they are sold.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. S. Howard of Schaller; vice president, J. R. Vaughan of Waterloo; secretary and treasurer, E. P. Armknecht of Donnellson; board member, W. F. Smith of Winterset.

ACTOR SUICIDE AT FT. DODGE

Harry Adams Kills Himself When Refused Privilege of Seeing Girl at Hotel.

Fort Dodge, Ia., Dec. 4.—Harry Adams, 42 years old, known in the variety world as J. C. Williams, drank an ounce of carbolic acid in the presence of employes and guests in the lobby of the Ward hotel, saying he preferred death, to separation from Jennie Saggers, his 18-year-old partner in a theatrical act. The suicide occurred at noon and followed unsuccessful efforts of Adams to effect a reunion with Jennie Saggers, who ran away from him at Stapleton, Minn. The girl came to this city last week and has been employed as a chambermaid at the Ward. Adams traced her here Tuesday and has been trying to lure her back to the stage. Jennie Saggers is the daughter of a well known Boone county farmer. She left home at the age of 15 to go on the stage. The couple have been on Iowa, Illinois and Minnesota vaudeville circuits.

Dolliver Speaks at Chicago.

Chicago, Dec. 4—Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver of Iowa, a leading member of the "insurgents," fired a shot into the enemy in a speech delivered at the Press club. Mr. Dolliver declared the most hopeful sign about the last congress was not what it did but the fact that it did not act unanimously. He believed President Taft's attitude towards the "insurgents" at the coming session will be friendly. "The time when a 'skin game' can be worked on the people with the unanimous consent of congress will never come again," said Mr Dolliver. "When I am asked why I do not vote with the majority, I say 'Not until I have made a chemical analysis of it.'"

BACKACHE IS KIDNEYACHE.

Usually There Are Other Troubles to Prove It.

Pain in the back is pain in the kidneys, in most cases, and it points to the need of a special remedy to remove and cure the congestion or inflammation of the kidneys that is interfering with their work and causing that pain that makes you say "Oh, my back."

Thompson Wilkins, professional nurse, 420 N. 2nd St., Parsons, Kan., says: "For some time I was annoyed with sharp twinges across the small of my back and irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills I am free from these troubles."

Remember the name—Doan's. Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

There All the Time.

It is told of Dr. Thorold that he was once asked to give away the prizes in a school belonging to the London school board.

In the course of his opening address he gravely asked the children, "Which was the largest island in the world before Australia was discovered?"

When the youngsters gave it up, he said in the same grave way, which made them laugh all the more, "Why, Australia, of course; it was there all the time!"

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Not Even Sandy.

Wilford was sitting on his father's knee watching his mother arranging her hair.

"Papa hasn't any Marcel waves like that," said her father, laughingly.

Wilford, looking up at his father's bald pate, replied: "Nope, no waves; it's all beach."—Columbia Jester.

This Will Interest Mothers.

Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children, used by Mother Gray, a nurse in Children's Home, New York, cure Constipation, Feverishness, Teething Disorders, Stomach Troubles and Destroy Worms. 30,000 testimonials of cures. All druggists 25c. Sample FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Sufficient Evidence.

"Father was evidently drinking again last night."

"What makes you think that?"

"He sassed the janitor when he came in."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Every time you want to smoke, chew WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT. The desire goes away. You save nerves, pocketbook, and digestion.

Daily Thought.

There's nothing like settling with ourselves, as there's a deal we must do without in this life.—George Eliot.

Change in your pocket?
Pleasant WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT cures unpleasant tobacco habit.

When his satanic majesty tempts some people they want him to get behind them—and push.

Eyes bright? Digestion right?
WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT is fine for digestion.

The optician would soon be looking for another job if beer glasses improved the eyesight.

One Thing That Will Live Forever.

PETTIT'S EYE SALVE, first box sold in 1807, 100 years ago, sales increase yearly. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

The main ingredients of true manliness are a forgetfulness of self and a constant regard for duty.—Butler.

WE PAY HIGH PRICE FOR HIDES and furs & sell guns and traps cheap. N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis.

A girl thinks a man impertinent if he tries to flirt with her and indifferent if he doesn't.

HAVE YOU A COUGH, OR COLD?

If so take at once Allen's Lung Balsam and watch results. Simple, safe, effective. All dealers. Popular prices—25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles.

It takes a woman to tell a secret and magnify its importance.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules. Easy to take as candy.

Don't believe everything you hear over a telephone wire.

YELLOW CLOTHES ARE UNSIGHTLY.

Keep them white with the new RUSSIAN BLUE. Get the genuine. 5cts., at grocers.

A giggling girl is apt to become a cackling woman.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

It is usually costly to follow cheap advice.

One Way of Love

SYNOPSIS.

Richard Derring, returning from a winter in the woods to his mother's farm home, is overtaken by his uncle, accompanied by his eccentric wife, coming to pay a visit at the farm. Aunt Jerusha's questions about Emily Hutton, supposed to be Richard's sweetheart, bring out the fact that she is to marry a merchant, Edwards. Derring's disappointment stimulates his ambition and under the advice of Seth Kinney, a hermit of the woods, he resolves to fit himself for college. Kinney promises to teach him Greek.

CHAPTER IV.

"You must get a man to work the farm on shares. He will make it pay you better than I have. I am no farmer." The tone had no note of discouragement; it had rather the ring of success.

Mrs. Derring looked up from her sewing. Richard had never said "must" to her before.

"What is the matter, Richard?" She looked at him searchingly.

"I want to go to college. I shall never do anything at farming, but I might at something else if I had the chance." He spoke impersonally, as if they were talking of some one else.

"Well, perhaps it is the best thing to do."

Mrs. Derring sewed on for a few minutes in silence; then she said slowly, as if the plan were forming itself: "I guess Tom Bishop would take the farm on shares and they could go to housekeeping in the L part. The rent would bring in a little something. He and Mary have wanted to go to housekeeping ever since they were married." She ended with a questioning inflection, submitting the plan.

She was not a "capable" woman. The queerness of Geoffrey Crane had descended to the daughter, and she was conscious that her plans were often impracticable. But 24 years of farming life had taught her to adjust herself to the inevitable. Almost without volition her mind had begun to turn over ways and means to meet this new emergency.

"I could let them have the south chamber and the back storeroom. And perhaps we could pack up the things in father's room so they could have that."

The young man listened in surprise. He had expected remonstrance, even refusal. He was not prepared for such rapid furthering of his project. He was almost inclined to make obstacles himself—so rapidly did she plan.

"Father Crane would be pleased, if he were alive, to know you wanted to go. He always wanted Eben to go to college. But he married Jerusha. They all said he ought to have been a scholar. He was bright at his books. But he was possessed to marry Jerusha. So father had to give it up. He always wanted me to go to school more, too. It was a disappointment to him that I married so young."

She sat looking thoughtfully out of the narrow-paned window, lost in thought of that far-off time when she was courted and won by Marcus Derring.

Richard, the Greek grammar in his hand, stole softly out of the room and climbed the steep stairway. He went quickly down the long hall and opened a door at the end. The room thus disclosed was a curious one. Across one side ran a sloping shelf, broken at one end by a zinc-lined sink. The other sides of the room were filled with cabinets in which were arranged specimens of rock, chemicals, blowpipes, and many curious contrivances, the use of which Richard could not even guess. In this room Geoffrey Crane had lived and dreamed and died. Here, in the midst of his heritage, the boy sat down to begin the work that should make him what his grandfather would have wished.

But instead of opening the brown-covered book he sat with it in his hand, thinking of the new life its thinking of the new life its pages were to open up to him. Life crowded before him. College—new faces—new friends—study—success. And Emily would be—she would not know—or care. She would marry Edwards. She would not know whether he succeeded or failed. Was it worth while?

Something flashed upon him and startled him. If she had cared, he should not now be planning a new life.

"I should have been as happy as Uncle Eben," he thought with a half smile.

To-day he did not resent the implied disloyalty to his idol. He was not thinking of her so much as of Love, the power that holds all men in its grasp and bends them to its will, till each soul longs for nothing so much as that Love shall take human shape and dwell beside him. Dimly it flitted before him—luminous but indefinable—filling him with wonder. Uncle Eben married the woman he loved and his life had been dwarfed. Seth Kinney lost the woman he loved, and his life was warped, distorted, and spoiled. Was it fate? Life without love was hard and cold. He opened the grammar and began to read. "Sixteen Greek letters—viz.:

a, g, b, e, i, o, d, k, l, m, n, p, r, s, t, u were introduced into Phoenicia by Cadmus fifteen hundred years before Christ."

"Well, Perhaps It Is the Best Thing to Do."

CHAPTER V.

At breakfast next morning his mother faced him over her coffee-cup, stern and less ready. "I have been going over the accounts all night." She spoke in a voice that was half complaint. "I don't see how we can manage it. The interest is a hundred and eighty-six and the taxes thirty-five, and there is never anything left at the end of the year, even as it is now." She looked at him, her dark eyes weary with the night's work.

His own eyes flashed back a still light. "I shall do it some way, mother. Don't worry."

She shook her head, choking back something in her throat. "Your father would have wanted you to—if he had lived—" She rose quickly and turned away to the pantry.

When she came back her eyes were shining again.

He looked at her, smiling. "You'll find that Tom makes twice as much off the farm as I ever have. You'll be rich."

"There's the schooling," she said anxiously.

"I shall earn it." His lips came together. The dreamy look in his eyes was replaced by one of shrewd determination.

His mother's glance followed him admiringly. She rose from the table and began to clear away the dishes. Her step was light.

"And if I find I can't study and earn, too, I'll stop till I get enough to go on. It isn't as if I were good for much—" He looked at her, waiting.

"No, no—have your way. You've never asked for what you hadn't ought to have. It's true enough you'll never be a farmer." She stood for a moment, one hand holding the plates and cups, the other resting on the table, looking at him fondly. Then she turned brusquely away to the sink.

He took down his cap from its nail and went out into the clear light, whistling. Particles of frost glinted in the air. They formed on the edge of his upturned collar and fur cap and deepened the down of his lip. He blew them aside with a laugh. Taking the ax from the shed, down the lane he strode, the crusted earth crunching beneath his vigorous tread. The ax was shifted from side to side, as he walked, and the free arm swung across his chest. He struck into the wood-road with a song and hallooed to the stillness. The love-sick boy of yesterday was gone. Taking off his cap he called and sang till the blue-jays forgot to be frightened and hovered, curious, in the trees overhead. He took off his cap to them, looking up through the tree-tops to the blue shimmer of sky. He swung the cap around his head and they darted away—a blue and white clatter of sound. He replaced it, laughing softly.

The earth was alive. He reached out to the bushes as he passed, trailing the budded stems through his fingers and brushing the purple-brown oak leaves with swiftest touch. When he came to the tree that he was to cut he ran his palm up and down its rough bark before he seized his ax and swung it clear from his shoulder. The blows rang even and hard, and with every blow he drove home the first declension of the Greek grammar.

Every day found him at work in the woods. Soon Tom Bishop joined him and the cross-cut saw flashed to its work in the trunks. Richard, to the tune of its monotonous seesaw, sang Greek verbs and declined nouns—till Tom caught the rhythm and chanted declensions in sheer self-defence. At night when he repeated the strange sounds proudly to his little wife she looked at him in delight—but half in fear that he would grow away from her. She counted jealously the days that must elapse before the sledding should be done.

The fame of Richard's learning went abroad through the land. All the world knew that Seth Kinney was "learning him Greek." The old man came often to the wood-lot to hear him recite. Sitting on a fallen log, he would repeat long, rolling lines of poetry that the choppers repeated after him, to the rhythm of the saw, till the still, cold light was alive with tumbling Greek. Perhaps the blue-jays, flitting among the treetops, heard the news and told it to the crows; and the crows of the open field called to the snowbirds and sparrows; and the snowbirds lisped it to the chickadees; and the chickadees, turning upside down on the orchard trees, twittered to the hens running to and fro and cackling everywhere. Or it may be that Tom's wife told her mother. In any case, the whole village knew it. And, perhaps, it was a little balm to Richard's heart—if balm it needed—as he swung by her lighted window at night to know that she knew.

With Every Blow He Drove Home the First Declension of the Greek Grammar.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

DECEIVED BY THE SHADOWS

Discovery That Must Have Come as a Great Relief to the Young Lawyer.

One rainy day recently, a young lawyer, thinking he would like to take a little flyer in stocks, called at the office of his broker, who happened to be his most intimate friend. When he reached the office a new clerk whom he had never seen before told him that the broker was engaged, but would be at liberty in a few minutes. While sitting idly in the waiting room the young lawyer noticed something that made his eyes almost drop out. The gloom of the day necessitated the use of artificial light in the broker's private office. Silhouetted upon the ground glass partition between the two rooms the lawyer saw the shadows of a man and a woman. They were both seated, the broker at his desk and the woman beside and facing him. Every moment or so the lips of the shadows seemed to meet affectionately. Something about the profile of the woman struck the lawyer as strangely familiar. He rose instantly and threw open the door. Sure enough it was his wife, but she was sitting decorously in a chair two or three feet from the broker, but almost in line with him, engaged in an animated discussion.

Both looked up at the intrusion, but without the least embarrassment.

"Why, hello, Tom!" exclaimed the broker. "Your wife here thinks she would like to speculate a little, too, and I've been using all my eloquence to dissuade her from it. What's the matter? Are you ill?"

"No," answered the lawyer, as he dropped into a chair with an air of great relief. "My eyes have been bothering me a good deal to-day. Do you know a good oculist?"

Influence of "Thee" and "Thou."

In a little essay in a contemporary on the "Sweet Girl Graduate" we find the following: "A young woman who has just graduated from a private school conducted by Friends is proving the truth of the report which has made this school popular and financially successful. From a quick-tempered, sharp-tongued girl she has developed into a mild-mannered, soft-spoken young woman whose serenity is never ruffled, apparently. She says that it was due to the fact that during her stay at the boarding school she was compelled to use the quaint language of the Friends, and that she found it impossible to be cross when saying 'thee' and 'thou.' If this item is widely copied, there will be a demand for a Quaker young ladies' seminary in every town that is without one."

Saintly "Guide."

An Englishman having business in a certain Danish town arrived at the railway station. He inquired of a group of men standing near the way to the house he wanted, whereupon one of them offered to go with him and show him. With recollections of what such a service meant in England, he said: "I don't want a guide." "But surely you asked us to show you the way," said one of them. "Yes, but I don't want a guide." "My dear sir, I am not a guide; I am the bishop."

NEW RAILWAYS IN CENTRAL CANADA

AMERICAN SETTLERS WELCOME AND DOING WELL.

The Portland Oregonian, of Portland, Oregon, published a cartoon on the immigration of U. S. people to Canada, in its issue of October 5, 1909. The picture was accompanied by the following article:

"Losing American Citizens. The exodus of American farmers to Canada continues to be a phenomenon of the first importance. More of them are crossing the border this fall than ever before, and they are flocking from all parts of the country. Formerly it was the Middle West alone which thus lost the heart of its citizenship. Now all sections of the Union suffer alike. The regret which we cannot help feeling over the migration of many thousands of excellent citizens has an economic side which causes some concern. The 70,000 farmers who will go to Canada to live this fall will take with them some $70,000,000 in cash and effects. This is by no means a negligible sum, and makes a very appreciable drain on our resources. But, of course, the most serious loss is the men themselves and their families, who have forsaken the land of the free and the home of the brave to dwell under the rule of a monarch.

Why do they go? Naturally the cheap and fertile land of Western Canada attracts them. Each emigrant goes with a reasonable expectation of bettering his fortune. Indeed, in a few years he may grow rich through the abundant crops he can raise and the increase of land values. But perhaps that is not the sole reason for the astonishing migration. There is a common notion abroad that in Canada life and property are appreciably safer than they are here. Murders are not so frequent, and are more speedily and surely punished. Mobs and the so-called 'unwritten law' are virtually unknown in Canada. Again the law is a vastly more ascertainable entity there. Canada does not permit its judges to veto acts of the legislative body. When a statute has been enacted it is known to be the law of the land until it is repealed. this naturally imparts to Canadian civilization a security and stability which we have not yet attained.

"We must remember, in the same connection, that the Canadian protective tariff is far less exorbitant than ours, and much less boldly arranged for the benefit of special favorites. Hence there is an impression, very widely diffused, that the Canadians are not so wickedly robbed by the trusts as we are in this country. Reasons like these sufficiently account for the exodus of a body of citizens, whom we can ill afford to lose, but they do not much assuage our regret that they cannot be retained in the United States."

Speaking of this, a Canadian Government representative says that the Americans who cross the border are most welcome. The splendid areas of virgin soil, a large quantity of which is given away as free homesteads, lie close to existing railways and to those under construction. The railway lines that are assisting in this development are the Canadian Pacific, the Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk Pacific. The latter is built entirely on Canadian soil, and has opened up a wonderful stretch of land. Along this line during the year about closed thousands of American settlers have made their homes. They have built the towns, and immediately began as factors in the building up of the great Canadian West.

Agents of the Government are located in various cities throughout the United States who will be pleased to give any information that may be desired to further the interest of the setler.

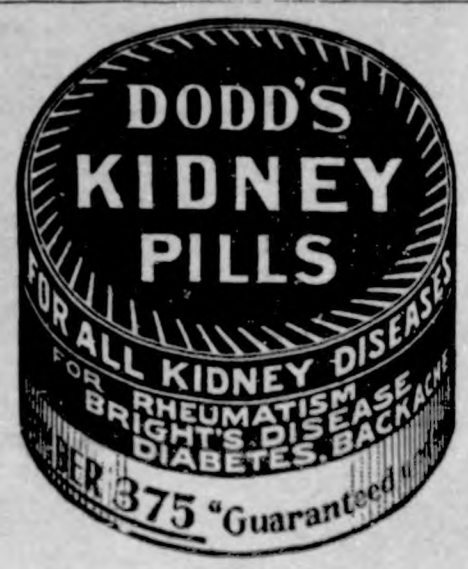
Was a Father, Too.

"Say, Mr. Editor, I'm the father of twins."

"All right; we'll put it in the paper under the head of 'Double Tragedy.'"

"I'm tired of that not-much-of-anything flavor." "I'm fond of that delicious Wrigley's Spearmint flavor."

Flattery is turned to good account when used as a guidepost to all one ought to be.—Sample.



The Biggest and Best Holiday Line

A WHOLE TRAIN FULL

of the Choicest Articles suitable for Gifts for

Every Member of the Family

THE BEST LINE WE HAVE EVER SHOWN

You never before have had an opportunity to buy Christmas Gifts as Cheap as we are now offering them to you.

Our object is to sell our line of Holiday Goods and Fancy Dishes down as close as possible this year, and in order to do this, we have cut and slashed prices on all these goods. You can save Dollars by buying of us. Space will not permit us to go into much detail. You must see the goods and get the prices in order to comprehend the Big Values we are offering. Come early.

DISHES

We have an elegant line of Fancy and Souvenir Dishes which we will sell at a big reduction from usual prices. Dishes from 5c up to $3.00. A nice assortment of 10 cent Dishes.

Xmas Candy

We have the largest line of Candy in the county. Make us prove this to you. Try our box Bon-Bons—

THE FINEST MADE

TOYS

Santa Claus has left a lot of Toys at this store. All kinds and all prices. Bring the little ones in and let them spend an enjoyable half-hour. We want you to inspect our goods.

For "Him"

A suitable gift would be a box of our Fine Cigars or one of our Case Pipes. We have a nice line and—

The PRICES ARE RIGHT

For Your Xmas Dinner

Oranges, Apples, Grapes, Bananas, Figs, Dates, Cranberries, Nuts, Oysters, Celery, Cabbage, etc. etc.

We can't begin to tell it all here. You are cordially invited to call and examine our Xmas goods. We wish you all a very Merry Christmas.

G. W. KLUCKHOHN,

Klemme, Iowa

GROCERIES & HARDWARE

COLD WEATHER

Is SURE to be here soon. Are you prepared for it? Perhaps you will need a new stove before winter sets in. If so you will miss it if you don't call and inspect our line of

HEATERS AND RANGES

We have just received a new shipment and will be glad to show them to you. Call early while the assortment is complete. See the Summit Range

TERHUFEN BROS.

—PROPRIETORS OF THE—

ONE PRICE CASH STORE

KLEMME, IOWA

Get your Winter's Coal Now

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Sootless and Washed Egg. Petroleum Coke. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

H. C. LAU

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

MORE LOCAL NEWS

Dr Edgar Zinn was at Thompson one day last week.

Born—Dec. 2nd, 1909, to Mr. and Mrs. John Bachman, a son.

Prof. I. E. Missman, principal of the Hayfield schools, visited here last Friday night with his brother, Dr. Missman.

The regular subscription price of the Chicago Daily Farmers and Drovers Journal is $4 per year, but we have made arrangements whereby we can furnish that paper and the Klemme Times both one year for $4.05. The Chicago F. and D. Journal twice-a-week, and the Times, both one year for $2.05. The Journal once a week and the Times, both one year for $1.55.

Notice

This is to notify everyone not to trust my wife and two boys on my credit.

(19-2*) H. S. SCHWARTZ

Complete Line of ..Holiday Gifts..

The finest line of Linens, Table Spreads, Lunch Cloths, Dresser and Commode Scarfs. The prettiest Mexican Painted Spreads. Prettiest Sofa Pillows in Tapestry Painting. A large variety of stamped and drawn Linens.

Headquarters for Pyrography Patterns and Ready Burnt Goods. The largest assortment ever shown.

Don't fail to get tickets for the prettiest Doll ever shown. Yours for business,

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

W. R. Bloom returned last week Wednesday from Chicago, where he took in the International Live Stock Show. He had an enjoyable trip and saw some of the finest stock in the world

In sending a remittance to pay his subscription to this family journal, John Braund of De-Soto, Wis., reports that he is the happy papa of a new baby boy, born Dec. 1st. He says they like their new home at De-Soto very much and he has a good position there.

Dr. Zinn has on exhibition at his office some post card views taken at the Will Lewis farm home east of town. They are reproductions of his fine herd of Short-Horn cattle, headed by Secret's Best. They certainly make a beautiful picture.

The Des Moines Capital and the Klemme Times will be sent to any address from now until Jan. 1, 1911, on receipt of $2.85. This is an exceptionally liberal offer and should be taken advantage of at once to secure its full benefits. If you have already paid in advance for the Times, ask for our rate on the Capital. Call at this office today and get a daily paper for the winter's reading.

Another Small Freeze

The Dumont Journal reports that a baby girl was born to John Freeze and wife on Nov. 16th.

A DOUBLE SALE
LASTS UNTIL XMAS DAY

Now is your chance to save money

Read the prices

Cloak Sale

15.00 Womens Coats go at	$11.50
12.50 women's coats go at	9.50
10.00 women's coats go at	7.00
9.00 women's coats go at	6.00
6.00 women's coats go at	4.50
10.00 Misses coats go at	7.00
7.50 misses coats go at	5.00
6.50 misses coats go at	4.75
5.00 misses coats go at	3.50

All Bear Skin Coats at low prices.

DON'T MISS IT!

Furniture Sale

Must make room for next car-load
So here they go.

Dressers, worth from $8.50 to $20.00, go at	$4.95 & up
Comb. Book Case and Desk worth from $12.00 to $20.00, go at	$8 up
Ladies' Desks at	$6 to $10
Kitchen Cabinets at	$4.95 to $14
1 Oak Wardrobe only	$11.85
1 Chiffoneer only	$9.85
$7.00 Go Carts each	$4.50

All Couches and Sofas
go at reduced prices!

We have new Toys and Dolls for the little ones.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

We invite you to call and inspect the largest stock of useful gifts ever brought together under one roof.

Make your friends happy by giving them a present that they can use.

ARTHUR WELLEMEYER

About People You Know

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	45 to c
Oats	34 to 35c
Wheat	80 to 90
Barley	40 to 48c
Hogs	4.00 to 6.00
Cattle	7.00 to 7.60
Calves	3.00 to 6.00

Try Bloom's Hocking Egg and also Petroleum Coke. It is the stuff. 19-4

Those indebted to the undersigned are requested to call and settle at once. F. H. Ridder

Gail Bloom went to Belmond Tuesday evening for a visit with Miss Bessie Ely, returning yesterday.

Little Verner Turgasen is visiting at the home of his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kluckhohn.

Mrs. A. A. Scott left Tuesday night for her home in Vinton, after visiting here at the home of her son, J. W Scott.

Dr. W. F. Missman was called to Charles City last week Tuesday to give expert testimony on a forgery case before the district court at that place. He returned Wednesday morning.

Being obliged to take it for rent I will sell it out cheap;
Dr. Hess Stock Food.
Dr. Hess Poultry Panacea.
Dr. Hess Instant Louse Killer.
Dr. Hess Hog Worm Powder.
To be had at G. F. Schuler's Garner, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Waterman left Saturday evening for Luzern, Iowa, called there by the death of a nephew.

Frank Gruetzmacher, Aug. Lau, Albert Koerner, H. C. Lau, and John Gruetzmacher had business at the county seat Tuesday.

New subscribers added to our list during the past week are J. E. Harlan, John Nissen and Frank Robey. H. Griesemer and H. J. Stille are among those who renewed for another year.

G. W. Kluckhohn and wife returned home Saturday evening from Buffalo Center, to which place their children, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Turgasen, have just moved from Swea City. Louie now has charge of the Rock Island station at Buffalo Center.

Don't fail to read our new holiday ads this week. The merchants who spend their good money to place their announcements before you are the ones who deserve your patronage. Any of our advertisers are reliable dealers and can furnish you reliable goods. The new ads this week are—State Savings Bank, First National Bank. G. A. Pabst & Co, G. W. Kluckhohn, Mrs Josten, Arthur Wellemeyer, A. Kirkwood & Son. Don't fail to read these ads.

Notice

The undersigned will not be responsible for any debts contracted by John E. Griewe.

HENRY GRIEWE,
FRED GRIEWE.

Melinda Musfelt is on the sick list.

We notice that our old friend, Nic Glesener, has purchased the Granville (Iowa) Gazette, and he starts out like an old hand at the business. We can just see Nic leaning back in the office chair with his shapely feet reposing on the exchange table and a big black cigar resting gracefully between his lips. Nic ought to make a successful editor as he has an inexhaustible supply of wind and energy. Here's looking at you, N. J. and we wish you unbounded success.

Have you bought a new broom recently? If not, you have a delightful surprise in store for you. The price of brooms has taken a horrible advance and our dealers tell us that brooms which have been selling for 25 cents will have to retail at 50 to 55 cents in the future—and it is hard to get them at any price. Failure of the broom corn crop in Oklahoma is given as the cause—together with the usual trust tactics. So be careful of your broom and sweep only when it is absolutely necessary.

The wise person is the one who does his Christmas shopping early before the big rush and while the lines are most complete. A glance at our advertising columns will tell you where to buy the most desirable gifts for the whole family—gifts ornamental as well as useful. Read these ads carefully and buy early. Klemme merchants are well supplied with Holiday Goods of every description at very reasonable prices and are entitled to your patronage. Remember there are only thirteen more shopping days before Christmas.

Buy your Christmas goods early. Patronize Times advertisers.

Poultry wanted every day. Highest market price paid. H. Lau & Son.

H. H. Hallett has sold the Meservey Messenger to a young man from Peterson, Iowa. We wish the new proprietor success.

To the ladies of Klemme and vicinity—I will do plain or fancy sewing at reasonable price. Mrs. S. L Sage. Call at residence of Mrs. Flint.

Every parent, every school officer and everyone interested in the public school should read the article on our first page this week, over the signature of A. M. Deyoe, County Supt.

German M. E. Church Items

Mrs. W. F. Stille was in Garner Tuesday between trains.

We will give an illustrated lecture Sunday evening on "The rum rebellion."

Mrs. Wessel was in Garner Tuesday to have some dental work attended to.

Henry Griffen and family went to Garner Tuesday to have their picture taken. The weather being so cold it must have been difficult to look nice, at least if they felt the cold as we did.

Mrs. Schwab, well known to many in this community and a sister to Wm. Beier, died at her home in Waterloo, Sunday. Wm Beier and his son, H. C., attended the funeral which was held on Tuesday.

Leonard Sampson and Elmer Ludeke left for Chicago Saturday evening to take in the Fat Cattle Exhibition and get acquainted with the "Windy City."

Jacob Goeller left Wednesday for his old home in Baden, Germany. He has been in this country four years and became anxious to see his kin folks once more.

The revival meetings were discontinued last Sunday evening on account of the inclement weather Considering the disagreeable weather, the attendance was very good and much interest was manifested by those who got out. Rev. W. H. Klaus of Garner assisted us three evenings last week.

Last Sunday was the first blizzard of the winter. Traveling was anything but pleasant, as the roads were about as rough as they could well be. In Klemme the services were well attended both morning and evening, but in Germantown there were just enough to claim the gospel promises.

Special Christmas Offer

An opportunity for you to get one of the greatest Christmas presents ever offered on a deal like this. You can get it by buying a suit of Men's made-to-order Clothes tailored by the American Woolen Mills Co. For particulars call on their agent—

Elmer Ludeke

Pictures

See me when you want a Photograph

All kinds—inside or outdoor views. I make a specialty of photo postal cards, 75 cents a dozen. Good work at reasonable prices.

JOE MILLER, KLEMME IOWA

RESTAURANT AND BAKERY

Talking About Christmas Presents

Mary—My brother John got the most beautiful box of Bon-bons for his wife at Kirkwood's.

Anna—Yes, I saw them, but I am going to get my fellow a nice case Pipe for Christmas.

Mary—Oh, I am going to get my fellow a jar of Moa Cigars for $1.00 with 25 of the best cigars in it.

Anna—Yes, and we are going to get some of Kirkwood's Home Bakery Goods for Christmas dinner.

YOU Better Do the Same

A. KIRKWOOD & SON

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist

Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.

2nd door west of State Savings Bank

Call in

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Phone No. 11. Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to calls, day or night.
Eyes tested. Glasses fitted.

DOCTORS
GEO. ZINN EDGAR ZINN
Office: State Savings Bank
Phone No. 19
KLEMME - - IOWA

W. R. BLOOM
Buyer and Shipper of
Grain and Live Stock

Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.

Stock wanted 6 days in the week

Col. J. J. Wilson
MESERVEY, IOWA
LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEER
Dates made at either bank in Klemme, Iowa. Terms reasonable.

UNITED STATES
Land and Irrigation Exposition
CHICAGO COLISEUM
November 20 to December 4, 1909

Will provide authoritative, graphic information about the vast opportunities now opening up in many States for homeseekers, farmers and investors.

There will be exhibits of the wonderful fruits of virgin soil from all sections.

Elaborate panoramas will show what is being done to irrigate, drain and cultivate it.

INTERNATIONAL
Live Stock Exposition
TENTH ANNIVERSARY
Chicago Union Stock Yards
November 27 to December 10, 1909

The world's greatest collection of prize-winning cattle, horses, sheep and hogs ever brought together will be on exhibition.

All the progress and all the best brains of the live stock industry will be there. Millions of dollars invested in the exhibits.

A liberal education. You can't afford to miss either event. Information as to fares on request.

Rock Island

T. A. WILLIAMS, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Prest., Buffalo, N. Y.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION
Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

Smokeless Oil Heater

The automatically-locking Smokeless Device is an exclusive feature of the Perfection Oil Heater. This .

Automatic Smokeless Device

doesn't allow the wick to rise to a point where it CAN smoke, yet permits a strong flame that sheds a steady, glowing heat without a whiff of smoke.

No other heater in the world compares with the

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

Turn the wick high or low—no smoke, no smell. Burns for 9 hours with one filling. Instantly removed for cleaning.

Solid brass font holds 4 quarts of oil—sufficient to give out a glowing heat for 9 hours—solid brass wick carriers—damper top—cool handle—oil indicator.

Heater beautifully finished in nickel or Japan in a variety of styles.

Every Dealer Everywhere. If Not At Yours, Write for Descriptive Circular to the Nearest Agency of the

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
(Incorporated)

W·L·DOUGLAS
$3.00 $3.50 & $4.00 SHOES

THE LARGEST MANUFACTURER OF MEN'S FINE SHOES IN THE WORLD

Wear W. L. Douglas comfortable, easy-walking shoes. They are made upon honor, of the best leathers, by the most skilled workmen, in all the latest fashions. Shoes in every style and shape to suit men in all walks of life.

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer and are of greater value than any other make.

CAUTION.—See that W. L. Douglas name and the retail price is stamped on the bottom. Take No Substitute.

BOY'S SHOES
$2.00 & $2.50

Wherever you live, W. L. Douglas shoes are within your reach. If your dealer cannot fit you, write for Mail Order Catalog. W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.

THE Famous

Rayo Lamp

Once a Rayo user always one

THE STEADY WHITE LIGHT

The RAYO LAMP is a high-grade lamp, sold at a low price. There are lamps that cost more, but there is no better lamp at any price. The Burner, the Wick, the Chimney-Holder—all are vital things in a lamp; these parts of the RAYO LAMP are perfectly constructed and there is nothing known in the art of lamp-making that could add to the value of the RAYO as a light-giving device. Suitable for any room in any house.

Every dealer everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest Agency of the

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
(Incorporated)

BURNS
HERPES CHAFING
ABRASIONS
ERUPTIONS
RING WORM

RESINOL

SCALDS
ECZEMA ITCHING
POISON IVY
ERYSIPELAS
NETTLE RASH

Is a perfect ointment—stops itching instantly. Prescribed by leading physicians throughout the world. A few applications will cure the worst case of itching and inflamed piles. For sale by all druggists or sent direct on receipt of price, 50 cents per jar.

RESINOL CHEMICAL COMPANY, BALTIMORE, MD.

I am glad to say that Resinol Ointment has completely cured me of itching piles.
J. H. Kidall, Dentist, Mt. Washington, Ohio.

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE

For DISTEMPER Pink Eye, Epizootic Shipping Fever & Catarrhal Fever

Sure cure and positive preventive, no matter how horses at any age are infected or "exposed." Liquid, given on the tongue; acts on the Blood and Glands; expels the poisonous germs from the body. Cures Distemper in Dogs and Sheep and Cholera in Poultry. Largest selling live stock remedy. Cures La Grippe among human beings and is a fine Kidney remedy. 50c and $1 a bottle, $5 and $10 a dozen. Cut this out. Keep it. Show to your druggist, who will get it for you. Free Booklet, "Distemper, Causes and Cures." Special agents wanted.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists GOSHEN, IND., U. S. A.

MESSAGE READ TO CONGRESS

Needed Legislation Outlined by President Taft.

WORKINGS OF TARIFF ACT

Maximum and Minimum Clause Discussed—Practability of Postal Savings Banks Considered to Be Beyond Question.

Washington.—The message of the president to congress may be summarized as follows:

The relations of the United States to all foreign governments, with the exception of the unfortunate embroilment with Nicaragua, are declared satisfactory. That our friendly relations with Mexico have been cemented by the recent meeting of the presidents of the two republics is evidenced by the following passage in the message:

My meeting with President Diaz and the greeting exchanged on both American and Mexican soil served, I hope, to signalize the close and cordial relations which so well bind together this republic and the great republic immediately to the south, between which there is so vast a network of material interests.

A system providing for the pensioning of civil servants is favored.

The message makes mention that criminal prosecutions against unworthy government officers in connection with sugar trust custom house frauds are going forward.

The message says:

I regret to refer to the fact of the discovery of extensive frauds in the collection of the customs revenue at New York city, in which a number of the subordinate employes in the weighing and other departments were directly concerned, and in which the beneficiaries were the American Sugar Refining Company and others. The frauds consisted in the payment of duty on underweights of sugar. The government has recovered from the American Sugar Refining Company all that it is shown to have been defrauded of. The sum was received in full of the amount due, which might have been recovered by civil suit against the beneficiary of the fraud, but there was an express reservation in the contract of settlement by which the settlement should not interfere with, or prevent the criminal prosecution of everyone who was found to be subject to the same.

On the question of the tariff the president reassures the country as to possibility of tariff war over the maximum and minimum clause in the bill. He asks the people to have confidence that the chief executive will tactfully carry out the provisions of the measure.

Quoting the plank of the platform on which the Republican candidate was elected, the message declares the intention of the administration to uphold every principle of law, but condemns the issuance of hasty injunctions.

Deficit in the postoffice department, the president declares, is due to the undercharging of second-class mail matter, he being of the opinion that such matter does not pay its due share toward expenses.

The president continues:

The deficit every year in the postoffice department is largely caused by the low rate of postage of 1 cent a pound charged on second-class mail matter, which includes not only newspapers but magazines and miscellaneous periodicals. The actual loss growing out of the transmission of this second-class mail matter at 1 cent a pound amounts to about $63,000,000 a year. The average cost of the transportation of this matter is more than 9 cents a pound.

It appears that the average distance over which newspapers are delivered to their customers is 291 miles, while the average haul of magazines is 1,049, and of miscellaneous periodicals 1,128 miles. Thus, the average haul of the magazine is three and one-half times and that of the miscellaneous periodical nearly four times the haul of the daily newspaper, yet all of them pay the same postage rate of 1 cent a pound. The statistics of 1907 show that second-class mail matter constituted 63.91 per cent of the weight of all the mail, and yielded only 5.19 per cent of the revenue.

The figures given are startling, and show the payment by the government of an enormous subsidy to the newspapers, magazines and periodicals, and congress may well consider whether radical steps should not be taken to reduce the deficit in the post-office department caused by this discrepancy between the actual cost of transportation and the compensation exacted therefor.

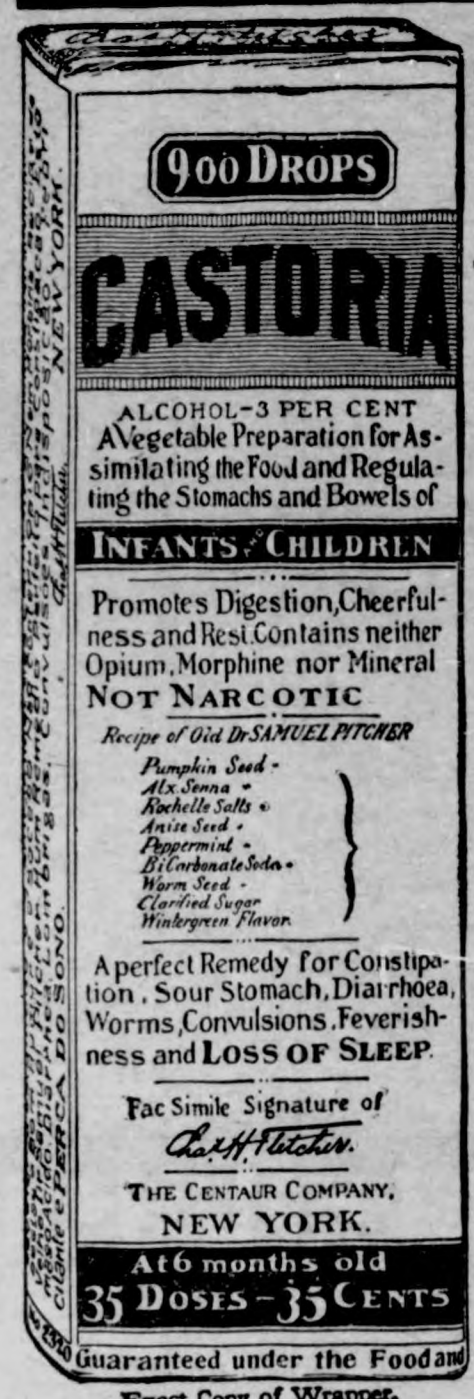
A great saving might be made, amounting to much more than half of the loss, by imposing upon magazines and periodicals a higher rate of postage.

The immediate institution of postal savings banks is recommended.

An earnest recommendation is made for the passage of a ship subsidy bill.

With the urging of legislation looking to the conservation of our national resources, the message concludes:

"I urgently recommend to congress that a law be passed requiring that candidates in elections of members of the house of representatives and committees in charge of their candidacy and campaign file in a proper office of the United States government a statement of the contributions received and of the expenditures incurred in the campaign for such elections and that similar legislation be enacted in respect to all other elections which are constitutionally within the control of congress."



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

HAMLINS WIZARD OIL
THE OIL THAT PENETRATES
GREAT FOR PAIN

A Man Says of

UNCLE SAM Breakfast Food

AS A CURE FOR CONSTIPATION

"Gained six pounds in four weeks and they are working every day."
(Name on request.)

A delightful breakfast dish and "does the work."

ASK YOUR GROCER ABOUT IT

HE CERTAINLY KNOWS
U. S. B. F. Co., Omaha

The Truth ABOUT Life Insurance

Opinions of Gov. Hughes of N. Y. and Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, together with booklets, "But," "Be Just," "How to Figure It Out"—5 in all, containing valuable information—sent postpaid anywhere for seven 2-cent stamps. Write now.

CHAS. H. BROWNELL,
176 Federal Street, Boston, Mass.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT PEPSIN GUM

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

HOLD ON THERE I want agents in every hog raising locality to sell the Practical Hog Handler. A patented invention for catching transferring and loading hogs. Not a Squeal, not a Struggle, and a child can do the work. Money in it. Send for booklet.

G. E. RINGER
LeMars Iowa

Baby Smiles— When He Takes PISO'S CURE

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

So pleasant that he likes it—and contains no opiates. There is nothing like it for Bronchitis, Asthma and all troubles of the throat and lungs. A Standard Remedy for half a century.

All Druggists, 25 Cents

SOUTHWEST

You Can Own Your Farm in the Southwest

The price of good rich land in the Southwest is so low that you can own a big farm there without investing much money or mortgaging your place. Land that is the equal of land in the Eastern States now sells for a small fraction of the cost of land in your locality. You can readily see how many more acres you can get for your money in the Southwest than where you live now. The land will raise as big or bigger crops than you are now raising, and you will get better prices for what you raise. This condition will not remain so very long; thousands are going to the Southwest every month, and it will not be long before the demand for good land will force up the prices.

Take Advantage of the low excursion fares into the Southwest on the first and third Tuesdays of each month and see the country for yourself. It is a fact that you will enjoy thoroughly, particularly during the Winter months.

Write me for particulars and be sure to request a copy of my real estate bulletin as it will prove a great help to you in getting posted in advance on the land values.

Address
S. G. LANGSTON,
General Immigration Agent,
16 ST. LOUIS, MO.

A CRUISE TO

SOUTH AMERICA

BRAZIL, ARGENTINA URUGUAY and CHILE

First trip of its kind ever arranged—will be made by the S.S. Bluecher (12,500 tons) leaving New York January 22, 1910. Duration

81 Days. $350 up

Also cruises to the West Indies and Orient
P. O. Box 1767
HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINE
41-45 Broadway - - - - New York

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

The difference remember this—it may save your life. Cathartic bird shot and cannon ball pills—tablespoon doses of cathartic medicine all depend on irritation of the bowels until they sweat enough to move. Cascarets strengthen the bowel muscles so they creep and crawl naturally. This means a cure and only through Cascarets can you get it quickly and naturally.

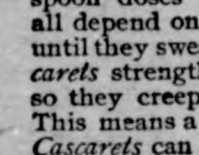
Cascarets—10c box—week's treatment. All druggists. Biggest seller in the world—million boxes a month.



PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

RN SHOW AWARDS

Classes in Small Grain Department Passed Upon.

CULLOCH WINS MANY PRIZES

rtwick Man Takes More Prizes Than Any Other Exhibitor on Small Grains and Grasses—Show Formally Opened.

Des Moines, Dec. 6.—Fred McCulch of Hartwick is the largest winr in the small grain and grass const at the Iowa corn exposition which rmally opened to the public this rning.

The judging of the small grains is actically completed. The awards in is class are the first to be announc- at the seventh annual corn exposi- n.

Following are the awards made in e small grain and grass departents:

Late Oats.

Northern section—First, Fred Harker Milford; second, Arthur McArthur, ason City; third Ellsworth Harker, ilford.

North central section—First, A. J. oore, Greene; second, R. W. Breckridge Clarion; third E. B. Glenny, nion; fourth, Henry George, West nion.

South central section—First, Frank ouba, Blairstown; second, R. M. McCarty, Hartwick; third, Andy Kirsch, arroll; fourth, John Justice Ankeny.

Southern section—First, Ed B rites, Oakville; second, D. C. Bakehouse, Sigourney; third, C. B. Malone, Atlantic.

Sweepstakes — Fred McCulloch, Hartwick.

Early Oats.

Northern section—First Arthur McArthur, Mason City; second, Fred Harker, Milford.

North central section—First, Anton Nelson, Goldfield; second, A. C. Hanson, Goldfield.

South central section—First, Fred McCulloch Hartwick; second, John Burgy, South Amana; third, John Sundberg, Whiting.

Southern section—First, A. L. Houston, Red Oak; second, A. F. Maxwell, Crawfordsville.

Sweepstakes—Ed R. Trites, Oakville.

Large Oats Other Than White.

North and north central section—First H. A. McCaffree, Janesville; second, McArthur & Sons, Mason City.

South and south central section—First, Andy Kirsch, Carroll; second, Henry Burgy, Conroy.

Sweepstakes—Andy Kirsch, Conroy; reserve, H. A. McCaffree, Janesville.

Grand champion sweepstakes classes I and J—J. W. Coverdale, Elwood; reserve, Fred McCulloch, Hartwick.

Best Bushel Oats.

First—Fred McCulloch, Hartwick; second, R. M. Doore, Greene; third G. S. Redhead, Des Moines.

Winter Wheat.

North and north central section—First, Beck Bros., Danville; second, H. N. Wood, Iowa Falls.

South central section—First, John Justice Ankeny; second, John Sundberg, Whiting.

Southern section—First, C. E. Malone, Atlantic.

Sweepstakes—Henry George, West Union.

Spring Wheat.

Northern section—First, Frank Harker, Milford.

North central section—First, H. N. Wood, Iowa Falls.

South central section—First Fred McCulloch, Hartwick; second, Andy Kirsch, Carroll.

Southern section—First, D. C. Bakehouse, Sigourney.

Sweepstakes — John Justice, Ankeny; reserve, Frank Harker, Milford.

Grand champion sweepstakes spring and winter wheat—Ludwig Bengston, Essex; reserve, John Justice, Ankeny.

Brewing Barley.

Open to the state—First, Fred McCulloch, Hartwick; second, N. H. Wood, Iowa Falls; third, Henry Burgy, Conroy.

Feeding Barley.

Northern section—First, McArthur and sons, Mason City.

North central section—First, W. S. Wood, Iowa Falls.

South central section—First, C. K. Grear, Monticello.

Southern section—First, C. E. Malone, Atlantic.

Sweepstakes — Fred McCulloch Hartwick; reserve, W. S. Wood, Iowa Falls.

Red Clover.

Open to the state—First, J. B. Davis, Burwick; second, Frank Justice, Burwick; third, John Burgy, South Amana.

Timothy Seed.

First, John Burgy, South Amana; second, Fred McCulloch, Hartwick.

FOR OLD PEOPLE.

After reaching the age of forty the human system gradually declines. The accumulated poisons in the blood cause rheumatic pains in the joints, muscles and back. These warnings should be promptly relieved and serious illness avoided by using the following prescription which shows wonderful results even after the first few doses and it will eventually restore physical strength.

"One ounce compound syrup of Sarsaparilla; one ounce Toris compound; half pint of high grade whiskey. This to be mixed and used in tablespoonful doses before each meal and at bedtime. The bottle to be well shaken each time." Any druggist has these ingredients or can get them from his wholesale house.

I cannot praise a fugitive and cloistered virtue, unexercised and unbreathed, that never sallies out and seeks her adversary.—Milton.

Think of it! They charge as much for that imitation stuff as they do for real, delicious, fragrant WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT.

In a man's life the greatest necessity is more money.

EXPOSURE TO COLD

and wet is the first step to Pneumonia. Take Perry Davis' Painkiller and the danger is averted. Unequaled for colds, sore throat, quinsy. 25c, 50c and 90c.

As an eye-opener, what's the matter with an alarm clock.

DON'T TAKE ANY CHANCES.

The new RUSS BLUE does the best work. 5cts. at leading grocers. Avoid imitations.

Many an heiress buys a gold brick in the form of a husband.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES

An absolutely harmless remedy for Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Coughs. Give immediate relief in Bronchial and Lung Affections.
Fifty years' reputation.
Price, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00 per box.
Sample sent on request.
JOHN I. BROWN & SON, Boston, Mass.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

W. N. U., DES MOINES, NO. 50--1909.

Little Beauty Night Lamp

Once filled with kerosene it will burn 40 hours and is absolutely odorless. Ornamental, too, because handsomely constructed of brass nickel-plated and each lamp is provided with enough wick to last several years. The lamp can be used in entries, hallways, closets and is invaluable for Nursery and Sickroom. Ask your dealer, or by mail (postpaid) 65 cts. Agts. wanted. 65c

SILVER & CO.
Sole Manufacturers
306 Hewes Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

WRIGLEY'S

Makes Shaving Easy
NO STROPPING NO HONING
TRADE Gillette MARK
KNOWN THE WORLD OVER

FITS cured to stay cured. Eminent judges, ministers, congressmen and the medical press declare my cures permanent. I cure after others fail. WRITE TODAY FOR FREE BOOKLET.
Address Dr. W. Towns, Fond du Lac, Wis.

MEPO CURES CATARRH
Hay Fever, Headache, Colds. Two weeks' treatment sent on receipt of 25c. MEPO CO., 186 Remsen St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT THE FLAVOR LASTS

DEFIANCE Cold Water Starch
makes laundry work a pleasure. 16 oz. pkg. 10c.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

For Sprained Ankle or Chilblains A-B-C LINIMENT
All Dealers.

WESTERN CANADA

What J. J. Hill, the Great Railroad Magnate, Says About its Wheat-Producing Power:

"The greatest need of this country [United States] in another generation or two will be the providing of homes for its people and producing sufficient for them. The days of our prominence as a wheat exporting country are gone. Canada is to be the great wheat country."

This great railroad magnate is taking advantage of the situation by extensive railway building to the wheat fields of Western Canada.

Upwards of 125 Million Bushels of Wheat were harvested in 1909. Average of the three provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba will be upwards of 23 bushels per acre.

Free homesteads of 160 acres, and adjoining pre-emptions of 160 acres (at $3 per acre), are to be had in the choicest districts.

Schools convenient, climate excellent, soil the very best, railways close at hand, building lumber cheap, fuel easy to get and reasonable in price, water easily procured; mixed farming a success. Write as to best place for settlement, settlers' low railway rates, descriptive illustrated "Last Best West" (sent free on application), and other information, to Sup't of Immigration, Ottawa, Can., or to the Canadian Government Agent.

E. T. Holmes, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; W. V. Bennett, 801 N. Y. Life Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

(Use address nearest you). (4)

WRIGLEY WRIGLEY WRIGLEY

"Cow Troubles"

Is the title of our Book C-B that is sent free, telling you how you can relieve Caked Bag, Sore or Injured Teats, Spider in Teat, Cow Pox, and prevents Heifers from becoming hard milkers with

Cows' Relief

$1.00 per Box at Dealers. A Postal brings the Book. O. H. MFG. CO., 30 Chapel St., Lyndon, Vt.

Outwit the Horse Sharper

Did you ever find a lemon in a horse's nose? How and why did it get there? Did the last horse you bought go incurably lame the next day? Do you know why? Why were his ears tied together with a fine silken thread? Perhaps you are about to buy a horse because you like his "ginger"? Are you sure it is health and high spirits, or IS it ginger—commercial ginger? Are you sure you could tell the age of a horse by its teeth? Or would your experience be like that other man's, who paid $3500 for a 17-year-old horse, thinking he was buying a 7-year-old? The horse had been "Bishoped."

Horse buying and trading offer hundreds of opportunities and temptations to use trickery and sharp practice. There is only one way to meet it:—read

"HORSE SECRETS" EXPOSED

It will protect you—will make you horse-wise and crook-proof, and save you from being cheated by dopes or tricks when buying, selling, or trading. It exposes and makes you acquainted with the tricks and handling methods of gyps and a certain class of unscrupulous dealers. Many of the secrets of this book are now made public for the first time. No such collection of Horse Trading, Horse Buying, Horse Training, and Horse Feeding information has ever before been published. It is impossible even in this large space to give a complete list of the secrets in this sensational book.

"Horse Secrets" has been prepared by Dr. A. S. Alexander, the famous veterinarian, who has had upwards of 25 years' experience in Horse-Buying and Breeding.

Doped and Doctored horses are sold every day; be on your guard.

How to Secure "Horse Secrets"

Horse Secrets has all the interest of an exciting story. The reader goes along from page to page with increasing wonderment at the clever dishonesty of tricky horse traders. It is a book that will sharpen your wits, and already the demand has far exceeded our expectations. We could sell this book and make large sales, too, at almost any price we wanted to ask. But we believe that WE CAN DO MORE GOOD in another way; therefore we offer it only in connection with the following offer:

Horse Secrets and subscription to FARM JOURNAL for 5 years, both for $1.00

FARM JOURNAL is the paper taken by most farmers, and by at least 150,000 people in towns and villages all over the United States. 650,000 cash-in-advance subscribers read every issue with delight and profit. It is a farm paper for farmers, but it is far more than that. Splendid departments on Vegetables, Flowers, Poultry, Household Hints and Recipes, Fashions, High Grade Patterns, the Family Doctor, Legal Questions, Boys' and Girls' pages, etc., as well as on Horses, Cows, Sheep, Swine, Orchard, and Field Crops.

In short, it is for everybody, town as well as country, and at the same time practical, instructive, amusing, and cheerful.

FARM JOURNAL is clean and pure. It never has to be carried out of the house with the tongs. The advertising columns receive the most careful scrutiny and the bars are up all the time against medical, deceptive, suggestive or nasty advertising of any kind whatever.

FARM JOURNAL is thirty-three years old, and has grown to be by far the largest in the world. Its score of editors are men and women who write "with their sleeves rolled up." They know what they are talking about, and can quit when they are through.

By itself, FARM JOURNAL is worth many dollars a year to every American who lives in or near the country. Yet the price, WITH "Horse Secrets" is only $1.00 for FIVE YEARS.

If you send your dollar within 10 days, we will include free "Poor Richard Revived," our splendid 1910 Farm Almanac. 48 pages of useful and amusing reading, calendar for the year 1910, etc.

A Partial List of Secrets

SECRETS OF HORSE TRADING AND SELLING:

The loose shoe trick. The turpentine and gasoline swindles. The horse-hair trick. The fresh butter and flaxseed tricks. Making a horse appear vicious or unsound. "Shutting" a "heaver." "Plugging" a "roarer." Hiding spavins or lameness. The ginger trick. Tricks of crooked auctioneers. The widow trick. The "burglar" dodge—and many others.

SECRETS OF HORSE FEEDING AND RAISING:

Successful silage feeding to horses. Secret of hand raising a foal. Secret method of fattening draughters. Secret of molasses feeding for horses.

SECRETS OF HORSE TRAINING AND HANDLING:

Secret of stopping halter pulling. Secret of keeping a mule from kicking. Secret of handling and curing balky horses. Secret of curing stall kicking. Etc., etc.

COUPON

FARM JOURNAL, 1087 Race Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Gentlemen:—Enclosed find $1.00 for a copy of Horse Secrets, and subscription to Farm Journal for five years.

Name _____

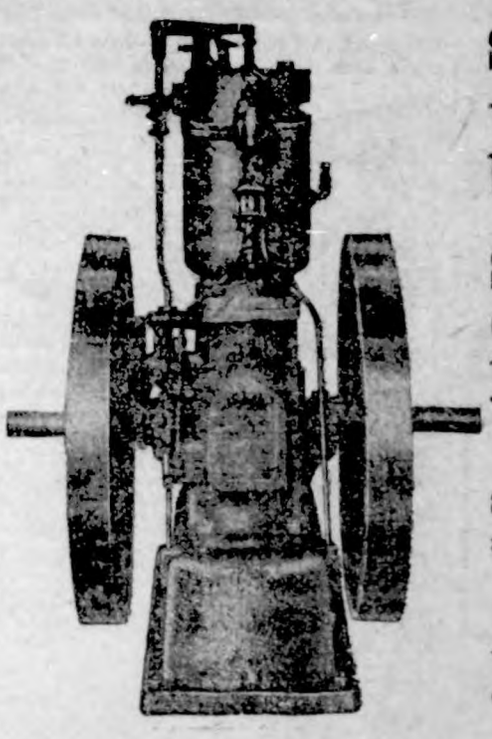
P. O. _____

Street or R. F. D. _____ State _____

As I send this within 10 days, send me "Poor Richard Revived," as promised.

CUT OUT AND MAIL

Farm Journal, 1087 Race St., Philadelphia



Save work, worry, money by using a

STOVER GASOLINE ENGINE

Made right—sold right. Send for an illustrated catalog of our

ENGINES

wind mills and feed grinders.

Sandwich Mfg. Co.

Mason City, Iowa — General Agents

The City Dray Line

We wish to announce that we have purchased the dray line from Ell Bros. and ask a continuation of your valued patronage. We will do all hauling entrusted to us promptly and carefully. Give us a trial.

ELL & SONS, Klemme, Iowa

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

Books — Letter Heads
Pamphlets — Envelopes
Cards — Bill Heads
Invitations — Posters

Everything printed from

TYPE

At the Times office.

Woman's Skypiece

The new fall hats, like all their predecessors, are fearfully and wonderfully made, says an exchange. The perimeter makes the skypiece of the most fastidious Mexican greaser look sick. The horizon is so far from the center of attraction that only good eyesight of the wearer can discern what's going on out beyond the area of the milliner's creation. This season the old peach basket of last spring has been spread out and its reach is almost to the Utah, where Cook cached his supplies and Peary stole them. But what do we men care what the shapes are or the plans and specifications upon which milady's aureole is built? No matter what its lines and lineaments, she is divine, anyway. But men folks would sicken and die if they were denied the sweet boon of poking fun at the ever changing scene presented by the female lid, which lures more coin from the purse than the interest on the national debt. It contributes to the gaiety of nations and adds variety and spice to life. On with the hat and let joy be unconfined, as Lord Byron would have said had hats instead of dancing been under consideration.

All Steel Passenger Coaches

The first delivery on an order for all steel passenger coaches placed by Rock Island Lines has just been received and many of the through trains have been equipped.

The cars have a seating capacity of eighty, the seats are handsomely upholstered in green plush, having high backs, and the arm rests are of Mexican mahogany as are also the window trimmings. Double windows are provided, and just above, a pane of prismatic glass. Lavatory facilities are ample, fittings being of white porcelain and the walls enameled in white.

Cars are vestibuled and brilliantly lighted by means of thirty-three sixteen candle power incandescent lamps so arranged as to throw an even light over all. Garland Ventilators insure a complete change of air every few minutes. No expense has been spared to make the cars as comfortable as possible.

As rapidly as the cars are received by Rock Island Lines from the manufacturers they will be placed in service.

Stung for 15 Years

by Indigestion's pangs—trying many doctors and $200.00 worth of medicine in vain, B F Ayscue of Ingleside, N. C. at last used Dr. King's New Life Pills, and writes they wholly cured him. They cure constipation, biliousness, sick headache, stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Belmond Man Invents

J. C. Butterfield has invented a spring tire for automobiles. While it seems to answer every purpose of a rubber tire, it is apparently indestructible. It consists of two steel tires one of which is bolted to the rim of the wheel. Between the two tires are a large number of strong spiral springs which prevent jarring. Application has been made for a patent. —Belmond Herald.

Looking One's Best

It's a woman's delight to look her best, but pimples, skin eruptions, sores and boils rob life of joy. Listen! Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them; makes the skin soft and velvety. It glorifies the face. Cures pimples, sore eyes, cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands. Try it. Infallible for piles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
☞ Eyes Tested Free.

TIME TABLE.

Rock Island System

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436	.....	7:34 p. m.
82	.....	2:35 p. m.

Going North.

81	.....	9:55 a. m.
435	.....	1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile, both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

It's about time you was seeing us about that

STORM SASH

Don't be fooled by a few warm days. You'll need 'em most any minute. Better see us today.

Northern Lumber Company
N. L. PALMER, Agent
KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

Rheumatism

Nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness.

Lame Shoulder.

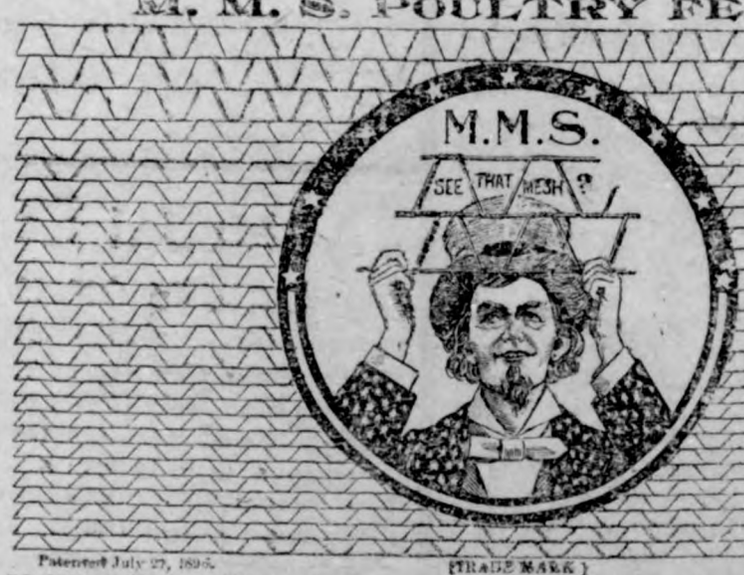
This is a common form of muscular rheumatism. Apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely four times a day and a quick cure is certain.

Lumbago.

When muscular rheumatism attacks the muscles in the small of the back it is called lumbago. It is usually quite severe and every movement adds to the pain, and especially when one attempts to straighten up. No internal treatment is required. Keep quiet, as every movement aggravates the disease, and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely, and you will soon be well again.

Sprains and Bruises are cured by the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment.

M. M. S. POULTRY FENCE.



Patented July 27, 1896. [TRADE MARK] Patented July 6, 1897.

50 PER CENT. SAVING. Requires no top or bottom rail and only ¼ as many posts as the old style netting and makes a better fence. A full line of Field and Hog Fence, Steel Picket Lawn Fence, Gates, Posts, Rail, etc. Write for full particulars.

UNION FENCE CO., De Kalb, Ill.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

Just Dust it on the Sore
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail.
Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER Co.
(25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 20 KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1909. $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

HAVE WIFE AND BABY PROTECTED WITH A BANK ACCOUNT

ON CHRISTMAS it is generally expected that you present your wife and baby with a gift of some kind, Why would it not be a good plan to present them with a savings account?

The only way to be without fear for the future and for your family is to save your money. Think of what might happen to them if you have no money saved.

Start an account today with the

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

Christmas GOODS

The most complete line of Toys in Town.

Story Books, Games, Dolls, Tree Decorations, China and Glassware, Fancy and Common Lamps, Burnt Wood Goods.

Jewelery

Watches, Clocks, Rings, Bracelets, Chains, Lockets, Ladies' and Gent's Buttons and Pins of all kinds.

Musical Goods

Pianos, Brass and String Instruments, Sheet Music, Edison Records. They comprise recitations, vaudeville selections and music of every character.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

PUBLISHER'S NOTICE

On and after January 1, 1910, the subscription price of the Klemme Times will be raised to $1.25 per year, except when paid in advance, in which case the price will remain at $1.00 per year. This move is necessary on our part on account of the big advance in all other lines, especially the price of paper.

Also, papers mailed to parties living outside the county must be paid for in advance, or we will be compelled to cut them off the list. We have lost a few hundred dollars by reason of extending credit on our foreign list.

These new rules need not make your paper cost you a cent more than it has in the past and will help us to meet our obligations better and more promptly. Hoping that these new regulations meet with your approval, we are yours for a successful year 1910. PUBLISHER.

PUBLIC AUCTION

Having sold my farm, I will sell at public auction at the farm 6½ miles southwest of Klemme, 8 miles northwest of Goodell and 1½ miles northeast of Bailey's Grove, on

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 22, 1909, commencing at ten o'clock a. m. the following:

Two horses,
15 head of Cattle, 10 of which are milch cows.
33 head of Shoats.
Lot of Farm Machinery.
1700 bu. corn in crib.
Free Lunch at Noon.

Terms—$10 and under cash; over $10 ten months' time at 8 per cent.

HENRY MEDAUS, Proprietor.
Col. J. A. Young, Auctioneer.
F. A. Arnold, Clerk.

Rich Men's Gifts Are Poor

beside this: "I want to go on record as saying that I regard Electric Bitters as one of the greatest gifts that God has made to woman," writes Mrs. O. Rhinevault of Vestal Center, N.Y. "I can never forget what it has done for me." This glorious medicine gives a woman buoyant spirits, vigor of body and jubilant health. It quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache fainting and dizzy spells; soon builds up the weak, ailing and sickly. Try them. 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

PRIZES FOR CORN

Iowa State College Corn Contest, Ames, Iowa, January 3-15, 1910.

This contest is to be held during the Annual Short Course in stock and grain judging. Several thousand dollars in premiums will be given for corn. Everyone is invited to send corn. No entry fee charged and a good prize for every exhibitor whether a premium winner or not. For premium list and full particulars address P. C. Taff, Ames, Iowa.

Alone in Saw Mill at Midnight

unmindful of dampness, drafts, storms or cold, W J Atkins worked as Night Watchman at Banner Springs, Tenn. Such exposure gave him a severe cold that settled on his lungs. At last he had to give up work. He tried many remedies but all failed till he used Dr. King's New Discovery. "After using one bottle," he writes, "I went back to work as well as ever." Severe colds, stubborn coughs, inflamed throats and sore lungs, hemorrhages, croup and whooping cough get quick relief and prompt cure from this glorious medicine. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

HENRY MEDAUS SALE

Wednesday, December 22, '09

2 Horses
15 head of Cattle
33 Shoats
Machinery, Corn in crib, etc.

....Free Lunch at Noon....

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

H. V. ADAMS LECTURER

THIRD NUMBER LECTURE COURSE

Monday Ev'ng, Dec. 27, 09'

Mr. Adams' subject will be "The House of Changing Dimensions." Plan to hear this fine discourse by one of the most talented lecturers on the platform today.

WE ARE PAYING UNUSUALLY HIGH PRICES FOR FURS!

If you are a trapper and have a bunch of Furs of any kind, bring it in and let us price it, We are paying the top on all kinds and grades.

Do not sell until you have shown us your assortment.

ELL BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

SOUNDS LIKE A FAIRY TALE

THE FARMERS OF CENTRAL CANADA REAP WHEAT AND RICHES.

Up in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the provinces that compose Central Canada have such a quantity of land suitable for the growth of small grains, which grow so abundantly, and yield so handsomely that no fear need be feared of a wheat famine on this Continent. The story reproduced below is only one of the hundreds of proofs that could be produced to show the results that may be obtained from cultivation of the lands in these provinces. Almost any section of the country will do as well.

With the country recently opened by the Grand Trunk Pacific, the latest of the great transcontinental lines to enter the field of the development of the Canadian West, there is afforded added ample opportunity to do as was done in the case cited below:

To buy a section of land, break it up and crop it, make $17,550 out of the yield and $10,880 out of the increase of value all within the short period of two years, was the record established by James Bailey, a well known farmer within a few miles of Regina. Mr. Bailey bought the 640 acres of land near Grand Coulee two years ago. He immediately prepared the whole section for crop and this year has 600 acres of wheat and 40 acres of oats. The wheat yielded 19,875 bushels, and the oats yielded 4,750 bushels. The whole of the grain has been marketed and Mr. Bailey is now worth $17,550 from the grain alone. He bought the land at $18 an acre, and the other day refused an offer of $35 an acre, just a $17 advance for the time of his purchase. The land cost $11,320 in the first instance. Here are the figures of the case.—Land cost, 640 acres, at $18, $11,320. Wheat yielded 19,875 bushels, at 84 cents a bushel, $16,695. Oats yielded 4,750 bushels at 28 cents a bushel, $855. Offered for land, 640 acres at $35 an acre, $22,400. Increase value of land, $10,880. Total earnings of crop, $17,550, together with increase in value of land a total of $28,540.

It is interesting to note the figures of the yield per acre. The wheat yielded 33½ bushels to the acre, and oats 118.7 bushels to the acre. The figures are a fair indication of the average throughout the district.

Agents of the Canadian Government in the different cities will be pleased to give you information as to rates, etc.

Accounted For.

Landlady—This is a bronze turkey.

Starboard—Ah, I see; survivor from the bronze age.

Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna

Cleanses the System Effectually;
Dispels colds and Headaches due to Constipation;
Acts naturally, acts truly as a Laxative.
Best for Men, Women and Children—Young and Old.
To get it's beneficial effects, always buy the Genuine,

manufactured by the

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS

one size only, regular price 50¢ per bottle.

PILES

"I have suffered with piles for thirty-six years. One year ago last April I began taking Cascarets for constipation. In the course of a week I noticed the piles began to disappear and at the end of six weeks they did not trouble me at all. Cascarets have done wonders for me. I am entirely cured and feel like a new man." George Kryder, Napoleon, O.

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 920

Best for Baby and Best for Mother

PISO'S CURE

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

Is fine for children and adults, very pleasant to take and free from opiates. It soothes and heals the aching throat and assures restful nights to both mother and child.

All Druggists, 25 cents.

JEWELS RETURNED

Des Moines Woman Finds and Returns Boone Gems.

SENT BACK BY ADAMS EXPRESS

A Professional Woman Picked Up Handbag of Mrs. John Reynolds Last September in Boone Depot.

Boone, Ia., Dec. 13—A Des Moines woman has returned the bag of jewels valued at $5,000, lost by Mrs. John Reynolds last September in the Chicago & North-Western waiting room and received in return a check from John Reynolds of several hundred dollars reward.

The greatest mystery has surrounded the return of the jewels and the name of the woman who returned them is being kept a closely guarded secret. It is known, however, that she is a professional woman with classes in Boone and Fort Dodge. She also has relatives in Sioux City.

The story is that the Des Moines woman entered the waiting room after the departure of Mrs. Reynolds, saw the bag, picked it up and noted the contents. Her own train was leaving at once and she carried the bag with her, first to Fort Dodge, then to Sioux City, where she was going on a visit. In Sioux City she placed the bag and jewels in a safety deposit vault. When her visit there was completed she returned to Des Moines, bringing the jewels with her. When she returned she learned of the Reynolds' loss and wrote to Mr. Reynolds telling of her find and asking him to describe the lost property. Mr. Reynolds at once wrote to Mrs. Reynolds, who is visiting in Hiawatha, Kan., got an itemized statement of the missing jewels and forwarded the same to the Des Moines woman. She replied that they were identical with those she had. A reward was offered her for their return and Friday morning by American Express the jewels came to Poone, arriving shortly after noon. Mr. Reynolds at once forwarded a check, of generous proportions, reputed to be several hundred dollars as a reward.

To Aid Lutheran Churches.

Iowa City.—The advisory board of home missions of the English Lutheran synod of Iowa has begun an organized effort to help the churches of that denomination in the state. The effort is the result of the meeting that has been in progress in Iowa City for the past few days. The reports at this meeting showed that active measures had been taken during the past year for the help of the weaker parishes of the state and plans were made for the coming year which involve the expenditure of about $2,000 in different parts of Iowa.

Des Moines Man Made President.

Iowa City.—The advisory board of the home missions of the English Lutheran synod of Iowa, in convention in Iowa City, elected the following officers for the year of 1909-1910: President, Rev. A. B. Leamer Des Moines; secretary, Rev. Dr. W. H. Blancke, Davenport; treasurer, W. H. Bailey, Iowa City. The other members of the board present were Rev. H. M. Leech, Dubuque and W. W. Witmer, layman, Des Moines.

Foster Son Wins Estate.

Hampton.—Emery Stiles, foster son of the late E. S. Stiles, was declared sole heir of an estate of $20,000 left by his foster mother after several days spent in a trial of a case brought by relatives of the late Mrs. Stiles on the ground that the property could not go to the young man because he never was legally adopted.

Bad Fire Near Fort Dodge.

Fort Dodge.—The $100,000 plant of the Corn Belt Packing Company, three miles south of this city was destroyed by fire, which is believed to have originated in the cold storage department from a lighted pipe left in the coat pocket of a workman. The loss was covered by $20,000 insurance

Iowa Defeats Nebraska.

Iowa City—Iowa won the debate on the income tax question with Nebraska at Iowa City by a decision of two to one. Iowa supported the affirmative.

Ex-Policeman Blows Head Off.

Cedar Rapids.—Frank Janko, formerly a member of the police department, blew his head off with a shot gun while despondent. He was well known here.

Mason City Man Injured.

Mason City.—William Nettleton, fell on the icy sidewalk and had to be taken home. His injuries to his spine are said to be serious.

The Fair Men Make Plans.

Des Moines Iowa.—The establishment of a manufacturing building at the state f grounds, the buying of grounds for county fairs by the county fair associations, the inauguration of separate horse shows in the various counties, the introduction of dairy shows into the regular program of the county and state fairs and the general improvement of country conditions were some of the policies advocated by the members of the State Association of Fair Managers in their annual meeting and banquet. After the conclusion of the business meeting the officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

President—James Nowak of Malcolm.

Vice President—J. W. Edmunds of Mount Pleasant.

Secretary and Treasurer—W. C. Clarke of Marshalltown re-elected.

Great encouragement was given to the fair movement, both in the state and in the counties by Attorney General Byers who addressed the members informally for a few minutes. Mr. Byers declared that he believed that a great work is being done by the fair movement towards bettering the social conditions over the state.

John Simpson, secretary of the state agricultural board, asserted that it is a mistaken idea that the state fair is ruining the county fairs. Instead, he declared, the state fair is encouraging the county fairs and making them more successful.

Others who spoke to the members of the association were W. R. Mellor, secretary of the Nebraska department of agriculture, on "The Fair Official" and Prof. Wayne Dinsmore of Ames on "Stock Judging." Mr. Dinsmore advocated the making of a uniform rating for all cattle and stock in all of the county fairs, in order that the results at the various fairs be compared. His suggestion was adopted by the association and will be carried out in the future.

Emmert Memorial.

Atlantic.—The Case County Medical society at its meeting in this city elected officers for the ensuing year. They are: President, Dr. Maynard, Adair; vice president, Dr. Morris, Atlantic; secretary and threasurer, Dr. Max Emmert, Atlantic; delegate, Dr. Stultz, Wiota; censors, Drs. Weaver of Cumberland, Morris of Atlantic and Thompson of Marne.

The principal business of the session was the memorial to the late Dr. Emmert of this city, who at the time of his death was a member of the board of parole and pardons and who was founder of the Cass County society and the Botna Valley Medical society.

Stork Brings Tiny Baby.

Marshalltown.—Swathed in cotton and carefully covered with hot water bottles, which form a homemade incubator, there is a curiosity at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Dennis of this city, in the shape of a three pound baby girl. The little one appears to be perfectly well and is able to take nourishment from a medicine dropper. Mr. and Mrs. Dennis moved here recently from Woodward, where they were engaged in the hotel business.

Man Danced on Red Hot Stove.

Waterloo.—After suffering the agonies of death seven days David Lynch died of burns sustained in the Bremer county jail at Waverly. During an attack of delirium tremens Lynch divested himself of clothing, danced on top of a red-hot stove until the flesh dropped from his feet and then hugged the stove until his body was seared.

Dubuque Company Sued.

Dubuque.—Suit has been filed in the district court by Mrs. Julia Livingstone claiming of the Union Electric company $2,000 damages, alleged to have been sustained by reason of injuries accruing from the sudden starting of one of the company's cars as the plaintiff was about to alight, she being thrown to the ground.

Graded Cream Too High.

Newton.—C. Bishop & Co. have appealed from the decision of Justice Allfree, by which they were fined $25 for alleged violation of the pure food law. The company is charged with testing cream too high. They tested cream at 25 per cent butter fat when it was only 19.

Denison Plans to Pave.

Denison—Denison has decided to make great improvements during the coming year. The initiative was taken at a meeting of the business men when it was agreed to build a $25,000 opera house next year and to take preliminary steps for paving the principal streets.

New Boat Line for Des Moines.

Ottumwa.—Business men here and at Keokuk have raised money enough to re-establish a steamboat line on the Des Moines river, connecting with the other lines at Keokuk.

SUFFERED TERRIBLY.

How Relief from Distressing Kidney Trouble Was Found.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wolf, 388 W. Morgan St., Tipton, Mo., says: "Inflammation of the bladder reached its climax last spring and I suffered terribly. My back ached and pained so I could hardly get around and the secretions were scanty, frequent of passage and painful. I was tired all the time and very nervous. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, and after taking a few boxes was cured and have been well ever since."

Remember the name—Doan's. Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Of course the best thing with which to feather your nest is cash down.

BEAUTIFUL WHITE CLOTHES are a delight to the eye. Be sure to get them by using RUSS BLUE. 5c at grocers.

The best foundation for success in business is rocks.

IMPOSSIBLE TO FIND ANYTHING better for sideache, backaches or stitches than Perry Davis' Painkiller. Get the large size, it is the cheapest. At all druggists, 25c, 35c and 50c bottles.

A girl's ideal is naturally shattered when he goes broke.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic 25c a bottle.

It's one thing to run into debt and another to crawl out.

WESTERN CANADA

What Governor Deneen, of Illinois, Says About It:

Governor Deneen, of Illinois, owns [illegible] tion of land in Saskatchewan, Canada. He has said in an interview:

"As an American I am delighted to see the remarkable progress of Western Canada. The people are flocking across the boundary into the sands, and I have not met one who admitted he had made a mistake. They are all doing well. There is scarcely a community in the Middle Western States that is not a representative in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta."

125 Million Bushels Wheat in 1909

Western Canada field crops in 1909 will easily yield to the farmer $170,000,000.00 in cash.

Free Homesteads of 160 acres and pre-emptions of 160 acres at $3.00 an acre. Railway Land Companies have land for sale at reasonable prices. Many farmers have paid for their lands out of the proceeds of one crop. Splendid climate, good schools, excellent railway facilities, cheap freight rates, wood, water and lumber easily obtained.

For pamphlet "Last Best West," particulars as to suitable locations and low settlers' rate, apply to Sup't of Immigration, Ottawa, Can., or to Canadian Gov't Agent.

E. T. Holmes, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.
W. V. Bennett, Room 4 Bee Bldg., Omaha, Neb.
(Use address nearest you.)

"Cow Trouble" Is the title of our Book 6-B, sent free, telling you how you believe Caked Bag, Sore or Injured Teats, Spider in Cow Pox, and prevents from becoming hard milkers.

Cows' Relief

$1.00 per Box at Dealers. A Postal brings the Book. O. H. MFG. CO., 30 Chapel St., Lyndonville, Vt.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

The Fountain Head of Life Is The Stomach

A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.

Dr. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgement.

This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medical roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrappers. It has no relationship with secret nostrums. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this time-proved remedy OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. ASK YOUR NEIGHBORS. They must know of many cures made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighborhood. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE

FOR PINK EYE DISTEMPER CATARRHAL FEVER AND ALL NOSE AND THROAT DISEASES

Cures the sick and acts as a preventive for others. Liquid given on the tongue. Safe for brood mares and all others. Best kidney remedy. 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle; $5.00 and $10.00 the dozen. Sold by all druggists and horse goods houses, or sent express paid, by the manufacturers.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists, GOSHEN, INDIANA

Your Chance In Montana

You have an opportunity to-day to secure a farm in Montana that you will not have in two years from now. You can get 160 acres of free government homestead land for the trifling cost of the filing fees. You can get 320 acres of land free in Northern Montana under the enlarged homestead act. This land is pronounced by Professor Thomas Shaw to be the best in the Northwest. It will grow 30 bushels of Turkey Red Wheat to the acre—from 60 to 100 bushels of oats. It will grow large crops of barley, rye and flax. It is rich soil and only needs an intelligent farmer to make it yield enormous crops. You can not get this land two years from now, it will be taken up. You must act quickly—as filings are being made rapidly. Most of this land lies in Montana, north of the Great Northern Railway and between the eastern boundary and the foothills of the Rocky Mountains. Much of it is in the fertile Milk River Valley, where the government is constructing one of the largest Irrigation Projects in the country.

In the Flathead Valley land is cheap.

If interested in exchanging your high priced land or your rented land for free land or low priced land, write for our New Book on Montana, which gives full information about the conditions, and opportunities for farmers. Write to-day.

Cut out coupon and mail to

W. M. ROMINE
District Passenger Agent
406 Sixth Avenue
Des Moines,
Iowa

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY

W. M. ROMINE, D. P. A., G. N. Ry.
406 Sixth Ave., Des Moines, Ia.
Please mail me your Montana Bulletin.
Name.....
Street.....
City.....

GREAT LOVE STORIES OF HISTORY

By ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE

Mary, Queen of Scots, and Bothwell

(Copyright by the Author.)

This is the love story of a fascinat- wicked woman and of a man who s quite as wicked without being in least fascinating. The woman s Mary Queen of Scots. The man s her husband, James Hepburn, rl of Bothwell.

Mary inherited the crown of Scot- d. In early youth she married ng Francis II. of France. He died d she came back to rule her own untry. The gay, frivolous French urt had just suited Mary's light na- re. With the harsh, grave, quarrel- me Scots who now surrounded her e had nothing in common. She ocked them. They bored her. For te reasons she married her cousin, oung Lord Darnley. He was a big, kward, stupid, weak fellow whom ry grew to despise. He was des- rately afraid of her, and was jealous s well. He had ample cause for both otions. The marriage was unhap- . So was Mary's whole reign. She isliked her people. They distrusted er. From the first everything seemed go wrong.

It was when affairs were at their orst that Bothwell loomed up big on e political horizon. Though of high nk, he was a ruffian adventurer, who ad more than once been mixed up in easonable and other unlawful escapades. Darnley murdered Rizzio, the queen's elder- y secretary, and in a fit of rage sought Mary's death or imprisonment. Bothwell, with a strong army at his back, interfered in her behalf. He also helped to stir her dislike for Darnley into hatred. Soon afterward Darnley was assassinated. There can be no doubt that Bothwell caused his murder or that Mary knew beforehand what fate the earl had plotted for her young husband. With Darnley out of the way all was clear sailing for Bothwell. He had gained tremendous influence over the queen. Where other men flattered her he bullied her. Where others begged for her favor Bothwell brutally demanded it. He was her master by sheer force of will and rough strength. This sort of man appealed to Mary's fickle heart. She loved him more and more devotedly the more brutal treatment she received at his hands. Whatever orders he gave she meekly obeyed. It was another case of Beauty and the Beast.

A Queen and an Adventurer.

Directly after Darnley's murder Bothwell planned a master stroke in his game of courtship and statecraft. As Mary was riding back to Edinburgh on April 24, 1567, from a visit to her infant son (who was afterward James I. of England), Bothwell, at the head of an armed force, met her and carried her away to Dunbar castle. Though this daring act was supposed to be nothing less than a piece of lawless kidnaping, it is more than probable that Mary not only freely consented to the scheme, but had helped to plan it. At any rate, she made no resistance. Bothwell promptly divorced his faithful wife, and on May 15, 1567 (barely three months after Darnley's death), he and Mary were married. Mary had meanwhile made Bothwell duke of Orkney. But he was, to all intents and purposes, the real ruler of Scotland. When he and Mary appeared in public he used to hold his cap in his hand to show he was her subject. But Mary would snatch the cap from him and put it on his head to indicate that he was her equal. He tyrannized over her and behaved toward her with none of the courtesy or deference due her rank. He had apparently won his life's ambition and no longer troubled to show civility to the woman to whom he owed all. But the more cruelly he treated her the more Mary loved him.

The Scotch lords hated Bothwell and had no idea of accepting him as their ruler. They rose in arms and took Mary away from him. She escaped from them disguised as a boy and joined Bothwell. Then the lords marched against the lovers in open warfare. Bothwell, who was as brave as he was brutal, offered to settle the quarrel by single combat with any champion the lords might name. The challenge was rejected. The queen's followers deserted her. She was at the lords' mercy.

The End of the Romance.

Hemmed in and unable to escape, she kissed Bothwell good-by with many tears and surrendered to her foes. Bothwell, seeing all was lost, deserted her, and, slipping through the enemy's lines, escaped to Norway. There he was captured, and died insane in a Scandinavian prison. Mary was dethroned. She fled for protection to England. There Queen Elizabeth cast her into prison and later had her beheaded.

But, indirectly, the Scotch queen was avenged. Her descendants, the Stuart kings, misruled England and (by their fickleness and other evil qualities inherited from Mary) made that country suffer untold misfortunes.

NEEDLESS SACRIFICE OF LIFE

Constant Supply of Pure Milk Will Result in Immense Reduction of Infant Mortality.

The problem of the milk supply for the babies is one that has to be solved all the year round. The mortality from the gastro-intestinal diseases is heaviest during the summer, but the babies need pure milk quite as much in the winter as in the summer, and the municipalities that fail to insure it for them are virtually asleep at the switch. The eventual wrecking of countless baby lives is inevitable. The city fathers who make no provision for the supervision of the sources of the milk supply are not only virtually asleep, but recklessly extravagant. Dr. Goler's estimate is $500 a month for a city the size of Rochester. Put opposite this amount the economic loss, due to the appalling waste of baby life. It is estimated that 375,000 babies under one year old died in this country last year. Economists put the financial value of each of these babies at $90, so that the total loss, expressed merely in dollars and cents, amounted to $33,750,000. And yet physicians say that at least one-half of this waste could have been prevented by the adequate supervision of the sources of the milk supply.

Shelter for Foot Soldiers.

In military maneuvers the infantry must do more or less work under cover, and it is frequently essential for the soldier to work his way along the surface of the ground by creeping or crawling. In order to facilitate this a genius of Stuttgart has invented a device, consisting of wheels, rollers or runners, attached to a frame or to tent poles, knapsacks or other suitable parts of the equipment. The utility of this invention remains to be proved by practical experience, but there can be no question of its novelty and originality.

Mistakes Will Happen.

Lady (to her sister, a doctor)—There—I cooked a meal for the first time to-day, and I made a mess of it.

"Well, dear, never mind, it's nothing. I lost my first patient."

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials

Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

None Better.

"What would you recommend as a good mental exercise, professor?"

"Fixing your mind on your own business, my boy."

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

It is said that a cat has nine lives, but a cat isn't in it with an old cow when it comes to kicking the bucket.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action is remarkable. It removes the cause and the disease quickly disappears. First dose greatly benefits. 75c Druggists.

Our idea of heaven is a place big enough to make it possible for people to be without neighbors.

NASTY YELLOW CLOTHES will forever disappear if you use RUSS BLUE. All good grocers, 5c.

It's better to deserve success and not have it than to have success and not deserve it, although less pleasant.

Rheumatism and Neuralgia never could get along with Hamlins Wizard Oil. Wizard Oil always drives them away from the premises in short order.

Everyone can do his best thing easiest.—Emerson.

WE PAY HIGH PRICE FOR HIDES and furs & sell guns and traps cheap. N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis.

We help ourselves when we help others.—W. J. Bryan.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the old reliable cough remedy. Found in every drug store and in practically every home. For sale by all druggists, 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles.

The first step toward keeping your mouth shut is to close it.

Constipation causes and seriously aggravates many diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. Tiny sugar-coated granules.

Better a poor man at large than a rich man in jail.

Your Liver is Clogged up

That's Why You're Tired—Out of Sorts—Have No Appetite.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS will put you right in a few days. They do their duty. Cure Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, and Sick Headache.

SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE

GENUINE must bear signature: Brent Good

The Truth ABOUT Life Insurance

Five booklets—"But," "Be Just," "How to Figure It Out" and opinions of Gov. Hughes of N. Y. and of Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage will save you many dollars—Sent prepaid upon receipt of 14c in stamps or coin.

CHAS. H. BROWNELL, 176 Federal Street, Boston, Mass.

The great family liniment is A-B-C LINIMENT Sold Everywhere.

W. N. U., DES MOINES, NO. 51-1909.

SWIFT'S PREMIUM CALENDAR FOR 1910

Four famous old-time songs: America; Home, Sweet Home; Old Folks at Home, and The Old Oaken Bucket.

Each of the four large sheets illustrates in color the home and childhood scenes, autographed portrait of the author, biography of the song, words of the song and on the reverse side a full piano music score.

One of these calendars should be in every home. It is an authentic picture history of songs dear to every American heart.

Sent postpaid for:
10 Wool Soap wrappers, or
10 Premium Butterine wrappers, or
1 cap from jar of Swift's Beef Extract, or 10 cents in coin or stamps.

Use in the home—
Swift's Pride Soap
Swift's Pride Washing Powder
Swift's Pride Cleanser.

THE FOSTER HOMESTEAD

SWIFT & COMPANY
4168 PACKERS AVENUE, CHICAGO, ILL.

SHIP RAW FURS AT ONCE
WULFSOHN GANSS FUR CO., Inc.
Capital $50,000.00 216 Nicollet Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.
The only Minneapolis house which has branches in New York, Leipzig and London.
Ship your raw furs to us, then you are sure to get full values and a square sort.

	Ex. Lge.	Lge.	Med.	Small	II	III	IV
SKUNK—	$4.25	$3.50	$3.00	$2.25	$2.00	$2.00	$ .75—1.00
RACCOON—	3.25	2.75	1.75	1.25	1.50	.75	$ .50
OPOSSUM—	.80	.60	.50	.35	.35	.10
	Winter		Lge. Fall		Small Fall		Kitts.
RATS—	$ .45		$ .40		$ .30		$ .10

Prompt Returns. We pay express charges.

When Cold Winds Blow

When cold winds blow, biting frost is in the air, and back-draughts down the chimney deaden the fires, then the

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

shows its sure heating power by steadily supplying just the heat that is needed for comfort.

The Perfection Oil Heater is unaffected by weather conditions. It never fails. No smoke—no smell—just a genial, satisfying heat. The new prevents the wick being turned too high. Removed in an instant.

Automatic Smokeless Device

Solid brass font holds 4 quarts of oil—sufficient to give out a glowing heat for 9 hours—solid brass wick carriers—damper top—cool handle—oil indicator. Heater beautifully finished in nickel or Japan in a variety of styles.

Every Dealer Everywhere. If Not At Yours, Write for Descriptive Circular to the Nearest Agency of the

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
(Incorporated)

W·L·DOUGLAS
$3.00 $3.50 & $4.00 SHOES

THE LARGEST MANUFACTURER OF MEN'S FINE SHOES IN THE WORLD

Wear W. L. Douglas comfortable, easy-walking shoes. They are made upon honor, of the best leathers, by the most skilled workmen, in all the latest fashions. Shoes in every style and shape to suit men in all walks of life.

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer and are of greater value than any other make.

CAUTION.—See that W. L. Douglas name and the retail price is stamped on the bottom. Take No Substitute.

BOY'S SHOES
$2.00 & $2.50

Wherever you live, W. L. Douglas shoes are within your reach. If your dealer cannot fit you, write for Mail Order Catalog. W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.

Train Children For Farm

Trade Schools Have Been Found Good, Why Not Include Teaching of Agriculture?

Prof. Paul Hanus of the Harvard summer school told 500 teachers who are students in the school about the need of the trade school as an extension of the public school to save millions of American children from the calamity of starting in life as unskilled laborers. Starting so, the professor said, means no career.

"All their lives they must be underlings, except in rare instances." The same day or the next, Secretary Wilson was saying in Washington.

"While the population of the United States has been steadily increasing through the usual additions at home and from immigration, the cultivated area of the country is decreasing. Thousands of acres formerly raising products that made the food of the country have gone back to pasturage. The farmers simply cannot get the men to raise crops."

It is by no means a bad idea to teach farming to some of the prospective unskilled laborers. As it is, in the east at any rate, the farmer's boy is apt to see his best chance in learning to be some sort of a mechanic. Skilled labor is everywhere needed.

The problem for the boy of 14 or 15 who expects to work with his hands is to give him the skill to work to advantage. To that end the experts in public education now advocate the establishment of trade schools to give a vocational training to children who now leave the public school at 14. Very well; the plan looks good. But please include farming in the vocations for which training is to be given and try to make that look better as compared with the rival employments. —Harper's Weekly.

An Exception.

"Boys don't run away to sea these days."

"My office boy ran away to see the ball game yesterday."

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

The Biggest and best holiday Line

A WHOLE TRAIN FULL

of the Choicest Articles suitable for Gifts for

Every Member of the Family

THE BEST LINE WE HAVE EVER SHOWN

You never before have had an opportunity to buy Christmas Gifts as Cheap as we are now offering them to you.

Our object is to sell our line of Holiday Goods and Fancy Dishes down as close as possible this year, and in order to do this, we have cut and slashed prices on all these goods. You can save Dollars by buying of us. Space will not permit us to go into much detail. You must see the goods and get the prices in order to comprehend the Big Values we are offering. Come early.

DISHES

We have an elegant line of Fancy and Souvenir Dishes which we will sell at a big reduction from usual prices. Dishes from 5c up to $3.00. A nice assortment of 10 cent Dishes.

Xmas Candy

We have the largest line of Candy in the county. Make us prove this to you Try our box Bon-Bons—

THE FINEST MADE

TOYS

Santa Claus has left a lot of Toys at this store. All kinds and all prices. Bring the little ones in and let them spend an enjoyable half-hour. We want you to inspect our goods.

For "Him"

A suitable gift would be a box of our Fine Cigars or one of our Case Pipes. We have a nice line and—

The PRICES ARE RIGHT

For Your Xmas Dinner

Oranges, Apples, Grapes, Bananas, Figs, Dates, Cranberries, Nuts, Oysters, Celery, Cabbage, etc. etc.

We can't begin to tell it all here. You are cordially invited to call and examine our Xmas goods. We wish you all a very Merry Christmas.

G. W. KLUCKHOHN, Klemme, Iowa

NOTICE

HAVING decided to go out of business, we have disposed of our Hardware stock to Gruetzmacher Bros and our Groceries to J. W. Waterman, and we desire to extend our thanks to our many friends and customers who have patronized us so liberally. Our business relations have been very satisfactory and will be remembered with pleasure. Again thanking you for your valued trade, we are

Yours respectfully,

Terhufen Bros.

Get your Winter's Coal Now

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Sootless and Washed Egg. Petroleum Coke. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

H. C. LAU

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

MORE LOCAL NEWS

Henry Medaus was at Garner on business Saturday.

Lawrence Larsen has purchased a new Oliver typewriter.

Edgar Zinn and Earl Gillett were initiated into the mysteries of the M. W. A. lodge Tuesday night. They were able to be up and around all right the next day, notwithstanding the fact that the goat was quite frisky from lack of exercise.

Some parties entered the cemetery one day recently and indulged in a little target practice using the new tool house as a target and shooting some twenty or thirty bullets through the walls of the building. Such lawlessness is a penitentiary offense and will not be tolerated. Those who done this business are known and they would do well to come up and pay damage and save prosecution. By order of Trustees.

Complete Line of ..holiday gifts..

The finest line of Linens, Table Spreads, Lunch Cloths, Dresser and Commode Scarfs. The prettiest Mexican Painted Spreads. Prettiest Sofa Pillows in Tapestry Painting. A large variety of stamped and drawn Linens.

Headquarters for Pyrography Patterns and Ready Burnt Goods. The largest assortment ever shown.

Don't fail to get tickets for the prettiest Doll ever shown. Yours for business,

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

Mrs. N. L. Palmer was shopping at Garner Monday.

W R. Bloom shipped a car of hogs Sunday also one yesterday.

A. C. Flint and wife were at Garner between trains Saturday.

H. A. Sweigard was down from Garner last Thursday evening.

You probably remember the noted lecturer, H. V. Adams. You heard him on our lecture course last winter and if you didn't, you missed the lecture they all talked about so long and so favorably. Mr. Adams is on our course again this year, and will be with us on Monday evening, Dec. 27th.

The First National Bank a change of ad.

The Des Moines Capital the Klemme Times will be to any address from now Jan. 1, 1911, on receipt of This is an exceptionally li offer and should be taken ad tage of at once to secure its benefits. If you have al paid in advance for the T ask for our rate on the Ca Call at this office today and a daily paper for the win reading.

Notice

This is to notify everyone to trust my wife and two b on my credit.

(19-2*) H. S. SCHWART

A DOUBLE SALE
LASTS UNTIL XMAS DAY

Now is your chance to save money

Read the prices

Cloak Sale

$15.00 Womens Coats go at	$11.50
12.50 women's coats go at	9.50
10.00 women's coats go at	7.00
9.00 women's coats go at	6.00
6.00 women's coats go at	4.50
10.00 Misses coats go at	7.00
7.50 Misses coats go at	5.00
6.50 Misses coats go at	4.75
5.00 Misses coats go at	3.50

All Bear Skin Coats at low prices.

DON'T MISS IT!

Furniture Sale

Must make room for next car-load
So here they go.

Dressers, worth from $8.50 to $20.00, go at	$4.95 & up
Comb. Book Case and Desk worth from $12.00 to $20.00, go at	$8 up
Ladies' Desks at	$6 to $10
Kitchen Cabinets at	$4.95 to $14
1 Oak Wardrobe only	$11.85
1 Chiffoneer only	$9.85
$7 00 Go Carts each	$4.50

All Couches and Sofas
go at reduced prices!

We have new Toys and Dolls for the little ones.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

We invite you to call and inspect the largest stock of useful gifts ever brought together under one roof.

Make your friends happy by giving them a present that they can use.

ARTHUR WELLEMEYER

About People You Know

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	45 to c
Oats	35 to 38c
Wheat	80 to 90
Barley	40 to 48c
Hay	4 00 to 6.00
Hogs	7.50 to 8.00
Cattle	3.00 to 6.00

Try Bloom's Hocking Egg coal also Petroleum Coke. It is hot stuff. 19-4

A. P. McGregor, of Vinton, a nephew of W. R. Bloom, was visiting here yesterday.

Hear H. V. Adams, lecturer, at the Klemme opera house on Monday evening, Dec. 27th.

The First National Bank is presenting its patrons with a very fine art calendar for 1910

The annual election of officers of the M. W. A. lodge was held Tuesday evening. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

V C.—F. Gruetzmacher,
W. A.—Ralph Elder,
Banker—P. M. Griesemer.
Clerk—Lew Lewis,
Escort—Albert Fuller,
Watchman—Lou Ihde,
Sentry—Chas. Lewis.

Being obliged to take it for rent I will sell it out cheap;
Dr. Hess Stock Food.
Dr. Hess Poultry Panacea.
Dr. Hess Instant Louse Killer.
Dr. Hess Hog Worm Powder.
To be had at G. F. Schuler's Garner, Iowa.

Read the new State Savings Bank ad

Read Ell Bros. big fur ad on page 1 this week.

The dance Thursday evening was not very largely attended.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Einhause on Sunday, Dec. 12th, a son.

The English M E. Sunday School is preparing a Christmas program.

Poultry wanted every day. Highest market price paid. H. Lau & Son.

Fred Griewe had the misfortune to cut his hand quite severely Monday.

U. S mail outside of pouch cannot now be handled by the agent or any employe at depot.

Miss Blanche Schneider, of Garner, came down Saturday evening for a visit with Miss Amanda Arnold.

Get your seats reserved at the State Savings Bank for H. V. Adams' lecture and don't forget the date—December 27th.

Terhufen Bros. have sold their hardware stock to Gruetzmacher Bros. and their line of groceries to J. W. Waterman and will retire from business. We understand that John has purchased a farm near Dickey, N. D., and will move there. During the time these boys have been in business here, they have made a host of friends by their upright business methods, and while we are all sorry to lose them, we wish them much success whatever their future vocation.

Melinda Musfelt is improving from her illness.

The office of the Koerner Telephone Company will be closed on Christmas Day and New Year's Day, same as Sundays. 2

Just received, the finest assortment of Hand Drawn Japanese Imported Linens Don't fail to see them at Mrs. John Josten's.

Mrs. L. A. Turgasen came down from Buffalo Center last Thursday evening and visited at the home of her parents until Friday afternoon.

To the ladies of Klemme and vicinity—I will do plain or fancy sewing at reasonable price. Mrs. S. L Sage. Call at residence of Mrs. Flint.

Those who have renewed their subscriptions the past week are: B. F. Strasnider, H. F. Gerwein, Louis Sampson, Aug. Lau, Jr., T M. Hamilton, H. L. Suckow,

A Christmas dance will be held in the Klemme opera house on Thursday evening, Dec. 23. The Imperial Harp Orchestra of Mason City will furnish the music.

The English M. E. church now has a pastor in the person of Rev. Chas. Evans, who comes here from Germania. Rev. Evans arrived here last Friday and held his first service Sunday.

Albert Yahnke arrived here from Buffalo Center last Saturday night for a visit with relatives. On Monday he and Wm. Fuller left for Dows and Iowa Falls for a few days' visit with relatives and old friends.

C. C. Schaefer sold W. R. Bloom two hogs this week that brought him the neat sum of $78.40. Mr. Bloom informs the writer that this is the most money he has ever paid for two hogs.

German M. E. Church Items

Chas. Griffen went to Chicago Wednesday with a load of stock of his own feeding.

Mrs. Bettien left for Charles City Monday to spend the holidays with her children. Emil is batching it these days.

Mr. and Mrs. Kahler enjoyed a visit from a sister of Mrs. Kahler last week—a Mrs. Clark of Grundy Center

Ruth Wellemeyer arrived on Tuesday evening from Charles City. She will assist in her brother's store during the holiday rush.

Rev. A. Immer, of this conference, dropped dead in the depot at Dodgeville, Wis., Monday and was buried in Charles City today.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kraus were called to Colesburg, Iowa, by the death of the wife of Mrs. Kraus' brother. They left on Tuesday morning.

Ye scribe has joined the advance guard this week in tussling with a severe cold. New recruits are joining our ranks from day to day.

Both Sunday Schools are busy getting ready for their Christmas programs. The Germantown school will have their festival on Friday evening and the Klemme school Saturday.

Join the teachers' training class which begins its study Thursday evening. Get a text book and help make it a rousing success. We have the text book in the English or German language.

Luvina and Nettie Ulrich left last week for Belmond where they expect to make a short visit with former neighbors and then go on to Clarion to spend a few days with an uncle and his family.

While Emil Sampson and a couple of the boys were coming to town Sunday evening, they proved too heavy for the cutter on such rough roads, so the horses pulled the runners out from under them and they were obliged to walk.

In spite of the storm a large audience was out to the illustrated lecture Sunday evening. The subject "The Rum Rebellion," is not a popular one with many people but all the more important. The pictures, with a few exceptions, were nicely colored, and the audience listened with wrapt attention to the story of each. At times one might have heard a pin drop, and from what we heard as the people filed out of the church, a good impression was made.

Special Christmas Offer

An opportunity for you to get one of the greatest Christmas presents ever offered on a deal like this. You can get it by buying a suit of Men's made-to-order Clothes tailored by the American Woolen Mills Co. For particulars call on their agent—

Elmer Ludeke

N. B.—This gift, which is a kerosene gas lamp, will also be sold separately until Christmas.

Pictures

See me when you want a Photograph

All kinds—inside or outdoor views. I make a specialty of photo postal cards, 75 cents a dozen. Good work at reasonable prices.

JOE MILLER, KLEMME IOWA

RESTAURANT AND BAKERY

Talking About Christmas Presents

Mary—My brother John got the most beautiful box of bon-bons for his wife at Kirkwood's.

Anna—Yes, I saw them, but I am going to get my fellow a nice case Pipe for Christmas.

Mary—Oh, I am going to get my fellow a jar of Moa Cigars for $1.00 with 25 of the best cigars in it.

Anna—Yes, and we are going to get some of Kirkwood's Home Bakery Goods for Christmas dinner.

YOU Better Do the Same

A. KIRKWOOD & SON

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist

Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.

2nd door west of State Savings Bank

Call in

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Phone No. 11. Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to calls day or night.
Eyes tested. Glasses fitted.

DOCTORS
GEO. ZINN EDGAR ZINN
Office: State Savings Bank
Phone No. 19
KLEMME - - IOWA

W. R. BLOOM
Buyer and Shipper of
Grain and Live Stock

Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.

Stock wanted 6 days in the week

Col. J. J. Wilson
MESERVEY, IOWA
LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEER

Dates made at either bank in Klemme, Iowa. Terms reasonable.

UNITED STATES
Land and Irrigation Exposition
CHICAGO COLISEUM
November 20 to December 4, 1909

Will provide authoritative, graphic information about the vast opportunities now opening up in many States for homeseekers, farmers and investors.

There will be exhibits of the wonderful fruits of virgin soil from all sections.

Elaborate panoramas will show what is being done to irrigate, drain and cultivate it.

INTERNATIONAL
Live Stock Exposition
TENTH ANNIVERSARY
Chicago Union Stock Yards
November 27 to December 10, 1909

The world's greatest collection of prize-winning cattle, horses, sheep and hogs ever brought together will be on exhibition.

All the progress and all the best brains of the live stock industry will be there. Millions of dollars invested in the exhibits.

A liberal education. You can't afford to miss either event. Information as to fares on request.

Rock Island

T. A. WILLIAMS, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, - - - - IOWA

IMPORTANT NEWS NOTES OF A WEEK

LATEST HAPPENINGS THE WORLD OVER TOLD IN ITEMIZED FORM.

EVENTS HERE AND THERE

Condensed Into a Few Lines for the Perusal of the Busy Man—Latest Personal Information.

PERSONAL.

Dr. N. D. Hillis of Brooklyn would rather be a preacher than a millionaire. Recently he discovered a rich coal vein in a ranch he owned in British Columbia. He sold the property to western men at a profit of $75,000. Now the coal is said to be worth $5,000,000.

William H. Robertson, American consul at Tangier, Morocco, who is in New York on a vacation, advocates the abolition of his office as unnecessary.

The two children of the late Mary Crocker Burton Harrison, first wife of Congressman Burton Harrison, will inherit nearly $2,000,000 each from the estate left by their mother, who was a daughter of the late Charles F. Crocker of San Francisco.

A. J. Hoskins, a farmer of Upper Alton, Ill., has sold to the United States for $300,000 his patent rights to a range finder.

Sherburn M. Becker, widely known throughout the country as "the boy mayor" of Milwaukee, has purchased a seat on the New York Stock Exchange for $96,000, and in a short time will make his home in New York.

Andrew Carnegie has awarded a $5,000 annual scholarship to Dennis Chabot, a boy pianist of Pittsburg, Pa., who will study in Europe.

Judge William H. Holt of Louisville, is said to be the choice of President Taft for minister to Switzerland.

E. L. Poole of Havana, Cuba, has bought of the Philippine government the San Jose Friar estate of 55,000 acres in the island of Mindoro, to be used as a sugar plantation. The purchase price was $367,000. It is understood the buyer represented the Havemeyers.

GENERAL NEWS.

Seven sailors are known to have perished, 13 others are adrift on Lake Erie or frozen to death or drowned, two vessels, the steamer Clarion and the steamer W. C. Richardson, have been lost as a result of the storm which has raged over the lakes. The Clarion burned to the water's edge in Lake Erie, off Southeast Shoal, Point Pelee, Ontario, and the steamer W. C. Richardson went to the rocks five miles west of Buffalo.

Official returns from 128 of the 206 precincts in Los Angeles, Cal., cut down the lead of Mayor Alexander over George Smith, the Republican candidate, from 1,800 to 52. The result is now in doubt.

Mrs. Susan Stewart, wife of Paymaster-General Stewart, U. S. N., retired, of South Orange, N. J., died in Washington at the home of Rear Admiral Andrew Dunlap, where she was visiting. She will be buried in the National cemetery at Arlington.

Open-air schools for children in the tenement districts are recommended in the annual report of the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, which is making a crusade against tuberculosis.

Teachers in St. Mark's public school in West Orange, N. J., got a new piano by selling roasted peanuts, after the school board refused to provide the instrument.

Attorney General William H. Stead was ordered to appear before the Illinois supreme court and file a brief and argument in the case of Booth versus The County Clerk of Sangamon County, the question at issue in which is the constitutionality of the amendment to what is known as the "Juul" law, passed by the general assembly at its last session.

The annual meetings of Oklahoma Live Stock Breeders' associations opened in Enid, together with an extensive stock show and auction sales of hundreds of blooded horses, cattle and hogs.

President Taft was re-elected president of the American National Red Cross.

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh issued a detailed explanation of the workings of the new income tax, with instructions for the guidance of all kinds of corporations.

The American Federation of Labor will support the railroad switchmen who are on strike in the northwest to the extent of its powers. This announcement was made by Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, after an extended conference with Frank Hawley, president of the American Switchmen's union.

More than 25,000 banks with an excess of 25,000,000 deposit accounts, capital aggregating $1,855,987,368 and individual deposits of more than $14,000,000,000 are the stupendous figures revealing the vast extent of the banking business of the United States as shown in the annual report for the year ending October 31, of Lawrence O. Murray, comptroller of the currency, laid before congress. The aggregate deposits on April 28 last were about $14,425,523,165.

At a monster meeting in Albert hall, London, Herbert Henry Asquith, the British prime minister, laid down the policy on which the Liberal government is appealing to the country. He pledged that if the party was returned to power the government would demand the limitation of the power of the house of lords and would grant self-government to Ireland.

The American Ice Company at New York was found guilty in the state supreme court of restricting competition in and attempting to create a monopoly of the sale of ice. The court imposed the maximum sentence of $5,000 fine.

Consternation reigned in D. A. R. circles at Washington when the Daughters learned that Miss Sarah B. MacLay, one of the most prominent and respected members of the organization, for 14 years curator of the society, had confessed that for years past she has been systematically robbing the mail of the organization. The amount of Miss MacLaay's peculations is not known and is estimated at from $1,000 to $10,000.

The National Rivers and Harbors convention at Washington adopted resolutions appealing to congress for an appropriation of $50,000,000 for waterways work, and asking for the creation of a bureau of public works with a cabinet officer at its head.

Commissioner Cabell of the internal revenue bureau in Washington has issued an economy order of wide scope. One feature is that taxicabs are to be used only in cases of absolute necessity and then their use must be explained.

To avoid arrest after holding his family in terror, O. E. Boley shot and killed Sheriff Jacob Bell at Shreve, O.

Secretary Wilson intends by means of the federal inspection of dairy herds to make Washington serve as an example to other cities in the prevention of the sale of infected milk.

A. E. Shephard, senior vice-president of the Order of Railway Conductors, who has been in St. Paul, Minn., for a few days, issued an order to all conductors that they must observe strict neutrality and that they should "act as they did before the switchmen's strike, no more, no less."

Mark Hanna, a Russian who took an American name and sought a license to wed at Newport, Ky., had to wait two days because he forgot the name of the prospective bride. Her name was Fannie Dozorthzov.

Federal and local authorities at Leechburg, Pa., are seeking alleged Black Hand members who have threatened the life of ex-Congressman Beale.

Inquiry by the coroner's jury into the causes of the St. Paul mine disaster at Cherry, Ill., came to an abrupt close without a verdict being reached or any steps being made to fix the responsibility for the attending loss of life. The jurors refused to consider the finding of a verdict until two missing witnesses were produced.

Adam Pietrzyk, aged 25 years, has confessed to the Milwaukee police that he murdered Hattie Zinda, 14 years old, on November 12 and implicated Karl Wojciechowski, who is also under arrest.

Thirty-five passengers on a street car were injured, none fatally, and few seriously, when the car was struck by an in-bound Pennsylvania passenger train at an Indianapolis street crossing and hurled 30 feet.

Given carbolic acid by her daughter by mistake for brandy, Mrs. William Tate of Toledo, O., ill with tuberculosis, died before medical aid could reach her.

George Preston Sheldon, deposed president of the Phenix Fire Insurance Company of Brooklyn, lying at death's door at his Greenwich (Conn.) home, was indicted for larceny in the first degree by the grand jury in New York for alleged misappropriation of funds of the company, of which he was the head for 22 years.

William Crandall, on trial for the killing of his wife at Battle Creek, Mich., last August, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury at Marshall, Mich. Crandall cut his wife's throat.

Ex-President Cardenas of Nicaragua, who was overthrown by Zelaya in 1891, has taken the field against his old enemy and is heading an expedition from Costa Rica into Nicaragua, according to advices received at New Orleans by the sympathizers of the revolutionary movement in the latter country

A CHRISTMAS ACROSTIC.

CHRISTMAS is not only a mile mark of another year, moving us to thoughts of self-examination; it is a season, from all its associations, whether domestic or religious, suggesting thoughts of joy. A man dissatisfied with his endeavors is a man tempted to sadness. And in the midst of winter, when his life runs lowest and he is reminded of the empty chairs of his beloved, it is well he should be condemned to the fashion of the smiling face.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

* * *

HOW many old recollections and how many dormant sympathies does the Christmas time awaken! Happy, happy Christmas, that can win us back to the delusions of our childish days; that can recall to the old man the pleasures of his youth; that can transport the sailor and the traveler thousands of miles away, back to his own fireside and his quiet home. Fill your glass again, with a merry face and contented heart. Our life on it, but your Christmas shall be merry and your New Year a happy one.—Charles Dickens.

* * *

REMEMBER that as surely as in that baby life at Bethlehem there lay the power which has run through all the world; the power which makes Judea burn like a star forever; the power which has transfigured history; the power which has made millions of men its joyous servants; the power of the millenniums yet to be, so surely in the humblest soul's humble certainty that it does love Christ, there lies enfolded all the possibility of the most perfect sainthood.—Phillips Brooks.

* * *

IT IS a good thing to observe Christmas Day. The mere marking of times and seasons, when men agree to stop work and make merry together, is a wise and wholesome custom. It helps one to feel the supremacy of the common life over the individual life. It reminds a man to set his own little watch, now and then, by the great clock of humanity, which runs on sun time.—Henry Van Dyke.

SUPPOSE a note came on Christmas Day saying not, "I send my love and best wishes with this spool-box," but, "I want you to know that your patience, or courage, or tenderness, during this last year, will help me to live more bravely and courageously this year." What a Christmas present the receipt of such a letter would be to any one of us. What a gift for any one of us to send to the human heart that has given us courage for the burden and heat of the day.—Margaret Deland.

* * *

THE season of regenerated feeling—the season of kindling, not merely the fire of hospitality in the hall, but the genial flame of charity in the heart. He who can turn churlishly away from contemplating the felicity of his fellow beings, and can sit down darkling and repining in his loneliness when all around is joyful, may have his moments of selfish gratification, but he wants the genial and social sympathies which constitute the charm of a Merry Christmas.—Washington Irving.

* * *

MY CHRISTMAS wish for all is that they may taste the sweetness of love, enter into the joys of friendship, and know the divine beneficence of helping someone at present less fortunate than themselves. In these words are we to find the living spirit of the human and eternal Christmas. The universal gladness of Christmas is proportioned to the extent of its unselfishness. People are happy, not in what they get so much as in what they give.—Minot J. Savage.

* * *

AND there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone around about them, and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them: "Fear not, for behold I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord."—From the Gospel of St. Luke.

* * *

SANTA CLAUS remains, by virtue of a common understanding that childhood shall not be despoiled of one of its most cherished beliefs, either by the mythologist, with his sun myth theory, or the scientist, with his heartless diatribe against superstitions. He who does not see in the legend of Santa Claus a beautiful faith on the one side, and the native embodiment of a divine fact on the other, is not fit to have a place at the Christmas board.—Hamilton Wright Mabie.

At the Birthplace of Christ.

At last I am come to the market place, at one end of which stands the church of the Nativity, marking the holy, lowly birthplace. There is only one entrance from the street, and it is so low that in entering one is forced to bow the head, and assume a posture of reverence.

Down the dark and winding stairs, slippery with the drippings of countless candles, I make my way to that lowly place into which first came the Light of the World. The Grotto of the Nativity is a cavern beneath the church, long, narrow, and low-ceiled, with pendant lamps of precious metal and rare workmanship lighting the gloom. The floor is marble, and wonderful old tapestries, pictures and silk hangings cover the walls. A marble cradle in one corner commemorates the manger; and in a recess on one side a dozen or more hanging lamps are ranged around in a half circle. Before the altar there, all men bend low and kiss the ground for Christ's sake; for it is here a silver star is set to mark the birthplace of Him whom His mother called "Jesus." The center of the star is glass and through it one may see the original rocky floor of the stable.

I close my eyes for a moment, while mind and heart rebel against the present, until it vanishes; and the atmosphere of the past, in all its deep and wondrous mystery, returns to envelop my soul. "I am here—in Bethlehem"—I whisper to myself—and beyond closed lids I see the Virgin mother, with her gentle face as the old masters loved to picture her, and a "light that never was on land or sea" in her beautiful mother-eyes; while the glory from one low-hanging star touches a baby's hair.—Letter in Army and Navy Life.

GOOD WORK IS LOVED WOR

And Therein One Should Find t Contentment That Is Chief Part of Life.

If a man doesn't love his work, had better get something else to d But the trouble is that such peop will hardly love any kind of wor The trouble is in them. They la intelligence. If they knew enou to know good work, they would soo learn to love it. The manual-trai ing scheme has this in view—to su round the job a man is doing wit such intelligence and taste as wi make it attractive to him.

"The man who is in love with hi job gets more contentment out of li than any other," says Brander Ma thews; and he gets a great part of hi contentment in doing his work righ No man can love his work who shirk No man can be contented who is di honest about his work. This is shir ing or doing it negligently. So thes things always go together—hones work, contentment and love of the job.

AGONIZING ITCHING.

Eczema for a Year—Got No Relief Even at Skin Hospital—In Despair

Until Cuticura Cured Him.

"I was troubled with a severe itch ing and dry, scrufy skin on my ankles, feet, arms and scalp. Scratching made it worse. Thousands of small red pim ples formed and these caused intense itching. I was advised to go to the hospital for diseases of the skin. I did so, the chief surgeon saying: "I never saw such a bad case of eczema." But I got little or no relief. Then I tried many so-called remedies, but I became so bad that I almost gave up in despair. After suffering agonies for twelve months, I was relieved of the almost unbearable itching after two or three applications of Cuticura Ointment. I continued its use, combined with Cuticura Soap and Pills, and I was completely cured. Henry Searle, Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 8 and 10, 1907."

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

Stated in Cold Figures.

It costs on an average about $250 to cure an incipient consumptive or to care for an advanced case of tuberculosis until death. If he is left in destitute circumstances without proper attention he will surely infect with his disease at least two other persons, and possibly more. Considering that the average life is worth to society in dollars and cents about $1,500, the net loss which would accrue to a community by not treating its poor consumptives in proper institutions would be, for each case, including those who are unnecessarily infected, at the very lowest figure, $4,250. On this basis, if the poor consumptives in the United States who are now sick were segregated from their families, and either kept in institutions until they died, or else cured of their disease, the saving to the country would be the enormous sum of $1,275,000,000.

Detected.

The consul in London of a continental kingdom was informed by his government that one of his countrywomen, supposed to be living in Great Britain, had been left a million of money. After advertising without result, he applied to the police, and a smart young detective was set to work.

When a few weeks had gone by his chief asked him how he was going on.

"I've found the lady, sir."

"Good! Where is she?"

"At my place. I got married to her yesterday!"

HABIT'S CHAIN

Certain Habits Unconsciously Formed and Hard to Break.

An ingenious philosopher estimates that the amount of will power necessary to break a life-long habit would, if it could be transformed, lift a weight of many tons.

It sometimes requires a higher degree of heroism to break the chains of a pernicious habit than to lead a forlorn hope in a bloody battle. A lady writes from an Indiana town:

"From my earliest childhood I was a lover of coffee. Before I was out of my teens I was a miserable dyspeptic, suffering terribly at times with my stomach.

"I was convinced that it was coffee that was causing the trouble and yet I could not deny myself a cup for breakfast. At the age of 36 I was in very poor health, indeed. My sister told me I was in danger of becoming a coffee drunkard.

"But I never could give up drinking coffee for breakfast, although it kept me constantly ill, until I tried Postum. I learned to make it properly according to directions, and now we can hardly do without Postum for breakfast, and care nothing for coffee.

"I am no longer troubled with dyspepsia, do not have spells of suffering with my stomach that used to trouble me so when I drank coffee."

Look in pkgs. for the little book, "The Road to Wellville." "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

One Way of Love

SYNOPSIS.

Richard Derring, returning from a winter in the woods to his mother's farm home, is overtaken by his uncle, accompanied by his eccentric wife, coming to pay a visit at the farm. Aunt Jerusha's questions about Emily Hutton, supposed to be Richard's sweetheart, bring out the fact that she is to marry a merchant, Edwards. Derring's disappointment stimulates his ambition and under the advice of Seth Kinney, a hermit of the woods, he resolves to fit himself for college. Kinney promises to teach him Greek. Derring tells his mother his resolve, and in his grandfather's old laboratory begins the study of Greek. Seth Kinney hears Richard's Greek recitation in the woods while he and Tom Bishop ply the cross-cut saw.

CHAPTER VI.

When the snow began melting from the partridge-berries the wood had been cut and hauled. Only scattered chips remained to tell the winter's work. And, although all the village knew that Richard was learning Greek, it did not know that in the woods he had learned something harder than Greek. No one but he and Seth knew that with every blow of the ax he had made a stroke at his trouble—and cut it, and sawed it, and split it, and piled it high, and sledded it to town, and sold it at so much a cord—till his heart was as sound as a drum.

And when one morning he passed Emily in her new spring array, tripping along the country road, he could lift his hat and smile at her proudly. And Emily, fingering the ribbons that fell from her throat, called him in her heart a fickle thing and rejoiced anew that she was to be Mrs. Edwards.

He was on his way to Uncle Eben's when he met her—carrying a message from his mother. He found the old man in the side garden, pottering about over the half-dried earth and warming his stiff back in the sun.

"Limy beans?" said Uncle Eben when he heard the request. "You'll have to go into the house and ask her. She hain't give me mine yet. It's time for 'em, too. She keeps 'em locked up in the secritary—ch'ice as gold." He rose stiffly from his knees and led the way to the house.

Aunt Jerusha was buried in the depths of the Dutch oven, a long feather duster in her hand, with which she whisked its sides. She emerged, shining and surprised.

"Well, I declare, Richard; is that you!" She readjusted her spectacles and looked at him kindly. Her skirt was pinned safely up out of harm's way and her sleeves were rolled above the elbow. A sunbonnet protected her head. She beamed out of its depths.

"Want some of the Limas, do you, for plantin'? Well, I do' know how many we'll have. I hain't got 'em down for pa yet." She glanced at him suspiciously.

He shifted from one foot to the other. It might have been hope or it might have been impatience.

Aunt Jerusha's look changed to affection. "He wants some, dreadful," she confided to Richard, "but it ain't time yet."

She crossed the room and took from a high nail by the shelf a key. It was the key to the parlor door. "You come with me, Richard," she said mildly, as she waddled away.

Uncle Eben looked wistfully after them. He seated himself in a straight-backed chair and, lifting his feet to the front round, rubbed his fingers thoughtfully.

Aunt Jerusha opened the parlor door into the dim light. "You can come right in," she said proudly. "Never mind your feet. Women were made to sweep up dirt. I've got to clean here next week anyway."

The room was speckless. Not a trace of dust rested on any object, thought Aunt Jerusha gave an ostentatious puff to the plush album as she lifted it. She opened it with a little gesture of pride. It was half filled with pictures, and in the hole left vacant in the other half reposed a key. "I keep it in here," she whispered. "He wouldn't ever think of looking in there." She chuckled softly as she drew it out. She snapped the heavy clasps safely and returned the album to the table.

"I thought I might's well show you." She stood in the dim light, watching him mysteriously out of her sunbonnet. "If anything should happen to me, somebody'd hev to know, and he wouldn't have no more care 'an a child." She directed her nod towards the kitchen.

Uncle Eben looked up hopefully as they returned, the key to the secretary borne in Aunt Jerusha's palm.

Mounting a chair in front of the high secretary she inserted the key in the lock. The doors swung open. Uncle Eben feasted his eyes. There were packages of seeds and velvet bonnets and a string of gold beads and a high shell comb. She touched a package of papers that lay at the left. "That's my will," she said significantly to Richard. "I've left everything to him."

"You Come with Me, Richard," She Said Mildly, as She Waddled Away.

A glow of appreciation overspread Uncle Eben's face. "Why, Jerusha," —his boot-heels came down with a clatter to the floor—"why, Jerusha—"

"Not a word!" she said sternly, turning on him. "I don't want to hear a word."

She turned back to the open space and searched among the packages. "Here they be." She gave a fat sigh and descended from the chair, closing the mysterious doors. She emptied the package in her lap, Uncle Eben eyeing it enviously from afar.

"I shall divide even," she said with a calm air—"just even." She counted out the beans, one by one, each in its separate pile, and handed one of the piles to Richard. "There. Tell your mother I divided equal."

"I'll tell her," said Richard, stowing away the bag in his pocket. He knew better than to hurt Aunt Jerusha's feelings by refusing any proffered favor.

She sat leaning comfortably back in her chair, looking at him. "They say you're learning Greek, Richard," she said at last, rocking a little.

Uncle Eben tipped eagerly forward in his chair.

She ignored him. "Are ye?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"And you're going to college?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"How's Amanda Derring going to pay for it?" she asked severely.

"I'm going to pay my own way."

She nodded slowly. "I thought like enough. But you can't do it."

"I'm going to."

She looked at him more approvingly. "The Lord helps them that helps themselves," she said solemnly, "and I and the Lord do the same."

She rose majestically and opened the secretary doors once more. She took down a broken-nosed teapot and extracted a roll of bills, holding it out to him. "There's $100," she said slowly. "I shall give you that every year till you get through. And if anything happens to me, Eben's to give it to you—same as if I was alive."

"Of course I—" began Uncle Eben from his chair.

She stopped him swiftly. "Don't say a word."

His open mouth collapsed. He rubbed his fingers thoughtfully.

She turned to the boy. "Run along home, Richard. Don't forget to tell your mother I divided the beans with her—even."

CHAPTER VII.

"Who's the farmer?" whispered the boy on the back seat to his neighbor.

It was the examination in Greek. Richard's ears reddened to the tips. He sat two seats away. But the ears accustomed to note the falling of a leaf were keen, and the whisper was loud. He would have it out with the fellow at noon. Now he merely shrugged his shoulders a little and devoted himself anew to his verb. He had chosen it first to conjugate, as being the easiest thing on the paper. But it was unexpectedly difficult. He was confused. Emily's saucy eyes were coming between him and the page, snatching away its meaning. "I have loved—you have loved," his pen scratched desperately on. How pretty she had looked that morning. And he had thought he was over it! He shook himself. "I shall love—" He glanced despairingly at the clock. The time was nearly up. It must be the coming away from home that had upset him. She was not worth a thought. He gathered himself for a fresh start and wrote rapidly.

"Farmer's getting rattled," whispered the boy on the back seat.

Richard made another mental note and plunged on.

"Time." It was the voice of the assistant.

Richard dropped his pen and gathered up his scattered notes, running his eyes hastily over them. They were enough to flunk him. He could see that at a glance. He handed them in with sullen face.

"In half an hour the oral examination will be held in this room," announced the assistant in a stereotyped voice.

The boys plunged into the open. Richard sought out the boy of the back seat and salved his wounded feelings by hand-to-hand measures.

"You've got muscle," he said enviously.

Two upper-classmen, passing, had stopped for a moment to watch the contest. "He'll have a try for the team," said one.

They strolled on.

"It's the shoulders that count."

"Partly—and muscle."

"And grit. Did you see his face? Looked as if he was chewing iron."

Richard and the boy shook hands and went back to the classroom. The professor was on the platform. He had mild brown hair and a large nose, surmounted by spectacles. He glared through them at the hapless youth. He had a sensitive ear for Greek accents and the entrance examinations wore on it. The assistant had been showing him the written work. It was very poor. His face was prepared for the worst. The oral examination would consist of reading in the original Greek.

The boys subsided beneath his glare and there was ominous silence.

"Next," growled the professor. He surveyed Richard—his heavy shoulders and big hands—and groaned inwardly. He resigned himself to his fate.

Richard struggled to his feet. His face was red and his throat dry. The words came with rasping hoarseness. Then the swing of the rhythm caught him. His voice opened and deepened and he was off on the lines. The silence of the woods was about him, and the sound of the cross-cut saw rose upon it. He swayed to its tune, the words rolling out—rising and falling to a kind of heavy chant. The professor on the platform started a little. He pushed his spectacles high on his forehead and rubbed his great nose. The wrinkles smoothed from his brow and the peace of days settled upon his face. The boy on the back seat nudged his neighbor. "Farmer's getting there," he whispered.

"H-s-h!" growled the professor.

Richard came to a stop, looking up blinkingly. He had forgotten the class and the professor. He and Tom had been swaying back and forth to the sound of the cross-cut saw, chanting the deep, monotonous sounds.

The professor beamed on him. A faint, half-scared cheer went up from the class. The spectacles descended and glared at them. "Time to cheer when you are out of the woods," he said. "Next."

The next youth rose and blundered on. The hour wore away and the class escaped, but bruised and sore.

The professor detained Richard by a gesture. "Where did you fit?" he asked brusquely.

"At home."

"Where?"

"In Ashton."

"Massachusetts?"

"Yes."

"There's no school there."

"No, sir; I studied by myself and with an old man."

"Umph!" The spectacles regarded him.

"And did he read Greek the way you do?"

The boy's face reddened. "Not exactly. We did it that way, sawing logs—I got into the swing of it and forgot."

The professor leaned forward, tapping the Odyssey with his spectacles. "You recited Greek in the woods?"

"Yes, sir."

The professor's face grew light. He chuckled. "And we think we can teach them indoors!"

"Is it all right, sir?"

"All right?" growled the professor. "It's the way they did it in Greece—3,000 years ago. Go home and thank your lucky stars you had something besides boards over your head while you learned it."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

COINS OF ALUMINUM.

In a few years coppers will no longer weigh down man's pockets in this country. As it is no more bronze money is now coined, and the shortage is being felt. Aluminum will be substituted, and it is hoped that the new coinage will have been begun by the end of the year.

The metal, or rather an alloy of it, will be used only for penny and half-penny pieces, which will be about the diameter of but both much thicker and lighter than francs and half francs, and thus easily distinguishable from these coins. The recent quarter franc piece in nickel has proved a failure, because it is constantly being taken for a franc, as tourists here know to their cost. Besides lightness, cleanliness is another advantage of aluminum, which does not oxydize in air.—Paris correspondence London Telegraph.

Value of Tears.

Certain bacteriologists have been enlightening the public as to the value of tears. A good cry, they say, that washes the face with tears is an excellent antiseptic bath. Owing to the large percentage of sodium, chloride, or common salt, which they contain they sterilize the delicate mechanism of the eye and render harmless the bacili which may have found lodgment on the cheeks.

Stern Roman Law.

Many thieves were stolen alive from the cross by friends and that is why Rome ordered their legs broken.

Resinol in Three Weeks Does What Other Remedies Failed to Do in Four Months.

My baby's face was like a raw and bleeding piece of meat. I was at my wits' ends what to do. Medicine from three physicians and ointments recommended seemed to make the Eczema worse. Then another mother spoke of Resinol which I procured at once—remember I had no more faith in it than in all the rest I had tried—but I thought it would be wasting only 50c more. Never did I spend 50c to better advantage, for the first and second days I noticed a remarkable change, and now at the end of the third week I have my pretty blue eyed, rosy cheeked, cooing baby well again. I am safe in saying he is perfectly cured and the cure was surely something remarkable. Your Soap and Ointment did in three weeks what everything else I tried failed to do in four months. My baby was positively disfigured, now his complexion is all right again.

Mrs. H. F. Clemmer, Sunbury, Pa.

If you would be happy, keep your eyes wide open during courtship and half closed after marriage.

A Lady Says of

UNCLE SAM Breakfast Food

AS A CURE FOR CONSTIPATION

"Your food is a splendid thing and does all it claims to do . . . and am anxious to have it right along.

Mrs. D. H. Bower.

ASK YOUR GROCER ABOUT IT

HE CERTAINLY KNOWS

U. S. B. F. Co., Omaha

Four Million Dollars

Represents the cost of the Milwaukee Solvay Coke plant. This plant covers an area of 28 acres. It has storage room for 450,000 tons of coal.

More than 600,000 tons of Solvay Coke are produced at Milwaukee in a year—the demand is growing greater every day.

95% of the founderies of the west burn Solvay Coke—it is the exclusive fuel of 100,000 homes.

Buy Milwaukee Solvay Coke

"The Ideal Domestic Fuel"

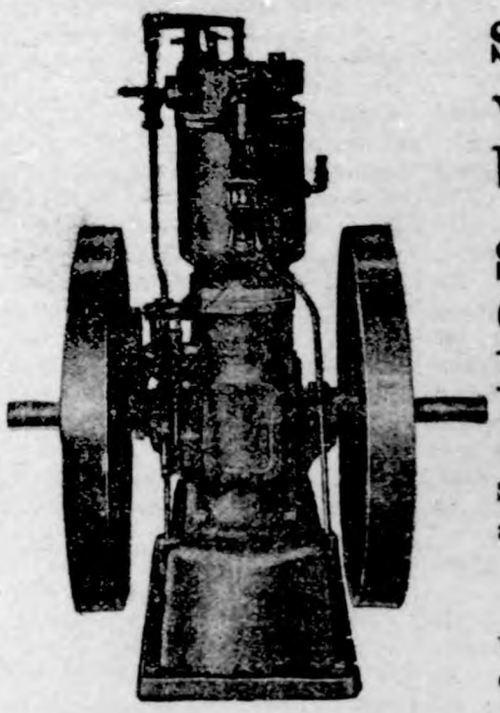
Perfect for household use
For heating or cooking
Burns through and through
No smoke or dirt
No ashes to sift
A clean healthful fuel
Coal is expensive
Solvay saves 20%
Is always satisfactory
Light in weight
Makes housework easy
Abolishes fuel troubles
Do you use it?
If not, why not?

2,000 dealers in the Northwest sell Milwaukee Solvay Coke—all sizes—ask your dealer, and write for interesting booklet of coke information to

Plokands, Brown & Co.
Colby-Abbot Bldg.
Milwaukee, Wis.

Buy Milwaukee Solvay Coke

"The Fuel without a Fault"



Save work, worry, money by using a

STOVER GASOLINE ENGINE

Made right—sold right. Send for an illustrated catalog of our

ENGINES

wind mills and feed grinders.

Sandwich Mfg. Co.

Mason City, Iowa — General Agents

The City Dray Line

We wish to announce that we have purchased the dray line from Ell Bros. and ask a continuation of your valued patronage. We will do all hauling entrusted to us promptly and carefully. Give us a trial.

ELL & SONS, Klemme, Iowa

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction, Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

Books — Letter Heads
Pamphlets — Envelopes

Everything printed from

TYPE

At the Times office.

Cards — Bill Heads
Invitations — Posters

GOODELL

From the Globe:

John Suurballe, of Garner, was a Goodell visitor Thursday.

Mrs. Anna Millsap, of Williams, Iowa, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. L. E. Avery.

Mrs. W. F. Beiers went to Waterloo, Iowa, Monday evening to attend the funeral of an aunt.

Miss Gertrude Parker, of Klemme, spent Saturday at the Thos. Cashman home.

Mrs. Peter Nelson and two sons arrived from Oklahoma Saturday and expect to make this their future home.

Agnes Elder was down from Klemme last Friday and Saturday visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. F. Church.

E. J. Bauman, after calling on friends and attending to business matters here for a few days, returned to his home in St. Paul on Monday.

The regular subscription price of the Chicago Daily Farmers and Drovers Journal is $4 per year, but we have made arrangements whereby we can furnish that paper and the Klemme Times both one year for $4.05. The Chicago F. and D. Journal twice-a-week, and the Times, both one year for $2.05. The Journal once a week and the Times, both one year for $1.55.

Stung for 15 Years

by Indigestion's pangs— trying many doctors and $200.00 worth of medicine in vain, B F Ayscue of Ingleside. N. C. at last used Dr. King's New Life Pills, and writes they wholly cured him. They cure constipation, biliousness, sick headache, stomach, liver, Kidney and bowel troubles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

MESERVEY

From the Messenger:

Garfield Raecker is reported on the sick list with typhoid fever.

Lewis Sweely, of Thornton, was in town Saturday on business.

Mr. H. J. Klemme of Belmond was transacting business in town Monday.

The Cerro Gordo County Farmers Institute will be held in Thornton January 12th to the 14th.

J. F. Hartfelder accompanied a carload of stock to Chicago Tuesday. He returned home today.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Myers and son, George, returned home from Bloomington, Ill., Monday, where they had been to attend the funeral of Mr. Myers' brother Tom.

Mr. Theo. Wendel departed Monday afternoon for an extended visit in Germany. Mr. Wendel makes this trip about every four years.

Looking One's Best

It's a woman's delight to look her best, but pimples, skin eruptions, sores and boils rob life of joy. Listen! Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them; makes the skin soft and velvety. It glorifies the face. Cures pimples, sore eyes, cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands. Try it. Infallible for piles, 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Just Dust it on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
☞ Eyes Tested Free.

TIME TABLE.

Rock Island System

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436 ..... 7:34 p. m.
82 ..... 2:35 p. m.

Going North.

81 ..... 9:55 a. m.
437 ..... 1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile, both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

It's about time you was seeing us about that

STORM SASH

Don't be fooled by a few warm days. You'll need 'em most any minute. Better see us today.

Northern Lumber Company
N. L. PALMER, Agent
KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

The Winter Season

Is now close at hand and it calls for good, warm wearing apparel, good Shoes and Overshoes, etc. We are, as usual, prepared to furnish you with the needed articles and our prices are as low as possible, consistent with the quality of goods we furnish. We want to call your special attention to our full and complete line of

Genuine Old Fashioned Wool Flannel

Ranging in price per yard from.... 50c TO $1.50

LARGE LINE TO SELECT FROM

Outing Flannels

The kind usually sold for 10c per yard we sell for.... 8c

The kind usually sold for 12c per yard we sell for... 10c

This is no special sale, just our every-day prices.

See our complete line of Seasonable Goods.
We absolutely guarantee satisfaction.

W. J. BARZ, - Garner, Iowa

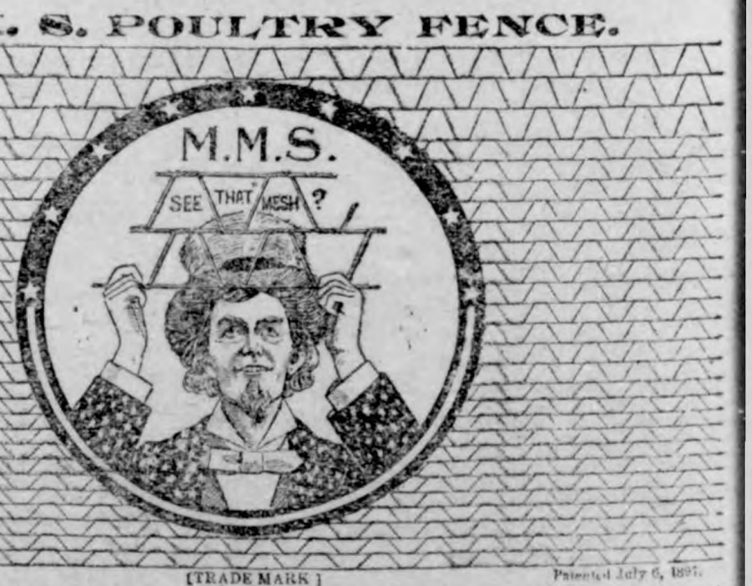
A CONVINCER

The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.
We claim for our lumber and building material that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.
May we figure on your next lumber bill?

J. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, Agent
KLEMME, IOWA

M. M. S. POULTRY FENCE.



Patented July 21, 1896. (TRADE MARK) Patented July 6, 1897.

50 PER CENT. SAVING. Requires no top or bottom rail and only ⅓ as many posts as the old style netting and makes a better fence. A full line of Field and Hog Fencing, Steel Picket Lawn Fence, Gates, Posts, Rail, etc. Write for full particulars.

UNION FENCE CO., De Kalb, Ill.

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 21 KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 23. 1909. $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

HAVE WIFE AND BABY PROTECTED WITH A BANK ACCOUNT

ON CHRISTMAS it is generally expected that you present your wife and baby with a gift of some kind, Why would it not be a good plan to present them with a savings account?

The only way to be without fear for the future and for your family is to save your money. Think of what might happen to them if you have no money saved.

Start an account today with the

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

Christmas GOODS

The most complete line of Toys in Town.

Story Books, Games, Dolls, Tree Decorations, China and Glassware, Fancy and Common Lamps, Burnt Wood Goods.

Jewelery

Watches, Clocks, Rings, Bracelets, Chains, Lockets, Ladies' and Gent's Buttons and Pins of all kinds.

Musical Goods

Pianos, Brass and String Instruments, Sheet Music, Edison Records. They comprise recitations, vaudeville selections and music of every character.

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J. W. WATERMAN

COUNTY SEAT NEWS LETTER

Special to the Times:

School closed Friday for two weeks' vacation.

Maude Prince, of Britt, was a Garner visitor Saturday.

Mrs. A M. Deyoe was in Britt between trains Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hillary spent Sunday with relatives in Britt.

O. S. Bailey, of the Britt Tribune, was a business visitor here Monday.

Mr. and Mrs Deyoe, of Mason City, spent Sunday at the A. M. Deyoe home here.

Pete Becker is helping in the Schroeder meat market during the holiday season.

Mrs. H. N. Brockway went to Britt Saturday afternoon, returning Sunday evening.

Chas. Diggs, who is attending college at Ames is spending his vacation at his home here.

John Spalla is assisting in the Miller & Botsford drug store at Britt during the holiday rush.

Miss Mae Nelson, who is attending college at Grinnell. arrived Saturday to spend the holidays with her parents here.

We understand that Frank O'Rourke, of Britt, received a nice Christmas present in the way of a fine of $400 or 100 days in jail, for dispensing liquid refreshments to the thirsty Brittish.

ELL CENTER

Special Correspondence:

Myron Haskin and wife spent Sunday with Dan Webner and wife.

Elmer Yohn visited Forest City friends a few days last week.

Will Hatch, of Waseca, Minn. visited over Sunday at Joe Lawhorn's.

Tom Nelson and wife were Sunday visitors at the home of Dan Webner, Sr.

Cora Lawhorn is home from Garner spending her vacation with her parents.

Miss Laura Meade returned to her bome at Amboy, Ill., after visiting friends here several weeks. Mrs. Chas. Gilbert accompanied her home for a visit with her parents.

Miss Mable Halverson has returned to her home near Miller. She will resume her school work in the Rice district in January.

Get your seats reserved at the State Savings Bank for H. V. Adams' lecture and don't forget the date—December 27th.

Alone in Saw Mill at Midnight

unmindful of dampness, drafts, storms or cold, W J Atkins worked as Night Watchman, at Banner Springs, Tenn. Such exposure gave him a severe cold that settled on his lungs. At last he had to give up work. He tried many remedies but all failed till he used Dr. King's New Discovery. "After using one bottle," he writes, "I went back to work as well as ever." Severe colds, stubborn coughs, inflamed throats and sore lungs, hemorrhages, croup and whooping cough get quick relief and prompt cure from this glorious medicine. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

YOU have been a "good fellow to your friends and was never called close or tight. What have you to show for it? Why not be a "good fellow" to yourself? Open an account with the First National Bank and turn your generosity to your own account for a time.....

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

H. V. ADAMS

LECTURER

THIRD NUMBER LECTURE COURSE

Monday Ev'ng, Dec. 27, 09'

Mr. Adams' subject will be "The House of Changing Dimensions." Plan to hear this fine discourse by one of the most talented lecturers on the platform today.

WE ARE PAYING UNUSUALLY

HIGH PRICES FOR FURS!

If you are a trapper and have a bunch of Furs of any kind, bring it in and let us price it, We are paying the top on all kinds and grades.

Do not sell until you have shown us your assortment.

ELL BROS.

KLEMME, IOWA

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, - - - - IOWA

IMPORTANT NEWS NOTES OF A WEEK

LATEST HAPPENINGS THE WORLD OVER TOLD IN ITEMIZED FORM.

EVENTS HERE AND THERE

Condensed Into a Few Lines for the Perusal of the Busy Man—Latest Personal Information.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Horace B. Taft, wife of a brother of President Taft, died at the Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, where she had been a patient of Dr. Harvey Cushing. At the hospital all information relative to the case was refused.

George Parish, an English expert on statistics, who is in New York, says England is the greatest money-lender in the world and the United States is the greatest borrower in the world. He places the wealth of Great Britain at $1,775 per capita and of the United States at $1,310 per capita.

Gen. W. W. Dudley of Indiana, formerly commissioner of pensions, died at Washington of Bright's disease.

John E. Berwynd, the millionaire coal man, has given $100,000 in New York for the care of poor women about to become mothers and the treatment of infants during the first weeks of their lives.

Emmett Delton Williams, a direct descendant of Roger Williams, founder of Rhode Island, died at his home at Kansas City, Mo., aged 54. He was president of a paint company.

Charles N. Crittenton, founder of rescue missions in many cities, left an estate of $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 at New York. Half of his wealth is bequeathed to the missions.

President Taft nominated Judge Horace Harmon Lurton of Tennessee to be an associate judge of the supreme court of the United States, and George A. Carpenter of Chicago for United States district judge in the northern district of Illinois to succeed Judge Bethea, deceased.

GENERAL NEWS.

Knights of Columbus from all parts of the country will make a pilgrimage next August to Rome and Genoa, the birthplace of Christopher Columbus, according to an announcement made in New York.

Sensational charges of manipulation of funds and the reckless expenditure of money of the Federal Life Insurance Company, an Illinois old line concern, are made in an affidavit filed in the circuit court at Chicago by Burton O. Smith, a stockholder and former director of the company. Isaac Hamilton Miller, president of the company, is accused of borrowing from its funds, using dummies in securing other loans and in using money of the company to finance other companies he is interested in.

The bodies of two men, blown to pieces by some high explosive, were found near Tulsa, Okla. They are believed to have been bank robbers, killed acidentally by dynamite they carried to blow safes.

Two girls are missing and 14 others narrowly escaped death in a fire, which destroyed the six-story factory building of Schrack & Sherwood, manufacturers of coffins and undertakers' supplies at Philadelphia. The monetary loss is estimated at $250,000.

Charles Bowler of Asbury Park, N. J., decided to save a few dollars by repairing his own automobile. He is in bed with painful injuries. While searching for a leak with a lighted match he was blown through the side of the garage and auto and garage were both wrecked.

A report on steerage conditions, based on information obtained by special agents of the immigration commission, traveling as steerage passengers on different trans-Atlantic steamers, was made public at Washington through presentation to the senate with recommendations for legislation to better conditions. Conditions found in many of these vessels are described as appalling.

The death of King Leopold is imminent. He had a serious relapse and is being kept alive through artificial means. Court circles have practically no hope of the patient's recovery.

Gen. Estrada's troops had a sharp encounter with the Zelayan forces at Rama. Reports sent out by the government claim a sweeping victory, but this is doubted in some quarters, as the Zelaya partisans control all the telegraph lines and confirmation is next to impossible.

Head hunters of the Solomon islands are on the warpath because of marriages between their women and white men, according to news from the antipodes, brought by the Royal Mail steamer Aorangi.

The bonded debt of New York city has reached $1,000,000,000, according to a report issued by the comptroller. This amount, however, includes more than $200,000,000 held by the city sinking fund.

After sending his resignation to the Nicaraguan congress, President Zelaya sent a conciliatory cablegram to President Taft, saying that he had shown his good faith by resigning in order that Nicaragaua might resume friendly relations with the United States. He added that he proposed to leave the country, but stood ready to account for his acts as president.

The "white slavery" issue was brought before the house at Washington in tangible form when a drastic compromise bill was reported from the immigration committee. The bill imposes imprisonment and a heavy fine for any person importing women into this country for immoral purposes or harboring them after their arrival here.

Joseph Bergin, a business man of Burlington, Ia., was brought to Joilet, Ill., on extradition papers issued by Gov. Deneen and honored by Gov. Carroll of Iowa to answer to the charge of bigamy. Bergin was married recently to Miss Olive Lord, a prominent young woman of Plainfield, Ill., and is alleged to have another wife living at Burlington.

It is learned at Copenhagen that Captain Loose's statement has been compared with Dr. Cook's and various points literally correspond. The general opinion in university circles is that the committee will withhold the acceptance of Cook's claims on the bases that they have not been substantiated.

Attorney General W. H. Stead uttered a withering arraignment of the Illinois Central railroad in the hearing of the great suit of the state of Illinois at Springfield, Ill., to compel an accounting from the road since 1877 and to pay taxes amounting to $20,000,000, which it is charged the Illinois Central evaded paying through fraud.

A jury found guilty five of the six employes of the American Sugar Refining Company who have been on trial for the past three weeks charged with criminal conspiracy to defraud the government of customs duties on imported raw sugar. In the case of James F. Bendernagel, a former cashier of the company's Williamsburg plant, the jury disagreed.

The American grip on Bluefields, Nicaragua, was tightened when Commander Shipley of the cruiser Des Moines issued a proclamation formally stating that no fighting would be allowed at Bluefields. Taken in connection with the rushing of 700 marines to Corinto, the order of Captain Shipley is construed practically as a move toward occupation.

The filing of the will of King Leopold shows that he divided $3,000,000 between his three daughters, Princess Louise, Princess Stephanie and Princess Clementine. This practical disinheritance of his children signalizes the beginning of a gigantic legal battle to obtain the king's wealth similar to that which ensued on the death of their mother, Queen Henrietta. The exact amount of Leopold's fortune probably never will be revealed.

Mrs. Maud W. Johnson, on trial at Seattle, accused of being a professional claimant, was identified by a number of railway claim agents as a woman who collected damages from them in various cities.

Pursuant to the call of Chairman H B. Perham, the railroad employes' department of the American Federation of Labor met in St. Paul, Minn., to take up the switchmen's strike.

Capt. B. S. Osbon of New York, secretary of the Arctic club, announced that Capt. August W. Loose's story that he had faked polar records for Dr. Cook was concocted for sale without regard to the truth. Capt. Osbon declared Capt. Loose has admitted his affidavit as published in a New York newspaper had no foundation in fact. Capt. Loose denies this alleged verbal confession with the statement that he was offered $4,000 if he would contradict his affidavit. He says he spurned the offer and stands by his original story that he supplied fake records to Dr. Cook.

Following the payment by Arbuckle Bros. of nearly $700,000 to reimburse the United States treasury for deficits due to false weighing, it was announced that the National Sugar Refining Company is prepared to settle with the government as the Arbuckles have done as soon as it has been officially informed of the amount the government claimed to be due.

Three sisters now occupy separate cells at East Orange, N. J., charged with the murder of Osey Snead, who was found dead in a bathtub. Her mother is one of the accused, her two aunts are the others.

Leopold II., king of the Belgians, is dead. The end came as a surprise even to the physicians in attendance. The aged and wasted body of the monarch was unable to stand the great strain to which it was subjected.

NO PARDON ISSUED

Governor Turns Down Recommendation of Parole Board.

IN CASE OF DR. CROFFORD

Protests Attack Dr. Brown's Reliability As a Witness, Upon Whose Statement Board Requested Governor to Pardon.

Des Moines, Dec. 20.—Governor Carroll has turned down the recommendation of the parole board that Dr. J. W. Crofford of Lamoni be pardoned, and sent the case back to the parole board for further deliberation.

Dr. Crofford was convicted of second degree murder for an alleged criminal operation upon Maud Stone which caused her death. He was sentenced to twelve years in Fort Madison on April 17, 1905, and is now serving his sentence.

The board of parole recommended his pardon April 23 of this year following sensational testimony of Dr. Artemus Brown who went before the parole board voluntarily and asserted that he knew Dr. Crofford was not guilty because the girl had told him before she went to Dr. Crofford's sanitarium that she had committed the operation herself. Dr. Brown's lips were sealed during the trial of Crofford he said, because he feared suspicion would turn to him if he told what he knew.

Upon the strength of these sworn statements of Dr. Brown the parole board decided that Dr. Crofford was serving a twelve year sentence for a crime he never committed, and accordingly recommended his immediate pardon.

But Governor Carroll, in his letter to the board, states that ever since the recommendation of the board has been in his hands, he has received letters and protests from various persons, attacking Brown's reliability as a witness. These people have all asked to be heard, Governor Carroll states, and for this reason he deems it inadvisable to grant the pardon until the case can be further investigated.

Colby Loses Divorce Suit.

Mason City.—W. Sommerville Colby, county official, was denied a divorce from his wife, Florence Leavenworth Colby, denied the custody of his son, save for about three months during the year, denied alimony of $3,000 asked for and was assessed the costs of the recent trial for a divorce by Judge Kelley, who handed down his decree in the case. On the other hand, Mrs. Colby is given the divorce instead, on her cross petition, the custody of her son from September 1 of each year to June 15 of the following year, must provide clothing for her son all the time and must pay her former husband $1,000 as his due for services rendered her estate.

Judson Heads State Grange.

Des Moines.—By unanimous vote the principal officers of the Iowa state grange were re-elected to serve the association for the coming year. At the night session the entire list of officers were installed and degrees were conferred on a large class of candidates. The officers are: Grand master, A. B. Judson of Balfour; vice president and overseer, A. E. Meade of Manchester; secretary, J. W. Wild of Council Bluffs; treasurer, M. E. Blair of Manchester; chaplain, Mrs. J. W. Wild of Council Bluffs; lecturer, J. R. McLain; steward, L. L. Richardson of Silver City.

B. H. Grace Killed at Perry.

Des Moines.—Bertram H. Grace, 2422 Amhurst street, Highland Park, a conductor in the employ of the Des Moines, Fort Dodge & Southern interurban railroad, was instantly killed at the M. & St. L. railroad crossing at Perry, when a lone passenger engine, returning to Valley Junction, crashed into the caboose of the intterurban freight of which Grace was the conductor.

Thirteen Injured in Wreck.

Bayard.—Train No. 7, westbound, on the Chicago, Milwuakee & St. Paul railway was derailed two miles east of here, the engine, tender and entire train, composed of baggage and mail cars, two coaches and two sleepers, leaving the track. Thirteen passengers were injured, none, it is believed, seriously.

Young Men Trapped.

Lake City.—While climbing up on a roof to disturb a party of girls, several young men became mired in a quantity of tar, which had been spread over the roof, and were forced to call the girls to their rescue. They spoiled $75 worth of clothing.

Oust Clerk Brown In Emmet County.

Des Moines.—The supreme court has ousted C. M. Brown as clerk of the district court of Emmet county and ruled that L. Heffalfinger is the duly qualified clerk for that county. The decision was given in the case of State of Iowa on relation of L. Heffalfinger against C. M. Brown. In the election of 1908 one John Amundson was elected clerk. He died that month, and the district judge appointed Brown as clerk until the vacancy was filled. The board of supervisors at their December meeting selected Heffalfinger as clerk. Heffalfinger demanded that Brown turn over the office keys to him. Brown refused and Heffalfinger brought quo warranto proceedings.

The opinion of the supreme court, affirming the district court, which held that Brown was not entitled to the office, was written by Justice Weaver. He said that the district court is not authorized by the statutes of the state to fill such a vacancy, either temporarily or otherwise, and holds that when the supervisors appointed a man to fill the vacancy caused by Amundson's death, that any power given Brown by the district court was revoked.

Hotel Law Declared Unconstitutional.

Des Moines.—Iowa's hotel inspection law, providing for a state hotel inspector and requiring fire escapes on all hotels, and appliances for perfect ventilation, is unconstitutional and therefore null and void. This construction was put upon it by Judge McHenry of the district court in an opinion filed in the case of F. M. Hubbell against Lafayette Higgins, state hotel inspector. The suit was brought to test the constitutionaliy of the law and argued before the court several weeks ago.

Dan Lackey Kills Self.

Des Moines.—Dan Lackey, said to be the tallest man in Iowa, bade his friends goodbye and in company with a Mr. Gillam of the Iowa Mausoleum company, went to a restaurant in Monroe and ordered a meal. Whilst it was being prepared Lackey stepped to a rear room and shot himself through the head ,dying almost instantly. He was a stock buyer well known in Des Moines. He leaves a mother and three sisters. No cause is known for his rash act.

Black Hand Gang in Des Moines?

Des Moines—Evidence of the operation of the dreaded black hand society with all the attendant elements of blackmail and threats of sudden, violent death in case of refusal to comply with the demands of the "society" have been secured by Chief of Detectives Johnston, who has instituted a campaign for the crushing out of the organization in Des Moines.

Falls From Windmill on Bossy's Back

Gravity.—Martin Vandersyle, a wealthy farmer residing near here, fell from a sixty-foot windmill and would have surely been killed had he not fallen squarely on the back of a cow passing below. The animal's back was broken, but Vandersyle escaped without injury. The cow was a thoroughbred Short-horn valued at $375.

Tries to Assault Girl at Church Door.

Nevada.—An unknown man grabbed little Florence Knight, a 10-year-old girl of this city, in the shadow of a church, and attempted to assault her. The screams of the girl frightened the man away. The girl gives a good description of the man. She is positive that she knows him.

New Hampton Hotel Burns.

New Hampton.—The Arlington hotel at New Hampton burned to the ground from an overheated furnace, causing $40,000 damage. Twenty-five guests were rescued by firemen, who wrapped them in blankets and turned them into the snow storm with the temperature nearly zero.

Byers Starts Suit.

Council Bluffs.—Attorney General Byers has started suit in the district court here, claiming title to 250 acres of land, in the bed of what was formerly Boyer Lake, claiming the property belongs to the state. Owners of property surrounding the lake bed have claimed the property.

To Vote on School Bonds.

Webster City.—At the regular school election in this city next spring the voters will be asked to vote upon the matter of bonding the district for the erection of a new high school building, to cost between $30,000 and $40,000.

Lost Jewels Recovered.

Boone.—A Des Moines woman has returned the bag of jewels valued at $5,000, lost by Mrs. John Reynolds last September in the Chicago & Northwestern waiting room and received in return a check from John Reynolds of several hundred dollars reward.

CLIP THIS OUT.

Valuable Recipe When Afflicted w Rheumatism or Backache.

This is a renowned doctor's ve best prescription for rheumatism.

"One ounce compound syrup Sar parilla; one ounce Toris compoun half pint high grade whiskey. M them and take a tablespoonful bef each meal and at bed time. The b tle must be well shaken each tim

Any druggist has these ingredie or he will get them from his wh sale house.

GOOD PART OF IT.

First Actorine—Been on the ro all season, dearie?

Second Ditto—Almost. I wal from San Francisco.

SORE EYES CURED.

Eye-Balls and Lids Became Terri Inflamed—Was Unable to Go Ab —All Other Treatments Failed, Cuticura Proved Successful.

"About two years ago my eyes in such a condition that I was una to go about. They were terribly flamed, both the balls and lids. tried home remedies without rel Then I decided to go to our fam physician, but he didn't help th Then I tried two more of our m prominent physicians, but my e grew continually worse. At this ti a friend of mine advised me to Cuticura Ointment, and after using about one week my eyes were c siderably improved, and in two we they were almost well. They ha never given me any trouble since a I am now sixty-five years old. I sh always praise Cuticura. G. B. Hals Mouth of Wilson, Va., Apr. 4, 190

Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Bos

JUST WANTED A SENSATI

Tender Passion Not the Only Th That Prompted Young Man's Question.

The girl was very rich and young man was poor, but honest. liked him, but that was all, and knew it. One night he had been little more tender than usual.

"You are very rich," he ventured.

"Yes," she replied frankly. "I worth $1,250,000."

"And I am poor."

"Yes."

"Will you marry me?"

"No."

"I thought you wouldn't."

"Then why did you ask me?"

"Oh, just to see how a man fe when he loses $1,250,000."—Il trated Sunday Magazine.

Some of these public servants ours are about as hard to get a thing out of as the autocrats occupy our kitchens as private s ants.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy infants and children, and see tha

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bou

You can't blame the man who got his winter's coal in for fee just a little better than the res the neighborhood.

A dealer sold imitation Spearm His customer gave it to a friend. dealer lost his customer. The tomer lost his friend.

You cannot hurt anybody wit receiving a greater hurt yourse Cobden.

RUSS BLUE IS GOOD BLUE Preserves clothes and makes and them white as snow. All grocers 5c.

It worries a modest girl if a tries to kiss her—and it worri young widow if he doesn't.

"More life to that flavor than gum I have ever tasted."

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT.

Money may not make the man take some men's money away them and there would be nothing

DO NOT ACCEPT A SUBSTITUT when you want Perry Davis' Painkiller, as i is as good for rheumatism, neuralgia and troubles. 70 years in constant use. 25c, 35c

It's easy for a woman to pa pretty face—if she has one.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup For children teething, softens the gums, redu flammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c

Don't worry, and you'll have no to worry you.

One Way of Love

SYNOPSIS.

Richard Derring, returning from a winter in the woods to his mother's farm home, is overtaken by his uncle, accompanied by his eccentric wife, coming to pay a visit at the farm. Aunt Jerusha's questions about Emily Hutton, supposed to be Richard's sweetheart, bring out the fact that she is to marry a merchant, Edwards. Derring's disappointment stimulates his ambition and under the advice of Seth Kinney, a hermit of the woods, he resolves to fit himself for college. Kinney promises to teach him Greek. Derring tells his mother his resolve, and in his grandfather's old laboratory begins the study of Greek. Seth Kinney hears Richard's Greek recitation in the woods while he and Tom Bishop ply the cross-cut saw. Derring learns that he can look indifferently upon the loss of Emily. He visits Aunt Jerusha, who volunteers to help him through college. The Greek learned in the woods carries Richard triumphantly through entrance examinations, wins approval from the professor and insures his popularity among his fellows.

CHAPTER VIII.

A crowd of boys were waiting about the door. The boy of the back seat linked his arm in Richard's. "What'd old Four-Eyes want?" he demanded.

"Got a leather medal anywhere?"

"What'd he say, anyhow?"

The fact that Richard was their senior by several years did not seem to impress them. They gathered about him, chaffing and questioning.

Heads Were Thrust Out Again Above. "Yah—Yah—Yah! Dry Up, Down There, Yah—Yah!"

They disregarded his stern look as he tried to shoulder his way through the crowd.

"Oh, hold on."

"Tell us what he said."

In the end Richard complied, half resentfully.

"Liked it, did he? My eye!"

They danced about him.

"For he liked it, don't you know, don't you know?" they chanted, "For he liked it, don't you know—o-oh!"

"Then Aurora, rosy-fingered daughter of the morn," wailed in the Greek a small, chubby lad with pink cheeks.

It was the seesaw chant of the woods.

The group took it up with a shout of joy. They sent the burlesque jigging across the campus.

Heads were thrust out above. "Hey, you freshies! Haw-haw-haw! Keep quiet, down there!"

A shout of defiance went up from the group. They were drunk with too much Greek and with release from oppression.

A deep voice underran the chant and snatched it from them and made it beautiful, hurling it out with force. The group looked at him a moment doubtingly. Then they gave way and followed his lead. The burlesque had become a march of triumph. Breathless they landed him at his own door.

"Say, you fellows, what do you bet old Four-Eyes don't let us all off easy on account of the farmer?"

"Three cheers for farmer!"

"Hip—hip!"

"Three cheers for Four-Eyes!"

Heads were thrust out again above. "Yah—yah—yah! Dry up, down there. Yah—yah!"

The group broke up and drifted apart with a final yell. Windows descended with a slam, and quiet reigned.

The Greek professor, crossing the campus five minutes later, heard only the twittering of English sparrows and the quiet rustle of the leaves. Underneath the quiet, for the professor's ears, ran sonorous epic lines, chanted to a deep measure. The professor held his head high and stepped to a mighty tune.

The whole class was entered without condition in Greek—a thing unprecedented. The faculty gasped when they heard the news. The students grinned. News of the Greek prodigy got about college. Poor Richard found his path a thorny one. He could not appear on the campus but a chant in Greek would spring up of itself in the distance—swelling or dying away to an echo, according to the number of students on hand, and ending always with the mocking refrain: "For he liked it, don't you know—o-oh!"

The situation gave him enough to think about. He forgot to remember Emily, or even to remember that he had expected to remember her and be miserable. She rested in the background of memory, a faint blur, brushed out of existence by a grinning yell of derision.

He learned to set his teeth and grin back; and in the end he found his unwelcome distinction an advantage. It might not be comfortable to be recognized and pointed out in every new class he attended as the learned woodchopper; but at least he was recognized. No professor forgot his name or fumbled up and down the class-list trying to place him. And the fact that he was older than the majority of the class, added to the uncanny Greek distinction, gave him an assured place.

When it was known that he was working his way through college numberless opportunities sprang up. The faculty gave him tutoring and secretary work to do. The student body put him on the football team. Emily's image grew so faint that Cupid must have wrung his infant hands in despair.

The four years went by with undignified haste. Richard was conscious of leaving undone half that he meant to do. He groaned in spirit over vast tracts of literature—of which he knew not even the name—that he could get no time to explore. Nevertheless, he found himself, at the end of the course, taking honors in English. He gasped a little. Then he hunted up the professor of English and laid before him his secret desire.

"Want to be a journalist?" said the professor with a smile. "I thought it was Greek."

Richard made a hasty gesture—"Never!"

The professor laughed out. He was a trim, slight man. "Had enough in college?"

Richard nodded.

The professor drummed with his fingers on the table for a moment. "Had you thought of trying for a college position—English assistant, or something?" He watched Richard's face.

It flushed a little. "I want something that will take me into life. I've never known anything but the woods—and this."

The professor winced a little. "Well, journalism will take you into life, all right." He remained thoughtful a moment. "Have you ever done anything at it?"

"I've done the college news for two papers and sent specials now and then. But that stands for nothing permanent."

"It will do more for you than I can," said the professor. He had drawn a sheet of paper towards him. "How would you like Chicago?"

"All right."

"You might as well have plenty of life while you're about it. I hear they hustle things out there. You won't think you're in the woods—or in college." He had taken up his pen. "I have a friend on one of the dailies. I'll drop him a line."

"Thank you, sir." Richard stood up to go.

The professor held out his hand. "That's all right. Bring around some of the letters you've done on the college. They'll help you more than anything I can say. I'll put them in when I write."

CHAPTER IX.

She was dressed in a long cloak, grayish-brown, with gray hat and veil. Her tall figure loomed duskily in the back of the elevator. She was speaking to the elevator boy, who stood with his hand on the rope and slid to the door as Derring entered.

"This is my reception afternoon, Tom. If visitors ask for me, you can show them directly to the studio."

"Yes, Miss Gordon," returned the boy.

"Third, please," said Derring. His newspaper life was teaching him to think and act quickly. He must give her time to get at work. He stepped out at the third floor and the door was slammed behind him.

He could spend half an hour looking over the things on this floor. It would all work in some time—if he were promoted, as he hoped to be. His position at present included a variety of work. He was liable to be called on to write a column on any subject—from bacteria and the lake water, to art and its outlook in Chicago. His column to-day was "The Private Studios Connected with the Art Institute."

As he had turned the corner at Michigan avenue he had caught sight of a roll of paper whirling lightly across the open space in front of the institute. A woman in a gray cloak was battling with the wind and looking despairingly after the hurrying roll. It was the work of a moment for him to dart through the crowd of teams, rescue it, and receive murmured thanks from the gray veil.

Now, by the moment's chance in the elevator, he had learned that she was one of the artists he had come to interview. He would wait half an hour. Then he would look her up. She would at least be civil to him. It was a lucky chance.

She was seated with her back to the door, in the light of the north window. She turned her head from her work with a look of inquiry. The face was older than he had fancied through the folds of the veil.

She half rose from her seat, her hands full of brushes and color-tubes.

"Pray do not rise," he said. "If you will kindly go on working I shall feel less that I am intruding."

He explained his errand and asked permission to look about the studio and take notes. He asked the permission very humbly. He had not accustomed himself to the idea that the public likes to be interviewed and written up. The slight hesitation with which she gave the permission seemed to him natural and fitting.

"In fact," she said, smiling, "I suppose I ought to be glad to have you; it will advertise my work."

She went on with her work and they carried on a desultory conversation. Derring wandered about the studio, taking notes and pausing here and there. A sudden exclamation caused her to look up. He had turned a water-color sketch to the light and was examining it.

"It is Ashton Pond?" he said.

"Yes. Do you know it?"

"My home is there. It seems strange to see it here—out of place."

Asked Permission to Look About the Studio and Take Notes.

"I like to have it. It makes summer and the east nearer."

He looked at her in surprise. "Do you go there?"

"I have spent the last three summers there," she replied.

"And I have not been home for the last four. I've spent the vacations away."

They fell to talking of mutual acquaintances and places of interest. She had heard of Seth Kinney and she knew the wood-road. The studio became to Derring a very home-like place. They two were shut in, alone, in the midst of the quiet. The great, practical city roared outside, but they did not hear it. He did not realize that she showed the tact of a woman of the world in guiding the conversation. It seemed to him spontaneous and natural.

When she fell silent he started in dismay, looking at his watch. "I am keeping you—and the article must be in by two."

She gave him her hand at parting with the cordiality of an old friend.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Interesting Relic.

Just before Charles Edward, the young pretender, came to England to attempt the recovery of the throne of his ancestors, he gave a ball in Paris to which his friends and partisans were invited. Among the many beautiful women present, Lady Mary Touchet, a young English lady, greatly attracted the prince's notice, and before the evening was over he cut out the "star" which decorated his breast and presented it to her. Lady Mary cherished a romantic regard for "Prince Charlie," and was one of his most devoted adherents. She died very suddenly in the pride of her youth and beauty. The "star" after her death became the property of her sister, who married Philip Thicknesse. This gentleman, who was a whig, did not care for the Jacobite relic, and gave the "star" and a picture of the prince to his nieces. Doubtless the pretender's "star" is now in the possession of some family who regard it as a valuable curiosity, and preserve it as such.

She Lives in Louisville.

A young woman whose name is—whose name is—well, if you can guess it, is something like—never mind what her name is—startled everybody within a certain block on Fourth avenue the other day. She proved then that she doesn't believe in hiding her light under a bushel, especially when it is needed by the other fellow.

A car was nearing a corner, and a man was dashing madly down a cross-street in an effort to nab it before it sailed by. It looked as though he would miss it, though, and then it was that the girl placed her fingers to her lips and blew a shrill blast that Peter Pan would have delighted in, and which is given only to the elect to produce.

The car stopped. The fatigued runner clambered aboard, turning once to bow his thanks to the laughing damsel.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Wretchedness of Constipation

Can quickly be overcome by

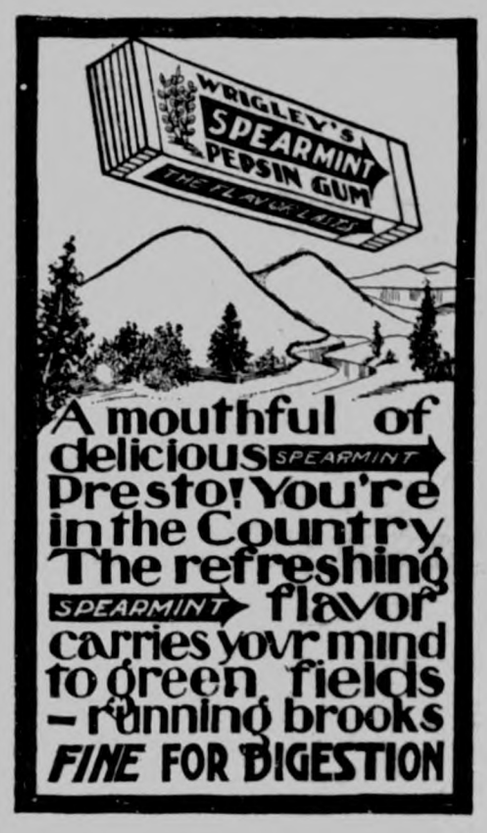
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Purely vegetable—act surely and gently on the liver. Cure Biliousness, Headache, Dizziness, and Indigestion. They do their duty.

Small Pill, Small Dose, Small Price.

GENUINE must bear signature:

Brent Good



A mouthful of delicious SPEARMINT Presto! You're in the Country The refreshing SPEARMINT flavor carries your mind to green fields—running brooks FINE FOR DIGESTION

WESTERN CANADA

What Prof. Shaw, the Well-Known Agriculturist, Says About It:

"I would sooner raise cattle in Western Canada than in the corn belt of the United States. Feed is cheaper and climate better for the purpose. Your market will improve faster than your farmers will produce the supplies. Wheat can be grown up to the 60th parallel [800 miles north of the International boundary]. Your vacant land will be taken at a rate beyond present conception. We have enough people in the United States alone who want homes to take up this land." Nearly

70,000 Americans

will enter and make their homes in Western Canada this year.

1909 produced another large crop of wheat, oats and barley, in addition to which the cattle exports was an immense item.

Cattle raising, dairying, mixed farming and grain growing in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Free homestead and pre-emption areas, as well as lands held by railway and land companies, will provide homes for millions.

Adaptable soil, healthful climate, splendid schools and churches, and good railways.

For settlers' rates, descriptive literature "Last Best West," how to reach the country and other particulars, write to Sup't of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or to the Canadian Government Agent.

E. T. Holmes, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; W. V. Bennett, Room 4 Bee Bldg., Omaha, Neb

(Use address nearest you.) (2)

A Grateful Man Says of

UNCLE SAM Breakfast Food

AS A CURE FOR CONSTIPATION

"Enables me to go to stool without syringe or medicine, a thing I have not been able to do for four or five years."

WILLIAM RITCHES.

Such voluntary testimonials are constantly received.

ASK YOUR GROCER ABOUT IT

HE CERTAINLY KNOWS

U. S. B. F. Co., Omaha

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT THE FLAVOR LASTS

A Light or a Close Shave

NO STROPPING NO HONING

TRADE Gillette MARK

KNOWN THE WORLD OVER

A DOSE OF

PISO'S CURE

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

is as safe as it is effective. Guaranteed to contain no opiates. It is very palatable too—children like it.

All Druggists, 25 Cents

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

North Iowa Short Course

Will be held at Mason City January 24th to 29th. This is the Second Annual Short Course to be held in this section of the state and ought to be a winner. Last year's course, arranged for in two weeks' time, was a success, and this year's ought to be many times better. Every farmer should have a desire to get all the help he can from every source possible, and the Short Course is scientific farming brought to our very homes. The best in agricultural training is to be learned at the Short Course to be held at Mason City the last week in January, the 24th to 29th.

Write to Secretary Fred Mahannah for fu'l particulars.

Letter From Limon, Colorado

Dear Klemme Friends—I promised so many of you that I would write you a letter that I think I had better write a letter to the Klemme Times so all can hear from us. We are very busy now and will not have much time to write for a while. Pansy and I left Klemme November 30th on the evening train. We changed cars at Dows and at West Liberty, then we came through to Limon, Colorado, without further change; was on the C. R. I. & P. all the way. We left West Liberty at 4:35 so it was soon light enough so we could see the country we were passing through. We were in Kansas the second night; we took a sleeper and had a good night's rest; rained in the night. We got to the Colorado line about four o'clock Monday morning, looked out of the window and saw snow drifts. They told us they had had a storm out here Sunday, wind and snow.

We got to Limon Junction, our journey's end on the cars, about 5 o'clock. Frank came in and we rode out to the ranch, about nine miles. As we rode along we could see Pike's Peak in the distance—looked just like some pictures I have seen of it. Got to our journey's end Monday noon, tired and hungry. It is a good place to give one an appetite here. Was a very nice day, warm and pleasant. Just a little snow here and that soon disappeared and it has been quite nice and warm ever since we got here. If the weather continues like this we surely have struck the right place. Edward got here Wednesday night and the neighbors helped him move out to the ranch. The water in the wells here is soft, no lime in the teakettle.

I feel quite high up in the world as 5,550 feet altitude. Pansy and I run up on the hill in the morning to see Pike's Peak. We have named this place "Pike's Peak Ranch." It is surely very new out here. One has plenty of room. We have for neighbors nearer than a mile from us, one is building a $1600 barn now.

I think the country will settle up fast because people come here who can't live anywhere else, they come here for their health. Well, I have always wanted to go south when it came Fall, so now I am in the beautiful land of Colorado.

MRS. EDWARD HASKELL.

The regular subscription price of the Chicago Daily Farmers and Drovers Journal is $4 per year, but we have made arrangements whereby we can furnish that paper and the Klemme Times both one year for $4.05. The Chicago F. and D. Journal twice-a-week, and the Times, both one year for $2.05. The Journal once a week and the Times, both one year for $1.55.

Farm and Garden

WEATHER ON THE FARM.

Proper Exposure of Thermometers. Plans For Rainfall Gauges.

No matter how good a thermometer may be, it will not indicate the true temperature of the air unless it is properly exposed. The variations in temperature reported by neighbors in discussing how cold or how warm it was at a given time are more frequently due to lack of uniformity in the exposure of the instruments than to errors in the instruments themselves or to actual differences in temperature at the various locations.

In a proper exposure the thermometer should be protected from the direct rays of the sun as well as from the reflected heat of pavements, walls, etc., and at the same time should receive a free circulation of air all around it. If the sun shines on the thermometer the glass portions and the mercury are heated above the temperature of the surrounding air. In the same way the heat from the side of a building or from the surface of the ground may make the thermometer warmer than the free air.

INSTRUMENT SHELTER AND RAIN GAUGE.

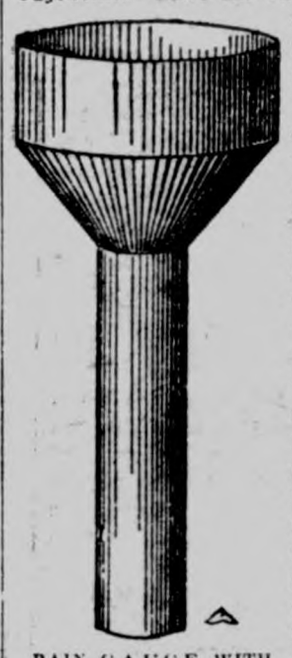
The best place to expose a thermometer is in the center of a slat sided box, two or three feet on a side, with a door opening to the north and having a double roof, with an air space between.

In case such a shelter cannot be secured or constructed the next best exposure is on the north wall of a building where the instrument will be protected as much as possible from the sun's rays and from the heat of surrounding objects.

Another instrument used in recording meteorological conditions is the rain gauge. Any cylindrical vessel exposed in an open space, where surrounding trees or buildings are far enough away not to stop the rain, will indicate the amount of rainfall. An ordinary tin can with straight sides will serve the purpose. The rainfall is measured regularly morning and evening by inserting a rule and observing how high the rule is wetted.

The ordinary rule marked off in eighths and sixteenths of an inch may be used, but in order to compare the results with the records of the weather bureau it is well to use a rule marked off in tenths of an inch.

Such a simple rain gauge has this objection—that the rainfall in any one day is frequently so small that it cannot be measured with much accuracy. To obviate this difficulty the receiving vessel must be made with a funnel shaped tube, with an opening whose area is one-tenth that of the receiving vessel. A rainfall which would measure one inch in the upper vessel will then measure ten inches in this measuring tube. The readings can therefore be more accurately made. The readings taken from the measuring tube must of course be divided by ten in order to get the actual rainfall. A diagram showing the form of such a gauge with measuring tube attached is shown in the second cut. In the standard rain gauge the upper cylinder has an inside diameter of eight inches, while the diameter of the measuring tube is 2.53 inches. The weather bureau rain gauge is shown in position in the first cut to the right of the thermometer shelter. Keeping a rainfall record is one of the most interesting tasks that a farmer or gardener can undertake. The preservation of the records will enable him to compare the rainfall and crop conditions for any one season with those for other seasons.



RAIN GAUGE WITH MEASURING TUBE.

Horse Spectacles.

The business of one well known firm of opticians in England consists largely in the manufacture of horse spectacles. The object of the spectacles is to promote high stepping. They are made of stiff leather, entirely inclosing the eyes of the horse, and the glasses used are deep, concave and large in size. The ground seems to the horse to be raised, and he steps high, thinking he is going uphill or has to step over some obstacle. This system of spectacles is generally adopted while the horse is young, and its effect on his action is said to be remarkable. It has been discovered that the cause of a horse's shying is, as a rule, short sight.

Facts About the Potato.

An authority tells us that the potato has a large and unique relationship. Tobacco, tomatoes, eggplant and peppers belong to the family. Probably that is why the potato bug is so often destructive to these crops. It is asked, "How can a potato grow other potato vines from the eyes since it is not a root, fruit or seed?" That is answered by way of illustration: A stem of almost any plant will produce another plant from the place where the leaves come out on it. If one will break off a piece of rosebush and plant it in a favorable place it will produce another rosebush, just as a potato will produce another vine.

In a wild state the potato vine is very hardy and will grow to a considerable height. It is said that the Indians did not cultivate the potato except for its leaves, which became known as their tobacco; hence the leaves and stalks of tobacco are large, but there are no signs of potatoes at the roots. So much for cultivation.

A WELL SHAPED SEED POTATO.

On account of the starch they contain, potatoes are valuable as food. The potato tuber consists mainly of a mass of cells filled with starch and encircled by a thin, corky rind. As stated, the chief value of the potato as an article of diet consists in the starch it contains and, to a less extent, in the potash and other salts. The quantity of nitrogen in its composition is small.

Treatment of Sick Fowls.

In the majority of cases the sick fowl should be killed, according to an authority. Generally it does not pay to doctor sick fowls, and often the sick fowl that recovers is not the one that amounts to anything afterward. This is particularly the case with fowls sick with the roup. This disease seems to permeate every fiber of the birds, and if they recover at all they are of little value for a long time. It is doubtful if they ever fully recover their old vigor. If one owns a high priced bird is may prove to be profitable to cure it for the sake of the eggs that it may produce, which eggs may be used for hatching other high priced birds. But a fowl that has been sick and has been cured should not be sold to an unsuspecting customer. The fowls that are to be doctored should be given good food and good surroundings rather than anything else. Their native vigor will help them to recover when medicine would be a detriment. Sunshine is an invigorator and may well be considered a great help in the doctoring of fowls.

Looking One's Best

It's a woman's delight to look her best, but pimples, skin eruptions, sores and boils rob life of joy. Listen! Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them; makes the skin soft and velvety. It glorifies the face. Cures pimples, sore eyes, cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands. Try it. Infallible for piles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

The Des Moines Capital and the Klemme Times will be sent to any address from now until Jan. 1, 1911, on receipt of $2.85. This is an exceptionally liberal offer and should be taken advantage of at once to secure its full benefits. If you have already paid in advance for the Times, ask for our rate on the Capital. Call at this office today and get a daily paper for the winter's reading.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

Complete Line of

..holiday gifts..

The finest line of Linens, Table Spreads, Lunch Cloths, Dresser and Commode Scarfs. The prettiest Mexican Painted Spreads. Prettiest Sofa Pillows in Tapestry Painting. A large variety of stamped and drawn Linens.

Headquarters for Pyrography Patterns and Ready Burnt Goods. The largest assortment ever shown.

Don't fail to get tickets for the prettiest Doll ever shown. Yours for business,

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

The Winter Season

Is now close at hand and it calls for good, warm wearing apparel, good Shoes and Overshoes, etc. We are, as usual, prepared to furnish you with the needed articles and our prices are as low as possible, consistent with the quality of goods we furnish. We want to call your special attention to our full and complete line of

Genuine Old Fashioned Wool Flannel

Ranging in price per yard from.... 50c TO $1.50

LARGE LINE TO SELECT FROM

Outing Flannels

The kind usually sold for 10c per yard we sell for.... 8c

The kind usually sold for 12c per yard we sell for... 10c

This is no special sale, just our every-day prices.

See our complete line of Seasonable Goods.
We absolutely guarantee satisfaction.

W. J. BARZ, - Garner, Iowa

Get your Winter's Coal Now

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Sootless and Washed Egg. Petroleum Coke. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

H. C. LAU

A CONVINCER

The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.
We claim for our lumber and building material that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.
May we figure on your next lumber bill?

J. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

Opera House Monday, Dec. 27th.

About People You Know

KLEMME MARKET.

rn	45 to c
ts	35 to 38c
heat	80 to 90
rley	40 to 48c
y	4 00 to 6.00
gs	7.50 to 7.90
ttle	3.00 to 6.00

Snow!

Mrs. A. B. Shafer was on the k list last week.

Ralph Blank of Goodell is a w subscriber to the Times.

One thing is certain—there is tle danger of a "black" ristmas.

Wm. Sampson and Geo. Ulrich lled and settled with the inter on Monday.

Try Bloon.'s Hocking Egg al also Petroleum Coke. It is t stuff. 19-4

H. C. Lau shipped a car of gs Monday. Good hogs are w worth about $8.00, which is rtainly going a few.

The office of the Koerner Telephone Company will be closed Christmas Day and New ar's Day, same as Sundays. 2

Ralph Blank and wife were from Goodell Sunday. Fred nk and John Weiland went me with them Sunday evening returning Monday.

a letter from John Jordan, of our valued subscribers, orders his address changed n Jefferson, Oklahoma, to mond, Iowa.

Arthur Wellemeyer has a new ad this week.

C. C. Suckow is suffering with an attack of quinsy.

G. W. Kluckhohn sold a cow to Aug. Lau which brought him $40.50.

We are enjoying what might be called a good old-fashioned winter.

John Griewe left the latter part of last week for Carrington, North Dakota.

Poultry wanted every day. Highest market price paid. H. Lau & Son.

Hear H. V. Adams, lecturer, at the Klemme opera house on Monday evening, Dec. 27th,

Ernest Wellemeyer arrived here from Charles City Saturday night, for a visit with his brother, Arthur.

Fred Barz and Ella Barz, of Valley City, North Dakota, have been visiting here the past week with relatives.

The program and Christmas tree exercises of the English M E. church will be held tomorrow (Friday) evening at the church.

August Lau shipped a car of cattle to Chicago Monday. He went in with the stock and will visit a while in Chicago with his son Ben.

John A. Johnson, one of our good subscribers, was a pleasant caller at our sanctum Monday. Mr. Johnson recently sold three of his horses to a buyer for the neat sum of $500

We note that G. A. Griswold has purchased a restaurant at Dumont and has sold the Dumont Journal to his son-in-law, Frank Gates.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Grove were up to Garner Saturday morning, where Mrs. Grove took the Milwaukee train for Castalia, Iowa, to visit relatives.

In order to provide more office room, Doctors Zinn & Zinn have engaged sleeping rooms on the second floor of the State Savings Bank building. Phones at both suites of rooms.

You probably remember the noted lecturer, H. V. Adams. You heard him on our lecture course last winter and if you didn't, you missed the lecture they all talked about so long and so favorably. Mr. Adams is on our course again this year, and will be with us on Monday evening, Dec. 27th.

Our subscribers have come across liberally the past week and seem determined to make it a merry Christmas for the editor as well as other people. Besides those mentioned elsewhere the following have paid: Ben Billmyre, Chas. Bredlow, H. Freie, Ralph Blank, S. B. Day, E. H. Thomas, M. Elder, Fred Haupt Sr., C. C. Schaefer, Albert Riemer, H. F. Schlei, Wes J. Schuldt.

Jim Wright, well known to most of our readers, was taken suddenly ill last Friday and is still in a very serious condition. He has lost his powers of speech and hearing and to all appearances is wholly unconscious. His brother George arrived here from Parkersburg, Sunday, and is caring for the unfortunate man. Jim's many friends are hoping for his complete recovery.

School Notes

Wm. Fuller, a member of the school board, was visiting the different rooms Tuesday.

In the upper room there were 18 out of 25 that were in attendance five full days last week which is the best attendance of any week this term.

Friday afternoon closes our school work for the holiday vacation. The vacation period will be one week, making school open again on January 3rd.

We expect to hold a contest some time this (Thursday) afternoon in Elementary Agriculture to find out what the older pupils have retained from a few general lessons given them the past four months.

On and after January 1, 1910, the subscription price of the Klemme Times will be raised to $1.25 per year, except when paid in advance, in which case the price will remain at $1.00 per year. This move is necessary on our part on account of the big advance in all other lines, especially the price of paper.

Also, papers mailed to parties living outside the county must be paid for in advance, or we will be compelled to cut them off the list. We have lost a few hundred dollars by reason of extending credit on our foreign list.

These new rules need not make your paper cost you a cent more than it has in the past and will help us to meet our obligations better and more promptly. Hoping that these new regulations meet with your approval, we are yours for a successful year 1910. PUBLISHER.

German M. E. Church Items

We wish all a merry Christmas.

Amanda Arnold was in Garner last Saturday between trains.

Edna Suckow is home from Garner to spend the holidays at the parental home.

Lydia Beier returned from Kirksville, Mo., Monday, much improved in health.

We have a few choice books left which would make acceptable Christmas presents.

Ernest Wellemeyer came down from Charles City last Saturday to spend part of his vacation in his brother's store.

Mrs. John Josten sent a large box of millinery goods to the orphans as a Christmas present the first of the week.

Lurena Wessel and Ella Griewe are home from college spending their vacation. They will be home till January 3rd, when college resumes work.

May Weisbrod spent last Saturday and Sunday with Klemme friends. She is attending Charles City College and was on her way home to Fenton, Iowa.

Again the glad Christmas time is at hand when people remember the words of the Lord, how he said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." Or at least if men do not remember these words, they put in practice the spirit of them and so learn their truth from personal experience. For a few days men and women live as they ought to live the year round. In seeking the happiness of others they forget their own and so learn that by making others happy they increase their own joy.

As the old year draws to a close, one hopeful sign of the future for this country is that Cannon's reign of defiance and bossing is drawing to a close. The common people have had their eyes opened and the few "insurgents" who have stood for the common people are winning the day. Even President Taft's attitude has changed decidedly since last spring. When a man defies the government and the church, as Cannon has done, it is time they were set aside.

To the ladies of Klemme and vicinity—I will do plain or fancy sewing at reasonable price. Mrs. S. L. Sage. Call at residence of Mrs. Flint.

DID YOU EVER CLEAN UP?

¶ Every business firm desires to get their books "Cleaned up" at least once in every year and we are now working with that in view.

¶ The small amount that you are owing us may not seem much to you, but so many of them on our books means much to us, and a little effort on your part will be a great help to us, for we need money to clean up our fall bills.

¶ During the past year we have tried to accommodate you, and we now ask you to favor us in this, so that we may get our old Ledger closed up—and that we may also begin new for the beginning of the New Year.

¶ Please don't disappoint us.

ARTHUR WELLEMEYER
KLEMME, IOWA

he First National Bank has hange of ad.

he weather was good yester- for Henry Medaus' sale, ch was well attended.

P. Grove called at this of- Saturday and ordered the er sent to his son John, who ttending school at Ellendale, rth Dakota.

isses Alma Born and Bertha pt left last evening for Mon llo, Wisconsin, to spend the days at the home of Rev Mrs. Muehlmeier eing obliged to take it for t I will sell it out cheap;

r. Hess Stock Food.
r. Hess Poultry Panacea.
r. Hess Instant Louse Kill-

r. Hess Hog Worm Powder. be had at G. F. Schuler's rner, Iowa.

We sincerely wish all our readers a Merry Christmas.

A baby girl arrived at the H. N. Church home this morning.

Last Call—All owing us, pay up before January 1st. H. Lau & Son.

W. R. Bloom shipped a car of hogs to Chicago yesterday. E. G. Ell went in with the shipment.

Victor Carlson expects to leave today or tomorrow for Boone, Iowa, to spend Christmas at his old home.

A bouncing baby boy has taken up his residence at the home of Mr and Mrs. Fred Wacker, making his arrival on Tuesday, December 21st.

A new gasoline engine and sawing outfit arrived this week for Chas. Schlichting. It is a dandy outfit and was purchased through H. Lau & Son.

Special Christmas Offer

An opportunity for you to get one of the greatest Christmas presents ever offered on a deal like this. You can get it by buying a suit of Men's made-to-order Clothes tailored by the American Woolen Mills Co. For particulars call on their agent—

Elmer Ludeke

N. B.—This gift, which is a kerosene gas lamp, will also be sold separately until Christmas.

Pictures

See me when you want a Photograph

All kinds—inside or outdoor views. I make a specialty of photo postal cards, 75 cents a dozen. Good work at reasonable prices.

JOE MILLER, KLEMME IOWA

RESTAURANT AND BAKERY

Talking About Christmas Presents

Mary—My brother John got the most beautiful box of Bon-bons for his wife at Kirkwood's.

Anna—Yes, I saw them, but I am going to get my fellow a nice case Pipe for Christmas.

Mary—Oh, I am going to get my fellow a jar of Moa Cigars for $1.00 with 25 of the best cigars in it.

Anna—Yes, and we are going to get some of Kirkwood's Home Bakery Goods for Christmas dinner.

YOU Better Do the Same

A. KIRKWOOD & SON

J. E. BAUMGARTNER
The Tonsorial Artist

Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.

2nd door west of State Savings Bank

☞ Call in

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon,
Phone No. 11. Klemme, Iowa.
Office in the Shafer building.
Prompt attention given to calls, day or night.
Eyes tested. Glasses fitted.

DOCTORS
GEO. ZINN EDGAR ZINN
Office: State Savings Bank
Phone No. 19
KLEMME - - IOWA

W. R. BLOOM
Buyer and Shipper of
Grain and Live Stock
Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.
Stock wanted 6 days in the week

Col. J. J. Wilson
MESERVEY, IOWA
LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEER
Dates made at either bank in Klemme, Iowa. Terms reasonable.

New Through Service
TO SOUTHERN TEXAS has been established via
Rock Island Lines
and Trinity & Brazos Valley Railway

from Kansas City by way of Topeka, Wichita, El Reno, Fort Worth and Dallas to Houston and Galveston, providing drawing-room sleeping cars, free reclining chair cars and coaches. Remember there is

No Change of Cars

from Kansas City to Houston and Galveston.
Full details relative to this new service on request.

T. A. WILLIAMS, Agent,
Rock Island Lines,
Klemme, Iowa

Books and Magazines

American Sameness.

Though we, the people of the United States, boast of our individuality, we are regarded today by those who cater to our wants as an absorbent mass, rather than as discriminating units. Great agencies of supply give us a range of selection, it is true. But each differentiation is the standard choice of so large a number that it becomes a class by itself. Take, for example, those commodities and needs concerning which our personal taste is naturally selective, and we see that they are supplied,—but to a million or so others as well.

In foods, we are shipped trainloads of ready-to-eat, sometimes predigested, breakfast foods, biscuits, meats, soups, and desserts. In clothes, all of us who are not museum freaks are offered ready-to-wear uniformly designed suits, shirts, underwear, collars, hosiery, and shoes. In medicines, ready-to-alleviate dopes cure all diseases, and produce a host of rural centenarians. In travel, we are urged to join ready-to-start excursions and parties to every part of the habitable globe. In music, the ready-to-grind phonographs and pianolas have given the art of the few to the mob. In education, the ready-to-fit curriculums of our great colleges, business and correspondence schools are adapted to every youth in the land who is not an idiot. In dwellings, the ready-for-anybody flat is making a whirlwind obliteration of the American home.—Loren H. B. Knox, in the December Atlantic.

For the Season of Long Evenings.

There are no lonely winter evenings in the homes where The Youth's Companion is a weekly visitor, and there need be no idle hours. The variety of the paper's contents appeals to every member of the household and before one issue is exhausted the next is waiting at the post office. During the winter season The Companion prints nearly a hundred complete stories of considerable length, besides the absorbing serials, some 25 articles by men and woman of renown, and about twice as many short character and humorous sketches as there are winter nights Such an article as "Winter Gardening" suggests an interesting occupation which can be carried on in Alaska with snow twenty feet deep, and without the cost of a dollar. It is well "worth while" to read a paper so carefully and ably edited.

Send your subscription ($1.75) at once so as to receive free all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1909, as well as The Companion's "Venetian" Calendar for 1910, lithographed in thirteen colors and gold.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION,
Companion Building, Boston, Mass.

January St. Nicholas.

There is the first of a new Ralph Henry Barbour story in the January St. Nicholas, and it starts right off with a new boy in boarding school and some football complications. "Kingsford, Quarter," is the title of it; and Relyea is making the pictures, as he has for most of Mr. Barbour's stories.

Charles Battell Loomis's "The Three Golden Showers" is one of the good, old-fashioned "once upon a time" and "they married and lived happy ever after" kind, with six delightful drawings by John Wolcott Adams.

There is the usual seasonable store of rhymes and pictures, stories and sketches, and, almost best of all, the Brownies again. Palmer Cox tells about "The Brownies' Quilting Bee" this time; and there will be more of the fun and adventures all through the year.

Artists in the Christmas "Harper's Weekly."

A remarkable series of pictures in color distinguishes the special Christmas issue of Harper's Weekly. The cover is a charming treatment, in three colors, of a winning phase of child life, painted by Alice Barber Stephens; while among the other well-known artists who are represented elsewhere in this issue are Elizabeth Shippen Green, J. A. Williams, Harold Matthews Brett, Harry G. Dart, Dan Sayre Groesbeck, Albert Levering, Horace Taylor, Arthur William Brown, Howard V. Brown, J. Conacher, and H. C. Wall.

First at the North Pole or Two Boys in the Arctic Circle.

By Edward Stratemeyer. Illustrated by Charles Nuttall. Price $1.25.

What can be more attractive in the way of reading for the young than a book of boys' adventures based on the most-up-to-date of all themes, and by Young America's favorite author? "First at the North Pole," by Edward Stratemeyer, is the story of two boy heroes who in the Maine woods make the acquaintance of a wealthy hunter and explorer, and persuade him to take them on board his polar ship, in company with a scientist whom they also know, and who pass through marvellous experiences that result in the attainment of the very "top of the world" side by side with Cook and Peary. All the practical details of polar exploration are given, and the thrilling romance of the "Call of the North" is made evident. The book is also rich in the history of great discoverers, and is profitable reading from that point of view without impairing its wonderful interest as a story.

The Football Boys of Lakeport. Or More Goals Than One.

By Edward Stratemeyer; fourth volume of the "Lakeport Series;" illustrated by Arthur O. Scott. Price $1.25.

Mr. Stratemeyer shows in this book what the jolly and dauntless boys of Lakeport did when the football season came around. Their heroes of the baseball field were not long in organizing an eleven, and there followed a series of exciting contests for the Lake pennant. The boys had a college man to coach them, and made a number of brilliant plays, some of which are described in detail. How the quarterback helped his rival of the gridiron to get away from his enemies and reach the field in time, and then defeated him, is strikingly told. But the story is not all football and some jolly times on the water and on an island are depicted; and the author shows how a youth, intensely shrinking, overcame his timidity and made something of himself by simply saying "I will" and sticking to it.

A Pair of Madcaps.

J. T. Trowbridge, whose 'A Pair of Madcaps," published this year by Lathrop, Lee & Shepard Company, is an important feature of this season's juvenile list, is to spend another winter in Italy. He will sail from New York with Mrs. Trowbridge, on Wednesday, December 21st, by the "Romanic" of the White Star line, for Naples and Genoa, landing at the latter port. He will spend the first weeks of his winter abroad at Alassio, Mentone, and other resorts on the Riviera, returning in April.

A Real Catastrophe.

Philip, aged four, is in the habit of going across the street to a neighbor's hause for milk. One day in December he returned home with an empty bucket and a grave face. "We can't get any more milk," he announced in a tone weighty with the importance of his message. "The cow's dried up," and, as we stared in surprise at him, he suddenly clinched the matter with an observation, evidently of his own—"They don't think that she'll thaw out till spring."—The Delineator for January.

Mr. Aaron Martin Crane, whose "Right and Wrong Thinking and Their Results" has passed through eleven large editions in three years, has ready a second book, "A Search for Ultimate Truth, the Divine Perfection Inherent in Man and in All Creation." This will be leading book on the list of the Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Company for the spring of 1910. A critic of very high standing who has reviewed the manuscript has written to the author that the book is not a "search" as he calls it, but a "discovery."

A Charles M. Sheldon Year Boo.

Crane & Co., of Topeka, Kan., announce the publication of "a Charles M. Sheldon Year Book." It is printed on handmade, silk-tissue Japanese paper, of a very excellent quality, and the quotations for daily reference are excerpts from Mr. Sheldon's published writings. The book sells at $1.00 postpaid.

A Clear Definition.

Leah was having her first lessons in punctuation. On her return from school she explained to her brother that a period was a dot, and a comma was a period that had sprouted.—The Delineator for January.

SHIP RAW FURS AT ONCE

WULFSOHN GANSS FUR CO., Inc.

Capital $50,000.00 216 Nicollet Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

The only Minneapolis house which has branches in New York, Leipzig and London. Ship your raw furs to us, then you are sure to get full values and a square sort.

	Ex. Lge.	Lge.	Med.	Small	II	III	IV
SKUNK—	$4.25	$3.50	$3.00	$2.25	$2.00	$2.00	$ .75—1.00
RACCOON—	3.25	2.75	1.75	1.25	1.50	.75	$ .50
OPOSSUM—	.80	.60	.50	.35	.25	.10

	Winter	Lge. Fall	Small Fall	Kitts
RATS—	$ .50	$ .45	$ .30	$ .12

Prompt Returns. Ref, N. W. Nat. Bank. We pay express charges.

TWO SHOT BY NEGRO

Motorman and Condnctor on Street Car Killed.

EAST ST. LOUIS CAR RUNS WILD

With Crew Dead and Dying, Runaway Car Creates a Panic—Negro Escapes With Small Sum Taken From Conductor.

East St. Louis, Ill., Dec. 20.—An uncontrolled street car bearing a dead motorman and a dying conductor ran wild through four miles of city streets here. The men were shot by a negro highwayman, who escaped with a small sum taken from the conductor.

According to the few words spoken by N. P. O'Brien, the conductor, who is desperately wounded, the negro boarded the car near Fireworks station in the south-eastern part of the city. The conductor refused to obey the highwayman's order to hold up his hands and a struggle ensued.

E. V. Goody, the motorman, is supposed to have started to O'Brien's assistance. From the position of the bodies in the car it is inferred that he was shot down while still some paces from the negro.

Whether O'Brien was shot in the first struggle or when trying to prevent the negro's escape could not be determined. No passengers were on the car, and with its motorman dead and its conductor helpless it started on a wild run through the streets. Several times as it rounded corners without warning from its gong, pedestrians and vehicles were missed by narrow margins.

The car kept on to the downtown terminal, where employes of the street car company boarded it and brought it to a halt.

WOULD TEST THE HOTEL LAW

Commercial Travelers Congress In Session at Waterloo Takes Action.

Waterloo Ia., Dec. 20.—At the annual meeting of the Commercial Travelers' Congress of Iowa here definite action was taken to test the validity of the hotel inspection law in the supreme court. The delegates are undismayed by the adverse decision of the Polk county district judge.

The congress passed resolutions demanding cleaner depots and railway cars throughout the state and also asked the Illinois Central to equip its locomotives with electric headlights.

John T. Rock of Waterloo was elected president, J. S. Irish of Des Moines vice president, and C. R. Rhode of Waterloo secretary-treasurer.

DUMP CAR JUMPS THE TRACK

One Man Killed and Another Probably Fatally Hurt in Marshall County.

Marshalltown, Ia., Dec. 20.—One man was killed and another probably fatally injured at Quarry, this county, when a dump car jumped the track, overturned and buried under the load of earth John Hockgraff, a brakeman, and Jerry McQuade, switchman. Hockgraff died instantly. Both men were employes of the Marsh Construction company of Chicago and are believed to live at Girard, Ill., from where they came to Quarry a few days ago. The Marsh company has the contract of stripping the quarries for the Chicago & Northwestern.

Two Killed in Wreck—Many Injured.

Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 20—Engineer Tom Walker and Fireman P. W. Bauer, of Tucson, were killed, thirteen persons were seriously injured and thirty-nine others cut and bruised when east bound Southern Pacific train No. 4, formerly known as the Golden State Limited, was wrecked three miles west of Benson.

Head for Penn College.

Oskaloosa, Ia., Dec. 20.—Dr. David M. Edwards was elected president of Penn college to succeed Rev. Dr. A. Rosenberger, who resigned some time ago. Dr. Edwards has been acting president during Rev. Dr. Rosenberger's absence in the Holy land. Rev. Dr. Rosenberger will engage in work for the Friends' church and literary pursuits.

Burlington Gets $1 Gas.

Burlington, Dec. 20.—The Commercial club and the council have forced the gas company to lower its rate for gas from $1.50 to $1. The quickness with which the victory was won was a surprise.

COUNTRY WHOSE SOIL SPELLS WHEAT AND OUT OF WHOSE FARMS THOUSANDS ARE GROWING RICH.

WHAT PRESIDENT TAFT AND OTHERS THINK OF CANADA.

Another Fat Year for the Canadian West.

Our Canadian neighbors to the north are again rejoicing over an abundant harvest, and reports from reliable sources go to show that the total yield of 1909 will be far above that of any other year.

It is estimated that $100,000,000 will this year go into the pockets of the Western farmers from wheat alone, another $60,000,000 from oats and barley, while returns from other crops and from stock will add $40,000,000 more. Is it any wonder then that the farmers of the Canadian West are happy?

Thousands of American farmers have settled in the above mentioned provinces during the past year; men who know the West and its possibilities, and who also know perhaps better than any other people, the best methods for profitable farming.

President Taft said recently in speaking of Canada:

"We have been going ahead so rapidly in our own country that our heads have been somewhat swelled with the idea that we are carrying on our shoulders all the progress there is in the world. We have not been conscious that there is on the north a young country and a young nation that is looking forward, as it well may, to a great national future. They have 7,000,000 people, but the country is still hardly scratched."

Jas. J. Hill speaking before the Canadian Club of Winnipeg a few days ago said:

"I go back for 53 years, when I came West from Canada. At that time Canada had no North-West. A young boy or man who desired to carve his own way had to cross the line, and to-day it may surprise you—one out of every five children born in Canada lives in the United States. Now you are playing the return match, and the North-West is getting people from the United States very rapidly. We brought 100 land-seekers, mainly from Iowa and Southern Minnesota, last night out of St. Paul, going to the North-West. Now, these people have all the way from five, ten to twenty thousand dollars each, and they will make as much progress on the land in one year as any one man coming from the Continent of Europe can make, doing the best he can, in ten, fifteen, or twenty years."

It is evident from the welcome given American settlers in Canada that the Canadian people appreciate them. Writing from Southern Alberta recently an American farmer says:—

"We are giving them some new ideas about being good farmers, and they are giving us some new ideas about being good citizens. They have a law against taking liquor into the Indian Reservation. One of our fellows was caught on a reservation with a bottle on him, and it cost him $50. One of the Canadian Mounted Police found him, and let me tell you, they find everyone who tries to go up against the laws of the country.

"On Saturday night, every bar-room is closed, at exactly 7 o'clock. Why? Because it is the law, and it's the same with every other law. There isn't a bad man in the whole district, and a woman can come home from town to the farm at midnight if she wants to, alone. That's Canada's idea how to run a frontier; they have certainly taught us a lot.

"On the other hand, we are running their farms for them better than any other class of farmers. I guess I can say this without boasting, and the Caandians appreciate us. We turn out to celebrate Dominion Day; they are glad to have us help to farm the country; they know how to govern; we know how to work."

Another farmer, from Minnesota, who settled in Central Saskatchewan some years ago, has the following to say about the country:—

"My wife and I have done well enough since we came from the States; we can live anyway. We came in the spring of 1901 with the first carload of settlers' effects unloaded in these parts and built the first shanty between Saskatoon and Lumsden. We brought with our car of settlers' effects the sum of $1800 in cash, to-day we are worth $40,000. We 'proved up' one of the finest farms in Western Canada and bought 320 acres at $3 per acre. We took good crops off the land for four years, at the end of which we had $8000 worth of improvements in the way of buildings, etc., and had planted three acres of trees. Two years ago we got such a good offer that we sold our land at $45 per acre. From the above you will see that we have not done badly since our arrival."

Prof. Thomas Shaw of St. Paul, Minnesota, with a number of other well known editors of American farm journals, toured Western Canada recently, and in an interview at Winnipeg said in part:—

"With regard to the settlement of the West I should say that it is only well begun. I have estimated that in Manitoba one-tenth of the land has been broken, in Saskatchewan one-thirtieth and in Alberta, one-hundred and seventy-fifth. I am satisfied that in all three provinces grain can be grown successfully up to the sixtieth parallel and in the years to come your vacant land will be taken at a rate of which you have at present no conception. We have enough people in the United States alone, who want homes, to take up this land.

"What you must do in Western Canada is to raise more live stock. When you are doing what you ought to do in this regard, the land which is now selling for $20 per acre will be worth from $50 to $100 pre acre. It is as good land as that which is selling for more than $100 per acre in the corn belt.

"I would rather raise cattle in Western Canada than in the corn belt of the United States. You can get your food cheaper and the climate is better for the purpose. We have a better market, but your market will improve faster than your farmers will produce the supplies. Winter wheat can be grown in one-half of the country through which I have passed, and alfalfa and one of the varieties of clover in three-fourths of it. The farmers do not believe this, but it is true."

Keeping pace with wheat production, the growth of railways has been quite as wonderful, and the whole country from Winnipeg to the Rocky Mountains will soon be a net-work of trunk and branch lines. Three great transcontinental lines are pushing construction in every direction, and at each siding the grain elevator is to be found. Manitoba being the first settled province, has now an elevator capacity of upwards of 25,000,000 bushels, Saskatchewan 20,000,00, and Alberta about 7,000,000, while the capacity of elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur, on the Great Lakes, is upwards of 20,000,000 more.

Within the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta there are flour and oatmeal mills with a combined capacity of 25,000 barrels per day, and situated along some famous water powers in New Ontario, there are larger mills than will be found anywhere in the Prairie Provinces.

Last year the wheat crop totaled over 100,000,000 bushels. This year the crop will yield 30,000,000 more. A recent summary shows that on the 1st of January, 1909, the surveyed lands of the three western provinces, totaled 134,000,000 acres, of which about 32,000,000 have been given as subsidies to railways, 11,000,000 disposed of in other ways and 38,000,00 given by the Canadian Government as free homesteads, being 236,000 homesteads of 160 acres each. Of this enormous territory, there is probably under crop at the present time less than 11,000,000 acres; what the results will be when wide awake settlers have taken advantage of Canada's offer and are cultivating the fertile prairie lands, one can scarcely imagine.

A Pair of Them.

No. 1—"Now mind, Johnny," said the mother of a five-year-old, "there's a ghost in that dark closet guarding the jam."

No. 2 (two hours later)—"Oh, mamma!" cried Johnny. "That ghost in the dark closet has eaten nearly half the jam!"

"I prescribed whiskey."

"I took it. You can't smell it because I chewed WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT after."

Wanted to Know.

Father—Well?

Tommy—Will I be a monoplane or biplane angel?

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

A married man can always get a little off his sentence for bad behavior

EVERY GOOD HOUSEKEEPER wants white clothes. It's easy if she uses RUSS BLUE. 5c at grocers.

A woman isn't necessarily level-headed because her hat is on straight.

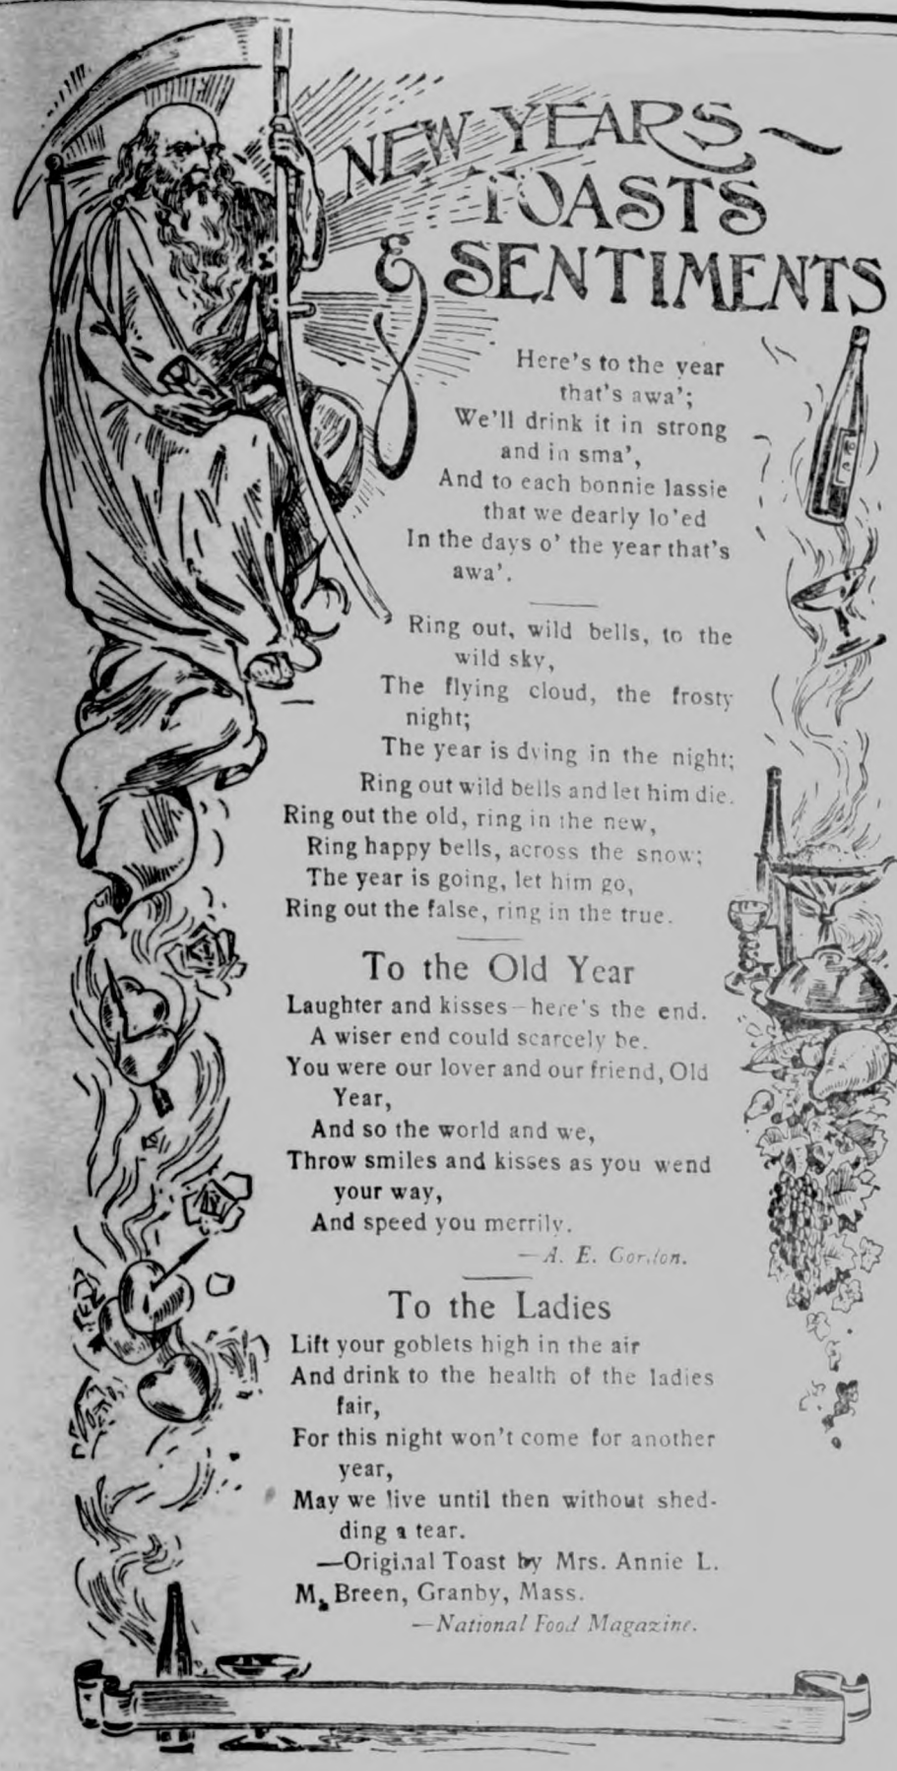
The Truth ABOUT Life Insurance

Opinions of Gov. Hughes of N. Y. and Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, together with booklets, "But," "Be Just," "How to Figure It Out"—5 in all, containing valuable information—sent postpaid anywhere for seven 2-cent stamps. Write now.

CHAS. H. BROWNELL,
176 Federal Street, Boston, Mass.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES

A preparation of superior merit for relieving Coughs, Hoarseness and Irritation of throats of great benefit in Lung Troubles, Bronchitis and Asthma. Free from opiates or any harmful ingredient.
Price, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00 per box.
Sample mailed on request.
JOHN I. BROWN & SON, Boston, Mass.



Here's to the year
that's awa';
We'll drink it in strong and in sma',
And to each bonnie lassie
that we dearly lo'ed
In the days o' the year that's awa'.

Ring out, wild bells, to the wild sky,
The flying cloud, the frosty
night;
The year is dying in the night;
Ring out wild bells and let him die.
Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring happy bells, across the snow;
The year is going, let him go,
Ring out the false, ring in the true.

To the Old Year

Laughter and kisses—here's the end.
A wiser end could scarcely be.
You were our lover and our friend, Old
Year,
And so the world and we,
Throw smiles and kisses as you wend your way,
And speed you merrily.

—A. E. Gordon.

To the Ladies

Lift your goblets high in the air
And drink to the health of the ladies fair,
For this night won't come for another
year,
May we live until then without shedding a tear.

—Original Toast by Mrs. Annie L. M. Breen, Granby, Mass.

—National Food Magazine.

Some Historic Happenings of January

The first month in the year has always been a fateful one in English history, but it began most specially to be recognized as such during the reign of Charles I. It was on January 4, 1642, that the attempt was made to arrest the five members. On the tenth of the month, three years later, Archbishop Laud, was beheaded, and January 30, 1649, saw the king's own head laid upon the block.

There is probably no act of parliament which has ever been the cause of such amazing dissensions and discord as that which brought about the union between Great Britain and Ireland. This came into force upon January 1, 1801. It was in the same month that Richard Trevithick, the Cornish inventor, perfected the first steam locomotive which ever moved upon an English road.

The great William Pitt, the most able prime minister who ever controlled the destinies of the kingdom, came into office at Christmas, 1783, and died in January, 1806. His great rival, Charles James Fox, born in January, 1749, only survived Pitt six months.

One of the greatest boons that a nation ever received from its government was conferred upon Great Britain on January 1, 1840—namely, penny postage. Adhesive stamps had been invented by Mr. James Chalmers of Dundee, six years previously, and these superseded Mulready's envelope later in the same year.

January has for a long time past been a very notable month in the history of the British royal family. On January 25, 1858, the Princess Royal was married to Prince Frederick William of Prussia. The German kaiser was born in January, 1859.

Prince Henry of Battenberg's death occurred on January 20, 1896, and the duke of Teck's life came to an end on the twenty-first of the month, 1900.

One year later, on January 22, 1901, came the end of the most famous reign in English or any other history. Queen Victoria died at 6:30 on the fateful evening.

In northern latitudes no nation fights in winter if it can possibly be avoided, and yet January has seen some of the toughest struggles of modern war. January, 1871, holds the record for fierce fighting. During that month there were no fewer than six terrific battles between the French and the Germans. The last was Gen. Trochu's grand sortie from Paris, which ended in his defeat and in the extinction of the last hopes of Paris and her citizens.

A Resolution for New Year's

The noblest resolution that any citizen could make for the new year would be the resolution to live more faithfully by the golden rule, that sublime principle of conduct for this world and for all worlds. Failure to live by this law causes the chief sorrows and collisions among men, says Edwin Markham in Success.

Let each earnest man search into his words and ways, determined to find the special manner in which he breaks the golden law—his special habit that works injustice or unhappiness in his shop, his office, his home, his city. He will find, perhaps, that in the shop he is in the habit of misplacing tools, and this hinders the work of his comrades; that in the office he is in the habit of being late in keeping appointments, and thus steals other people's time; that in the club he is in the habit of belittling worthy competitors, and thus joins the gang of thieves who steal reputations; that in the home he is in the habit of monopolizing the conversation, and thus fails to draw out the powers of others; that in the city he is in the habit of spitting on the sidewalk, and thus spoils the comfort of his townsmen; that in business he is in the habit of misrepresenting his goods, and thus robs under the cover of custom.

The Child of the Year

Said the Child to the youthful Year:
"What hast thou in store for me,
O giver of beautiful gifts, what cheer,
What joy must thou bring with thee?"

"My seasons four shall bring
Their treasures—the winter's snows,
The autumn's store and the flowers of spring,
And the summer's perfect rose.

"All these and more shall be thine,
Dear Child—but the last and best
Thyself must earn by a strife divine,
If thou wouldst be truly blest.

"Wouldst know this last, best gift?
'Tis a conscience clear and bright,
A peace of mind which the soul can lift
To an infinite delight."

—Celia Thaxter.

A JOKE ON THE HEN.

One of the cuts in the new catalogue of the Klondike Incubator Co., of Des Moines, Ia., is unique. It is a representation in colors of a hen with a large brood of young Ducks, appearing in the presence of the male head of the flock. The old hen is in tears—all the answer she is able to make to the angry protest of his lordship.

A Klondike Incubator is shown in the picture and the whole thing is intended, no doubt, to convey the idea that the Klondike Incubator is a success as a Duck Hatcher. The average hatch in the Klondike Incubator is 82%. They will send you a catalogue if you will write for it.

Of course it was an old bachelor who said that love was hatched in an incubator and raised in an insane asylum.

STATE OF OHIO CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY. }

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & CO., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D., 1886.

{ SEAL }

A. W. GLEASON,
NOTARY PUBLIC.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O

Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

"Soft and Nice."

She—George, dear, do you love me?
He—Yes, darling; very much.
She—Say something soft and nice to me.
He—Oh, custard pie!—Judge.

A Rare Good Thing.

"Am using Allen's Foot-Ease, and can truly say I would not have been without it so long, had I known the relief it would give my aching feet. I think it a rare good thing for anyone having sore or tired feet. —Mrs. Matilda Holtwert, Providence, R. I." Sold by all Druggists, 25c. Ask to-day.

I have lived to know that the great secret of human happiness is this—never suffer your energies to stagnate.

Some people suffer continually with tired, aching and swollen feet. Little do they know how soothing is Hamlins Wizard Oil. Rub it in at night and have thankful, happy feet in the morning.

The man who can maintain a reputation for wisdom in the presence of a youth just out of college is a wonder.

Worth Its Weight in Gold.

PETTIT'S EYE SALVE strengthens old eyes, tonic for eye strain, weak, watery eyes. Druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

A mean man seems to have a good time trying to be meaner.

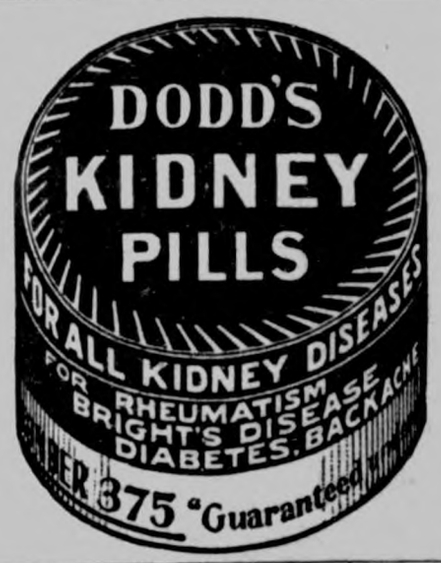
"How's your digestion?"
"Better, thank you. I'm chewing WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT after meals."

The futility of good resolutions is they are made by such bad people.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action is remarkable. It removes the cause and the disease quickly disappears. First dose greatly benefits. 75c Druggists.

One thing a man can't buy with money is how to use it.



WRIGLEY'S

Salts and Castor Oil—bad stuff—never cure, only makes bowels move because it irritates and sweats them, like poking finger in your eye. The best Bowel Medicine is Cascarets. Every Salts and Castor Oil user should get a box of CASCARETS and try them just once. You'll see. 884

CUT THIS OUT, mail it with your address to Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago, Ill., and receive a handsome souvenir gold Bon Bon FREE.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

WRIGLEY WRIGLEY WRIGLEY

Are you troubled with Constipation or Sick Headache? Use A-B-C Tea Only 25cts. a Package.

Just Like Him.

Howell—Do you think that Dr. Rowell will make much of a record in the legislature?

Powell—Sure; the first thing he will try to do will be to perform an operation on the foot of the calendar.

Stop admiring the bright teeth of others!

Start chewing WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT and admire your own.

We don't blame a man for growling if his wife treats him like a dog.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM has been used successfully for years for deep-seated coughs, colds and bronchitis. Everybody should know about it. It is simple, safe and sure.

Did anybody ever ask the weeping willow why it does it?

WE PAY HIGH PRICE FOR HIDES and furs & sell guns and traps cheap. N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis.

A good guesser always boasts of his intuition.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

"Cow Troubles"
Is the title of our Book 6-B that is sent free, telling you how you can relieve Caked Bag, Sore or Injured Teats, Spider in Teat, Cow Pox, and prevents Heifers from becoming hard milkers with
Cows' Relief
$1.00 per Box at Dealers. A Postal brings the Book. O. H. MFG. CO., 30 Chapel St., Lyndon, Vt.

Machinery
Machine Shop and Foundry. Largest stock of used machinery in Iowa. Engines, Boilers, Steam Pumps, Belting, Shafting, Hangers, etc., bought and sold. American Iron Works, 213-223 E. First St., Des Moines, Iowa

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

W. N. U., DES MOINES, NO. 52–1909.

A Poor Weak Woman

As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for many years and has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG,
SICK WOMEN WELL.

The many and varied symptoms of woman's peculiar ailments are fully set forth in Plain English in the People's Medical Adviser (1008 pages), a newly revised and up-to-date Edition of which, cloth-bound, will be mailed free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Address as above.

THE FIRST APPLICATION OF

ITCHING ERYSIPELAS NETTLE RASH POISON IVY ECZEMA SCALDS

RESINOL

CHAFING ABRASIONS RING WORM ERUPTIONS HERPES BURNS

In itching and irritable conditions of the skin produces a feeling of comfort to the sufferer never before experienced. It is the recognized specific for itching piles and the standard remedy in eczema. 50 cents a jar all druggists, or sent direct on receipt of price.

RESINOL CHEMICAL COMPANY, BALTIMORE, MD.

As an application for Eczema, Burns and Scalds, I consider Resinol Ointment better than anything else. Mrs. George H. Brash, Beatrice, Neb.

For DISTEMPER Pink Eye, Epizootic Shipping Fever & Catarrhal Fever

Sure cure and positive preventive, no matter how horses at any age are infected or "exposed." Liquid, given on the tongue; acts on the Blood and Glands; expels the poisonous germs from the body. Cures Distemper in Dogs and Sheep and Cholera in Poultry. Largest selling live stock remedy. Cures La Grippe among human beings and is a fine Kidney remedy. 50c and $1 a bottle, $5 and $10 a dozen. Cut this out. Keep it. Show to your druggist, who will get it for you. Free Booklet, "Distemper, Causes and Cures." Special agents wanted.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists GOSHEN, IND., U. S. A.

W·L·DOUGLAS
$3.00 $3.50 & $4.00 SHOES

THE LARGEST MANUFACTURER OF MEN'S FINE SHOES IN THE WORLD

Wear W. L. Douglas comfortable, easy-walking shoes. They are made upon honor, of the best leathers, by the most skilled workmen, in all the latest fashions. Shoes in every style and shape to suit men in all walks of life.

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer and are of greater value than any other make.

CAUTION.—See that W. L. Douglas name and the retail price is stamped on the bottom. Take No Substitute.

BOY'S SHOES
$2.00 & $2.50

Wherever you live, W. L. Douglas shoes are within your reach. If your dealer cannot fit you, write for Mail Order Catalog. W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.

Have Heat Brought To You

When your bed-room, bath-room or dining room is chilly, you may have heat brought to you in just the degree you desire. It is easy when you have a

PERFECTION Oil Heater
(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

available. Place the heater where the cold is most annoying, strike a match.

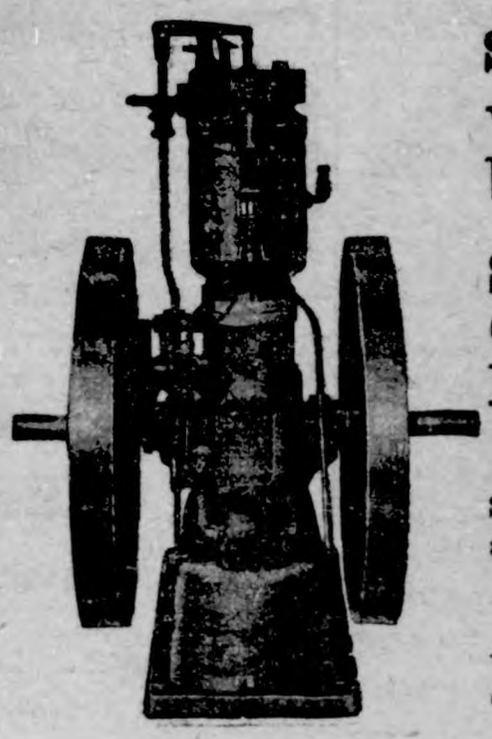
No fuss—no flurry—no smell—and, above all, no smoke. The

Automatic Smokeless Device

which automatically locks absolutely prevents smoke. Removed in an instant. Solid brass font holds 4 quarts of oil—sufficient to give out a glowing heat for 9 hours—solid brass wick carriers—damper top—cool handle—oil indicator. Heater beautifully finished in nickel or Japan in a variety of styles.

Every Dealer Everywhere. If Not At Yours, Write for Descriptive Circular to the Nearest Agency of the

STANDARD OIL COMPANY
(Incorporated)



Save work, worry, money by using a

STOVER GASOLINE ENGINE

Made right—sold right. Send for an illustrated catalog of our

ENGINES

wind mills and feed grinders.

Sandwich Mfg. Co.

Mason City, Iowa — General Agents

The City Dray Line

We wish to announce that we have purchased the dray line from Ell Bros. and ask a continuation of your valued patronage. We will do all hauling entrusted to us promptly and carefully. Give us a trial.

ELL & SONS, Klemme, Iowa

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

Books — Letter Heads
Pamphlets — Envelopes

Everything printed from

TYPE

At the Times office.

Cards — Bill Heads
Invitations — Posters

GOODELL

From the Globe:

Frank Luken was a Klemme visitor last Tuesday.

J. D. Bachman and W. Robbins were business visitors at Klemme, Friday.

County Superintendent Deyoe is visiting schools in this part of the county this week.

Mrs. A. R. White and son, of near Klemme, were visitors at the A. D. White home Sunday.

Sam Friedman left Wednesday for Chicago, and Miss Maybelle Hubbard is the new clerk at the Farmers Store.

Mrs. H. H. Raph left Sunday for Pine Island, Minn., called there by the death of her brother, T. A. Cornwell.

V. E. Porter left Saturday evening and will go on the road for a harness firm located at Muscatine, Iowa. V. E. is a good fellow and also a good business man and we predict success for him on the road.

Word was received here Wednesday that Miss Clara Robbins had been shot in Sioux City—particulars unknown. Her father, Weck Robbins, and cousin, Kenneth Robbins, left for that point Wednesday evening.

Stung for 15 Years

by Indigestion's pangs—trying many doctors and $200.00 worth of medicine in vain, B F Ayscue of Ingleside, N. C. at last used Dr. King's New Life Pills, and writes they wholly cured him. They cure constipation, biliousness, sick headache, stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

MESERVEY

From the Messenger:

Miss Lydia Bier was reported on the sick list last week.

Walter A. Fischer went to Mason City Mondap, where he entered Toland's Business College at that place.

Rev. D. Schaible, pastor of the Evangelical church at Corning, Iowa, and who took part in the Ministerial District meeting held at Meservey a year ago last summer, was instantly killed by a train last Saturday night at Brooks, Iowa, on his way to an appointment.

Mr. R. Wilson, of this place, sold 30 bushels of corn for seed for next year at $2.00 a bushel. Mr. J. Griggs was the largest purchaser, the neighbors purchased the balance. Some of the men who purchased corn of Mr. Wilson have forty acres in the field which they have not picked. Mr. Wilson said "that he believed if he had 500 bushels that he could have disposed of all of it at that price."

Rich Men's Gifts Are Poor

beside this: "I want to go on record as saying that I regard Electric Bitters as one of the greatest gifts that God has made to woman," writes Mrs. O. Rhinevault of Vestal Center, N.Y. "I can never forget what it has done for me." This glorious medicine gives a woman buoyant spirits, vigor of body and jubilant health. It quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache fainting and dizzy spells; soon builds up the weak, ailing and sickly. Try them. 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Just Dust it on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
☞ Eyes Tested Free.

TIME TABLE.

Rock Island System

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436	7:34 p. m.
82	2:35 p. m.

Going North.

31	9:55 a. m.
435	1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile, both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

It's about time you was seeing us about that

STORM SASH

Don't be fooled by a few warm days. You'll need 'em most any minute. Better see us today.

Northern Lumber Company
N. L. PALMER, Agent
KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

Rheumatism

Nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness.

Lame Shoulder.

This is a common form of muscular rheumatism. Apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely four times a day and a quick cure is certain.

Lumbago.

When muscular rheumatism attacks the muscles in the small of the back it is called lumbago. It is usually quite severe and every movement adds to the pain, and especially when one attempts to straighten up. No internal treatment is required. Keep quiet, as every movement aggravates the disease, and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely, and you will soon be well again.

Sprains and Bruises are cured by the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment.

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

M. M. S. POULTRY FENCE.

Patented July 21, 1896. [TRADE MARK] Patented July 6, 1897.

50 PER CENT. SAVING. Requires no top or bottom rail and only ¼ as many posts as the old sty netting and makes a better fence. A full line of Field and Hog Fencin Steel Picket Lawn Fence, Gates, Posts, Rail, etc. Write for full particulars.

UNION FENCE CO., De Kalb, Ill.

THE KLEMME TIMES

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 22 KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1909. $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

THE WORLD'S BEST

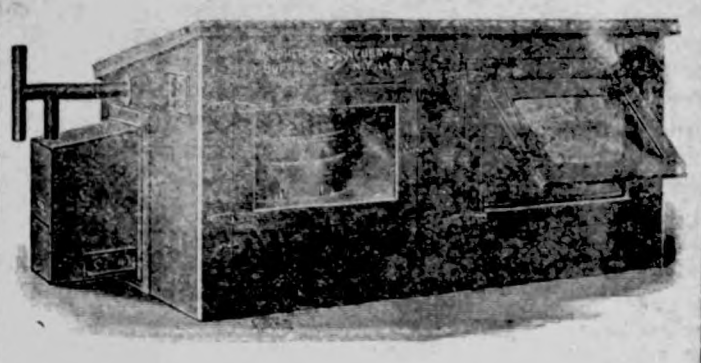
If you are in the market for an Incubator you cannot do better than to buy the very best there is, You get the best—the world beater—when you buy the

CYPHERS

Call on or write us for catalog.

ELL BROTHERS' SPECIAL

THE WORLD'S BEST



The very best out-door Brooder sold today. There is no other Brooder for little chickens that equals this for strength and durability. It is fire proof and self regulating and if you are thinking of getting a Brooder you can do no better than to buy the CYPHERS out-door Brooder.

POULTRY DELIVERY DAYS

Owing to the fact that the week following New Year as a rule is a dull time in the poultry world, and in order to keep things moving and thereby avoid a glut in the market, we are going to make you the following prices for your Poultry delivered to us on either of the following days. For all the Poultry you deliver to us on the

Third and Fourth Days of January, 1910
MONDAY AND TUESDAY OF NEXT WEEK

We will pay you the following prices:

Hens - 9c	Springs 10c	Turkeys 16c
Ducks 10c	Geese 7½c	Guineas 20c each

These are guaranteed prices. You will not get less than these prices and you have an excellent chance to get more. If there is an advance in the market between now and these delivery days, we will give you the benefit of the raise.

U.S. U.S. U.S.

UNITED STATES
Cream Separators

save work of handling and washing pans or crocks. Skim all the cream from the milk. They are very strong and durable. Parts are few, simple, easy to get at. Have all conveniences such as low supply can, cream pail shelf, and easy to wash bowl. Examine the 1909 Model U. S. Separator

If you are thinking of buying a cash machine and wish to look at something cheap that will give you the best of service do not fail to see us, as we have a deal in Separators that cannot be duplicated by any other dealer in Iowa. Can furnish you anything in capacity from 170 pounds to 900 pounds and guarantee each machine to do the work as good as any other make of machine on the market today.

Don't fail to bring in your Poultry on the Third and Fourth Days of January, 1910.

We buy Poultry every day in the week but are putting out these prices in order that you may look over your flock and clean up everything that you do not want to keep for Spring use.

ELL BROS.
KLEMME. IOWA

We always pay the top price for HIDES

FURS FURS

FURS!

Bring in your Rats, Mink, Skunk, Civet and Weasels.

We will pay you the top of the market for them... ...

A PLUTOCRAT, an aristocrat, a scientist and a pugilist found themselves traveling together. They were all of a size, each one was inclined to be arrogant, and while they were outwardly polite to each other there was not a man among them who did not look down upon the other three.

And a proletarian walked afar off, beneath the contempt of any one of them.

In the course of their journeyings the four entered into a great building devoted to trade and full of men of business, who as soon as they saw the plutocrat began bowing to him and asked him to come and take the highest seat. "For," said they, "you began with one cent and now you have a thousand millions."

The aristocrat sniffed, the scientist sneered and the pugilist snorted, but there was no doubt of it that if every dog has his day the plutocrat was now having his.

But the proletarian walked afar off, beneath the contempt of any one of them.

After a season they left the hall of the men of trade and traveled to an antique colonial mansion, which they entered. And here the aristocrat took precedence, and, while the other three were treated with civility, it was he to whom the honors were paid. "For," said one, "his line runs back many generations, traced in the bluest blood."

And the plutocrat said, "Why, I can buy him out."

And they bowed the plutocrat out.

The pugilist jeered audibly at the family pretensions and he also was asked to go outside.

The scientist sneered to himself, but he was suffered to remain, for an ancestor of the aristocrat had been a patron of a scientist of the fifteenth century and there was a tradition in the family that it was quite the proper thing to condescend to science.

Now the scientist was plainly bored at the rigid etiquette and ceremony of the place and after a time he rejoined his companions, who were waiting outside, and in a little while the aristocrat came out also, being of a restless temperament and loving travel.

But the proletarian walked afar off, beneath the contempt of any one of them.

It so happened that in their travels they came to a university and all four entered it.

And now it was the scientist who was honored and was invited to a chair, the chair of learning. Whereat the pugilist openly scoffed.

And he went out—with undergraduate help.

For in those days pugilism had not been recognized as one of the fine arts.

And the plutocrat said: "What's the matter with my giving a million dollars to this institution? I guess my name will then last as long as that of the scientist."

But he was not a good guesser.

The aristocrat said: "I understand the reason for these honors to our good friend the scientist. What a pity the fellow has not blood as well as brains."

And the proletarian walked afar off, beneath the contempt of any one of them.

After a time they took up their travels again and came to a great stadium where games and trials of strength were in progress. And it was free to all in honor of the birthday of the ruler of that country. Yes, even the proletarian was there!

The pugilist had begun to swagger as soon as he had come in sight of the stadium and when the multitude saw him they let forth great cheers and said, "Make way for the only champion!" And he took a seat of honor, glad that his three companions had lived to see this day.

But the scientist drew back in disgust and marveled that the world should worship brawn.

As for the plutocrat, he said, "I could give every man in this crowd a thousand dollars and never notice it."

But he didn't do it.

The aristocrat was once more in his element, and he proceeded to patronize the pugilist and took him off to introduce him to some of his titled friend[illegible]. For it is known that for a[illegible] Bluebloods have patronized

[illegible]n a great outcry arose [illegible] Smoke was seen and [illegible] heard and men [illegible] thither and the [illegible]ard and forward, [illegible]t each moment [illegible] the thick of [illegible]tarian, who [illegible]and as in-[illegible]tist and [illegible]tocrat and as weak of intellect as the aristocrat.

RATS
Prompt

But being a brave man he stood his ground undaunted and called upon the crowd to stop its mad rushing, and his voice was charged with magnetism, so that the crowd obeyed him and a great disaster was averted. But he himself was crushed to death.

That night the other four were summoned hence also, and it came to pass that all five stood before the gate of St. Peter, who asked each one in turn to give an account of himself.

Said the pugilist: "I've knocked out more men than any prize fighter who ever lived."

"Stand aside," said St. Peter, sternly, looking toward the nethermost regions.

"I," said the scientist, "gave my whole life to the propagation of the theory that an apple cannot rise from the grass to a tree on account of the law of gravitation."

"How did that benefit humanity?" asked St. Peter.

"I was not thinking of humanity," said the scientist.

"Stand aside," said St. Peter.

The aristocrat advanced with beribboned cap in hand and, bowing, said:

"There is no doubt that I will be admitted. I am Percival Blueblood, patron of learning and the fancy and a gentleman. Please direct me to the bath."

"Stand aside," said St. Peter.

Then the plutocrat advanced and said:

"I am the richest man in the world and I want an extra commodious suite. I have done a great deal of good with my money since I turned fifty."

"How many people blessed you for the way you made your money in the first place?" asked St. Peter.

"Well, to tell the exact truth—as a man ought to do at such a time as this—I was cursed not a little in my early years, but I gave a hundred thou—"

"Stand aside," said St. Peter.

Last of all came the proletarian, who said:

"What are the qualifications, St. Peter?"—

And St. Peter said:

'How far can you trace your ancestry back?"

"I do not know of a certainty who my father was."

"Umph!" said St. Peter. "How much wisdom have you absorbed?"

"I never went to school."

"Worse and worse," said St. Peter. "How many men have you knocked out in the arena or in business?"

"I am afraid I never knocked any one out. I tried to keep within my rights and meddled with no one. I lacked initiative, I am afraid."

"Umph!" said St. Peter. "Well, how much money have you given to the poor?"

"I had none to give. I tried to make it up by—"

St. Peter interrupted him: "How about that time you quieted the panic at the stadium?"

"Oh, that wasn't anything! Any one would have done that."

"How is that?" said St. Peter, addressing the four who had been told to stand aside.

"He was worth a hundred men that day," said the plutocrat, unable to express himself save in terms of comparative values.

"He showed a self-sacrifice worthy of a scientist," said the man of learning.

"He acted like a thoroughbred," said the aristocrat.

"He was a man all right," said the pugilist, holding out his hand to the pauper.

"Come in," said St. Peter to the proletarian, who left his companions and entered in.

"We might as well continue our journey together," said the aristocrat, with a shrug of his shoulders.

(Copyright, by James Pott & Co.)

An Anecdote of Success.

Of Melville E. Stone, a Chicago editor said the other day:

"Stone, like all successful journalists, loves his work. He would sacrifice anything to it. Talking about love of work in the Associated Press office in New York, he said, with a smile, that he could almost sympathize with the notorious Australian boy.

"This boy, a resident of Perth, saw his father kill his mother and then commit suicide. The boy suppressed the news for several hours while he tried to tell an 'awful tragic' story in 1,500 words to the Perth papers. But his enterprise missed cash; the papers feared a fake and wouldn't deal.

"'But fancy,' said Mr. Stone, 'fancy such a boy wasted on a community of sand-gropers. What a loss to Park Row!'"

TEACHERS OF TWO STATES

Illinois Pedagogues Meet In Springfield While Those of Missouri Convene in St. Louis.

Sprinfield, Ill., Dec. 28.—With a meeting of the normal school council this afternoon, the annual convention of the Illinois State Teachers' association began in the state house. The first general session comes this evening, when Gov. Deneen, President C. M. Bardwell of Aurora, Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis G. Blair and A. E. Winship of Boston will deliver addresses.

St. Louis, Dec. 28.—The forty-eighth meeting of the Missouri State Teachers' association opened this morning in the Central high school with President B. G. Shackelford of Cape Girardeau in the chair. Mayor F. H. Kreismann welcomed the educators, and addresses were made by Otto Heller of Washington university and Walter Williams of the University of Missouri. Tonight a memorial meeting for William T. Harris and F. Louis Soldan will be held, the speakers being J. M. Greenwood of Kansas City and Ben Blewett of St. Louis. The sessions, general and sectional, will continue until tomorrow.

MEN OF HARMONY CONVENE

Music Teachers' National Association Begins a Three Days' Convention at Northwestern University.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—The Music Teachers' National association convened this morning at Northwestern university, Evanston, President Harris of that institution welcoming the members. The attendance is large and the program especially interesting. Those who read papers today included Harrison M. Wild, Adolf Weidig, Dr. Nathaniel Rubinkan and H. Augustine Smith, all of Chicago; Waldo S. Pratt of Hartford, Conn., E. R. Kroeger of St. Louis, C. A. Fullerton of Cedar Falls, Ia., and Mrs. Frances E. Clark of Milwaukee, Rosseter G. Cole of Chicago is presiding over the sessions, which will continue until Tuesday afternoon.

Interesting features of the convention will be a concert by the Capella choir of the Northwestern university school of music this evening, a meeting of the International Music society tomorrow afternoon ,an organ recital by George W. Andrews of Oberlin college tomorrow evening and a recital Thursday afternoon by the Steindel trio.

Commercial Teachers' Federation.

Louisville, Ky. Dec. 28.—The fourteenth annual meeting of the National Commercial Teachers' Federation opened this morning in the Gault house with a welcoming speech by Mayor W. O. Head and greetings from F. C. Nunemacher, president of the local board of trade, A. D. Wilt, head of Miami Commercial college, responded, and M. H. Lockyear of Evansville, Ind., president of the federation, followed with his yearly address. This evening the association will hear papers by Allen R. Foote of Columbus, O., and H. M. Rowe of Baltimore. There will be general and sectional meetings throughout Thursday, the convention closing that day with an old fashioned Kentucky dinner given by the Falls City Commercial Teachers' association.

Kentucky Editors Swap Views.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 28.—The midwinter meeting of the Kentucky Press association began here today with a welcoming address by President J. K. Patterson of the state university. T. C. Underwood, president of the association, responded, and after a round table on the press and the legislature, the editors heard a paper on tuberculosis in Kentucky by C. L. Adler. A discussion on editorials in country newspapers closed the first session. Tonight the association is to be the guest of the state university at a dinner. The meeting concludes tomorrow afternoon with a trip to Elmendorf, the country estate of J. B. Haggin.

Music Teachers of Kansas.

Wichita, Kans., Dec. 28.—The Kansas State Music Teachers' association, which was organized only a year ago, is holding a most enthusiastic convention here, about 50 of the leading musicians of the state being on the program. Tomorrow afternoon there will be a concert for which the program is made up entirely of the work of Kansas composers. Charles Davis Carter of Wichita is president of the association.

Michigan Knights of the Grip.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 28.—Nearly all the commercial travelers of the state are here today in attendance on the annual meeting of the Michigan Knights of the Grip. President J. J. Frost of Lansing is in the chair. Officers for 1910 will be elected tomorrow.

WOULD BE THERE.

"Hey, janitor, come quick. Dere's a man fell down de coal hole!"

"All right, sonny, I'll look into it!"

SKIN HUMOR 25 YEARS

"Cuticura did wonders for me. For twenty-five years I suffered agony from a terrible humor, completely covering my head, neck and shoulders, so even to my wife, I became an object of dread. At large expense I consulted the most able doctors far and near. Their treatment was of no avail, nor was that of the —— Hospital, during six months' efforts. I suffered on and concluded there was no help for me this side of the grave. Then I heard of some one who had been cured by Cuticura Remedies and thought that a trial could do no harm. In a surprisingly short time I was completely cured. S. P. Keyes, 147 Congress St., Boston, Mass., Oct. 12, '09."

Face Covered with Pimples

"I congratulate Cuticura upon my speedy recovery from pimples which covered my face. I used Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent for ten days and my face cleared and I am perfectly well. I had tried doctors for several month but got no results. Wm. J. Sadlier, 1614 Susquehanna Ave., Philadelphia, May 1, 1909."

Ready with Explanation.

A rector of Eltham once gave out the words: "Who art thou?" and, as he paused for a moment, an officer in uniform, who had just entered the church, suddenly halted, and taking the question as personal, promptly replied: "Sir, I am the recuiting officer of the Sixteenth Foot, and, having my wife and daughter with me, should be glad to make the acquaintance of the clergy and gentry of the neighborhood."

Rough on Rats In Out Buildings.

In setting Rough on Rats in out buildings after mixing it well with any food decided upon, separate into small bits, place on several pieces of boards, and put these here and there under the floors. Close up all openings large enough for Dogs, Cats or Chickens to enter, but leave some small openings for Rats to get in and out. One 25c. box of Rough on Rats, being all poison, will make enough mixture to clear out in one or two nights settings, hundreds of Rats and Mice. 15c., 25c., 75c., at Druggists. E. S. Wells, Jersey City, N. J.

A woman dislikes being jealous almost as much as she likes making some other woman jealous.

Salesmen—Best Commission Offer on Earth. New—all retailers—samples, coat pocket. "Boston," Dept. C 1, Iowa City, Iowa.

Some people's morals are like their best clothes—only worn on extraordinary occasions.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

The more talk it takes to run things the slower they move.

BREAK UP THAT COUGH
with Allen's Lung Balsam, the popular family remedy. It cures where other remedies fail. All dealers. 25c, 50c, $1.00 bottles.

One man's hobby may be another man's nightmare.

Habitual Constipation

May be permanently overcome by proper personal efforts with the assistance of the one truly beneficial laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs & Elixir of Senna, which enables one to form regular habits daily so that assistance to nature may be gradually dispensed with when no longer needed, as the best of remedies when required are to assist nature, and not to supplant the natural functions, which must depend ultimately upon proper nourishment, proper efforts, and right living generally.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine,

MANUFACTURED BY THE
CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS
ONE SIZE ONLY—REGULAR PRICE 50¢ PER BOTTLE

Once in a while you encounter one of those cheerful individuals who never borrow trouble, in spite of the fact that they borrow everything else.

PERRY DAVIS' PAINKILLER
has an enviable reputation of over seventy years as a reliable remedy for lumbago, sciatica, pleurisy stitches, etc., 25c, 35c and 50c. At all druggists.

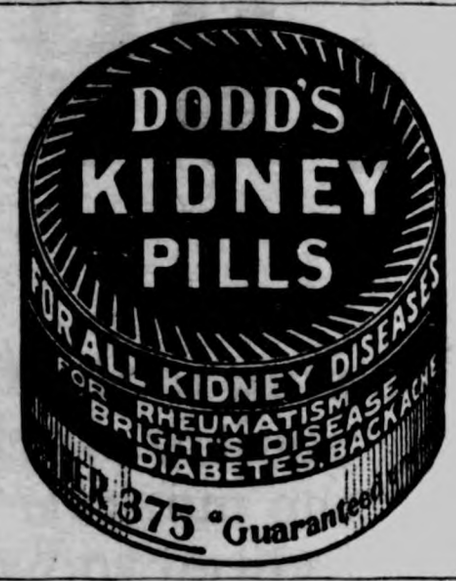
The bravest dentist isn't anxious to look into the jaws of death.

Dr. Pierce's pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take.

Gossips multiply everything they hear by two.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

When some people talk it is a waste of time to yawn.



The Army of Constipation

Is Growing Smaller Every Day.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are responsible—they not only give relief—they permanently cure Constipation. Millions use them for Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Sallow Skin.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE
GENUINE must bear signature:
Brent Good

LIVE STOCK AND MISCELLANEOUS ELECTROTYPES
In great variety for sale at the lowest prices by WESTERN NEWSPAPER UNION, 554 W. Adams St., Chicago

We Give Away Absolutely Free of Cost

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English, or Medicine Simplified, by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Chief Consulting Physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, a book of 1008 large pages and over 700 illustrations, in strong paper covers, to any one sending 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, or, in French Cloth binding for 31 stamps. Over 680,000 copies of this complete Family Doctor Book were sold in cloth binding at regular price of $1.50. Afterwards, one and a half million copies were given away as above. A new, up-to-date revised edition is now ready for mailing. Better send NOW, before all are gone. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

THE ONE REMEDY for woman's peculiar ailments good enough that its makers are not afraid to print on its outside wrapper its every ingredient. No Secrets—No Deception.

THE ONE REMEDY for women which contains no alcohol and no habit-forming drugs. Made from native medicinal forest roots of well established curative value.

QUICKEST WITH SAFETY
PISO'S CURE
THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

For the baby often means rest for both mother and child. Little ones like it too—it's so palatable to take. Free from opiates.
All Druggists, 25 cents.

Worms

"Cascarets are certainly fine. I gave a friend one when the doctor was treating him for cancer of the stomach. The next morning he passed four pieces of a tape worm. He then got a box and in three days he passed a tape-worm 45 feet long. It was Mr. Matt Freck, of Millersburg, Dauphin Co., Pa. I am quite a worker for Cascarets. I use them myself and find them beneficial for most any disease caused by impure blood."
Chas. E. Condon, Lewiston, Pa., (Mifflin Co.)

CUT THIS OUT, mail it with your address to Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago, Illinois, and receive a handsome souvenir gold Bon Bon FREE. 921

CARPENTERS MEET

International Union's Convention Will Be Important One.

COMMITTEE MAKING PLANS

Sessions Will Occupy Three Weeks in September, 1910, and 3,000 Visitors Expected in Des Moines at That Time.

Des Moines, Dec. 27.—Three thousand visitors are expected in Des Moines at the time of the convention of the international union of carpenters and joiners, to be held here during September, 1910. A committee representing the national organization called upon President A. L. Urick of the Iowa district of the American Federation of Labor to arrange for the program for the convention and to make other preliminary plans.

The convention of the carpenters' union will last three weeks. During that time there will be 1,000 delegates present and the local committee expects that at least 2,000 visitors will attend from all over the United States. The meetings will be public and will be held either in the Coliseum or in the Auditorium.

Among the delegates to the convention will be representatives from Cuba, Hawaii and Porto Rico. They are expected to come prepared to have a great time.

From San Francisco it is expected that an especially large delegation will come to the convention prepared to carry off the next convention to their city. During the last convention these delegates spent money lavishly in an effort to capture the convention, but Des Moines got the prize without any expense whatever.

The California delegation has announced that it will bring to Des Moines a large bear as a special present to Senator Cummins. It was a telegram from Governor Cummins which was largely influential in securing the convention for Des Moines, and the California members of the organization announced at the last convention that they would recognize this fact by bringing him one of their bears. They have since repeated the assertion.

The committee on arrangements made its call at this early date because of its fear that it will not get accommodations at any later time. During September 1910, the military tournament will be held in Des Moines, as well as the convention of the Knights of Pythias. It is expected that the hotels will be full to overflowing.

Celebrate Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lambert celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home in Greenwood park. Mr. Lambert came here in September, 1868 and started the first green house in Des Moines at the corner of Second and School streets. Mr. Lambert has been superintendent of Greenwood park for several years. He gets his love of flowers naturally as it seems to be a family trait. His cousin, Peter Lambert of Germany, is one of the most noted horticulturists in Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert were married at Summerville, Lee county, December 18, 1859. They have seven children, six sons and a daughter.

Girl Secures Long Lost Cash.

Deputy County Treasurer Fred German heaved a sigh of relief when he turned over a roll of money containing $92.54 to Miss Lydia Holland who was found to be the owner of the $112 that was found seven months ago in a gully back of her house by William Wilson.

Mrs. Choate Is in Des Moines.

Mrs. Pearl Ione Choate arrived from New York city for a visit with her siste, Mrs. Rebecca Lambert, at her home on University avenue. She will remain until after the holidays.

Lincoln Family in a Runaway.

Gen. and Mrs. J. Rush Lincoln, Lieut. and Mrs. Rush Lincoln and Miss Cassie Lincoln of Ames, were all more or less injured in a runaway accident.

Test Hotel Law in High Court.

Attorney General Byers will appeal to the supreme court from the decision of Judge McHenry in the Polk county district court knocking out the O'Conner hotel inspection law as unconstitutional and inoperative.

Money Coming to Honor Allison.

The $30,000 fund for an Allison monument in Des Moines was enriched by $153,73 received by Treasurer Morrow from M. J. Tobin of Vinton, making the total nearly $4,000.

Judges for Big Poultry Show.

Des Moines, Iowa.—W. S. Russell, of Ottumwa, O. L. McCord of Danville, W. C. Ellison of Minneapolis and V. G. Warner of Bloomfield have been announced as the judges for the pet animal and poultry show which will be held in the Coliseum, December 28-January 1. More than 600 pet stock and poultry breeders in Iowa are expected to exhibit. All entries must be in before December 24.

Premiums valued at $10,000 will be awarded on the following breeds of pet stock and poultry:

Barred Plymouth Rocks, White Plymouth Rocks, Buff Plymouth Rocks, Partridge Plymouth Rocks, White Wyandottes, Buff Wyandottes, Silver Laced Wyandottes, Partridge Wyandottes, Columbian Wyandottes, Golden Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds, Brown Leghorns, White Leghorns, Buff Leghorns, Light Brahmas, Black Langshans, Buff Orpington, White Orpington, Buff Cochins, Cornish Fowl, Mottled Houdan, Buff Cochin Bantam, Black Orpington, White Minorcas, Partridge Cochins, White Cochin Bantams, Black Cochin Bantams, Black Minorcas.

Games—Silver Penciled Wyandottes, White Crested Black Polish, Mammoth Bronze turkeys, White Holland turkeys, Toulouse geese, White Embden geese, Pekin ducks, Indian Runner ducks.

Pigeons—Fantails, pouters, homers, Maltese hens, Chinese owls, African owls, English trumpeters, Russian trumpeters, runts, clean-legged tumblers, muffed tumblers.

Swallows—Jacobins, magpies, turbits.

Eggs—Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, R. I. Reds, Leghorns, Mediterraneans, Asiatics, Polish, Dutch, French, English, bantams, games, ducks, geese.

Wins Ensilage Contest.

Director C. R. Bishop of the Iowa Corn Growers' association has announced the winners in the ensilage contest of the corn exposition, held in the Coliseum. They follow:

First, W. E. Davis of Berwick; second, G. Redhead of Des Moines; fourth, C. Davis of Boone; fifth, F Justice of Berwick; sixth, Grant Chapman of Bagley; seventh, J. Justice of Ankeny; eighth B. F. Hellor of Altoona; ninth, William McArthur of Mason City.

The awards in this class came late because of the time required to make the chemical examinations in the state agricultural college at Ames.

Favor Reduced Filing Fee.

State officers are of the opinion that the Iowa foreign corporation laws requiring a filing fee of $1 on every $1,000 capital stock, are unfair and that the action of the commercial clubs of the state to secure its change is warranted and should be successful.

Agar Company Is Defendant.

Damage suits aggregating $4,000 have been filed in district court against the Agar Packing company of Des Moines for injuries which the petitioners allege to have received while in the employ of the concern.

Telephones for Farmers.

Farmers residing in and near the town of Farrar, Polk county, have organized an independent telephone company, the articles of incorporation of which were filed with Mrs. Frank W. Dodson, county recorder.

Jurors Are Selected.

Twelve grand jurors and seventy five petit jurors were drawn by the Polk county jury commission, the former to serve for the year and the petit jurors for the January term.

Over 300 Divorces Filed.

Three hundred and four divorce petitions have been filed in district court during the past six months. In the new docket for the year there will be 235 other equity actions.

Entertains Board Members.

B. F. Kauffman, the newly elected president of the Des Moines Commercial club, entertained the members of the board of directors at a banquet at the Savery.

Subject to Iowa Law.

In an opinion the supreme court held that stock held in an Iowa bank by collateral heirs residing in another state is subject to the Iowa collateral inheritance tax.

Rev. Mannheimer Dead.

Word has been received in Des Moines of the sudden death of Rev. Sigmund Mannheimer, father of Rabbi Eugene Mannheimer of Des Moines, in Cincinnati.

Many Want Jobs.

One hundred and sixty-five applications have been filed with the board of supervisors for the positions of elevator men in the court house.

Names Assistant State Veterinarian.

Governor Carroll has appointed Dr. N. N. Crawford of Waukon, assistant state veterinarian.

DEVELOPMENT OF CENTRAL CANADA

THE STORY OF BIG YIELDS OF GRAIN COMES FROM EVERY SECTION.

When the man in the States was told that he could get 160 acres of land in Central Canada—comprising the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta—that under cultivation would produce from 20 to 30 bushels of wheat to the acre, or if seeded to oats the yield would be 40 to 60 bushels, he was skeptical. The same story was told the man who wished to get nearer to existing lines of railway, and was only asked to pay $10 to $12 an acre. But many tried it, some one plan and some another. The man who accepted the 160 acres as a free gift, as a homestead, and was willing to put in the required residence duties of three years has now a farm worth from fifteen to twenty dollars an acre. The man who chose to purchase, and did so, took up his residence just the same. He has land, that, in many cases, is worth twice the money he paid for it. Both have found that the story of splendid yields was verified. They have had crops exceeding that promised; they have seen oats that yielded 100 bushels to the acre, and have grown wheat that averaged 40 and as high as 50 bushels to the acre. Their wheat was not a 57 lb. to the bushel article but 62 and 63 lbs. They have seen within the past year or two trunk lines of railway constructed through their district, and throwing out branch lines to the gates of their farm. They have seen schools established in their neighbourhood and the Government contributing largely to their expense. Churches have been erected, villages have been established, towns have sprung into existence and cities are rapidly springing up, as if the magic hand of some unseen conjurer was at work. But it was not; it was the legitimate offering of the wealth of the field which made all these things come about, naturally, and easy. The prairie that three years ago was merely prairie, a patch of brown, just waiting for the ploughman, is to-day dotted with tilled farms and splendid homes. The line of elevators with their glistening metalled fireproof sides and roofs, indicate the location of the town and the railroad. There is the glow of newness about it all, but the elevator, the splendid store buildings and the comfortable hostelries denote wealth, beyond that of the strength of the man who fashioned and built them but the wealth of the soil, which means that the newness will be followed by a steady growth. The writer recently was a passenger over the Grand Trunk Pacific, the latest factor in this great marvelous field of development. The rapidity with which towns were being built up, the farmsteads occupied, was something even his experienced eye had not looked for. Everywhere along the line of this new transcontinental was the distinguishing mark of progress. There was not a mile of the length of the road from Winnipeg to Edmonton and west that did not bear token of its ability to pay tribute to the revenue of the road. Mention is made of this line, not because it is the last in the field, but because it is one of the best built roads on the Continent and traverses one of the best districts of an excellent country. It is well operated, and already has gone into active service as another means of making it possible to secure more speedily transit from the grain fields to the shipping centres. It had been the intention in this article to have spoken of some of the yields of grain that have made the farmers of Central Canada contented this year, but space will not permit, so that delightful task will be taken up in another issue. In the meantime it would be well for the reader, if he is interested, to put himself in touch with some official of the Canadian Government and get information that might be useful in making a selection for a home in Central Canada, and become one of those who will be instrumental in building up a great country to the north. In doing so, you will be assisting the United States. In a few years' time the United States will be a wheat importer. Canada will supply the wheat and you will be one of the producers.

Two of a Kind.

Mrs. Boggs—I hate to have a man always complaining about some little thing. Now, my husband is continually harping on the lace curtains.

Mrs. Woggs—Yes, and my husband has been kicking on our front door every morning at three o'clock for the last 20 years.—Puck.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action is remarkable. It removes the cause and the disease quickly disappears. First dose greatly benefits. 75c Druggists.

Elucidated.

Stella—What is the law of heredity?

Bella—That all undesirable traits come from the other parent.

BUILT UP GREAT BUSINESS

Frederick Mayer Boot and Shoe Company a Monument to German Thrift and Industry.

That the key to real business success is often based on a sound principle, rather than money, is best illustrated by the reproduction of the following biographical sketch of Frederick Mayer, founder of the F. Mayer Boot & Shoe Company, reproduced from an issue of the German American National Alliance:

Frederick Mayer, founder of the factories at Milwaukee and Seattle now bearing his name, came to this country from Niernstein, Hessen Darmstadt, in May, 1851, and immediatel; proceeded to Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where he entered the employ of R. Suhm as a journeyman shoemaker.

The spirit that prompted him to seek his fortune in the new world was soon responsible for another change, and in 1852, a year later, he embarked in business on his own accord, making boots and shoes to order as only a German apprenticed artisan knows how. Subsequently a stock of goods was carried and a retail business conducted until 1880, when the manufacture of shoes was engaged in at wholesale to the trade.

In 1890 the business was well established, the foundation firmly laid and the policy well determined. From that time on the growth was more rapid. The capacity of the present Mayer factories at Milwaukee and Seattle is 9,000 pair per day, giving employment to an army of people, paying annually over six hundred thousand dollars in wages, and employing sixty-five salesmen who travel 24 states in the interest of Mayer shoes.

Frederick Mayer died on March 16, 1893, after building up a large and successful business. He is succeeded by his sons, George P. Mayer, Fred J. Mayer and Adam J. Mayer, who, by rigidly maintaining the policy of the founder, have succeeded in bringing the business up to its present magnitude, where it stands as a monument of German thrift and industry.

The American Passion.

Knicker—What do you think of the airship in commerce?

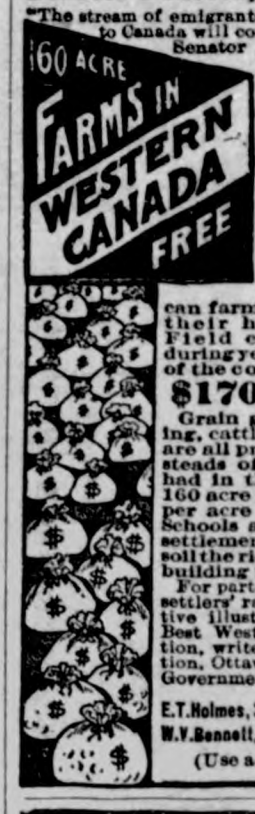
Bocker—Fine; it will give a chance for passing a lot more laws.

DON'T USE IMITATION BLUE.
Use genuine RUSS BLUE. It preserves clothes and makes them white as snow. 5c.

Compliments should be thoroughly Fletcherized before they are swallowed.

WESTERN CANADA

Senator Dolliver, of Iowa, says:
"The stream of emigrants from the United States to Canada will continue."



Senator Dolliver recently paid a visit to Western Canada, and says: "There is a land hunger in the hearts of English speaking people; this will account for the removal of so many Iowa farmers to Canada. Our people are pleased with its Government and the excellent administration of law, and they are coming to you in tens of thousands, and they are still coming."

Iowa contributed largely to the 70,000 American farmers who made Canada their home during 1909. Field crop returns alone during year added to the wealth of the country upwards of

$170,000,000.00

Grain growing, mixed farming, cattle raising and dairying are all profitable. Free Homesteads of 160 acres are to be had in the very best districts, 160 acre pre-emptions at $3.00 per acre within certain areas. Schools and churches in every settlement, climate unexcelled, soil the richest, wood, water and building material plentiful.

For particulars as to location, low settlers' railway rates and descriptive illustrated pamphlet, "Last Best West," and other information, write to Sup't of Immigration, Ottawa, Can., or to Canadian Government Agent.

E. T. Holmes, 315 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn.; W. V. Bennett, Room 4 Bee Bldg., Omaha, Neb
(Use address nearest you.) (8)

THE Keeley Cure
Des Moines Iowa
CURES LIQUOR, DRUG AND TOBACCO HABITS
706 WEST FOURTH ST.
Call or Write NOW for Our Free Booklet

"Cow Troubles"
Is the title of our Book 6-B that is sent free, telling you how you can relieve Caked Bag, Sore or Injured Teats, Spider in Teat, Cow Pox, and prevents Heifers from becoming hard milkers with
Cows' Relief
$1.00 per Box at Dealers. A Postal brings the Book.
O. H. MFG. CO., 30 Chapel St., Lyndon, Vt.

PATENTS Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D.C. Books free. Highest references. Best results.

Take no substitute or just as good. A-B-C LINIMENT
Get what you ask for.

W. N. U., DES MOINES, NO. 1-1910.

Guaranteed under the Food and Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

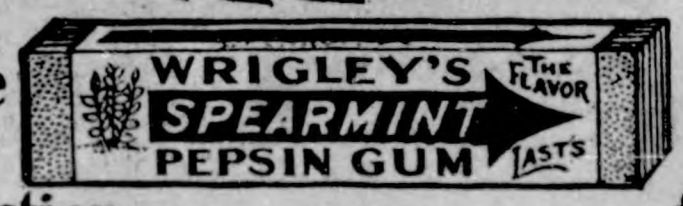
CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Look for the Spear — The flavor lasts

Enjoy the delicious juice of real mint leaves. WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT is full of it and you can't chew it out.

fine for digestion



fine for teeth

You must put your money

IN

the bank little by little if you ever expect to take enough some day to start you in a business of your own. If you put your money in our bank it will grow.

OUT

Start an account today with the

State Savings Bank.

Klemme - - Iowa

GREETING - 1910

We wish to thank the people of Klemme and vicinity for their liberal patronage during the past year, and we hope to merit your continued patronage during the New Year now about to dawn. We wish you all a happy New Year and a prosperous

1910

G. A. PABST & CO.

DRUGGISTS

J. W. WATERMAN

—Dealer In—

Groceries, Boots, Shoes — Ladies and Gents Furnishings — Dry Goods and Notions

FLOUR FEED SALT

Remember we also pay CASH for cream.

CALL IN J.W.WATERMAN

subscription price Daily Farmers rnal is $4 per nade arrange- can furnish Klemme

Times both one year for $4 05. The Chicago F. and D. Journal twice-a-week, and the Times, both one year for $2.05. The Journal once a week and the Times, both one year for $1.55.

THE KLEMME TIMES

ALLEN C. FLINT, PUBLISHER

Published every Thursday at Klemme, Iowa.

Subscription price $1.00 per year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme as second-class mail matter.

Locals 5 cents per line each insertion. Display advertising 10 cents per inch. Display advertising 7c per inch without chang by the year.

Advertising accounts due on the last publication day of each month. Job work cash on delivery.

COUNTY SEAT NEWS LETTER

Special to the Times:

Ole Peterson was over from Britt last Thursday.

The Hunt home has been quarantined for diphtheria.

Miss Hanna Finette visited her parents here over Sunday.

Rufus Wood ate Christmas dinner with his parents at Corwith.

Earl Wallace, of Goldfield, is visiting Garner friends this week.

Asa Wood of Lehigh, Iowa, is here visiting his parents a few days.

Miss Ruth Wellemeyer, of Charles City, was here between trains Friday.

Miss Anna Engstler is spending her two weeks' vacation with her parents.

E. N. Bailey of Britt transacted business here the latter part of the week.

Dell Taylor and Roll Nesbit attended the dance at Klemme Thursday night.

Mrs. Culver, of Dickens, Iowa spent Christmas with her daughter, Mrs. A. N. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Melcher spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gallagher at Burt, Iowa.

Bennie Baumgartner, who is employed in Mason City, is spending a few days at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Blackwell, of Goldfield, are visiting friends and relatives here for a few days.

Howard Williamson, who is attending college at Ames, was visiting relatives here a few days last week.

North Iowa Short Course

Will be held at Mason City January 24th to 29th. This is the Second Annual Short Course to be held in this section of the state and ought to be a winner. Last year's course, arranged for in two weeks' time, was a success, and this year's ought to be many times better. Every farmer should have a desire to get all the help he can from every source possible, and the Short Course is scientific farming brought to our very homes. The best in agricultural training is to be learned at the Short Course to be held at Mason City the last week in January, the 24th to 29th.

Write to Secretary Fred Mahannah for full particulars.

CLOSING OUT SALE

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a chattel mortgage given by Frank Kahle and Rena M. Kahle the undersigned will sell at Public Auction on the old Ernest Yanke farm, 3 miles east of Klemme, formerly occupied by Frank Kahle, on commencing at 1 o'clock p. m., the following chattels:

FRIDAY, JAN. 7, 1910,

6 Horses,
10 Cattle,
10 Hogs,
45 acres of Corn in field,
Machinery and other articles.

Terms—$10 and under Cash; over $10 one year time at 8 per cent.

F. J. WENCK, Mortgagee.
P. M. Griesemer, Clerk.
Col. J. J. Wilson, Auct.

Looking One's Best

It's a woman's delight to look her best, but pimples, skin eruptions, sores and boils rob life of joy. Listen! Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them; makes the skin soft and velvety. It glorifies the face. Cures pimples, sore eyes, cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands. Try it. Infallible for piles, 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Complete Line of ..holiday gifts..

The finest line of Linens, Table Spreads, Lunch Cloths, Dresser and Commode Scarfs. The prettiest Mexican Painted Spreads. Prettiest Sofa Pillows in Tapestry Painting. A large variety of stamped and drawn Linens.

Headquarters for Pyrography Patterns and Ready Burnt Goods. The largest assortment ever shown.

Don't fail to get tickets for the prettiest Doll ever shown. Yours for business,

MRS. JOHN JOSTEN

The Winter Season

Is now close at hand and it calls for good, warm wearing apparel, good Shoes and Overshoes, etc. We are, as usual, prepared to furnish you with the needed articles and our prices are as low as possible, consistent with the quality of goods we furnish. We want to call your special attention to our full and complete line of

Genuine Old Fashioned Wool Flannel

Ranging in price per yard from.... 50c TO $1.50

LARGE LINE TO SELECT FROM

Outing Flannels

The kind usually sold for 10c per yard we sell for.... 8c

The kind usually sold for 12c per yard we sell for... 10c

This is no special sale, just our every-day prices.

See our complete line of Seasonable Goods.
We absolutely guarantee satisfaction.

W. J. BARZ, - Garner, Iowa

Get your Winter's Coal Now

The very best grades in Hocking Valley, Wineferd Splint, Indiana Block, Sootless and Washed Egg. Petroleum Coke. Call and get prices.

Highest Market Price Paid for Grain and Live Stock Six Days in the Week

H. C. LAU

A CONVINCER

The best convincer on earth is a good, honest trial of any line of goods.
We claim for our lumber and building material that it is as good or better than can be purchased elsewhere, and to substantiate this claim, we ask an honest trial of our goods. We can quote you as good a price as anyone.
May we figure on your next lumber bill?

J. H. Queal & Co. - - Lumber

LAWRENCE LARSEN, AGENT
KLEMME, IOWA

YOU have been a "good fellow to your friends and was never called close or tight. What have you to show for it? Why not be a "good fellow" to yourself? Open an account with the First National Bank and turn your generosity to your own account for a time.....

The First National Bank

CAPITAL $25,000

About People You Know

KLEMME MARKET.

Corn	40 to 46c
Oats	35 to 39c
Wheat	80 to 90
Barley	40 to 50c
Hay	4 00 to 6.00
Hogs	7.50 to 8.00
Cattle	3.00 to 6.00

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Ern Lewis is on the sick list.

School opens again Monday.

Father Josten is reported on the sick list.

G. W. Kluckhohn was a Garner visitor Tuesday.

Herman Miller was at Garner between trains Saturday.

Mrs. A. C. Flint and babe are visiting at Britt a few days this week.

C. C. Suckow is now recovering from a very severe attack of quinsy.

Poultry wanted every day. Highest market price paid. H. Lau & Son.

Mrs. Hosmer and Willie Mallow are visiting Klemme friends and relatives.

Try Bloom's Hocking Egg coal also Petroleum Coke. It is hot stuff. 19-4

Miss Selma Schroeder, of Garner, visited here at the H. C. Lau home Friday night.

Fred Kluckhohn and Victor Carlson left last Friday for Boone on a week's visit.

Mrs. L. E. Bowker and daughter Ada went to Crystal Lake Monday for a visit with her parents

Ralph Blank and wife of Goodell and W. F. Lau and family of Garner spent Christmas at the T. Blank home.

Mrs. Kenefick, of Belmond, arrived in Klemme, Monday, for a visit at the home of her brother, Fred Haupt.

Someone left a muffler and a mitten at the opera house Monday evening. Owner can get same by applying to Wm. Fuller.

The party who took my pair of bob sleds from the side of the road ½ mile west of town is requested to return the same at once. E. H. Thomas.

Mrs. L. O. Turgasen and son Vernon returned Tuesday to their home at Buffalo Center, after spending Christmas at the G. W. Kluckhohn home.

They tell us that Frank Kahle has moved away—but they did not tell us where he moved. There are a number of business men in Klemme who will be interested in finding out,

"Spider" Nissen was down from Forest City over Sunday.

Last Call—All owing us, pay up before January 1st. H. Lau & Son.

Wm Schaper and wife were down from Garner last Thursday.

A masquerade dance will be held in the Klemme opera house December 31st.

Ed Ell and wife celebrated their wooden anniversary last week Tuesday evening. Those present had a very enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wharman, of Luzerne, Iowa, visited here from last week Tuesday until yesterday at the home of Geo Waterman.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hillary of Garner and Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Bailey and son of Britt, were Christmas guests at the nome of the Times family.

The doll contest at Mrs. Josten's during the holiday season was a success and Gail Bloom was the lucky girl to guess the nearest to the doll's age.

The following paid the printer during the past week—Val. Josten, Jr., G. A. Goll, Chas. Medaus, A. Anderson, Julius Priebe, F. H. Ridder, E. M. Pavey, Wm. Bachman.

Ell Bros. take our first page this week to tell you about their big poultry prices for January 3 and 4. The boys are going to get the business if push and prices will turn the trick. Read their ad.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bachman left Monday for points in Illinois, Indiana and Tennessee for an extended visit. Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Haupt arrived Friday night and will take charge of things on the place during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Bachman.

The lecture by H. V. Adams last Monday evening was well attended and highly enjoyed. The theme was "The House of Changing Dimensions" and Mr. Adams has his subject well in hand. He has a good voice and is an entertaining and forceful speaker. Those who attended this lecture were well entertained.

Being obliged to take it for rent I will sell it out cheap;

Dr. Hess Stock Food.

Dr. Hess Poultry Panacea.

Dr. Hess Instant Louse Killer.

Dr. Hess Hog Worm Powder.

To be had at G. F. Schuler's Garner, Iowa.

Mrs. A. Anderson is quite sick.

W. C. A. Gast and C. H. Lenz are new subscribers this week.

Appropriate Christmas exercises were held in the public school last Friday afternoon.

On account of a rush of work yesterday we are compelled to leave the School Notes over until next week.

John Louden and Charley Schlichting each shipped a car of cattle to Chicago yesterday. Mr. Louden went in with them.

George Nissen and family arrived in Klemme from Livermore, Iowa, last Thursday and visited until Friday at the home of his mother, when they left for Clear Lake to spend Christmas at the home of Mrs. Nissen's folks.

German M. E. Church Items

W. C. A. Gast and family were Klemme callers last Sunday.

Emma Sampson has been sick with a severe cold since Saturday.

Geo. Gruetzmacher filled the pulpit in Klemme last Sunday evening.

Alice Griffen visited at the parsonage and at Arnold's the first of the week.

Elmer and Walter Weisbrod, of Fenton, spent Christmas at the Ludeke home

Martin Lau, of Walnut Grove, Minn., is visiting his mother and brothers this week.

Mary Griffen has been sick most of last week with an attack of the "grip" or a severe cold.

Wesley Bettien of Charles City is spending his vacation with his brother Emil on the farm.

The Germantown Epworth League will give a program in the Klemme church Sunday evening.

Elmer Schlei returned from Fenton last Friday where he had been working for a month or more.

Elenor Koerner departed Friday evening for Charles City to spend her holiday vacation with her parents.

Arthur Wellemeyer left Sunday evening for Charles City, and from there to Colesburg and other points.

Helen Schaper, of Illinois, is visiting her uncle, G. J. Schaper and her aunt, Mrs. John Tanner in Germantown.

Henry Grunge and family left for Clayton county last week and will spend the holidays among friends at Monona and Postville

Elmer Lenz arrived from Beltrami, Minn., last week, and is visiting his brothers, Charley and Wesley, and his uncle, Ernest and family.

Nettie Ulrich went to Clayton county last week to get acquainted with her large circle of relatives living around Giard and Monona, the former home of her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weisbrod came down from Fenton last Friday to spend Christmas at the Schlei home. Edward returned Tuesday, but Mrs. Weisbrod will stay a few weeks.

Wm. Prull and family, Mrs. Aug. Stille and children, Wm Gast, Sr., and Geo. Gast attended services in Klemme Sunday morning and took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Ahrenkiel, east of town.

Mrs. W. J. Haefner met with a slight accident last Saturday evening which might have proven most serious. As the family was leaving the house for the Christmas exercises, she opened the oven into which a celluloid comb had dropped in some way. Suddenly a flame shot out of the oven into her face, burning the fur she had on and singeing her hair.

The members of the Standard Bearer society will hold a Watch Night meeting at the Wm. Sampson home Friday night. They will take up their monthly study from 8:30 to 9:30 after which a supper will be served This will be followed by a general conversation. Each member is requested to relate six or more incidents of his life which impressed him most or stand out most prominent in his memory. The last moments of the old year will be spent in devotional services.

The Christmas exercises in both churches were good. Two trees graced the platform and from this center the church was decorated with festoonings, evergreens, pop-corn strings and tinsel. The little folks had their pieces well learned and some acted their parts exceptionally well. A variety of dialogues by the larger ones and the songs rendered by the choir interspersed the program. The Germantown church was crowded on Friday evening and the Klemme church was literally packed the next evening. Besides the packages of candies and nuts, apples and oranges distributed by the Sunday school a large number of scholars received presents from their teachers, and vice versa. And last but not least, the pastor was presented with a fine rocking chair by the Klemme congregation.

If you don't know what an unruly body a Sunday School class of twelve young men are, just ask Mrs. Wessel to explain. A few evenings before Christmas she had them all at her home, to rehearse their piece for Christmas. As they departed she gave each a little token of remembrance and expected they would now all be good and go straight home. But what do you think they did? They went straight down town and looked over all the nice things in the different stores, and shortly before twelve o'clock they returned and not one missing Edgar Zinn acted as spokesman and in the name of the class presented their teacher with several beautiful presents. Well, their teacher was not prepared for this lesson, her tongue seemed to stick, she only stammered out "I thank you all." So the young men got the best of their teacher after all.

Reduced Prices on Men's Overcoats, Suits and Cravanettes

To start the New Year

Buy a suit of Men's made to-order Clothes tailored by the American Woolen Mills Co. For particulars call on their agent—

Elmer Ludeke

Pictures

See me when you want a Photograph

All kinds—inside or outdoor views. I make a specialty of photo postal cards, 75 cents a dozen. Good work at reasonable prices.

JOE MILLER, KLEMME IOWA

Oh, say! Where did you get that fancy box of Velma Bonbons?

At the Kirkwood Restaurant and Bakery, where they handle all kinds of fancy candies, Soft Drinks, Cigars and the very best grades of Tobaccos.

Short Order Lunches and Oyster Stews at all times. Meals at 25c. The place to eat is at the

A. Kirkwood & Son RESTAURANT

J. E. BAUMGARTNER

The Tonsorial Artist

Will give you an easy shave or a neat hair cut.

2nd door west of State Savings Bank

☞ Call in

DR. W. F. MISSMAN, M. D.

Physician and Surgeon,

Phone No. 11. Klemme, Iowa.

Office in the Shafer building.

Prompt attention given to calls day or night.

Eyes tested. Glasses fitted.

DOCTORS

GEO. ZINN EDGAR ZINN

Office: State Savings Bank

Phone No. 19

KLEMME - - IOWA

W. R. BLOOM

Buyer and Shipper of

Grain and Live Stock

Best Grades of Hard and Soft Coal. Will be prepared to furnish my patrons with the celebrated Petroleum COKE about July 1st. Leave your orders while you can get the coke.

Stock wanted 6 days in the week

Col. J. J. Wilson

MESERVEY, IOWA

LIVE STOCK AUCTIONEER

Dates made at either bank in Klemme, Iowa. Terms reasonable.

New Through Service

TO SOUTHERN

TEXAS

has been established via

Rock Island Lines

and Trinity & Brazos Valley Railway

from Kansas City by way of Topeka, Wichita, El Reno, Fort Worth and Dallas to Houston and Galveston, providing drawing-room sleeping cars, free reclining chair cars and coaches. Remember there is

No Change of Cars

from Kansas City to Houston and Galveston.

Full details relative to this new service on request.

T. A. WILLIAMS, Agent,

Rock Island Lines,

Klemme, Iowa

The Klemme Times

ALLEN C. FLINT, Publisher.

KLEMME, ... IOWA

SUMMARY OF A WEEK'S EVENTS

Latest News of Interest Boiled Down for the Busy Man.

PERSONAL.

Threatened with pneumonia and in a weakened condition, William J. Bryan was forced to cancel his lecture at Jacksonville, Fla. He is under the care of physicians at the residence of his cousin, William S. Jennings, Florida member of the Democratic national committee.

Another young monarch was added to the reigning sovereigns of Europe when Albert I. ascended the throne of Belgium at Brussels. The official ceremony was brilliant and the popular acclaim genuine.

Commander Peary very strongly intimated, in a speech at the banquet of the New England society at New York that the expedition which he led successfully to the north pole might also try for the south pole.

United States Senator A. J. McLaurin expired suddenly from an attack of heart trouble at his home in Brandon, Miss., at the age of 61 years. Death came without the slightest warning.

Percy E. Rockefeller, son of William Rockefeller, is convalescing at Greenwich, Conn., after an operation for appendicitis performed a fortnight ago.

William A. Harris, former United States senator from Kansas and three years ago Democratic candidate for governor of that state, died at the home of Mrs. Lydia M. Mackey, Chicago, of heart disease.

Spencer F. Eddy, who landed at New York and is on his way west, says he resigned as minister to the Balkan states because he has become tired of living abroad.

Owen Kildare, the author and playwright, is critically ill at a hospital in New York. His physicians say that his death may be expected at any time.

Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, criticised the constitution in an address at Washington because it leaves the government no jurisdiction over impure food unless it enters interstate commerce.

Dr. Jose Madriz, former judge of the Central American court of justice at Cartago, and Zelaya's candidate, was elected president of Nicaragua by the unanimous vote of congress. The session was a stormy one, but there seemed to be perfect unanimity with regard to the election of Madriz.

Baroness Vaughan, whom Leopold made his queen in fact, if not in name, quietly left Belgium for France, accepting the hint of the government that if she did not depart voluntarily she would be expelled from the country.

GENERAL NEWS.

The fourth international sanitary convention, called by Dr. Walter Wyman of Washington, chairman of the international sanitary bureau, began its sessions in San Jose, Costa Rica, with all the American republics represented.

Fire that started in the store of the Siegel Company in Grand Rapids, Mich., caused $100,000 damage.

Indefinite postponement of the case of Mrs. Howard Chandler Christy against her husband, the artist, to recover possession of her daughter, is announced at Zanesville, O.

At least three lives were lost and many persons were seriously hurt in a fire which destroyed the big drapery store of Arding & Hobbs at Clapham, a southwestern quarter of London, England. The damage is estimated at $2,500,000. All the customers made their way to the street in safety.

Walter R. Carroll, a former policeman, who was killed by a train at San Jose, Cal., has been identified as a robber who held up many San Francisco drug stores.

Cape Breton was shaken by an earthquake which paralyzed the telegraph system.

Five indictments on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government by the sale of water rights were returned at Boise, Idaho, by the federal grand jury, which has been investigating the affairs of the Great Western Beet Sugar Company, a defunct corporation.

A gas explosion in mine A of the Chicago & Carterville Coal Company at Herrin, Ill., killed eight men, among them the civil engineer and his helpers. It is supposed that the explosion was caused by the surveyor and his party walking into an old worked-out room which has gas and which was set off by the lamps they carried. Three hundred men escaped uninjured.

The state department at Washington received a cablegram from Consul Moffat, at Bluefields, that a horrible condition is presented at Bluefields as the result of the battle between the Nicaraguan army and the revolutionists and that disease and death by starvation is threatening the 2,000 incapacitated men of both armies. The department started immediate steps for relief in the shape of food, clothing and other supplies, the Red Cross assisting.

Declared to have no equal afloat as a first-class fighting machine, the battleship Utah, the greatest warship ever built in the United States, was launched from the yard of the New York Shipbuilding Company at Camden, N. J.

Secretary MacVeagh and Senator Aldrich, chairman of the senate finance committee, have clashed over the manner of replenishing the treasury, which is rapidly being depleted of its surplus. Aldrich is of the opinion that nothing but an out-and-out bond issue will suffice to strengthen the treasury. Mr. MacVeagh believes that any new bond issue should be delayed as long as possible and that in the meantime the Panama canal bonds already authorized should be issued as a protector for the gold reserve. President Taft has aligned himself with Secretary MacVeagh.

Edward H. Harriman was worth $200,000,000 at the time of his death, although a recent appraisal of his estate placed its value at $149,000,000. Since Mr. Harriman's death his estate has profited by a rise in market values and it is stated that the wealth of Mrs. Harriman may be conservatively estimated at $220,000,000.

A $50,000 monument to firemen of New York city who died at their posts of duty will be built in Union square next year.

An exposition will be held in New Orleans to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal and incidentally the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of the city.

A codicil to the will of George Rhodius, filed for probate, leaves the residue of his estate, or about $500,000, to be applied for improvement of parks in Indianapolis. The original will gives only $50,000 to Elma Date, who has appealed to the Indiana supreme court for the annulment of her marriage to him.

Robbers blew open the safe of the State bank of Centerville, Kan., and escaped with $1,500. One of the robbers was fired upon by C. H. Brown, president of the bank. The robber returned the fire, drove Brown to cover and escaped. Neither was wounded.

Robert E. Entriken, a fireman, was killed and several other persons were injured in fighting a fire at Dowiington, Pa., which badly damaged the large mill plant of S. A. Bicking & Son.

Estrada forces at Tatumbla and Recreo, near Rama, routed and defeated the forces of Zelaya after desperate fighting of several hours. A great many were killed. One hundred were wounded and 150 prisoners were taken by the revolutionists.

Charles L. Warriner, the defaulting treasurer of the Big Four Railroad Company, when sentenced at Cincinnati to six months at hard labor in the state penitentiary, exclaimed: "I'm free for the first time in ten years."

Reaffirming his complete confidence in Dr. Cook, Rear Admiral W. S. Schley, retired, called publicly upon Commander Peary to submit his proofs that he reached the north pole to some scientific body other than the National Geographic society.

The heaviest snowstorms known in the history of Arizona have tied up freight traffic on the Santa Fe lines in the northern part of the territory and have seriously interfered with the movement of trains on the Southern Pacific farther south. Passenger trains are being operated with difficulty.

During 1909 Columbia university has received gifts reaching nearly $5,000,000, an amount believed to be a record for educational institutions in the east. These include the Crocker gift of $1,500,000 and the Kennedy bequest of $2,500,000.

A hundred or more scantily clad lunatics roamed about the country after being liberated from imprisonment by a fire which destroyed the north wing of the Northern Hospital for the Insane at Jacksonville, Ill. Several firemen were injured by falling walls in the fight to prevent the blaze from spreading to the main part of the building. No one was killed.

St. Paul passenger train No. 43, running north at 35 miles an hour, spread the rails one-half mile east of Good Thunder, Minn., near Mankato, and plunged into the ditch. Forty passengers were hurt, none fatally.

PRIZES FOR GRAIN

Given By Iowa Small Grain Growers Association.

MEETING AT AMES, JAN. 3-15

The Small Grain Growers of State to Put on First Annual Contest During the Short Course at Ames.

Ames, Ia., Dec. 27—The Iowa Small Grain Growers' association is to put on its first annual contest in the agricultural hall at Iowa State college at Ames, January 3 to 15, 1910. This convention and show will run concurrently with the annual short course. Previously the work has been all with corn, and within the last two years the importance of developing the small grains has become recognized. This is the purpose of the above-named organization, which is an outgrowth of the Iowa Corn Growers' association and which is this year putting out a premium list.

Show samples are to be one-half bushel of the grain exhibited. The prizes include: One $125 small grain drill, one $125 binder, one $150 gang plow, a $50 case of Keen Kutter tools, one $50 disc harrow, one $50 litter carrier with tracks, one $90 Correspondence School scholarship, two premiums of $10 in cash and $10 in flour, one of $15 in flour, 150 pounds of Manila binder twine, one $50 hay tedder and one $35 seed cleaner. At the same time, the Kellogg special of $1,000 for corn will be competed for.

Besides these contests, the boys and girls of the state will hold a contest in corn, for which a list of premiums valued at $5,000 is provided. For particulars concerning this write William McArthur, Ames.

The agricultural departments are now in the splendid new agricultural building. This fact insures a better short course than ever before. The new auditorium in this building and the many fine laboratories mean more ample facilities and better work for all.

Free Trip to Europe for Iowa Teacher

Monticello.—Mary E. Jarman, the principal of the high school of Monticello, has been presented with a letter of credit entitling her to a trip through Europe during the coming summer vacation. This gift was made by the people of this city as a testimonial of their good feeling towards Miss Jarman, and of their appreciation of her faithfulness during the seventeen years she has served them as high school principal. Miss Jarman was ignorant of the matter until the gift was publicy made in the school. The various classes of the school have taken the matter up and have presented her with a trunk, steamer rug, etc., necessary for her trip.

Bank Starts Fight Over Blank Estate.

Des Moines.—The Wulfehuhler State bank of Leavenworth, Kan., has started suit in the probate division of the district court to prevent the widow of he late J. B. Blank, who committed suicide last summer, from getting her dower in his estate. The attorneys for the bank declare that the estate is worth $90,000 instead of $5,000, as shown by the inventory of A. H. Blank, the administrator. They say this discrepancy exists because the deceased transferred about $85,000 worth of his property to Rebecca Blank, his widow, just before his death, and accuse him of doing it to defraud his creditors, and intimate that he had deliberately planned his death at that time.

Found Gold Watch in Can of Lard.

Lake City.—A five pound pail of lard yielded treasure in the shape of a gold watch to Mrs. W. N. Winnet of this place. The timepiece has evidently had hard usage, the case being dented in several places, but the movement is a fairly good one, and a local jeweler states that it is still of some value. The lard in which the gold watch was found was the product of a well known packing company and was sold to Mrs. Winnet by a retailer.

Recruit Falls Dead.

Marshalltown.—After spending the evening singing the praises of her new-found life in the Salvation Army, Mrs. J. C. Haney, a well-known member of the local army, returned to her home and fell dead of heart disease. She was 55 years of age.

Forest City to Have Peat Plant.

Forest City.—The National Peat Fuel and Gas company of Chicago has become interested in the peat lands near Forest City and a plant costing $10,000 will be opened next spring. Mr. Secor owns most of the peat lands near here.

Big Yield of Corn.

Sac City, Iowa.—Mr. G. Keir stated that his men had just finished husking and cribbing the corn from an eighteen acre field on his farm one and one-half miles west of the Sac City canning factory and had obtained no less than 1,635 bushels, or a yield of almost ninety-one bushels per acre.

Mr. Keir says that the measurements are correct and that he is confident that he might have obtained 100 bushels per acre if the corn had been taken out before the severe storms.

This splendid yield is not so hard to understand after Mr. Keir tells how he proceeded in order to get it. He began last fall by covering the field with manure, scattered by a spreader, and then plowed the field. In the spring he gave the field a light top dressing of manure and thoroughly disked it into the soil.

The seed bed was carefully prepared by disking and harrowing and the corn was checked in on the usual plan. The seed was strong, the stand perfect. He cultivated entirely with a god cultivator and went over the field five times, twice after the fourth of July. As a result, he says that nothing was grown in the field but corn, and it is now absolutely clean so far as weeds or grass are concerned.

It is probable that the average farmer hereabout will be pleased this year if he obtains a yield of thirty bushels per acre. It is worth while ascertaining whether the excess of sixty bushels per acre did not amply compensate for the extra expenditure of labor. Smaller fields, better cultivated, must become the motto of farmers on $150-an-acre land.

Makes Big Husking Record.

Marshalltown.—Husking 125 bushels of corn in eight hours is a record which it is believed eclipses anything in that line done in the state this season. The record was established by Theron Denbow of Liscomb, on the Harry Early farm in the northern part of this county. Denbow husked forty-five bushels before dinner, and completed his afternoon's work by adding eighty bushels more. The record is a trifle better than fifteen and two-thirds bushels per hour, or a fraction better than a peck a minute.

Father Brogan Ill.

Marshalltown. — Catholic circles throughout northern and central Iowa will be sorry to learn of the critical illness in this city of Rev. Father J. J. Brogan for many years a well known priest in the northern part of the state. Father Brogan is a patient at St. Thomas hospital, where he has been chaplain for the past three years. He is suffering from the effects of old age and a general breakdown and it is feared he cannot survive long.

High Heels Caused Fall.

Des Moines.—Whether the street car company is at fault by having a metal casting at the exit of one of its street cars, or the French heels on her shoes were to blame for the accident which resulted in serious injuries to Mrs. Katherine Newell, is a question that will be settled in the trial of the damage suits that were brought against the Des Moines City Railway company by Joseph Newell and his wife, Katherine.

Marley Girls Released.

Logan.—Henry Marley, held here for complicity in the murder of his wife, has signed release for his two daughters, Sina and Alice Marley, and they will be taken to the children's home in Des Moines. Monte Marley, the 15-year-old boy may make his future home with Mr. and Mrs. George Weatherly, near Missouri Valley. It is said that Mr. Marley has not signed release for the boy as yet.

Sidney Woman Celebrates.

Sidney.—Mrs. Emily Penn, who has been a resident of this community for nearly half a century, celebrated her eighty-fifth birthday. She was the object of a postal shower, receiving 1,100 postal cards two telegrams from friends in Pennsylvania and various other expressions of felicitations from her many friends.

Robbery at Newton.

Newton.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Manning was broken into and robbed by two men, who gained entrance by picking a Yale lock. Quite an amount of silverware had been packed in a suit case, but the return of Mrs. Manning frightened the men away, only $7 being taken.

Mother and Babies Starving.

Mason City.—Mrs. Wagner and two little babies, two and four years old, on her way to St. Cloud, was stranded here without money or food. They were in bad condition when discovered by railroad men at the depot. A collection was taken up, and they were sent to St. Cloud.

TABERNACLE BURNS

Disastrous Fire in East Des Moines, Christmas.

MANY BLOCKS ENDANGERED

Half Dozen Families Burned Out of House and Home and a Holiday Dinner When Old Tabernacle Was Destroyed.

Des Moines, Dec. 27.—Fire of unknown origin totally destroyed the old Tabernacle on East Grand avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets and did considerable damage to adjoining buildings.

The building was occupied by the Guaranty Hosiery mills and seven lodges. Everything was destroyed and only a smouldering pile of brick and blackened timbers in the basement remains to mark the spot occupied by the historic structure. The total fire loss is estimated at $65,000. Insurance totals $29,000.

The Tabernacle was owned by the Finch Realty company. It was valued at $18,000. The Finches carried but $4,000 insurance.

The hosiery mills company had machinery to the value of $17,000 and goods and stock to the value of $25,000.

To the west of the Tabernacle a three story frame dwelling house owned by Sam Sunberg and family was only prevented from being completely demolished by the prompt work of the firemen. All of the furniture was removed and the loss to the building was estimated by Sunberg to be about $300. Besides Sunberg, his mother and six children were rescued from the house by the firemen. Because of their anxiety for clothing in the upper rooms they ventured to remain in the building too long.

The building at 436 Grand avenue, east of the Tabernacle, is occupied by the Des Moines Paint company and is owned by W. Doise, as is the entire corner of the block. At No. 438 is located the City bakery and on the corner is a grocery at present owned by J. A. Wilson and Eric Bergrum.

Over these three stores are two floors of tenements, occupied almost entirely by people who owned practically nothing but their furniture.

The damage to these buildings amounted to about $2,000. They were partially covered by insurance. The furniture was badly damaged by water and is almost a total loss.

To the north of the Tabernacle a double frame house facing on Fifth street was injured to the extent of about $1,000. It was occupied by Phillip Smith and family and by W. C. Wright and family. Each of these families suffered a loss of about $300 to their furniture and personal effects.

J. H. WINTRODE SHOOTS SELF

Ill Health Caused Head of Winterset Banking Institution to Take His Own Life.

Winterset, Ia., Dec. 27.—Dr. J. H. Wintrode, president of the Citizens' National bank of this city, shot and killed himself sitting at his desk.

The bookkeeper of he bank left at about noon and the janitor a few moments later, Dr. Wintrode remaining in his office. A half hour later Cashier W. J. Cornell went into the bank and found the president of the institution dead at his desk, the revolver at his hand and the bullet hole in the right temple telling the whole story.

Dr. Thompson was called but found that the unfortunate man had died instantly from the self-inflicted wound. The family, which was preparing for their annual Christmas day banquet, was apprised of the tragedy, and the whole city joined them in their grief.

Ill health was the cause of the suicide. Dr. Wintrode, four years ago, underwent an operation for gall stones and had worried much in fear that the ailment would recur. For the year just past he had been extremely concerned about the state of his health and was very despondent, especially of late. Three weeks ago he visited friends in Des Moines and talked then of going to Colfax to try the springs but did not do so.

One Killed When Cars Collide.

Mason City, Dec. 27.—Patrick O'Neill, a land seeker was killed and C. K. Hildreth of Kensett was seriously injured when Milwaukee passenger train No. 103 crashed into a Rock Island passenger at Plymouth. The baggage car and smoker of the Rock Island train were smashed. The trainmen jumped and were not injured. The wreck was caused by a mistake in signals.

SYNOPSIS.

Richard Derring, returning from a winter in the woods to his mother's farm home, is overtaken by his uncle, accompanied by his eccentric wife, coming to pay a visit at the farm. Aunt Jerusha's questions about Emily Hutton, supposed to be Richard's sweetheart, bring out the fact that she is to marry a merchant, Edwards. Derring's disappointment stimulates his ambition and under the advice of Seth Kinney, a hermit of the woods, he resolves to fit himself for college. Kinney promises to teach him Greek. Derring tells his mother his resolve, and in his grandfather's old laboratory begins the study of Greek. Seth Kinney hears Richard's Greek recitation in the woods while he and Tom Bishop ply the cross-cut saw. Derring learns that he can look indifferently upon the loss of Emily. He visits Aunt Jerusha, who volunteers to help him through college. The Greek learned in the woods carries Richard triumphantly through entrance examinations, wins approval from the professor and insures his popularity among his fellows. Four years in college obliterates the memory of Emily. Derring begins journalistic work in Chicago. He meets Helen Gordon, an artist.

CHAPTER IX.—Continued.

As he hurried up Wabash avenue pictures of the wood-road flitted before him. He heard the rustle of the leaves and saw the green moss and the trailing lines of partridge-berry. And in and out of the picture moved the figure of the artist—in its soft grays and browns. She fitted the scene; she was a part of it; yet when he tried to remember how she looked, he could not recall even the color of her eyes. She eluded his search, and in her stead he saw the sun shining through the swaying leaves and falling on the vines and berries.

"Look out there!" The voice was loud and important.

Derring felt himself drawn swiftly back from the advancing cable car. He pulled himself together, with a word of thanks to the incensed policeman, and devoted himself in earnest to the dangers of the Madison and State street crossing.

CHAPTER X.

Richard's promotion came sooner than he had dared hope. The art critic was to take a trip to Europe, and Derring was offered the position. Something in the quality of his articles had attracted attention; and he had even handed in several specials on his own account, that were accepted with some show of interest.

He owed his rapid advancement partly, too, to something that, for want of a better name, we call personality. Those who came near him felt its influence. The office boy approved of him; the managing editor stood ready to help him. That he gave no return to the liking he inspired seemed to make no difference. His unsatisfied heart was a magnet, drawing to itself the particles of humanity and holding them.

His new work took him to the Art Institute and into the world of artists, and he saw his new friend often. Sometimes they stopped for a word in the halls; sometimes he sought her studio in the intervals of work. Their relation had become that of good-comradeship. Derring supposed that he felt towards her as he would have felt towards a man—if there were such a man. He turned to her with each new interest. They discussed every subject in the range of art, literature and life. But their intercourse was free from even a hint of love-making. She had only the grays and browns of her apparel.

With his promotion and increase of salary Derring had changed his boarding place to a pleasanter part of the city. He had not thought to ask her where she lived. It had not occurred to him that he might happen on the same place until the first night at dinner when he raised his eyes from his plate and found her on the opposite side of the table, smiling quietly at his surprise.

That she saw the surprise was evident. But that she divined the accompanying vexation could be guessed only from the care she took to put him at ease. It was like her. She would not be so stupid as to misunderstand him any more than a man would have done.

It was three months after the beginning of their acquaintance that he hurried into the studio one morning to ask her to lend him a book he had seen in her book-case. He was short of material, he explained. He wanted to work up the Arundel collection. If she would lend him that book it would save him a trip to the library.

In his haste he did not notice—though he remembered afterwards—the slight hesitation with which she took the book from the case and handed it to him. It was a small, leather-bound pocket edition, such as tourists carry, and bore in gilt, on the side, "The Masterpieces of Europe and England."

"Yes, that is it." He opened it at random, running the leaves through his fingers. "I will bring it back soon."

With the book still open in his hand he hurried from the room.

Five minutes later he appeared again in the doorway.

"I shall have to go to the library after all," he said, abruptly. "I have brought back your book."

"I am sorry you did not find what you wanted." She did not look up from her work. She could not have seen the color in his face and she may not have noticed the slight tremor in his voice as he replied:

"It's no matter. I can find it at the library.

It had become a matter of course that he should come and go in this easy way, with no ceremony; but it had not become a matter of course that he should leave the studio with his pulses thundering in his ears. Yet nothing had happened. He had turned the leaves carelessly in his hand as he went down the stairs.

Held the Curtain Aside for Her to Pass.

It had stared at him from the white page: "To John Dalton, with love. Helen Gordon."

It rang in his ears as he hurried on hat and coat and hastened to the library. It danced before his eyes between the pages of books. "With love." That meant a history. And she had the book now. There had been either a parting or a death. Stupid! He had not guessed or dreamed. The restful quiet of her life covered a dead secret.

He found himself, through the day and as he walked home at night, repeating over and over, as if it were a refrain: "The ashes of a dead love." Yes, that was what it was like—that restfulness of hers—passion burned to ashes. Why had he never guessed? And was it dead? Would she love again?

The question stung him. He quickened his pace. He had not thought of her before as a woman. And yet it was strange that he had not. It came to him now that her womanliness was her chief charm. But it was so a part of her that he had never separated it from her. That she should be thoughtful of others, that her voice should be low and sweet, that she should be graceful in every motion—all this was—Helen. He said the name half under his breath. He stood bewildered before his own consciousness. He loved her!

During his college years Derring had come to know that in love he was an idealist. Love in its true sense could not exist on the earth. It was a vision of poets—impossible of realization. Long since he had come to know that his boyhood love was such a vision, and that its realization would have been a kind of tragic comedy. But always the ideal flitted before him, love, now here, now there, and each making him fancy that he was in time he had wakened to the knowledge that he was in love with an ideal. When he had been invited to the homes of his classmates he had fancied that he should find in one of these homes the fulfillment of his dreams. But the sisters who met him with cordial welcome, who danced, flirted, and played golf and tennis with him, had seemed to him too young to understand even the alphabet of love as he would read it. He had felt very old and experienced and out of place. The love that he might perhaps have won from them seemed to him pale and insipid. He wrote poems, but he dedicated them to the ideal. She was a glowing presence—more real to him than any woman. Now this ideal had paled and faded and a quiet figure in grays and browns filled its place.

He was passing a florist's, and he stopped to purchase a bunch of violets. He did not tell himself they were for her. He was not quite steady yet from the shock that had come to startled if the quiet wood-road at home had suddenly assumed a woman's face and form and claimed his love. But deep in his heart was a longing to make her reparation. He had invaded her secret. He could not undo that. But he could let her know that he was sorry. Sorry! Was he?

She was not home from the studio. But the door of her room, which was him. He could hardly have been more warmed from the hall, stood open. Without crossing the threshold he laid the violets on a chair inside the door. Would she understand? Yesterday he would have said yes. Today he could not tell. She might not understand, or she might understand too well.

She greeted him as quietly as usual when she came in to dinner that night. She wore the violets tucked carelessly into the lace that filled her dress. One that had fallen apart from the others rested lightly against her throat. His heart stopped for a second, and then leaped forward with a bound.

Not till they were leaving the dining room, when he held the curtain aside for her to pass, scanning her face, did her glance meet his. The next moment he could not have told what he saw in her eyes, but he no longer questioned their color. Blue—blue and deep—slumbering fire. Fool! Had he expected her to wear her heart on her sleeve for daws to peck at?

He had not intended to see her again that night, but he found that he could not rest. It would make no comment, even in this gossipy boarding house, if he stopped at her door a minute. But he found that he had suddenly grown careful, only conscious of remark. He would put on his hat and coat and go for a walk. He might see her as he passed her door.

She was seated in a low chair by the table, sewing, the light falling softly across her brown hair and on the work in her hands. His violets were still in her dress. She was the embodiment of home, he thought, as he stood for a minute across the threshold. She looked up quietly—not as if she were startled to see him there.

"You have brought me the paper?" she said, catching sight of the newspaper in his hand. "You are very good." She laid down her sewing and came to take it.

A sudden daring seized him. "Will you not be good, too?" He lifted his hand to the violet at her throat and drew it from its place—watching her face, to obey its lightest wish. She did not stay him. She stood with her hands clasped, her figure swaying a little forward and her eyes following the flower as he placed it in his coat. In another minute she might have raised her eyes to his. A door opened below—a step sounded on the stair.

"You are not angry?" he pleaded.

"No." It was half-breathed, half-spoken, hardly audible, but it set his pulses thrilling. He passed into the cool night air with new joy in his heart. She had understood. It was to be, not only comradeship, but love. He raised his flushed face to the quiet stars. They stretched away into infinite space. But only love could make life worth the living.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

BITTER WAS THE AWAKENING

Sleeping Owner of Millions Brought Back to Earth by Stern Yet Modest Demand.

"I dreamed last night that beginning with $100 I pyramided my bets on the stock market so that in a little while I had $2,000,000,000," said one of the artist colony in West Sixty-seventh street yesterday. "A crowd of people came to me and besought me to cease speculating. They pointed out that I had more money than I could ever spend and if I kept on I would own all there was in the world. I replied that I wanted a billion dollars more for my own use and that I proposed with the two billion I already had to establish a great institution where all the artists and writers and sculptors might work free from pecuniary annoyances, and raise the standard of beauty in all the arts throughout the world. The last man who came to beg me to stop making money was my attorney. I turned a deaf ear to his entreaties and finally he sternly demanded of me the two dollars and a half that I had borrowed from him last week. Then I woke up."—New York Press.

Such a Mean Trick.

"Come home with me to dinner tonight, Gormley."

"Delighted!"

"I want you to hear my youngest daughter play the piano.'

"By Jove, I'm awfully sorry, old chap, but I have forgotten a most important engagement. Some other night, dear boy."

"Sorry about the engagement, Gormley. The fact is I have neither a youngest daughter nor a piano."

In Pittsburg.

The City Editor—Here's a mighty good story about a young fellow who runs away with a chorus girl.

The Night Editor—What's that! A good story? Why, it's been done to death.

The City Editor—This one hasn't. It's an absolute novelty. The young fellow is neither a millionaire nor a Pittsburger!

Evidence of Inebriety.

Nell—I'm afraid Mr. Guzzler had too much drink at the dinner last night.

Bell—What makes you think so?

Nell—When the charlotte russe was served he was trying to blow the froth off.—Philadelphia Record

Her Last Word.

Him—You're wrong, and I've proved that you were wrong. But only a fool would argue with a woman.

Her—That's what I've been thinking.—Cleveland Leader.

You Can Rely on Resinol to Do its Work Quickly and Perfectly.

Have been troubled with dry Eczema for several months, and have tried many different remedies, but I have gotten more relief and better results with two applications of Ungt. Resinol than all other remedies. Will gladly recommend it whenever and wherever I can.

A. E. Hatch, D. D. S., Cleveland, Ohio.

Ship's Figurehead.

Carvings for more than 500 vessels were made by William Southworth, who recently died at Bath. He made a specialty of the carving of figureheads for many years, and some splendid ones were the product of his skill. The rise of commercialism has blotted out the poetic significance of the figurehead and few figureheads are seen nowadays.—Kennebec Journal.

AN ATTRACTIVE MOTHER.

A glance at the New Klondike Incubator would lead you to think it was a gold trimmed Rosewood affair. It certainly is very neat in appearance. As a hatcher of chicks and ducks, easy regulation, even heat and economy of oil, it is without a peer. Send for the new catalogue. It contains a good deal of useful information about raising chicks, young and old. Address Klondike Incubator Company, Des Moines, Iowa.

Cupid's Cynicism.

"Is it so, that you used to call regularly on that girl?"

"Yes; she always sang a song to me that I loved."

"Why didn't you marry her?"

"I found I could buy the song for 50 cents."—The Circle.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Would Depend.

She—You've seen Charley's wife. Would you call her pretty?

He—I might if I were talking to Charley.

Hamlins Wizard Oil will knock the spots off a sore throat. It's use makes tonsilitis, quinsy and diphtheria impossible. It is simply great for the relief of all pain, soreness and inflammation.

A woman may be as old as she looks, but it makes a difference whether it's before or after she is dressed to go out.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

When doctors disagree they are apt to make sarcastic remarks about each other that savor of the truth.

ASK YOUR OWN GROCER
to give you RUSS BLUE. It will whiten your clothes and preserve your temper.

If you are ever beaten it will be by your own self. Nobody else can beat you.

WE PAY HIGH PRICE FOR HIDES and furs & sell guns and traps cheap. N. W. Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis.

The girl who accepts a man seldom takes him at his own valuation.

If you wish to be Cured of Constipation Use

Uncle Sam Breakfast Food

A delightful food made from wheat and flax—nature's own remedy.

Ask your grocer

He Certainly Knows

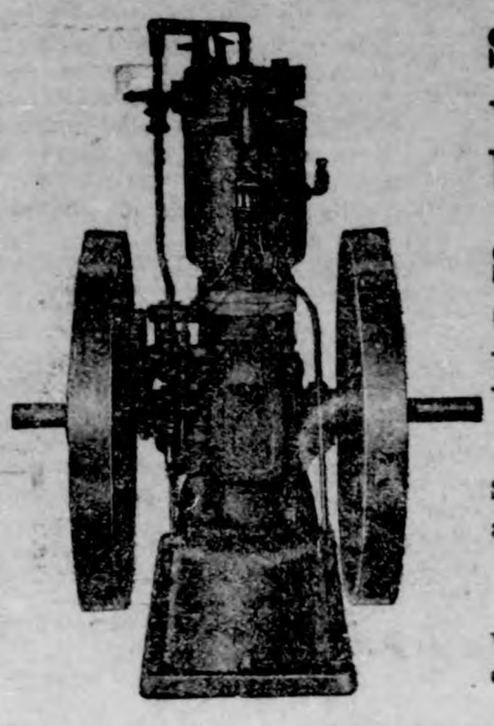
RUPTURE

Cured in a Short Time
Pay When Cured

No Pay Will Be Expected Until the Patient Is Cured. No Operation or No Surgical Detention from Business. A Plain and Easy Cure for Rupture.

Examination Free

BERLIN MEDICAL INSTITUTE
SPECIALIST
Corner Fifth and Walnut Sts.
(Muribut Building)
Des Moines, Ia.



Save work, worry, money by using a

STOVER GASOLINE ENGINE

Made right—sold right. Send for an illustrated catalog of our

ENGINES

wind mills and feed grinders.

Sandwich Mfg. Co.

Mason City, Iowa — General Agents

The City Dray Line

We wish to announce that we have purchased the dray line from Ell Bros. and ask a continuation of your valued patronage. We will do all hauling entrusted to us promptly and carefully. Give us a trial.

ELL & SONS, Klemme, Iowa

City Dray Line

All work done promptly and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Give me a call.

G. R. WATERMAN,
Proprietor.

DON'T FORGET

This store when you need anything in the line of Hardware and Farm Implements. Full line of Heaters, Cook Stoves and Ranges. The best makes in Farm Machinery. We also handle the best Paints, Oils and Varnish.

Groceries, Flour and Feed

Our prices are right. You are invited to call.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

Books — Letter Heads
Pamphlets — Envelopes

Everything printed from

TYPE

At the Times office.

Cards — Bill Heads
Invitations — Posters

Stung for 15 Years

by Indigestion's pangs—trying many doctors and $200.00 worth of medicine in vain, B F Ayscue of Ingleside, N. C. at last used Dr. King's New Life Pills, and writes they wholly cured him. They cure constipation, biliousness, sick headache, stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles. 25c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

Notice of Appointment of Administrator

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been duly appointed and qualified as Administrator of the Estate of August F. Stille, late of Hancock County, State of Iowa, deceased. All persons indebted to the estate are requested to make immediate payment; and those having claims against the same will present them, duly authenticated, to the undersigned, for allowance. (22-3)

Dated December 24th, A. D. 1909.

W. C. A. GAST, Administrator.

J. E. Wichman, Atty. for the Estate.

The Des Moines Capital and the Klemme Times will be sent to any address from now until Jan. 1, 1911, on receipt of $2.85. This is an exceptionally liberal offer and should be taken advantage of at once to secure its full benefits. If you have already paid in advance for the Times, ask for our rate on the Capital. Call at this office today and get a daily paper for the winter's reading.

Alone in Saw Mill at Midnight

unmindful of dampness, drafts, storms or cold, W J Atkins worked as Night Watchman, at Banner Springs, Tenn. Such exposure gave him a severe cold that settled on his lungs. At last he had to give up work. He tried many remedies but all failed till he used Dr. King's New Discovery. "After using one bottle," he writes, "I went back to work as well as ever." Severe colds, stubborn coughs, inflamed throats and sore lungs, hemorrhages, croup and whooping cough get quick relief and prompt cure from this glorious medicine. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. A. Pabst & Co.

Rich Men's Gifts Are Poor

beside this: "I want to go on record as saying that I regard Electric Bitters as one of the greatest gifts that God has made to woman," writes Mrs. O. Rhinevault of Vestal Center, N.Y. "I can never forget what it has done for me." This glorious medicine gives a woman buoyant spirits, vigor of body and jubilant health. It quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache fainting and dizzy spells; soon builds up the weak, ailing and sickly. Try them. 50c at G. A. Pabst & Co.

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's New Discovery

FOR COUGHS COLDS — PRICE 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottle Free

AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.

GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Just Dust It on the Sore.
HEALS Wire Cuts.
HEALS Collar Galls while at work.
HEALS Old Sores.
HEALS From the Bottom and Leaves No Scar.
At Druggists' or Prepaid by Mail. Money Back if Not Satisfied.
The RED STAR HEALING POWDER CO. (25c. and 50c. Cans). GARNER, IOWA.

W. C. AMSDEN, OPT. D.
Graduate Optician,
Garner - - Iowa
☞ Eyes Tested Free.

TIME TABLE.

Rock Island System

Klemme, Iowa.

Going South.

436	.....	7:34 p. m.
82	.....	2:35 p. m.

Going North.

81	.....	9:55 a. m.
435	.....	1:46 p. m.

Stock Extra every Wednesday and Sunday. All regular trains carry passengers.

Are You Going to Build?

If so, let us figure on your Lumber bill. We have a large stock and a fine assortment of Lumber, Sash, Doors, Tile, both square and diamond Mesh Field Fence, and everything carried in a first class lumber yard. It will pay you to get our figures.....

It's about time you was seeing us about that

STORM SASH

Don't be fooled by a few warm days. You'll need 'em most any minute. Better see us today.

Northern Lumber Company

N. L. PALMER, Agent

KLEMME . . . . . IOWA

Rheumatism

Nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness.

Lame Shoulder.

This is a common form of muscular rheumatism. Apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely four times a day and a quick cure is certain.

Lumbago.

When muscular rheumatism attacks the muscles in the small of the back it is called lumbago. It is usually quite severe and every movement adds to the pain, and especially when one attempts to straighten up. No internal treatment is required. Keep quiet, as every movement aggravates the disease, and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely, and you will soon be well again.

Sprains and Bruises are cured by the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment.

SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE TIMES

$1.00 A YEAR

50 PER CENT. SAVING. Requires no top or bottom rail and only ¼ as many posts as the old style setting and makes a better fence. A full line of Field and Hog Fencing, Steel Picket Lawn Fence, Gates, Posts, Rail, etc. Write for full particulars.

UNION FENCE CO., De Kalb, Ill.